TAX PAYERS PLAN STRIKE

KANSAS CITY, March 4 (49) Threat of a citywide tax strike was raised today in this reformswept city of 400,000.

Some of the same reform eledominant city political machine, break up a huge gambling racket, revamp the police force and transform the city from one of the most traffic now are concentrating on another sore spot - the county property tax.

These elements, contending that discarded machine once used the tax to play favorites, brought pressure upon the city and county to bring in J. L. Jacobs, a Chicago tax expert.

Jacobs set the valuation of the county's real estate at approxi-mately $440,000,000 as contrasted the present assessment of $462,000,000. The Jackson county (Kansas City) court has thus far failed to act on proposals to adopt the Jacobs system.

Consequently the citizens' council raised the strike threat, with the backing of the chamber commerce, real estate board, and the merchants' association. Those four groups comprise the city's big taxpayers.

The citizens' council announced it "will establish a trust tax ac count and ask all citizens, while continuing to pay their school and state taxes when due, to deposi their county tax moneys for this year to the credit of that fund, on the agreement that such funds will be paid to the county if and as the citizens' demands are met."

Senate Committee Favors AUSTIN, March 4 (2P) - A bill boosting the automobile speed limit from 45 to 60 miles an hour was Appropriation To Purchase Land For Big Bend Park

AUSTIN, March 4. CP—Estab-lishment of Texas' 883,000-acre por-tion of a huge international park on the Rio Grande in the rugged Big Bend region moved a step nearer realization in the state legislature today.

The senate received from its committee a recommendation for passage of a bill appropriating $1,500,000 state funds to complete purchase of land for the proposed national park.

The committee acted speedily yesterday after Senator H. L. Win-field of Fort Stockton asserted he had been informed that if the legislature voted the allotment, pri-vate citizens soliciting funds to aid in the purchase could complete the job quickly.

The senator expressed the opinion increased tourist traffic would yield enough gasoline tax and other revenues to the state and business in general to justify the expenditure.

Pitching Machine Steals

ST. PETERSBURG, Fia.,—"Old Pete" is the biggest show stealer in the St. Louis Cardinals' camp since Pepper Martin's Mud Cat band. "Oll Pete"—so dubbed by the Cards because his control and tireless energy recall Grover Alexander—is Banker Byron Moser's electrically-operated machine. Idle Bill, The Gentle Grafter, Makes History Around Seminole SEMINOLE, March 4. — Folks around here are still talking of Idle Bill who bilked the population of around $100 and told them he was going to do it.

Bill, like a page out of the Gen-tle Grafter, blew into town one fine day, got permission from the city and county officials to hawk a few novelties. He rented a lot for a short space of time and pa-raded through town with a cowbell to attract a crowd. Schooled in the tricks of his trade, he sucked in more listeners by promising to drive a butcher knife through a negro's head. Somehow he side-tracked this issue by getting the negro to hold two or three dollars for him. Then—

"Ladies and gentlemen, step up, worked and never will. I have a few surprises here today. Some-body's going to be made happy over this. Somebody's going to be glad they bought. Who'll give me a dime for this box, Thank you sir, and you sir."

And Bill climbed into his old truck and drove away while be-wildered people opened up a col-lection of trashy novelties and wondered why in the name of Heaven they had done it. and you sir.'

All eyes look to Texas when talk turns to national defense. Our big state is a major factor in supplying vital needs.

Texas has 52% of the nation's known oil reserves. Our great oil companies with their refineries are adequately prepared to do their part in our nation's defense.

Right now, Texas is supplying the major part of vital fuel used in defense ships, tanks and planes.

Texas Electric Service Company is proud of its part in supplying power to this great industry. Ours has to be an uninterrupted service, dependable during peace or in the big job of national defense.

Germany May Not Have Army Available For Invasion

By ALSOP AND KINTNER

WASHINGTON, March 4.- The school of American military and naval experts is increasingly doubtful that Hitler's will take the form of a ish Isles. The experts have long in clined to believe the German strategy was merely to threaten or feint invasion, while attacking Britain's far-flung life-lines in force at every vulnerable point. Although well aware the situation is still highly speculative, they feel that recent events, especially Balkans, strongly tend to substantiate their theory.

Their reason is fairly obvious. Hitler has at his disposal about 250 divisions, or an organized and equipped army of 3,000,000 men. Of seventy are stationed on the frontier, as a permanent breat to Russia. Eight are occupyng Norway, Six are in Denmark Between tweny-five and thirty are needed in the low countries and on the coast of France. Two more are in the Pyrences on the Spanish border, and at least eight and probably ten are on the Brenner Pass. unknown number of troops are in Italy, and there are probably several divisions of regulars, still doing necessary police duty in Ozecho-Slovakia and other danger spots within the reich. Thus at least 120 divisions, and probably 130 or 135, are already accounted for, leaving between 115 and 130 for Hitler's mobile striking force against Britain. But from total of 115 to 130 division must also be subtracted the 50 divisions Hitler has now engaged, with the serious risk of further calls on his resources, in the Balkans. Thus the final total of Hiter's available striking force is only between sixty-five and eighty di-

To the military experts, this does against a Britain where there are now at least 2,000,000 men under arms. Although less than half this total is composed of regular troops, organized into divisions, even the ne-guards will be fighting on their hearth stones. The spirit of the British people preparing for invasion is summed up by an episode from the dark days last summer, informally reported by one of en called in by the government. Manhattan-Russell Crouse Has Interesting Past History

Crouse, a little dated, was struggling to place the fellow but still got nowhere. The man broke in with, "Did you know Charlie was ill?"

"That's depressing," Crouse tôld him. "Give my love to Char-lie will you?" and hurried on. He still doesn't know who gave him the $10, and he never heard of Charlie.

"A lot of crazy things have been happening lately," he said today in Dick Maney's office, where a quorum of us were gab-bing about this and that. "Only last night two dozen red roses were delivered to the house, with a card saying, 'Much love, Hope you are progressing nicely." The sender was a lady and she sign-ed her name; but Crouse never heard of her either.

If it seems strange that a lot of things should happen to Rus sell Crouse, it should be remem bered that he is a man who has done a lot of things, He used to write a column called "Left At the Post" for the old New York Currier & Ives, and later another book called "Murder Won't Out," which is a study of the 12 most famous murder cases in New York's history. The first of these happened in 1799 and was known as the Alma Sands murder, and the last of the twelve was the famous Starr Faithful murder, which took place in New York in the racketeering heyday of the underworld, the nineteen-twenties.

Crouse was also press agent for the Theatre Guild before he quit that job to become an author of musical revues and a producer. He wrote, in collaboration with others, "Red Hot and Blue," and "Hooray For What," finally the great success, was written in collaboration with Howard Lindsay, and he and producers of "Arsenic and Old Lace," which is one of the two most successful dramatic hits on Broadway. The other is "The Corn Is Green."

Incidentally, these two plays have more "angels" than all the other Broadway attractions to-gether. "Arsenic" has 21, and gether. "Ar "Corn" 14.

Crouse and Lindsay own the bulk of the stock in "Arsenic," and have let the rest of it out to 19 of their friends. One man paid $560 for five-sixths of one per cent of the stock, and has received a return of $5,000 on his investment.

On Broadway Buck is known as a man with a single voicehe's an all night poker player. Once he lost a chance to rewrite a musical drama because he couldn't be found. He had reremained locked in a room with his pals for two days-trying to draw to a pair of Jacks.

ern life, and particularly in modern warfare, has been impressed upon us by developments in World War II.

We have learned with startling suddenness that we must have planes, efficient and fast planes. We must have more and more of them, for in total war as practiced today, the effectiveness of the airplane is multiplied aimost in the ratio to the number in the air at a given place at a given time.

Yet the real factor is not in plane manufacture. Indeed, as perplexing as this problem may seem, American plane production can and will reach a level equal to or above that of any other nation in the world. In time our mass production practices will be applied more and more to aircraft until none can match us

But planes without pilots are valueless except as reserve. To accomplish its mission, whether civilian or military, the plane must first be placed in the hands of a competent person.

Good sources estimate that Germany is turning out 60,000 planes annually now and must be training two pilots per plane, or around 100,000 pilots a year, Britain has only 10,000 annually in prospect and our own military may equal the latter figure.

Fortunately, however, we have nother field for developing pilots, that of the civilian training program which is turning out around 40,000 fliers an-Most of these could be properly considered a reservior of trained talent in case of emergency.
Yet there are those unthinking people among us who clamor for curtailing the civilian training That would be like program. killing the goose that is laying the golden egg. Instead of curtailing, we need to expand. If we need more planes, we certainly have need of more and more pilots. The civilian program seems to offer our best bet. Write our congressman and senators, urging them to see that present appropriations are not reduced and if at all possible, that they be raised.

Man Confesses Strangulation Of Bronx Woman

NEW YORK, March & UP-Disrict Attorney Samuel J. Foley of the Bronk announced today that George Joseph Cvak, 23, of Harrisburg, Pa., had admitted the strangulation slaying of Mrs. Catherine Pappas in her Bronx home last month.

Cvek was arrested soon after nidnight, during an all-night quesioning, Foley said he also admited assaulting women in Philadelphia, Washington, D. C. Newark, N. J., and other cities.

Foley said Cvek would be chargd with murder.

Foley quoted the youth as sayng he garrotted Mrs. Pappas after gaining entrance to the spartment by feigning friendship with her usband, John, added that Mrs. Pappas had stop-ped breathing when he placed her

The arrest was made soon after midnight in a cheap Manhattan hotel by six Bronx detectives who had been working on the Pappas killing and on a similar slaying yesterday in which another Bronx housewife, Mrs. Elizabeth Jensen, was garrotted in similar fashion.

Cvek was not officially linked with the Jensen killing, however.

During all-night questioning, Foley said the prisoner explained he would hitch rides on sastern highways, learn the addresses of his benefactors and later call at their homes, gaining entrance by pretending friendship with the hushand.

"LAND OF LIBERTY," the feature picture which marked the contribution of the motion picture industry to the New York World's Fair and San Francisco Exposition, and is being distributed nationally by Metro Goldwyn-Mayer, and is playing today and Wednesday at the Hitz theatre. This full-length feature won such widespread critical and public acclaim that Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer and the Motion Picture Producers and Distributors of America, who sponsored the production, decided to make it available for national release on a non-profit basis. All profits from the film realized by the distributors will be donated to war emergency welfare work by the motion picture industry. In chronological order of the picture (scenes from which are shown above) tells the history of America from the days before the coming of the white man up to the present era. It is composed of memorable scenes from scores of outstanding pictures in which many of the screen's most famous stars appearing in individual sequences of the story are: Spencer Tracy, Bette Davis, Claudette Colbert, James Stewart, Margaret Sullavan, George Arils, Walter Huston, George Baft, Don Ameche, Lewis Stone and many others. The picture was assembled and edited by Cecil B. DeMille and a group of associates from more than 2,000,000 feet of film available.

After Mrs. Pappas had served brandy, coffee and cookies, Cvek tied her hands with his necktle while his arm encircled her throat, Foley said the prisoner told him. The district attorney said Cvek
