

Britain Breaks Diplomatic Ties With Rumania

English Armies Occupy East African Sea Port

RAF Makes Many Raids In Campaign

CAIRO, Egypt, Feb. 10 (AP)—British forces, launching a new drive against Italy's East African colony of Eritrea from the north, have occupied the Red Sea port of Mersa Taclai and the town of Kagara, on the Anglo-Egyptian Sudan frontier, the middle east command announced today.

The drive apparently coordinated with the one sweeping eastward across Eritrea in a vast pincer movement, brought the fall of the first Red Sea port to be captured from the Italians. Mersa Taclai is 40 miles down the coast from the Sudan-Eritrean border and Kagara is 40 miles to the northwest on the frontier.

In Libya, on the North African front, where British forces are reported 300 miles beyond Benghazi on the 600-mile road leading to Tripoli, today's GHQ announcement said "clearance of the areas up to El Agheila is proceeding satisfactorily." El Agheila is 150 miles southwest of Benghazi.

The RAF command announced that aircraft of the fleet air arm made a "successful" raid Saturday night on Tripoli itself, bombs were reported to have fallen on the seaplane station, setting a hangar afire.

In East Africa, it reported continued support of the army's land offensive with repeated raids on Cheren, in Eritrea, causing much damage to stores and motor transport.

Coupled with the drive into Eritrea from the north, the official announcement said British troops closing in on Cheren, rail center 40 miles north of Asmara, the capital, continued their pressure on the stubbornly defending Italians.

On the Ethiopian front, it said South African troops now have advanced 50 miles into the country in the Hobok area, "capturing quantities of war material." To the east, in Italian Somaliland, the British reported that "intensified patrol activities continue."

In seizing Mersa Taclai, the British captured a port boasting an anchorage and lighthouse. Kagara is a small market town, itself some 30 miles from the Red Sea.

Military observers saw increasing indications that the British might drive on to Tripoli for a showdown fight with the dwindling fascist legions defending Libya.

Solons Tackle Key Issues

AUSTIN, Feb. 10 (AP)—Starting the fifth week of its general session, the legislature today put its shoulder against a huge bank of work to do and drew breath for a great push.

Committees planned many hearings to give the public its say on hundreds of bills and early floor action on important legislation seemed not improbable.

Re-examination of its rules and the questioning of State Auditor Tom King regarding his criticism of overlapping government bureaus were the first business for the senate.

In the fore of chartered house activity were committee hearings on a bill to appropriate $3,500,000 for achers retirement and another to milled rice for advertising purposes.

House committee on revenue taxation tackled one of the toughest jobs tomorrow when hearings on a big col-

Why Postal Receipts Show Gain

WASHINGTON, Feb. 10. (AP)—Rep. Taber (R-N.Y.) thinks he knows why postal revenues are increasing in some states.

At a hearing before a house appropriations subcommittee, William L. Slattery, comptroller of the post office department, testified that receipts were greater last year in Oklahoma and North Dakota than 1930 despite population decreases.

"I suppose that is because they were writing more about getting further government loans," commented Taber.

When Slattery added that postal revenues in California and Florida gained in a greater proportion than the population, Taber replied:

"Those people were writing in for old-age pensions."

Lease-Lend Bill Called Suicidal

WASHINGTON, Feb. 10. (AP)—Merwin K. Hart, New York attorney, testified before the senate foreign relations committee today that the British aid bill "probably would lead us into the war." He also suggested that American involvement might enable Russia to "take control here."

Hart, who said he appeared before the senate foreign relations committee as "an average citizen," declared that house-approved amendments to the legislation had not substantially reduced "the threat of war contained in the bill."

The house passed the measure Saturday.

Saying he wanted Britain to win the war, the witness added that "the adequate defense of the United States is even more important than the defense of Britain."

As the senate committee started its final week of work on the bill, Senator Austin (R-Vt.) counseled the republican party today against "blind opposition" to the legislation.

Hart contended that "to pass such a bill as this would be an abdication by the congress of its obligation and duty under the constitution." He added "I am completely opposed to such abdication."

"The bill gives far too great power to one man. In such a crisis as this the judgment of no one man is enough—not even the president of the United States."

Before congress acts finally on the bill, the witness said, Britain should be asked to state her war aims and the country should be informed about the status of American defense.

Declaring that American entry into the war would lead eventually to either a fascist or a communist government, Hart added:

"For the United States, from whatever motives, to throw itself into this present conflict would lead in as brief time as two or three years to the utter exhaustion economically and socially of this free and rich republic."

WASHINGTON, Feb. 10. (AP)—

Terminating the lend-lease legislation "downright fascist," Joseph Curran, CIO official, testified today that the bill would put the United States in war and would give the president power to regulate labor and destroy trade unions.

Curran, president of the National Maritime union, told the senate foreign relations committee that American labor "is unalterably opposed to war" and that it therefore opposed the British aid legislation.

Calling the bill "an outright war measure," he added:

"We have to base our approval or opposition on the simple question—Do we want to get into this war or don't we?"

Announcing these figures in its monthly report today, the bureau of mines said crude production in December totaled 110,520,000 barrels, compared to 106,904,000 in November.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 10 (AP)—Crude oil production in 1940 totaled 1,351,847 barrels—a new record. Last year's output was 87,500,000 barrels more than the 1939 total.

In December production remained about stationary, with a daily average of 3,565,200 barrels compared with 3,568,500 in November.

Not until the house has passed a tax bill can the senate, because of the constitutional provision that tax legislation must originate in the house, so much as have a committee tax hearing.

Tomorrow also will witness a hearing on bills to boost appropriations for rural school aid.

A senate committee Wednesday will resume a hearing on bills to increase the limit on truck loads.

A house committee already has favorably reported a bill to legalize trucks and loads up to 36,000 pounds.

Legislature Takes Action On Many Bills

Consideration Of Oil Proration Statutes Is Postponed

AUSTIN, Feb. 10 (AP)—Both branches of the Texas legislature saw rapid-fire action today.

The house quickly voted, 84 to 51, for an immediate committee report on a bill to double the motor truck load limit. A few minutes later, it authorized creation of a general state government investigating committee similar to that which the senate has had for several years.

After a heated debate, the house, by topheavy vote, decided to postpone until April 1 consideration of a bill extending Texas' market demand oil proration law.

Governor W. Lee O'Daniel sent in a special message suggesting a social security appropriation of $26,820,000 if the legislature continues deficit financing. Shortly thereafter, three senators introduced the suggested bill.

The senate voted to renew the life of its pension investigating committee for another 30 days if needed. Sen. Joe Hill of Henderson expressed confidence, however, that the inquiry could be completed next week.

The house vote requiring the highways and motor traffic committee to act on the 14,000-pound truck load bill probably will give that proposal a comparable calendar status with the bill permitting gross truck and load weight of 58,000 pounds.

Many advocates of the latter bill assert that the 14,000-pound measure would not provide the needed relief. The 14,000-pound bill, they contend, is acceptable to the railroads. The expected floor fight on the issue may be reached later this week.

Senators A. M. Alkin, Jr., of Paris and Olan R. Van Zandt of Tlaga, introduced a bill appropriating $8,112,775 annually for the next biennium in rural school aid funds, approximately a 12 per cent increase over current allotments.

Increases were $400,000 in salary aid and $700,000 in transportation aid. The high school tuition apportionment was unchanged.

Alkin, explaining the appropriation was arrived at by a study of the state auditor's records and grants approved this biennium by the state department of education, asserted the bill allowed no increases not absolutely necessary.

County Cash Balance Off

Although the cash balance for all funds sagged under the total for the month previous, Howard county finances showed considerable more strength at the end of January than at the same time a year ago, according to the approved report of Auditor Claud Wolf Monday.

With outstanding checks in the amount of $12,000 deducted, the actual cash balance as of Feb. 10 stood at $88,533. This was down considerable from the $101,708 a month ago, but then comparatively little of the January tax payments were shown in the month's receipts.

A year ago, as of the end of January and without deducting outstanding obligations, the cash balance for all funds was $83,720.

No accurate tabulation on the outstanding checks at that time was available, but if it approached the $12,000 shown in the current report, then the advantage now over a year ago would be around $17,000.

Road and bridge fund disbursements stood at $5,393 during the month, including $1,551 for regular wages and $310 for extra labor, and $1,298 for materials and supplies. Purchase of a tank of gasoline boosted disbursements for this account to $699 for the month. Balance at the present time was listed at $22,908.

General fund expenditures were held to $2,430 for the month including $316 for medical fees and hospitalization, plus $99 for charity medicine and $70 for other charity.

Running of terrace lines amounted to $206. Balance was given as $34,587. The officers salary fund had $5,180 after expending $3,691 and the jury had $7,254 after paying out $1,436.

In his radio talk yesterday he said he was tired of seeing "the rights of the common people of this state abused."

He specified what he asserted was a provision of the truck load limit law which would not allow a farmer to drive a truck load of 14,000 pounds past a railroad station.

The governor advocates increasing the load limit from 7,000 to 14,000 pounds.

He declared he did not intend to dictate to the legislature, but could only recommend. At the same time, he predicted the session would be one of the most constructive in years.

Churchill Says No U. S. Men Needed

LONDON, Feb. 10 (AP)—If the United States will "send us the tools," Great Britain can "finish the job" of defeating Adolf Hitler and Benito Mussolini without the aid of an American expeditionary force, Prime Minister Winston Churchill declared in a Sunday night radio address.

"We do not need the gallant armies which are forming throughout the American nation," he said. "We do not need them this year, nor next year, nor any year that I can foresee."

"But we do need most urgently an immense and continuous supply of war materials, and we need them here, and we need to bring them here, and we need a great mass of shipping in 1942, far more than we can build ourselves, if we are to maintain and augment our war effort in the west and in the east."

He warned that Hitler would "do his utmost to prey upon our shipping and reduce the volume of American supplies."

With this, Churchill coupled another warning that the long-predicted German invasion might be near at hand.

"We must all be prepared to meet gas attacks, parachute attacks, glider attacks, with constancy, forethought and practiced skill," he asserted.

Speaking in tones of grim confidence, Churchill declared "we may be sure the war is soon going to enter upon a phase of greater violence." He underscored the possibility of a German thrust through the Balkans.

"A considerable German army and air force is being built up in Rumania, and its forward tentacles have already penetrated Bulgaria with what we must suppose is the acquiescence of the Bulgarian government," he said.

"Many preparations have been made for the movement of German troops into or through Bulgaria; and perhaps this southward movement has already begun."

(Official quarters in Sofia, Bulgaria, said the only German soldiers in Bulgaria were a few officers and men training the Bulgarian army in the use of equipment sold by Germany.)

English May Raid Nation's Oil Fields

BUCHAREST, Rumania, Feb. 10. (AP)—Great Britain broke off diplomatic relations today with Rumania, into which Germany has poured hundreds of thousands of soldiers, and arranged to turn over her Rumanian interests to United States care.

The British minister, Sir Reginald Hoare, notified Rumanian Premier General Ion Antonescu that the long-strained relations between their countries were at an end in a brief note delivered on the stroke of noon.

(This decision followed on the heels of British Prime Minister Churchill's broadcast declaration yesterday that "the nazis, having absorbed Hungary and driven Rumania into a frightful internal convulsion, are already on the Black sea," and "perhaps" a southward movement of German troops into or through Bulgaria already has begun.)

There was speculation in neutral diplomatic quarters whether Britain soon might follow the break with a declaration of war, especially since Rumanian oil fields are now completely in German hands and would provide a legitimate target for Britain's bombing planes.

The British minister to Bulgaria recently notified the Bulgarian government, according to diplomatic sources in Sofia, that Bulgarian military targets would be bombed by the RAF if a way were opened through Bulgaria for German troops to get at Greece or Turkey.

Immediately, United States minister Franklin Mott Gunther and his staff began taking over British affairs. The rupture had been expected since strong contingents of naval troops began entering Rumania last fall.

A special steamer is waiting in the Rumanian Black Sea port of Constanta to take Sir Reginald and his staff of almost 50 to Istanbul, Turkey.

Official Rumanian reaction to the break in relations was not immediately available, but a breach had been expected since large contingents of German troops began entering Rumania last fall.

Newspapers carried columns of instructions to civilians on how to behave in air raids and how best to protect themselves.

Bucharest was blacked out last night and the blackout will be permanent hereafter. This decision was made, the newspaper Curierul said, because "there is danger of air attacks."

The reported British warning to Bulgaria is believed to apply also to Rumania because of the presence of German troops and the military value of Rumanian oil fields.

Besides the British diplomatic mission, there are nearly 200 other Britons residing in Rumania. Many have indicated they will remain. Some stayed in Bucharest during the German occupation in the last war.

The British have been holding rounds of farewell parties for more than a week in expectation of the break.

British Ships Make Daring Raid On Genoa

LONDON, Feb. 10. (AP)—Sweeping boldly to the very top of the Italian boot, British warships hurled more than 300 tons of shells into the great naval base at Genoa at dawn yesterday, the admiralty reported, damaging power plants, factories, warehouses, oil tanks, docks and shipping.

At the same time, British patrol planes were said to have dumped tons of bombs in Pisa and Leghorn, farther down the Italian coast, hitting the airbase and railway junction at Pisa and raining bombs on a Leghorn refinery called "one of the largest and most important oil plants in Italy."

Prime Minister Churchill, in telling the empire by radio of the Genoa exploit, described the shelling as "shattering" and declared Genoa to be a "naval base from which perhaps a mass German expedition might soon have sailed to attack General Weygand in Algeria or Tunisia."

To reach Genoa, site of big merchant marine and naval construction, it was necessary for the fighting ships—comprising about 100 tons of naval might—to thrust into the heart of the Gulf of Genoa, through the Mediterranean and Ligurian seas.

(If the vessels sailed from their nearest base—Malta—they had to go 300 miles through waters patrolled by axis planes.)

Other British bases in the Mediterranean are at Gibraltar, 1,100 miles away; Crete, 1,300 miles away; and Alexandria, 1,700 miles away.

(The Gulf of Genoa was believed to have been mined and heavily patrolled since the reported removal to Genoa of the bulk of the Italian fleet after the damaging Taranto raid by the British Nov. 11.)

The total loss to the British as a result of the raid, the official account declared, was one Swordfish naval plane. Two Italian planes were reported shot down.

February 19 Made 'Statehood Day'

AUSTIN, Feb. 10 (AP)—The senate today stamped o.k. on a house concurrent resolution designating Feb. 19 as Texas Statehood day but not until members made sure the date was not made a legal holiday.

The resolution was sponsored in the upper chamber by Senator Houghton Brownlee of Austin who faced a barrage of questions as to whether it would cause state departments, banks and other institutions to close.

It got unanimous approval when he answered all queries in the negative.

Feb. 19 is the anniversary of Texas' annexation by the United States in 1846.

NO MATTER how much you smoke, all that you get from a cigarette—all the flavor, mildness—you get it in the smoke itself. The smoke's the thing! Science has told you Camels are slower-burning. This slower way of burning means more mildness, more coolness, more flavor in the smoke. Now, these new independent tests reported above—tests of the brands that most of you probably smoke right now—drive home another advantage for you in slower-burning Camels—extra freedom from nicotine in the smoke. Try slower-burning Camels. Smoke out the facts for yourself. Dealers everywhere feature Camels at attractive carton prices. For convenience—for economy—buy Camels by the carton.

LIKE ANYONE WHO SMOKES A GOOD DEAL, THE EXTRA MILDNESS IN SLOWER-BURNING CAMELS IS IMPORTANT TO ME. AND THE FLAVOR IS SO GRAND!

IF YOU SKATE AT ALL, then you know that cutting a pretty figure is not as simple as pretty Evelyn Doman makes it appear. Behind her seemingly effortless grace are hours of hard practice. She takes her skating seriously... her smoking, too. "I smoke a good deal," she explains. "The slower-burning cigarette—Camel—gives me the extra mildness I want." Slower-burning... costlier tobaccos. Yes, slower-burning Camels give you a fuller measure of flavor without the harsh effects of excess heat... extra mildness, extra coolness, extra flavor—and less nicotine in the smoke. Boys In Khaki One Of Reasons For Success Of Texas Open

SAN ANTONIO, Feb. 10 (AP)—The boys in khaki, the Soldierboys, the inductees and regulars in the $30-a-month bracket, need a break on the nation's sporting events and Fred Corcoran, the man of a million ideas, thinks golf should take the lead.

Sitting around while they swept out the clubhouse after some 3,000 golf fans had littered the place celebrating Lawson Little's triumph in the Texas open tournament with an eleven-under-total of 273, Corcoran, the tournament manager of the National P. G. A. mused:

"Today we saw Lawson Little, a retiree, a college son, play great golf to win the tournament. Thousands were in the galleries. It was the army, the soldier boys, who came out by the hundreds, to police these galleries and play an important part in the success of a tournament threatened two days by the weather.

"Why not give these boys a break? Why not let any non-commissioned man in uniform see these open tournaments free of charge? Why not carry the idea into baseball—football and other sports? They are making sacrifices, and $30 a month doesn't permit too much spending on sporting events."

Little, a master shot maker in the three days he battled snow, high wintry winds, rain and sunshine to card 74-62-70-67—273 to win by three strokes over silent Ben Hogan of White Plains, N. Y., played his first round of golf here in San Antonio.

"It was back in 1919 or 1920 when my father was stationed here," he recalled. "I played the San Antonio Country club with a putter. I don't know what I shot. But it gave me a tremendous thrill to come back here and win this Texas open."

Little was infallible after the opening round played in cold weather. His 62 in the snow and slush Saturday was one of golf's greatest competitive rounds. It tied the P. G. A. 18-hole record.

Just as last year, a national open champion won the Texas event. Byron Nelson pulled down first money last year.

Hogan had an errant putter to blame for his failure to catch the fleeing Little. Through the final 36 holes he three-putted seven greens to eventually wind up at 276.

But Little just about broke Hogan's spirit on the final round with a brilliant 67 which included a three-putt green, two missed putts of five feet and a penalty shot.

Sam Sneed, Hot Springs, Va., finished third with 279; Clayton Hearner, Linville, N. C., fourth with 281 and Jimmy Demaret of Houston and Byron Nelson tied for fifth with 282's. Demaret slipping in a last minute 66 that included a missed putt for 12 inches and a couple of bogies.

The field fell here for New Orleans and the start of the $5,000 tournament there Thursday.

SPORTS ROUNDUP

By EDDIE BRIEZE
NEW YORK, Feb. 10 (AP)—Well, family, here are a few crumbs you might be interested in... Around here, they'd like to know why Chalky Wright, the crack featherweight, had to go out of town to do his fighting... A recent poll by a society of opticians revealed that Tommy Harmon and Sonja Henie tops the prettiest peepers... When Basketball Coach Gus Tebel of the U. of Virginia wants a little action, he simply hollers, "Bill!" Eight of the 15 guys on the varsity squad come a-running... Since opening of his new restaurant (which is going over big), Benny Leonard has changed his slogan from "keep punching" to "keep munching."

Watson Clark, the old Dodger southpaw, has been elected city commissioner of Clearwater, Fla., where the Brooklyn train... Three of Kansas State's best football hopefuls won't be seen around the campus this fall—teacher trouble... It wasn't Jack Doyle who offered odds of 100 to 1 that you couldn't name a rookie ball player who would appear in 100 games next season (as we reported), but a somewhat less famous guy on Broadway... (Credit us with an error)... A guy like Doyle would be crazy to make a bet like that with such guys as Novikoff coming up.

Pepper Martin promises there'll be another gas house gang in Sacramento this summer and says he doesn't mean maybe... Just as we told you weeks ago, Gen. John J. Phelan has been recommended for another term as chairman of the New York state athletic commission... Bimelech is looking better every time he works out at Hialeah... The press around the country feels that the election of Elmer Layden as czar means the end of Carl Storck as president of the National football league, which is too bad, since Storck is a capable executive, let alone being a first class guy... With 16 fellows holding out, it begins to look like the Cub rebellion is something to watch, since most of the non-signers are key men.

One-minute interview — Earl Blaik: "Pro football hasn't done a thing for the advancement of the game... Every play the pros used successfully first was introduced by college teams."

US, Mexico May Make Trade Pact

MEXICO CITY, Feb. 10 (AP)—Informed quarters here say the strengthening of Mexican-United States relations might result in an agreement for an exchange of concessions on the shipments across the frontier of corn, wheat, sugar, fruits, vegetables and livestock.

Mexico long has appealed for less costly tariffs on its exports of winter vegetables, fruits and livestock.

Meanwhile, Mexico is becoming an increasingly important market for apples, grapes, other fruits, and for vegetables at a time when its own crops are not in. It needs for United States corn, wheat, sugar and other crops likewise are on the increase.

Observers here say it would not be surprising if the problem were worked out on a seasonal basis, on fruits and vegetables, lowering tariff barriers for each country at a time when the others' crops were not ready for market.

Tree Orders Being Taken

Chamber of commerce beautification committee members said Saturday that orders for trees might be left at the chamber of commerce.

They appealed for all anticipating planting trees this year to contact the chamber and leave their orders as soon as possible to expedite the placing of the initial order.

Prices, they said, would be comparable with last year which offered a spread of 70 cents for elm sprouts to $4 for large trees. Then most popular price levels were from 35 to 50 cents with 65 and 75 cent groups furnishing the bulk.

Prices this year will depend upon the quantity of orders, so the public was urged to join in placing orders to insure large quantity prices. Details of handling purchases were to be worked out, but it was considered possible that a local nursery would receive, prune and care for the trees until delivered.

OIL PRODUCTION IS BELOW DEMAND

AUSTIN, Feb. 10 (AP)—Oil production in Texas currently is averaging 34,159 barrels daily below the federal bureau of mines demand estimate of 1,312,500, the railroad commission reported Saturday.

Completion of 114 wells during the week brought the state's total to 95,344.

More than 99 per cent of the sulfur produced in the United States is obtained in six operations—one in Louisiana and five in Texas.

South Can Aid More In U. S. Defense Plans

"As preparedness efforts intensify in the United States, many cottonmen question whether this country can meet national and international demands as successfully as they did in 1917-19," Colonel Edward N. Wentworth, nationally known meat and livestock authority, recently said.

Just how the draft and preparedness programs will affect cottonmen is difficult to predict, Colonel Wentworth said, but the base of the army diet is beef. If the United States should become involved in war, he added, we might soon have 2,500,000 to 3,000,000 men in the army and navy, and these men eat about 200 pounds of meat a year instead of the 130 pounds they eat normally on a per capita basis.

Changes in areas and methods of cattle production, reductions in supplies of aged and "pinny woods" cattle during the 1934 drought, and other factors have curtailed the "beef reservoir" which was utilized in 1917-19, the authority pointed out, he expressed confidence in the ability of the cattle industry to meet the situation.

That Cotton Belt States, especially those of the Southeast and Mississippi Valley, will supply a larger part of the beef and other meats and livestock products need to meet the present situation than they did in 1917-19 is evident. The blending of livestock production with cotton growing throughout the South in recent years has given the region a sound foundation for future livestock development.

As compared with 25 years ago, Southern farmers have had much more experience in livestock production. They have better physical equipment for handling livestock. They know more about the value and use of grains, hays, silages, cottonseed meal and cake, cottonseed hulls and their feed resources of the South. They have available to assist them a larger and better-trained group of animal husbandry leaders in the extension services, experiment stations, agricultural colleges, vocational agriculture departments and other agencies.

All of these factors should aid Southern farmers and ranchmen in meeting any future demands upon them, should enable them to avoid mistakes that were made in the past, and should give the South an important part in the national program of adequate production of livestock and livestock products for defense. Such a program, livestock authorities point out, will enable the nation to utilize fully the many resources of the Cotton Belt for livestock production—including its experienced farmers and ranchmen, its favorable climatic conditions, its pasture and feed acreage, its production of cottonseed feed products and many others.

There are more companies manufacturing foodstuffs in the United States than any other product.

Oklahoma Suit Is Referred To Supreme Court

MUSKOGEE, Okla., Feb. 10 (AP)—Oklahoma's suit to halt construction of the $54,000,000 Red river dam project near Denison, Texas, has been referred to the U. S. supreme court.

Acting upon a request of attorneys for Gov. Leon C. Phillips, a three-judge federal court cleared the way by dismissing the state's suit for an injunction. Counsel for Oklahoma immediately filed notice of appeal and set up $500 supersedeas bond.

Entering the state's plea was C. G. Hatchett, who told Judges Walter A. Ruzman and Alfred P. Murrah of the tenth U. S. circuit court and Federal Judge Eugene Rice of the eastern Oklahoma district that the order was necessary in order to permit an appeal to the supreme court.

He asked the tribunal to "hit us square between the eyes," in moving for the dismissal.

Attorney Charles O. Brier of the department of justice contended a denial of the injunction was not necessary to a judgment dismissing the case. He expressed concern that the action might injure the government's position in the further legal battle over the project.

But the judges, holding that the dispute was "much ado about nothing," granted the state's request.

Gets 15 Years For Insurance Steal

SEATTLE, Feb. 10 (AP)—Hallett R. French, 45, Seattle socialite and insurance executive who confessed keeping premiums on $500,000 worth of insurance issued on the ill-fated, now $4,400,000 Tacoma Narrows bridge, and failed to tell his company about the policy, was sentenced to a minimum of 15 years in the state penitentiary Saturday.

The expose came shortly after the great Tacoma bridge, third longest suspension span in the world, buckled and collapsed into Puget Sound during a gale last November 7.

"Just think of the odds on that bridge falling," French told reporters. "The actual insurance rate in cold figures was 30,000 to 1 that the bridge wouldn't fall. "But it fell, and I've got to pay."

MAN CHARGED IN 1935 KIDNAPING

EL PASO, Feb. 10 (AP)—Gene Crosby, 42, who was turned over to federal bureau of investigation agents in Napa, Calif., Saturday, was charged with kidnaping Chas. A. Walker of Clovis, N.M., in 1935, in a complaint filed in U. S. Commissioner's court here.

F B I agents filed the charges, alleging Crosby had been held in jail since January 1, ending an investigation of a Napa robbery.

Anti-Trust Laws Get Attention

(Herald Austin Bureau)

AUSTIN, Feb. 10—Texas' aged anti-trust laws apparently are due for vigorous enforcement during the next two years.

The 1939 legislature appropriated $10,000 a year for anti-trust enforcement, and it was stepped up by Attorney General Gerald Mann who has filed a number of cases since then.

This year the attorney general requested a $25,000 a year appropriation, and the board of control, in its budget which was okayed by Gov. O'Daniel, has recommended that figure to the legislature.

Rubinfoff's Honeymooning Brother, Business Manager, Visits In City

Honeymooning from the west coast to New York City—with a little business thrown in on the side, Mr. and Mrs. Phil Rubinfoff stopped off for the night in Big Spring late Saturday and remained throughout Sunday for a good look at West Texas. Mr. Rubinfoff is business manager for his brother, Dave, who will appear here in concert on Feb. 26 with Solis, associate artist.

The concert group will come here from Clovis, N. M., for their first Texas appearance, Rubinfoff said, and will show in only nine other cities in the state. Sweetwater and San Angelo are their other locations in this section.

While here yesterday, Rubinfoff was shown through municipal auditorium by Kiwanis club members, who are sponsoring the concert, and exhausted himself in praising the entire building. "Our fours take us from state to state through 48," he said, "and we've never had the pleasure of showing in a building so beautiful in a town of this size and even larger."

Kiwanians learned through the visitor that the concert will not be devoted to classical offerings altogether, but will be a well rounded program of classical, semi-classical and popular music as only a master of the violin and an associate as Solis at the piano can present.

According to Lloyd Brooks, chairman of ticket sales, selling over the weekend was brisk locally and by mail. He has placed them on sale at the office of B. Sherrod Supply company, where purchases may be made any week-day from 10 a. m. until noon and from 1 to 5 p. m.

New Fashions Are "All-American"

SPRING styles this year have their origin in the creative talents of American designers. The 1941 Frigidaire electric refrigerator shown in the picture also is the work of designers in this country.

The hostess, on the left, is wearing a dress equally appropriate for preparing a family dinner or for lunching at the country club. Flame colored ratine panels start under the arms and sculpture the bust and waist. The same color dominates the motif applied on the white center panel. Next to the hostess is a visitor wearing a black silk print sprinkled with military insignia in white. A pleated skirt matches the dropped pleated sleeves. Despite the sloping effect, sleeves are still padded. The green bag and bonnet match the green grain bow and hip pipings.

Clearly saying "1941", the new spring suit worn by the second visitor is of men's wear wool, in grey with white stripes. Softly padded, gently sloping shoulders minimize a waistline gently nipped by smoke pearl buttons. The straight skirt has a center front pleat defined by bias bands of material. Both bag and hat are grey straw in the same tone as the softly tailored blouse. Lattice bands of felt in back prevent the hat from taking flight. Sulphur yellow gloves, softly crushed at the wrist, provide the only note of color contrast.

Negro Girls Learn Domestic Arts In Class Conducted Here

"Girls, the most important thing about ironing and folding napkins is to see that they are thoroughly dry and correctly folded." Thus explained Mrs. T. A. Roberts to her class of negro maids, who are taking the part time trade extension class in food preparation and serving.

The class includes 13 negro girls who are employed as cooks and maids in Big Spring, and wish to learn how correctly to prepare and serve meals.

It is a regular course of study provided for the state board and only costs the enrollee $1.75 for the three-month class which meets twice weekly learning and discussing regular culinary problems. On completion of the course, the maids receive a certificate stating that they are capable of preparing and serving luncheons, dinners, banquets or teas.

Mrs. Roberts has been giving this sort of work for some time, and is proud that she is able to offer a course of this type to employers who want capable maids.

The girls recently gave a party in Mrs. Roberts' home for their employers, demonstrating the art of serving which they have accomplished since beginning the course.

"Should anyone in town wish a meal prepared, (bridge, luncheon, or what not) the girls would like to have the job since there is no budget allowed for groceries and cooking utensils we need so badly to carry on the course," said Mrs. Roberts.

Crow's Cafe Offers Best Steak, Chicken

Steaks and chicken are in the featured spots on the menu at Crow's Cafe, 2109 Scurry, with dancing to a string orchestra leading the list of entertainments offered.

J. L. Crow, owner of the cafe, opened up his place of business on December 18 of last year, moving here from Monahan, where he was associated in the same line of dealing with the public. Crow was in the food business in Fort Worth before he moved to Monahan.

Monday, Wednesday, Friday, and Saturday are the heaviest days on the week's program at Crow's. The string band, composed mainly of musicians who used to be with the local Doughboys, plays on Monday, Wednesday, and Friday, and music is furnished by a juke box on other nights.

Crow's customers are regional, coming from Big Spring, Lamesa, and Colorado City to sample his food and dance to his music. He caters to parties and is prepared to handle demands at any time for the cafe's specialties.

"We have a good trade and are hoping to make more friends to add to our list of customers," Crow said in describing growth of his business since coming to Big Spring.

Many Die In London Train Accident

LONDON, Feb. 10 (AP)—Many passengers were killed and injured today when a local train crashed into the rear of a stationary express near here between Harold Wood and Brentwood on the London-Norwich line of the London North-eastern railway.

The guards' van of the first train and the two rear coaches of the express were telescoped. Soldiers, sailors and airmen among the passengers used axes to free less fortunate fellow travelers imprisoned in the wreckage.

TEXAS IS READY!

Give that valve a quarter turn, Old Man Texas, when Uncle Sam needs the oil for national defense.

With the pioneer spirit typical of Texans, our oil men have found and developed petroleum reserves far beyond all civilian and military needs now indicated.

Even if defense requirements total 150 million barrels more a year, Texas can supply them without waste by a quarter turn of valves on wells already drilled. This can be done at a moment's notice without depriving anyone of a single gallon of gasoline or quart of motor oil.

Surplus pipe line capacity is ready to carry all this oil from the fields. Surplus refinery capacity exists to turn it into essential products.

Texas goes ahead in the search for more petroleum reserves. New fields are being found . . . more efficient producing, refining and transportation methods are constantly being perfected . . . TEXAS IS READY!

Polly. "Anyone can tell that."

"Boy, is my ego swelling!" said Warren.

"I've already started a fire in the outdoor oven," David said. "I'll get the coffee started as soon as Warren and I have one more swim."

Polly and Margo ran across the grounds to the Inn.

And while they were dressing in the Inn ailer, Warren and David swam the length of the pool a number of times. Then they swung themselves up to the pool's side, and sat there smoking.

"You've got a beautiful layout here, David," Warren said. "I'm inclined to agree with you, although the place has been a white elephant on the family's hands for a number of years."

"Something ought to be done about it."

"Yes, that's what I think."

"Attractive location—well-built house—this pool. A lot to work with."

"Right!" said David.

Then almost before he realized it, he was telling Warren McNeill about those wishful thinking things he had dreamed over upon his front porch.

Warren listened, interested.

"Do you know," he said when David had finished, "if I had the money, I'd join up with you, and make the Inn just what you described."

"You mean you don't think me a bit touched in the head to have such dreams about the place?" said David.

"Certainly I don't think any such thing," Warren assured him.

"Gosh! That's great. I don't often find anyone who so rapidly agrees with me."

"The whole idea appeals to me no end," Warren went on. "But money! That's the drawback. It usually is, where a doctor is concerned."

"Well, don't think the doctors have a corner on that particular problem," David said. "They haven't."

Warren didn't seem to hear. He went on talking.

"I've got a few thousand dollars my grandfather left me," he was saying. "He was a doctor, and wanted me to learn all the 'new-fangled stunts' he thought the doctor of today had to know. I spent quite a sum traveling around Europe, looking into different branches of the medical profession—and now there's not an awful lot left of my inheritance."

"And you'd better hold on to it," David advised.

"I don't know about that," said Warren. "Anyway, I'm planning to use it to buy out some aging doctor's practice in a growing town—a place like Ardendale."

"But what about those offers from hospitals you mentioned?"

"They'll have to wait a little while. I'm not keen about being shut up between a lot of cold, white walls."

"I reckon hospital work is pretty confining," said David.

"It is," Warren said. "I think I'd much rather work in a town where I can get about more."

"Then why not buy out our Doctor Ben's practice?" David asked.

"He's been talking about retiring for the past five years. You could settle down here, and maybe, if I kept on working at the lumber plant, the two of us could manage to raise the money we need to put Freddy's Polly on the map."

"Darned if that's not a good idea, David!" Warren said. "I'll have a talk with this Doctor Ben."

"Fine! I'll take you to see him tomorrow. How about it?"

"The sooner the better," said

Warren. "I've got some pretty good credentials, even if I do say so, as shouldn't."

"And about Peter," said David. "I can't thank you enough for giving him that thorough going-over."

"I'm only sorry I couldn't tell you something encouraging," Warren replied. "I can tell you this, however—the boy's got guts, if you'll pardon the expression. His courage and hope will do him a lot of good."

Magic Spring

"Thanks," said David. "I think he's a pretty swell kid, myself. And I do feel that the leg's improving. It's sun-tanned and tougher-looking, even if it isn't a great deal stronger."

"What did you do with the boy tonight?" Warren asked. "I thought he might come along with us."

"He's home, reading," said David. "I brought him a new book from the library. Funny little tike, in some ways. He doesn't seem to mind being left alone—self-sufficient, you know. He says he got used to being alone when he lived with his dad, who, from all I can gather, had all sorts of strange jobs; never keeping any one of them very long."

Warren tossed away his half-smoked cigarette.

"I think I shall prolong my stay in Ardendale," he said, "and look the place over thoroughly." He got up, stood with his legs wide apart, looking up at the Inn. "What a setup for a sanatorium! I certainly would like to swing it."

"So would I," said David. "If we could truthfully advertise the spring water as having a magic touch, as Polly expressed it, we ought to draw quite a patronage."

"And if we could prove that the water is beneficial to people like your small cousin, we could do wonders!" said Warren.

David also arose. He stood beside Warren.

"I would give a lot," he said, "to see Peter walking like a normal boy."

"Well, there's nothing like trying to make a dream come true, is there?" said Warren. "I think I'll take a sample of the spring water and have it thoroughly analyzed."

Polly appeared upon the porch. "Stop standing there staring!" she called. "Go get dressed. The supper will be ready in no time." She came down to them. "Have you got the coffee started yet, David?"

"No," said David. "Warren and I have been too busy talking."

"What about?" Polly asked.

"About making dreams come true," said Warren.

"Come on, Warren," David said. "Let's go stir up the fire, and put the pot on."

They hurried around the end of the Inn, and back to the brick oven which had been built in the rear yard.

Polly picked up the two baskets which she and Margo had packed, and followed them.

Soon after David and Warren had gone to dress, Margo came out. She helped Polly spread a tablecloth underneath a gnarled apple tree.

"It's fun, isn't it, a party like this?" Polly said, as she went over to have a look at the coffee.

"Yes, it is," said Margo. "This back to nature stuff gives you an opportunity to really get to know a person."

"Meaning Warren?" said Polly.

"Yes," said Margo, "meaning Warren."

Darlan Takes High Post In Vichy Staff

VICHY, France, Feb. 10 (AP)—Admiral Jean Darlan, promoted to No. 2 man in Chief of State Philippe Petain's government, was expected today to take up—with German approval—former Vice Premier Pierre Laval's work toward collaboration with the reich.

Darlan, only cabinet minister carried over from before the fall of France, emerged from a flurry of developments here yesterday as chief of council (vice premier) and foreign minister, in addition to his former post of minister of the navy.

He succeeded Pierre-Etienne Flandin, who took Laval's place as foreign minister when Laval, once heir-apparent to the chief of state, had a "misunderstanding" with Petain after undertaking negotiations toward French-German collaboration.

Political circles said Darlan also might take over the ministries of interior and information. In further cabinet changes expected during the week, they said, other civilian ministers may be replaced by high civil service officials.

Reports from Paris said Laval's supporters were surprised by the weekend shakeup, but that all he could do was "wait and see."

$12,500 Budget For Chamber Of Commerce Talked

Chamber of commerce directors Monday heard a $12,500 budget proposal for 1941, but passed action on the matter until the Feb. 24 meeting.

The amount was under the $14,000 mentioned at the annual chamber banquet, but officials said they were hopeful that this amount might be raised.

No action was taken on a request to endorse a 14,000-pound truck load limit in preference to the so-called scientific load limit law which would permit considerably higher weights under specified conditions.

Dr. P. W. Malone, reporting for the aviation committee, said that the Civil Aeronautics Authority had offered the city a fourth ground school training program, but expressed doubt that such a course would be offered unless more interest was manifested in it. It would, he figured, require some 50 young men and women as class members before it would be justified.

Baptist Men To Fete Selectees

Seven young men, preparing to leave here Tuesday morning as members of the third group of military selectees, will be honored at 7:30 p. m. at the First Baptist church Brotherhood meeting.

They are to be honor guests at the men's organization for the church along with draft board officials. There will be no parade or speaking just before departure time Tuesday since such is being abandoned in favor of the banquet idea.

Speaker for the occasion will be the Rev. Frank T. Kee of Odessa, pastor of the First Baptist church in that city. George Malenar, president of the Brotherhood, urged members to attend the meeting in the church basement and to bring guests with them.

Included in the group leaving Tuesday are:

Earnest Henry Briggs, Merritt Hall Barnes, Francisco Torres Moncada, Crestino Torres Correa, Vernon Wilson Langley, Donald Hurst Glass.

Johnny Robert McGee has been added to the group leaving Big Spring although he is registered with the Chaves county board of Roswell, N. M.

Federals Assert Smugglers Quiet

WASHINGTON, Feb. 10. (AP)—Smuggling into the United States of narcotics has been "petty in character" during the last few months except along the Mexican border, W. R. Johnson, commissioner of the customs bureau, told congress today.

Johnson's statement, made before the house appropriations subcommittee considering the treasury and postoffice appropriations bill was made public when the measure was reported to the house today.

"There have been some small seizures of marihuana and some opium coming across the Mexican border," said Johnson, "but those do not play an important part in the customs picture that they have played in the past."
