March 28 Deadline For Filing For School Trustee Election

The election for school board trustees is due to be held on the first Saturday in April (April 7) for the purpose of electing two trustees.

Expiring are the terms of Gene Edmiston and W. V. Lux, who may be candidates for re-election—although they have not filed at this time. The deadline for filing will be March 28—ten days before the election—filing to be done with W. R. (Dick) Bearce, county judge and county school superintendent.

There will be no provision for absentee balloting this year, according to Judge Bearce.

Two Aldermen to be Elected

New aldermen coming up, but no contest—seems to be the pattern for the city election which will be held Tuesday, April 3 for the purpose of electing two aldermen.

Terms expire for Lum Davis and Dick Preston and both declared they would retire and would not be available for re-election. Seeking a pair of new candidates, the other city dads finally persuaded Paris Burnham and Buster Hale to accept places on the ballot before the deadline last Saturday.

Mr. Hale has been here since the opening of the Huldale oil field and is in charge of the Ohio Oil Company office in Eldorado. Mr. Burnham is manager of the Wm. Cameron lumber yard and came to Eldorado in March of last year.

American Oil Pipeline To Build New Huldale Office

The American Oil Pipeline Company, owners of the Huldale gathering system, have decided to build a new office and warehouse in the North Huldale area to handle their business there.

Officials from Snyder were here recently and let the contract for this job to Wm. Cameron & Co., of Eldorado. Paris Burnham, manager of the local yard, reports that construction will start Monday. Plans call for an air-conditioned office and adjoining warehouse.

Ground Observers' Alert Is Considered A Success

George Cales, chief observer, and James Williams, supervisor, of the local ground observer unit, were notified this week by Major Ben Baines of the filter center in San Antonio that the alert held last week-end was considered a success.

Major Baines stated that: "Although all the information concerning Exercise SOLO has not yet been received, we have heard enough to know that it was a highly valuable exercise both to Filter Center and Observation Post personnel. All of us made mistakes, of course, but that it what exercises are for—to find our weak spots.

"Let me take this opportunity to congratulate you on the part you and your post took in this exercise, and I wish you would convey to each of your volunteers who participated my sincere thanks and appreciation for a job well done. Your efforts certainly helped us here at the Filter Center and I hope that we helped you.

"We also learned some things about our communications system which are being corrected and which will result in a smoother operation in the future."

In addition to low flying and unidentifiable aircraft, ground observers are to report severe weather conditions in the future. These conditions include winds of over 50 miles per hour velocity, hail, and tornadoes.

Visitors in the Walter Warren home were Mrs. Warren's brother and sister-in-law Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Stevens, who were on their way from Bryan to Washington.

The Military

Master Sergeant Harold Yates and his wife and daughter have been visiting here and at Richland Springs with relatives, before leaving for overseas duty in France. Their furniture has been shipped from San Angelo, where Yates has been stationed at Goodfellow field a number of years, and the family will leave soon. Yates has been in service 13 years.

Post Script

A good many Eldorado carpenters are getting employment on the new Sincalir plant at Huldale, according to local yard men. A visit to the location finds men, material, machines, and activity all over the 40-acre tract. It's a good place to visit if you are finding things dull at home.

A number of Schleicher County youths are taking entries to San Angelo for competition in the stock show, which opened this morning.

The cooking school put on last Friday afternoon by West Texas Utilities was a big success, judging by the number attending—130. Mrs. W. L. Alexander of Merced, California, a guest of Mrs. J. B. Montgomery, won the table lamp, Mrs. Gilbert Lowe the deep fry, Mrs. J. H. Mace the waffle baker, Mrs. Will Isaacs the automatic coffee maker and Mrs. P. D. Burnham the Mixmaster. In addition a large number of food prizes were won by women attending.

All phases of electric cookery were demonstrated.

One old Schleicherite who returns to the county because of the irrigation is Jene Moore, who is starting his irrigation project with a good well as a nucleus. He has been away several years and recently had been living at Marfa where he was connected with Farm Homes Administration.

A crew was in Eldorado last week clearing the old Shell line as part of their work of renovating the line from Midland to Austin. They have been repairing leaks during the past several months. Early this week they came through with their scraper and are now headed for Austin.

The line, now the property of Phillips Pipe Line, is in use, though the old station was done away with at the time of the sale of the property to Phillips.

There is some street talk of the company putting in a booster station, to be operated by remote control, but we have nothing authentic on this.

This is Public Schools Week! All who have not visited the local schools are urged to do so in the remaining time, today and tomorrow. Visitors may go to any classrooms they choose—it is important that all citizens show their interest in the schools by calling during this very special week.

The Southwest Texas Electric Co-Op has rented the Ratliff building adjoining the Eldorado Success at the north, and has moved some equipment and material to this building, which they expect to use as a warehouse. It has been vacant for some time.

Sonora Wins First In Plateau Relays

Sonora took first place in the First Annual Plateau relays held at Eagle stadium last Saturday, by winning first place in all three relays and four individual events. Their points totaled 43, with Bronte taking 23 for second place.

The Menard Yellow Jackets took the third place trophy with 18 points, while Richland Springs with 17 took fourth.

Eldorado placed fourth in the 880 yard relay, and Kerr was fourth in the 380 yard run, while the mile relay team from here took third.

Other towns besides those mentioned who sent teams were Ozona, Bandera, Robert Lee, Rochelle, Mason, Rankin, Brackettville, Melvin and Paint Rock.

Out-of-state relatives here because of the illness of Mrs. Jerome Mitchell are her sister Mrs. Otis Shamblin and son Virgil and brother Ernest Aldredge and son of Los Angeles, California.

After living in San Angelo since last July, the J. J. Heffernan family returned last week to the county, and are again at home on the W. A. Blaylock place. Their children have re-entered the Eldorado public schools.

NOT PELOS! Not Balmorrahea! It is Schleicher county that is seeing more irrigation scenes as time passes, such as this one of Perry Mittel getting his land in shape for cultivation. Water flows thru the large siphon tubes in the foreground into the field. Mittel's project is on his place about a mile north of town.

School News

The schools are on display this week and you are invited to visit the schools, the teachers, and your children. The speech class presented a play in assembly Monday morning and a Southern assembly program was presented Monday afternoon.

A very interesting book display has been arranged by Miss Jewel Shelton, librarian. The homemaking girls have a display of materials, purses, bracelets, and earrings. Included in this exhibit are cedar chests, lamps, bowls, desk sets, serving carts, picture frames, ash trays, blue prints, and drawings. The elementary teachers have exhibits in their rooms.

This has been a busy week for the boys as they have been busy trimming the lambs getting them ready for the San Angelo show.

The following boys have sheep entered in the show: Jimmy Whitten, four lambs and one Rambouillet ram; Billy Williams, three lambs; Bobby Williams, two lambs; Ernest Nimitz, four lambs; Joe Stanford, two Rambouillet ewes and five Corriedale ewes; Sherrill Dannheim, two Rambouillet ewes.

The initial copy of the FFA Newsletter has been published. It covers the chapter's activities for the whole year's work. A few copies are still available.

At the regular meeting of the Eldorado school board, the contracts of Coaches Algood, Whitaker, and Browning were extended for another year.

This will be the third year for Coach Algood and also teaches four classes of high school math. Coach Algood has done a good job with his football boys and will field a team of Senior boys for next season.

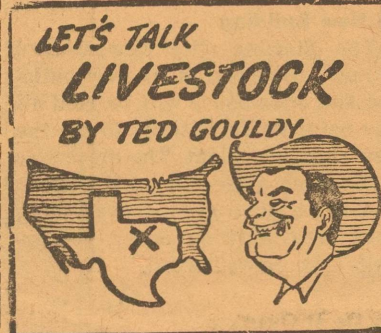

Coach Whitaker came to Eldorado this year, but did a commendable job of coaching basketball. He is doing a fine teaching job in his four classes.

Assistant Coach Browning, here for his first year, produced a good football line, and a Jr. High Basketball District winner. He is also carrying a full teaching load.

These three men have been a good influence on our boys and are an asset to our academic program.

The District XI State Teachers Association will meet in San Angelo, Friday, March 16th. Eldorado schools will be dismissed on this day.

Six students of speech will enter the Eighth Annual Invitational Speech meet at Sonora on Friday, March 9. Entering oratorical declamation will be Helen Kaye Taylor, Bill Gavnor, and Nancy Elder. Gainell Belk and Becky Mund will enter the humorous declamation contest. Dramatic interpretation entries are Gainell Belk and Nancy Elder. Bob Ratliff is entering the extemporaneous speaking and impromptu speaking divisions, and Bill Gavnor, Nancy Elder, and Becky Mund will enter the poetry interpretation contest. The students will be accompanied by Mrs. Dick Wynne, speech teacher.

Fort Worth.—The Livestock and Meat Situation, a review prepared and bearing approval of the Outlook and Situation Board, USDA, had some figures in their end-of-February sizeup of the livestock business that served to dampen the hopes of any tremendous price improvements in 1956.

Inventory of meat animals, the reports said, is up two per cent from a year ago. Based on this inventory total livestock slaughter and meat production in 1956 are expected to advance to another new high. Significant items are two per cent more beef calves on farms and 14 per cent more steers. Estimated number of steers on January 1, 1956 was 9,644,000 against 8,444,000 a year ago.

Hogs on farms are 9 per cent above a year ago. Most of the increase due to the big Fall pig crop of 1955, which means these hogs will be marketed during 1956.

When the Monday estimates were received in Fort Worth the 12 major markets had 10,000 fewer cattle than a week earlier, but the market circle reported over 108,000 hogs. This big hog run was a surprise and tilted prices lower at most points.

At Fort Worth cows, bulls, slaughter calves and stocker and feeder classes of cattle and calves were fully steady. Some stockers were unevenly higher, quality considered. However, beef steers, yearlings and heifers were steady to weak.

Comparative prices: Good and choice beef steers and yearlings $14.50 to $18.00, some club cattle to $19.50. Common and medium sorts $11 to $14.50. Fat cows $11 to $12.50; canners and cutters $7 to $11. Bulls $10 to $14.50. Good and choice fat calves $16 to $18; medium and lower grades $11 to $15.50. Stocker steer calves $14 to $19. Steer yearlings $18 down; stocker cows $10 to $13. Some stocker heifer calves $17 down.

Choice butcher hogs cashed at $12.25 to $12.75 at Fort Worth Monday. Less desirable butcher weights and grades drew $10 to $12. Sows cashed at $8.50 to $10.

LIONS CLUB MEETS

Air Force personnel from Goodfellow AFB discussed the expansion program of Goodfellow which is now going on, and discussed the mission of training which takes place there.

Ford Boulware of Christoval discussed the Red Cross drive.

Joe Andrews invited everyone to the school during public school week, and passed out forms showing courses now being offered in the high school and those required for entrance to various colleges of the state.

Second Kreklow Well Also Disappointing

Joe Kreklow encountered his second disappointment last Friday afternoon when he tested out his latest water well in the Reynolds community in an effort to produce irrigation water.

At latest report the well was delivering only 200 GPM or less and the owner was still experimenting with it.

The location for this well was made by the "Reflectograph" method and the results tend to put a damper on the neighborhood enthusiasm for irrigation wells which grew out of the earlier success of Bruton and Moore, who both brought in extra good wells recently.

Coastal Bermudagrass Does Well If Adapted

College Station. Coastal Bermudagrass offers a real opportunity for forage production where adapted and properly managed. E. M. Trew, extension pasture specialist, says tests and farm experience with this hybrid show its value.

The specialist lists several advantages for coastal over common Bermuda. It produces more grazing or hay; is deeper rooted and more drought tolerant; has larger stems and leaves and grows more upright; more efficient user of water and fertilizer; more disease resistant; grows earlier in the spring and later in the fall and under good growing conditions becomes established more quickly.

Coastal is a sterile hybrid and must be started from sprigs or rhizomes. It is adapted to the area in Texas east of the 30 inch rainfall belt but under irrigation can be grown westward until the 3,000 foot elevation is reached. The grass has exceptional ability to respond to fertilizer and will produce well with medium fertility. Don't expect much on poor soil, says Trew. It is furnishing good grazing on some soils that have been considered worthless because of salt.

Trew believes a small nursery is the best starting point. The nursery will provide low-cost sprigs which can be planted when labor and moisture are available for larger plantings, and the sprigs will be fresh and liveability high.

Coastal should be planted in three to three and a half foot rows. A three foot spacing between the sprigs will require about 9 bushels of sprigs per acre; 18 inch spacing about 15 bushels and a 12 inch spacing about 27 bushels of sprigs. The heavier planting rate will give faster cover and less weed competition. The sprigs may be hand dropped in a shallow furrow and the soil packed around them with the foot. They should then be covered two inches deep and packed with the tractor wheel.

The grass may also be planted with sprig planters or tomato, tobacco, cabbage or pine tree transplanters. It should be planted in a clean seedbed and weeds should be controlled until the grass has covered the ground. It should not be planted, says Trew, in established sods of common Bermuda, Dallas or other grasses.

In this nuclear age it is difficult for the human mind to understand the wonders of science and the revolution that is taking place before our very eyes. That fact was brought home to me the other day when I, upon invitation from the Navy, boarded the atomic-powered submarine Nautilus for an overnight cruise from its home base of New London, Conn.

It was the most amazing experience I have ever had. Aboard were experts, people who directed the development of the world's first nuclear-powered boat, who explained as much as they could. But that wasn't much because the average mind is not capable of comprehending what it is all about. It can be said that the performance of the Nautilus exceeds the most optimistic expectations.

We were submerged for 12 hours during which time the Nautilus did about everything except jump over the moon. Much of the detail is still classified, but here are some general statements that can be made:

Whereas the conventional submarine travels relatively slowly, must come up for air every few hours, can submerge to only a limited depth, and must be refueled at comparatively brief intervals—the nuclear-powered sub travels at fast speed, faster than most surface ships, can remain submerged for months without refueling, and can maneuver at much deeper levels. The Nautilus can traverse the globe without once coming up for air or refueling!

The Sea Wolf, which was commissioned this summer, is an improvement over the Nautilus. We authorized six additional atomic subs to be built immediately. We can be fairly certain that in this important respect, the United States is far ahead of the Soviets. The latter with more than 300 modern subs, is believed not to have achieved the nuclear-power technique as we have done.

Incidentally, the world's first atomic-powered guided missile submarine designed to reach points off enemy shores at tremendous speed and stealthily fire nuclear weapons onto distant strategic targets, is included in the Navy's next-year shipbuilding program. In fact, experts now talk of the day when such missiles will be launched from below the surface, and in a flood of flame and cloud of steam the weapon would rise from the sea in quest of a chosen target. Admittedly that is far in the future, but that day is definitely in the planning picture.

Jack Stanford completed his semester of college work and has gone to Hobbs, New Mexico, where he has employment. Later he will work for Ohio, and will return to college next fall, lacking only five hours of classifying Junior.

H. A. BELK — MANAGER

Extension's Chemist, M. K. Thornton, Reports

College Station. The test tubes and complicated equipment found in agricultural laboratories are constantly being used to help farmers and ranchmen put science to work in their operations. The result, says M. K. Thornton, extension agricultural chemist, has been more and better food, clothing and shelter for the nation's population.

Thornton is a strong believer that the formulation of any system of agricultural planning or any systematic developments of agriculture rests in the soil. He has worked during the past years with other extension specialists, research workers, county agents and many others interested in educational meetings and demonstrations which point the way to greater farm prosperity and a higher level of rural living through the use of fertilizers and sound soil improvement practices.

During the past year Thornton participated in statewide and regional conferences for fertilizer makers and dealers. He visited 39 different counties to hold conferences or to participate in group meetings. He also participated in 52 meetings, 17 were district in scope, and contacted 147 county agents in furthering work in agricultural chemistry demonstrations. Total attendance at these meetings was 2,350.

Thornton spends much of his time supervising the soil testing laboratory which is operated by the Extension Service at College Station. On the basis of soil samples submitted to the laboratory the soil type and location in the State, the specialist makes recommendations to farmers and ranchmen on fertilizer usage and cropping practices. Last year the laboratory tested 10,111 soil samples.

On the basis of present and past results, he says, the laboratory has proved its value to agricultural progress in Texas. He cites three examples of the value of soil testing. A pasture demonstrator had been using 400 pounds each of ammonium sulfate and superphosphate an acre. A soil test showed the 400 pounds of sulfate would meet the fertilizer requirements. The result, an increase of 150 pounds of forage an acre; an increase of $7.80 cents an acre in net profit and a drop in fertilizer cost for ton forage increase from $3.40 to $1.90.

A sweet potato grower who had been using 200 pounds an acre of 10-20-20 fertilizer to get an increase of 110 bushels of potatoes an acre that by following the recommendation from the soil testing laboratory, 1,000 pounds an acre of 4-8-12, his increase jumped to 271 bushels an acre. His profit went from $201 to $522.80 figuring the potatoes at $1.20 a bushel. The fertilizer cost for each bushel increase also dropped from 8 to 7 1/2 cents a bushel.

A central Texas cotton farmer who found his cotton yield going down submitted soil samples to the laboratory and the tests showed that 300 pounds of 10-20-0 fertilizer an acre was needed at planting time and a side dressing of 125 pounds of ammonium nitrate at first bloom. These recommendations were followed and production jumped to 3.1 bales an acre against three-fourths of a bale on the check plot. The fertilizer cost for the additional lint cotton amounted to only 1 3/4 cents a pound.

Thornton also reports that only recently a soil testing laboratory has been put into operation at Seymour, Baylor county, to better serve farmers and ranchmen of that area. County Agent Roy McClung is in charge of the laboratory.

Certified Seed Is A Good Investment

College Station. Guaranteed purity, higher germination and top crop yields are all on the credit side of certified planting seed. While germination and final yields are dependent upon available moisture, Ben Spears, extension agronomist, says farmers can't afford to gamble with planting seed of questionable quality.

Certified seed usually are the best seed of a particular variety available. Seed with a "blue tag" comes from fields that were inspected during the growing season, properly handled at harvest time, cleaned and tested for purity and germination.

Certified seed may cost slightly more, but the added cost is good insurance, says Spear. He advises farmers to buy now the seed needed for planting this year's crops. Seed supplies are generally adequate but last minute shoppers find local stocks depleted.

If the planting seed has not been chemically treated for seedborne and seedling diseases, Spears recommends treatment. He points out that farmers have found this practice profitable and insurance against poor stands and plant losses during early growth.

Local county agents can supply additional information on seed treating and also on adapted varieties, says Spears.

Visiting in the D. C. O. Wilson home over the weekend was their son Duncan Wilson of Amarillo. Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Heaton spent the weekend at Edna with relatives.

HERE'S HOW...

MAKE A FIREPLACE MANTEL

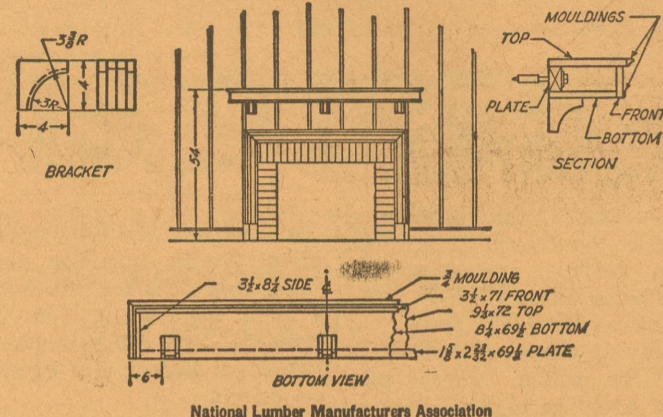

Install this mantel over a new fireplace or use it to replace a worn or unattractive one. It can be attached to masonry or to plastered walls.

Cut all parts to sizes shown. Rip the 2 23/32 plate from a 2 by 4. If the wall is masonry, install four masonry anchors well-spaced at desired height. If wall is of frame construction, locate studs. Bore four 1/2-inch holes in plate to correspond to anchors or studs and fasten plate with 1/2-inch lag screws long enough for at least 2 inches of thread to grip.

Make each bracket as shown, from four 4-inch squares of 1-inch lumber, two with a 3-inch arc cut out and two with a 3 3/4-inch arc cut out. Glue the four pieces together under pressure with the smaller pieces in the middle. Align back edge of bottom with back edges of brackets. Drive 2-inch No. 10 wood screws through bottom into top of each bracket. Use glue on all joints. Attach bottom board to bottom edge of plate with six 1 1/2-inch No. 10 flat-head wood screws. Counter sink heads.

Use 10-penny finishing nails to attach sides to plate and bottom. Fasten front to sides with 10-penny finishing nails and to bottom with 8-penny finishing nails. Mount top with 6-penny finishing nails. Use 2-penny finishing nails to attach 3/4-inch moulding around top edge and flat moulding around bottom edge. A moulding strip may also be added to the back edge. Miter corners. Set nails and fill holes. Sand and finish to taste.

Who Endorsed That Check?

Many people scarcely look at the endorsements on a check, even though they accept it from a stranger, and that can lead to trouble.

Take Jack Storm down at the neighborhood hardware store, for example. He's one who will warn you—with emphatic gestures—that it's smart to follow the simple rule, "Know your endorser."

Our laws set up many rules to protect us, and one of these rules protects the holder of a check by declaring that if he can't collect from the person who wrote out the check (the drawer), he can collect from the person who signed the check over to him (endorsed it). This, of course, applies only where a check changes hands at least once.

We mentioned Jack Storm. He accepted a $100 check from a nice looking fellow who said he needed to buy a kit of tools for his new job. We won't use real names, but let's say the check was made out

Eldorado Lodge
No. 890 — A. F. & A. M.
Stated Meeting 2nd Thursday in each month.
Visiting Brethren Welcome.

to Will Works and signed by Art Jayson.

"Sure, Art Jayson's lived in the neighborhood for 20 years," Jack said. "I know him well. Just sign your name on the back."

Jack forgot to identify the endorser, and it turned out that Will Works was a phony name, and that Art Jayson's signature was a forgery. Jack had no idea where to find the stranger, and he ended up losing about $40 in tools and $60 cash.

Right after that a good friend, we'll call him Bob Samson, bought a $2 paintbrush from Jack, and gave him a $60 check. It was made out to a Paul Smart and signed with "Regno Canning Co., Inc., Rex Rogue, President." Bob Samson placed his signature beneath Smart's endorsement, and Jack gave friend Bob the paintbrush and $58 change.

Well, there wasn't any "Regno Canning Co., Inc." and this check also was worthless. But it was a different story this time for Jack. He contacted Bob Samson, and, of course, Bob had to make good on his endorsement.

Bob Samson managed to find Paul Smart and it was Paul who ended up minus $60. But, what if Smart had been a stranger to Samson?

In a nutshell, anyone who endorses a check guarantees that any previous signatures are genuine and that the check will be paid. If the check is worthless, or the original maker's signature has been forged, then you may collect the amount of the check from the last endorser. Be sure you know the endorser personally, so you can fall back upon him in event it becomes necessary.

Ar-Pan-Ex is compounded of seven active ingredients including a special new medicine to help provide longer lasting relief. Ar-Pan-Ex exclusively perfected to curb chronic, deep-seated pains.

Why AR-PAN-EX Helps

Ar-Pan-Ex does not dissolve uselessly in the stomach—avoids stomach distress. Ar-Pan-Ex is scientifically "Film-Coated" so that ALL the powerful, pain-relieving medicine is released only in the small intestine where it can be quickly carried by the blood stream to every pain-wracked muscle joint and nerve. Swelling, stiffness and soreness may seem to be miraculously eased when Ar-Pan-Ex helps the system throw off excess Uric Acid that can also aggravate pains.

Nothing Like AR-PAN-EX
Nothing ever offered before can bring results faster, more effectively or with longer lasting benefits than Ar-Pan-Ex. It may mean a renewed life of usefulness and pleasure to millions.

Ask for genuine Ar-Pan-Ex today at any drug store for the kind of relief no other product can claim to equal. If your druggist is out of it, he will be glad to order it for you.
