Funeral For Late Senator Draws Many

All Classes Mix As Beloved Texan Laid To Rest

TEXARKANA, April 12 (F)-A cross-section of America jammed this bi-state town today to bury the nation's congressional dean Senator Morris Sheppard, who, borne with national cares, died in Washington Wednesday after 38 years in house and senate.

Hill folk, military men, folk from the piney woods, cotton field sharecroppers, politicians from Capitol Hill, polished easterners, ranchers followed the silver haired military affairs expert from his funeral train to the Methodist church, and then to Hillcrest cemetery.

The nation-at-large helped bring nome the native son who in 1902 became representative and 11 years later began his thence-continuous senatorial career. State police es-timated the crowd at 25,000.

General George C. Marshall, army chief of staff, House Speaker Sam Rayburn and a delegation of representatives and senators, Texas Governor W. Lee O'Daniel and Texas Attorney General Gerald C. Mann were among celebrities pres-

A military escort met the funeral train this morning. Eight ser-geants carried the casket to a hearse which preceded an escort's dirged drums to the church. There the body laid in state until an hour efore the funeral at 3 p. m.

An aisle of soldiers formed at the cemetery entrance. Brief ceremonies saw the casket disappear. A platoon fired three volleys over the grave. Four buglers blew taps.

Wallace Charges Labor Sabotage WASHINGTON, April 12 (P)—Forecasters predicted today the "most pleasant" Easter weather in perhaps ten years for the eastern third of the country. They said weather made to order for fashion paraders—fair sides and temperatures ranging from 15 to 20 degrees above normal—was indicated for an area extending from the Atlantic seaboard into the Midwest. Further west, prospects were not quite as favorable atthauts.

WINSTON-Salem, N. C., April 12 (AD-Vice President Wallace charged tonight that "foreign agents" are "sabotaging our labor organizations to the great disad-vantage of labor itself."

Calling for national unity to demonstrate the full productive capacity of this country, Wallace said in a prepared address that "the public cannot hold guiltless who seized the current situstion to settle ancient regional, perbearings of our industrial ma- fortunate youngsters.

BIG SPRING

-BY JOE PICKLE-

It makes no difference how calloused or back-slidden you may be, you ought to go to church this Easter Sunday. Don't let the old argument of only darkening a church door once a year stop you. The man or woman who only gets to church on Easter is spiritually richer than the one who never gets to church at all.

Let's plan next Easter to help the Pastors' association in planning a bigger sunrise service at the amphitheatre. If we keep on we'll get good weather and if we make that program an inspiring one of imposing proportions, peo-ple will flock in from great dis-tances. In short, it will become

The battle of Greece appeared to be reaching major proportions this Easter morning as reports reaching Bern, Switzerland, from Sofia, Bulgaria, told of a "violent" engagement between British and German armored columns on the plain between Bitodj (Monastir), Yugoslavia, and Phlorina, the western anchor of a Greek-British defense line. These reports followed an announcement by a Greek spokesman that Germans, complete with tanks, armored cars, motorcycle machine-gunners and motorized infantry had slashed against the northwest flank of the defense line between Phlorina and Vanitsa Friday only to be repulsed on a 12-mile front.

The Sofia reports said fast moving columns of Germans and British, supported by dive bombers and fighter planes, had clashed in a fierce struggle. Such a battle is one of the first of its kind to be reported in this war on the Balkan peninsula. No details of the meeting were included in the

Black Bombers To Meet Black Eagles Here

Big Spring's Black Bombers are scheduled to have their inning today in an engagement with Lamesa's Eagles. In a working arrangement with owners of the Big Spring Bombers, the Black version has use of Roberts park for any tussles they might work up with neighboring towns.

Robert Moore, manager of the Black Bombers, has vowed that he will have a top-hole ball club this season and is anxious to display the wares of the lads he has picked for the edification and criticism of all fans. Moore said he was prepared to provide for a good turn out of fans and wanted white friends of the club to see what Big Spring has in the way of a winner-take-all crew.

According to the last arrangements made, the Black Bombers and Eagles open up their initial battle at 3 o'clock this afternoon, Zene Clayton, erstwhile Texas and Major leaguer and American Association umpire, was in Big Spring Friday taking care of his current duties—ivory hunting for the Brooklyn Dodgers. Clayton opined that Larry McPhall's Brooklynites made a choice selection in forming a working agreement with the Bombers, Choice, because Big Spring a working agreement with the Bombers, Choice, because Big Spring has a good cance to become a starting place for some lads who will be heard from in the upper-brackets of baseballdom.

Clayton was particularly pleased by a couple of Bombers, both Texans, who are currently jumping through their tricks in a flashy style. Going into a reminiscent mood, Clayton compared the presentday crop of ball-players with yesteryear's mighty stalwarts of the dismond. Noticing that some of the lads in Friday's workouts lacked the maximum or steam and opinion that such was the case throughout baseballdom, especially in opinion that such was the case throughout baseballdom, especially in the lower-brackets.

"Used to be every boy spent half his time throwing rocks and by that means had a throwing arm that could put most modern tossers in the shade," Clayton pointed out.

Clayton is one of baseball's oldtimers. As a boy, he spent half his time around the diamond when the Cooperstown product was in season. He gave the inride story of how he first broke into organized ball.

It seems that the Pine Bluff, Arkansas, club was playing in his home town, Corsicana. Back in those days the smaller clubs traveled with a skeleton crew and an injury would sometime cause them to run short of material. On the hot summer day of which Clayton told, such a thing had hit the Pine Bluff team. They needed an outfielder and they needed him immediately.

Clayton had been practically camping out on the Corsicana field and the Pine Bluff manager figured he might as well make use of the lad's attendance. Naturally, young Clayton jumped at the chance to show his wares before the homefolks and proceeded to do his all for Pine Bluff.

All this was fine, but the excited youngster was a bit on the green side when it came to walking to the plate and taking on the offerings of a professional hurier. But, baseballers are human and they like to see a lad get a good start. Therefore, the opposing pitcher and catcher told the starry-eyed boy that they would fix him

What happened during the game resulted in Clayton signing up for professional baseball.

Every time he came to bat he mortally knocked the very hide off the ball, much to the surprise of the homefolks who had subjected him to a rousing bit of ribbing.

Yes, Clayton admitted that was one of the best days at the plate he ever turned out. Naturally, the quiet words whispered by the opposing catcher contributed a great deal to the day's work—it seems that every time the pitcher would wind up for the toss, the catcher would say "kid get ready for a ——" and would sell what was coming down the groove.

released upon the earth when the angel came. Could it have been that all nature was leaping for joy when that hour came? Could the whole world do a better thing this Easter day than to take time out to lift their hearts in praise and true worship of Him who is alive evermore? If the potentates, kings, presidents, and rulers; the war lords and soldiers, from their castles and palaces, and from the munition factories and trenches, if they all would in humility read from the Holy Bible this great event, and then lift their hearts to Him who is the greatest conqueror the world has ever known, the roar of the deathly bombs and machine guns would cease. In fact the great stone of hate would be rolled away from the hearts of great nations, and in its place the Angel of Peace would come. Peace such as Christ only can give. The whole earth would shake with a song of glad-ness. It might seem like an earthquake, and indeed its magnitude would be so far reaching that truly we would have the resurrec-tion of a new hope, new aspira-tions, and a new world. The Meaning of the Resurrection

The resurrection of Christ from the tomb is God's guarantee that all the Bible is true. Every prom-ise made by the Master, every statement He made, in fact the whole plan of redemption bears God's seal. It definitely proves Christ's coming was in fulfillment of Bible prophecy, and that His mission here was in accordance with the Divine plan. His resurrection disperses every shadow of doubt concerning the Divinity of Christ. It should shut the mouth of every skeptic, and inspire a real living faith in every heart. Christians should cease their stag gering and wavering in faith. His faith in Him and conquer and destroy our selfishness. The fact of His resurrection proves the validity of the Christian religion. Our Present Resurrection

"Ye have been raised with Christ!" The fruit of conversion is always the raising to a new life.
"If any man be in Christ, there is a new creation." Paul certainly taught that there is an immortal quality in life that may be realized and experienced here and now. Too many are far below this ideal and standard. Christ's resurrection as well as His death, surely means more than mere external and outward form.

How to account for so many u certainties and Godless living in our world, is a puzzling question. The answer is simple, we live on the low plane with such ideals and standards.

the grave . . . a time for praise and worship. It's a time of joy and a lift in spirits, too, for Spring is at hand and all the world is stirring with fresh life and has put on new attire. Typical of Big Spring's families on this Easter morning is that of the J. A. Coffeys. Below, it's before Sunday school time, and while Mr. Coffey (he's principal of the high school) gives son Bob Ton, a final touch with the comb, Mrs. Coffey ties on daughter Glenna's new spring bonnet. The scene is at the home, 1310 Owens street. Lower left, they're off to church, glad that they're Americans, where one may worship as he pleases, and where religious institutions still stand. Good Neighbors—Pan-American relationships are supposed to be helped immensely by one of the newest film musicals, "That Night In Rio," in which Alice Fays, Don Ameche and Carmen Miranda are starred. It's supposed, too, to be good for the customers, since it generally is halled as one of the gayest of musical comedies. "That Night In Rio," in Technicolor, is at the Rits today and Monday as an Easter feature.

speech imply the responsibility of using speech for purposes within the framework of the preservation of freedom? Is it pot our duty to refrain from speech caculated to injure the interests of other free citizens? Libel laws prevent us from exercising certain forms of speaking and writing, but they do not prevent us from wholesale slander ous agitation against classes, against races, and against religions of free Americans. Could we not offset this freedom with the duty of refraining from systematic campaigns against races, classes, and religions?

Does freedom of assembly include the right to assemble for the purpose of organizing movements for the overthrow of American institutions by violence? It is used for such purposes as you very well know. Could we not offset the right by the duty to rerain from such activities?

Does freedom of the press include the right to the circulation of anonymous and slanderous literature, and could not the right be offset, in law, by the duty to rerain from such perversions?

It seems to me that with many "thou mayst" we need a few "thou shalt nots." People who advocate and practice cruel unusual punishments, as do the nazis and the communists, who indulge in conspiracy, involving unwarranted search and seizure, and who advocate the confiscation of property without compensations, whether it be "bourgeois" property or "Jewish" property, ought, * eems to me, to lose their civil ights, since they are unwilling te accept the duty of protecting for others what they claim for them

And does not the right to own property imply the duty of using as a trust for the community?

Many of us feel that the inner regeneration of America is the most important task before us, and that upon it all the rest will depend. Can we begin it in any other way than by a personal pledge, a personal attitude, and personal collaboration with other men and women who feel the same way?

Will you not help us to start such a movement - a movement filled with the spirit of faith and humility and personal and social responsibility? Millions of Americans are looking for some form of Make your words into actions, Mr.

KEEP AN EYE ON THESE REMINDERS, TOO . . . THERE MAY BE A SPECIAL CLASSIFIED OFFER IN CELEBRATION OF THE EVENT!

Big Spring Herald

There are so few things to hold on to these days — material values, mental conditions change rapidly . . . affected directly and quickly by the strife, turmoil and economical upheavals of recent years. There is one thing left unshaken — the solace and peace to be found in church. Come to church Easter Sunday — find stable spiritual values which, in the last analysis, are enduring in peace or war, or times of sadness. Go to the church of your choice . . . Easter Sunday and every Sunday — you need the comfort and companionship to be found there . . . the churches need your support. Go to church Easter Sunday in the traditional American way . . . to celebrate this great day in accordance with your beliefs. It's a perfect way to begin the day—and you'll enjoy the Easter parade more afterwards. You will find a warm welcome at any of Big Spring's many fine churches—and you'll find great benefit in the special Easter Sunday services planned by each. Come to church Easter Sunday!
