Eldorado veterans honor fallen comrades on Memorial Day

America's war dead includes 23 from Schleicher County

Some stood saluting, others with heads bowed in solemn tribute as "Taps" was played Monday morning in remembrance of those who died defending our nation. Across the Eldorado Cemetery, small American flags fluttered in the wind. The flags had been placed there by local boy scouts and American Legion members.

The annual Memorial Day ceremony was hosted by American Legion Post 257. On hand to assist with the service were members of the Goodfellow Air Force Base Color Guard. Approximately seventy-five local citizens turned out to honor the country's war dead.

Phil Edmiston, Commander of Post 257 began the proceedings by introducing the Color Guard. They marched in lock step to the main entrance of the cemetery where they solemnly raised the United States and Texas flags. Both flags were carried to the top of their respective flag poles before being lowered slowly to half mast.

Adjutant Commander Buff Whitten then voiced an invocation and memorial prayer.

Edmiston then introduced Air Force Staff Sergeant Melanie Stricklan, an Eldorado native was home for the holiday. Stricklan read aloud a poem called, "Just a Common Soldier."

Edmiston followed with a poem titled, "No, Freedom Isn't Free."

The roll of honor was then read as the names of twenty-three of Schleicher County's fallen heroes were read aloud.

Beginning with World War I, the list included: Thomas Ballew, Roach H. Holland, Neal Kelly, Bev McCormick, Sam I. Nicks, Jr., Roy Stevenson.

World War II — Hobson Ashmore, Joyce C. Blackmon, William H. Currie, David E. DeLong, Jr., Earnest Dickey, Jr., Robert E. Doty, Thomas R. Henderson, Jr., Alton Page, Orville K. Puryear, Clark M. Reynolds, Raymond R. Reynolds.

Korean War — Walter Jones, Robert H. Nolen.

Vietnam War — Elton Harris, David Overstreet, Selwin Taylor, Danny Rutherford.

As each name was read, a small

American flag was placed along the base of two granite memorial markers. A rifle squad from Goodfellow Air Force Base then delivered a 21-gun salute. With the audience standing at attention, "Taps" was then played in honor of the fallen men.

Buff Whitten offered a benedictory prayer as the ceremony concluded.

The small flags on the graves of veterans were placed there by local boy scouts Travis Joiner and Nathan MacDonald along with Joe Dombroski, Norman Smith, Buff Whitten, Guy Crippin, and Phil Edmiston.

The annual Schleicher County Memorial Day Service is conducted each year by the American Legion Post 257. Anyone interested in membership the Legion to contact Post Commander Phil Edmiston.

Fifty-three graduates receive diplomas during Commencement at EHS

Strains of "Pomp and Circumstance" filled the air Friday evening, May 25 as the Eldorado High School graduating class of 2001 filed into Eagle Stadium for the final time. Fifty-three graduates received diplomas following a salutatory address by Ben Edmiston and a valedictory address by Bree-Anne Davis.

Following the speeches, EHS Principal Ken Newman announced the graduates' names as they crossed in front of the podium. SCISD Superintendent George Blanch moved each graduate's tassel across his cap to signify the commencement of a new life. SCISD Board President Phil McCormick presented each of the grads with their diplomas.

As the diplomas were presented, those graduates receiving scholarships and awards were announced.

Following the presentation of diplomas, the graduates retreated to the center of the football field as the Eagle Band again played "Pomp and Circumstance". Once there, the group huddled, had one last moment together as a group, then celebrated by tossing their caps high into the air.

Family and friends were then allowed onto the field to meet and greet the graduates.

Graduates, along with the awards and scholarships that were announced during graduation included: Jimmy Aguilar, Crystal Alexander, Jerrie Arispe, Johnnie Lee Arispe, Lindsay Beach - Carr Academic Scholarship and Lance Belman.

Also, Rikki Bosmans, Jason Brock, Joey Bullard - Carr Academic Scholarship, Sammy Cabrera, Kayla Case and Nancy Cawley - Paul Page Memorial Scholarship.

Missing Colo. teens found in Schleicher Co.

Two Boulder, Colorado girls were located in Schleicher County last week, three days after they were reported missing. The two juveniles, ages 14 & 15, were reportedly heading to Temple to meet a boy one of the girls had met on the internet.

The girls were spotted 12 miles West of Eldorado on U.S. 190 by Schleicher County Deputy Jason Chatham, shortly after he was advised by the Texas Department of Public Safety to be on the lookout for the pair.

Chatham said he was on patrol when he got the DPS call. According to the dispatcher, 90 minutes earlier the girls had been spotted in Iraan by a convenience store clerk. Chatham said he decided to head West toward Iraan on the chance that he might spot the girls.

He found them about 12 miles out of Eldorado, stopped on the side of the road. Chatham said that although it was after 10:00 p.m. and was completely dark, the girls appeared to be trying to photograph some goats in a pasture near the road.

When Chatham slowed his patrol car and turned around, the two girls reportedly ran for their vehicle, a 1991 Ford Explorer. The Swearing in ceremony — The oath of office was administered to Schleicher County Hospital District trustees Ricky Fuessel, Randy Mankin and Judy Christian by hospital employee Mary Martinez at the group's monthly meeting last Thursday evening.

Hospital District trustees review audit report

by Kathy Mankin

The Schleicher County Hospital District's board of trustees met on Thursday, May 24, 2001, reviewed the district's first financial audit since the hospital entered Medicare's Critical Access Program (CAP) last year. Accountant Larry Anderson of Lubbock was on hand to present the audit report. He noted that the district's financial picture has improved greatly since the district joined the CAP.

Anderson explained that the hospital received $953,468.00 in additional revenue during the 2000 fiscal year. He said the increase was primarily due to the hospital's enrollment in the CAP. Anderson used a slide presentation to highlight specific portions of the audit. He summed up his presentation by saying that the board's decision to join the CAP had probably saved the facility from closure.

The meeting was held on Thursday, May 24 in the hospital's board room. Present for the meeting were trustees Judy Christian, Delia Pina, Randy Mankin, John Callison, Shirley Joiner and Jim Martin. The meeting began with the board receiving a letter of resignation from newly elected board member Jim Chancellor. In the letter Chancellor explained that he currently serves as a director of the Eldorado-Divide Soil & Water Conservation District and that he had been unaware when he filed for the hospital district post that state law prohibits persons from holding two elected positions.

After accepting Chancellor's resignation the board voted unanimously to appoint former board member Ricky Fuessel to fill the vacant seat. Fuessel then joined fellow trustees Judy Christian and Randy Mankin in taking the oath of office. Christian and Mankin

Memories of thunderstorms past

by Randy Mankin

I do not like thunderstorms. Not even a little bit. Saturday night, my family went to San Angelo to move my daughter Sarah back into the dormitory for summer session at ASU. A violent storm quickly blew in from the northwest and I was looking for a hole to climb in.

We were in the southwest part of town when the National Weather Service issued a severe thunderstorm warning for that part of the city. The storm was said to be packing 60 mile per hour winds and large hail. Judging that we had a few minutes before it hit, we turned onto Loop 306 and drove toward Wall. We actually went few miles east of Wall before it was apparent that the storm had passed behind us. Then we doubled back.

At the time, my kids thought this was all very funny, but I didn't care. Like I said earlier, I don't like thunderstorms.

Storms used to not bother me. I driller, a big burly fellow, was waiting. "Where in the *#@#& do you think you're going?" he roared.

I pointed to the thin, rope-like tornado, which by that time was dancing in a cotton field less than a mile away. The driller peered through the driving rain at the twister. He watched it for several seconds then turned back to face me. He spit some tobacco juice on the rig floor then yelled, "Get back up there, we'll worry about it when it gets close."

But, I had reached another conclusion. Figuring that I didn't need the job that badly, I headed beneath the rig's substructure and crawled in the six foot deep cellar, where the rest of the crew was already hugging the wellhead and blowout preventer.

The twister came near enough to the rig to overturn the toolpusher's trailer house and upend one section of the catwalk, before dancing away. As I made my way out from under the substructure, I saw the driller walking across the location, surveying the damage.

No, he didn't fire me, but only because I didn't give him the chance. Instead, I cleaned out my locker and went looking for another job. The other two roughnecks on the crew did the same.

That's just one of the reasons I don't like storms. I have others, but I'll save those for another day.

State lawmakers fail to pass redistricting plan

AUSTIN - Too early yet for a full post mortem on the 77th Legislature, but one thing is certain: lawmakers failed to come up with a redistricting plan.

That puts the matter before the Legislative Redistricting Board and probably into the courts down the road.

Lawmakers did pass a $111 billion state budget. Included in that was a 4 percent or $100 a month (whichever is higher) pay raise for state employees.

Last call for open containers...

For years, Texas' open container law was about as strong as 3.2 beer.

The law said a driver could not drink from an open alcoholic beverage, but a peace officer had to actually see the person take a drink for it to be a ticketable offense.

And any passenger in the vehicle was clear to drink, which meant a driver who spotted a police officer could merely hand his drink to one of the passengers.

But House Bill 5, a measure that puts the plug in any in-vehicle drinking of an alcoholic beverage, has been passed by the Legislature and is expected to be signed into law by Gov. Rick Perry.

The bill exempts passengers of limousines, charter buses and motor homes.

Contact lens settlement in sight...

If a proposed settlement goes through, many Texas contact lens wearers will be able to get cash rebates on lens purchases and eye exams.

Texas Attorney General John Cornyn announced last week that his office had reached a settlement with Johnson & Johnson Vision Care, Inc. That company was the last non-settling defendant in an antitrust suit brought by Texas and 31 other states against contact lens makers and the American Optometric Association.

The lawsuits alleged that retail prices of disposable contact lenses were too high because the defendants had agreed with the AOA that their lenses would be available only from eye care professionals, retail optical stores or mass merchandisers.

The plaintiffs contended this made purchase of lenses via mail or from drug stores more difficult.

Under the $60 million Johnson & Johnson settlement, benefits for eligible contact lens users will include $50 off the purchase of four six packs of disposable lenses and $25 off an eye examination and an additional $25 off a future purchase of four or more lens six packs. That amounts to about a one-third cost reduction.

A settlement with another major producer of contact lenses, Bausch & Lomb, already has been reached.

To register for the Johnson & Johnson claim, or to get more information, call 1-888-437-1294 or go online to www.acuvue.com. For Bausch & Lomb, contact 1-888-811-0385 or visit: www.freecontactlensrebates.com.

The grass is greener

Looking to grow some new business?

According to statistics compiled by the state comptroller, sellers of lawn care products and services have seen a gross sales growth from $377 million in 1990 to $1.1 billion in 1999. The number of lawn and garden businesses in Texas has sprouted from 3,473 a decade ago to 7,613.

No nukes is good news for West Texas...

A bill that would have allowed a low-level nuclear graveyard in Andrews County in West Texas has gone to the legislative boot hill.

ROLLING ALONG

WITH TUMBLEWEED SMITH

Backpacking Around The World

Charlie Bott grew up in Big Spring, got a good college education and became a nuclear engineer with GE in California. A few years ago, he got the travel bug. He quit his good job, threw a few articles of clothing into a backpack and took off.

"I thought I had enough money to travel about nine months, but I found it didn't cost near what I thought it would, so I extended the trip to nearly two years." GE rehired Charlie and he's now back home in San Francisco.

Charlie wanted to see some places, but the rest of the trip was sort of free lance. He would get to a place, meet other travelers who would tell him about different places they had been. That peaked Charlie's curiosity, so he would go there. "I saw some things I never thought I'd get to see."

He started in Turkey, then went throughout the middle east, India, Africa and Asia. He said he'd pay a dollar or two for a meal and about the same amount for a night's lodging. "I got by for about ten dollars a day. I didn't know you could do that. It's quite different from here in San Francisco."

Charlie said he was never scared. "I tried not to stand out. I just observed. It's kinda nice to be in areas that are making history. Years from now I can say I was there when certain events were occurring. It's great to be exposed to parts of the world and cultures that have traditions that I have never seen before."

He found some differences, but some similarities. "I saw mothers loving their children the same way everywhere I went. That was beautiful." He decided to make the trip because he was nearing thirty. In fact he turned thirty while he was gone. "I was afraid I was going to miss some things that were happening in this world that I never knew about. Now I can look at the globe and understand what's going on in certain countries. I know what the people wear, their food and music, what makes them happy. I just wanted to be able to do that before I died. I figured now was the time to do it."

He spent three months exploring Egypt and used several types of transportation. He even hitchhiked. Charlie communicated with friends and family by e-mail and used ATM's to get cash. The only piece of luggage he had was a backpack. He had one pair of long pants, a pair of shorts, two shirts, underwear and socks. "It's amazing the small amount of stuff you need to get by. When winter came I'd buy some warmer clothes, then give them away when it got warm."

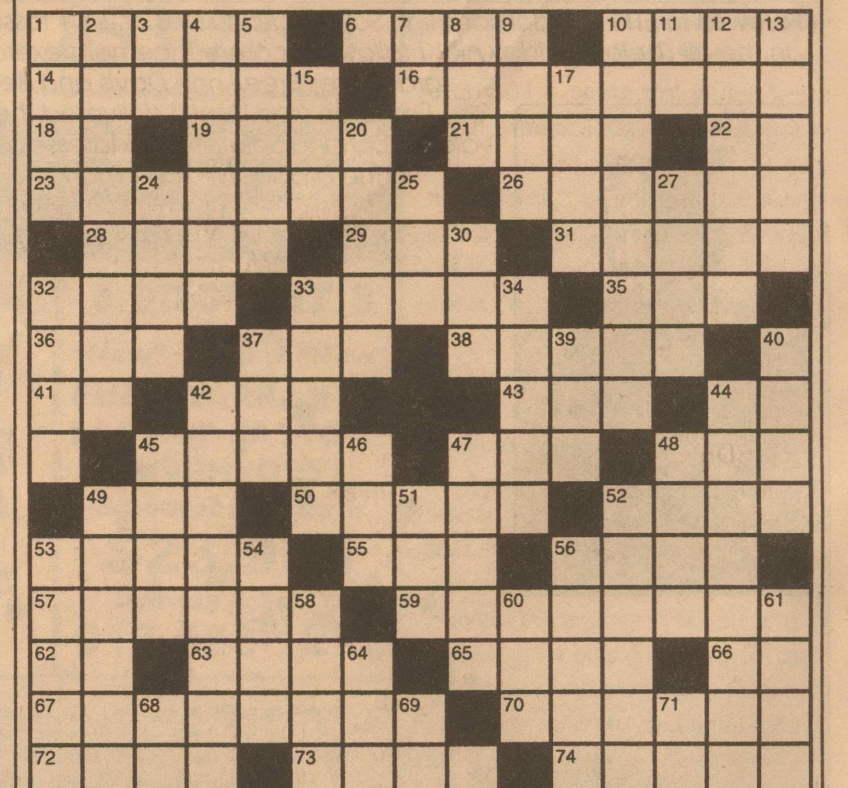

Just before he left, Charlie bought a small video camera. It was an expensive piece of equipment, but he's glad he made the investment. He shot some twenty hours of tape and will someday make a movie of his trip. He also kept a journal of his travels.

"It's amazing how many people I met who were doing the same thing I was doing, just seeing the world. Not many Americans, though. I think anybody who's interested in doing a trip like this should get things in order and just go do it. It was a fascinating experience that greatly enriched my life. I smile when I think about it."

 TEXAS PRESS ASSOCIATION

OBITUARIES

Verna Franklin Cawley

Verna Cawley, 98, formerly of El Paso and Eldorado passed away Saturday, May 26, 2001, in Graham.

A third generation Texan, she was born July 6, 1902, in Floresville, the fourth of seven children of Benjamin and Sallie Franklin. Her people homesteaded in Texas in the early 1800s. While still in her youth, Verna had black hair and bright blue eyes and was described as "lovely of character and disposition." She was a "steel magnolia," a southern matriarch in every sense of the word. Quintessentially southern was her pride in and her loyalty to her family. After graduating from the University of Texas, she taught school in La Feria, where she met her husband, Jay T. Cawley in 1921. They had one son, Jim Cawley.

Verna and Jay loved to travel, hunt, go to the ranch and relax, and play a "mean game of dominoes." When they lived in El Paso, she often entertained and went to the Empire Club to dance. Nini was a devout Christian attending the First Presbyterian Church in El Paso. After retiring to the ranch, Nini became active in the First Presbyterian Church in Eldorado. She always had time to read to one or more of her five grandchildren, 13 great-grandchildren; and three great-great-grandchildren.

Verna had many talents. Her grandchildren learned early what was and was not expected in terms of behavior. She was also a stickler for correct grammar. She was known as "Nini" to all those around her. She was a great cook but professed she "failed in tatting 101." She was an avid Bible scholar and when her eyesight failed, she listened to the Bible on tape or when read to her by her grandchildren.

Jim Cawley preceded her in death in 1986. Verna is survived by her daughter-in-law, Billy Cawley of Eldorado; her grandchildren, LeAnne Skinner and husband, Steve, of Austin, Jim Cawley and wife, Dora, of Graham, John Ben Cawley and wife, Cindy, of Eldorado, Sally Brazzel and husband, Dusty, and Bill Cawley of Willis; and great-grandchildren, Willis, Emily Anne, Erin, Jay Ross, Will, Anna, Nancy, Scott, Jay Gee, Megan, Joel, Elizabeth, Toll and Jacquelyn. Nieces, nephews and friends would also like to be listed as survivors.

Nini did not go gently. She fought tenaciously against the effects of old age for years, displaying indomitable spirit of her pioneer ancestors. She showed us how to live, fight and die. We will miss her very much.

A memorial service was held Sunday, May 27, at First Presbyterian Church in Graham. Graveside service was held Wednesday, May 30, in Fairmount Cemetery. Arrangements were by Johnson's Funeral Home.

If desired, memorials would be welcomed at the First Presbyterian Churches of Graham or Eldorado in honor of Nini's life.

June Caruthers Scott

Margaret June Caruthers Scott peacefully went to be with the Lord on Friday, May 25, 2001, at her San Angelo residence with loved ones by her side.

June was born June 17, 1931, in San Angelo to L.H. and Maggie Lou Caruthers. She grew up on ranches, attended San Marcos Baptist Academy and graduated from Barnhart High School. She finished her education at Sul Ross University in Alpine.

June eloped with the love of her life, Ham Scott, a young cowboy from Mertz on Dec. 16, 1950. The young couple lived on the family ranch at Mertz until the drought sent them looking for grass.

June's husband, Ham, and brother-in-law, John Scott, bought ranch land in Montana where they moved their wives and cattle. The Scott family continued to ranch in Montana and Texas for many years. After Ham's death in 1989, June continued to run the ranches. She loved the land, grew beautiful flowers, raised many orphaned animals on a bottle and fed many a hungry cowboy or kid. Everyone knew that "Nannie" knew that you would never leave her house hungry. She fed all God's creatures "great and small" and everyone knew that the joys of her life were her precious grandchildren.

June was preceded in death by her parents and her husband, Hamilton.

She is survived by her daughter, Cindy Scott Baize and children, Casey Scott Baize and Samantha Baize of Wall; and her son, Jay Scott Jr. and wife, June, of Miles; nieces and nephews, John Scott III, Maggie Brown, Sissy Croft, Jim Bode Scott and their families, all of Montana; cousins, Bob Caruthers and wife, Janice, and their daughter, Courtney, of Sonora, Mary and Ted Moffett and children of Dilley, Doris Barron and R.D. Barron of San Angelo, Wells Teague of Austin and Kathy Meador and family of Eldorado.

She also is survived by her special friends, Avelino and Luis of Big Lake; her best friend, Jo Ann Stout of Big Lake; her "angel" Angelina Valadez; and many other special friends.

The family would like to thank VistaCare Family Hospice for taking such good care of Nannie and would like to extend a special thanks to nurses, Kathy and Lee.

Graveside service was held Wednesday, May 30, in Mertz Cemetery with the Rev. J.B. Bitner officiating. Arrangements were by Johnson's Funeral Home.

The family asks that memorials be made to VistaCare Family Hospice, West Texas Boys Ranch or a charity of personal choice.

Jana Sterling and Allen Graber

Sterling/Graber wed

Jana Sterling and Allen Graber were married in the afternoon of April 29, 2001 in an outdoor ceremony at Kairos Celebration Barn in Fredericksburg, Texas.

Rick and Becky Sterling of Eldorado and David and Arlene Graber of Stoughton, Massachusetts are the parents of the bride and groom.

Friend of the bride, Cory Barton, of Ft. Collins, Colorado was the Maid of Honor and Graham Baird of Holland Patent, New York, friend of the groom, stood as the best man.

The bridal path was decorated with petals thrown by cousins of the bride - "Petal Pushers" - Taylor Ortiz and Ryan Castle.

The bride's sister, Andie Sterling, sang "Anniversary Song" accompanied on the guitar by the groom's brother Brian Graber. Keven Graber, also a brother of the groom, read the poem "Apache Song." The bride's sister Ginger Sterling and the groom's brother Steven Graber read in memory of Loved Ones Past.

The couple composed their vows and recited them in unison. Butterflies were released by the wedding guests upon the pronouncement of their marriage by Dr. Barbara Coeyman of Austin.

The flowers for the wedding were fresh herbs, lavender, rosemary and lavender-colored roses. The brides dress was designed, created and hand beaded by Ginger Sterling.

Saluting Eldorado's Teachers

FIRST NATIONAL BANK OF ELDORADO

EHS Senior Suzanne Rojas & Coach Alan Gillespie

Through my years in school I have had many good teachers, but the one that will always stand out in my mind is my 12th grade Government teacher, Coach Gillespie. He is one of those few people who is a teacher and just happens to be a coach. His classes are very important to him and he makes an extra effort to help everyone to understand his lessons. He is a teacher of high character and determination. His determination leads him to work long hours preparing for his classes. I say long hours, because with the work packets he gives, he must be writing them in his sleep.

I'm not going to lie, Government is a tough class, but Coach Gillespie always makes it fun and understanding. He thinks up ways to help us integrate our every day lives with what we learn in class. His determination and expectations drive everyone to do their homework on time. He expects so much of everyone, but never so much that we can't do. I know from experience that disappointing him by not doing your home work puts a damper on your entire day. He is understanding and gives credit where credit is due.

His empathy toward other students is probably what I admire most. He will never let you fail if he sees that you are working your heart out for him. He always finds some kind of extra credit or project you can do if you really want to pass his class. His impact on me is great. I work almost every day after school and return home late, but no matter how late I am, I'm always sure to do my work. On some days when I am especially tired but still do my work, a pat on the back or few nice words from Coach always make me feel like I accomplished something.

His sense of humor and constant understanding of our hard work is what makes him the great teacher he is. I will always be proud to say I was taught by such a charismatic and kind teacher. He will surely be an admired teacher in the years to come.

Suzanne Rojas -- Senior

Coach Leslie Gooch and 5th Grader Blake Chatham

The teacher I most admire is Coach Gooch. Any time I do something good she tells me "Good Job Blake!" with a big smile. For the first time shes a coach who is really proud of me. For some reason I look up to her. I want to be just like her. She is nice, kind, and very smart. She is a great adult. I really do admire her and if you don't then your nuts because she is the best teacher in the world. I don't care if I win or not I just want to put her in being recognized. I think, take it back, I know she is the coolest, most honest teacher ever.

Blake Chatham -- 5th Grader

Callison grabs 3 Golds & a Silver at San Angelo Senior Games

The medals just keep piling up for Eldorado's John Callison. He brought home three Gold medals and a Silver medal last week from the Senior Games in San Angelo. The 75-year old Callison won Gold Medals in Basketball - Free-throw, Basketball - Around the World, and Golf. He picked up the Silver Medal in Horseshoe Pitching. The victories move Callison's medal count to 26 since he began competing in the Senior Games 3 years ago.

By placing 1st on 2nd in the San Angelo Senior Games, a contestant may advance to the State Senior Games in San Marcos. That won't be anything new for Callison, he's advanced there before and is looking forward to representing Eldorado in the 75-79 age division.

In all, 297 seniors competed in the games which were held on May 17, 18 & 19 at various venues in San Angelo. One of those competing was Geneva McWhorter of Eldorado who also won a Gold Medal in Golf.

Tourism retreat planned for June 13 in Sonora

After months of preparation, the Southwest Texas Tourism Partnership (former Tri-County Tourism Coalition), will host a June 13th retreat at the T-Saucer Ranch in Sonora to develop strategies to grow area tourism. The all day retreat is for anyone (business, attraction, landowner...) who can benefit from more tourism business. The planning area for this retreat includes Crockett, Schleicher and Sutton counties and adjacent communities.

Reservations are required for participating in the retreat. A $20 registration fee will cover the cost of meals and planning packets. Reservations can be made through Justin McGeath, Sonora Chamber of Commerce, at 915-387-2880 or fax to 915-387-5357. Reservations must be made by June 8, 2001. After June 8th, registration is $25.

McGeath, who is chair of the newly established Southwest Texas Tourism Partnership, says, "We've been building for this retreat since last year. We really need wide-spread representation from area businesses, attractions and landowners in order to develop good strategies. From the very beginning, we were presented data that clearly shows how important the service sector is to our economy and tourism can be a significant force in growing this sector."

McGeath is joined on the Partnership executive committee by Dan Brown (Hummer House, Christoval), Shannon Biggerstaff (Ozona Chamber of Commerce), Stan Meador (X-Bar Ranch), Stacy Jones Jurecek (Eldorado Woolen Mill) and Gerry Ingham (Caverns of Sonora) and Lolabeth Jones (T-Saucer Ranch).

The retreat will be facilitated by specialists from the Texas Agricultural Extension Service and the Department of Recreation, Park and Tourism Sciences at Texas A&M University. Dr. Carson Watt, who has been working with the local group since last September, agreed that having good representation at the retreat from every community is very important. "It would be great to see at least 50-60 people show up to help develop strategies to grow tourism. One thing we've learned in the previous months is that this area has some very unique attractions. We've also seen great enthusiasm for cooperation. This is a must for successful tourism. When communities and attractions work together, the tourism product can be packaged to be much more appealing to today's travel markets. That's what this retreat is all about...making the tourism product more appealing and then working to let the market(s) know about it."

The agenda of the retreat will include an overview of the activities that led to the creation of the Southwest Texas Tourism Partnership. Participants will leave with a good understanding of how they and their business can benefit from being involved with this tourism initiative. Call today for your reservation...915-387-2880.

vehicle, belonging to the older girl's parents, had been reported stolen in Colorado when the girls went missing.

Chatham reports that he apprehended the girls before they reached their Explorer and took them into custody. The vehicle was impounded, as was a dog Chatham found in the Explorer.

Meanwhile, both girls were taken to the Tom Green County Juvenile Detention Center where they were stayed until their parents arrived from Colorado. At that time, the girls were reportedly released to their parents and the owner of the Explorer drove to Eldorado to claim the vehicle.

Interestingly, the dog found in the vehicle belonged to neither of the girls. A mother of one of the girls reportedly told Schleicher County officers that the girls had picked up the dog at a convenience store in Colorado.

Charges are pending in Colorado against one of the girls for Aggravated Theft of a Motor Vehicle.

More than just a Nursing Home
Schleicher County Nursing Home

When the time comes that you or one of your loved ones require more care than family and friends can provide, consider the advantages offered by Schleicher County Nursing Home. Unlike some distant facility in a far off town, we're right here in Eldorado. You know us and we know you...and we know how to provide the specialized care you need.

Recognized for our commitment to long term care, Schleicher County Nursing Home attracts residents from throughout the area. Our staff of trained and dedicated professionals understand that each resident is an individual with unique needs. Unlike larger facilities, Schleicher County Nursing Home doesn't take a "cookie cutter" approach to delivery of care.

Many factors contribute to the choice of a long term care facility. Proximity to loved ones, planned activities and a homelike atmosphere are but three of the reasons many have chosen Schleicher County Nursing Home as their home away from home. We appreciate the trust that so many of our neighbors have placed in us. We work hard every day to make certain that trust is deserved.

Please feel free to call or come by. We'll be happy to visit with you about the long term care options at Schleicher County Nursing Home. We'll take as much time as necessary to answer all your questions. After all, we're more than a nursing home...we're your neighbor and we want you to feel comfortable and understand all your alternatives.

Hospital board meets, reviews audit report, elects new officers

both re-elected to the board. The board then moved on to elect officers for the coming year. Randy Mankin was elected as board president and Delia Pina was chosen as the group's vice president. Shirley Joiner was named board secretary. After reviewing the audit report, the board then received a Quality Assurance Report from the Nursing Home's assistant director of nursing, Donna Aguilar. In the report, Aguilar outlined steps that the nursing home staff is taking to identify and address areas of concern in the facility. The board then entered into an executive session. The agenda listed two reasons for the closed door session: Consultation with attorney regarding anticipated litigation and physician search; and Employee matters, worker's compensation surgery approval.

After an hour the board emerged into open session and voted unanimously to continue with the physician search. They also authorized the expenditure of district funds to pay for an employee's surgery to address an injury under workers compensation rules. It was explained that the district carries no workers compensation insurance but is self-insured.

Next, the trustees reviewed the district's current financial statements and approved payment of the monthly bills. The district posted a $47,793.00 gain during April. However, that figure includes an estimated $65,000.00 tax subsidy.

Hospital Administrator Ann Fagan-Cook then delivered her monthly report to the board. She explained that the State Legislature did not impose a per-resident tax on nursing homes, as had been threatened earlier in the legislative session. Fagan-Cook explained that Governor Rick Perry had threatened to veto a proposed $5.25 per patient, per day tax and that support for it quickly evaporated.

Next, Fagan-Cook advised the board that the hospital's emergency response system, commonly referred to as Lifeline, is in need of repair. She said the equipment is obsolete and cannot be refurbished. Fagan-Cook recommended that the board authorize her to lease a new system. After discussing the matter the board voted unanimously to do just that. A one-time fee of $30 will be assessed for persons requesting Lifeline service. The hospital will charge $27 per month for the ongoing service while paying a per-line fee to the company the equipment is leased from.

Fagan-Cook then recommended sending a hospital employee to San Antonio for x-ray training. She explained that in return for the $2,000.00 training fee the hospital would gain the services of an additional person to help take x-rays. The board unanimously approved the request.

In another item related to training, Ms. Fagan-Cook recommended purchasing a set of video tapes to be used in training "certified coders." She explained that the federal government is now requiring that persons tasked with filling out billing documents be trained and certified in the appropriate way to "code" forms. She further explained that for the $595.00 cost of the tapes, the hospital could train any number of employees. The board briefly discussed the item and voted unanimously to approve the request.

Next, the board voted to reappoint several members of the hospital's medical staff including physical therapist Christy Brown, Dr. Fuller, Dr. Jackson, pharmacist Brenda Lumpkin and Steve Sessom, D.D.S. It was noted that the board must reappoint medical staff members each year.

The trustees then heard from administrative assistant Philip Sharp, who updated the group on his efforts to obtain grants through the Technology Infrastructure Fund. He explained that grant money is available to assist the hospital with a high-speed internet connection and other communication equipment necessary for tele-medicine. The board agreed to provide matching funds, provided Sharp is successful in obtaining such a grant.

The board then okayed a program that will allow the district to accept credit card payments and authorized the payment of $21,972.45 into the employee retirement fund. The once-a-year payment is funded interest earned on funds the board had earmarked for the purpose.

Next, the trustees took up discussion of a district travel policy. Hospital Administrator Ann Fagan-Cook said that the hospital has been operating without an official policy. She noted that travel in personal vehicles has been reimbursed a 21 cents per mile, a number she said was too low. She recommended that the board adopt a policy which would increase the per mile reimbursement to 31 cents and would pay a $35 per diem.

After discussing the matter at length, the board voted 5-1 in favor of a policy which will reimburse travel at the rate allowed by the Internal Revenue Service, currently 31.5 cents per mile. Also, employees will be allowed to draw travel funds in advance in the amount of $35 per day. Employees will be required to furnish receipts and return any money not spent. Voting for the measure were Judy Christian, Jim Martin, Shirley Joiner, Ricky Fuessel and John Callison. Voting against was Delia Pina.

Next the board discussed an amendment to the district's bylaws that would protect hospital employees from lawsuits if the employees are acting on behalf of the district. The board took no formal action on the matter but referred it to Administrator Ann Fagan-Cook for formal review.

Before adjourning the meeting Board President Randy Mankin welcomed Ricky Fuessel back to the board and called for a resolution of appreciation for board member Judy Christian and her term as president of the board. The trustees voted unanimously in favor of the resolution.

Ridin' in Style — Deyanira Cruz (L) and Aaron Parsley (R) won these two bikes at the Elementary School's Awards Program on Friday, May 25. The two students qualified for the drawing by having perfect attendance during a six week period.
