Masons To Be Presented Plans For New Building

After more than two years of delays, the Masonic Lodge here in Eldorado is about to get going again with plans for a new lodge hall. At the next regular meeting of the Masons, which will be held on Thursday, Sept. 12, new plans will be presented for consideration by the members.

The building committee consisting of Orval Edmiston, Edgar Spencer, Richard Jones, John Stigler, and Gus Love, worked out plans for a new building recently and if these are approved by the local lodge subsequent approval will be sought from the Grand Lodge in Waco. Their approval will give the go-ahead for construction to start later this fall.

The building committee report that the new plans are for a smaller, less elaborate building than was proposed and considered over two years ago and for which the plans at that time were approved. Building estimates ran higher than the Masons planned to spend.

It is hoped that the proposed new building can be erected for about $15,000, with provision for adding finishing touches like year-around air conditioning at a later time.

The Masonic Lodge has for years owned the corner lots just north of the courthouse, near Earl Parker Motors, and the new hall will be built there.

The present hall, a frame structure on South Main street here in Eldorado, was erected back in 1909 and has been deemed unsafe in recent years for continued use. The building was erected jointly then by the Masons and B. E. Earle, early-day druggist who ran a store in the lower floor for several years before selling to L. M. Hoover.

Rain Yesterday

At 2:20 yesterday afternoon a big cloud from the northeast opened up and let us have it. Water on Main street was nearly curb deep and lasted about 45 minutes. In an hour the sun was shining again.

Jack Halbert's gauge at the public scales showed 8-tenths, but up in town there was more. George Long's gauge showed 1.60 and the same amount at Gunstead's near the airport.

Strong gusts of wind accompanied the rain. At Tom Dempsey's home a partly finished garage was blown down, and in the same neighborhood Pete Bryant swears that over 2 inches of rain fell during that short period. A gauge at James Williams used car lot on Main street showed 1.80.

A call to Henry Moore in the Reynolds community brought the report that they didn't get a drop.

New Babies

A daughter was born Aug. 9 in the Shannon hospital to Mr. and Mrs. Paul Harmon, who live in the Bailey Ranch community. The baby weighed 6 lbs. 9 1/2 oz. and has been named Lisa Kay. She has a brother, Thomas Paul, age 6.

The mother is the former Wanda Daniels. Grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Frank Whitehead of Eric, Okla., who have been visiting here this past week; and Mr. and Mrs. W. O. Faulk of Eldorado.

Greats are Mrs. Mattie Jackson of Oklahoma and Mrs. John Clark of Houston.

Nancy Marie Faulk, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Odie Faulk of Tucson, Arizona, was born Aug. 15 at 10:15 p.m. in a Tucson hospital. She weighed 7 lbs. 14 1/2 oz. She has a brother, Richard, 2 1/2 years old.

Maternal grandmother is Mrs. Hazel Whalen of Tucson. Paternal grandmother is Mrs. J. L. Ratliff of Eldorado. Paternal great-grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. G. N. Gilbreath of Wichita Falls and Mrs. E. L. Faulk of Winnsboro, Texas.

He was employed at the Northern compressor plant in Reynolds community.

Several building jobs are getting under way and being completed.

Work continues on the Assembly of God church on the Menard highway.

Workmen are laying out foundation for the educational building at the Presbyterian church.

After a long period of delay, the Masonic Lodge is again making plans for erecting a new hall and hope to have construction under way by later this fall.

The Soil Conservation office maintains their official rain gauges in the county, but none of them have had rain enough to report during August, according to Bill Rountree, SCS director.

So, as far as their records are concerned, Schleicher county remains officially dry.

But from here and there come reports of small showers.

Mrs. Joe Gault said her daughter attended a Girl Scout picnic out at Wagley's Tuesday and came home soaking wet. In town there wasn't enough to wet the streets.

Way out in the east end of the county in what is known as Middle Valley, Mrs. Arch Edmiston reports that they got 1 1/4 inches of rain Tuesday. They had been shearing lambs and had to quit. She jubilantly reported that dust had been washed off and grass was looking green again. They also got one-half inch rain a week earlier.

Mrs. J. H. Emmons was in early this week and corrected her rain report of last week. Instead of 2 inches it actually was one inch.

A number of people have reported showers that amounted to three- or four-tenths, but they usually added, "It wasn't enough to do any good."

Joe Gault, local Ford dealer, announces that he will sponsor locally the "Punt, Pass & Kick" competition which is put on over the country and for which registration will start Sept. 3. In the meantime, boys 8 through 11 may get an informative folder on the contest from the local Ford house. Further details are given elsewhere in this Success issue.

With school opening near, interest continues to build up in football. Readers of the Success are reminded that copies of a small, handy bill-fold size card listing the complete District 8-A schedule may be picked up free at our office.

MOVING TO LLANO

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Mund and sons are moving to Llano to make their home where Jack has accepted a position with Ratliff Chevrolet Co. His duties will be about the same as the ones he did at the Eagle Chevrolet Co. here.

The couple have lived in Eldorado since their marriage a few years ago.

Mrs. Elton Donelson and boys visited their husband and father in Post last week end. Mr. Donelson was transferred there recently by Service Pipe Line Co.

Presbyterians Break Ground For New Educational Building

Work Under Way On Ed. Building

Following ground-breaking ceremonies which were held Sunday, August 11th, Knight-Susen Lumber Co. had men and equipment at work this week starting to build the new educational building behind the First Presbyterian church and Manse.

Overall dimensions of the structure will be 30 by 100 feet. The building will be 20 by 100, with a six-foot porch running the entire 100-foot length and facing west toward the Manse.

The new building will be built of cement tile blocks with a brick wainscoting. It will be centrally heated, and will have provision for future air conditioning.

Members of the building committee are John Williams, Jack Hext, Paul Page, and Mrs. Jack Jones. Harold Susen, former Eldorado resident and now with the Knight-Susen firm, will oversee the work.

It is expected that the new building will take about 45 working days to complete, which would put tentative completion sometime in October.

The Presbyterians' new educational building will contain five rooms, four of them 15 by 20 feet, and a large one 29 by 20 feet which will have a small kitchenette with it. The building will also contain a rest room and storage room.

Another project to be done on the church property at this time will be installing of central heating and air conditioning in the main sanctuary.

To make way for the new educational building, a small garage at the rear of the Manse was removed.

Last year, the Presbyterian church acquired the large corner lots to the north of their present property, and erecting of a new church on that location is planned for the more distant future.

They operated a restaurant in Eldorado before coming here. The 87 Cafe will serve free coffee and doughnuts today. The Tigretts issued an invitation to all to come by for a visit. —Mason Co. News.

'Ugly American' Stars Marlon Brando

Marlon Brando is star of 'The Ugly American' which is in color and which comes to the Eagle Drive-In Theatre screen Sunday and Monday nights.

the charge of "colonialism, imperialism, capitalist exploitation." The Russians can prove it. The American foreman of a road-building project goes to work in a jeep.

The first highway ever through the Sarkhanese jungle is conceived as a farm-to-market road. But the Russians got there first; that is, with their propaganda.

Novelists William J. Lederer and Eugene Burdick tell their story in sour, disenchanting episodes. The motion picture adaptation retains the theme but invents a new and better screenplay. As a tale, it has a simple organic quality.

Brando, with an unaccountably foppish mustache, is sent to Sarkhan as ambassador. He has two counts in his favor. He fought there during the World War and the Communist-oriented rebel leader, played by Elji Okada, is a wartime buddy.

As a homburg-topped U. S. ambassador in a mythical Asian country (that appears all too mythical), Brando gives a chilling portrayal of what it's like these days trying to win friends and influence countries while keeping the cold war frozen.

It should be simple, with Brando's good intentions and Okada's friendship. After a convivial evening, though, they part hurling threats. The focus of hostility is "The Freedom Road" with which the United States is pumping gold corpuscles into Sarkhan's economic blood stream.

"We don't want to be told what to do," screams Okada at his benefactors as his only plausible protest.

The revolt proceeds, the Russians blandly supplying paratroopers in disregard of a hand-off promise. Okada is to seize power for them and then is to be calmly assassinated to make way for a more devout Marxian. He is, No less sobering is the film's fine fadeout—when the man back in the United States watches Brando's impassioned brinkmanship plea on his TV screen, idly flips through the TV Guide and clicks off the set. The plea has been reduced to a white dot, fading on a blank screen.

Does "The Ugly American" have constructive advice for the international power struggle?

At any rate there is more than can be found in the pessimistic novel. This includes, as Brando says, an understanding that does not assume that nationalism is inevitably anti-American; that the United States has the cleaner motives and Russia the clearer propaganda; that the East wants the Western way of life but not by working for it.

"Should the Legislature enact any enabling laws in anticipation of this Amendment, no such law shall be void by reason of its anticipatory nature. 'Tammy & Doctor' Is Third Of Series

"Tammy and the Doctor" is the third in the series of "Tammy" films and it will be shown tonight and Friday night at the Eagle Drive-In Theatre. It is in big-screen color.

The first of the series starred Debbie Reynolds in "Tammy and the Bachelor," a story of a Louisiana swamp girl who goes into the big city in behalf of her grandfather. The second was called "Tammy Tell Me True" and it starred Sandra Dee as Tammy. Again the theme of the story was the experience of the little swamp girl with advanced civilization.

Miss Dee is also the star of the new "Tammy," but the story takes her far away from the swampland, all the way to California, where she becomes a nurse's aid and gets romantically involved with a young doctor portrayed by Peter Fonda.

Beulah Bondi, Tammy's friend from the second film, continues her rôle as Mrs. Call and provides the motivation for the trip west as well as the reason for Tammy's hospital job. Also in the cast in addition to Jean Marshall are Macdonald Carey as Dr. Bentley, Margaret Lindsay as Miss Coleman, Reginald Owen as Jason Tripp and Adam West as Eric Hassler.

"The Doctor" is Universal Pictures' third movie of the unsinkable "Tammy" series, a cycle with the fragrance of the Louisiana swamps, cape jasmynes and magnolias. Mixed with it have been the smells of Grampaw's corn-licker still hidden in off-channel, lower Mississippi jungles. For operating this, Grampaw is temporarily detained in State's prison. In "Tammy and the Doctor" he is expensively out of circulation except for script references.

"Tammy and the Doctor" is also the greatest magician's act since Blackstone turned five rabbits into five American flags. By one jet flight the homespun Tammy principals are turned into Beverly Hillbillies with a general hospital as the locale.

In this hygienic milieu, Tammy makes messes, none fatal. After upsetting a patient or two and using surgical shears to cut gauze she can always be put back on mop and pail. A bevy of uniformed cats laugh at her but she tells them off.

The cast:
 Tammy-----Sandra Dee
 Dr. Cheswick-----Peter Fonda
 Dr. Bentley-----Macdonald Carey
 Mrs. Call-----Beulah Bondi
 Miss Coleman-----Margaret Lindsay
 Jason Tripp-----Reginald Owen
 Nurse-----Alice Pearce
 Nurse-----Jean Marshall
 Eric Hassler-----Adam West

James Gillaspay Finishes Army Course

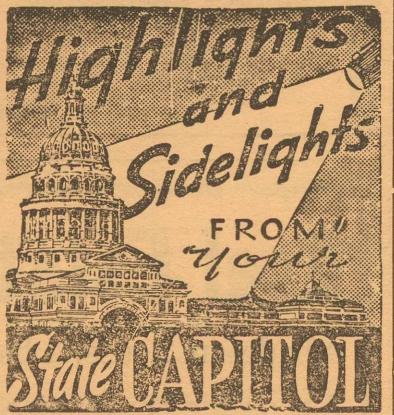

Aberdeen Proving Ground, Md. (AHTNC)—Army Pvt. James S. Gillaspay, son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred E. Gillaspay of Eldorado, Texas, completed an 8-week small arms repair course at The Ordnance Center, Aberdeen Proving Ground, Md., Aug. 2.

During the course Gillaspay received instruction in the repair of the Army's hand and shoulder type weapons.

The 23-year-old soldier entered the Army in March 1963 and completed basic training at Fort Polk, La. He was graduated from Eldorado High School in 1958.

Joe Lowe, son of Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert Lowe, returned home last week after completing 80 days' military service for reserves at San Diego, Calif. He will resume his high school work here.

Mr. and Mrs. William Sauer and Paul, Louise, John, and Mary, left Monday morning to return to their home at Van Horn after spending a week here visiting.

Austin.—Some 700 state employees scattered throughout Texas are getting a new set of bosses. Reason is the creation of the Texas Parks and Wildlife Commission on August 23.

James M. Dellinger, Corpus Christi contractor; A. W. Mour-sund, Johnson City rancher-attorney; and Chairman Will Odom, Austin geologist and engineer, make up the new three-man Parks and Wildlife Commission. They replace nine commissioners on the old Game and Fish Commission and six on the old Parks Board.

Many state employees, who wondered whom Gov. John Connally would select to head the infant agency, now are worrying whether they themselves will remain on the payroll.

About 72 of the employees are in the Parks Department; some are managers of the state's 50-plus parks system. Another 625 or so are in the field of game and fish. About 100 of these are in the Austin office—the rest out in the field.

Connally says the consolidation will eliminate some duplication of services and effort.

One thing the state is sure to save on is per diems and expenses for the commissioners. The $25 per diem plus travel, hotel and meals allotted the three new men should come to about one-fifth the amount spent in past years on 15 commissioners.

Highway Patrolmen Needed

Col. Homer Garrison Jr., head of the Department of Public Safety, is looking for 100 additional highway patrolmen.

He asks applicants, aged 31 to 35, to contact him no later than September 14. Recruits will start to school November 19. Pay is $412 a month while in training, $453 on graduation.

Department will endeavor to assign the men to stations within 100 miles of their present homes.

Hope To Cut Traffic Deaths

Col. Garrison cast a gloomy eye at his crystal ball, and predicted a possible 31 traffic deaths in Texas over the three-day Labor Day week end. But he hopes he is wrong!

"There is always a chance that the estimate can be proved too high," Garrison said, "if motorists will put forth a concerted effort to hold the line by driving within safe and legal limits, and remaining especially alert to the added dangers of holiday travel."

DPS has enlisted the aid of the Texas Safety Association, Texas Association of Broadcasters, junior chambers of commerce, Texas Council of Safety Supervisors and the Texas Motor Transportation Association for a Labor Day "Operation Motorcade"—a concerted campaign to call attention to highway dangers.

Hawaii Calls

Many of Texas' state officials now are in Hawaii attending the National Conference in Honolulu.

Lt. Gov. Preston Smith heads the list. Others attending are House Speaker Byron Tunnell of Tyler, Rep. Ben Jarvis of Tyler, Sen. George Parkhouse of Dallas, Rep. Wayne Gibbons of Breckenridge, and Rep. Dick Slack of Pecos.

Also in the group are Bob Johnson, former representative from Dallas and now executive director of the Legislative Council, and his assistant, John T. Potter of Austin.

Governor Connally and Land Commissioner Jerry Sadler will remain on the three-member board, which does a big, and complicated, business, leasing many thousands of acres of state-owned land each year.

Fox is a former district attorney and state representative for Burnet and Williamson counties.

Population vs. Organization

Theory that a large population produces a greater volume of business activity than a small population is not 100% true.

This is revealed by the University of Texas' Population Research Center. It surveyed 30 Texas cities for the 20 year period—1940 to 1960.

Cities surveyed were Alpine, Angleton, Aspermont, Boerne, Borger, Brackettville Burnet, Cotulla, Del Rio, Denton, Eastland, Grapevine, Hillsboro, Humble, Italy, Kil-leen, McKinney, Menard, Merkel, Olney, Paris, Port Lavaca, Runge, Rusk, San Diego, Seagraves, Seymour, Somerville, Van Alstyne and Willsboro.

Nine of these—Brackettville, Eastland, Hillsboro, Italy, Menard, Rusk, Seagraves, Somerville and Van Alstyne—had a population decline.

Runge, Italy and McKinney all saw a decrease in the number of business organizations. Brackettville and Hillsboro were the only ones that had a decrease in the number of governmental organizations.

Only city that had a decrease in the number of organizations, but grew in population, was Runge.

San Diego was the only place that failed to produce additional volunteer associations.

In general, the survey proved that businesses and other organizations multiply even when population growth does not occur.

Smaller cities usually support a greater number of organizations per 1,000 population than do the big cities.

High School Dropout

The growing problem of high school dropouts will be the topic of the annual meeting of the Texas State Committee on Public Education in Austin on September 22.

President of the committee, Mrs. Helen J. Bechtel of Corpus Christi, is inviting all interested persons to attend the one-day session. No registration fee will be charged.

Governor Connally has estimated the state rate of dropouts for the next five years as 325,000.

Oil Allowable Cut

Producing ability of Texas oil wells was cut by some 28,617 barrels a day when the Railroad Commission reduced the daily oil allowable from 28.5% in August to 28% for September.

Most of the major oil companies wanted more of a cut. But independent producers succeeded in getting the commission to hold production near the August allowable.

Commissioner Ernest Thompson of Amarillo returned to his office after a long illness and attended

WHAT BIRD IS THIS?

By Ruth Parker

It soars in majesty above the arid plain, over the tops of mesquites, up on a thermal of air, and down again on folded wings in an earthward dive. Coming down often in hordes of hundreds, the Swainson's Hawk's primary prey consists of grasshoppers and crickets. Occasionally it takes a ground squirrel or other small mammal. All in all it is probably one of the most beneficial of birds to the agriculturist.

Of the many types of hawks, we need concern ourselves with only four groups to understand the hawks of our home range. These four are the Buteos, Harriers, Accipiters, and Falcons. The Buteos are large, heavy-bodied hawks with broad wings and tails.

It is to this group that the Swainson's Hawk belongs, and it is probably due to his large size that he is the victim of much prejudice and unjustified criticism. Other Buteos of the central Edwards Plateau include the Red-tailed Hawk, Ferruginous Hawk, Rough-legged Hawk (extremely rare and almost always mistaken for the Golden Eagle), Harris Hawk, and Broad-winged Hawk.

We have only one Harrier, the Marsh Hawk. This hawk is slender bodied, has a long tail and generally flies low over the open fields. The male is blue-grey and the female brown. Both have a conspicuous white band above the tail.

We seldom see the Accipiters, as they generally prefer woodlands. They are small hawks with long tails and short round wings. Both the Coper's and the Sharp-shinned may be found along the courses of the South Concho River and the upper San Saba, as well as in most densely grown or well-thicketed areas. A woodland hawk flying out of a tree and taking only a few quick flaps and a glide into another tree is almost certainly one of these two species.

Among the Falcons it is possible to find four species in Schleicher county. The Sparrow Hawk, Pigeon Hawk, Prairie Falcon, and Peregrine Falcon have all been seen here. They are characterized by streamlined bodies, pointed wings, and long tails. Though generally small, they are built for speed and power.

Of all these hawks, the Swainson's is the most abundant in Schleicher County. According to some reports, it may be seen during migration in flocks numbering in the thousands. I, myself, have seen flocks of 300 or more circling over a river course or a freshly plowed field in the fall. Like the Turkey Vulture, the Swainson's Hawk utilizes thermal air currents in its longer flights and flies, as does the vulture, on dihedrals—with its wings in an open V above its body. While the Turkey Vulture used these currents in its daily search for food, the Swainson's Hawk uses them primarily during its longer migratory flights.

The Swainson's Hawk can be recognized as a Buteo by its shape and size. As a species one of the best marks to look for is the contrast between the light wing linings and the dark flight feathers. Typically the adult Swainson's has a brown band across its breast and a gray tail.

The Swainson's Hawk is one of the most interesting of nesting species in our area. A number of years ago, some friends and I found a nest belonging to this species. The nest was built at the top of a small catclaw bush in the south-western part of the county. Just three feet down the main branch that supported the nest was another, smaller nest. This smaller nest was occupied by a family of Scissor-tailed Flycatchers. Both species were completely unbothered by each other. Later I was quite surprised to read that other species very often do nest near the Swainson's Hawk, and that some species will, in fact, actually build their nests in the sides of a Swainson's Hawk nest.

The most common of our large hawks is, then, not only friendly but also very helpful. It is regal and powerful and free as it soars high in the air in search of food. The Swainson's Hawk can justly be looked upon as an unrecognized summer friend, a saver of crops, and a beautiful, majestic bird.

MISS MILTIA HILL RETURNS FROM TRIP ABROAD

Miss Miltia Hill returned home Monday night from a tour of southern Europe and the Near East. She was in a group who visited southern France and the French Riviera, Rome and Naples in Italy. From Naples they took a ship to Cairo, Egypt, toured the Pyramids and a museum where King Tut and his belongings are on display. From Athens, Greece, they went out to the islands in the Aegean Sea and visited Greek temples.

The tour group took a Venetian boat to Beirut, Lebanon, then to Damascus and as far as Baalbek where they were turned back because of the fighting, so they took a plane to Jerusalem where they spent 12 days, visiting both parts of that city, the part claimed by the Arabs and that claimed by the Jews.

While in Jerusalem they visited tombs of many Biblical persons and other historical shrines, went across the Sea of Galilee, climbed the mountain where the early scrolls were found, saw the Dead Sea, visited Chapa, Nazareth, Caesarea and other historical places, walked down the road and through the gate where Jesus made his triumphant journey into Jerusalem. They heard the Sunday School lesson on the Mount of Olives and attended services in the Garden of the Tomb. They stood on the pavement where Jesus stood before Pilate, which is now several feet underground.

Miss Hill stated that it was a wonderful trip. She was with a Wheaton tour from a college of Divinity in Illinois.

MCGINNES REUNION

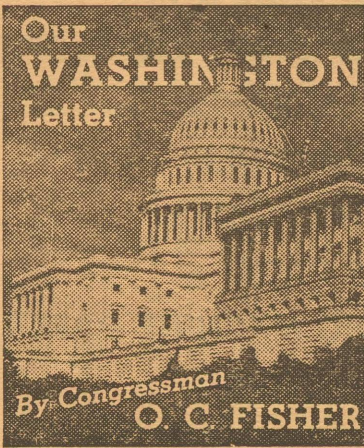

All the daughters and the only son (Sam) of the late Mr. and Mrs. F. H. McGinnes of Mason county met at Christoval last Saturday and Sunday for the annual family reunion.

A daughter, Mrs. Lola Schmoeyer of Roswell, N. M., was the only one from out of state. Descendants came from Gonzales, Crosbyton, Dickens Eden, Menard, Mason, San Angelo and Eldorado.

Mr. and Mrs. Orland Harris served the meals, including supper Saturday night.

Some 60 persons attended and enjoyed movies of other reunions held from '56 through '62, shown by Ed Bailey of San Angelo.

Mr. and Mrs. Albert McGinnes went to Roswell, N. M., to take Mrs. Lola Schmoeyer home after attending the McGinnes family reunion.

Our WASHINGTON Letter
By Congressman O. C. FISHER

The people who live in our 21st District are solidly opposed to civil rights legislation proposed by the Kennedy brothers.

According to the tabulation of results of our questionnaire, just completed, 85% of our people are against the civil rights proposals, while only 6% favor them.

This tabulation reflects, accurately, a cross section of public opinion in our area. The response to the questionnaire was tremendous.

President Kennedy's record on foreign affairs is rated 16.9% "good", 71.3% "poor". In domestic affairs, 8 out of every 10 people in the 21st District rate the President's record as "poor" while only 10% give Kennedy a "good" rating, with 9.6% having no opinion.

Nearly 80% of our people want a balanced budget before there is a tax cut; 91% call for a reduction in foreign aid; and 74% are opposed to Kennedy's medicare proposal.

On the Cuban issue, 8 out of every 10 approve my proposal that ships which trade in Cuban ports be thereafter barred from entering U. S. ports.

The Domestic Peace Corps, (that passed the Senate last week by a three-vote margin) is unpopular among our people. Only 17% approve, while 64.7% disapprove. The Youth Conservation Corps (CCC) is liked by only 14.2% of our people, while 73.8% are against it.

90% favor my proposal that secret ballots be required before a strike can be called.

Senator Barry Goldwater is the overwhelming favorite for President. If a preferential election were held right now, 57.3% of the voters in the 21st District would vote for Goldwater. Only 11.5% would vote for President Kennedy. Governor Romney would run third with 8.9%, and Rockefeller would come in fourth with 3.1%. A total of 19.2% indicated no preference at this time.

SPOTLIGHT was on youth at the annual meeting of Texas' 77 rural electric systems in Houston Aug. 14-16. Honor guests at the meeting of the statewide association, included, from left, Eddie Joe Fortenberry, Lockney, president of the Young Farmers of Texas;

Darlene Richards, Lake Jackson and Houston, Sweetheart of the Texas Association of Future Farmers of America; Tonda Curry, of Ropesville, Miss Rural Electrification of America; Mrs. Ann Lane, Gustine, president of the Young Homemakers of Texas; and Benny Mays, Brashear, president of the Texas FFA. Nearly 800 rural electric leaders from all over Texas attended the meeting, which was addressed by U. S. Senator Ralph Yarborough, Congressman W. R. (Bob) Poage, and Norman Clapp, administrator of the Rural Electrification Administration.

Peace Corps Tests To Be Given Saturday

A new round of Peace Corps placement tests will be administered at more than 800 post offices and college campuses beginning at 8:30 a.m., local time, this Saturday August 24, and continuing throughout the day.

Any residents of this area interested may take the tests in room 324, Federal Building, San Angelo.

The test is non-competitive. As its name implies, it enables the Peace Corps to place prospective Volunteers in an appropriate overseas situation. Everyone interested in becoming a Peace Corps Volunteer must take the test—in addition to filling out a Peace Corps Questionnaire.

The August 24 testing date will be the last general opportunity to take the Peace Corps Placement Test until October 19.

Those selected for training will spend from 10 to 12 weeks on a college campus which may include four weeks at a Peace Corps camp in Puerto Rico. The training programs include an intensive study of the language of the host country, its history, customs and culture, American affairs, world political problems, health problems in tropical conditions etc.

Volunteers agree to serve two years in the Peace Corps, including training time. The minimum age for Volunteer service is 18, with no upper age limit, and a number of persons in their seventies are among the 6,000 Volunteers now serving in 46 nations.

Married couples may serve if they have no dependents and if both husband and wife qualify for the same project.

Language training is helpful for those interested in becoming Volunteers, but more than a fourth of the Peace Corps' present Volunteers never had studied a language previously.

Liberal arts graduates and others with a "general" education have performed so well in teaching and community development programs that the Peace Corps is seeking more persons with this type of background.

The Peace Corps also has requests for persons with skills in agriculture, public health, forestry, carpentry and other building skills, social work, and education of all types and at all levels. Other nations have asked the Peace Corps to provide Volunteers possessing more than 200 job skills. A college degree is not required.

The Peace Corps pays all of a Volunteer's expenses and furnishes administrative support to him abroad. The Volunteer receives, at the completion of his service, a readjustment allowance of $75 for each month of satisfactory service.

The placement test which is to be given August 24 consists of a half-hour section on general aptitude and another of the same length on modern language aptitude. Candidates with background in French or Spanish must take an additional one-hour proficiency test. The Peace Corps placement test now being administered replaces a longer one which required four to eight hours to complete.

LIONS HEAR SEBESTA

The Rev. Dan Sebesta, pastor of the Presbyterian church, addressed the meeting of the Lions club yesterday. He discussed "squares" and how they had developed this country, but in recent years have become unpopular. He quoted from an article in Boy's Life.

Guests were Johnny and Jerry Stigler, Buddy and Mark Calk, Mike Hale, and Harold Summers of St. Louis and J. B. Morris of the Boy Scout office in San Angelo.

Mr. and Mrs. Albert McGinnes and family toured Six Flags Over Texas last week, while on vacation and visited relatives in Ft. Worth.

DeLong Sisters Visit Together In California

Mrs. Ruth Harper, Mrs. Mary Steen, and Mrs. Ruby Fowler of El Paso all met recently in El Paso and flew from there to California where they visited their sister, Jetty Grace, Mrs. Julian Morehouse and her family.

The Morehouses now live at Los Altos, California.

This was the first time in many years for the four DeLong sisters to be together.

SAUERS HAVE GATHERING

Nearly all local and many out-of-town relatives of the family of Mrs. Otto Sauer gathered at her home Sunday at noon for dinner and spent the rest of the day in a family gathering which honored Rev. George Cartwright of Wash Indiana, and his three children, Janet, Jon, and Patty.

That afternoon a birthday party was held for Patty Cartwright in honor of her 11th birthday.

Rev. Cartwright, who preached Sunday morning at the First Christian church here in Eldorado, left with his family Monday morning to return to Indiana.

31 Is Estimate Of Toll Over Labor Day

Austin.—The director of the Texas Department of Public Safety announced recently an estimated 31 persons will be killed in traffic crashes in Texas over the three-day Labor Day week end, and called for "an all-out effort to prove the statistics are wrong."

Col. Homer Garrison Jr. pointed out that the estimate by the DPS Statistical Services is based on past experience, but added:

"There is always a chance that it can be proved too high if motorists will put forth a concerted effort to hold the line by driving within safe and legal limits and remaining especially alert to the added dangers of holiday travel."

To emphasize these hazards, he said, "Operation Motorcade" will be placed in effect from 12:01 a. m. Saturday, August 31 through 11:59 p.m. Monday, September 2. During this period, all traffic fatalities on the streets and highways of the state will be tabulated and released three times daily to the public through the co-operation of the news media.

In addition, the Department of Public Safety will do everything possible with the limited manpower available to stop reckless and illegal driving on the highways, Garrison said. Officers from other DPS uniformed services will be assigned for the holiday period to Highway Patrol duty to add to the enforcement effort.

The DPS Director said Labor Day this year comes at a time when traffic tragedy for the year 1963 appears to be heading for an all-time high. He reported that more than 1,400 persons have been killed already this year for an increase of some 8%, adding that if the trend continues the toll will exceed the high of 2,611 persons killed in 1956.

Garrison noted that several public and private agencies are carrying on programs to supplement the safety emphasis effort for the Labor Day Holiday. The Texas Safety Association will conduct a public information program stressing the need for courtesy and caution. TSA Vice-President W. F. (Bill) Leonard will co-ordinate the efforts of Junior Chambers of Commerce over the state in operating numerous "rest stops" for fatigued drivers to whom free coffee will be served. The Texas Association of Broadcasters will conduct a statewide "Drive Lighted and Live" program in which appeals will be made to motorists to drive with their headlights on dim during the daylight hours to focus attention on the need for legal and safe driving.

The Texas Highway Department will carry on a continuing information and education program instructing drivers in freeway driving and the need for caution near highway construction areas.

Home Demonstration Agent's Column

By MRS. VIDA KREKLOW
Part of the fun of a summer trip or vacation is the adventure of finding new foods, enjoying new taste experiences and browsing through new markets.

Last summer Joe and I went west and as usual anywhere we go, got a tremendous thrill out of the fruits and vegetables which California always has to offer. This summer we switched directions and went to Pontiac, Michigan, for a visit with Mother and Dad Kreklow. They are in good shape and probably more spry than we are. Mother Kreklow will soon be 85 and Dad will be 87 and you wouldn't believe the garden they had—and all the work done themselves.

Michigan fruits and vegetables are later than ours and as we left about August 1, the sweet corn was just ready to eat and the tomatoes were not quite ready, but the vines were loaded. August and September are the garden months and the big farmers' market out at the edge of Pontiac is always a highlight of a Michigan trip. Everything sold must be home-grown.

Rhubarb grows as carelessly and easily there as johnsongrass does here. But I have a better word to say for rhubarb than I do for J. grass. As a friend and I gathered rhubarb from her garden the other morning for a pie she remarked that the plants had been coming up in exactly that same spot for over 35 years. Now there is a plant for you. No failures, no freeze downs, no bugs. If summer comes, so does the rhubarb.

I made the pie and added one cup of raspberries from the garden vines and what a pie, what a pie! There is hardly any need to go into many directions for a rhubarb pie here and now. Who has any rhubarb any way?

A neighbor whose girlhood home was in the Pennsylvania Dutch country gave me a recipe which she said had been very popular with her family and friends. Even though I have not tried this casserole, Mrs. Fleming is such a good cook I think I can pass it on to you without a thought—it is bound to be good. It is called

Chinese Hamburger Casserole
1 pound ground meat, browned in a little fat
Mix in one can Chinese vegetables; add:
1 can cream of chicken soup, undiluted;
1 can cream of mushroom soup, undiluted;
½ cup uncooked rice;
1 cup diced celery;
2 medium diced onions;
½ cup water;
½ teaspoon soy sauce;
1 scant teaspoon salt.
Place mixture in a greased casserole, cover and bake 30 minutes in a moderate oven. Remove cover and continue baking for another 30 minutes.

Sounds so good that I am going to make up a doubled recipe and freeze part of it. It is just the kind of dish to have ready for the unexpected, or unexpected company as far as that goes.

Win Schuler's dining rooms in Michigan are noted for the excellence of their food. But behind all the good cooking somebody in the establishment has a sense of humor. Along with little things you pick up at a cash register I got this copy of a low calorie diet, and guaranteed at that. Some samples of daily meals are quoted.

Monday:
Breakfast: Scraped crumbs from burnt toast.
Lunch: One doughnut hole—no sugar.
Dinner: Three grains cornmeal, broiled. One glass dehydrated water.

Tuesday:
Breakfast: Four chopped banana seeds.
Lunch: One bullion cube in ½ cup diluted water.
Dinner: Three eyes from Irish potato—diced.

And so on for the whole week but I'll save you the agony of reading through them all. A foot note read:
A seven-ounce glass of steam may be consumed on alternate days to help in having something to blow off.

In case you read the above menu hurriedly, don't get alarmed at the nutritional turn of this column—it's all in fun.

Polly, we are back in business again. We missed you.

Local Ford Dealer To Sponsor Punt, Pass and Kick Contest Here

Eldorado area grade school boys from eight through 11 can pit their football skills against thousands of other boys throughout the nation in the 3rd annual Punt, Pass & Kick Competition which will culminate with a trip to Washington, D.C., for a White House tour, then to Dearborn, Michigan, and then an appearance at the National Football League Championship game for the top eight national winners.

Sponsored nationally by the Ford Division of Ford Motor Company and the National Football League, the Punt, Pass & Kick Program—or PP&K—will be staged in Eldorado by Joe Gault Ford Sales.

Eldorado youths will be tested for their ability to punt, pass and kick (using a kicking tee) footballs on the same day as thousands of other boys all over the country, with warm-up jackets, football helmets and autographed footballs to be given as first, second and third prizes for each age group, or four top Eldorado winners in all. Scores throughout the state then will be compared to determine the four top Texas winners, and the scores compared to determine the most skillful eight-, nine-, ten- and 11-year-old fledgling football stars in each of the areas covered by the telecasts of the 14 National Football League teams.

Area winners and their fathers and mothers will receive all-expense-paid-trips to a National Football League game in their area, and will compete during half time to determine the four top Eastern Division winners and four top Western Division winners. The eight boys, accompanied by their parents, will visit Washington, D. C., where they will tour the White House. They will then travel to Dearborn, Michigan, and tour Greenfield Village. The entire group then will go to the site of the NFL Championship game, for half-time competition to determine the four National winners.

Joe Gault of Joe Gault Ford Sales pointed out that there is no body contact necessary in the competition, no charge for entering, and no special equipment needed. "Registration will be open from September 3 through October 11," he said, "with Joe Gault Ford Sales as the registration headquarters."

"In 1962, the second year of the PP&K Program, 431,921 boys entered the competition," he said, "and President Kennedy said 'Programs of this type will enable our youth to build the energy and strength that is their American heritage.'"

Mr. Gault said entrants will be judged on the distance and accuracy of their punting, passing and kicking (using a kicking tee), with points awarded for each foot of distance the ball travels on the fly and subtracted for each foot the ball lands to the right or left of a center line. The Eldorado competition will be held on Saturday, October 12, at a site to be announced later.

Any ties in the Eldorado competition will be played off on the day of competition, and ties for top spot in the state and area standings will be played off at special contests. State winners will receive trophies, and area winners will receive complete junior-type football uniforms of the NFL team in their region, and the uniforms worn when the winners compete during NFL half-time ceremonies to determine the Divisional champions.

Bill Rountree has been named Competition Director for the Eldorado Punt, Pass & Kick Program, it has been announced by Joe Gault of Joe Gault Ford Sales, sponsor of the program in Eldorado.

As Competition Director, Mr. Rountree will be responsible for all arrangements for the contest which puts boys eight through 11 against others in the age groups in tests of their abilities to punt, pass and kick (using a kicking tee) footballs for distance and accuracy.

Registrations for the program, which features local prizes of football equipment and then expense-paid trips to National Football League games for winners in 14 areas culminating with trips to Washington, D.C., and to Dearborn, Mich., and a "play-off" at the National Football League Championship game for eight finalists, will be open from September 3 through October 11 at Joe Gault Ford Sales.

MISS SHELTON BACK HOME

Miss Jewel Shelton is back home after spending the summer in California. She spent a week in Blythe, Cal., before enrolling in the University of California at Berkeley which she attended, flying from San Francisco to San Angelo on August 11.

Mrs. Evelyn Pennington has gone to Phoenix, Arizona, for a visit with her son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Pennington.

By Dayton Kelley
Mary Hardin-Baylor College
Belton, Texas

Things are shaping up for a Texas size observance at Sabine Pass on September 6 and 7, the 100th anniversary of Dick Dowling's defeat of a superior Federal naval force bent on invading Texas.

While in Austin recently, we talked with George W. Hill, the executive director of the Texas Civil War Centennial Commission, who told us that this would be one of the biggest commemorative events in the state during the entire period of the Centennial.

We have a personal interest in all the plans because we sort of laid the ground work while working as special consultant to the Centennial Commission during the summer of 1962. We went to Sabine Pass to talk up the observance with folks in Beaumont and Port Arthur, laid out the overall plans and set the wheels in motion for the observance. Now we are pleased to see our suggestions becoming a reality.

According to Mr. Hill, the major portion of the observance will be on Saturday, September 7 and will begin with a meeting of all historical groups of the area at 10 a.m. This will be followed by the Centennial Luncheon at the Driftwood Hotel in Port Arthur at 12:30.

Governor John Connally and other state dignitaries have been invited to attend and one of the features of the luncheon will be a rendition of one of the songs inspired by the Battle of Sabine Pass. Among songs inspired by the battle were "To the Davis Guards" (the name of Dick Dowling's outfit), "Sabine Pass", and "True Irish Valor."

Another feature of the luncheon will be a display of the Dowling family silver service and other mementos, most of which belong to a descendant of the Dowlings who lives in Beaumont.

In the afternoon there will be a pilgrimage from Port Arthur and Beaumont to the Dick Dowling monument at Sabine Pass and at 3 p.m. a commemorative ceremony will be held at the monument. The members of the Albert Sidney Johnston Chapter of the Sons of Confederate Veterans from Houston will be in uniform and will serve as honor and color guard for the ceremonies.

Dowling was originally from Houston.

Representatives of state and confederate organizations will lay wreaths at the monument and the Rebel Guard of the Robert E. Lee High School of Tyler will fire the salute.

The presidents of the Children of the Confederacy, United Daughters of the Confederacy and the Sons of Confederate Veterans will represent their organizations at the ceremony.

The Secretary of the Navy has been requested to send a vessel or vessels to put in at Sabine Pass and stand off the park in the Pass during the ceremonies and to be available for public inspection on Sunday, September 8.

The Texans will let the U. S. Navy in this time, Mr. Hill said.

Recommended Reading for This Week:

We've noticed that more of the Confederate states have had their participation in the War written into book form than have the Yankee states. Among those that have had books devoted to their War record are Virginia, Louisiana, North and South Carolina and Mississippi. All of these books have been recommended to our readers in earlier columns.

The latest Confederate state whose War activity has been chronicled is Florida in Dr. John E. Johns' FLORIDA DURING THE CIVIL WAR just released by the University of Florida Press. Dr. Johns is well qualified to tell the story of Florida's role and does so in a brief (213 pages) but interesting and readable fashion.

A second publication relating to the War in Florida and also published by the University of Florida Press is DICKISON AND HIS MEN, first brought out in 1890 and now in facsimile. Written by Dickison's wife, the book is considered valuable because of its descriptions of events and conditions in Florida during the War. Long out of circulation, the facsimile reproduction by the University of Florida Press is a public service well worthwhile.

Some of the finest volumes on the War have come from Louisiana State University Press. The latest from this fine publishing house is THE PORT HUDSON CAMPAIGN by Edward Cunningham and is an excellent account of the long overshadowed campaign by the Federal Army to take the port second in importance only to Vicksburg. Most historians simply add the fall of Port Hudson as a footnote to the fall of Vicksburg, but now the event gets its due treatment.

Cartoon Figure Aids Litter Campaign

Austin.—An indignant cartoon character and a revised highway sign have joined the Texas Highway Department's efforts to quell the mounting cost of litter pickup along Texas highways—a cost that jumped another $100,000 last year.

The Department disclosed it had to spend $1.4 million to pick up litter during 1962, an increase of about a hundred thousand dollars over 1961. Repair of vandalism damages added another $485,000 to bring the total figure for litter pickup and vandalism to a whopping $1.9 million.

These funds could have built 76 miles of Farm to Market Roads or 25 miles of two-lane primary highways.

The cartoon character, called informally the "Litter Longhorn," is printed on the 1963 Official Highway Travel Map published by the Department to remind the public in a lighthearted way not to litter the roadsides and Safety Rest Areas.

The sign being revised throughout the state reminds drivers sternly that littering is a violation of a state law, and that a litterbug can be fined from $10 to $200.

The next time you take a trip, take a close look at the 1963 Travel Map. In bright colors you will see the Highway Department's comical new "Litter Longhorn." Garbed in cowboy duds, complete with a 10-gallon hat, the Litter Longhorn wears an indignant look as he puffs and stomps on a heap of litter.

The cartoon caption, printed on a red stop sign behind the longhorn, pleads with the public to "Help Stomp Out Litter."

Drivers have long been familiar with the signs along the highway that read, "Throwing Trash on Highway Prohibited—State Law."

But these signs are taking on a new look—and a new meaning—as supplementary signs are added below them as a reminder that a person can be fined $10-$200 for violating this state law.

SCHOOL BUDGET ADOPTED AT MENARD

A budget of $253,840 to operate Menard schools during the 1963-64 school term was adopted Tuesday night by the Board of Trustees of Menard Independent School District.

Estimated expenditures during the 1962-63 school year, to end Aug. 31, total $246,847.

Expected revenue for the coming year, including $146,278 from the state, is $253,516, as compared with $242,611 for the 1962-63 school year.
