PATTERN AT RIO—Scenes like this, made up of sun, a Brazilian senorita, and the mosaic sidewalk lining the beach front, may have much to do with the tourist boom in Rio de Janeiro, where visitors diverted from Europe now call.

PIANIST AT HEART—The position of this African crowned crane suggests that the national zoological park at Washington, D. C. might well install a piano in the cage. The fine feathery attire adds to "concert" theme.

BILL WITH A WILL—Luckily the toucan from Brazil, now an inmate of national zoo in Washington, can't hear the remarks about his beak which is large—six inches long—orange colored, and buoyant, because of its many air cells.

'TABBY' KEEPS TAB—Sure, they're pals—"Polly" the parrot and "Tabby" the cat—but that doesn't prevent Tabby from keeping a sharp eye on her feathered friend. Both are owned by Barbara Wilson, 411 Hamilton St., Albany, N. Y.

REVIEW IN FAR EAST—Japan's gains after three and a half years of war in China are indicated above. Some observers believe that Japan would like to end this struggle to free herself for more promising enterprises in southeastern Asia. Note the nearness of French Indo-China.

ENVOY—Harry L. Hopkins (above), long an intimate of F.D.R., will be the President's personal representative in London until a new U.S. ambassador to Britain is named.

OIL MAN—William Rhodes Davis (above), international oil operator recently mentioned as a one-time bearer to U.S. of a Nazi offer to negotiate peace with the Allies, has invited congress to review circumstances surrounding case.

SEW WHAT! SOLDIERS CRY—Even in the army that rule about a "stitch in time" holds. At Fort Dix, N. J., Senior Hostess Ethel Moran direct sewing repairs. The soldiers are Sam Bonderinko of Schenectady, N. Y., Homer Miller of Hilton, N. Y.

PART OF PLANE'S POWER—Close-up shows build of crankshaft that takes the pounding of 12 cylinders in Allison plane engines being turned out at rate of 350 a month in Indianapolis.

HEADLINERS IN HOUSE—As the 77th congress got under way for what appears to be a critical session, Rep. Joseph Martin (R-Mass.), minority leader, passed along his good wishes to Rep. Sam Rayburn (right), House speaker and Texas Democrat.

'AUSSIES' AID—In the floppy-brimmed hats that identify them, two Australian soldiers signal with a heliograph in African desert. "Aussies" like these travelled 7,000 miles to share Britain's fight in Egypt and capture of Bardia, Libya.

HARD JOB, SOFT SAND—Slow is the going for British soldiers engaged in the battle with Italians in the deserts of Egypt and Libya. Wearing less than the regulation uniform, two Britons lead supply donkeys through soft sand.

SILENCE, PLEASE—Signs warn soldiers of "Free French" forces in an African desert camp to guard tongues against giving information. "Free French" soldiers aided British drive into Libya, a London source said after capture of Bardia.

FRENCH SOLDIERS—Allied with Britain in the war against Italy on Libyan soil are soldiers of the de Gaulle-directed "Free French" forces, to which these men marching at an African desert camp belong. Flag bears British coat of arms.

Here And There
Yep, the Steak House got it again last night. Thieves, operating on almost a weekly schedule, managed to effect entrance and make off with cigarettes, candies, etc.

Vernon D. Johnson, Childress high school coach, bought a 1939 Mercury over the weekend. Police found it abandoned here early Monday. Today Childress authorities said they were coming after it so Johnson could drive the car he had bought.

Come Jan. 15 local people will see a very familiar face on billboards. Mary Nell Edwards, only Texas girl in the Madison Square Garden rodeo this year, posed for Chesterfield, holding two packs much the same as a pair of thumb-busters. The picture will be on the boards.

When hot weather arrives this summer, the courthouse lawn won't have to suffer. Two inch lines are being installed so that Perry Burleson, the caretaker, can use more than one hydrant at once this year.

Edward Harper, 8, drifted off into the arms of Morpheus during progress of a show at the Ritz Thursday evening. A porter found him snoring in the balcony at 1:23 a. m. today and called police, who took Edward home to finish his nap.

Gilberto Villanueva, 3528 Oregon, El Paso, now complains that car thieves made a haul off his truck. He lost a suit case, a pistol, and some clothing, he reported.

Harvey Bunce is happy that whoever stole a sample kit from him apparently was seeking only dope. His kit was found abandoned and contents somewhat littered at 7th and Lancaster Thursday afternoon. Little was lost from the collection, valued at $75.

Patrons of the local night spots have run into the effects of rising prices—due to war, or something. Most of the dance-and-drink places have upped the tariff on out-of-state beers to 20c a bottle. Texas beer still can be had at 15c. The higher tariff is in effect generally only after 7 p. m.

NEW EUROPE-AMERICA AIR LANE?

Possible land plane bases at Arsuksfjord and Jameson Land on Scoresby Sound

Suggested seaplane bases at Julianehaab (Cape Farewell) and Sangmissok

Could invasion of America come this way? Science is asking this question today on the basis of disclosure by Dr. William H. Hobbs of the University of Michigan that a land-air "bridge" exists between the United States and Europe via Labrador, Greenland, Iceland and England. Shortest water hop is 900 miles. Dr. Hobbs discussed the "bridge" at a recent meeting of the American Association for the Advancement of Science. He reported discovery of two big "holes" in wind barriers which airmen have believed impassable up to now. There are two wind belts over Greenland, one below the other and each whirling in an opposite direction. By choosing the right altitude, Dr. Hobbs reported, flyers could nearly always make certain of having a tail wind. Use of the routes would involve building several bases.

Youth Took Big Roles In Recent Headlines

AP Feature Service
Adults, with their wars, political campaigns, defense programs, etc., didn't get all the headlines in 1940. Here are some juveniles who made the front pages during the past 12 months.

Marc de Tristan, Jr., 3, was rescued from an abductor who had demanded $100,000 from the child's parents, shown here as the boy was welcomed to the Hillsborough, Calif., home.

Virginia Rose Burgess of New York, weight 1 pound 10 ounces at birth, weighed 6 pounds when photographed at the age of 18 weeks.

Somewhere in England, this brave little drummer boy fell in with marching Canadians. The route was long, the sun was hot and the little man grew tired.

'Second TVA' Is Proposed

WASHINGTON, Jan. 10 (AP)—Creation of another "TVA" to be known as the "Arkansas Valley Authority" was proposed today by Representative Ellis (D-Ark) who said the legislation was "drafted at the direction of President Roosevelt."

The authority would operate in the White, St. Francis, Arkansas and Red river basins of Arkansas, Louisiana, Missouri, Kansas, Oklahoma, Texas, Colorado and New Mexico in the same manner in which TVA operates in the Tennessee valley.

Ogden Leads In Insurance Sales

An outstanding record for his concern, the Western Reserve Life Insurance company, was made during 1940 by Ray W. Ogden, local Western Reserve agent. Ogden has been honored by the firm as its No. 1 producer for the year.

He handled more accepted applications than any Western Reserve agent, and none of them was rejected.

The company's publication, "The Western Reserver," devotes space in its current issue to Ogden's record, and publishes his picture. His record also will be given recognition in "Insurance Field," national trade publication issued at Louisville, Ky.

100 Of O'Daniel's Appointees Await Senate Confirmation

Herald Austin Bureau
AUSTIN—More than a hundred of the governor's appointees, including a number from West Texas and the Panhandle, await confirmation by the state senate when the legislature convenes in regular session next Tuesday.

Because no special sessions have been held since the 46th legislature ended its regular session in June, 1939, the senate faces the task of passing judgment on more appointments than at any other time in recent years. There have been more deaths and resignations among state officials than ordinarily, and Gov. W. Lee O'Daniel has had more jobs to fill.

West Texans holding high state office who must be confirmed by the senate to continue in their positions include the three members of the new board of public welfare who administer old-age pensions and other social security services. They are Francis S. Roberts of Breckenridge, Dr. Tom Taylor of Brownwood, and Marvin Leonard of Fort Worth. Besides, the man they selected to be executive director of the department of public welfare—former Mayor J. S. Murchison of Corsicana—must be approved by the senate.

On the highly-important board of control, one of the two O'Daniel choices who await confirmation hails from West Texas. He is Chairman Harry Knox of Brownwood, who was first appointed to serve as adjutant general and then raised to the board of control when the veteran Claude Teer of Austin was killed by a railroad train in San Antonio. Frank Davis of Itasca, former Hill county merchant, is the other board member, in the other board of control member who must be approved by the senate in order to remain in office.

Among other appointees the senate will pass on are Dr. T. M. Montgomery of Amarillo and Dr. Mollie Armstrong of Brownwood as members of the state board of optometry; Frank Hartgraves of Menard and W. R. Chapman of Abilene as members of the advisory civil judicial council; S. F. Farmer of Egla and Will W. Janek of San Angelo as members of the pin's boll worm commission.

The governor will also submit for confirmation the appointments of Dr. Hines Clark of Crowell, J. H. Allison of Wichita Falls, and Harry Koch of Quanah to serve on the board of directors of the Pease River Flood Control District; O. J. Chesney of Santa Anna to serve on the board of the Central Colorado River Authority; and Leonard White of Childress to serve as a director of the Upper Red River Flood Control and Irrigation District.

The name of W. R. Ewing of Pampa will be sent to the senate for confirmation as a member of the Administrative Judicial Districts board.

Of the state insurance commission, two appointees await confirmation, R. G. Waters of Texarkana resigned as casualty commissioner and was replaced by Reuben Williams of Fort Worth, the governor's secretary and 1940 campaign manager. When the late Senator Walter Woodward of Coleman, erstwhile life insurance commissioner, died, Williams was moved up to the life insurance post, and to succeed him O'Daniel appointed Joe P. Gibbs, Seguin Miller and insurance man, to the casualty commissionership. Williams and Gibbs both await senate approval.

Other important appointees who will be up for senate action include: J. Watt Page of Fort Worth as adjutant general. Fred Branson of Galveston as regent of the University of Texas. Lee Hrary of Mart as state banking commissioner. Tom C. King of Dallas as state auditor. Edwin Lacy of Longview as a member of the Public Safety commission. Joe Frost of San Antonio and Maco Stewart of Galveston as members of the state board of education. C. S. Clark of Donna as member of the board of water engineers. D. K. Martin of San Antonio and W. O. Yarbrough of Corpus Christi as members of the game, fish and oyster commission. Dr. W. O. Bradford, life-long prohibition leader, of Dallas, as chairman of the liquor control board. Claude Williams of Longview and Austin as chairman-executive director of the Texas Unemployment Compensation commission. T. B. Hill of Austin as a member of the industrial accident board. M. O. Flowers of Lockhart as secretary of state.

January Graduate!

WHAT ARE YOU GOING TO DO NOW?

Some January graduates will enter college. Not many, but we congratulate those who do, and hope that their college careers will be happy.

Some graduates will go to work immediately. Perhaps this is good. We hope that they are equipped to constantly better themselves.

But the great majority — and perhaps you are among them — have no definite plans.

Now is your opportunity to prepare yourself for a good job — a responsible, steady, good-paying job. There are plenty of jobs in the Printing Industry where work is fascinating and well-paid. Then, too, printers are in constant close touch with all kinds of businesses offering roads to a variety of careers. Many of the world's great men were trained as printers.

If you are ambitious to earn more money than average pay, if you have a desire to become a good craftsman, write for our free catalogue that tells the whole story. No obligation to you.
