

Library, School Building Program Highlighted 1964

Muleshoe was on the move during 1964, looking definitely to the future.

Three events proved this far-sighted trend: A new library, a $900,000 school building program and a broad look at the future with "Muleshoe Area Improvement Forum." All three events look to the years ahead.

All in all it was a good year in Muleshoe. Building boomed, crops were mostly good and the outlook for the new year is bright. End of the bracero labor program may boost labor costs, and this year's cotton crop will not reach last year's mark. These were apparently

Farmers To Air Labor Ills At Area Meeting Outline 'Attack' Course

Bailey county farmers, faced with "prohibitive" labor costs in 1965 as a result of a new labor upping farm wages, will join other West Texas farmers and businessmen in a protest meeting in Lubbock Thursday at 2 p.m. It was announced Saturday. A husband of Muleshoe-area farmers says businessmen will attend the meeting.

The session will be held in the auditorium of the South Plains Electric Cooperative, 110 North Amarillo Highway. Public is invited to attend.

"Something has got to be done and quickly, and we hope we can reach Washington with protests that will result in easing the labor situation," one farm leader here said Saturday.

With the upping of minimum pay for farm workers is "had enough within itself, lowered cotton prices and lowered acreage allotments combine to make the outlook extremely dark for Bailey county farmers in 1965," he concluded.

The plight in which West Texas farmers - especially cotton and grain sorghum farmers - find themselves was the subject of a 14 - man meeting in Austin this past week with U. S. Sen. Ralph W. Yarborough.

Going from there was Elvan DeVaney, head of Western Farm Labor Association. They pointed not only to the troubled crop situation but also the cattle raising industry. "The entire industry is in a squeeze," Yarborough told the cattle industry, already hard hit, will be dealt another severe blow by the increase in wage minimums," DeVaney said.

They pointed out that 20 cent cattle turn into 50 cent hamburger meat or 1.59 Kansas City strips. "That's too great a spread," DeVaney said the Senator was told.

Of the cotton farmer's situation, the group explained to the senator that cotton has decreased $12.50 per bale in the last year and that another $5 cut is seen for this year to bring the two - year decline to $17.50 for the cotton farmer.

Added to this is an acreage decrease and the increased labor minimum. The rise in minimum pay for farm labor to $11.17 by mid - April will bring the farmer's hired help costs up 120 percent in the last two years.

Bankers have a vital interest in the protest meeting, it was pointed out, since banks will be hard hit to make collections if the new labor costs go into effect. At the Austin meeting with Sen. Yarborough, a Martin county banker said he had refused 12 loans on general farm operations since most of the farmers in his county had lost money on their farms for the last two years. He told the senator that cotton prices had gone down and the price for labor and other operating costs had risen so sharply during the time that many farmers were unable to pay off their loans.

The senator also was told that any big farm loan organizations are putting the "squeeze" on farm loans, some refusing to make loans for the new year in view of the critical situation facing farmers are facing. Western Cotton Oil company, for example, a company which annually makes thousands of farm loans in West Texas, is closing its Pecos office. A bank in Texas is following a similar line. Bo Worsham, Pecos, who is said to be one of the state's biggest farm operators on borrowed money, told the senator that the state's biggest agricultural loan bank in Pecos is cutting off farm loans, at least for the time being.

DeVaney said the senator listened to the group "sympathetically," and then called President Johnson's office in Johnson City to present the matter directly before the Chief Executive. Sen Yarborough talked with the president's chief of staff for several minutes, relaying the information which the farm group has given him.

Farm people say the labor unions are back of the move to raise farm labor wages, forcing a virtual end to the Bracero program which has operated successfully in this area for several years. Pay for farm help has been 70 cents an hour, but under the new rulings, the pay will be increased to 90 cents until April; after that the minimum will be $1.15 per hour. Farmers claim the $1.15 pay will put them out of business.

In addition, the labor department, which has taken over the farm labor program, has laid down stringent rules, such as upping housing requirements, insurance and transportation rules.

"If the new labor costs are permitted to go into effect, our farmers are going to be forced into a price situation which will make it extremely difficult for

Ginnings Reach 79,000 Mark; End in Sight

Bailey county's gins had turned out 79,433 bales up to Thursday night, Texas Employment Service announced at the county's end.

This is considerably below the mark set last year at this same time; however, cotton generally is later than in 1963 - 64 season.

The possibility of the crop reducing the 100,000 mark diminished and the end of the harvest season for the 1964 - 65 crop appeared in sight. One expert who has studied the cotton situation here for several years, said he "believes the total will reach around 90,000 bales this year."

Meantime in the South Plains territory in general, USDA's marketing service in Lubbock said Thursday that the crop is 90 percent harvested, and sample receipts continued to decline at the three South Plains USDA classing offices.

Samples at the three offices declined to approximately 17 - 000 daily during the last week in December. Total classed at the three offices in this area - Lamesa, Brownfield and Lubbock - stood at 1,667,000.

Trading in the Lubbock market continued steady during the past week and at slightly increased prices. Prices paid for white grades ranged from 30 points under CCC loan levels to 65 points over the loan.

"Baby New Year" for Bailey county - who is he? And is the first arrival for 1965 a boy or a girl?

The Journal is not certain, and the paper is not announcing the name of the infant for the new year until it can check further. That means it will be next Thursday before Baby New Year for Bailey county can be announced.

Whoever he is (or she is) will receive a whole bunch of gifts from Muleshoe business houses. And that's why we are taking no chances on picking the wrong baby, as the first for the new year.

From all appearances, the first baby of the new year was a girl born at 4:40 a.m. Jan. 2 in Green Memorial Hospital. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Gustin who live at Lubbock.

The lass has a sister.

The Gustin infant, who weighed 7 pounds, 4 ounces, has been named Debby Gail. Her grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. D. E. Atkins, Muleshoe, and Mr. and Mrs. C. D. Gustin, Hereford.

But at West Plains Hospital, a boy showed up at 6:45 Saturday morning, born to Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Smither who live at Enochs, Apparent the lass over at Green Memorial has named him out for the No. 1 spot.

But there may be another baby born at home who got here on the first day of the new year. Maybe, that is so, that's why the Journals are not making any an-ouncements until next Thursday. Meantime, if you know of a baby who showed up in Bailey county earlier, please call the Journal.

Bank To Sponsor Farmers' Income Tax Clinic Here

Because income tax rules for farmers have been changed drastically since 1964, First National Bank here will sponsor a farmers' income tax clinic, it was announced Saturday.

The clinic will be held in the bank's community room next Friday night, starting at 6:30 p.m., and will be free. All farmers in this area are invited to attend.

The bank pointed out that 14 changes have been made in the farmers' income tax reporting form, and it is to explain these changes especially that the clinic is being held.

Conducting the clinic will be John Siebert, farm management specialist with the Texas Extension Service, Lubbock.

Also here to assist in explaining the new rules will be personnel from the income tax division of the Internal Revenue service.

"We feel that this is an important school, and we hope every farmer in the area will avail himself of this opportunity," Harmon Elliott of the bank said Saturday.

Jail Empty; People Good On New Year's

Muleshoe's New Year's holiday can be summed up in one word - "QUIET."

So said sheriff's officers Saturday morning. "Quietest holiday we ever had in Muleshoe, I believe," said a member of the sheriff's department. "In fact, we all got to stay home with our folks more this Christmas - New Year's holiday than I can ever remember."

There wasn't even a fence-bender to mar the city's quiet New Year's holiday.

And to cap it all off, the county jail, which also doubles as the city bustle, was standing wide open. There wasn't even a drunk sleeping it off inside those stone and iron walls Saturday morning.

While the rest of the state was recording a record number of traffic accidents, Muleshoe pointed with pride to its clean record. Of course the long holiday isn't over yet, officers still are keeping their fingers (See JAIL Page 3)

Hunters Bag 13 Barbary Sheep In Palo Duro

Thirteen sound sheep were killed by trophy-conscious hunters during the December 11, 12, and 13 season in the rugged Palo Duro Canyon southeast of Amarillo, Texas, the Parks and Wildlife Department reports.

Wildlife workers reported two of the 13 barbary sheep harvested were in the 270-pound class.

The three-day hunt was the second ever held in Texas. In the late '50s, the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department purchased 44 barbary sheep from a rancher in New Mexico and released them in the Palo Duro Canyon. Until last year these sheep were permitted to reproduce and become firmly established in their new surroundings.

Forty-two hunting permits were distributed in 1963 among Palo Duro Canyon landowners and nine sheep were harvested. This year 30 permits were distributed with six males and seven females bagged.

Current estimate of the total number of the rare sheep now present in the Palo Duro Canyon is between 400 and 600 head.

70 Grain Sorghum Tests Conducted At High Plains

Seventy grain sorghum hybrids were tested and compared in the research program at the High Plains Research Foundation in 1964. The tests were under the supervision of Barry Love, Associate Agronomist.

Thirty-four of these hybrids purchased 44 barbary sheep from a rancher in New Mexico and released them in the Palo Duro Canyon. Until last year these sheep were permitted to reproduce and become firmly established in their new surroundings.

Testing of grain sorghum for the various commercial seed companies started in 1960 with 32 hybrids and varieties. The test has grown to seventy in 1964.

The information on the 70 entries in the hybrid grain sorghum tests and the 2, 3, 4, and 5 year average yields will be included in the 1964 research report now being prepared for the supporters of the Foundation. The chemical composition of the grain will also be reported for each hybrid.

These were eight hybrids that had a four-year yield average of about 7,000 pounds per acre. Four hybrids also averaged above 7,000 pounds per acre in the five-year yield record at Halfway.

"The grain sorghum testing program is a service performed for the seed and grain industry and farmers to provide information on the hybrids best adapted to the area. If farmers will select the best adapted hybrids for their individual farming operation, it will greatly increase their profits," Dr. Earl Colister, Director of the High Plains Research Foundation, said in commenting on the research results.

Texas taxpayers may use a state sales tax table as a guideline when filing their 1964 federal income tax returns. Ellis Campbell, Jr., District Director of Internal Revenue said the table is now available.

The table shows the average amount of state sales tax paid by Texas residents and may be used by taxpayers who itemize their federal income tax deductions. Similar tables have been prepared for 36 other states and the District of Columbia.

For the first time since 1960 when the tables were originally issued there has been a general revision of the amounts. Campbell said. The latest tables are based on summary data showing the patterns of consumer expenditures developed by the Bureau of Labor Statistics from 1960 - 61 study.

Previously, tables were revised only to reflect changes in sales tax rates or the commodities covered by the particular state's laws.

The recent study shows that household operations, property taxes, medical care, personal care services, education, and insurance have, for the most part, comprised a larger part of the total consumer expenditure.

es in 1960 - 61 than they did in 1959. These items are not usually subjected to state sales taxes.

The new tables omit the state sales tax on automobiles purchased, thus providing a uniform treatment of this item for all states. Now taxpayers who purchase an automobile may add the sales taxes paid on the purchase to the amount shown in the table.

The result of the revision, particularly the elimination of the allowance for autos, has reduced the amount shown on the sales tax tables. The new tables, however, give a more accurate measure of the average sales tax paid in the various states.

Cigarette taxes are no longer deductible in Texas, due to the tax law change in 1964. The average state sales tax table for Texas tells taxpayers they can deduct 5 cents per gallon.

Accent on Health

J. E. PEAVY, M.D.
Commissioner of Health

Are you in need of a New Year's resolution?
Most of us have plenty resolutions for the making, but any resolution regarding your health is a resolution well made.

Plan ahead this year. Maintaining good health requires a little time and forethought, but it's much cheaper and simpler than trying to get well again.

Resolve to lead a balanced life with plenty rest and exercise. Weight lifting or running the mile daily may not be your dish, but almost anyone can take a leisurely walk each day. Simply walking from the supper table to the bed is scarcely enough exercise for any well person.

Resolve to see your doctor et. Nutritionists recommend regular meals with some of the basic four each day. Specifically, this includes a meat or meat substitute, bread of cereal, milk or dairy product, and fruit and vegetables — especially one rich in vitamin C. Foods come in many colors, textures and flavors, and can be easy on the eyes and tempting to the palate, as well as fuel for your body.

Resolve to see your doctor and your dentist for yearly check-ups, unless you need them more often. They can detect many danger signs, and in many cases prevent serious problems. Many types of cancer, for example, can often be cured if detected early.

Resolve to see that you and your family are protected against today's preventable diseases — Smallpox, lockjaw, whooping cough, polio, measles, etc. — Keep your immunizations up to date.
Resolve to use your head where your health is concerned. Nothing curcs everything. Beware the peddler who tells you it does, or who comes bearing fancy gadgets, radiation cones or super juicing machines. If you're not sure, check with your local medical society or a local health authority.
Resolve to practice good personal hygiene every day of the

Christian Science

How the First Commandment gives purpose and direction to human endeavors will be a central theme at all Christian Science churches this Sunday.

The subject of the Bible Lesson is "God," and the Golden Text is from Deuteronomy (6:4): "Hear O Israel: The Lord our God is one Lord."

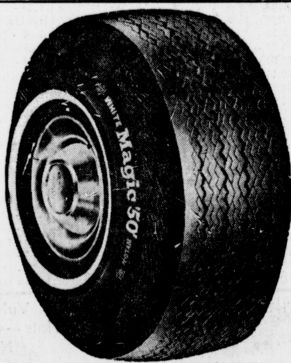

Correlative readings from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy include: "Having no other but the one perfect Mind to guide him, man is the likeness of God, pure and eternal, having that Mind which was also in Christ" (p. 467).
