Another Rain Gives Additional Boost To Entire County

Coming on the heels of the big rain eight days earlier, Schleicher county Saturday night was favored with another good rain that averaged about one inch, county-wide.

Farmers report that their feed crops were coming up fine, and some said they were ready to plant cotton as soon as they could get in the fields.

"Conditions can sure change fast around here," jubilantly remarked one, and another put it this way, "We're really back in business!"

7-Year Sentence Given For Forgery

The only case to come before court here Monday was one for forgery, and the defendant, Johnny Ray Price, was given a sentence of seven years. The trial was before District Judge Mays.

The case stemmed from a hot check given to Williams Car Lot here several months ago.

On the court docket were two cases of workmen's compensation but both were settled out of court.

The Kindergartners of the local school will present a program at 1:30 p.m. today, Thursday, in the school auditorium. Both the morning and evening groups will participate.

Law Officers To Be Honored Tonight

Be sure to attend the Law Enforcement Appreciation Program on Thursday, April 24 at 8:00 p.m. in the High School Auditorium.

The band will provide entertainment and Dr. C. L. Kay will be the guest speaker.

Refreshments are to be served in the cafeteria following the program. There is no admission charge and everyone is urged to be present.

Sonora Race Meet To Start This Week-End

Sonora will be host to many racing fans and horsemen when two weekends of horse racing, sponsored by Sonora Park Association begin the last week in April, and conclude the first week end in May. Dates for the Sutton County annual Spring Race Meet are scheduled April 26-27 and May 3-4.

The top attraction, the West Texas Futurity, has an estimated purse of $20,000 to $25,000.

Ten races are scheduled for the first day of the meet, with the Futurity Trials the feature attraction. Derby Trials are set for Sunday, April 27. The big event, West Texas Futurity, is planned for May 3rd.

Dances are held each Saturday night.

County Auditor Bill OK'ed By Austin Committee

The House Committee on Counties has recommended passage of a bill by Rep. Hilary Doran of Del Rio to abolish the office of county auditor in Schleicher county, during the current session of the Legislature in Austin.

The committee voted to suspend its rules automatically sending all bills to a subcommittee for study, and voted to recommend passage of House Bill 557.

The bill would do away with the office after the present term of the auditor has expired. After that term, his duties would be performed by other officers. Doran told the legislators the bill has been requested by the Commissioners Court of Schleicher county.

The present 2-year term will expire June 1st, 1969.

Eagle Band To Go To Cisco Saturday

Saturday, the Eagle Band will go to Cisco Jr. College for the Region VII U.L.L. Concert & Sight-Reading Contests.

The Band will be trying to win the Sweepstakes Award for the 3rd year.

Mason, Ranger and Eldorado are the only bands in Class A eligible for Sweepstakes. This is also the year the Class A Honor Band will be selected. The Band is scheduled last and will perform at 4:50 p.m. Other Class A bands to compete are Glen Rose, Junction, DeLeon, Goldthwaite, Menard, Santa Anna, Eden, Mason, Ranger, Dublin, Sonora, Albany, and Cross Plains.

The Band will leave at 10:00 a.m. and will travel in two chartered buses.

New here in Eldorado are Nicholas Del Giudice in Humphrey apartment and Mrs. Robert Cochran in a Crosby apartment.

Mr. and Mrs. Arch Mittel have had as their guests for a week, their daughter, Mrs. W. H. Harrison, Jr., and children, Leslie and Billy, of Corsicana. Mr. Harrison joined them for the week end and they returned home Monday.

The only salaried man on the job was Penny Pennington, but no less than five were at work when visitors came by the roping arena last week to check on construction progress. Some were marking pipe and cutting to proper length and others were welding them into place.

Recent rains had made fields too wet to plow and three young farmers, all experienced welders, were there donating their services. Billy Williams, David Powell and Earl Lloyd were operating cutting and welding torches. In addition to Linthicum and Pennington there was Fred Gillaspay who was helping with measuring and marking pipe for cutting.

Some of the dimensions as well as the plans are impressive. The arena itself will be 50 yards wide and 120 yards long. Linthicum explained that when all pens and fences have been built, all the iron pipe will be scraped clean of rust and dirt, then there will be a sealer coat applied and finally they will be painted—probably white. No doubt about it these men are planning something real fancy and it's going to be first class.

Work seems to be progressing steadily and with more rain this past week end more voluntary labor can be expected. But Linthicum said this week, "We're soon going to need more pipe."

Juniors Honored Seniors April 12th

The Junior Class of Eldorado High School honored the 1969 graduating Seniors with a banquet and dance on April 12.

"The Golden West Saloon" was the theme for the evening and not an inch of the Memorial Building was left undecorated. There were even swinging saloon doors.

Food for the evening was prepared by mothers of the Junior class. Dale Preston was chairman of the food committee and a delicious menu was served. A group of the freshman girls served as waitresses.

Special entertainment for the evening was a rousing song and dance by some beautiful dancing girls. Those "girls" were Bob Whitten, Steve Sykes, Jimbo Overstreet, Keith Williams, Walter Speck and Charlie Adams.

"Ricci and the Rollers" provided the music for dancing.

Daylight Saving Goes Into Effect Sunday

"Daylight Saving Time" rolls around again this Sunday for a six-month run, here in Texas as well as the rest of the nation.

Official change-over time is 2:00 a.m. Sunday, but the easiest way to take care of it is to set your clocks ahead an hour just before you go to bed Saturday night. If you retire at 10:30 p.m., set all clocks to 11:30. If you forget to take care of it, you will be an hour late for church on Sunday morning.

While there has been some agitation in the State Legislature to exempt Texas from daylight saving, the measure has not gained enough support for passage at this time, or to have any effect at change-over time. Daylight Saving Time will be in effect from the last Sunday in April to the last Sunday in October.

Stated purpose is to allow an extra hour of daylight late in the day to work in yards, etc.

And to know which way to move your clock, remember the saying, "Spring Forward, Fall Backward."

I simply can not believe our good fortune in getting these life saving rains. Imagine it—an almost county wide average of four inches in the last 8 or 10 days! What a pleasure to see green fields and green pastures once again!

There are parts of the country where Spring rains are so commonplace that they are regarded as something unwanted and unwelcome but not so in the "great country." We always want rain and try to keep our business in such shape that when the rain falls we are ready.

To avoid tough and leathery fried egg whites use low to moderate heat and never over-cook.

Broiling steaks? Then use tender cuts. The most tender cuts of steaks are tender loin, porter house, T-bone, strip loin, sirloin, club and rib steaks.

Here's a salad that will whet appetites. Section an orange or a grapefruit over a bowl of crisp salad green, and toss with oil, salt and pepper. Dice a ripe avocado over the top, sprinkle lime or lemon juice over all, and toss once, lightly. Try it with chicken dinners!

Grated carrot and raisin salad is a year-round favorite. For a special version, try this: plump raisins in hot water, drain and cool. Mold in lemon gelatin with grated carrot. Add a bit of finely chopped preserved ginger.

Tim has slipped away again—but dinner's ready on time if your canned foods shelf is well stocked. Cut canned corned beef into cubes. Add condensed tomato soup, drained canned onions and marjoram to taste. Mix gently and heat. Serve over hot parsley butter rice.

Entertaining a crowd? Why not feature barbecued chicken? Its price will be kind to your pocket-book since it's one of the most economical meats at today's counter. You can be sure it will satisfy the heartiest appetite!

Scuffers call it "rabbit food", but "rabbit food" it's not. The relish tray with its crisp carrot curls and carrot sticks and tangy radishes is soon emptied. For a special treat, cook some small carrots whole. Add melted butter with chopped parsley and lemon juice to bring out the mild flavor.

Bread and potatoes are not necessarily the culprits.

The first two items of food usually dropped by the weight watcher are bread and potatoes. This is not necessarily the right thing to do, since it is the total amount of calories consumed in a day that counts, says Miss Sally Springer, Texas A&M University Extension foods and nutrition specialist.

Four or more servings from the bread group (enriched or whole grain) should be included in each day's diet. This does not mean that the servings should always be bread as such, for the bread group includes noodles, spaghetti, and cereals. The nutrients furnished by the bread group are B vitamins, iron, a small amount of protein and a large amount of starch.

It is the starch which furnishes a cheap source of energy, but that also contributes a large portion of calories. One slice of bread, however, is not particularly high in calories, Miss Springer points out, unless butter and jelly are added.

One slice of white bread (average slice) contains about 63 calories, while one slice of whole wheat bread has 55 calories. By adding one pat of butter (51 calories) and one level tablespoon of jelly (50) calories the caloric value of the bread is increased by 101 calories. Thus one slice of white bread becomes 164 calories and one slice of whole wheat bread becomes 156 calories.

The plain white potato need not be such a terrible offender for the weight watcher, either, if it is eaten plain without butter, sour cream or mayonnaise. In many instances, it is the dressings (sauces, salad dressings, gravies) or seasonings (butter, fats or oils) served with the vegetables that increase the caloric value of the food.

The weight watcher would do well to select a balanced diet including foods such as meat, milk or milk products, breads and cereals, vegetables and fruits, says Miss Springer.

The right party food does not always suggest itself when the occasion arises but these "Tangy Cheese Squares" are winners and you may just want to have a few tucked away in the freezer just in case. Served with tomato aspic or a tart gelatin salad these squares make brides luncheon or a graduate brunches easy affairs to cope with.

Tangy Cheese Squares
4 jars "Vera Sharp" Cheese;
3 jars Mayonnaise (measure in cheese jars);
Garlic salt, paprika, tobasco, and (Lea and Perrins sauce (all added to your taste).

Mix in mixer until smooth. This will spread about 36 pieces of sandwich bread.

Remove crusts. Spread each slice of bread and make a stack of 3 slices of bread. Spread mixture on sides so as to have stack completely "iced" or spread. Place stacks on cookie sheet and freeze, uncovered.

When frozen remove from freezer and cut each stack into quarters. Cover sides with cheese mixture and refreeze. When completely frozen the squares may be stored in freezer in plastic containers, bags or boxes.

When needed: Bake on lightly greased cookie sheet at 400 degrees F. for about 10 minutes or until squares are golden brown. Makes 48 squares.

W. Page Wagon Boss For Boys Ranch Drive

San Angelo, Tex.—There's no better way to get a roundup off to a good start than with an old-fashioned Western barbecue.

And that's just what will happen at West Texas Boys Ranch Saturday, April 19, when the Ranch will host the newly-named Foreman and Wagon Bosses of its 1969 Roundup for their first general meeting.

Wilson Page of Eldorado, who has been named Wagon Boss for Schleicher county, is expected to attend the 11:00 a.m. barbecue.

Gene Newman, chairman of the Roundup, and Morris Craig, Executive Director of West Texas Boys Ranch, will be in charge of the meeting, while Kenneth Howell, Ranch Superintendent, will have charge of the barbecue.

Featured in the menu will be barbecue, red beans and potato salad. Boys at the Ranch will help with the serving.

During the meeting, plans for the 1969 Roundup will be discussed. The Roundup is the annual fund raising drive for West Texas Boys Ranch, which is supported entirely by free will donations.

Newman said that these donations can take any form—cash gifts, gifts of any kind of livestock "from aardvarks to zebras," or commodities such as grain, cotton, mohair, wool, fruits, vegetables, or whatever. The items donated will in turn be sold, and the money used to help provide food, clothing and shelter for the 85 boys now living at the Ranch, and in Ranch maintenance.

To help make the Roundup a success, Newman explained that the West Texas area covered by the Ranch is divided into three regions, which are in turn subdivided into districts. Each district has a Foreman, and each county within the district has a Wagon Boss.

These men are responsible for promoting the Roundup within their area by contacting producers and ranchers on a local level to get them to make donations to the Ranch.

Region One contains District 1 through 7. District 6 has Coke, Concho, Irion, Menard, Runnels, Schleicher, Sterling and Tom Green counties.

Members of the Ranch's Board of Directors have been invited to the barbecue.

Contour rows, filled with water from end to end, looked good as the result of the recent rain which fell on cropland in the District on the 11th and 12th of April. Now that moisture is available planting in full force will soon be under way in the District. Even though contour farming might be one of the minor soil and water conservation practices, it is one of the major factors which helped to hold water on the land where it fell.

The preparation of the land for the next year's crop usually starts when the harvest of the existing crop is completed. Preparation of the land for a crop plays a big part in the conservation of rainfall for crop use. Farming operations carried out following the contour (level guide lines) always assures the farmer that more water will be held for crop use, than when farming operations are carried out with rows running down the slope. Each furrow and bed, on fields farmed on the contour, help hold the water where it falls for crop use. Each furrow serves as a basin to hold the water and gives it the time needed to soak into the soil. On the other hand rows that run down the slope drain the water needed for crop production off the land and carry rich soil with it.

Contour farming is recognized, by good conservation farmers, as an important soil and water conservation practice needed in combination with other needed conservation practices. The cost of contour farming is very small as compared to benefits received. Since contour farming does not require any additional farm equipment and very little, if any added farming cost, it is usually of the first conservation practices applied.

When row crops are planted on dry cropland, contour farming should always be practiced. To be sure that the true contour is being followed and proper vertical interval is used, a good instrument is very important. Also, someone qualified to do a good job should assist in running the contour lines.

When using contour guides or existing level terraces for contour farming, the best system of rows to hold the most water is usually obtained by using each guide one half the distance to its adjacent lines. However, this is not always a hundred percent correct, due to the slope change and topography between lines. By observing how water stands in the contour rows, farmers can determine where row changes can be made to keep more of the rows more nearly on the contour.

Farmers in each soil and water conservation district can receive the assistance of the Soil Conservation Service technicians, assisting the District, in running terraces and guide lines for contour farming on their land. Assistance in planning and applying all the needed soil, water and plant conservation practices on all agricultural land can be obtained from the Soil Conservation Service. Cost-share assistance in applying enduring type conservation practices is available through the Great Plains Conservation Program, administered by the Soil Conservation Service, and from the Schleicher County ASCS office.

Speedy Eagles Win In Regional Meet—Set School Record

Coach Sherwood Barker's speedy Eldorado Eagles won three first places in the regional track and field meet this past week end in Lubbock.

The potent 440 yard relay team composed of Bob Page, Wayne Doyle, Keith Williams, and Paul Page showed the folks in the Panhandle how to run as they posted the quarter mile in 43.5. This was one-tenth of a second off the regional meet record; however, this is a new record for our school, bettering the old record of 43.6 set back in 1964.

One of the oldest records of the Region I was broken by Paul Page in the 440 yard dash; Paul's new record is 49.5. The old record was 49.8, set by Jim Runge of Eldorado in 1961.

The team's other first place finish was made by Wayne Doyle who ran a 10.1 into a strong wind. This was a particularly big win for Wayne because he out-ran Jimmy Bankston of Junction whom he has been battling all year long.

Albert Torres placed fourth in the mile run. Albert has been a consistent runner, and has gathered in many points for the team in his event. He is a senior whom we will miss next season.

Others who made the regional meet but failed to qualify or score were Mike Olson in the pole vault and Alan Corbell in the shot put and discus. These boys are also seniors and their loss will also be felt.

The first places won by the "Mean Green" will advance to the State Meet May 2 and 3. This puts our sprint relay team in the top eight in the state, as well as placing Wayne and Paul in the top eight in their events.

The Eagles will spend the next two weeks preparing for the State Meet, and possibly one meet between now and then.

Congratulations boys, you did a fine job and we are proud of you.

Kotsch-Lively Vows Read Monday Evening

Miss Jo Helen Lively became the bride of Mr. John F. Kotsch of Fort Worth, Texas, in a double-ring ceremony in the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. F. M. Bradley, Jr., at 6:00 o'clock in the evening on Monday, April 21st.

The Reverend Toney McMillan, pastor of The First Presbyterian Church in Eldorado, officiated.

The bride wore a street length dress of white cotton lace over pale blue linen with a veiled white pill box hat.

Honor attendants were Miss Judy Ann Lively and Jamie Dobs Lively, sister and brother of the bride.

A reception followed the ceremony, after which the couple left on a short wedding trip.

The bridegroom is the son of Mrs. Charles LaPlante of Klomath Falls, Oregon, and John L. Kotsch of Seminole, Okla.

The couple will be at home in Fort Worth after May 1st.

Miss Frankie Blaylock Honored At Baylor

Waco, Tex.—Frankie Blaylock, a Baylor University senior from Eldorado, was one of about 40 Baylor women honored during the 7th annual Woman's Day, April 17, at Baylor.

Miss Blaylock, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Billy F. Blaylock, was honored as the Most Representative Woman Physical Education Major. The award was presented by Delta Psi Kappa, national physical education fraternity, at a banquet climaxing the special day.

Theme for the day's activities was "Both Sides Now," emphasizing the fact that the woman of today cannot be a one-dimensional personality concerned with only one area of life.

Guest of honor for the day was Mrs. Elspeth Rostow, an associate professor of government at the University of Texas at Austin. Mrs. Rostow spoke at a morning convocation on "Targets, Priorities and the Pragmatic Adjustment." Mrs. Rostow's husband, Walt, is a former economics advisor to the late President John Kennedy and former President Lyndon Johnson.

Miss Blaylock is a 1965 graduate of Eldorado High School in Eldorado.

Woman's Day was sponsored by Laurel Society, senior honorary organization for women who have shown outstanding leadership and scholarship.

DAR Meeting Held In Ozona Thursday

The El Dorado Chapter DAR met April 17, 1969 in the home of Mrs. Eldred Roach in Ozona.

Hostesses were the Ozona members of the El Dorado Chapter, NS-DAR: Mmes. Eldred Roach, Stephen Perner, Joe Pierce, E. J. Shepperson, John Bailey, Fred Chandler, and L. B. Cox.

Mrs. Ernest S. Goens, regent, presided.

Following an interesting drive by Sonora, these El Dorado members: Mmes. J. E. Hill, Luke Thompson, J. B. Montgomery, J. O. Willoughby, Ernest S. Goens, W. N. Ramsay, Ernest C. Hill, Mary Davis Coupe, P. K. McIntosh, her guest, Mrs. P. Welch, and Miss Ruth Baker were refreshed with delicious refreshments from a beautifully appointed tea table centered with an arrangement of Specimen Iris. Mrs. Joe Pierce and Mrs. William Sloan served.

The Chapter was opened by the chaplain, Mrs. Ramsay, who gave the Scripture, invocation, and led the patriotic rituals.

Mrs. Thompson, secretary, read the minutes which were approved. Mrs. Montgomery, treasurer, reported. The regent gave the NS-DAR President General's letter.

A most inspiring program was presented by Mrs. Perner. First she told the story of Mr. Lloyd Spurgers, formerly of Eldorado, interest in art and exhibited many of his appealing paintings.

The second presentation was her own daughter, Mrs. William Sloan of Saginaw, whose pictures and many objects made of gold plated (bob) barbed wire fascinated everyone present. —Rep.

Girl Tracksters Win District

Last Wednesday the Eaglette track girls successfully defended their district 21-B championship by amassing 175 points while the next closest opponent, Robert Lee had 112 points. Though the green and white is represented by only 11 girls they were entered in every event of the meet and picked up points in each showing their versatility and their determination to win the coveted district title. On their way to winning Coach Bell's Eaglettes won 8 firsts, 2 seconds, 4 each of third, fourth and fifth and 2 sixth places. Everyone of the 11 gained the finals in every event they entered. There were six teams in competition in Class B. First and second place winners in every event advance to Regional.

The outstanding performers for Eldorado were the 440 relay team who ran a fine 52.8 to come in first. Peggy Hill, Linda Derrick, Lorretta Schooley, and Lisa McAngus were the team members. These same four ran on the Mile Relay team which clocked a 4:24.3 which broke the district record. Lisa McAngus who appears to be running better each week ran a 64 flat 440 dash which also broke the district record. Lisa was fourth in state last year with a 64.7. Linda Derrick beat last year's regional champion in the 60 yard dash claiming first with a 7.5. Kay Williams, a freshman who has improved steadily won the 220 dash with a 27.8 time and Lorretta Schooley won the triple jump with a leap of 30' 11 1/2". Kathleen O'Harrow tossed the shot put 34' 7" for a first place and Mary Lynn McCalla was second with 30' 6 1/4". The most pleasing surprise of the meet was the Eaglette 880 relay team of Randy Yates, Mary Lynn McCalla, Patty Page, and Kay Williams, who cut nearly 3 seconds off their previous time and ran a 1:57.4 coming from behind to win.

Thus nine of the 11 qualified for regional which includes such powers as Ira, Borden County, Robert Lee, Hermleigh and Fluvanna plus Iraan and Rankin.

Regional Qualifiers
Kathleen O'Harrow, shot put.
Lisa McAngus, 440 dash, 440 relay, mile relay.
Linda Derrick, 60 dash, 440 relay, mile relay.

Last year, in Eldorado's first year of track competition, the Eaglettes went to the State Meet in the 880 Relay winning 6th, the Mile Relay and the 440 dash.

Regional results will send both first and second winners to state.

On Saturday, April 26th, the track girls who are not involved in the band will compete in the Bluebonnet Belle Relays in San Angelo. Then Saturday, May 3, the track team will compete in the Bottom Belle Relays held in Lubbock beginning at 9:30 a.m.

Austin, Tex.—Nine proposed constitutional amendments, headed by a recommended boost in the welfare ceiling from $60 million to $80 million and a $3.5 billion water bond proposition, are ready for an August 5 ballot.

Secretary of State Martin Dies Jr. supervised drawing to determine ballot positions as soon as the legislators cleared the measures.

Here are the amendments as they will appear on the ballot: HJR 3—to delete obsolete provisions from the constitution.

HJR 9—to authorize a $3.5 billion water revenue bond issue for financing the state's share of a $9 billion statewide water plan.

SJR 31—to raise the present $4,800 a year salary of state legislators to the state-paid maximum level of district judges ($18,000) and give the lieutenant governor and house speaker half the pay of the governor (about $20,000 a year).

SJR 6—to exempt non-profit water supply corporations from taxation.

SJR 8—to raise the public welfare outlay limit from $60 million to $80 million a year.

HJR 7—to raise the constitutional interest rate limit on some state government bonds.

HJR 4—to provide for assistance payments to survivors of volunteer firemen, police and Texas Youth Council employees killed on duty.

HJR 50—to authorize an additional $200 million in Texas Opportunity Plan student loan funds.

HJR 8—to provide for annual legislative sessions.

Voters last November rejected a raise in the welfare ceiling to $75 million (which has resulted in two cuts in benefit payments) and a hike in lawmaker pay to $8,400 a year.

Legislative Action

Controversial constitutional amendment to legalize sale of liquor-by-the-drink in Texas has been cleared for statewide vote on November 3, 1970.

House voted 101-44 for submission of the issue approved by the Senate last month.

House passed a bill to comply with the federal law and provide mandatory inspection and regulation of livestock slaughtering housed by the State Department of Health Bill by Sen. Jim Bates and Rep. Rayford Price already had passed the Senate but since the House added two amendments—to define legally "inedible animal product"—and to allow "overtime fees" for inspections—the bill went back to the Senate for approval of the amendments.

House also completed action on its $5.7 billion budget bill, moving it to conference committee to resolve differences with the Senate's $5.8 billion version. Major interest centers on House riders, including proposed withholding of funds for largely-Negro Texas Southern University Law school and a curb on use of helicopters by Department of Public Safety for traffic policing.

Among other major measures cleared by the legislature were: HB 117, making Texas governmental units (except school districts) liable for damage suits due to negligent acts of personnel; SB 5 and SB 6 permitting criminal misdemeanor prosecution of corporations for air and water pollution.

Bills . . . . When the Supreme Court ruled the existing law on dangerous drugs out, Rep. Jack Ogg of Houston introduced a bill to ban the use of LSD and hallucogenic drugs. Ogg's bill provides for a jail sentence from 30 days to two years for the use of those drugs—or a fine of up to $3,000.

Approval by Rep. Bill Healy of Paducah would allow students who graduate from an accredited Texas law school and have already gained a bachelor's degree to not have to take the bar exam before practicing. Bill is in a subcommittee of the House State Affairs Committee.

Bill by Rep. Grant Jones of Abilene was given a favorable report by the House Judiciary Committee. It would keep any facts of settlement of a claim from being admitted into evidence in lawsuits involving personal injury damages arising from the same occurrence.

Rep. Carl Parker of Port Arthur has five bills to update and fortify the workmen's compensation laws. Four bills deal with compensation for employees of Texas A&M, Texas Tech and the U of T system. Last deals with municipal employees. All are in subcommittee for further study.

Senate has knocked a farm workers' exemption out of the $1.25 minimum wage bill by Sens. Joe Bernal and Jim Bates. An amendment by Sen. Jack Hightower would have exempted all farm workers except those that do piece work. Bill went to the House.

Congressional Redistricting

Anticipating U. S. Supreme Court orders that Texas must redistrict congressional districts to "mathematical exactness" after that court ordered the state of Missouri to do just that, Governor Preston Smith asked the Legislature to create a 7-man fact-getting committee and present them to the 1971 Legislature. Committee will be headed by Secretary of State Martin Dies Jr. and will include three state senators and three House members.

Governor said he had been assured 1970 federal census statistics would be available in November of 1970 on computer tapes and proposed a committee budget of $225,000 which would include data computer rents.

He reasoned that this preparation would enable the 1971 Legislature to re-district realistically. In case the state is ordered to redistrict before the 1970 census, Smith said the committee would have current information ready for legislative use in a special session.

Public Education

A survey of public opinion on proposals by the Governor's Committee on Public School Education, including the controversial consolidation recommendation, was made at the request of Sen. A. R. Schwartz of Galveston, and the committee learned that big school districts liked its ideas, but small districts didn't.

Survey showed "substantial support" for the committee proposals among school districts with more than 1,500 enrolled—in which more than 82% of Texas school children are attending, and some support among school districts with less than 250 children, with less than 4%.

Among the 325 responses from school districts of less than 1,500 enrollment, 176 favored consolidation; 142 opposed it, and 7 were neutral; 142 were for a kindergarten program, 168 against, and 15 neutral; 136 for summer schools, 160 against, and 29 neutral; 95 for guaranteed adult education, 206 against, and 24 neutral.

Courts Speak

Third Court of Civil Appeals concluded in an eviction case that a vending machine firm's concession lease at an Austin tavern violated principles of fairness. Supreme Court, by divided vote, concluded that parents of Fort Worth students who attacked constitutional validity of a law banning secret societies were entitled to a hearing.

High court, on third time around, decided to hear the appeal in an Amarillo case that the "reasonable doubt" rule used in criminal trials must also apply in juvenile delinquency proceedings. Court declined to take another look at a land developer's suit to join the city of Farmer's Branch from holding property rezoning hearings.

Oil Allowable Soars

Texas Railroad Commission issued its May proration order, with the market demand proration factor at 53.8%, designed to provide allowables of 3,746,706 barrels a day and estimated actual production of 3,155,762 barrels a day, the highest in a year. This would be an increase over the April order of 195,612 barrels in allowables and 119,123 barrels of actual production.

Appointments . . .

Atty. Gen. Crawford C. Martin ended the controversy over appointments by former Gov. John Connally by holding that three University of Texas regents were properly named on January 10. Governor Smith, who thought the appointments should have been left to him, accepted the ruling. Smith announced these appointments:

—Dr. Charles H. Brown of Wichita Falls, Dr. Emerson Emory of Dallas and Mrs. H. E. Butt Sr. of Corpus Christi (reappointment) to Texas Board of Mental Health and Mental Retardation.

—C. L. Cooke of Fort Worth and C. Truett Smith of Wylie to Texas Industrial Commission. —Kenneth E. Esmond of Odessa and Dr. John R. Bradford of Lubbock to State Board of Registration for Professional Engineers.

—Judge D. B. Wood of Georgetown as presiding judge of Third Administrative Judicial District. —Sen. Criss Cole of Houston will be delegate to 56th annual national convention of National Rivers and Harbors Congress May 13-16.

The undersigned agrees to be responsible for the safe return of the uniform issued to the participant. Aside from red faces of some local ex-Harvardites who, until recent campus eruptions, prided themselves and their alma mater as being somewhat above the mob-type forays of the maladjusted, the local scene last week was marked by publicity-seeking camera supported senators probing around in a frantic search for underfed slum dwellers, and new developments on the fate of the poverty program.

Transcending all was the brutal shooting down of a U. S. plane and resulting murder of 31 helpless Americans. This massacre occurred more than 90 miles from the border of North Korea, whose migs did the dirty work. In the course of events there must, in the minds of many of us, be appropriate retaliation.

On the poverty front, a U. S. General Accounting Office (GAO) report, following a massive survey which took 15 months, manned by 250 investigators, found many defects, overlaps, confusion, extravagance, and waste of effort, by the Office of Economic Opportunity (OEO).

The report called for many changes, including a transfer of Headstart to the Office of Education, the Job Corps to the Department of Labor, and dropping the Neighborhood Youth Corps because of its ineffectiveness.

Only the Community Action programs—by providing neighborhood centers in some cities for service for the poor—were found to have accomplished very much.

GAO's sharpest criticism was directed at the Job Corps, which spends $8,300 per man per year on training drop-outs. Investigators found little improvement of employability of Job Corps trainees that would not have otherwise occurred.

Since jobs and birth control constitute the only real answer to poverty, I rather like the idea of dismantling the present grant programs and replace this with a voluntary and private enterprise plan which would feature tax write-offs to business willing to invest in poverty areas and to train unemployed workers there.

Kay Peters Now Doing Her Student Teaching

Denton, Tex.—Kay Frances Peters of Eldorado is among some 716 North Texas State University students serving as student teachers in Dallas-Fort Worth-Denton area schools during the spring semester.

Some are teaching in area schools all day for eight weeks and others are training half a day for 16 weeks. A third group will spend all day of the last eight weeks of this semester.

An estimated 1,200 NTSU students are expected to participate in the teacher-training program during the 1968-69 school year, according to Dr. C. M. Clarke, director of teacher education.

Included in the three teaching groups this spring are 471 students preparing for secondary teaching positions and 245 for elementary. In the secondary group are 49 seniors who will receive an all-level certificate for both secondary and elementary teaching in music, art, physical education, library service, speech or speech therapy.

Miss Peters, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer C. Peters of Eldorado, is teaching in the Fort Worth Public Schools. She is a member of Chi Omega, national women's sorority; Sigma Alpha Eta, national speech and hearing therapy society; and the Student Education Association.

No Forms Required To Purchase Ammunition

Dallas, Tex.—Hunters and sportsmen need only identify themselves to be able to purchase ammunition under the 1968 Federal gun control law, B. Frank White, Southwest Regional Commissioner of Internal Revenue, said today.

There are no forms to fill out, but a person must show some identification such as a driver's license to indicate he meets the age requirements set forth in the gun law.

The 1968 Gun Control Act limits the sale of ammunition for pistols, revolvers and other handguns to persons 21 years of age and over. Ammunition for rifles and shotguns may be purchased by persons 18 years of age and over.

White said that unlike the restrictions on the sale of firearms, a person can buy ammunition outside his home state. Thus, a hunter on a trip or a sportsman attending a shooting match will have no problem obtaining ammunition.

Dealers are required to keep records of ammunition sales including the name and address of the purchaser.

White said the Federal gun legislation enacted in 1968 was designed to help law enforcement officials at all levels of government fight crime. The legislation was not intended to place unnecessary restrictions on hunters, sportsmen or citizens using firearms for any lawful purposes.

Administration of Federal gun laws is the responsibility of the Alcohol, Tobacco and Firearms Division of Internal Revenue Service.

H. D. Groups Meet With Mrs. Edmiston April 22

Members of the Reynolds and Good Neighbor Home Demonstration Clubs were guests in the home of Mrs. Gene Edmiston on Tuesday, April 22. The occasion was the annual Spring meeting of the two neighboring clubs as they consider problems of safety.

More than 30 members and guests heard Mr. Delbert Copeland of the Department of Public Safety present a program on how to be a better driver. Patrolman Copeland brought out the fact that we should be doubly conscious at this time as Spring and Summer activities necessitate our driving more. He presented a film concerning some of the problems of young drivers and then answered questions of the Club members.

Co-hostesses Mrs. Edmiston and Mrs. L. Moore served refreshments of old fashioned chess pie and coffee. Guests for the meeting were Meses. Elizabeth Powell, Mary Davis Coupe, Thomas Baker, Earl Lloyd, Vernal Sudduth and Orval Edmiston.—Rep.

Hilary Doran's Austin Report

The House and Senate have passed and approved nine constitutional amendments to be submitted to the citizens of Texas for a vote on August 5, 1969, at a special constitutional amendments election. In my opinion, the majority of the constitutional amendments that have been approved for the people to vote on this summer are meritorious and I plan to do my best to see that you, the voters of my district, have a full explanation of all nine by the time you are called upon to express your preference.

This past week also saw approval given to the controversial constitutional amendment that repeals the prohibition against the open saloon in the State of Texas. However, the vote on this amendment will not be had until November 3, 1970.

There have been two public hearings held in regard to the proposals I am supporting, that would do away with Daylight Savings Time. Both of these hearings, in my opinion, went very well for those of us who do not like Daylight Savings Time. The television industry appeared in favor of Daylight Savings

Time quoting such arguments as their prime time loss and my only reply to this line of argument is that we are subjected to reruns during all but six weeks of the six months we are on Daylight Savings Time, so I don't believe there is really much merit to the question of prime time during these months.

The airlines stated that they would experience scheduling difficulties if we went off of Daylight Savings Time and I pointed out that even with Daylight Savings Time, a major airlines can't fly on time anyway.

Both of my proposals dealing with the abolition of Daylight Savings Time have been referred to subcommittees and I am optimistic about being given an opportunity to let the House vote on them and ultimately let the people of this state express their preference either for or against Daylight Savings Time, because I realize that there are many people in this state in my district that enjoy Daylight Savings Time, but I feel that the people should be allowed to express their preference and I will certainly abide by what the majority of Texans desire.—Hilary B. Doran, Jr.

COUNTY AGENT'S COLUMN
by Tiny Godwin
Schleicher County Agricultural Agent

This is the time of the year when farmers move into their fields with tractors and the chances for accidents greatly increase.

More than 600 people are killed in farm tractor upset accidents each year in the United States, and another 5,000 are injured.

Authorities estimate that three of every four people killed in tractor upsets could be saved if tractors were equipped with protective frames or crush-resistant cabs and safety belts.

Farmers who are planning to buy new tractors should ask their dealers about safety devices that may be available. They could save a life.

Tractor operators can also contribute a great deal to accident prevention if they will follow basic safety rules.

Read and familiarize yourself with the instruction manuals for your equipment. Keep yourself in proper physical and mental condition by getting enough rest, dressing comfortably, working within physical capabilities and taking frequent breaks to avoid fatigue.

Avoid operating on steep slopes and stay clear of ditches and embankments. And drive slowly on rough ground or when visibility is poor. Reduce speed when turning or working near ditches and avoid dropping wheels onto a soft shoulder or into ditches.

Finally, keep all guards and shields in place and shut off power before servicing or unclogging machinery. And always keep children away from machinery.

When on the road, always display a Slow-Moving Vehicle emblem. This is becoming universally recognized as designating a vehicle traveling less than 25 miles an hour.

Conscientious observance of these rules will help reduce farm accidents throughout our state and county.

Four things come not back—the sped arrow, the spoken word, time past, and the neglected opportunity.

The pecan nut casebearer is the number one pest of pecans and thus becomes a determining factor in producing pecans, whether on a few trees or in large groves. To effectively control the pecan nut casebearer, it is necessary to provide thorough insecticide coverage of the nutlet clusters during the period when the majority of the eggs are hatching. To accomplish this, pecan producers must know when the majority of the eggs are laid and the length of this egg laying period. A banding procedure in providing precise timing information for insecticide applications has proved extremely accurate. Banding pecans is an excellent method demonstration and ideal educational program for adults and youth. Should any questions arise, feel free to drop by my office at any time.

The best thing about the future is that it comes one day at a time.

The brush control meeting was attended by some 25 producers interested in expediting research opportunities.

Dr. Leo Merrill, superintendent, Sonora Range Experiment Station, gave the objectives, organization, responsibilities, range management practices and research opportunities on brush control and range management.

Bill Rountree, work unit conservationist, gave the county situation, telling producers the number of acres and degree of infestation of cedar, mesquite, tassajillo, catclaw, pricklypear and other brush that infest and in direct competition with grass production on ranches in the county.

Henry Moore, county fund chairman, made an appeal for funds at the rate of one cent per acre to expedite research on brush control.

Producers can make Henry's and his workers' work lighter by leaving your funds at the First National Bank, Eldorado. Make check to Brush Control Assn.

The menace of brush is costing producers approximately $1.8 million dollars annually. So far we are not controlling in the county to the extent of keeping up with the increase of brush from year to year; hence, less pounds of lamb and beef, wool and mohair. The rainfall we get is reduced by approximately 45%.

Keep your credit good—it's better than your cash.

Safety Belts Can Prevent Hwy. Deaths

Do you gamble with your life when you head out onto a city street or highway in your automobile?

You may be doing just that if you don't hook up your seat belt, says the Texas State Department of Health.

Prevention of accidents is a function of the Health Department through the Division of Civil Defense and Traffic Safety.

With summer vacations just ahead, now is the time to start thinking about safety and working toward good seat belt habits.

Traffic claimed 3,481 persons in Texas last year and the injury total was placed at 216,972.

Nationally, 53,100 persons were reported killed in traffic accidents in 1967, last full reporting year. Of these victims, 35,300 were drivers or passengers in automobiles. If all these persons had been using safety belts, the National Safety Council estimates that at least 8,000 to 10,000 of them would still be alive.

Some people feel they don't need safety belts for low speed, "neighborhood" driving. But studies show that nearly half of all fatal accidents occur at impact speeds of 40 miles per hour or less and that three-fourths of all traffic accidents happen within 25 miles of home.

The main advantage to wearing a safety belt is that it can help prevent the "second collision" when car occupants are thrown around inside the vehicle during an accident.

After the car stops suddenly, people without safety belts continue traveling in the direction the car was moving and ordinarily strike part of the interior. The driver moves forward in a seated position. His legs which are sometimes trapped under him may be turned, twisted, and fractured. His abdomen and chest may strike the steering wheel and column. His head may hit the windshield or his face strike the steering wheel.

The right front seat passenger, who doesn't have the steering wheel before him, crashes into the windshield and instrument panel during a collision. Safety belts can minimize such collisions inside the car.

In a crash, safety belts can also keep you in your car, thus increasing your chance of survival by five times.

Along with the use of safety belts, the State Health Department advises the use of safe driving habits. Don't drive while drinking or while sleepy or tired. Obey all traffic laws and don't speed to reach your destination sooner. Be especially alert and slow down at night or in bad weather.

Mrs. Thelma Childers has returned from Los Alamos, N.M., where she spent two weeks visiting Mr. and Mrs. Joe W. Phillips and family. Mrs. Phillips underwent surgery recently and spent two weeks in the hospital.

Heading Better Than Speeding for Label Reading

Have you joined America's popular new educational trend... speed reading?

Whether or not you decide to increase your ability to read fast, keep in mind there are times when reading accurately is more important than reading speedily.

One such time is when you read the label on a medicine container, says the Council on Family Health. Taking or giving medicine is so important to the health and safety of you and your family that you should understand the directions you are reading, and then double check yourself.

If you want to measure how well you understand what you read, test yourself by reading a medicine label in your home, says the Council, a non-profit organization sponsored as a public service by leading members of the drug industry.

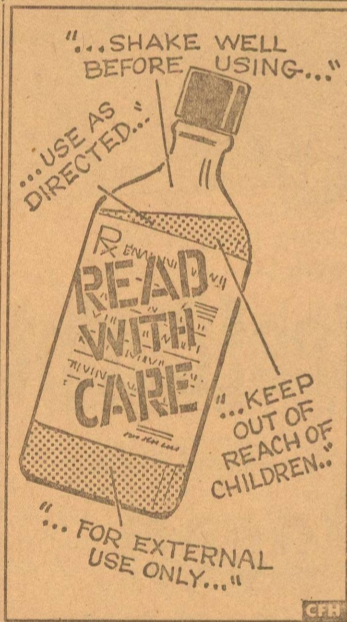

Did you note the amount of medicine to be taken? Does the dosage vary for adults and children? How often should the medicine be taken?

If a liquid, should you shake the container well before pouring? Is it for external or internal use?

Does the label state the purpose of the medicine?

Are there instructions for proper storage... such as "Keep in a cool place." Should you take the medicine before or after eating?

Are there cautions as to certain activities that should be curtailed or discontinued while taking the medicine?

Not all medicine labels contain all of the information listed above, but all information on each label is important.

Heading rather than speeding is the watchword when reading directions for the use of medicine, says the Council on Family Health.
