Hugh McAngus Funeral Held Here Monday

Funeral services for Hugh McAngus, 78, of Kerrville, were held in the First Baptist church in Eldorado on Monday, April 10, at 2:30 p.m., following memorial services in the Smith Funeral Home in Kerrville on Sunday, the 9th.

Interment was made in the Eldorado cemetery.

Mr. McAngus, a retired stock farmer, died at his home in Kerrville following a heart attack. He was born Feb. 21, 1883, in Travis county, Texas, and moved to Eldorado in 1920, and had resided here until he retired to Kerrville in 1946.

He had been a member of the Church of Christ for about 50 years. His first wife, Mrs. Marguerite Alice McAngus, preceded him in death in 1950. He was married in 1951 to Mrs. Gertrude Boultinghouse of Kerrville.

Full bearers were Palmer West, Joe Muller Christian, Muncie Potter, Rance McDonald, John Williams, and Clarence Johnson.

He is survived by his wife, Mrs. Gertrude McAngus, Kerrville; one daughter, Mrs. Aaron Steward, Eldorado; two sons, W. E. McAngus, El Paso; and E. H. McAngus, West Point, Georgia; one sister, Mrs. Annie Bradshaw, Austin. There are six grandchildren: Jack G. Steward of Otis AFB, Mass., Jim Hugh Steward of Abilene, Bob Steward of Monahans, and Martha, Mary, and Hugh McAngus all of West Point, Ga. Two children of Mrs. McAngus by a previous marriage also survive. They are Steve Boultinghouse of Dallas, and Mrs. Ramona Whalen of Kerrville.

Revival Continuing At First Baptist Church

Frank O'Banion is in charge of the music, and services have been continuing each day at 10 a.m. and 8 p.m. The closing service will be this Sunday night, April 16.

BOOSTING TRAVEL IN TEXAS—Governor Price Daniel accepts the first of a series of highway safety films from Ray H. Horton (left), vice president of Humble Oil & Refining Company. Colonel Homer Garrison, Jr. (right), appears briefly in each of the thirteen films, which were filmed on location throughout Texas. Called "Here's Texas!" the series deals with the pleasures of auto travel in the state and includes pointers on safe driving techniques. "Here's Texas!" will be circulated to television stations by officers of Colonel Garrison's department.

Courts Building To Be Converted Into Church

Following last week's announcement of the sale of the Rock Courts and Station property on the San Angelo highway to the Roman Catholic diocese, work has gotten under way to convert the large Courts structure into a church.

Most of the old partitions inside have been ripped out. Plans call for the present open wall on the south side to be closed in and some glass blocks and new windows to be installed. Elsewhere over the building, broken and rotted windows will need to be replaced.

Part of the north part of the building is to be partitioned off for class rooms and other purposes.

Immediate plans call for closing in the building completely so that work can continue on the interior.

A new raised ceiling is to be installed, and since the structure already has a good cement floor, a new tile floor can eventually be installed over it. New wiring and heating installations will be necessary.

It is expected that most of the labor on the project will be donated by church members.

Some used pews are now stored in the Rock Station and Roach buildings for installation in the new church premises.

The Rock Courts building was erected in the late 1920's.

The 4.18 acres of land are expected to allow for all future needs of the Catholic church here in Eldorado.

In addition to the large Courts building which is being converted into a new church, other improvements already on the site include the Rock Station building, a large cement slab formerly used for washing cars, and a well.

The move to the new quarters will be accomplished by the local Catholic church by sometime this fall, it was predicted.

The present church building in the Latin American community has been deemed too small for some time, it was pointed out.

Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Hill were in Fort Worth this week where Mr. Hill had a checkup.

Humans Warned Young Wildlife Best Left Alone

Don't pick up young of the wild. This is the warning of Bill Works, game warden of Schleicher county.

This is the time of the year when many babes of the woods stroll out in the open. They are tame and curious, and there is a tendency on the part of most people to take them home.

In the first place, according to Works, this is illegal. Just as important is the fact that the wild can take care of itself much better in the wild than might be done by individuals. There are a few cases, he points out, where lives of animals have been saved and landowners take care of them after something has happened to the mother. However, when an individual picks up a fawn or any other animal and takes it home, the animal actually has much less chance of surviving.

Very frequently these babes are lifted by humans while the mother is standing camouflaged behind a tree.

He also warns against raiding bird nests, although this practice has decreased in recent years.

A good crop of fawn deer is expected in Schleicher county this year.

P-TA Installation Is Scheduled For Tuesday

Officers for 1961-62 will be installed at the regular April meeting of the Eldorado P-TA Tuesday, April 18, at 7:30 in the high school auditorium.

Mrs. James Williams and her committee will be hostesses for a social hour in the cafeteria following the meeting.

All members are urged to attend.

A. M. Whitis will be installing officer at the 2SC county council meeting in Sonora today. Mrs. M. H. Woodward of Eldorado is vice-president of the council. Mrs. Edwin Jackson, local unit president, is also attending the meeting in Sonora.

Mr. and Mrs. L. B. Sherman of Leander are here visiting with her sister and brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Stevens.

Hearing On Feed Program To Be Held Next Tuesday

Post Script

April 14 — 4 days to file your 1960 income tax.

Some interesting side lights on the wild game program in this area have been supplied by local Game Warden Bill Works.

A year ago, last fall, it will be remembered, over 100 head of deer were placed in Schleicher county by the Texas Game Commission. One of these was killed on the Allison ranch in Sutton county this year, showing how far they range.

Also a turkey gobbler, banded on the Gordon Stewart ranch in Sutton county, was sighted on the Tom Henderson ranch in Schleicher county.

The game warden encourages everyone to report all banded turkeys that are seen in this area.

The little puppies that we disposed of a month or so ago, must be doing all right in their new homes, if the following is any indication.

We were talking to a housewife the other day and asked her how the puppy was getting along.

"Oh, just fine," she said, "but do you know how much that puppy has cost us so far?"

"No ---?"

"One hundred and eighty-one dollars!"

They fenced in the back yard.

When are we going to get that rain?

Last Saturday we had a whopper of a dust storm. Sunday was nice. Monday wasn't too bad. Tuesday brought high winds from the west with more dust.

The "Years Past" column of The Devil's River News, Sonora, quoted their issue of August 3, 1895: "The postal authorities have changed the name of the new town in Schleicher county from Well'ck to Eldorado."

REYNOLDS CLUB MEETS

The Reynolds Home Demonstration club met Tuesday in the home of Mrs. L. E. Lloyd. There were seven members present and one guest, Mrs. Jene Moore. Mrs. Henry Moore and Mrs. Gene Edmiston gave a demonstration on salad making. The next meeting will be May 9 at Mrs. L. Moore's.

The 1961 Feed Grain Program will be explained in a meeting at the court house Tuesday, April 18, at 2:00 p.m.

This bill was signed on March 22 by the President, and is known as the 1961 Feed Grain Program. There are four major objectives of this bill: (1) To increase farm income for grain producers, (2) To prevent further buildup of the feed grain surplus and reduce it if possible, (3) To help assume the consumer of fair and stable prices for meat, poultry and dairy products, and (4) to reduce ultimate feed grain program costs by about $500 million.

The general provisions of the program is for 1961 only, insofar as price supports are affected. It is voluntary for individual growers, although the USDA hopes extensive compliance will be had. Participation requires (1) reduction in acreage of corn and grain sorghum; (2) the reduction is from the base acreage of corn and grain sorghum for 1959-60, and (3) conservation use on the diverted acreage, determined in final degree by the county ASC committee.

To co-operate and qualify for price support a minimum of 20% of the feed base or a maximum, if the base is less than 20 acres, is the total that can be diverted. If base is between 20 and 100 acres, 20 acres plus 20%, but not to exceed the base. If base is 100 acres or more, 40% of base.

The producer receives pay for acres diverted or reduced at the rate 50% normal production, at the county 1961 support price. On the second 20%, 65% of normal production, at the 1961 county support rate.

If the producer chooses he may receive one-half of his estimated payment for reducing grain payment at the time he signs up for compliance.

A non-cooperator does not qualify for support on 1961 crop corn, grain sorghum, oats, barley, or rye.

He will depend upon market prices, whatever they may be.

He will receive no payments under the 1961 feed grain program.

The county ASC committee urges your presence, to consider all possibilities of this Feed Grain Program. You will be interested in studying and hearing materials relating to the program before making a final decision.

John Faught, Mertzon, Passes Away Tuesday

Conference Evangelist Starts Methodist Meeting On Sunday

REV. RALPH E. JOHNSON

MISS ROBERTA HALL

An evangelistic team, accredited by the Methodist Conference, will be in Eldorado Sunday to launch a two-weeks revival at the First Methodist church.

Rev. Ralph E. Johnson, whose home base is in Tennessee, has been a conference evangelist for many years. He is described as an "evangelist musician" with a powerful message, whose services are in wide demand throughout the conference. The local church, under direction of its pastor, the Rev. C. M. Nyquist, made arrangements months ago for his appearance here.

Working as a team, Rev. Johnson is assisted by Miss Roberta Hall, pianist-assistant, who has been his co-worker for a number of years. Miss Hall will also be in charge of a program of youth work for children and young people.

Their initial appearance in Eldorado will be at the Sunday morning church hour, beginning at 10:45. From then on, for the next two weeks, their schedule will be:

6:45 a.m., Morning devotions & fellowship.

4:00 p.m., Children.

6:30 p.m., Young People.

7:30 p.m., Preaching.

According to their advance advertising, there will be special music and surprises at every meeting. The series will close on Sunday night, April 30.

Mrs. T. W. Johnson has returned from Wichita Falls where she spent two weeks with her daughter, Mrs. O. R. Burden.

WANTED: More Vacancies

This iron lung is now empty—for a change. How long it and thousands of others remain empty depends upon how soon the entire nation is fully vaccinated against polio.

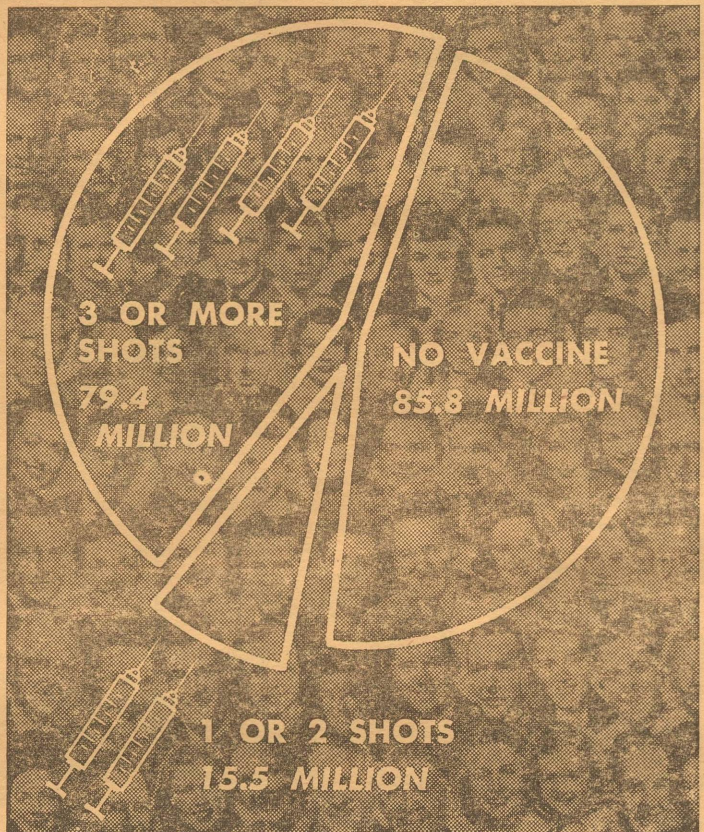

Almost half the U. S. population is unguarded against crippling polio.

Basil O'Connor, president of The National Foundation, has described the vulnerability of some 85 million Americans to paralytic polio as "a national disgrace."

There is no scarcity of the Salk vaccine, he pointed out, and two inoculations now, within a month's time, would provide at least some measure of protection against polio outbreaks and epidemics in the summer.

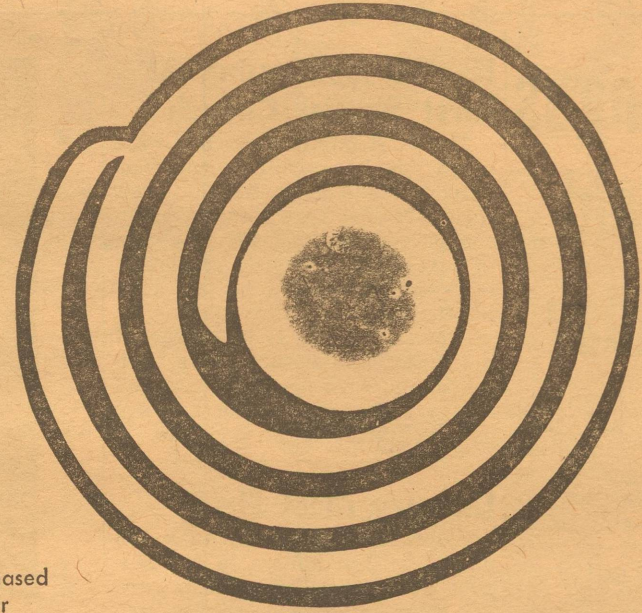

In thousands of cities, villages and hamlets across the nation, Salk polio vaccination is available at little cost, and in some communities the prescribed series of at least three shots is free. A fourth "booster" shot is now recommended. "The individual's common sense and will to survive should dictate immediate vaccination," Mr. O'Connor said. "If he or she has a family, all the more urgent ground for polio protection."

The National Foundation has been joined in its nationwide appeal to the unvaccinated by the American Medical Association and the U.S. Public Health Service.

Illustrating vaccination status of the American public, chart shows almost half the population is totally unvaccinated.

Free Wiring for ranges purchased from local dealer

COOL as an April shower

Electric cooking is cool cooking because heat goes directly into the food, not out into your kitchen. And this direct contact of surface unit and utensil is possible only on an electric range.

That's why electric cooking is clean too. With no flaring flame, there's no dirt or soot to soil range surface, kitchen utensils, kitchen walls and curtains.

And with automatic electric controls, time and temperatures are exact. No guess work. Heats are measured for you — to assure precise cooking.

Ask your appliance dealer to show you the wide variety of new electric ranges that set the pace for tomorrow's better cooking.

...thrifty too
The average family, served by WTU, can cook a complete meal for less than 3¢ with modern flameless electricity and enjoy all the other advantages of an electric range.

Highlights and Sidelights FROM your State CAPITOL

Austin.—In years past, a favorite topic among legislators about this time in the session was "When are we going to sine die."

A sine die (final adjournment) resolution gave everyone a comfortable sense of direction. Now there's no need.

Under the new law, the regular session automatically ends after 140 days. For this session the 140th day will be May 29. But with the time two-thirds gone, there's no assurance that vital tasks can be completed by May 29.

Both House and Senate are now working on the tax problem, but other measures of major importance—loan regulation, school consolidation—claim their time and cause delays.

Some observers are freely predicting that the tax question this year, as in 1959, cannot be solved except in special session limited to that one subject.

Loan Bill Passed

House members passed and sent to the Senate a bill on one of the session's most difficult problems—small loan regulation.

Rep. Criss Cole's bill would allow interest rates up to 39.8 per cent on the smallest loans. An amendment was added to allow loan companies to make a service charge of $4 every three months in addition to the interest.

Two amendments were passed with the aim of trying to prevent the market from being taken over by large out-of-state chains. One would prevent the licensing of a loan firm from having more than 50 branch offices in Texas.

Another amendment would require the finance commissioner, who would be responsible for loan company licensing and regulation, to approve any charges for insurance in connection with loans.

Loan Insurance Ruling

Meanwhile, an attorney general's ruling gave additional direction to the effort to control total charges for small loans. A loan company, said the opinion, is not entitled to a commission for group insurance sold in connection with loans.

Many critics of the small loan industry have contended the loan companies have made extra and unjustified profits by serving as "agents" for the sale of credit insurance to borrowers.

Actually, according to the opinion, the creditor (loan company) is the buyer of the insurance policy and, as such, is not entitled to an agent's commission on the sale. This opinion, it was felt, will help to clear up the sticky problem of keeping a lid on charges for insurance required of borrowers as security for loans.

Senate Studies Annexation

A House-passed bill setting up ground rules for city annexation is being worked on by a subcommittee of the Senate State Affairs committee. Rep. W. T. Dungan of McKinney is sponsor of the bill which would allow cities to ring themselves with "buffer zones" over which they could exercise control of building, health and sanitation standards. A portion of the zone could be annexed each year. The bill also provides that an annexed area not provided with municipal services in three years may disannex itself.

Spokesmen for the Texas Municipal League spoke in favor of the bill at committee hearings. A representative of the Texas Home Builders Association spoke against it and asked for more control over city extension of control.

70 MPH Bill

The Senate passed and sent to the House a bill that would allow speed limits up to 70 miles per hour on some state highways.

Power to say which roads would have higher—or lower — speed limits would be in the hands of the State Highway Commissioner in support of the varying speed limits, Senator Wardlow Lane of Center said it was unreasonable to have the same 60-mile an hour limit on new divided highways and old, narrow, twisting roads. Senator Preston Smith of Lubbock is sponsor. A controversial amendment by Senator Lane would make inadmissible in a court considering a speeding charge "evidence gained by entrapment" or gained by officers "lying in wait unobserved." Presumably this would, in effect, outlaw radar traps.

GOP Asks Election Changes

Spokesmen for the Texas Republican Party appeared before a House Committee in behalf of four bills to change the election code.

Two of the bills set up qualifications for poll watchers and election supervisors. Another would allow voters to put a mark beside the name of the person they wish to vote for instead of scratching all others. Another would repeal the provision for disqualifying a ballot on which two or more names are left unscratched for the same office.

GOP officials said that 100,000 ballots were thrown out in the last general election and that probably 100,000 were counted that should not have been. Clarifying the law, they declared, would protect everyone's vote.

Boards Favor Teacher Raise

Answers to questionnaires sent to local school boards over Texas show that 99% of the school trustees replying favor raises for teachers.

Boards are divided, however, on how much the raise should be. Biggest proportion, 64%, favor the full $800 sought by the Hale-Aikin Committee and the Texas State Teachers Association. About 22% favor a $600 a year increase, and 8% a $400 increase. Remainder favor some other amount.

Other results: a substantial majority of boards favor adding driver education teachers to the list of authorized special personnel.

A committee of the Texas Association of School Administrators and Texas Association of School made the poll.

Sales Tax Sent To Floor

A 2% general sales tax designed to raise $189 million a year has been sent to the full House for a decision.

House Revenue and Taxation committee unanimously passed out the bill by Rep. John Allen of Longview. Some members who voted to pass the bill out of committee said they would not vote for it on the floor. They apparently felt that the only way to settle the sales tax issue for this session is to get it to the floor for a vote.

Taxation Committee also heard testimony on an omnibus tax bill by Rep. George Hinson of Mineola. It is supported by the governor.

Hinson's bill would raise an estimated $156 million a year through taxes of varying percentages on such items as motor boats, jewelry, watches, soft drinks, restaurant meals, building materials, utilities and gas pipelines.

Soft drink manufacturers were among those protesting at being singled out. Bill was sent to subcommittee for study.

Short Snorts

Car owners have until April 15 to get their autos safety inspected and a new sticker put on the windshield. Col. Homer Garrison, Jr., director of the Department of Public Safety, said DPS officers would start handing out tickets to non-stickered cars Sunday, April 16.

A rise in the number of polio cases reported this year has prompted the Department of Health to urge parents to see to their children's shots. Seven more cases were reported for the first quarter of 1961 than for 1960. Health officials recommend that a child receive his first polio shot at 1½ months and succeeding shots at the recommended intervals until five have been received.

Memorial Day would become a legal holiday for state employees under a House-passed proposal. But before passing the measure, sponsored by Rep. Dick Cory of Victoria, members took out Columbus Day as a holiday.

Bureau of Business Research economists are making hedged predictions that Texas business is beginning slowly to pull out of the slump that began in 1960. Dr. John R. Stockton said the third quarter (July, August and September) of 1961 are looked for the first strong signs of recovery.

BROWNIES MEET

Brownie troop No. 6 met April 10th. The president, Shelia Hanusch, called the meeting to order. The vice president, Jana Boothe, called the roll with 20 present.

The treasurer, Mary Lyn McCalla, collected the dues. Minutes of the last meeting were read by the secretary, Genie Newport. Our troop sold 110 boxes of Girl Scout cookies. Thanks to all who helped. Shelia Murr was hostess. —Rita Roden was hostess.

Mrs. Glowanda Smith and three children of Valley Springs are visiting in Eldorado this week with friends and relatives.

Guards The Answer

For a new cash crop and profitable crop rotations. The 1961 season, with good subsoil moisture conditions, offers a real opportunity for assured performance of guar as a summer legume crop in the Eldorado Divide Soil Conservation district.

Guar, a deep taprooted summer legume, is the answer to diversified crop rotation in reconditioning lands and maintaining a profitable level of soil fertility.

This summer legume can easily be worked into your Feed Grain Program for 1961. The local ASC office, along with district supervisors and Soil Conservation Service personnel, assisting the district, highly recommend the planting of this crop for lasting benefits.

If planted in the feed grain program the crop can not be harvested, but the local ASC office can be expected to pay 50% of the cost of seed for planting.

Guar has many good points in that it is drought resistant, resistant to cotton root rot, high yields of forage and seed, increases the yield of following crop, a valuable livestock feed, many industrial uses, adapted to combine harvest, a ready market for seed, and seed is available.

Cultural information on guar:
1. It's done from start to finish with standard equipment. 2. Plant in late spring when the soil is warm (after cotton planting time). 3. Guar is a row crop, keep fields clean. 4. Plant only 5 to 6 pounds of seed per acre. 5. Guar is a legume; inoculate seed when planting. 6. Level out furrows when cultivating to assure efficient harvesting (if not planted under the field grain program). 7. Harvest as soon as mature. Don't risk rain damage.

Growers have realized profitable cash-crop returns from harvesting and marketing their guar bean production ranging from 500 to 1,000 pounds of beans per acre.

Each year the demand for guar beans has increased substantially. The 1961 market price is attractive. For their annual processing needs, the General Mills guar plant intend to pay $4 per cwt., basis net clean beans, for grade No. 1 guar beans, delivered to their plant location at Kenedy, Texas.

Great Plains Conservation Program

The board of supervisors of the Eldorado-Divide Soil Conservation district in their regular monthly meeting Friday, April 7, discussed the possibility of this county being included in the Great Plains Conservation program.

In the discussion the approximate percentage of operating units that would be in the high and medium priority group as related to the Great Plains program was estimated.

This program, it was explained to the group, is not a drought or disaster relief program. It is not intended to replace other programs nor act as a production and adjustment program. It would give long-term assurance of needed financial aid through cost sharing contracts to carry out a complete soil and water conservation program for the entire farm or ranch. The practices are based on treating the land according to its needs and capabilities and is designed to supplement other conservation programs rather than replace them.

All present at the supervisors meeting learned that the program is not intended as an income supplement program but a program which if followed through the years will result in increased profits. The results of wind and water conservation will become apparent in increased yields and lower production cost.

If land owners in the district are interested in such a program the supervisors would be glad to hear from you. In case anyone would like additional information he should notify the local board of supervisors. Perhaps a meeting could be arranged to better inform people about the Great Plains Conservation Program.

Mrs. L. Moore had as dinner guests Tuesday evening Mr. and Mrs. William Kreklow of Pontiac, Mich., and Mr. and Mrs. J. Forrest Runge, Miss May Runge, Mr. and Mrs. Jene Moore, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Kreklow, and Mr. and Mrs. Henry Moore of Eldorado.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Page had as guests last week end Mr. and Mrs. John Norwood of Midland.

"When one car outsells all the rest the way this new Chevrolet is doing*—there's got to be a reason. And we can think of some pretty good ones. The clean-etched looks of the new Body by Fisher, for example. The eager brand of "git" that's under the hood. The easy way it handles. Plus the added advantage of extra-cost options like triple-turbine Turboglide.

But to sample all these reasons together, you have to get a Chevrolet out on the road. And there's where that Jet-smooth ride takes over with its own gentle kind of

Quit U. N. If Red China Allowed To Join, Opinion Of Congressman Fisher

If Red China is admitted to the United Nations next fall, what will the United States do about it? That question is being raised, and properly so. A few years ago only the Communist bloc voted to admit the Chinese Reds. But last year the vote was only 42 to 34, with 22 abstentions, opposing admission. It's now hinted that even Britain and Brazil may join Norway, Denmark, Ireland and other non-Communist lands in favoring the seating of Peiking. A two-thirds vote is required to let them in and turn the Free Chinese out.

The UN charter says an applicant must be "peace-loving." If the Red Chinese can qualify, in view of their recent record, then it is evident that the United Nations is a farce. Red aggression in Korea, their genocide in Tibet, their never-ending threat of force against Formosa; their incursions in India, and their subversions in places like Laos, should be convincing.

If a known tyrant and warmonger like Red China is admitted to the UN, that is at least supposed to be composed of people seeking peaceful solutions, then in my opinion the United States should get out of it.

Operation Abolition is a 30-minute documentary film of a Communist-led riot that took place in San Francisco last May 13 when the House Un-American Activities Committee went there to hold hearings on communist activities in that area. It is a thrilling and living exposure of how Communists operate when they are on the defensive and are in danger of being exposed.

I recently acquired one of these 16 mm. films, and will be pleased to loan it to any church, school, club or other group that has not had an opportunity to view it. It would be a wonderful thing if every American could see this film.

Sucker Signals

There is no sorrier person than one who has been victimized by a phony deal. Unfortunately, once the buyer has signed an order or contract, little can be done to get him off the hook. "But I didn't realize..." are words often heard by lawyers who are usually unable to help at that point.

Despite the complete disavowance of "caveat emptor" (let the buyer beware) by ethical merchants, there are still some businesses that thrive on high promotion deas. Buyers are contacted by direct mail, over the telephone, or by "come on" advertisements. These contracts all resort to fancy claims and a high pressure approach.

How can you avoid such sales tactics? There is no sure way, outside of dealing with reputable, established merchants, and using common sense in reading the ads. But there are certain sucker signals that should ring the alarm bell. Here are a few:

- "Buy now or lose the chance."
- "You have been specially selected..."
- "It's only a legal form..."
- "You can save up to..."
- "Yours absolutely free..."

These signals do not necessarily indicate a bad deal, but they are frequently used by shady promoters. So read carefully, think it over, compare prices, and ask for information from a merchant you know, or from a friend.

Remember, in this world of tough business competition, one seldom gets anything for nothing. Once you have signed an order, even the law may not be able to help you, no matter how imprudent the deal may be for you. In fact, unless the seller is doing something illegal, the law may wind up helping him to enforce the bad deal that you made. So watch the signals and look before you leap—or sign!

Judith Webb And Dan Griffin Rites Held At First Baptist Church

MRS. DAN GRIFFIN

The First Baptist church was the scene Friday, March 31, of the wedding ceremony uniting Miss Judith Lynn Webb and Gary Dan Griffin.

Rev. D. C. DuBose read the wedding vows and John Webb, father of the bride, gave his daughter in marriage. Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. John Webb of Houston and Mr. and Mrs. Jack Griffin of Eldorado.

The bride wore a floor-length gown of white lace and satin. The fitted bodice was of lace with long pointed sleeves and a sweetheart neckline. Her bouffant skirt of satin was overdressed with a lace cut-away skirt draped in the back to form a bustle. It was edged with rosebuds.

Miss Mary Frank Kelton of Fort Worth was maid of honor and bridesmaids were Miss Mary Frances Harper of San Angelo, Miss Carol Styles of San Angelo, Miss Hearnia Dixon of McCamey and Miss Joan Griffin of Eldorado. Flower girls were Kim and Cindy Griffin, cousins of the groom.

Jerry Doyle attended the bridegroom as best man, and groomsmen were Hunter Bill Edmiston of Odessa, Wayne Herman of Big Lake, and Phillip Walker and Billy Van Dusen of Eldorado. Ushers were Johnny Griffin and Herman Walker.

Miss Judy Hext was organist and Joe Stanford sang "Because" and "The Lord's Prayer."

A reception was held in the banquet room of the church. Miss Ann Blair and Miss Margo Mittel presided at the table and Miss Ann Griffin registered the guests.

Mrs. Griffin is a graduate of Belair High School at Houston, and is attending college at SAC. Dan is a graduate of Eldorado High school and attended SAC.

For her going-away costume, the bride chose a moss green suit with green accessories.

The couple made a trip to Carlsbad, New Mexico, and are now at home at 421 West Concho in San Angelo.

COUNTY AGENT'S COLUMN
by Tiny Godwin
Schleicher County Agricultural Agent

The Feed Grain program for 1961 will be discussed by ASC and Extension Service personnel, Tuesday, April 18, in the courtroom, at the courthouse, at 2:00 p.m.

Agricultural Marketing Service have indicated by phone to the county ASC office that the average yield and support for grain sorghums should be in county offices by Monday, April 17th. This will make it possible for producers by hearing all relating materials to use the "Pencil Test" to see how all alternatives open to you will affect your total net farm returns, at this county-wide meeting Tuesday, 2:00 p.m., the 18th.

You've heard the old argument: "Why does a baby come into the world crying?" Some say it's because he's hungry; others claim he's plain scared. It really took a modern day economist to figure it all out. The new baby comes into the world crying because he's already $1,600 in debt. (The amount of the public debt divided by 180 million.)

Now there's a second chapter. One conscientious citizen heard the story from an after-dinner speaker. It so impressed him that he went out and bought his newborn grandson $1,600 in savings bonds, so the child could start out square with the world.

This is a true story so help me. And it needs no further comment.

Chlorotic plants are found in all sections of Texas, but are more prevalent in areas with alkaline, calcareous soils.

Chlorosis or yellowing of plants results when the green coloring matter fails to develop or is destroyed. Affected plants range from light green to yellow to almost white.

The loss of color is most often due to lock of iron in plants. The diseased condition may also be due to viruses, deficiencies of sulfur, manganese or nitrogen, poor drainage or aeration, nematode damage root rots or crown gall.

Lack of iron is most common in apple, apricot, arborvitae, ash, catalpa, cedar, cherry laurel, Chinese tallow, citrus, grasses, magnolia, oleander, peaches, pecan, pyracantha, rose, strawberry and many other shrubs and flowers. Most soils on which iron chlorosis occurs are well supplied with iron, but it is in a form unavailable for plant use.

Iron chlorosis is controlled by adding iron sulfate (copperas) or

By Dayton Kelley

Bruce Royal of Rosebud is an enterprising young Civil War buff who has turned his interest in the War into a profitable hobby. He, along with Mrs. Evelyn Cameron, is the founder of World Over Traders of Temple, a mail order firm which deals in nothing but Civil War souvenirs, mementos and novelties.

The fledgling company can supply anything from postcards picturing Civil War monuments and battlefields to a scale model cannon, a set of Civil War soldiers for the young buff or a Confederate flag. The small mail-order firm was started, Bruce says, because he read about the wide spread interest in the Civil War in this column last fall.

After reading our recent stories about the Confederate flags, Bruce came to show us one of the more interesting items his company handles—a desk set made up of miniatures of the five Confederate flags.

Bruce, who is a real estate salesman in Temple and the newly-elected president of the Temple Real Estate Board, is not a Johnny-come-lately as far as his interest in the Civil War goes. Both of his grandfathers were soldiers in the Confederate Army as were both his wife's grandfathers and Bruce prizes highly several items with a Civil War connection that have been handed down thru his own family and his wife's family.

The most interesting of these items is a letter written by a Confederate soldier during his war service in Virginia. Rives Crumpton, a distant relative of Mrs. Bruce Royal's mother, Mrs. J. B. Bozeman of Rosebud, failed to date his letter, but one can assume from reading it that he wrote it shortly after the sea battle between the Monitor and the Merrimack off Hampton Road, Virginia, in the spring of 1862. The young soldier not only described the Confederate iron-clad, but also drew two sketches of her—one showing her in dry dock and the other picturing the ship in fighting trim.

He described the Merrimack as being "covered with iron plates three inches thick. Her bow is made of wrought iron jointed with steel. She carries ten guns, six rifled, smooth bore, all of heavy calibre," and said that "the Merrimack, alias Virginia, is a terror to the Yankees, a protection to us."

"We were down on the beach when she retired from the fight in the Roads," he wrote. "It was a beautiful sight to see our Navy retiring after having done the Yankees an injury to the amount of $2,000,000. She bears herself so beautifully and looks so impregnable no wonder she proves to be a thorn in the Yankee's side. She is again ready for action but the weather is so stormy it is impossible to attack them again."

Another interesting thing about Crumpton's letter was discovered quite by accident. While making a typewritten copy of the letter, Bruce's young daughter held it up to the light and discovered that the paper on which Crumpton wrote is watermarked with a waving U. S. flag showing 13 stripes and only nine stars. Over and under the flag in circular fashion appear the words "Don't Tread On Me."

Another item we found to be quite interesting is a book entitled Pickett and His Men, published in 1900 and written by the widow of General George E. Pickett. The book, which belonged to Mrs. Royal's grandfather, P. J. Rast who was a Confederate soldier, is inscribed "To Mr. P. J. Rast in sacred loving memory of our dear cause and her soldiers. Faithfully always. LaSalle Corbell Pickett, (Mrs. George E. Pickett)."

We found the book to be of particular interest because General Pickett, while in the service of the United States Army, served for a time at Fort Gates near Gatesville. The General was a lieutenant then and later resigned his commission to enter the Confederate service. His most memorable act was to lead his men in "Pickett's Charge" during the battle of Gettysburg.
