Football Physicals Set For July 29th

Eagle Coach Ray Morgan announced this week that physical examinations for all boys coming out for high school and jr. high football will be given the afternoon of Saturday, July 29th.

The boys will meet at the gym and leave at 2:00 p.m. that day for Sonora where the physicals will be given by Dr. Browne. An examination is required of all boys who plan to come out this fall for football.

Coach Morgan and his assistants, Pete Bryan, Kenneth Thomas, and Jack Bell are all planning to attend the State Coaching School which starts the end of July in Dallas and continues for several days.

Tim Marcum recently resigned from here and will move to Duncanville where he will be Jr. High coach. His replacement has not yet been selected.

WTCC Seeks 'Ghost Town' Information

Information, photographs and historical material on "ghost towns" are in demand for articles in national magazines, according to the West Texas Chamber of Commerce publicity department.

Several requests have been received lately seeking the names of ghost towns, pictures of them during their better days, information as to their founding and their founders, names and anecdotes about characters who were prominent in the towns, and other data about the famous landmarks of the particular town.

Any such information and material can be sent to the publicity department of the WTCC in Abilene and it will be sent on to the publishers, who will develop the information further.

"Many such ghost towns exist in West Texas, according to early records. Some of these towns have disappeared completely and others have dwindled to a store or two and a historical marker, but there is considerable interest by history buffs," publicity director Jack Nixon, Jr. stated.

"Publicity in national magazines will create more tourist interest in these spots and more tourists mean more dollars in West Texas," Nixon said.

Shirley Hubble Reported Semi-Conscious

Following her car accident of July 3rd, Shirley Hubble has made very slow and gradual improvement in the Sonora hospital. She is reported to be semi-conscious some of the time.

Post Script

While Hospital District directors met Monday night and made plans to get the project rolling it is interesting to note that other area towns had hospital programs under way:

Rankin.—Eight names will appear on the ballot July 29 when voters elect a board of directors for the Rankin County Hospital District.

McCamey.—Nineteen candidates had filed for a place on the McCamey County Hospital District Directors. Five places will be open for this initial election, which will be held on Saturday, July 29. The election will be held in the McCamey Park Building. A similar election will be held in Rankin for the Rankin County Hospital District.

Menard.—A plan for building a new hospital and nursing home without federal aid was given the blessing of Menard County Commissioners Court Monday.

At the end of an all-day session the commissioners looked over the plan for a 40-bed nursing home and 30-bed hospital, to be built on the ground floor adjacent to the present hospital.

Construction cost was estimated at $225,000 to $235,000, but County Judge John Winslow suggested that land acquisition, remodeling of the present hospital building and new equipment would make the total cost considerably higher.

He suggested that a $275,000 bond issue would be needed to give assurance of adequate funds.

The next step, he indicated, would be for interested citizens to circulate a petition to call a bond election.

Robert Lee.—Voters in the West Coke County Hospital District Saturday approved a tax rate increase by a vote of 190 to 81, authorizing the board to increase the rate to not more than 75c per $100 valuation. Rate heretofore had been 25 cents, which proved insufficient to meet running expenses. (The vote carried.)

The hospital there in Robert Lee includes a nursing wing which has been full with a waiting list of residents from the time it was opened.

PASADENA DOCTOR BOWS OUT—

Action Speeding Up On Hospital Building Plans

Meeting Monday evening at 8:00 o'clock while the sun was still high in the sky, directors decided to go out in a body in two cars to visit five possible locations as a site for the authorized hospital and nursing home, in order that each member would have a personal look and consider advantages and disadvantages of each.

Following the tour over the city they met at their regular meeting place and agreed that land owners would be contacted and costs of the different locations obtained, so that a definite decision could be made in the near future.

Monday night's meeting followed a Sunday meeting in Austin with Dr. Brame which was attended by five members—Ratliff, Watson, McGinnes, Mittel and Cain. The result of that meeting was short and simple—Dr. Brame said he would be unable to come to Eldorado. Board members had a prepared statement which they requested the Success to publish, as follows—

"Dr. Brame said to the Hospital Board members that he had concluded he could not come to Eldorado for these two reasons:

"1. His practice had grown so greatly in the past four months that he could not afford to leave it now.

"2. He had become deeply interested in a Catholic Medical Mission in Santiago Atitlan, Department So-lodo, Guatamala, Central America, and had spent a month there in this isolated village last summer and had decided to help his church-affiliated medical organization and these people a part of each summer. Should he come to Eldorado, he could not spend from one to three months each summer with these people helping them with their many medical problems."

That was that.

With the Pasadena doctors completely out of the picture Director Cain offered the following resolution which was adopted and placed on the minutes as follows:

"That the Board go on record as saying that their first responsibility now is to build as a fine a hospital as possible on the best site possible, realizing that such facility is necessary for Schleicher County to secure a doctor or a team of doctors to provide medical services and extended care with nursing home facilities as originally intended by the citizens of Schleicher County."

In the round table discussion that followed it was agreed that a meeting with the architect should be scheduled soon on a date convenient for him. Also a meeting with a hospital consultant should be arranged without delay.

The mood of the directors Monday night night was "let's get going on the hospital and the doctor business will work itself out in God's good time."

TS&GRA Convention Set In San Antonio

A sheep-shearing contest between two New Zealand champions and a couple of Texans will provide a sidelight to the 52nd annual Texas Sheep and Goat Raisers' Association convention in San Antonio July 24 to 26. Convention will be at the El Tropicano Motor Hotel.

Howard Derrick of Eldorado, president of TS&GRA, said ranchmen will study proposed legislation which may face them in coming months, as well as review recent new legislation including a minimum wage law for agriculture. The 6,000 member organization has its headquarters in San Angelo.

Mr. and Mrs. Tom Carroll of San Antonio spent Sunday night with Mr. and Mrs. Hazelwood, visited in Brady that day and returned to their home Monday.

DAR CHAPTER IS NOW 30 YEARS OLD

The El Dorado Chapter DAR was 30 years old last Saturday, having been organized on July 15, 1937 in the home of Mrs. C. M. McWhorter, by Mrs. W. O. Alexander, the Organizing Regent with the following 14 members: Mrs. W. O. Alexander, Mrs. Forrest Alexander, Miss John Alexander, Mmes. S. T. Gilmore, Ernest S. Goens, Ernest C. Hill, J. E. Hill, L. M. Hoover, C. M. McWhorter, Jess Koy, Allen Tatum, H. Q. Lyles, John Neel, Roy Tennison.

Regents through the years have been Mmes. W. O. Alexander, Ernest C. Hill, Carl McWhorter, Gladys Edens, L. M. Hoover, V. G. Tisdale, J. E. Tisdale, J. E. Hill, John Luedeck, Mary D. Coupe, W. F. Meador Sr., J. B. Montgomery, Ernest S. Goens, Luke Thompson and Miss John Alexander. The Chapter now has 50 members.

Members who have passed away have been Mmes. S. T. Gilmore, Gladys Edens, Bert Page, J. E. Tisdale, Joab Campbell, John Luedeck, Coralie Menecke, Roy Tennison and W. F. Meador, Sr.

Members who have married since organizing were Lucile Oglesby, now Mrs. Allen Tatum of Brownwood, Frances Robinson, now Mrs. Alvin Tracy of McAllen, Texas, and Betty Alexander, now Mrs. J. W. Ellis of Lewisville, Texas.

Much of the credit for Eldorado having a DAR Chapter is due to Mrs. John Rae, mother of Mrs. Elizabeth Powell. Mrs. Alexander did not know that she was eligible for membership in the DAR. Mrs. Rae sponsored her for membership in the Pocahontas Chapter of San Angelo and she was a member there from February 1930 until she was appointed Organizing Regent for a chapter in Eldorado, by Mrs. John Allen Walker of Brownwood. Since 1935 until recently Mrs. Alexander has been engaged in Genealogical research to aid members to establish their lineages for membership.

The DAR is strictly a Patriotic Organization which strives to foster education, to promote patriotism, love of country and to preserve historical facts of our early history.—Rep.

Sharp Knives Are Safer To Use

College Station, Texas.—Do you realize that the kitchen knife is used approximately 130 times a day? This is the estimate projected by Mrs. Doris Myers, Extension home management specialist at Texas A&M University.

Obviously, anything that is so vital to running a smooth operation should be kept in top-notch condition.

It is much easier to keep knives sharp than to recondition them after they become dull. For sharpening knives, many makers of fine cutlery recommend using a steel similar to that used by butchers. A fine, flat sharpening stone is also recommended for sharpening fine knives. Mechanical or electrical sharpeners are sometimes preferred. From a safety standpoint, sharp knives require less effort to use and cause fewer accidents than dull ones.

Be certain that knives are thoroughly clean and dry before storing them. This is essential with a hard steel knife, which will rust easily. Never leave a knife soaking in water. Not only is the blade likely to rust, but the handle may loosen, and, if wood, it may soften. Knives should never be placed in a drawer unprotected. Racks in drawers or on the wall are the most convenient storage. The cardboard protector on knives when purchased may be used for temporary storage.

A magnetic wall holder is convenient. The knives are merely placed against the rack where a magnet holds them in place.

On The Screen . . .

Glenn Ford Has A 'Rage' To Live

Rage, the new motion picture which comes in color to the Eagle Drive-In on Sunday and Monday nights, is perhaps more important for what it represents than for what it is.

It is the product of two do-it-yourself film companies which skirted red tape to work on the first bonafide full partnership venture ever undertaken by American and Mexican movie producers.

Rage, known in Latin America as El Mal, has two Americans as top stars (Glenn Ford and Stella Stevens) with Gilberto Gazcon of Mexico as producer-director-writer and Richard Goldstone of Hollywood as executive director.

With the exception of a couple of Americans long resident in Mexico, the rest of the cast is Mexican. The film was made entirely in Mexico, but in the English language and aimed toward the world markets. The crew, except for a Hollywood makeup artist and hairdresser, was entirely Mexican headed by Rosalio Solano, one of the western world's top cameramen.

The participating companies are Cinematografica Jalisco, a pioneer Mexican film firm, and Hollywood's Columbia Pictures.

The product of this interesting unofficial Alliance for Progress is a suspense drama which sets in motion a race against time as a doctor struggles desperately to outdistance the deadly march of rabies. It presents Ford in the strongest portrayal of his recent film assignments as the drinking and often drunken doctor of a construction camp in the barren backlands of Mexico.

Fully half of the running time is given over to the efforts of Ford, bitten by his own rabid dog, to reach a hospital where he can be given the counteracting shots.

Accompanied by David R. Eynosa, who does a fine job as a Mexican worker on the project, and joined along the way by Miss Stevens, a good time girl who had visited the camp, Ford sets out for help with a time limit of 48 hours before the situation becomes hopeless.

The tension builds and mounts as they encounter a collapsing bridge, a boiling jeep radiator, no gas in the tank, the desert heat, a commandeered bus breaking down until finally the town is sighted and the film reaches its finale as Ford races down the road, presumably for the hospital and help.

There are also medical aspects of the rabies angle which test credibility, but which surely were checked for authenticity by the producers.

Rage might be considered two stories. The first half is devoted almost entirely to the arrival of a group of women in the camp to entertain the workers from an improvised truckbed stage and probably in other situations as well. Almost immediately, a strange romantic attachment builds between Ford, who keeps the bottle handier than the thermometer, and Miss Stevens. It is a romance of animosity because Ford is still trying to drown a feeling that he was guilty in the death of his wife and baby son, a bit of flashbacking neatly told.

Ford gives little impression for the most part that he has any recollection of medicine's Hippocratic oath until he goes on a mission of mercy to attend the pregnant wife of Reynosa. It is during this sequence that he learns he has been infected by rabies and has only the 48 hours to find help. Some latent feeling of the doctor's duty to his patient rises to dominance and the delay makes the time hurdle a more serious obstacle.

Ford is the dominant character of the film, giving a good performance of a man resigned to self-pitying drunkenness, whose slow death by dissipation gives way to a rage to live.

Miss Stevens, performing in what must have been a grueling, uncomfortable location, clouds her natural beauty in dust, dirt and slovenliness to achieve a role of personality.

Farm Safety Week is July 24-29. Each day families are reminded to practice safety. For instance, July 24 is Reverence For Life Day; July 25, Safety Begins At Home; July 26, Safe Use of Farm and Home Chemicals; July 27, Prevent Falls; July 28, Highway Safety and July 29, Safety During Recreation. This column will deal briefly with the above topics. This week farm safety applies to all of us in Schleicher county, as our town is considered rural being under 2500 population.

The first day of the 24th Annual National Farm Safety Week emphasizes a "Reverence for Life."

With over 8,000 farm residents killed and 740,000 injured last year in accidents, it is time for farm residents to take time to be careful. Be Safety Conscious.

Everyone should be thankful if they have had no serious farm accidents but they should be alert to, and aware of, the ordinary hazards of daily life. They should be prepared for the unexpected, know what to do in an emergency, be open-minded to safety suggestions, and correct all hazards when they are found.

Schleicherites are urged to remember that Farm Safety Week is the time to stop accidents which can cost you money, time, suffering or even your life. Have a "Reverence for Life" and act to insure the safety of yourself and others.

"Safety Begins at Home" is the thought for today in the Farm Safety Week's daily emphasis series. Everyone knows that neat, orderly farm homes are safer, more pleasant homes.

In order to prevent many of the accidents which happen around the house, caution must be taken while doing housework, caring for the family, during periods of relaxation and home recreation. Accident prevention in the home must be a 24-hour job.

Last year 1,800 deaths occurred in farm homes and 270,000 disabling injuries resulted from other accidents.

With the increase in use of heavy equipment the number of accidents resulting from this use has also increased and today the National Farm Safety Week emphasizes the "Safe Use of Farm Machinery."

Over 1,000 people will be killed this year from tractor accidents and the number of injuries from tractor and other equipment accidents may be over 200,000.

Today, farmers are reminded of the dangers involved in the use of heavy equipment and warned to keep all machinery in safe operating condition with all guards and safety devices in place. Always stop the machines when servicing, unclogging or adjusting and refuel after the motor has cooled.

To avoid tractor upsets or backward flips, the operators should slow down when turning or on rough ground; hitch only to the drawbar; set wheels wide; and be cautious when working on slopes, all uneven ground or around ditches.

Remember that the labor saved by good equipment is worthwhile only if the machinery is used safely to avoid injuries to the farmer, his family or help.

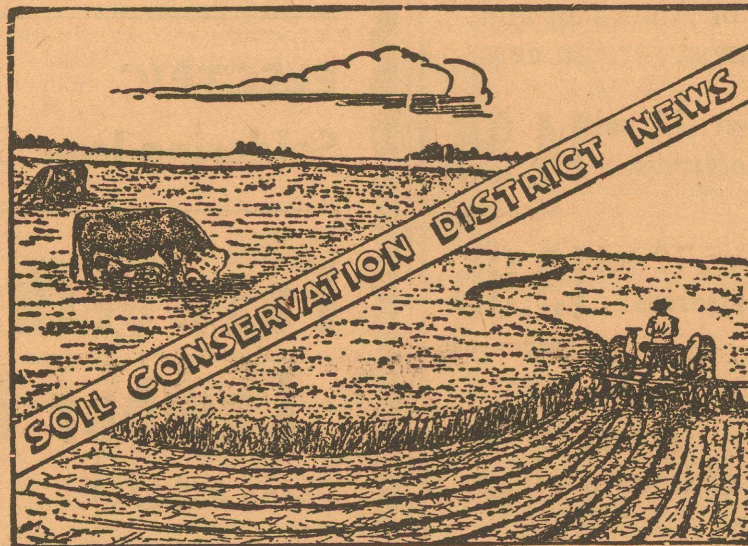

The last day of the National Farm Safety Week emphasizes that the farmer should take safety seriously even during recreation.

Be careful around all bodies of water and teach youngsters how to swim. When boating or fishing observe all safety regulations and learn the capacities of the boat used.

Agriculturists should follow and teach others to follow all rules for storing and use of firearms.

You are urged to include safety in vacation planning for camping, hunting or fishing trips and learn what to do in case of an accident.

Don't wait for opportunity to come; it's already here.

Board of Supervisors of the Eldorado-Divide S.C.D.

Ben Hext ..... Chairman
Otis Deal ..... Vice-Chairman
Walter C. Pope III ..... Secretary
Voy Lee Butts ..... Member
Milton Rathbone ..... Member

Crop yields in the Eldorado-Divide Soil and Water Conservation District are almost certain to be low this year on dry cropland. Water, one of the most important elements in crop production, has not been received from rainfall to meet the needs for good crop yields. Some farmers who irrigate have had to supply most of the water used by their crops, from their irrigation wells. However, some of the irrigated land has received rainfall that has helped supply a good part of water used by crops being grown.

Good crop yields can not be obtained if water needed by crops is not available from the time the crop is planted until it is made. Irrigation before crops are planted is one of the most important irrigations that is done to help supply the water needs of the crop from the time it is planted until harvest. By applying enough irrigation water to fill the soil to full field capacity, water is available for plant use through the entire crop year. Water from this irrigation is stored in the entire soil depths from which plant will use moisture and helps prevent the crop from going into stress during the hot summer months. However, the need and importance of any irrigation should not be minimized.

The fact that irrigation water is available for crop use in the amount to supply the maximum needs of the crop, does not assure good yields being made. Without proper irrigation water management good yields can not be attained. In addition to having water available for irrigation, where to irrigate and how much water to apply must be known. Also, the water must be applied without causing waste or erosion.

When should crops that are being grown under irrigation be watered? Should the time to start irrigating be when the crops are being grown start to wilt and suffer from lack of moisture? Almost without fail this happens on dry cropland in this area every year, and consequently yields are low. The answer then as to when to irrigate is simply by or before the time the plants need the water. This can be determined by digging a hole to the root zone depth and checking the moisture content of the soil. If the moisture content is about 50% of field capacity it is time to begin irrigating.

The amount of water to apply can be determined at the same time the moisture content of the soil is determined. The amount applied should be the number of inches needed to bring the moisture content up to full field capacity. To accomplish this the water lost by in-efficiency of irrigation must be considered. Therefore, the gross amount applied will be more than the net inches needed.

Establishing and maintaining a good irrigation system is essential in attaining irrigation water management. A poor delivery system can waste from 25% up to more than 50% of the water available for irrigation. Excessive grade, excessive side fall or a reverse grade also adds to the inefficiency of irrigation.

Water received from rainfall can be wasted and also cause soil erosion on irrigated fields with excessive sidefall and grade.

The conservation of water for the production of all crops should be of utmost importance to every citizen of Schleicher county and especially to those who operate the land. Since the average rainfall is low, it is very important that all rainfall received be conserved for crop use. By making use of all rainfall, and applying additional water when needed and in the amount needed, irrigation farmers can supply the water needed for

Farm Safety Week Is Set July 23-29

College Station, Tex.-The week of July 23-29 has been proclaimed National Farm Safety Week by President Lyndon B. Johnson. The President in signing the proclamation emphasized, "Agriculture remains America's first and most important industry. It supplies food for our people and many millions throughout the world, and a vast measure of the raw materials used in the making of other products. "Therefore, whatever diminishes or impedes the efficiency and productivity of our farmers is detrimental to men and women everywhere." The objective of the National Farm Safety Week is to draw attention to the safety problems of farm and rural people and suggest ways to prevent accidents on the farm, in the home, and on the highways. "Disabling injuries and the resultant economic losses are at all-time high. Not only is a personal hardship involved, but we as a nation cannot tolerate the drain on our rural manpower and economic vitality in this time of critical world food needs," Leon J. Urben, manager of the National Safety Council Farm Department, points out. In view of this costly loss of economy and the tragic loss of life, President Johnson makes this plea to America's farmers and their families: "I urge all persons who live on farms, and those persons or groups allied with agriculture, to respond to applying full energy to the ongoing task of reducing accidents at work, in homes, at recreation, and on the highways."

Hatchet Jobs Come With Preludes

New movie coming Wednesday and Thursday of next week to the Eagle Drive-In: You gotta have a gimmick, and the Horror Horn will be activated on the screen every time a hatchet man goes after a victim in Chamber of Horrors. The good Brothers Warner offer this service so the squeamish might look away. The chop-chop action all takes place out of camera view-but the Fear Flasher-Horror Horn is a nice gimmick, don't you think? Stars are strictly second cabin, but Tony Curtis makes a brief appearance. Plot revolves around a mad man who cuts off his own hand to escape from the handcuffs the cops have on him, and then comes back for revenge with a set of lethal silverware that fits into his metal arm stump like socket wrenches. Locale is a wax museum of famous murders, which just goes to prove that Warners really didn't burn down that set in 1953's House of Wax.

$25 Fine Assessed In 'Following' Case

A three-man and three-woman jury Wednesday morning found David William Winter guilty of following a vehicle too closely, and assessed him a $25 fine, in Judge Tom Ratliff's county court.

The case, State of Texas vs. David William Winter, had Clyde Vinson as defense attorney and County Attorney T. P. Robinson presented the state's case.

The defendant was charged with following a highway patrol car too closely last January 18th, and testimony was given by two patrolmen.

The jury deliberated about half an hour before returning with their guilty verdict.

LTC Williams Cited

Ft. Rucker, Ala.—Lt. Col. Robert H. Williams, deputy director of the Army Aviation School's Department of School Support at Ft. Rucker, was recently awarded a Certificate of Achievement by Col. M. H. Parson, assistant commandant of the School. The master Army aviator was cited for meritorious service as commander of the 4th Training Battalion, 1st Training Brigade, U. S. Army Training Center, Field Artillery, Ft. Sill, Okla., from June 1966 to June 1967.

A veteran of World War II and the Korean War, LTC Williams first entered the Army in 1942. He is the son of Mrs. Ruth C. Williams of Eldorado, Texas.

Change In Time For Historical Meeting

The Schleicher County Historical Survey Committee will meet with Mr. and Mrs. Jess Koy tomorrow night (Friday, the 21st) at their ranch 9 miles east of town on the Menard highway. The time has been changed to 7:30 instead of 8:00 as stated earlier.

In keeping with the spirit of the organization, this meeting will feature an old fashioned box supper, each lady's box to be limited to sandwiches and cookies. Make the box pretty by wrapping it in gift paper and decorating with a bow. All members are invited. There will be an out of town speaker. —Miltia Hill, chairman, Schleicher County Historical Committee.

They also went by the Grand Canyon and the Carlsbad Caverns. They were away from here about 9 days.

Jerry Edmiston's address, for benefit of friends who might like to write him, is as follows: Jerry Edmiston SN B 713610 Box 35, Pre-Commissioning Detail USS Catskill (MCS-1) Fleet Training Center U. S. Naval Station San Diego, California 92136

Austin, Tex.—Texas Railroad Commission has turned up the oil allowable to a record high 48% potential—retroactive to July 1—to meet demands created by the Middle East shoot-out.

Commission's extraordinary mid-month emergency order was the third of the kind since the Arabian oil cutoff. It boosted the allowable to 3,830,560 barrels a day—higher than during latter part of the 1957 Suez oil crisis and probably the highest since wide-open production days of 1948 when producers were encouraged to build up war-drained crude supplies.

New increase adds 131,000 barrels a day to July allowable, which was raised to 42.9% on the first of the month. Major purchasers told the Commission added production was necessary.

Allowable was 33.8% when the Arab-Israeli shooting started in June. Commission raised it slightly—to 35.9%—in mid-June, retroactive to June 1, and on July 1 announced the 42.9% order.

August allowable is due to be set this week.

Since the percentage factor was first used in 1953, the 37.5%-of-potential production was the highest adjustment used until the present Middle East crisis erupted.

In addition to the major effect on the state's general economy, a steadily climbing allowable appears likely to increase Texas' governmental tax income substantially. It has been estimated that the July 1 order would mean a $53,617 a day increase in state tax income—or a total of $1.6 million through this month. Obviously, the increase now will be greater.

If the crisis continues for several months, the added income will be a major factor in shaping special session tax needs next year.

Meanwhile, Chairman Jim C. Langdon emphasized that the Commission is determined to avoid repetition of the situation that followed the Suez emergency when oil industry suffered for 2½ years working off surplus stocks which piled up as a result of the big allowable boost a decade ago.

Attorney General's Opinions
State can pay for telephones and rent electric typewriters for use by legislators in their home district offices, Atty. Gen. Crawford Martin has ruled.

In other opinions, Martin concluded that: —New law reorganizing Texas National Guard Armory Board and extending terms of members to six years is constitutional.

—Dallas County auditor has authority jointly with the county's hospital administrator to establish and keep accounting procedures for the Dallas hospital district subject to board of managers' approval.

—Bee County attorney and 36th district attorney must report to district courts and county clerks all their collections of public funds (or file negative reports if they have received none).

Farm Market Expansion
Agriculture Commissioner John White announced the initiation of what he called "the most aggressive market expansion campaign in the history of Texas agriculture."

White said the marketing drive will include efforts to present the true quality image of all Texas food and fiber products as well as specific programs to bolster markets for Texas-produced and processed commodities.

Hurricane "Warnings" Out
The 1967 hurricane season has arrived, and coastal residents had better not forget it, warns Department of Public Safety Director Col. Homer Garrison Jr.

Pamphlets on hurricane precautions are being distributed to local civil defense offices in coastal counties.

Garrison said too many people "develop a false sense of security" after small hurricane experience or having been "on the fringes" of a major storm, and this attitude can be fatal.

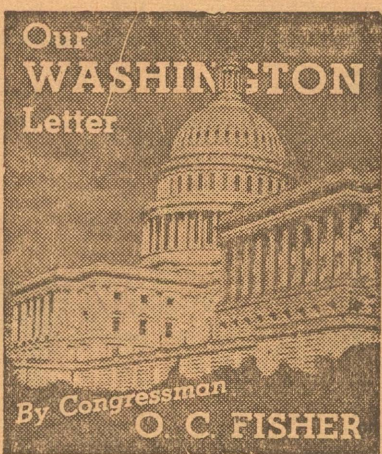

Three major hurricanes have hit the Texas coast this century, including Carla in 1961.

Short Snorts . . .
Lieut. Gov. Preston Smith will become acting governor while Connally is on his African safari.

State Supreme Court agreed to review question of whether a home for the aged affiliated with the Methodist Church is a property tax-exempt charity (Lower Courts said the facility, Hilltop Village Inc., is not).

Texas Water Rights Commission warned of acute summer water shortage in Guadalupe River and tributaries above Comfort.

There have been 221 known rabies cases in Texas this year, according to Texas Veterinary Medical Association.

A wave of Negro riots in northern cities is proving embarrassing to pro-rights Congressmen and others who, with an eye on the Negro vote bloc, have in recent years rammed radical civil rights legislation through the Congress, with the warning that if this was not done riots would surely occur.

Last week Gov. Richard J. Hughes of New Jersey, a civil rights advocate, toured riot-torn Jersey City with the City's Mayor, during which he said he was "shocked" to see a Negro couple, driving an expensive car, stop in the middle of a street, jump out and begin to grab shoes from the broken window of a store. This was but one of hundreds of stores being looted. Shades of the Congo!

This, however, was nothing new. It happened during the Watts riot, again at Cleveland recently, and also in Boston—to mention a few.

A Stokely Carmichael-Martin Luther King struggle for leadership of the Negro masses is believed by observers to be a factor in the new outbreaks.

Carmichael recently reminded Negroes that Newark is "already over 50% Negroes," and has called for a Negro take-over there. "To hell with the laws of the U. S.," he screamed, "Negroes are not bound to obey laws legislated by white persons. If a white man tries to walk over you, kill him! One match and you can refuelate. Burn, baby, burn!"

King and Carmichael, while vying for money-making leadership, appear together at some demonstrations. They both urge Negroes to resist the draft, and to ignore or protest other laws.

This agitation, with riots and bloodshed, is undoubtedly doing serious harm to legitimate rights of the law-abiding element in the Negro community.

Encouraged by politicians, some preachers, and radical civil rights leaders, riots are becoming an accepted way of life for the more militant. A recent survey by Brandeis University revealed that this way of "protesting" is being accepted as the most effective weapon by vast numbers of the Carmichael-King contingent.

Not more laws, but a firm and vigorous police crack-down on the criminal element, is the best answer to this challenge to law and order in America.
