School About Ready For Opening On September 6

The Eldorado School will open Tuesday, September 6, at 9:00 A.M. A program will be given in the auditorium and all parents and patrons are urged to attend. Details of the program will be given next week.

All beginning students (1st grade) will need birth certificates showing them to be six years of age before Sept. 1, 1955. Compulsory vaccination for smallpox and diphtheria is required of all beginning students in the first grade. No child will be admitted to the first grade who does not present evidence of having received these shots: a smallpox within the past four years, and diphtheria the last year and a half. First graders who participated and received these vaccinations in the pre-school clinic this summer will not need certificate stating thus.

Students not attending Eldorado Schools last year will need book card and report card. Any new pupil on the bus route should notify the school officials before Friday, September 2, so that your bus driver may be notified on that date.

Elementary pupils in grades 1-6 who were not pre-enrolled in May should enroll at the Elementary Principal's office between the hours of 9:00 A.M. and 4:00 P.M. Thursday and Friday, Sept. 1st and 2nd. Please bring report cards and book cards.

There will be a meeting of the bus drivers at the school house Monday, September 5th at 2:00 P.M. A faculty meeting will be held Monday, September 5th at 8:30 A.M.

At a called meeting of the School Board Monday evening, September 22nd, the following business was transacted:

The resignation of Jack Ratliff was accepted.

The policy book, "Green and White" for 1955-56 was approved. The holidays approved for this school year are: Thanksgiving, Nov. 24 and 25; Christmas and New Years, Dec. 23 to Jan. 2; District Teachers meeting, March 9; and Spring holidays, March 31 and April 2.

The resignation of Miss Thelma Ellington was accepted. She plans to teach in the Ozona school this year. Miss Ellington has been with the Eldorado School for 19 years and her loss will be recognized by the community, students, and school administration.

The following teachers were elected for the 1955-56 term: Mr. and Mrs. Richard Wynne, Mrs. Jack Jones, and Mrs. B. F. Cox.

Mrs. Wynne has a degree from A.C.C. with five years' teaching experience. She will have Speech and Dramatics in the high school.

Mr. Wynne has a degree from Hardin Simmons University, and has had three years' teaching experience. He will have a position in the elementary school.

Mrs. Jack Jones has a degree from T.C.U., and this will be her first year to teach.

Mrs. B. F. Cox has a degree from Alabama college, and has had seven years' teaching experience in the Arizona schools.

The Eldorado School faculty is now complete with the exception of one elementary teacher. Supt. T. E. Holcomb has a favorable prospect and this vacancy will probably be filled in the next few days.

A complete list of all teachers and their assignments will be given next week after the elementary vacancy is filled.

PASTOR'S WIDOW DIES SATURDAY; FUNERAL AUG. 27

Mrs. F. G. Clark, 85, widow of a Methodist minister, and resident of Eldorado many years, died Saturday in Long Beach, Calif., at the home of a daughter Mrs. H. M. Wheeler. She had moved to California four years ago when her failing health made it impossible for her to live alone.

Funeral services will be held in the Eldorado Methodist Church Saturday afternoon at 3:00, the Rev. Phillip C. McGahey, pastor of College Hills Baptist Church of San Angelo assisting the Rev. M. C. Stearns, pastor of the local Methodist Church. Burial will be made in the Eldorado Cemetery.

The family and the body will arrive here Saturday morning.

Mamie Bradford was born in Shirley, Kansas, in 1870 and was married to Frank Gilbert Clark June 16, 1894. As Rev. Clark served the conferences of Texas many years as pastor, the family moved with him during his active life. In October, 1929, he was assigned to the Methodist Church at Eldorado, and the Clarks continued to live here after the pastor's superannuation.

Rev. Clark died in 1944, and Mrs. Clark continued to make her home here. She taught school for many years, and was a teacher in the rural schools of this county during part of her period of residence here. She was an active worker in the church, and was a member of the W.S.C.S. and of the McCormick S.S. Class.

She is survived by four daughters, Mrs. F. B. Calcote of San Angelo, and Mrs. H. M. Wheeler, Mrs. Ruth Gourly and Mrs. Joe Williams, all of Long Beach; six grandchildren and eight great grandchildren.

DR. WM. LINDSEY SELLS TO PARTNER EFFECTIVE AUG. 31

In a deal which is being closed out this week, Dr. Wm. Lindsey has sold his partnership to Dr. Jack I. Mowrey, to return to the Air Force, where he will start in October on a five-year course under the residency training program, specializing in aviation medicine.

He served five years in World War II as a pilot and came to Eldorado in July, 1952, to open his practice in the Roach building, upon completion of his internship at San Antonio. Later, Dr. Jack I. Mowrey came to Eldorado to form a partnership with Dr. Lindsey, and the men now have their own clinic building.

As his future five years are tentatively planned, Dr. Lindsey will go to Randolph Field in October, remaining there until Christmas, then will be assigned to an air base, after which he will go to Harvard or Johns Hopkins for a year's work leading to a Master's in public health work. A year at Randolph, where he will have work in advanced aviation medicine, a year at either Langley or Wright Field in research study, and a final year at an air base will complete the five-year training period. He will enter this training next month with the rank of captain, and at the conclusion of his five preparatory years will be assigned to a base, with probable promotion in rank.

While the partnership is dissolved Aug. 31, it may be some time before the family can leave Eldorado, as they have a residence to sell and other plans to make before moving. The Lindseys have two children.

Dr. Lindsey has been in the reserves since his separation from the armed forces.

FUNERAL TUESDAY FOR MRS. DeLONG, COUNTY PIONEER

Mrs. D. E. DeLong, 75, member of a pioneer ranch family of the county, prominent Methodist and civic worker, died suddenly of a heart attack Sunday shortly after attending a Smith family reunion at Lampasas.

She had been visiting her sister at Hamilton, and the two were on their way back to Hamilton after the family gathering at Lampasas.

Funeral services were held Tuesday afternoon at the Eldorado Methodist Church, of which she had been a member many years. The officiating pastors were Rev. M. C. Stearns, minister of the Eldorado church, who read the Scripture and obituary and offered prayer, and the Rev. Roy Shilling of Mission, former Eldorado pastor, who preached the funeral sermon. Mrs. Horace Linthicum played organ music, before and after the service, and accompanied the choir for several hymns.

Pallbearers were Palmer West, Wilson Page, Irvin Mund, Ford Oglesby, Jim Williams, Billy Frank Meador, Gene Koy and Eldred Roach. Interment was made in the Eldorado Cemetery, beside her husband who died on April 5, 1950.

Anna Belle Smith was born April 14, 1880. Her marriage to D. E. DeLong, first white child born in Tom Green County, took place December 22, 1897, at the residence of the bride in San Angelo, the Rev. B. C. Roach, Methodist pastor officiating. She was less than 18 years of age at that time, and Mr. DeLong was nearly 32. A large crowd attended the wedding.

The couple went to house keeping in this county, on a ranch which the groom had bought. The nearest neighbors were miles away, and Mr. DeLong fenced his ranch, as settlers came in and bought or leased land.

The family switched from Longhorn to Hereford stock and added sheep. The large ranchhouse which now houses members of the family was built in 1938, replacing the old plank house which had only four large rooms. The couple educated their family in rural schools, and in Eldorado where the children attended High School.

A number of years ago the De-Longs bought a residence in Eldo-

A&M Agricultural Experts Make Tour of Schleicher County Irrigation Projects

Under the sponsorship of County Agent W. G. Godwin, two agricultural experts from A&M made a tour of some of the new irrigation projects in Schleicher County Tuesday morning, and staged a public meeting Tuesday afternoon for all who were interested in this new undertaking.

M. K. Thornton, agricultural chemist and head of the Soils department of A&M, and Robert V. Thurmond, agricultural irrigation engineer, arrived in Eldorado Tuesday morning and joining with Mr. Godwin, headed a group that visited three of the irrigation projects. They went first to the Clyde Keeney farm near town, where they made observations of the large new tank which will become a part of the irrigation system soon to be established by Mr. Keeney. The Keeneys have the distinction of having the well with the largest potential production in the county up to this time. It was rated at 825 GPM when tested in mid-July. Pump and motor have been ordered, and the system will be put in operation some time during the fall.

The next stop was at the cotton farm of Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Lloyd in the Reynolds community. The new pump was put in operation for the group, and the visitors were given an opportunity to look over a large part of the 42 irrigated acres.

The next stop was at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Nick Jurecek, who are irrigating some 70 acres of fine-looking cotton. Mr. Jurecek has the distinction of being the first to grow irrigated cotton—having dug his well last year.

Spending the noon hour in town, the delegation returned to Jurecek's at 2:00 in the afternoon for a community-wide meeting for all interested in irrigation. Mr. Jurecek's hangar was used as the meeting place—some 35 or 40 neighbors and townspeople being in attendance—all of whom inspected the irrigation layout before the formal meeting began.

Mr. Thornton lectured on the subject of soils, and took his listeners through an hour's discussion on soil, water, fertilizer, etc., and their relation to irrigation.

Robert Thurmond talked on the technical aspects of irrigation, water wells, pumps, and motors, and brought out some of the problems that will confront the new irrigation farmer.

"When you get the water to the top of the ground, your problems are just starting," he warned; but he also pointed out that there is more interest in irrigation today than ever before.

He stressed the importance of each farmer having a carefully worked-out plan before going into irrigation. He recommended a topographic map for each farm to be irrigated; he warned of crooked holes. The last half hour of the program was given over to a question and answer period.

Post Script

Sheriff E. H. Sweatt and Methodist pastor M. C. Stearns have killed about 200 prairie dogs in two trips out in the county. Their trip to the Otto Williams place resulted in a kill of 90 on Monday.

Sheriff Sweatt reports that results from use of carbon have been most satisfactory, and that the "kill the prairie dog" campaign has been a most active one.

Extension of FM 2084 is in the making, as the county advertises for bids for fencing of two miles of this new road leading through the Toenail Trail Community, and extending that distance into Schleicher from Tom Green. It is expected that at some time in the future this road will be extended on to the Menard-Eldorado Highway, a distance of about 13 miles. But that phase of the program is barely in the talking stage.

We mention it because anything about road improvements is of general interest.

Delivery of four new Ford two-ton dump trucks for the county has been made this week through George Humphrey Motors, local dealers. Operating under the unit system, the county will find its equipment much improved in efficiency and operating costs because of this trade.

It has been brought to our attention that a few groups who have been using the Memorial Building do not leave it in useable condition for others. It is pointed out that the building is for general use of the public, and that any who use it have the obligation of leaving it in good condition.

Neiman Marcus of Dallas has placed an order for a considerable number of character dolls to be made by members of St. Mary's Guild of Eldorado. During the years members of the Eldorado

Guild have been making these dolls the women have gained quite a reputation for turning out attractive and unusual dolls, which they have been selling at the annual bazaars.

Walker said the maintainer, parked northeast of town on the Spur farm-to-market road, was damaged to the extent of several hundred dollars by .22 rifle fire.

Taxpayer Costs Given For Pool

Menard county can build a swimming pool for even less cost per individual taxpayer than was originally announced.

The maximum per taxpayer that can be set aside for construction of a pool is three cents per $100 valuation, rather than four cents as was planned in the original estimate. A maximum of 25 cents is allowed in the county's Permanent Improvement fund, from which money for building the pool would come. That fund currently draws 22 cents per $100 from the county's tax income, meaning that it could be boosted to the maximum if necessary.

In other information learned by county officials this week, it was discovered that only a simple majority is necessary for the election to carry, rather than a two-thirds majority as was believed first.

Resident property-owning taxpayers will go to the polls in the county's eight precincts Saturday, August 27, to determine if this area will provide a swimming pool for its youngsters. —Menard News.

Plentiful Foods Listed For Month of September

College Station.—Grocery shoppers should find the USDA's plentiful foods list for September to their liking for it is a long one.

Pork, beef, broilers and fryers head the list of meats, according to Mae Belle Smith, extension specialist in consumer education. Also included are grapes, rice and fresh Italian prunes, a newcomer, but expected to be bountiful since production for the year has been heavy.

Potatoes, pinto beans, fresh and processed lemons and limes and canned grapefruit sections are all in heavier supply than a year ago.

Milk and other dairy products such as cheese, butter and nonfat milk solids will continue to be abundant because of the relatively high level of milk production in July. Vegetable fats and oils and lard along with canned tuna also will remain in heavy supply, says Miss Smith.

She says the monthly list is based on a survey of supplies of foods in the major trade territories of the southwest area and is made by the area food distribution of the USDA's Agricultural Marketing Service.

Mr. and Mrs. Sam McGinnes and the Albert McGinnes family attended the McGinnes family reunion at Christoval Saturday and Sunday. The 80 relatives present came from Texas, New Mexico, and Arkansas. Orland Harris served barbecue to the group.

Mr. and Mrs. Sam E. Jones Jr. and children spent the weekend in Dallas with Mr. and Mrs. George Stanley Finley.

IRRIGATION NOTES

Some of the facts brought out by M. V. Thornton, Soil Chemist, in the meeting at the Jurecek farm on Tuesday were as follows:

1. That Schleicher County soils would do well under irrigation provided too much salts were not present in the water.
2. That the addition of nitrogen fertilizer and phosphorus would be profitable for irrigation if applied at the right time.
3. That soil analysis could be secured by sending to soil testing laboratory at A&M College, for $1.
4. That a water analysis would be made by A&M college for $3, although the actual cost is near $20.

5. That a topographical map and a soil and water analysis should be secured before irrigation started.

Mr. Thornton discussed Schleicher County soils from a practicable standpoint from tillage, crop rotation, fertilizer and the many minor points to be watched while under irrigation; stating that all angles have to be controlled for successful irrigation.

Mr. Thornton, agricultural engineer, stresses the fact all wells should be thoroughly tested from 6-24 hours and that the drop in water level should be checked. This information is very important in determining the correct horsepower for the motor and the depth the water is to be pumped. Without this information the company installing the motor and pump are guessing.

2. That an irrigation well should not be pumped at full capacity but at the capacity without lowering the water level the maximum.

3. That a test well should be drilled at 3" diameter to give information about the formation. This is usually 75c to $1 per foot.

4. Pumps should be installed by companies that can guarantee maximum efficiency of 70% or better; otherwise the investment is large for a higher horsepower motor and the fuel bill larger.

5. A producer cannot afford to have an efficient well with the correct horse power and pump and not have a good tillage, fertilizer, and insect control program. The emphasis is on sound management practices—of getting to what has to be done at the right time.

Numerous other problems were presented by the group interested in irrigation. The knowledge put forth by Mr. Thornton on soils and Mr. Thurmond on irrigation gave the group a much broader concept of what makes irrigation successful.

A few interested ranchers early last week saw results of reseeded work with native and introduced grasses on an area disturbed by a pipeline installation on the D. C. O. Wilson ranch near Fort McKavett, in the Eldorado Divide Soil Conservation District.

The group found out pretty quick that Mr. Wilson and Walter Pope, Wilson's son-in-law, are proud of the reseeded work done on the ground torn up for a pipeline several years ago. They had reason to be proud for we saw such grasses as Sideoats grama, King Ranch Bluestem, Silver Bluestem, Boers and Lehman's Lovegrass, Green Sprangletop and other grasses from a mixture of seed Mr. Wilson had planted. These grasses were up and making a good seed crop.

During the afternoon the entire 7½ miles of pipeline running thru the ranch were observed. Different phases of ranch management were discussed as we traveled over the ranch. The vigor of different grasses were especially noticeable.

After looking over the rangeland, the rainfall records kept by Mr. Wilson were checked. These records revealed his rainfall to be only 7 to 10 inches per year for the past several years. A large part of these rains were so small amounts that it was very little benefit. Very few of the rains were big enough and close enough together to grow much grass. Yes, the signs of misuse were still evident, but in spite of dry years the country has come a long way since 1949 when Mr. Wilson began his range management program.

Those making the trip to observe the grass planting and range conditions were Judge Dick Bearce, John Williams, Jimmie Whitten, Oliver Burk, FFA instructor, Danny Burk and William Rountree, work unit conservationist of the Soil Conservation Service.

The pitted rangeland on Marvin Logan's place, 6 miles southwest of Eldorado, is already showing the benefits of water held during the recent rains.

"The grass and weeds on 75 acres pitted before the July rains are still green and the areas not pitted are burning fast," Marvin stated last week. "I have watched the 125 acres of pitted rangeland to see what happened after each rain and no water has run off yet," Marvin said.

Marvin was assisted by Lloyd B. Johnson of the Soil Conservation Service in laying off the pitted lands on the approximate contour and in making adjustments on the pitting plow to get the kind of pits needed. The district pitting plow was used in pitting the range land on Marvin's place at the cost of one dollar per day.

continues to get rains and some observers there say some sections look "like Spring." Restocking is already active, and will increase as the cooler weather approaches.

Stocker cows dealers on the yards report activity in their pens the greatest in a long, long time. Despite the continued relatively low prices on finished cattle, the stocker and feeder demand remains good.

The improved pasture and water conditions in the Southwest has put most sheep and cattle in very strong hands, and efforts of Northern buyers to weaken prices have been unavailing so far this season.

SECOND LOOK SUGGESTED FOR RANGE LANDS

College Station. A heavy growth of weeds is nature's way of conserving rangeland soils. By filling in bare areas caused by reduced grass cover brought on by the extended drouth, the weeds are the first plants to show up after rains, says Garlyn O. Hoffman, extension range specialist.

Generally, he explains, weeds do more harm than good. They do provide grazing when young and tender but livestock prefer good grass. Many of the weeds are poisonous to livestock and can cause death. Weeds reduce grass production because of their early growth and use of vital moisture; by creating a dense shade and occupying soil space needed by desirable plants.

Hoffman suggests either controlling range weeds with chemicals if there is plenty of soil moisture or susceptible crops are not endangered or by using a mower or shredder for cutting the weeds. He recommends cutting the weeds at a height of from 10 to 12 inches in order not to disturb the grass.

The specialist says there is lots of pros and cons about prickly-pear. Some want to keep it while others are using control practices. Hoffman observes that anyway you take it, good perennial grasses are the more desirable plants. He adds that the pears do provide some protection to grass plants and permits them to make a seed crop.

In discussing trees on the range, Hoffman points out that trees require about four barrels of water to produce a pound of dry matter while grasses do the same thing on a single barrel of water. Fewer trees on the range mean more grass and less hay to buy and the increase will take care of control costs.

Soil on slopes, he says, can be given some protection by piling created brush and trees. This aids in controlling erosion and top soil and grass seeds held makes a good seed nursery. The young plants are protected from grazing animals and can produce seed.

New Green - Wrap Tomato Coming To State

College Station. Texto 2, a disease resistant and improved tomato variety for the green-wrap trade, will be available in the spring of 1956.

The new variety is the result of a breeding and selection project aimed at developing a disease-resistant tomato which would yield as good or better than Rutgers, the standard commercial variety grown in Texas.

Texto 2 is a selection from breeding material obtained in 1948 from the Southeastern Vegetable Breeding Laboratory in South Carolina. The work in Texas was done at the Plant Disease Laboratory at Yoakum.

The new variety is adapted to South-central, Central and East Texas. It has a high degree of resistance to Fusarium wilt and the collar-rot phase of early blight.

The fruits are less subject to radial cracking and to blossom-end rot than Rutgers. The foliage protection is good; the fruits are firm and smooth; the fruits in both green-wrap and ripe stages have a good color and the yields in a number of tests indicate it will out-yield Rutgers.

Increases of 100% over yields made by Rutgers have been obtained and increases of from 15 to 25 percent were common. In commercial observation tests made in 1954, 19 growers said that Texto 2 produced more than Rutgers; 9 the same as Rutgers and 2 said the yield was less than Rutgers. At Hearne Texto 2 yielded more than seven tons an acre, more than double the yield made by Rutgers. Tests at Yoakum and College Station also favor the new variety by a wide margin.

Weekend guests in the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Mace included his parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. B. Mace, and his sister, Mrs. Holloway, and daughter, Becky Lou, all of Ft. Worth, and Mr. and Mrs. Sonny Stanford and Fay Marie of Hobbs, New Mexico.

Austin. Whether a special session of the Legislature is called on school integration apparently hinges on a Texas Supreme Court decision still to come.

Filed by the anti-integration Texas Citizens Council in a district court at Big Spring, the suit seeks to bar payment of state funds to bi-racial schools.

Atty. General John Ben Shepperd says the court decision holds the key to whether Texas laws must be changed immediately or already-integrated schools must back-track. Decision by the district court can be carried directly to the Supreme Court and possibly be settled by the time school starts.

Should the court hold payment to integrated schools can be made under existing laws, there apparently would be no urgent need to change them, at least in that regard.

Shepperd said he welcomed the Big Spring suit since it promises to clear up the difficult legal situation.

Gov. Allan Shivers says he will call a special session "if necessary." He apparently was awaiting three developments:

He asked his newly formed citizens' advisory council on school integration to investigate and report to him on several questions, including the need of a special session.

He asked Shepperd to prepare an official ruling on legal questions. And the decision in the Big Spring court case may set up conditions to determine need of the session.

In July the Board of Education voted to continue regular payments to local districts, whether segregated or not. It left racial policy up to local officials.

Since then, some 30 districts have announced whole or partial desegregation plans.

A University of Texas student committee also has taken on the segregation problem with a poll of student opinion on acceptance of Negro students outside the classroom. Graduate courses have been open to Negroes since 1950. Regents have ordered full desegregation in September, 1956.

KKK Talk Challenged
Attorney General Shepperd's claim that efforts are under way in Texas to revive the Ku Klux Klan brought a challenge last week.

Sen. Jimmy Phillips called on Shepperd to name names, but Shepperd declined. Names will be given prosecutors and grand juries when sufficient evidence is gathered for convictions, Shepperd said.

State Senator Killed
Death of State Sen. Wayne W. Wagonseller of Bowie cost Texas liberals one of their leaders.

Wagonseller, killed in a three-car collision in Fort Worth, was buried last week in the State cemetery at Austin with full military honors. Services were held earlier in the Senate chamber.

A World War II veteran, he served two terms in the House before beginning his Senate career in 1951. Friends in Tyler recently had boomed him as a candidate for attorney general. He had been associated with Loyalist Democrats and had supported Ralph Yarbrough in the latter's two unsuccessful races for governor.

Giles Pleads Guilty
One of the biggest news breaks of last week was Bascom Giles' plea of guilty in criminal district court at San Antonio to two charges in connection with a Bexar County block land deal.

Giles' guilty plea concerned charges of consenting to accept a $30,000 bribe. He pleaded not guilty to a third count, of accepting the bribe. The state waived this charge and Judge Buck Jones imposed a six-year prison sentence. It is to run concurrently with a three-year sentence given Giles earlier at Austin on a charge of theft of $6,800 from the veterans' land fund.

Giles has appealed the case, which affords at least 90 days' delay in final disposition of the sentence.

Awaiting trial in San Antonio were Arthur McKenzie and C. V.

Wynn, San Antonio land operators, indicted for offering the $30,000 bribe to Giles.

Other suits now pending against the former land commissioner are a civil suit at San Antonio, seeking recovery of $35,000 and nine additional charges in Austin, on other transactions. He also faces trial in Zavala County on another land case.

Stevenson Reply Awaited
Adlai Stevenson is slated to speak in Austin on Sept. 28. At that time he may reply to Gov. Allan Shivers' repeated refusal to support him for president.

During the national governor's conference in Chicago, Shivers said he would again, as in 1952, refuse to support Stevenson if he were Democratic candidate for president.

Stevenson withheld comment "until I am in Texas." Shivers, he pointed out, was a "guest in Illinois."

Stevenson's Austin appearance was arranged by the University of Texas great issues committee. It is billed as "non-political." Subject of his talk will be, "America, the Economic Colossus."

Too Much Money
Overpayment of drivers license fees has created a problem for the Department of Public Safety.

DPS staffers remind the public that increased charges voted by the 1955 Legislature do not go into effect until Sept. 6. At that time charges will jump from $1 to $2 for an operator's license, $2 to $3 for commercial licenses, $3 to $4 for chauffeurs.

Meantime, the lower rates apply, and the department has quite a task returning excess money.

Seed Laws Aimed At Protecting Farmers

College Station. Read the label or tag which is attached to every sack of planting seed before making a purchase, advises Associate Extension Agronomist Lee C. Coffey. The information carried on the tag is for the protection of the buyer and must list the content of noxious weeds if any.

With the small grain planting season at hand, the specialist offers tips which may aid in keeping your farm free of weed enemies. Among the weeds often found in small grains are cheat or chess, jointed goatgrass, wild morning glory, field bindweed, curled dock, Johnson grass and wild oats.

Once a field is infested with primary noxious weeds, the job of cleaning up may require years and considerable expense. Crop damage results from lower yields and perhaps dockage because of the presence of some weed or from soil made unproductive through the use of chemicals for control.

Coffey says much of the trouble can be avoided by planting certified seed. They are not only pure as to variety but must be free of noxious weeds. Under Texas laws every sack of planting seed sold, whether certified or not, must be tagged or labeled. The tag carries information which should be read. The State Department of Agriculture administers the seed laws of the state and make a diligent effort to protect the buyers of seeds by testing and inspection programs.

Planting seed containing nutgrass or field bindweed cannot be sold in Texas. Neither can seed containing more than 100 dodder, curled dock, blueweed, Canada thistle or Johnson grass seeds per pound of seed. Seed containing more than 100 Johnson grass seeds per pound can be sold if marked—pasture mixture.

Read the tag before you buy, advises Coffey and especially check for noxious weeds in planting seed.

Applications Are Being Received For Drivers License Examiners

Austin—Applications are being received by the Texas Department of Public Safety for appointment as Driver's License Examiner, according to a statement released by Col. Homer Garrison, Jr., director of the State Safety department.

Young men between the ages of 21 and 35, inclusive, may apply between now and September 20th, closing date for receiving applications, according to Garrison.

In addition, applicants must meet the following qualifications: be not less than 5 feet 8 inches in height; weigh not less than two nor more than three pounds per inch of height; have a high school education; be of good moral character and subject to rigid character and physical examinations. Also, they must have resided in Texas for at least a year.

Garrison said that examinations will be given late in September to fill 23 existing vacancies in the Driver's License Division caused by resignations, promotions and transfers.

Student examiners are paid $275 monthly during the first month of training. They are then raised to $306 per month for the initial three months of their first field assignments. After that they receive the maximum pay scale of $315.

Additional benefits are: two weeks paid vacation annually; and both retirement and social security provisions.

Application blanks may be secured at any State Driver's License District Office or by writing directly to A. F. Temple, Chief, Driver's License Division, Texas Department of Public Safety, Austin.

USDA Lists Undesirable Wheat Varieties

College Station. A list of 23 wheat varieties designated as undesirable because of inferior milling or baking qualities has been released by the U. S. Department of Agriculture. Because of their undesirability, a discount of 20 cents a bushel in 1956 price-support rates will be made to discourage the planting of the listed varieties.

The varieties were designated by the Agricultural Research Service after consultation with state agricultural experiment station personnel, agronomists, cereal chemists and other qualified technicians on state and Federal staffs.

The price-support regulations for 1956 will provide for producer certification, that is, the identification of the variety of wheat going under price support will be the responsibility of the producer. It will be based on his knowledge of varieties seeded and harvested. No protein content premium will apply to any of the undesirable varieties.

The 23 varieties listed accounted for only 31 million bushels of the 1954 production and 3.7% of the '54 wheat acreage. The varieties shown on the list included seven which are planted in Texas. All are hard red winter wheats and are Red Chief, Jed Jacket, Kankin, Chiefkan, Early Blackhull, New Chief and Yogo.

USDA officials state that this change in the price-support program for wheat is designed to encourage the production of more desirable varieties and lessen the possibility of U. S. wheat of inferior quality finding its way into domestic and export channels.

Strong backing, say the officials, has come from crop improvement associations.

Mr. and Mrs. D. L. Gray and Jean and Jan of San Angelo visited Saturday with Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Farris.

Ever wonder what "Santa Fe" means?

Back in 1901, about 40 years after the Santa Fe Railway was founded, the ancient Indian Cross-within-a-Circle design was placed in a square and the assembly was adopted as the official trademark of the young railroad.

The words "Santa Fe" means Holy Faith. Today, that faith and vision in America's future have built the Santa Fe Railway System into a vital network of steel, linking the West, Southwest and East with fast, efficient transportation services. These rails serve your town; help it grow and prosper.

And, no matter what your shipping or travel problems may be, Santa Fe will solve them. Your local Santa Fe agent is right here in your town to help you.

You can depend on him, as you can depend on the vast system he represents.

After-Dinner Speaker Gets His "Deserts"

"Red" Thomas tells about a dinner party he and his Missus went to in Center City last week. He said it was a wonderful party—except for one guest who was a real "know-it-all," right from the start.

Whatever the subject, this fellow considered himself an "expert." Wasn't quiet about it, either. He told different people what automobile to buy, what books to read—even told some who they "just had" to vote for.

When it came time to leave, this fellow must've felt a pang of conscience. He turned to the hostess and said: "I suppose I was a bit outspoken tonight." Quickly she replied, "Of course not. No one could have out-spoken you."

From where I sit, it's all right to have opinions as long as you don't try to force them on neighbors. Take those who would deny me an occasional glass of beer simply because they prefer something else. They're welcome to their choice but shouldn't try to force me to be a "party" to it!
