New City Secretary, New Alderman, Sought By City

A special called meeting for selection of new city secretary and a special election in the immediate future for an alderman, are among developments that followed the annual city election on April 7th.

Lum Burk, city secretary for 31 years, submitted his resignation to the new administration, and newly elected Mayor Raymon Mobley has announced a special called meeting for Friday, April 27, to review applications for his successor.

On page 4 of this issue appears a legal notice specifying the deadline for receiving applications, which is THURSDAY, APRIL 26, or one day ahead of the city council meeting. Applications must be made in writing.

Burk stated that he and Mrs. Burk plan to continue to make their home here in Eldorado. They own their home here. The couple were honored in December on their Golden Wedding Anniversary.

Alderman Vacancy

A vacancy developed in the city council when John Hodges sold his house in town and bought another which was out of the city limits—thereby disqualifying him as a councilman.

The trade was made too late for the vacancy to be included on the ballot in the annual election, thus requiring a special election.

Details on the special election will be announced soon.

Suit Seeks $17,000 In Fire Damages

Florenz Wilde's suit for $17,000 against the City of Eldorado was under way early this week in local District Court. The suit seeks payment for damages to Wilde's ranch property as result of the fire in the west part of the county last August which allegedly started from a fire at the city dump. The dump is located five miles west of town near the old Shell station site.

The jury was impaneled Monday and by Tuesday morning Wilde was testifying in his own behalf.

The fire last August was the most extensive in this county in some time and several neighboring fire departments joined the local one in fighting the blaze which spread over several ranches.

3,048 Total Bales For Cotton Crop

Mikeska Gin in Eldorado finally closed out the ginning season last week by processing the remaining trailer on the yard. The last bales were from Whip Faulk.

Total number of bales for the season came to 3,048, according to Karen Homer, bookkeeper.

The first bale to arrive at the gin last fall was on Friday, October 6th—unusually late for a first bale. By January 1st the total was 2405 bales and everyone was expecting a year's total of at least 3,000.

But bad weather set in and it took 3½ months to get in the last 600 bales.

Bryan Hunt Buried Sunday At Sonora

Funeral services for Bryan Hunt, 76, were held Sunday afternoon in St. John's Episcopal Church in Sonora with burial in the cemetery there. Mr. Hunt, who was a prominent West Texas sheep and cattle ranchman, died Saturday morning in Shannon hospital following a brief illness. He was an active rancher in Sutton, Edwards and Crockett counties.

Mr. Hunt, a resident of Sonora for 58 years, was born Jan. 7, 1897 in Brackettville in Kinney county, the son of Henry Clay Hunt and Mary Cornell Hunt. On Feb. 3, 1926 he was married to Velma Savell in Sonora.

Survivors include his wife of Sonora; a son, James T. Hunt of Sonora; a daughter, Mrs. James (Nancy Hunt) Powell of Fort McVett; a sister, Mrs. W. J. Bradley of Falls Church, Va.; and four grandchildren.

Post Script

School is out this entire week, making a holiday week for the school students and faculty.

Visiting and family get-togethers are on the agenda for many local families, and Easter Sunday is the highlight of the year for churches.

The Ministerial Alliance of Eldorado will sponsor an Easter Sunrise Service, starting at 6:30 Sunday morning at the United Methodist Church. Everyone is invited. The program is given on this page.

Events in the Southwest Texas area include the Easter Eve pageant at Junction, and the Easter Eve bonfires at Fredericksburg.

—ps—

The semi-annual time change is just around the corner. April 29—the last Sunday in April—is just 10 days away.

Texans, along with most of the rest of the nation will turn clocks forward then. The exceptions are for persons living in Arizona, Hawaii, or in the eastern time zone of Indiana.

The Uniform Time Act of 1966 requires the observance of daylight saving time from 2:00 a.m. the last Sunday in April until 2:00 a.m. the last Sunday in October everywhere except in states that take action, through their Legislatures, to exempt themselves entirely or in part.

Arizona and Hawaii chose complete exemption and Indiana acted to exempt itself in the eastern portion of the state, according to the Department of Transportation that administers the law. Michigan, which previously had exempted itself, will observe daylight-saving time this year.

Drive-in theater operators have objected to daylight saving because it's nearly 9:00 p.m. in June before they can start their showings.

Parents of school age children have to get them up an hour earlier by the sun to go to school, during the final month of the school term, as well as trying to get them to go to bed while it's still daylight.

Benjamin Franklin was an early advocate of daylight saving time, and we had it all during World War II. Numerous proposals before Congress would change the dates of observance of daylight-saving time, long a subject of disagreement among various segments of the public. One proposal is by Representative Ben B. Blackburn of Georgia, who would limit observance to a period from Memorial Day to Labor Day to avoid two shifts in time during the school year. Some proposals would make observance year-round, as in WW2.

For most people, the arrival of daylight-saving time means simply moving the clock forward one hour—usually done upon retiring on the Saturday night before observance begins. (Those who happen to be working a night shift for an oil company or hospital do it at 2:00 a.m. Sunday.)

For many people, there is at least a short period of adjustment to getting up an hour earlier in the morning and trying to get to sleep an hour sooner. The extra hour of daylight is particularly welcomed by golfers and other sports enthusiasts and by those with hobbies such as gardening. Farmers, on the other hand, traditionally have been opposed to the shift in time.

However else you may be affected personally, you need to recheck schedules before your next trip by plan, train or bus. All have extensive revisions of schedules with the start of daylight-saving time.

The Texas Legislature, as in other states, has had some exemption proposals brought up, but as yet there has been no definite action.

Last week's issue of The Success—which had City Election returns and comment—was the first one in history to sell out completely by Saturday noon. By then, all extra copies had been sold at our office as well as by McCormick's.

And now we have another election for Alderman in the offing.

Good Rains Cover Area

Bountiful rains that totaled about three inches fell in the Eldorado vicinity during the week end and early this week. About an inch fell at 3:30 Saturday morning, followed Sunday afternoon by another scant inch and Tuesday morning we had more good general rains. Light hail came with part of the rain, but did no apparent damage.

These rains, following a fairly wet Winter, should put ground in good shape for the Spring planting of crops.

The hostess served pound cake, ice cream and coffee.

Mrs. Leslie Bassinger will entertain the club April 26. —Rep.

Eldorado-Divide District News

Proper Grazing Use

Calendar wise, March 31 ended the 1972 forage growing and harvest season, and April 1, 1973, began a new growing and harvest season for ranchers.

Research and experiment station reports have shown that leaving a portion of the grass on the range each year is a paying proposition.

Conservation ranchers in the Eldorado-Divide Soil and Water Conservation District have found this to be the case for several reasons.

Bill Rountree, District Conservator of the SCS, assisting the Eldorado-Divide District, in checking pastures recently with ranchers found that the pastures had been grazed 35 to 50%. This means that some of the pastures had been grazed as close as they should be grazed as of April 1st and others could have been grazed 10 to 15% more and still left 50% of last year's growth ungrazed.

By grazing their pastures properly for the past several years these conservation ranchers have found that they have been able to increase their stocking rates to some extent and increase beef and wool at less cost. Today the better grasses—sideoats grama, vine mesquite, and bluestems are vigorous, producing a large amount of forage, and spreading into the bunches of undesirable grasses.

To these producers, experience has shown that it is good sound business to leave a portion of the grass on the land each year. With most of our better range grasses, about 50% of a year's growth may be used continuously to raise livestock.

More than 50% of the bulk of a grass lies in the half of the plant next to the ground. Therefore a big per cent of a sideoats grama plant's total weight could be harvested. The remaining 50% needs to be left because it belongs to the plant and soil. It needs to be left to assure grass crops for future years.

"How Grass Grows" — Grasses manufacture most of their food in their leaves by using energy from sunlight to combine raw materials from the air and soil. If stock are allowed to graze all of a plant's leaves, the plant has no way left to produce food. No food, no seeds; No new shoots, soon no grass. The plant starves, just as certain as stock starve without food.

When the grass plant is grazed short the plant must economize—cut down on its root system in order to survive. This in turn cuts down on the amount of grass above ground. When this plant is again grazed too short, it gets still smaller, until at last most grass is dead and that surviving is much smaller, therefore producing less forage.

As desirable grasses decrease, undesirable plants such as mesquite, needlegrass, pear, weeds, and poisonous plants are allowed to come in on the range. Stock avoid them as long as the better plants are available to eat, and it is clear sailing for the undesirable plants.

The more undesirable plants in the pasture the greater the burden becomes on good grasses, and the greater the danger becomes that the good plants will be grazed out entirely.

Therefore, Good Conservation Ranchers say, "Graze Half and Leave Half for more forage production."

Presbyterians Give Easter Arrangements

A Junior choir made up of boys and girls who have been members of the pastor's Communicants' Class and who have joined the Church will sing at the morning worship service at the First Presbyterian Church on Easter Sunday morning. The choir will be directed by Mrs. James Page. Those singing will be Caroline Case, Georgeann McAngus, Judy Pitts, Kyle McCormack, Paul McWhorter, Sally Cawley, Paige Helmers, Lori Powell, and Joy Corbell.

The Rev. Gordon Garlington, pastor, will deliver his sermon on the subject of Easter.

The annual congregational picnic on Easter Sunday afternoon will be held on the Wilson Page Ranch at 4:00 p.m. The group will meet under the large oak tree where the picnic has been held for many years. There will be an Easter Egg Hunt for the children. A vesper service will follow.

VISIT AT LAMPASAS

Mr. and Mrs. Clay Porter and Carl of Eldorado, Mrs. Ronnie Williams, Shanon and Shane of Alpine, Mrs. B. F. Harkey of San Angelo and Kaye Harkey of Madisonville, Texas, joined other members of the family in Lampasas this past weekend to celebrate the 87th birthday of Leonard Procter, father of Mrs. Porter and Mrs. Harkey.

There were four generations present and an enjoyable day was reported by all.

Annual Pageant Set Easter Eve, Junction

Twenty-Third Annual Easter Pageant in the natural amphitheatre below the everburning cross on Lover's Leap southeast of downtown Junction will be presented Easter Eve, April 21.

Starting at 10 p.m., the Story of the last week in the life of Christ on earth will conclude shortly after midnight with the climaxing scenes of the resurrection and ascension on Easter morning.

More than 100 amateur performers, most of them experienced in their roles, will pantomime the story in 13 acts on 14 stages of varying levels, supported by changing lights, script readers and background music.

Twenty-one actors presented the first pageant on three stages the year the pageant and its sponsor, the Men's Bible Class, were organized.

Garden Insect Control Outlined

Springtime signals the beginning of home gardening activity and good control of sucking and chewing insects means healthier, more productive gardens. "Sucking insects damage plants by inserting their mouthparts into plant tissue and removing plant juices. Heavily infested plants become yellowed, wilted, deformed or stunted and may eventually die. Some sucking insects inject toxic materials into the plant while feeding and some transmit disease organisms to plants. Some examples of sucking insects are aphids, leafhoppers, stinkbugs, squash bugs, thrips and spider mites.

Chewing insects cause more damage to the home garden than either soil insects or sucking insects. They feed on all parts of plants, destroying both foliage and fruit. Chewing insects are numerous and include grasshoppers, leafminers, potato beetles, flea beetles, cucumber beetles, blister beetles, pepper weevils, vegetable weevils, corn earworms, cabbage loopers, armyworms, tomato hornworms, webworms, melonworms and pickleworms.

It is suggested using dusts for controlling insects in home gardens. Several brands are available which will control both chewing and sucking insects. Apply dusts when the wind is calm and force the dust through the foliage so it

NOTICE OF INTENTION TO ENGAGE IN WEATHER
MODIFICATION ACTIVITIES

NOTICE is hereby given, that Meteorology Research, Inc., of 464 West Woodbury Road, Altadena, Calif. 91001 (State of Texas Weather Modification License #73-3), intends to engage in an operation to change or attempt to change by artificial methods the natural development of any and all atmospheric cloud forms or precipitation forms which occur in the troposphere, for and on behalf of Texas Water Development Board located at P. O. Box 13087, Austin, Texas 78711, and will conduct a program of weather modification involving research, development, and associated investigations in atmospheric water resources leading to application of practical procedures for beneficially managing precipitation in Texas and other Southern Plains and Gulf States areas as follows:

1. Area in which equipment will be operated: In the vicinity of San Angelo, Texas, within the area bounded by Ballinger westward along State Highway 158 to the west boundary of Glasscock County; thence southward to the southwest corner of Reagan County; thence eastward to the southeast corner of Sutton County; thence northward to Menard County; then along the south and east boundaries of Menard County; thence northeast to Brady, and along Highway 283 to the Colorado River; thence northwest along the river to Ballinger. The area includes portions of the counties of Runnels, Coke, Sterling, Glasscock, Reagan, Irion, Tom Green, Concho, McCulloch, Menard, Schleicher, Crockett, and Sutton.
2. The primary target area will be: Ballinger due west to a point about 12 miles southeast of Garden City (in Glasscock County); thence south to U. S. Highway 67 and south-southeast to Interstate 10 at the west border of Sutton County; thence east to the east border of Sutton County and north-northeast to Eden, Millersview, and the Colorado River; thence northwest along the river to Ballinger.
3. The areas adjacent to target area which may be subject to effects of the operation are: Those lying within 25 miles of the target area described above.
4. The materials and methods to be used in conducting the operation are: A ground network consisting of raingages, a weather radar, and a radiosonde set for taking upper-level atmospheric measurements; a cloud seeding aircraft equipped with a dispenser for seeding small quantities of hygroscopic materials below clouds; and an additional instrumented research aircraft for making meteorological measurements in clouds.

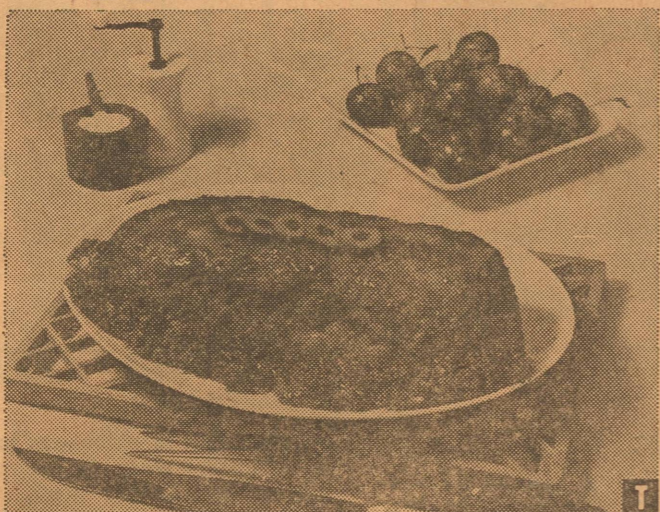

The operation will extend during the period beginning about 15 May 1973 and ending about 30 June 1973.

Individuals who consider that their interests will be adversely affected by the operation proposed in this Notice of Intention may communicate their objections for consideration to:

EASTER HAM: BE A LOAFER

It needn't be a whole ham to be fit for the feast. A glazed loaf can be festive, too, and far easier on the budget. It's easy for the cook and the carver, too.

This ham loaf is unusually flavorful. In addition to the ground ham, some ground fresh pork is used. Spiced crab apples, broccoli or asparagus and scalloped potatoes are good served with ham loaf.

The glaze used in basting this loaf during the baking process is one of the favorites in the Karo kitchens at Best Foods. It is made simply by blending dark corn syrup with vinegar and mustard and boiling 2 minutes, stirring occasionally. The corn syrup helps make for shiny not too sweet glazes. This sweet-tart mustard glaze is suggested for use on a whole ham as well as on this loaf.

Ham Loaf

- 1 1/2 pounds ground ham
- 1 pound ground pork
- 2 eggs
- 1 cup cracker crumbs
- 2/3 cup milk
- 1/4 teaspoon pepper

1 recipe Glaze

Mix together ham, pork, eggs, cracker crumbs, milk and pepper. Shape into loaf and place in baking pan. Bake in a 300°F. oven about 2 hours, basting occasionally with Glaze. Makes 8 to 10 servings.

Glaze: Stir together 3/4 cup Karo dark corn syrup, 1/3 cup vinegar and 2 teaspoons dry mustard in a small saucepan. Stirring occasionally, bring to boil and boil 2 minutes.

Reynolds H. D. Meets

The Reynolds Home Demonstration Club met on April 10th in the home of Mrs. Ello Wilde with 8 members, our agent, and one visitor Mrs. Shirley Blythe present. The council report was given by Mrs. H. A. Belk. Starting July 1st there will be different rules governing H. D. clubs. Our agent will put on demonstrations only twice during a year. Council chairman is to appoint a committee to plan programs that we wish to have, which will be given by two members of our club. Part of these programs will have to be according to THDA recommendations such as Health Safety, Family Life Education, etc.

The theme of the demonstration was Foreign Foods. Mrs. Lube cooked a very tasty dish of seafood curry from an India recipe. It is eaten with rice, peanuts, coconut, etc.

We were reminded of the THDA district meeting on April 19 in Llano. April 28 is 4-H horse judging show and barbecue.

May 11: A garage sale to raise money for council. Plans to be announced.

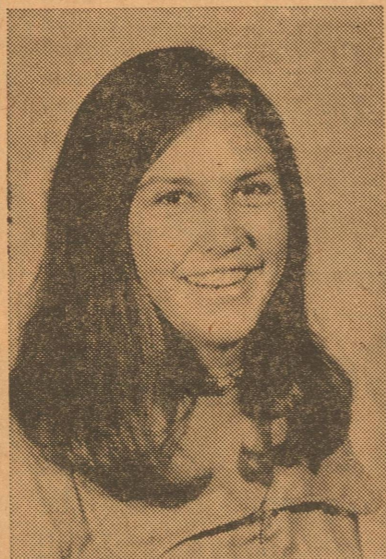

May 15: Party for Senior citizens.

4-H camp in Junction June 1-2 and 3. State meeting in Waco in September.

Our hostess served refreshments of cake, coffee and cokes.

Our next program will be on food preservation: wrapping, freezing, canning, and pickling. Each member is to bring something she has canned. We will have an exchange of recipes. The meeting will be on May 8 in the home of Mrs. Cecil Williams —Rep.

EASTER LORE AND LEGEND

If you happen to be coloring eggs this Easter, you might be interested to know that the tradition was known in England as early as the Middle Ages. In Edward I's household account for 1290, there is an entry of eighteen pence spent on 450 eggs to be covered with gold leaf for the royal household!

In Florence, Italy, a rite preserved from the Middle Ages annually commemorates the end of Lent and serves as an omen for the coming year. As thousands watch, four white oxen draw an ornamented cart filled with explosives which are ignited at the proper moment. When the fireworks explode, great rejoicing follows, as it is believed that this foretells an excellent harvest.

The custom of rising with the sun on Easter morn comes from an ancient peasant belief that those who witnessed sun-up on a certain day in spring would be blessed with good fortune, good health and bountiful crops.

According to researchers at Norcross, Inc., who unearthed these interesting facts, Easter cards were first exchanged in 19th century Germany, replacing gifts of colored Easter eggs. This tradition is observed in the United States where well-wishers choose a variety of cards from reverent to humorous.

Like church services, Easter parades and that new Easter bonnet, exchanging cards has become part of our observance of this joyous holiday.

EAT THE CENTERPIECE

An Easter cake, baked in a ring mold, frosted with Fluffy Apricot Frosting and sprinkled with coconut makes an edible "nest." The children will delight in helping to make Fondant eggs of various pastel colors to fill it. Corn syrup is used in both recipes. It makes it easy to blend ingredients and helps to produce smooth frosting and creamy candy.

For the cake, use a single layer cake mix or one-half the recipe for your favorite two layer cake. Bake in a 9-inch ring mold in a 350°F. oven 25 to 30 minutes or until cake springs back when touched.

Fluffy Apricot Frosting

1 egg white 1/4 cup apricot preserves
1/3 cup Karo light corn syrup Few drops almond extract

Beat egg white until stiff but not dry. Mix together corn syrup and apricot preserves. Gradually beat into egg whites, continuing to beat until frosting forms firm peaks when beater is raised. Fold in almond extract. Makes enough frosting to frost cake baked in a 9-inch ring mold.

No-Cook Fondant Eggs

1/3 cup margarine 1/2 teaspoon salt
1/3 cup Karo light corn syrup 1 pound confectioners sugar
1 teaspoon vanilla Assorted vegetable colors

With a spoon, blend margarine, corn syrup, vanilla and salt in large bowl. Sift confectioners sugar and add all at once to syrup mixture. Mix in, first with a spoon and then by kneading with hands. Turn out on board and continue kneading until mixture is blended and smooth. Divide and tint as desired. Shape into eggs. Trim with frosting if desired. Makes 1 1/3 pounds candy.

Local Girls Winners Of Dist. Track Meet

The Eldorado Eaglettes won four individual events and all three relays to total 174 points and win the District 9-B Girls Track Meet here last Tuesday.

Garden City was second with 92 while Miles had 78, Christoval 68, Irion county 24, Robert Lee 22, Wall 21, Water Valley 19, Paint Rock 11, and Blackwell and Sterling City 8 each.

The hosts took all the relays wins, the 440, 880 and mile, and also gained firsts from Wally Joiner in the long jump and Sharon Garlitz in the high jump in the field events. In the running events Debbie Page won the 60-yard dash while Charlene Warnock took the 880.

Eldorado had 119 points to win the junior high division while Miles and Robert Lee each managed 100 to tie for second.

ELDORADO HOME EXTENSION STUDY CLUB MEETS

The E.H.E. Study Club met in the home of Mrs. Bethel Jeffrey on April 11th at 2:30 p.m.

There were eight members present. Diane Lube, county Extension Agent, gave the program.

Her program was Foods from foreign lands. She chose Germany and after a brief talk she passed out recipes and gave demonstration on how to bake an apple tart.

Mrs. Jeffrey served for refreshments her favorite food: Chinese Fried Rice.

The next meeting will be on May 23rd in the home of Ruth Baker.

50th Anniversary Of Santa Rita No. 1 Set

Plans got under way in Big Lake recently for the 50th Anniversary Celebration of Santa Rita No. 1, the discovery oil well of the Permian Basin.

The celebration steering committee set June 2 as the date for the commemorative occasion.

A giant parade, barbecue, noted speakers, a visit to the well site, an art show, and a dance, will be held to observe this special occasion. It is expected that hundreds of visitors will throng to Big Lake for the event.

State officials, oil company officers, Texas Railroad Commission members, the University of Texas Board of Regents and Land Department officials, and others are being invited as well as old timers, former residents, and anyone else interested.

Tentatively, the day will open with registration starting at 9:00 a.m. at the Boone Building in downtown Big Lake and visiting there among old timers and friends from out of town, and local residents will continue until noon. An Art Show by local artists is scheduled during the morning. Then at noon the crowd will move to the County Park Picnic Area where the barbecue will be held.

The parade will be held at 3:00 p.m., with a visit to the Santa Rita No. 1 well site at 4:00 p.m. with several speakers heard from there. Then the crowd returns to Big Lake about 5:30 p.m. and the dance will begin at 7:00 o'clock.

The steering committee decided to order 2500 souvenir bolo ties advertising the celebration, using the slogan, "Where It All Began, Santa Rita No. 1 50th Anniversary Celebration, 1923-1973. Big Lake, Texas." —Big Lake Wildcat.

Shower Given For Miss Engdahl

Miss Pamela Engdahl, bride-elect of Danny Deel of Rankin, was honored with a Lingerie Party on Saturday, April 14, in the Memorial Building Club Room.

Hostesses for the occasion were Mrs. Spencer Engdahl and Mrs. Clarence Salter of Brady.

The refreshment table of white net overlay over red satin, with blue satin ribbon bows held the top overskirt at each corner. The red, white and blue, the bride's chosen colors, were used.

The Hallmark "Young Love" centerpiece was the lovely bride dressed in the long white lace dress over white bridal satin and long white tulle train held from the head piece of lace and lily of the valley. She was wearing a strand of miniature pearls and holding a honey-comb basket of flowers. The bride was dressed by the honoree's Grandmother Engdahl.

For a lovely glowing effect, small votive red candles burning in red hobnail glass holders were arranged around the skirt of the centerpiece.

Mrs. Jimmy Locklear of Brady, aunt of the honoree, poured the strawberry punch and Mrs. Dwayne Holder served the wedding ring cookies, strawberry cookies and the miniature muffins iced and covered with red, white and blue coconut were served with mints and nuts.

Miss Kelley Engdahl, bridesmaid and sister of the honoree registered the guests in the guest book covered with white lace over the bridal satin and applique with sequins and pearls. The table was covered with white net over red satin and centered with white iris in a red container.

In the receiving line greeting the guests were the honoree and her mother, Mrs. S. C. Engdahl; the bridegroom's mother, Mrs. Don Deel of Rankin. Each one presented with a corsage of red, white and blue.

The gift table was covered with a white linen outwork cloth where many lovely gifts were placed. The hostesses presented Miss Engdahl with a beautiful silver tray. Approximately 50 guests registered in the guest book or sent gifts where Miss Engdahl received many lovely gifts.

Spring flowers were placed on the end tables and guest tables.

The Memorial Building Club Room was the scene of a Coke and Rice Bag party honoring Miss Pamela Engdahl, bride-elect of Danny Deel, on Saturday afternoon from 3:00 to 4:00, with Kelley Engdahl, bridesmaid, as hostess.

Shades of red, blue and white were used, carrying out the bride's chosen colors.

A few of the honoree's girl friends were invited to help make the rice bags from the red and blue colored rice and red tulle bags tied with blue satin ribbons.

The honoree was presented with a lovely three tiered crystal server from the hostesses.

Cokes, chips and dips were served to the girls present.

Shore Does Recordings

S. Sgt. William S. "Bill" Shore, longtime Eldorado resident, has recently recorded two of his own country and western songs on the Dance label at Houston's Doggett Enterprises.

Negotiations are under way with a major recording company in Nashville to release an album of Shore's songs, according to his stepfather, Calvin Henderson of Eldorado.

A self-taught guitarist, the 27-year-old Army sergeant is a member of the Fort Sam Houston pistol team and tours in competition. He has been playing guitar since he was 14 and has been writing his own songs almost that long. He entered the Army in 1967 after attending Eldorado High School.

Roy Holt Elected Legion Officer

Roy Holt, 43-year-old building contractor at Kingsland, Texas, and son of a former superintendent of the Eldorado schools, was elected vice commander as the 21st District American Legion convention was held in Del Rio recently.

Other officers elected were Stanley Tschirhart of Lakehills, Hector Garcos of Uvalde and Al Bunt of San Angelo.

Holt was born Aug. 12, 1929, in Abilene, and attended schools in Eldorado, Sanderson, Coleman, and graduated from Centennial Rural High School. After retiring from the U. S. Navy he attained an Engineering degree.

He is presently Commander of American Legion Post 437 at Kingsland and has been instrumental in raising membership from 93 to 216. The $3,000 owed on the Legion Hall building fund has been paid off. Holt is also a member of First Presbyterian church, member of Texalpa and Alpa, and graduate of Leadership College and Extension Institute.

Producer Completed

An undesignated producer was completed recently in Schleicher county.

Joseph I. O'Neill, Jr., Midland, has completed as an undesignated producer in Schleicher county his No. 1 Annie Mae Murphy, 3/4 mile north-northwest of Canyon "B" production in the Cody Bell multipay field and five miles north-northwest of Eldorado, for a calculated, absolute open flow of 1.6 million cubic feet of gas per day, with gas-liquid ratio of 37,901-1. Gravity of the condensate was 65.3 degrees.

Production was through perforations at 6,349-381 feet, which had been acidized with 40,000 gallons and fractured with 42,000 pounds of sand.

The following tops were picked on ground elevation of 2,433 feet: Canyon "A", 6,228 feet; Canyon "B", 6,347 feet; and Canyon "D", 6,519 feet.

Originally scheduled to 7,000 feet as an outpost to Canyon "D" production in the Cody Bell field operator recently amended field designation to "undesignated." It was drilled to 6,642 feet, with 4 1/2-inch casing set at 6,641 feet and plugged back to 6,632 feet.

Location is 1,320 feet from the north and east lines of 18-LL-TCRR.

Shower Set April 28th

A bridal shower honoring Mrs. Donald Rogers will be held at the Granvil Hext home on April 28th from 10:00 to 11:00 a.m.

Hostesses will be Mmes. Arch Mittel, R. D. Johnson, John Stigler, Fred Watson, Jack Griffin, Raymond Hall, Kenneth Richardson, Truett Stanford and Hext.

Perishable Pork

Pork tends to develop "off" flavors easily—and is more perishable than other red meats. Keep pork cold at all times. Don't leave it in a parked car. Even on cool days, the sun warms a closed car to temperatures dangerous for food. Once home, open the package of pork—or punch a few holes in the wrapping—so air can circulate around the meat. Otherwise, the tight, store wrappings hold in moisture—and with excessive moisture and no air, bacteria growth is encouraged. Bacteria, in turn, give meat an "off" flavor.

When freezing pork or any other meat, wrap it so it's air-tight. Many meat markets will wrap meat for customers on request—using freezer-type paper. Or the consumer can wrap it at home—using a plastic-laminated freezer paper. For best quality, meat should freeze solid within eight hours. Hold it at less than zero degrees F. during the storage period.

Prepare Children For Doctor's Visit

Prepare a child for a trip to the doctor or dentist. There's no joy in a surprise visit. At least give him some advance notice, whether it's an office or hospital call. Surprise visits tend to upset children rather than reduce anxiety. To avoid this, begin "preparation" about a week before the appointment. Tell the child when and what will probably happen. Indicate that although pain may occur, it won't last long. Relate your own experiences—but not at length. Certain details may only frighten him more. Answer any questions truthfully and reassure him before the actual event. Preparing the child for a visit also aids the doctor. An unprepared child may have difficulty coping with what takes place in the office or hospital.

If you like quick, delicious desserts to prepare for your family and guests, here is a great recipe to add to your collection. This recipe was given to me by Mrs. Tillie Wilde who received it from a friend. This is a delicious, fine textured cake and quick because it utilizes a boxed cake mix.

Sour Cream Cake

In a small bowl mix:
1/2 cup chopped nuts
1 teaspoon cinnamon
4 teaspoons brown sugar.
Set aside to use later.
Mix in large bowl:
1 package white cake mix
1/2 cup cooking oil
1/2 cup sugar
4 eggs.
Mix well and add: 1 cup dairy sour cream.
Pour half of batter into greased tube pan. Sprinkle half of nut mixture over batter. Pour rest of batter in pan and sprinkle rest of nut mixture on top. Bake at 350 degrees for 60 minutes.

Glaze cake while still warm.
For glaze, mix 1 cup sifted confectioners sugar with 3 or 4 tablespoons of milk and spread over hot cake.

Mrs. Evelyn Wimer and Mrs. Sadie Davidson attended a campers association meet at Glen Rose.

S. C., ANNETTE ENGDAHL
AND FAMILY

Just outside the walls of the old city of Jerusalem is an eroded hill that bears a resemblance to a skull, and is called Golgotha. It is said that upon this hill stood three crosses the day that Jesus was crucified. That agonizing day that Christ died is referred to today as "Good Friday".

EASTER APRIL 22, 1973

Matthew 28:1-9 & Mark 16:14-20 from The LIVING BIBLE

Early on Sunday morning, as the new day was dawning, Mary Magdalene and the other Mary went out to Jesus' tomb.

Suddenly there was a great earthquake; for an angel of the Lord came down from heaven and rolled aside the stone and sat on it. His face shone like lightning and his clothing was a brilliant white. The guards shook with fear when they saw him, and fell into a dead faint.

Then the angel spoke to the women. "Don't be frightened!" he said, "I know you are looking for Jesus, who was crucified, but he isn't here! For he has come back to life again, just as he said he would. Come in and see where his body was lying . . . And now go quickly and tell his disciples that he has risen from the dead, and that he is going to Galilee to meet them there. That is my message to them."

The women ran from the tomb, badly frightened, but also filled with joy, and rushed to find the disciples to give them the angel's message. And as they were running, suddenly Jesus was there in front of them!

"Good morning!" he said. And they fell to the ground before him, holding his feet and worshipping him.

Still later he appeared to the eleven disciples as they were eating together. He rebuked them for their unbelief—their stubborn refusal to believe those who had seen him alive from the dead.

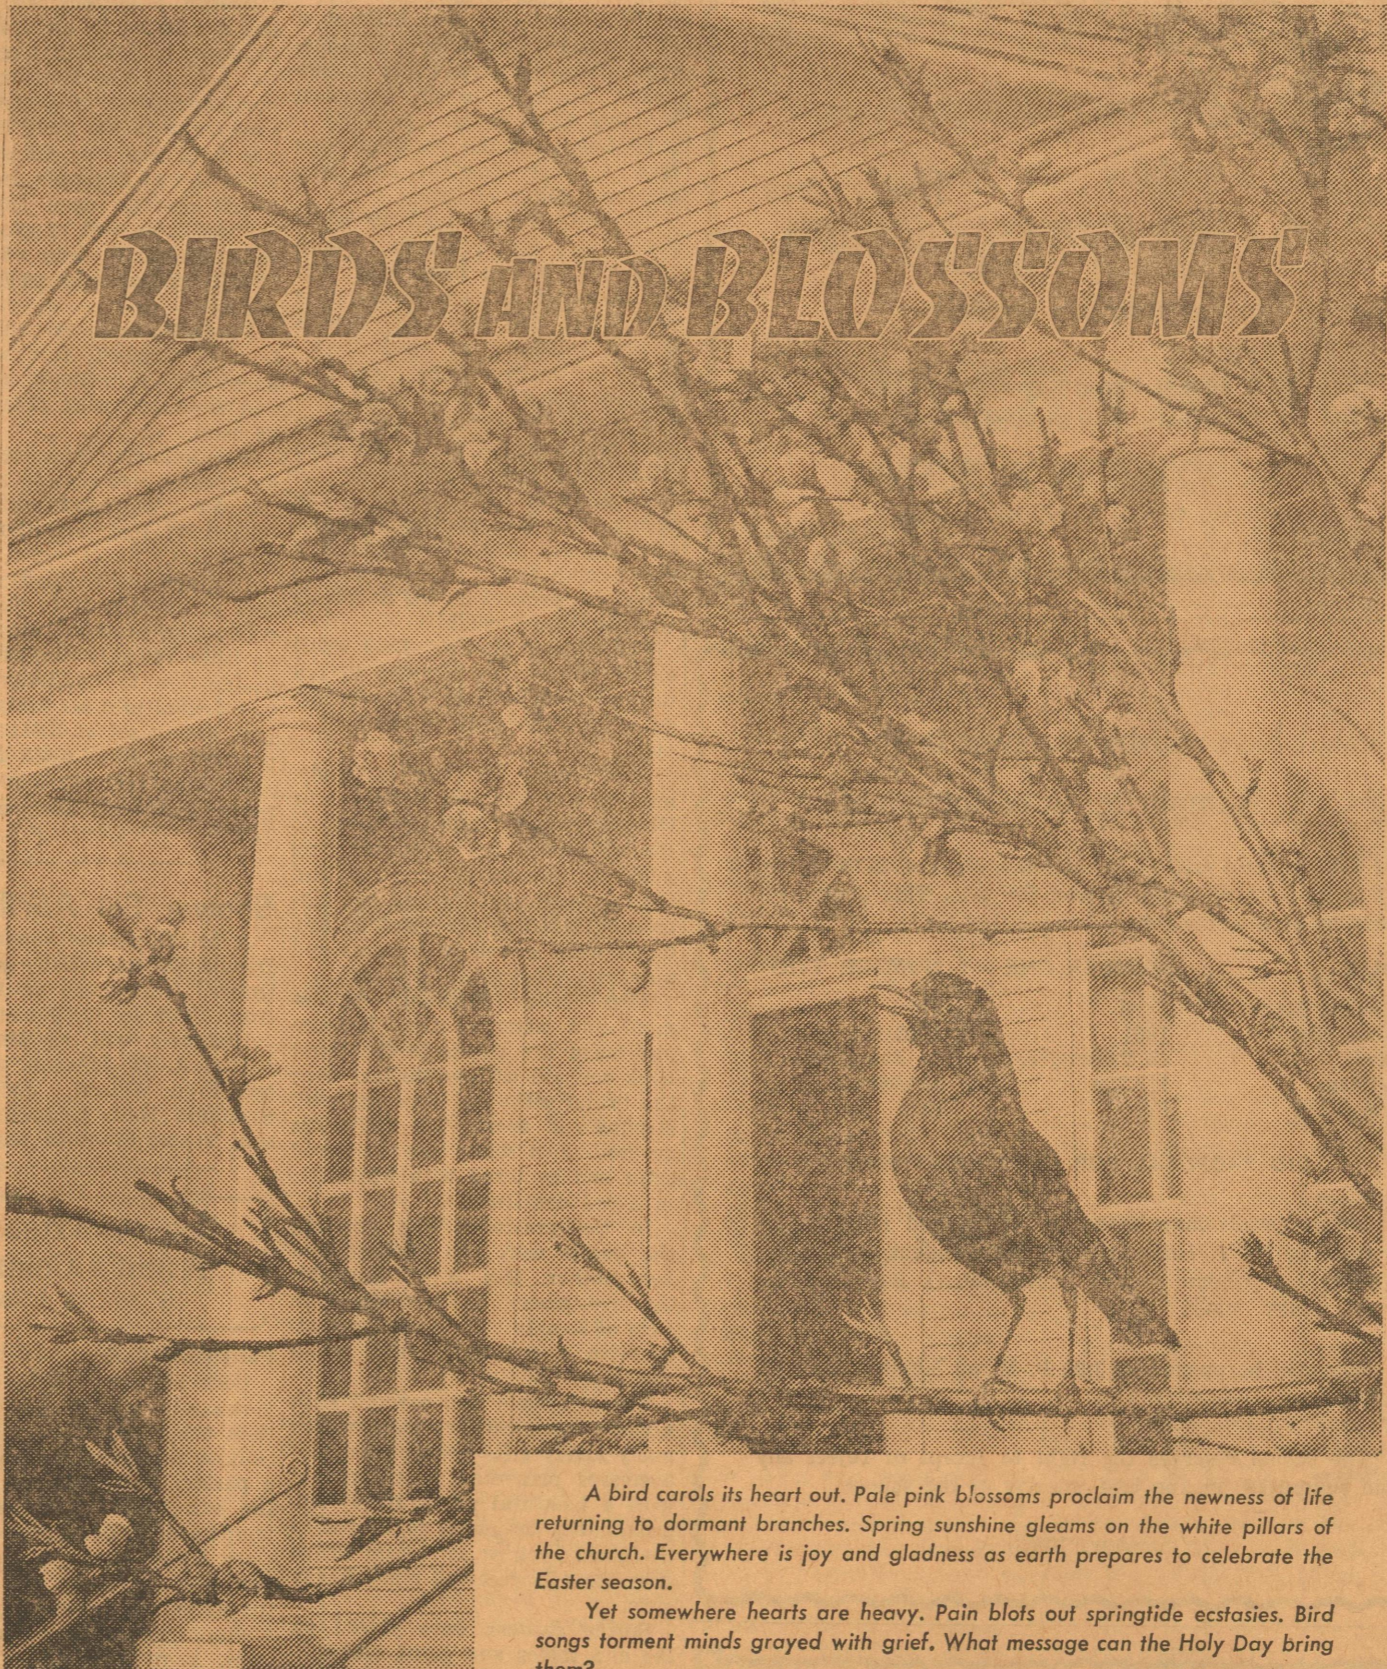

And then he told them, "You are to go into all the world and preach the Good News to everyone, everywhere. Those who believe and are baptized will be saved. But those who refuse to believe will be condemned."

When the Lord Jesus had finished talking with them, he was taken up into heaven and sat down at God's right hand.

And the disciples went everywhere preaching, and the Lord was with them and confirmed what they said by the miracles that followed their messages.

BIRDS AND BLOSSOMS

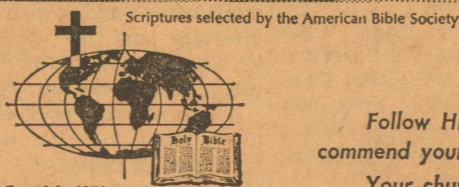

A bird carols its heart out. Pale pink blossoms proclaim the newness of life returning to dormant branches. Spring sunshine gleams on the white pillars of the church. Everywhere is joy and gladness as earth prepares to celebrate the Easter season.

Yet somewhere hearts are heavy. Pain blots out springtide ecstasies. Bird songs torment minds grayed with grief. What message can the Holy Day bring them?

In the darkest hour of the first Good Friday, Jesus, deserted by His followers, rejected by those He came to save, tortured and suffering, said, "Father, into Thy hands I commend my spirit."

Follow His example this Eastertime. Whatever the situation, however bleak the outlook—commend your spirit, your very self to God. Your load will be lightened, your being restored.

Your church is an open door which calls you to the joyous realization of God's love as an unassailable source of strength in your life.

The Consumer Alert

by Attorney General John L. Hill

In the Spring, a young girl's fancy often turns to thoughts of love, and the high pressure salesman who works from door-to-door can be expected to take advantage of the season.

The Attorney General's Consumer Protection Division already is receiving complaints of being pressured into high-cost contracts for hope chest items, such as cookware and china.

In one instance, the young woman and her roommate had been called on by a door-to-door salesman who claimed to have a superior set of stainless cookware to sell. While the cost for such quality was a bit high, the customer was assured she would be getting more than her money's worth, because she also would receive "free" a four-place setting of china.

As the young prospect began to show signs of weakening under a long (two-hour) high pressure sales pitch, she was offered another bonus in the form of a set of cutlery—if she agreed to buy the cookware that very day.

After the salesman glossed over the financial features and fine print of the time payment contract, with (according to the customer) a running line of distracting patter and frequent glances at his watch, she signed on the dotted line.

The next morning, she was remorseful—as so many customers in door-to-door transactions are, and regretted the fact that she had agreed to buy a set of pots and pans for a total of $427.34—including taxes and interest charges.

She felt even worse, she said, when she visited a retail store, and discovered she could have purchased the same brand of cookware and the same pattern of china at less than half of the amount she had obligated herself to pay. "I discovered it was a rip-off," she said.

The attorneys in my office immediately recognized that this contract was invalid, because the buyer was under 21 years of age. The cookware and china had not been delivered, but the contract had been sold to a lender. After several telephone contacts, the cookware firm agreed to buy the installment "paper" back from the finance company, thus relieving the young woman of any obligation.

But there would have been no relief in sight for the customer if she had been 21 years of age or older. The lender who bought her signed note would have had no obligation to cure her complaints.

So there would have been no happy ending. The customer would have had to pay out the $427.34 note—even if the goods were not what she had expected; even if they deteriorated rapidly.

The moral to that story, and to most of the complaints of misrepresentation and exaggerated promises by door-to-door sales persons, is that the homeowner who answers that knock on the door should be extra cautious about (1) admitting the salesman in the first place; (2) listening to the sales spiel, unless it relates to a product the resident knows about and wants, and (3) signing a contract on the spot.

If the product is good, and if the price is right, the seller won't mind making a second call to close the deal.

When you leave your home to shop, you do so in a frame of mind which prepares you to cope with comparative pricing and sales claims. Usually, you know about what you want, and approximately how much you have to spend.

The door-to-door sales agent has a built-in advantage, because he catches you off guard—often in the evening when you already are tired, and since it is your home, you do not want to seem inhospitable.

The most reasonable cure for the "morning after" regrets that follow unsatisfactory door-to-door transactions is offered in a bill (S. B. 454) proposed by State Senator Bill Braecklein of Dallas, to follow unsatisfactory door-to-door period. That would give you those three days to change your mind about a home-made agreement to buy an article costing $25 or more.

That bill has been passed by the Senate, and is being considered by the House of Representatives. The idea is to give the buyer equal advantage with the seller—to put you on equal footing with the salesman who puts his foot in your door.

Methodist Notes
A two-night preaching mission is set for Wednesday and Thursday night, with preaching by Dr. Charles Giesler, district superintendent. The second service will be concluded with a Maundy Thursday Communion Service.

TO CONDUCT SERVICE
The service Easter Sunday afternoon at the local Nursing Home will be in charge of the Church of Christ on the Mertzon highway.

The True Meaning Of Easter

Easter and life after death are subjects of profound interest to everyone, young and old. At Easter we commemorate the supreme mystery of life; we reaffirm the glorious hope that life is eternal. "I go to prepare a place for you," said Christ and "... that where I am, there ye may be also."

Leslie Weatherhead, a prominent writer in London, tells an immortal parable which deserves to be a classic. To me it is the most satisfying illustration on the subject of life after death that ever came my way. It has to do with a baby in a prenatal state.

The baby is nestled up under his mother's heart, well taken care of, well fed and happy. He likes it there. Suppose, then, that somebody comes to the baby and tells him, "You're not going to stay here. You're going to be born," and he learns that by being born he would leave this warm, secure place. That would not be "being born" to him. That would be "dying," for dying is considered an end.

And the baby would say, "I don't want to be born; I don't want to die out of this place. I like it here. I'm warm; I feel love all around me; I'm happy and content. Just leave me alone. I don't want to leave this nice place." But there comes a day when he is born—or, looking at it from his angle—when he dies out of that place and is born into our world.

What happens to him? The first thing he feels is soft, tender, loving hands gently holding him. He looks up into a wonderful face that is full of love and loving eyes are shining down at him.

Then as he grows he has the fascinating experiences of childhood and young manhood, and the future is before him. He feels strong. It is good to be alive! He marries and has children. He becomes middle-aged, is creative and happy and life is good; indeed the world is good. He loves it!

Then the years begin to add up. His hair becomes white and his step a bit feeble. And he knows he has to die, to leave all this and go away into another place, some uncertain place that is mysterious to him.

And once again he protests, "I don't want to die! I like it here. I love to feel the warmth of the sun on my face, the softness of rain, the bite of snow. I love to see great blue-shrouded mountains shrouding out the sky. I love to watch the ocean washing upon soft shores of sand. I love to be with my family and my friends. Life is good! I don't want to leave here!" But, as it happens to all humanity, one day he does die to this world.

What happens then? Does God all of a sudden change in nature? That doesn't make sense. Isn't it reasonable to believe that the first thing man will feel is the touch of great, loving hands, that he will look up into a face that is infinitely loving; he will look around him wonderingly and his breath will be taken away by the beauties that he sees? All tears will be wiped from his eyes and he will say, "Why was I so afraid of this thing called death, when as I now see, it is life more wonderful than ever before!" And he will be forever alive.

This is what Easter really means. It is a faith, a hope. But when you really think it through it also becomes a very rational conclusion. Happy Easter to you!—from the writings of Norman Vincent Peale.
