Cloudy, occasional rains to night; Wednesday partly cloudy and warmer.

FINE LIVESTOCK ON EXHIBIT HERE

With more than 100 fat animals from five counties on display, the fourth annual district club boy livestock show was off to a good start here Tuesday morning.

Increased Farm Loans Approved

WASHINGTON, March 25 (AP)—Legislation which its author said would add "about $1,000,000,000 a year" to farmers' income through higher government loans was approved today by the senate agriculture committee.

British Say Sea Losses Are Dropping

LONDON, March 25 (AP)—A British admiralty announcement today showed a drop in Britain's sea losses for the second successive week, while she returns blow for blow in the battles—the Atlantic.

Twenty-three British and allied merchantmen totaling 71,773 tons were lost in the sea war in the week ended March 16, the admiralty said.

The British declared that in the same period Britain's own naval and air raiders were sinking almost three tons of axis ships for every four tons Britain and her allies lost.

Although German and Italian merchant fleets have been swept from the Atlantic, coastal trade is regarded by the British as vital to the axis war economy.

Experts here say the axis must have full use of continental waterways supplementing rail routes—including coastal Mediterranean and Baltic shipping—to feed raw materials and arms to its industries and armies.

Electrical Workers Control Bill Pends

AUSTIN, March 25 (AP)—A proposed state ordinance designed to regulate electrical workers remained in a house committee today following a public hearing.

Workers' Migration Due To Defense Told

WASHINGTON, March 25 (AP)—Paul V. McNutt, federal security administrator, estimated today that the federal government would have to build or rent 350 health, recreation and community centers to provide necessary facilities for the mass of migrants displaced by defense work.

Weather Forecast

Legislature Sets Hearing On Strike Act

Committee Of Whole House To Take Up Matter Thursday

AUSTIN, March 25 (AP)—Hearing appeals for prompt action, the house of representatives today set for hearing Thursday Governor W. Lee O'Daniel's emergency bill designed to prevent force or violence in labor disputes.

The representatives overwhelmingly killed a motion which would have deferred the hearing until next Tuesday.

The measure, submitted yesterday in a special message from the governor, was re-referred to a committee of the whole house. Backers of that move said their purpose was to expedite the bill's passage.

The proposal would make it a felony for any person acting in concert with one or more other persons to assemble at or near any place where a labor dispute existed, and by force or violence attempt to prevent any person from engaging in a lawful vocation.

It was intended by Governor O'Daniel to be in part a substitute for his anti-strike bill ruled unconstitutional last week by Attorney General Gerald C. Mann.

The senate state affairs committee had scheduled a hearing this afternoon on anti-strike legislation.

Some house members questioned the necessity for unusually fast action on the problem.

"If you read the papers this morning," said Rep. James E. Taylor of Kerens, a national guard officer, "you should realize that this is a crisis."

But that labor trouble was in Chicago wasn't it? inquired Rep. Leonard Carlton of Commerce.

"Yes," Taylor quickly responded, "but it could get down to Texas mighty quick."

Police Tell Of Violence In Walkout

CHICAGO, March 25 (AP)—Roving groups of what Police Capt. John Stege called "goon squads" assaulted numerous work-bound employees near the International Harvester Company McCormick works today.

Several thousand CIO members and sympathizers, meanwhile, paraded streets near the plant, yelling and jeering at non-striking American Federation of Labor and unaffiliated workers filtering into the factory through half a dozen gates.

Stege said he did not know how many workers were beaten up but that there were "a lot of 'em."

Police pursued the attackers and Stege said that "10 or more men" had been arrested.

BRITISH, GREEKS, GERMANS PREPARE TO FIGHT AS YUGOSLAVS SIGN AXIS

Allies Shift Troops Over Wider Front

Democrats Now Must Hold Front Of Harder Nature

BELGRADE, Yugoslavia, March 25 (AP)—Yugoslavia's alignment with the axis—opening the way for a German-British battlefront in the Balkans—was expected by military observers today to force Britain and Greece to revise their entire joint defense plan.

Again, it was said, German diplomacy apparently had won an advantage for German arms before the first shot could be fired.

Almost certainly, these experts declared, the pen stroke putting Yugoslavia in the axis camp would rule out the British-Greek strategy of holding the nazis from Bulgaria along the short Struma river line.

Instead, it was said, the defense probably would have to be drawn deeper into Greek Macedonia—at best beyond the broad Vardar river valley, and possibly widening the battlefront to 300 miles from Albania to the border of Turkish Thrace.

The chances that British and Greek forces could hold the Struma front against attack from Bulgaria alone had been regarded in some quarters as good.

The broader Vardar valley, winding down from Yugoslavia farther west and emptying into the Gulf of Salonika, has a railway line and roads. Attack there, military observers said, probably would make the Struma defenses impossible to hold.

The Vardar, too, is the direct route to the seaport of Salonika, regarded the No. 1 objective of a German drive, just as it was of the Italian attack which the Greeks turned back into Albania.

Even if British forces now reported moving north through Greece from southern ports were able to halt the Germans near the Greek-Yugoslav frontier, military sources said, the nazis still could join the Italians in Albania to try a break-through there.

Greece, meanwhile, celebrated her national independence day with high tributes for the fighting men who pushed Italian invaders back into Albania and with firm pledges of continued defense of freedom against all odds.

Premier Alexandros Korizis said Greeks faced "new threats on the horizon," determined to give their lives "for the freedom of Greece and the liberation of the world."

Sheriff's Expense Bill Is Approved

AUSTIN, March 25 (AP)—Texas sheriffs awaited house floor consideration of a bill providing payment of traveling expenses for returning extradited fugitives captured in other states.

The proposed legislation by Rep. Smith of Pleasanton was reported favorably by the house state affairs committee last night, after several sheriffs had urged its passage. No opposition testimony was offered.

As Reorganization Bill Pends -- Supreme Court Important To Everyone In State

(First of three articles concerning the Supreme Court.)

The Lineup as a Balkan clash appears imminent is illustrated in the above map. Yugoslavia having joined the axis, British and Greeks are hurried speeding their troops westward along the Yugoslav frontier, preparing to defend a 200-mile frontier.

HEAVY RAINS BOLSTER CITY'S WATER SUPPLY

Agricultural Outlook Best In Many Years

Rain, the gold of West Texas, soaked into fields and ranges Tuesday to give the section glowing agricultural prospects and to leave this immediate area with its best spring season in years.

At the U.S. weather bureau at the airport a total of 1.3 inches rain was gauged while to the north at the U.S. Experiment Farm precipitation measured 1.85 inches.

Over the area reports ranged from one to two inches of moisture, and everywhere there were reports of good underground seasoning to go with a soaked topsoil.

Pastures were soggy and taking on a verdant hue as the weed crop came out under the stimulus of moisture. Stock tanks in most areas were brimming.

With lambing season just getting underway, losses were held to a minimum. In Glasscock county where thousands of ewes were lambing, few losses were reported although 1.7 inches of rain was registered at Garden City and the fall varied from 1.25 to two inches over the county.

Sheepmen had their eyes panned and were ready for a wet spell. Barring cold, they expected no undue loss.

Lamesa reported .80 inches to 8 a. m. with sprinkles falling after that time. It was general over Dawson county and farmers and ranchers looked forward to the best prospects in many seasons.

Colorado City reported 1.26 inches of moisture to Tuesday morning and rain was falling there at 1 p. m., threatening to spoil a livestock show sale. Farmers in that area were anxious for sunshine and planting weather.

No gauge was reported on the rain at Stanton, but it was said to be general over Martin county. George Bond, county agent, estimated it to be comparable to that at Lamesa.

British Ships Repulse Nazi Dive Bombers

By LARRY ALLEN

ABOARD THE AIRCRAFT CARRIER FORMIDABLE WITH the British Mediterranean Fleet, March 25 (AP)—Britain's battlefleet, hunting trouble even on convoy duty, is beating off solo dive bomber attacks with a skillful coordination of planes and pom-pom guns.

The men on ships and planes express determination that there shall be no duplication of the mass attack on the fleet last January 10. They declare they are out to rid the Mediterranean of the German air menace. Daily flying orders for the fleet air arm carry this notation:

"Gunnery—from dawn onwards, as arranged by Hitler and Mussolini, an unlimited number of high speed targets are available at short notice."

Three times in the last few days I have seen German Junkers 88's take a quick stab at the fleet or a crack at the ships it is convoying. British naval pilots and guns shot down one for sure, damaged and possibly brought down the other two.

Browder Surrenders To Serve Jail Term

NEW YORK, March 25 (AP)—Earl Browder, former general secretary of the communist party, surrendered today in federal court to serve a four-year sentence for passport fraud.

His conviction was upheld last month by the U. S. Supreme Court. A $2,000 check in payment of the fine imposed on Browder was received in the mail by the court clerk.

The check, drawn on the Amalgamated Bank of New York and signed by Elizabeth Gurley Flynn, communist official, was rubber stamped with the words, "Defense committee of civil rights for communists, 799 Broadway."

Why has the spotlight been turned on the Supreme Court? What will be the result? How is the court reacting to the various proposals?

Lakes Catch Record Fill Of Floodwater

Two Big Spring city lakes in southeastern Howard county Tuesday morning held 675,000,000 gallons of water, considerably more than enough to suffice the demand for more than a year.

Waters tumbling off the rolling country south and east of here put a rise of approximately 10 feet on the Moss creek lake, nearest the city, to boost its level to 19 1/2 feet, far above its previous record level.

At noon Tuesday it was estimated to contain 294,000,000 gallons, and still was only about halfway up the dam to the spillway. Water was backing three-quarters of a mile up the basin.

Powell creek caught approximately eight feet more water in addition to a four-foot rise Saturday. It had 20 1/2 feet at the dam, only two feet below the spillway level. City water department engineers estimated it contained 581,000,000 gallons, or enough for a nine-month supply. It required most of the morning for a party of water department employees to go from the Moss to the Powell creek dam and report.

As soon as the water has time to settle, pumping will be resumed from the Powell lake. Currently, city wells are being used. Supply will be about half-way up to the dam to the spillway.

City commissioners, meeting in regular session Tuesday evening, were due to discuss a reduction in water rates. The matter has been under consideration for some time and depended upon a bigger lake supply.

In the city, damage from runoff water was held to a minimum. Two detention dams held sizeable volumes of water at 15th and Main and 14th and Gregg, the latter going within four feet of the spillway.

They were still letting off steady streams of water in the afternoon, but storm sewers were handling it at 7th and Scurry and 7th and Market. City engineers believed that the structures had saved the downtown district from water damage.

Washing in the northeastern part of town was cut to a minimum by a series of terraces conducted on two sections north of the city limits as a soil conservation demonstration.

Streets were a mess of mud, but city officials said that as soon as the weather cleared they would be given a double working.

Low Ceiling Halts Search For Flyer

SAN ANTONIO, March 25 (AP)—A low ceiling and poor visibility today halted further search for Cecil F. Porter, 25, Brooks Field flying cadet missing since Saturday, army officials reported.

Soviet War Materials Go Into Turkey

British Prepare To Break Relations With Yugoslavia

BELGRADE, Yugoslavia, March 25 (AP)—Headlines in red ink and blaring ardors told Yugoslavs today that their country had signed the three-power pact in Vienna as Germany, Britain, Greece and Turkey cleared the decks for possible large scale warfare on a new Balkan front.

While Yugoslavia's premier and foreign minister were affixing their signatures to the axis alliance and their Yugoslav opponents were crying treason, these developments increased observers' belief a showdown is imminent:

1—Britain appeared prepared to sever diplomatic relations with Yugoslavia and Hungary after advising the Belgrade government she could not "condone" its alliance with the axis.

2—Soviet Russia, whose attitude long has been an enigma, pledged "full and comprehensive neutrality" in the event that Turkey, Britain's non-belligerent ally, is "obliged to enter the war for the defense of her territory."

3—Soviet war materials were reported flowing across the Caucasus frontier into Turkey only a few hours after this pact was announced in Ankara.

4—Reports from Bulgaria said minor frontier clashes already had taken place between Greek troops and German forces poised for a thrust toward the Mediterranean.

5—Soviet war materials were reported flowing across the Caucasus frontier into Turkey only a few hours after this pact was announced in Ankara.

6—Yugoslav communists, reportedly acting on orders from Moscow, urged a campaign of sabotage and non-cooperation to disrupt the Belgrade government's efforts to give Yugoslavia a free port zone at Salonika, if Yugoslavia consented to the passage of German or Italian ammunition trains through her territory.

7—Yugoslav communists, reportedly acting on orders from Moscow, urged a campaign of sabotage and non-cooperation to disrupt the Belgrade government's efforts to give Yugoslavia a free port zone at Salonika, if Yugoslavia consented to the passage of German or Italian ammunition trains through her territory.

8—Reports were current, meanwhile, in Belgrade that Germany had dispatched 15 or 20 divisions of troops (218,000 to 240,000 men on a basis of a 12,000-man division) to Italy to keep internal order and forestall a separate Italian-Greek peace which might thwart Nazi plans.

Scout Leaders Meet Tonight

Important matters were to be discussed at a meeting of Boy Scout leaders of the Big Spring district at 7:30 p. m. in the Settles hotel today.

Dr. W. B. Hardy, district chairman, and Charles Paxton, council president, and S. F. Gaskin, area executive, were expected to attend.

The meeting will be preceded by a dinner and among other things plans for the annual Round Up affair here will be talked. Scheduled for early in May, the Round Up annually draws upwards from 800 scouts and leaders and this year's is due to attract over 1,000 boys and men.

Monday a committee succeeded in raising funds for meat for the affair. Other matters of vital importance were to be discussed at the parley, said Dr. Hardy in urging a full attendance.

Army Planes Crash, Two Pilots Killed

COALINGA, Calif., March 25 (AP)—Two army air corps lieutenants were killed today when their planes collided in mid-air while practicing at the Coalinga army airport.

The dead were Lieut. George K. Williams, 24, of Indianapolis, a reserve officer in the 58th Air Base Squadron; and Lieut. Charles J. Engeman, 25, of Cleveland, attached to the 77th Air Base Squadron.

Lieut. Williams was sent in Hamilton Field from Maxwell Field, Ala., Feb. 25. Lieutenant Engeman arrived from Kelly Field Feb. 25.

Waste Baskets Can Be Fire Traps Too, If They Aren't Of Metal

(This is the second of a series of articles on fire hazards written for women by the Fire Underwriters. Editor's Note.)

Every waste basket in every home should be made of non-flammable material. This is the advice of the National Board of Fire Underwriters, now celebrating its 75th anniversary. Take a look at the waste baskets in your home.

Maybe up in your bedroom you have a pretty little wicker affair trimmed with ribbon. Maybe your living room boasts a handsome receptacle made of wood.

Such baskets are firetraps. Into them you throw the contents of your ash trays: cigarette ashes, pipe heels and burned matches. Very likely the cigarette ends may still be smoldering and the pipe heels still warm. Ashes are very deceptive; they are apt to be more alive than they look. First thing you know, you have a fire burning merrily in your basket and that spells trouble.

Nowadays all department stores sell very attractive baskets made of metal or non-flammable composition. Equip your home with these. The other kind of waste baskets are fast going out of style. It's fashionable to be fireproof.

Downtown Stroller

Did hear that JAMES COUCH and GEORGE DEMPSEY are still together of the last group of draftees that left from Big Spring and are to be attached to the medical corps at the Beaumont hospital. Some of their boy chums here are wondering in just what capacity they are to serve.

Invitations to the B & P W CLUB party tonight are for a Mad March Supper. EDITH GAY is one of the hostesses and the cards show three lambs gambling (if that's what lambs do) across the card. Anyway, they are clever invitations.

MRS. BEN R. CARTER has a hat that is the epitome of spring. It is spring-like spot of color these gray days.

In town for awhile Monday were Mr. and Mrs. JOSH BARRETT of Abilene who dropped in for a visit. Mrs. BARRETT looked nice in a pink velvet suit with white shirt-waist.

Had to ford a small stream this a. m. while getting to work. Stood around and waited where some Galahad to help us across but as the hour kept getting later we made it in a mighty leap. Must have been interesting to watch.

However, got a ride with LANE HUDSON and MARGIE and J. L. HUDSON as far as the office, so we ain't complaining.

PERTAINING TO PEOPLE

Mrs. Charles Watson has returned from Austin where she spent the weekend visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. L. C. Smith.

Mr. and Mrs. O. T. Arnold re their daughter, Ruth, who recently turned from Denton Monday with an emergency appendectomy. Ruth is reported to be improving. She is a student at T.R.C.W.

Mrs. Bernard Lamun is general chairman for the conference and her co-chairmen are the local presidents.

WORMS MAY BE A REASON Why Your Child Can't Gain Weight

Face the facts: It's easy for anybody, anywhere, to "catch" roundworms. And if the awful creatures are living and growing inside your child, that may be why the youngster is pale, thin, nervous. Other signs of worms are itching nose or seat, uneasy stomach, fingerling biting.

Act now! Drive out roundworms before they can "get set" and cause trouble! Use Jayne's Vermifuge—America's best known proprietary worm medicine—scientifically tested and proved by over a century of use, in millions of cases. Jayne's expels stubborn worms, yet acts very gently. If there are no worms, it works merely as a mild laxative. Insist on Jayne's Vermifuge.

Yugoslavia's Assets Are Frozen Here

WASHINGTON, March 25 (AP)—President Roosevelt today froze all funds of Yugoslavia in the United States.

This was announced at the treasury shortly after Yugoslavia signed the Rome-Berlin-Tokyo axis pact.

It has been the policy of the administration to tie up the funds of any country coming under the domination of the axis powers.

The action prohibited the use or removal of any Yugoslavian cash, securities or other movable assets in this country. Commerce department experts estimated such Yugoslavian assets totaled $1,000,000.

Yugoslavia was the 34th nation whose funds have been frozen. The other nations have about $4,800,000,000 worth of assets here. They are Norway, Denmark, France, Belgium, Netherlands, Luxembourg, Latvia, Lithuania, Estonia, Rumania, Bulgaria, and Hungary.

Unemployed In Mexico Decrease

MEXICO CITY, March 25 (AP)—Between 1930 and 1940 the number of unemployed in Mexico declined from 209,000 to 170,000 because of improving economic conditions, the government bureau of statistics said today.

The bureau said the unemployed represented a satisfactory small percentage of the nation's 20,000,000 inhabitants and predicted the number would be still further reduced this year. There are more persons without work in the port of Vera Cruz—17,000—than in any other city in the country, the bureau stated.

President Signs Naval War's Bill

WASHINGTON, March 25 (AP)—The White House announced that President Roosevelt had signed into law today two bills authorizing a $340,028,383 naval works program. The legislation includes funds for developments at Guam and Samoa in the Pacific and at the naval air bases in the Atlantic acquired from Great Britain. Most of the money for the projects is included in appropriation bills which are bearing completion of congressional action. India produces 90 per cent of its own requirements of war supplies.

GOP Rejects Resignation Of Chairman

WASHINGTON, March 25 (AP)—The republican national committee Monday received the resignation of Chairman Joseph W. Martin, Jr., and promptly rejected it unanimously.

Martin, the house minority leader, told the committee in executive session that when he accepted the chairmanship it was "with the expectation I would be relieved upon the conclusion of the campaign."

The United States was staggering earlier declared that "along in the direction of war" and "face to face with the possibility of national bankruptcy."

Under the circumstances, he said, the responsibility of the republican party was to "police and audit the new deal administration to protect our country from financial, political and social bankruptcy. x x x

"The scandals of 1918 must not be repeated." Addressing a closed meeting of the national committee called to discuss organization problems, Martin, the house minority leader, asserted that there was a genuine need for national unity in forwarding defense plans, but said this must not be achieved by destroying the two-party system.

Otto Peters, Sr., Winner Of First Aid Award, Has Been Teaching Subject Here Since 1937

Otto Peters, Sr., who was presented with the Red Cross certificate for his work in safety and first aid recently, has been teaching first aid in Big Spring since June, 1937.

There were six filling station attendants in his first class. In his present class there are twenty-one women. He has taught first aid to 315 students, including the members of his present class. Of these 258 were employees of Cosden.

Peters started taking first aid courses in 1920, in Kiefer, Okla., where he was an oil field worker.

First aid training was a requirement of the company for which he worked. From Kiefer he went to Breckenridge, where he was promoting first aid in 1937, at the suggestion of the management of Cosden, he began teaching first aid in connection with safety.

Peters, though greatly moved by the honor bestowed on him by the Red Cross, says that it is a shame to give him credit for doing work which he so greatly enjoys. He has definite opinions on the value of first aid.

"I think that first aid is an absolutely essential knowledge," he says. "I don't want any credit for my teaching of first aid. I insist that whatever credit is due as a result of my teaching should be given to the people who make my work possible."

He expressed his gratitude to Shine Phillips and Cecil Westerman for their advice in his work, and to Dr. Frank Boyle, who was his instructor in 1937.

Peters was born in Germany in 1888 and came to New York City in 1892. There he was reared and educated.

Peters has three sons, Otto, Jr., Huff, and Eugene, who is at Laveland. Otto Jr. has taken first aid training. "And I use Huff to demonstrate on," Peters said.

Mrs. Otto Peters, Jr., is taking his course now. "My wife doesn't have to take the course," Peters Sr. said laughingly. "By time I rehearse all my lectures to her and talk about first aid all the time, I think she knows it pretty well."

House Kills Bill To Change Oil Control

AUSTIN, March 25 (AP)—A stormily-debated bill to strip the state railroad commission of its oil and gas regulatory powers and vest them in an especially-created appointive agency lay dead in the house of representatives today.

Concluding hours of bitter controversy, the lower legislative chamber yesterday voted 36 to 57 to strike out the bill's enacting clause and later decided, 55 to 10 to reconsider and table the vote and thereby burying the proposal so that only a two-thirds majority could revive it.

Backers of the bill, which would have empowered Governor W. Lee O'Daniel to name a three-man body to regulate production in the gigantic oil and gas industry, asserted the railroad commission had been a hotbed of politics and that the industry was of sufficient importance to justify full-time attention of a state agency.

Opponents contended the major oil companies were supporting the proposal and declared the railroad commission's handling of production had contributed much to the so-far successful fight against federal oil control.

In the tense atmosphere, cheers greeted the final vote.

Rep. Paul Donald of Bowie, last speaker against the bill, said the state's natural resources did not belong to the oil companies but were placed in the earth for the people who were entitled to a voice in their control.

Proceeding Donald, Rep. M. A. Bundy, veteran legislator from Wichita Falls, argued that the duties of the railroad commission were too heavy for the members to give adequate attention to the oil industry.

Pointing out the people had voted a constitutional amendment in 1894 to make the railroad commission elective, Rep. John Bell of Cuero asserted that if it was important to elect the commission before the turn of the century, it was vastly more important to do so now because of the commission's expanded powers.

By vote of 7 to 6, a senate committee recommended passage of a bill authorizing the prorotation by the railroad commission of condensate, a liquid derived by re-tying plants from wet gas and having a gasoline content of as high as 75 per cent. Condensate production is not limited currently.

Hoyt's Compound The Medicine For Me, Says Mr. Sealy

Since Taking Hoyt's Compound My Bowels are Regular, Kidneys Better, Appetite is Improving, Says Well-Known Lubbock Man

Mr. W. D. Sealy, of Shallowater, Texas, states: "I have lived in and around Lubbock for the past 21 years and am now 56 years of age.

I have had poisons in my system which caused me to have weak kidneys and back. I had to get up nights which caused me a loss of sleep and weight. My bowels and stomach caused misery from gas pains and indigestion.

"Since taking Hoyt's my food digests better, my bowels and kidneys are improved. The pains in my back and limbs are gone and since taking the first bottle I can say Hoyt's Compound is the medicine for me!"

Hoyt's Compound is recommended and sold by the Collins Bros. Drug Store and by leading druggists in this area. (Adv.)

Dr. Brinkley Tells Court Story Of Coming, Going Of Fortune

By FELIX R. McKNIGHT

DEL RIO, March 25 (AP)—Diamond-laden Dr. John R. Brinkley, the man who created a fortune from the booming microphone of the world's most powerful radio station and a publicized rejuvenation operation, good-naturedly told a federal bankruptcy court of its collapse.

Softly recounting the building of the Brinkley hospitals, radio stations and sundry other enterprises on the banks of the Rio Grande, the doctor told his story yesterday for attorneys of the creditors.

Rather lightly, with a gesture of the hands that made fortunes on gland operations, he insisted he didn't know what had happened to some ranging into bulky thousands. He once brought a round of startled grins when he explained he never had much money on deposit—"just $15,000 or $20,000."

Back in Milford, Kas., the strange story of the Brinkleys started.

Money his wife, Mrs. Minnie T. Brinkley, received from her parents went into real estate. The first Brinkley hospital was founded and the famed radio advertising started.

"It was my wife's enterprise," Dr. Brinkley said. "I didn't even file an income tax in Kansas. She always had her own estate. When we moved down to Del Rio in 1933 we had that understanding. The hospital was hers."

Then came the recital of a strange story of money.

Mrs. Brinkley had $154,000 when they started to Texas. Some $54,000 was transferred to Del Rio through usual banking channels. Twenty thousand dollars went into a yacht. The remaining $80,000 she personally brought to Texas in cash. That $80,000 fortune stayed in the Brinkley household—in cash. The Brinkley hospital was started. Patients were trekking here. Then Mrs. Brinkley became worried about her money.

"President Roosevelt was devaluing the dollar at the time," explained Dr. Brinkley. "Mrs. Brinkley withdrew money from the bank and added it to her $80,000 to make it an even $100,000."

"That night we kept the cash under special guard at the Del Rio National bank. Early the next day our airplane pilot took the $100,000 and flew it to Canada. It was deposited in a Canadian bank and because of exchanges, shrunk to $75,000."

Five coast guard craft were dispatched to the scene, about 100 miles offshore, the W. W. Bruce was standing by the stricken 465-foot vessel.

Coast guard planes were poised at Elizabeth City, N. C. awaiting daybreak to start for the Cities Service Denver's side, and another plane was being readied at Floyd Bennett field here for a possible rescue flight.

19 Seamen Missing As Tanker Burns

NEW YORK, March 25 (AP)—Nineteen seamen were reported missing today after an explosion and fire struck the 9,316-ton oil tanker Cities Service Denver 80 miles south of Cape Lookout, N. C.

The tanker Pan-New York reported it had rescued 17 officers and men and said a third tanker, the W. W. Bruce, had picked up five other survivors.

The coast guard here picked up a later radio report which indicated a coast guard boat had rescued five more members of the stricken vessel's crew but details were lacking.

The Cities Service Denver, the coast guard said, was a "flaming mass."

The missing men were believed to have been in the forward part of the Cities Service Denver when the explosion occurred at 10 p. m., C. S. T., last night, the Pan-New York said.

"---The Effective Manner

In which The Herald spreads the Sales Message"

Big Spring Daily Herald
Big Spring, Texas
Gentlemen:

When we advertised our stock reduction sale recently in The Daily Herald, we had in mind to clear out our stocks as much as possible in order to facilitate the move to our new location at W. 3rd and Gregg streets and to make way for new spring lines of furniture.

To say that we did just that is almost an understatement, for the results from this sale far exceeded our expectations. Our friends responded quickly, and we feel that no little of the results were due to the effective manner in which The Herald spread the sales message.

Because we did get such splendid results, it will enable us to present a much more complete line of new merchandise. We appreciate the part The Herald played in making this possible.

Yours truly,

Nat'l Girl Cage Teams Close AAU 1st Round

ST. JOSEPH, Mo., March 25 (AP) — If there was anything wrong with the present code under which girls' basketball is played, Lee Hodgins of Kansas City would know about it and would have suggested a change.

Hodgins has refereed in every one of the 13 National A. A. U. tournaments. He attended the 1935 rules meeting in Wichita, Kas., at which the tie-ball rule was liberalized and a roving guard permitted to cross the center stripe and participate in the scoring.

"Each change was designed to speed up the game and make it more interesting for the players and spectators," Hodgins explained. "First round play in the thirtieth annual tournament was completed yesterday in a 13-hour marathon that started at noon and lasted until early today."

The field of 27 teams from 12 states was cut to 16 with a trio of high school aggregations from the southwest, Quinn and Merritt, Tex., and Okarche, Okla., holding their own with the more mature players.

The Little Rock, Ark., Flyers, defending champions, and the No. 2 seeded Des Moines, Ia., AIB's see their first action today. The Des Moines, Iowa, Thompkins and the Pittsburgh, Pa., Westinghouse team advanced when their opponents, the Jacksonville, Fla., Navettes and Galveston AIB's failed to appear.

PIRATES BUY RIP COLLINS

LOS ANGELES, March 25. (AP) President Dave Fleming of the Los Angeles club of the Pacific coast baseball league sold First Baseman James "Rip" Collins to the Pittsburgh Pirates for $5,000 today.

"Rip" will be an understudy for First Sacker Elbie Fletcher. This spring, Collins was listed as a holdout. He declined to sign a Los Angeles contract for $800 a month because he saw an opportunity to return to major league baseball.

Texans Rivals In Nat'l AAU Track Meet

Marsh Farmer And Fred Wolcott Continue Tussle Started In College

KANSAS CITY, Mo., March 25. (AP) — The folks at home will get out the fattened calf and have one big celebration when, and if, Marsh Farmer beats Fred Wolcott.

Farmer, the one armed hurdler and dash man, came to the second annual Missouri Valley AAU track and field championships last night from his farm home near Fort Worth.

He wanted to beat Wolcott—but he didn't. "They're waitin' for me to finish ahead of Freddy," he drawled, "then I'll go home and we'll have a big celebration—just the folks and me."

Because of his physical handicap, the Fort Worth boy usually is a favorite with the fans, but he agrees it takes more than handicaps to push him through the tape ahead of Freddy.

The friendly rivalry started five years ago when Wolcott, Rice Institute and Farmer, Texas Tech, squared off in interschool meets.

Farmer never has beaten Freddy—and he won't rest until he does. He doesn't worry so much about a world's record, knowing that if he ever does outstep Wolcott it will mean a new mark.

The Rice star headed off Farmer by a wink last night, prancing over the 60-yard high hurdle route in 7.5 seconds and equalling a meet record. His world's mark is 7.2.

Earl Meadows, Los Angeles, 1936 Olympic champion and world's indoor pole vaulting king, diligently struggled up to 14-foot-4-inch height—then started dodging the bar as it toppled to the sawdust beside him from the 14-foot-7 1/2-inch level. He aims for 15 feet 3 inches this year and already has lowered his own record with a leap of 14 feet 7 1/8 inches this season.

He and Richard Ganslen of Reno, Nev., tied for the vaulting honors, their mark greatly outclassing the meet record.

John Munski of Columbia, Mo., won the one-mile classic. The time—a meet record—was 4:12.1.

Baseball Architect Needed — Mgr. McCarthy Has Job Of Revamping Yankees

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla., March 25 (AP) — Joe McCarthy, the plump party who had nothing to do last spring but pull the strings and watch his stars perform, has a rebuilding job on his hands this year.

For the first time since his Yankees won their 1936 pennant the party Irishman is having his worries. On other occasions he has added a man here and there, brought up a few minor league sensations and fitted them into his club, but this is the first time he has really had to remodel his machine.

As Joe goes about his work, keeping his opinions pretty strictly to himself, he finds four chief problems:

1. The revamped infield. He surprised everyone by shunting Babe Dahlgren to the B's and then handed out just as big a surprise by naming Joe Gordon as his first baseman. It's a bit unusual to shift a man who has become recognized as just about the best in the majors at one position to another. But Gordon apparently is going to be okay. He'll cover as much ground as Dahlgren and hit harder. Now that Babe has gone they're saying he wasn't quite as good as he seemed — that he had short arms and made easy chances look hard. Some think Gordon will handle the bag in good shape.

The success of an infield depends largely on second base and shortstop and the Yankees have two kids in that area—Phil Rizzuto and Gerald Priddy. Rizzuto was voted the best minor leaguer last year. Priddy isn't far behind. They've looked good in the spring exhibition games and the consensus is that McCarthy will have reason to be satisfied with his changes.

2. Rolfe at third base. This is Red's eighth season with the Yankees and he had his worst year last campaign. He slowed up afield and his stick average dropped to .250 — some 75 points below his 350 high of 1930. Red seems to be in good shape and Rolfe is ready to go. But Rolfe is 32. His best days may be behind him. He'll start at third but how he'll go is something only the hot summer months will tell.

McCarthy is well fixed with reserves, however, and another reshuffle his array again if things don't pan out. For instance, Gordon could go to third, short or second and John Sturm, a good first baseman from Kansas City, could take over the initial sack. Then there's the veteran Frankie Crosetti. Big Joe also has Lou Blair, a capable infielder from Newark. Changes might be made if Rizzuto or Priddy don't measure up, if Rolfe is stiff off form or if the draft catches Rizzuto.

3. Bill Dickey. While others got the headlines Dickey always has been regarded as the wheel horse of the Yanks. Like most of the other New Yorkers, Tall Bill had an off year, his worst since his first doled Yankee liver. His stick mark dropped to .247, and he showed up a lot afield. This is his 14th year in the majors and Bill is 35. If he doesn't return to something like his old form, the Yanks are in for trouble, even though they have Warren Roaver and Ken Silvestri, from the White Sox, to help with the receiving.

4. Pitching. The veteran Charles Ruffing, Southpaw Marius Russo, Ernest Bonham who came up dur-

Strange Goings-On

What went on at Detroit the other night, anyway? One announcer said "one of the fighters has one foot off the ground." Another discovered that one of the boys was holding the other six feet away from him. Our favorite speller yelled "Simon has two left eyes," when all the time we thought it was two left feet. Abe was afflicted with... Anyway, Papa Simon, way up in the Bronx, sure hated Abe's feelings by stomping off to the movies just before the main bout went on... The town is wise to the phony posing as Hal Chase, former first basing star, who was telling far lies he hitched-hiked all the way from Arizona to see his old pal, Grover Cleveland Alexander, now in a veterans' hospital. The guy's sob story brought him quite a few bucks before somebody nailed him.

B. M. Atkinson, Jr., Louisville Times: "Even the government is gunning for college football players... That five per cent proposal on salaries will hurt." Grapefruit Grapevine ing last season, and Marvin Brewer are four hurlers likely to be in the main line. Lefty Gomez, who won only three games in an uncertainty. He says his back trouble has left him but the Yanks are not counting too heavily on Senor Vernon. Alley Donald, a sensation two years ago, had aches last year and still has 'em. He's a question mark. Spurgeon Chandler and Johnny Murphy will be around for relief. Of the young pitchers Norman Branch, who won 15 for Newark; Don Wenderickson and John Lindell from Kansas City, Steve Peck and George Washburn of Newark and Charles Stancus of Kansas City look the best.

But three inning exhibition shifts under "don't bear down" orders don't give McCarthy much chance to judge his hurlers. He won't make up his mind which ones to keep until just before the season opens.

McCarthy isn't fretting over his outfield. Joe DiMaggio is certain in center and Charles Keller in right. Tommy Holmes from Newark is giving the carry-overs—George Seltrick, Tom Henrich and Mike Chartak — a battle for the other slot.

One thing is sure—a lot of factors have got to break in McCarthy's favor if the Yankees are to regain the championship. Maybe they will and maybe they won't.

Local Keglers Named To Posts On Lions Loop

J. C. Douglass, Jr., was elected vice-president of the Texas State Lions Club Bowling association and Jack Smith was named to the board of directors Sunday night in a meeting of the organization in Houston.

W. M. Broyles, Houston, was named president; Charlie Earhart, Houston, sec'y-treasurer; Chester Lee, Beaumont; Charlie Shroyer, Houston; Hirsch Schwartz, Schulerburg, and John Hensley, Palestine, were chosen directors.

Big Spring of district 2-T was selected as the possible scene of action for the 1942 meet, subject to a meeting of the board to be called at a later date.

The Big Spring keglers returned from Houston Monday after taking second-place as a team entry. Douglass took the tournament's highest individual score honors.

Lookin' 'em Over

Jodie Tate and Tink Riviere are getting the west side baseball park in readiness for the opening show of the 1941 Big Spring baseball season when Lamesa's Lobos are entertained by the Bombers on April 2.

Right now, the ball park is a bit ragged around the edges but not to such an extent that it can't be put in shape by the time the diamond war roll around. Except for troublesome hillocks that are over the outfield, the grounds are in good shape, considering all things. The infield area appears to be in bang-up condition with the exception of the need for additional work on the pitcher's mound and the batter's box.

Tate and Riviere are putting in a pair of dugouts to take the place of the sheds previously used.

Most expensive losses at the park were electric switches that were carried off for the copper in them — at about $80 per switch.

Dykes' Jibes Worry Cubs

LOS ANGELES, March 25. (AP) Jimmy Dykes is just an "old man" for heckling Lou Novikoff, a fence-busting genius while in the minors, and the Chicago Cubs don't care who knows it.

The caustic Irish pilot of the White Sox has been giving the young and not-so-much Russian "the business" every time the two cross-town rivals get together for an exhibition game.

"Jockey" Dykes put a saddle on the singing, harmonica-playing Cub rookie in the first game and has been riding him ever since. Nettled or not by Dykes' jibes, Novikoff nevertheless has collected a meager three hits in 16 official times at bat in four games, which is poor work, especially for Novikoff, in view of his impressive coast league record.

Jimmy Wilson, Cub pilot, isn't too elated over this needling, taking time out to give Dykes a verbal spanking thusly:

"He's all wrong about that. He shouldn't be riding these young fellows. Let him pick on me, if he wants to, or Stan Hack or Bill Herman, or some of the fellows who have been through it. You shouldn't ride a youngster when he's trying to break in."

But Dykes, who loves nothing better than a fight, has been raising opposing ball players and battling umpires ever since he started playing.

Chamber Of Commerce Drive At Lamesa Set

LAMESA, March 24 (Spt) — The 1941 chamber of commerce membership drive will be launched April 8.

William (DHW) Boyd is chairman of the drive and will be assisted by Charnell Jobe, Hugh Lott, Darwin Echols and Swanson Hart. This committee will appoint 30 other members who will work in groups of two in solicitation.

Raymond Lee Johns, manager of the chamber, said it was expected the drive would net 300 members.

Improvement In Howard County Jail Condition Is Commendable

Some institutions have a smell all of their own, and foremost among these are jails.

If there was one worse in this respect than the Howard county jail, its fame and odor never reached our ears and nose.

But that condition is past, thanks to a fine spirit of co-operation between Sheriff A. J. Merrick and the members of the Howard County Commissioners court. The jail has been given a good going over and the place is as clean as one of that sort can be.

U. S. May Take Bold Course In Far East

WASHINGTON, March 25—In the field of Far Eastern policy, the past ten days have seen two important developments. The first was the return from China of Lauchlin Currie, the economist and presidential assistant, on his journey to Chungking to help Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek and his advisors cope with a dangerously inflationary currency situation.

Currie does not pretend to be a military expert, but he is a good reporter, and he is said to have brought back to the president a remarkable list of the Chinese needs for starting a counter-offensive against Japan.

The list, considering the nature of modern war, is magnificently brief: A dozen old flying fortresses, two hundred up-to-date pursuit planes, comparatively small quantities of aviation gas, steel alloys and other raw materials, and a certain amount of heavy artillery and ammunition would be enough, according to the Chinese leader speaking to the president through Currie.

With this comparative handful of supplies, the Chinese think they could knock spots out of the Japanese invaders.

The second development is not unrelated to the first, indicating that our Far Eastern policy is already hovering on the verge of boldness. It is the dispatching to Australia and New Zealand of several heavy and light cruisers and a considerable number of destroyers on a "courtesy visit."

Although Secretary of the Navy Frank Knox has indignantly rejected any suggestion of ulterior motive, any observer not too obtuse must conclude that this "courtesy visit" is in reality an effective compromise between the two main factions in the navy department.

The cautious faction, composed of the chief of naval operations, Admiral Harold Stark, and most of the members of the general board, has maintained that any substantial American naval force crossing the 180th meridian would be attacked or turned back by the Japanese.

Man About Manhattan—Judith Anderson Lauded As Great Actress

NEW YORK—Stephan Fetchit's valet is a prize-fighter. He was loudly cheered when introduced at the recent Golden Gloves matches, but the judges were roundly booed when they gave him the decision. The crowd thought the other fighter won. It was so angry it was still roaring when the next fight got underway. The announcer, despite their amplifiers, "was completely drowned out."

In her earlier days on Broadway, Judith Anderson would live nowhere but in Greenwich Village. Now she demands handsome suites in expensive hotels overlooking Central Park.

Hollywood Sights and Sounds—Gloria Jean, Nearly 13, Is Glammer Gal

HOLLYWOOD—With dusky apologies for invading a province usually foreign to this department, we beg leave to report on the Love Life of a Glammer Girl—Gloria Jean.

Miss Jean, who will be 13 come April 13, is in the throes. Object of her devotion: Basil Rathbone.

"He isn't so terribly handsome," she confided between loving bites of a luscious custard-filled cream puff, "but maybe I shouldn't say that. I wouldn't hurt his feelings for anything. But he's so distinguished—and his VOICE—oh, his VOICE! It's wonderful...."

"He heard about it—about me, I mean—and he had a little party for me. I was so THRILLED. And the other night, after his Sherlock Holmes broadcast, he signed off by saying 'Goodnight, Gloria,' and I was so excited I almost died...."

"Then there's Sabu. I'm crazy to meet Sabu. I love his pictures. Did you see 'The Thief of Bagdad'? Wasn't it wonderful? And he has such a marvelous, different voice...."

Chapter 26
NEW QUARREL
Roger and Emily stood transfixed as Lovely ran from the room.

"I never thought this could happen," Emily was the first to speak. "I shouldn't have kept coming here. I—I had no idea—"

"Don't Emily. It isn't your fault. Perhaps it's Lovely's. Probably it's mine. But certainly it isn't yours."

"I—I—but it seems I—" once more she didn't finish but stood helplessly looking down at beautiful Getta, so like her mother. Emily seemed more frail than ever then, with a certain puzzling incompleteness about her; exactly like her little broken phrases and unfinished sentences.

Impelled by something he didn't understand or pause to think about Roger moved toward her, gathered her in his arms and kissed her.

And Emily was saying softly against his shoulder:

"Don't mind, Roger. Don't mind. There always have to be sacrifices, I suppose."

Lovely went home. She didn't stay for the pleasant Sunday night supper that was a feature of life at the big Cosgrave house. There were always guests, interesting conversation and companionship.

Emily was taking a nine twenty-six train from Harmon back to New York.

"I'll run you down," Roger offered.

"But do you think you should?" Emily objected in her lovely soft voice. "After this afternoon—"

"Of course I should."

"You'll be back, Roger?" Marcia asked as she turned from kissing Emily goodbye.

"No, dear, I think I'll push right on home." He smiled into his mother's anxious eyes and then turned to Getta. She was too small to sit in the car beside him after Emily got out at the station.

"Leave Getta here, Roger," his mother seemed to read his thoughts and to be sager at the same time. She loved and was proud of her beautiful granddaughter.

Roger went home to a dark house. He let himself in and knew instinctively Lovely was in bed. There was a subtle scent of her about the house, like a flower garden slightly muted. He didn't turn on the light in the bedroom but undressed in the bathroom with the door closed so Lovely wouldn't be wakened.

The shades had not been drawn in the bedroom or the windows opened. That was like Lovely, Roger reflected. He paused for a moment to stare at the moon etching the almost bare trees against the night in exquisite beauty.

For Diplomatic Service—State Department Wants Bright Young Men

WASHINGTON—Wanted: Bright young men. Chance to travel. College education preferred but not essential. Wages and hours good. Excellent chance for promotion. Must know what primogeniture means. Apply State Department, Washington.

That, in effect, was the want ad inserted in the Foreign Service Journal of the State Department in an article explaining that, though many nations are angry with each other, the diplomatic business is still doing well.

Contrary to the popular view, the war has increased rather than lessened the job of U. S. diplomats who must look now to the interests of American nationals all over the world while also taking care of the business of governments who are not on speaking terms.

It is pointed out that while 23 offices have been closed in various parts of the globe since the war started, 21 new offices at the same time have been opened.

Tempo of Work Higher
"A few of the smaller posts in countries which have been directly affected by the war have experienced curtailment in both the volume and scope of their activities," the article states, "but on the whole the offices in all geographic areas are operating at greatly increased tempo and in many cases with insufficient personnel."

"As examples may be mentioned the development of immigration work in southern France, Spain and Portugal; the protection of foreign interests, particularly in Europe and the Far East; expanding commercial activities in Latin America; defense activities in all parts of the world; and other multifarious duties which have developed as a result of the war."

The new duties of caring for the interest of other nations involve representation of Great Britain and most of its Dominions in Germany, Belgium, Netherlands, Norway, Denmark, occupied and unoccupied France, Italy, Rumania, Bulgaria, Casablanca, Algiers, Tahiti, Tunis, Martinique, Saigon and Dakar.

Serve Other Governments
In many of these countries the United States diplomats care for the affairs of Luxembourg, France, Netherlands and Belgium.

Of the 21 posts opened since the beginning of hostilities, 20 represent "listening posts" in areas where the United States is interested in developments as a matter of hemispheric defense. These include Dakar—westernmost point of Africa—Freetown, British West Africa, three posts in Brazil and others in British Guiana, Venez-

Dawson County Paving To Begin

LAMESA, March 24 (SpI)—County Judge Vernon D. Adcock has notified by W. E. Burk, district WPA official, that work on the five miles of paving between Pumpkin Center, on the Brownfield highway, west to the Gaines county line, will begin about April 1.

Lamesa Methodists To Hold Revival

LAMESA, March 24 (SpI)—An eight day revival meeting is to begin at the Lamesa First Methodist church Sunday, March 30. Rev. Marvin Boyd, pastor of the First Methodist church at Merkel, will have charge of the preaching.

The Rev. Newton Daniels, who will be personal worker during the revival and who will assist the Rev. Mr. Boyd, arrived in Lamesa Monday to begin a week of visitation and preparation.

Oyster Cocktail Inventor Dies

LOS ANGELES, March 25 (AP)—Al Levy, pioneer restaurant man who once said his only claim to fame would be that he invented the oyster cocktail, died at a hospital early Monday after a short illness following a major operation. Levy declared that his cocktail concoction popularized the oyster and raised it from the level of a lowly dish.

Child Remains Asleep 3 Years

CHICAGO, March 25 (AP)—Mary Ellen Reardon, five-year-old victim of encephalitis, a form of sleeping sickness, reached the end of her third year in a coma today. The child can move her head, legs, and arms but appears unable to recognize anyone. Her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Daniel F. Reardon, said that another year or coma had brought no noticeable change in her condition.

Currently, 17 governors were born outside the states they govern.

change me! I'm what I am and I'll stay that way! I don't want to be any other way. I wouldn't be like your wishy-washy Emily for anything in the world. No woman'd get my man from me! The softie!"

"Lovely! Emily can't help being as she is and she's not my Emily. Stop talking like that. And I don't want you to be like her."

"And you couldn't be! You never could be." A sudden note of bitterness in his voice.

"I suppose you're trying to tell me I'm not a lady!"

"I don't have to tell you what you are! You make it obvious."

"I hate you! I wish I'd never seen you! I wish I'd never seen any of your family or of your kind! Prigs! Snobs. And most of all I hate your good-looking Emily. She's so good she makes me ache to the spine with boredom!"

It was Roger then who got up and left the table. Quick angry words came to his lips but he stayed them. He didn't want the memory of cheap bitter quarrels with Lovely. After all he loved her. He still loved her devotedly. And she was the mother of his beautiful little daughter.

He drove down the hill to Mr. Father's place. They were readying the green houses for winter and Roger was overseeing the work. But first he went to the house and to his mother's sitting room. She was playing with Getta. The young father stood held to the spot by the sheer charm of the scene before him.

Roger was working that afternoon with the extra men when Lovely's car swooped into the drive and stopped near the greenhouse. Lovely, dressed for a party, walked toward him, her face lighted with the smile he knew, so well. He felt his heart lift and warm as it always did when she came to him in a happy mood. He remembered Mari was giving a cocktail tea for one of the girls who was getting married.

"Forgive me, darling!" Lovely asked penitently. "I didn't mean to fly off the handle this morning. I was all wrong again!"

"You're forgiven before you ask it, Lovely," Roger said softly. "You're very gorgeous this afternoon."

"Thanks lamble pie!" Then, her eyes shadowing swiftly: "Oh, Roger I'm always so ashamed of my outbursts and so sorry afterwards! But sometimes I just can't help being jealous of Emily."

"Why, darling?" Emily hasn't anything to be jealous of. She's been robbed of everything but the little friendship we can give her."

"Maybe that's it. Everything's been taken from her and yet she goes on—still Emily. Just as sweet and lovely as she ever was. Nothing—none of the bad things seem to really touch her at all. She's got something, like an armor. Maybe it's her background. She's—"

Lovely paused thoughtfully while Roger watched the men who seemed to know what to do with wood and earth and flowers. "And Getta's taken to her so. And your mother. But I don't mind your mother so much. Getta's," she forced a little ripple of laughter to her lips, "an aristocrat like you. Like all of you. She's one of you. I never really will be."

"You're talking foolishness now, sweet."

Suddenly the air of that clear fall day was rent with screams of pain.

Lovely was off like a streak. On a rise of ground a full grown white bull terrier was fighting a half grown Kerry puppy. The bull had distinctly the advantage in size and weight but the little Kerry was fighting valiantly.

here and said that fields were all put up, ready for it, and ranges were in fine shape.

Howard county stood Tuesday with its best chance for a big yield since 1937 when the all-time bumper crop was harvested. Many farmers felt that the spring season was the best since 1932. From all sections there were reports that the season had penetrated deep into the subsoil, replenishing the depleted reserves.

Along the north county line the amount varied from an estimated two inches around Ackerly, to about an inch at Vealmoor and little more than an inch at Vincent. In the northwest part of the county the fall was just short of two inches at Knott and Hiway.

South of Big Spring reports pegged the amount at an inch and a half and upwards while two inches were reported around Chalk. Coahoma measured 1.25 inches in the morning and had more showers.

Sleet and snow fell in the Panhandle and Midland had some damage from hail preceding a 1.21 inch rain. Pisinview had .75 of an inch and had the best spring moisture in 26 years. Rain was falling at Lubbock, bringing the March total to 2.61 and conditions were well above normal. San Angelo reported around two inches in its area.

Total March precipitation recorded by the weather bureau here was 2.40. Farmers were planning to put in sudan and early sorghums when the weather breaks and some were taking a chance on early cotton.

Ice of the Angel Glacier in Jasper National park, Canada, is from 150 to 300 feet deep at the base.

Leaders Seek Settlement In Steel Strike

BETHLEHEM, Pa., March 25 (AP)—Moves for possible settlement were made today as clashes and the first use of tear gas marked a strike called by the CIO Steel Workers Organizing Committee at the giant parent plant of the Bethlehem Steel company which has more than one billion dollars of defense contracts.

Developments included: 1. A meeting was arranged between a federal conciliator, SWOC officials, and leaders of the Employees Representation Plan. 2. Howard Curtis, district SWOC head, announced a four-point program through which he said he hoped for "early termination" of the strike.

The walkout was called by the SWOC at 5:30 p. m. Monday because, Curtis charged, the Employees Representation Plan began what he said was "an illegal" election. The SWOC claims the EERP is a company dominated union.

Howard County Jail Receives Good Cleanup

It is now possible to smell fresh air in the Howard county jail. This may sound like a riddle, but those who had occasion to visit or stay in the jail during the past several years won't think so. The jail, frankly, stunk.

None knew it better than Sheriff A. J. Merrick. So one of his official acts since becoming sheriff was to promote a cleaning and painting campaign for the bastille.

Today the jail has been dressed down, the floors and walls painted, the cell blocks and doors all given a good coat of aluminum paint.

On the lower floor a shower bath has been installed off the run-around for the cell block. The whole place has clean appearance now, and Sheriff Merrick intends that it should stay that way.

"You will notice," he said, "that there is no disinfectant odor in the jail. We don't intend to have to use it, because we are going on the belief that if we keep it clean there won't be any need for disinfectant."

Also renovated and painted is the pantry for the jail. Stairways carry the new aluminum covering. Happiest of all over the change are the prisoners. Used to be that a prisoner emerging from the jail reeked with disinfectant and other foul odors.

Now they have a radio, a toaster and hot plate, not so much to give the place a hotel atmosphere, explained the sheriff, but because "we find that when they have these, their time is better occupied and we have decidedly less trouble with them."

Gayda Says Greece Now Entirely Cut Off

ROME, March 25 (AP)—Fascist Editor Virginio Gayda declared today that Yugoslavia's adherence to the Rome-Berlin-Tokyo axis meant expulsion of Britain from southeastern Europe and the isolation of Greece and should "give cause for meditation to the United States."

"The United States today can well perceive that their aid to England is not going for the cause of Europe's liberty but for that British imperialism which Europe already has condemned," Gayda wrote in the newspaper Il Giornale d'Italia.

Greece, Gayda asserted, "definitely is isolated in eastern Europe."

German Raiders Hit Battleship

BERLIN, March 25 (AP)—Heavy bomb hits were scored by Nazi air raiders on a British battleship in the Mediterranean southwest of the Greek island of Crete, the German high command declared today.

An "enemy outpost boat" was destroyed there, the Daily War Bulletin said, and two large freighters, each of about 5,000 tons, were severely damaged in an air attack on a British convoy south of Crete.

Woman Found Dead

SAN ANTONIO, March 25 (AP)—A woman, tentatively identified from receipt slips found in a dresser drawer as Mamie Garza, about 31 or 32 years old, was found dead in a pool of blood this morning in a room of a small hotel here.

Commander Of Italian Army In Africa Out

ROME, March 25 (AP)—Marshal Rodolfo Graziani today resigned command of Italy's North African troops and the positions of army chief of staff and governor of Libya.

An official announcement said General Italo Garibaldi, chief of Graziani's staff in Libya, had been promoted to governor with command of troops in Libya.

General Mario Roatta, army under-chief of staff, was promoted to chief of staff.

Graziani, army chief of staff since October, 1939, was named commander of the army in Libya July 1, 1940, succeeding Marshal Italo Balbo, who was killed when his plane was shot down over Tobruk.

Graziani organized the Italian advance into Egypt which was turned into a retreat when the British recaptured Sidi Barrani last December. He retained command throughout the British counter-offensive in which the Italians were driven from Eastern Libya.

Rumors that Graziani would resign began circulating about the time Marshal Pietro Badoglio retired as chief of the general staff Dec. 6. They became more persistent after the North African disaster.

Garibaldi commanded the "grand unit" of the Italian forces in East Africa before he became chief of Graziani's staff in Libya.

Roatta had been under-chief of staff since he replaced General Ubaldo Soddu when the latter was named under secretary of state for war, a post in which Soddu later was supplanted by General Alfredo Guzzoni.

Marshal Graziani, however, held his positions as governor of Libya and commander of North African forces for months after his start of an invasion of Egypt backfired and he lost Eastern Libya to a British counter drive.

Repeated rumors that he was to be replaced were denied in Rome, where the veteran North African campaigner sent Premier Mussolini his own account of why he couldn't stop the British.

His report last Dec. 22 blamed his reverses on lack of armored cars, tanks and other mechanized equipment and said the British got the jump on him by starting their cross-desert push just before the zero hour for a planned Italian drive on toward the Nile.

Here And There

O. B. Bryan, manager of the Big Spring office of the Caprock Electrical Co-operative, left Monday for Fort Worth where he was to confer with officials concerning office functions and expansion of electrical services offered by the REA unit. He is scheduled to return to Big Spring Tuesday night.

No damage to the Co-op's lines has been reported despite torrential rains that have prevailed over most of the area served by the organization.

Art Winthelmer, manager of the local airport, is preparing to take delivery of a new Ercoupe aircraft within the next few days. Winthelmer will handle these planes in the capacity of dealer.

Bruce Frazier, clerk of the local selective service board, is running something of a consolation bureau at his office. Recently a person called to see when a particular number would be up for selection. That is a question that is most often put to the long-suffering Frazier, but what made it stand out was that it was not asked by the man interested—it was his girl. Frazier obliged by offering to give a list of unattached men above, below, or unfit for the draft.

Word was received here Tuesday concerning the death of Ollie Presley, father of Pete Presley, 1940 member of the Big Spring high school football team. The Presleys moved from Big Spring the first of the year to Oregon, where Presley died February 15th. Another son, Lawrence Presley, and his wife also moved to Oregon with his father and mother. The Presleys were members of the East 4th St. Baptist church and Presley formerly owned and operated a cafe here.

Dr. Frank Boyle, who left here last week after receiving call to join the army medical corps, was in town briefly Sunday night. Dr. Boyle is to be stationed at Fort Bliss, El Paso, in the Beaumont hospital in place of previous orders stationing him in Mineral Wells.

Car registrations were moving on briskly Tuesday but the volume was still under what it ought to be. Monday registrations totaled 315 and more than 100 had been handled to noon. Deadline is April 1.

Porter Dunlap, San Francisco, vice president of the Bank of America in that city, was here on business Tuesday. He frequently makes this territory in connection with his bank's business.

A couple from Washington state awoke at Coleman Camp Tuesday morning, ready to resume their trip to the east. But their young son and his dog were missing. They hurriedly called the police, who had two minutes before received a call from 434 Hillside drive, a mile and a half to the south, on the boy and dog.

The Andy Fruit family today had a new daughter. Mr. and Mrs. Fruit, who now reside at Abilene, are former Big Spring residents.

Portland Chemical Plant Has Fire

PORTLAND, Ore., March 25 (AP)—A blast which shook houses for several blocks around occurred at the R. N. Chipman chemical company's new factory here at 9:45 a. m. today. It was followed by a fire which shot flames 100 feet into the air.

Six ambulances were dispatched to the scene but it was not immediately known whether there had been any casualties.

The plant had been operating only a short time. It had been attracted to this area by Bonneville power and was preparing to convert its facilities to the manufacture of forms of chlorates needed for munitions. Previously the company manufactured agricultural chemicals.

Rayburn And Wallace Sign Aid Fund Bill

WASHINGTON, March 25 (AP)—Vice President Wallace and Speaker Rayburn signed the $7,000,000 British aid bill today, completing congressional action on the measure.

Wallace signed the measure at 12:48 p. m., 41 minutes after Rayburn had affixed his signature.

The bill was immediately sent back to the house where the enrolling clerk was to deliver it to the White House.

At the White House officials said the bill will be flown to Miami, Fla., aboard a commercial plane leaving Washington at 3:45 p. m. (EST), and arriving at Miami in late evening. From there it will be flown by special plane to the president, now on a vacation cruise, for his signature.

The bill will be carried by a postal inspector in a pouch along with other White House mail.

The appropriation was passed last week by the house and yesterday by the senate.

Rayburn signed the appropriation at the speaker's desk without comment.

Only a parliamentary technicality kept the bill from being on its way south yesterday soon after the senate gave it the overwhelming approval of a 67-to-9 vote. The house, however, had adjourned before the senate acted and the rules require that it be in session when the speaker signs legislation.

With the debate over, Senator Wheeler (D-Mont), told reporters that the final approval of the $7,000,000 appropriation for the lease-lend program had given the president "everything he has asked for."

"Now," he continued, "it is entirely up to the president to determine whether this is going to be a war measure, or, as his leaders in the senate said, a peace measure."

Wheeler, who voted against the program and the appropriation, quoted Democratic Leader Barkley of Kentucky and Chairman George (D-Ga.) of the senate foreign relations committee as saying it was not contemplated that shipments to Britain should be conveyed by American naval vessels or that American troops should be sent abroad.

"Because of these statements," the Montanan continued, "I do not see how it would be possible for the president either to use convoys or to send men without repudiating all the promises that have been made both by himself and his leaders."

New Defense Labor Board Begins Work

By the Associated Press

The new national defense mediation board organized in Washington today, urging labor and management to prevent any further interruption of the defense program. It met as sporadic violence marked efforts of workers to enter the Bethlehem Steel company's plant at Bethlehem, Pa., and the International Harvester McCormick works at Chicago. CIO unions called strikes at both places.

Dr. Clarence A. Dykstra, chairman, in a statement at the mediation group's first meeting, said this was a time of "world crisis" and that if the United States "is to be an arsenal for democracy there must be uninterrupted flow of production from mine, mill and factory."

All 11 members were present. Chairman Dykstra urged the public to support the board in a policy "that the public welfare today requires each of us to subordinate a purely private or personal interest to the good of the country." He said the group would endeavor to be impartial, completely honest, and thoroughly non-political.

The board has no powers to compel settlement of labor disputes.

Wool Market

BOSTON, March 25 (AP)—(USDA) Very little business was being transacted today in greasy combing wools, but scoured wools suitable for woolen purposes were moderately active on a demand from mills that were recently awarded government contracts for woolen goods. Options were still being held on worsted types of domestic and foreign wools pending awards from contracts by the government for worsted goods. The volume of worsted wools being offered in Boston was quite restricted.
