The old 1½-storey A. T. Wright house is being moved back into the town of Eldorado. It was bought by Jim Thornton a few years ago and moved out into the county, to the Williams ranch. When Thornton was elected County Clerk, he moved his family to Eldorado and sold the Wright house for removal. Dale Cavenss, patrolman, has bought it and is moving it to a lot in the east part of town on the by-pass road.

PAR-TEE NEWS

This past week the course was not very crowded. Seems like everyone had decided to rest after the tournament. By Saturday, though, the regular were back hitting the little ball again.

Sept. 1, Labor Day, was a special play day. The play was a Scotch Twosome, somewhat different than our regular mixed foursome. Some of us had all kinds of trouble.

Coming in with the lowest score was Mary Waldron and Bob Whitten.

Second place went to Eddy Kinser and John Callison after a play-off on the cards over the team of W. G. Crippin and Bob Bradley who captured third place.

Fourth place went to Ralph Waldron, Pete Peters. Some of our players, being local firemen, were up most of the night due to the trailer house fire. So we think they played real good golf.

Following the play at 7:30 was a covered dish supper which was enjoyed by a good crowd.

Remember the monthly bingo party Sept. 10 at 8:00 p.m.

Happiness is finding your glasses soon enough to remember why you wanted them. Happy Golfing! —Rep.

Restored 'Bailey's Barn' Gives Glimpse Of History

This reporter recently took an afternoon drive to visit the "Bailey's Barn." It is on the old Ambrose Roach homestead ranch, homesteaded in July of 1905 by the late Ambrose Roach. The ranch now belongs to Mr. and Mrs. T. J. Bailey of Ozona. Mrs. Bailey is the former Jewel Roach.

The Baileys started back in May of this year to restore the house as a Bicentennial project. In recent years the house had been used as a hay barn and the outside was covered with tin and had fallen into disrepair over the years.

The house has now been restored. The floors had to be replaced in some of the rooms and new ceilings added. The house has been paneled and some of the house now has new carpet.

An interesting "find" was the cement tub that turned up in the bathroom. It was built by Orval Edmiston, and Mrs. Bailey reported that it was very rough. It was not a part of the house when the Roaches used the place as their home in this county's early days. The tub has now been removed and replaced by a more modern bathtub, and the bathroom has been refinished along with the rest of the interior.

This house was originally two houses and they were combined around 1945 by Orval Edmiston, G. L. Ballew and Reuben Dickens. The house has been painted red and is trimmed in white. Also a patio has been built under a big oak tree that the Roach children played under while growing up.

The children of the late Mr. and Mrs. Ambrose Roach are Eldred Roach of Ozona, Jewel (Roach) Bailey also of Ozona and A. J. Roach who died at the age of 18, and Jim Tom Roach of Eldorado. The Roach children were all born in this ranch. Mr. and Mrs. Roach moved into Eldorado when their children were along in high school.

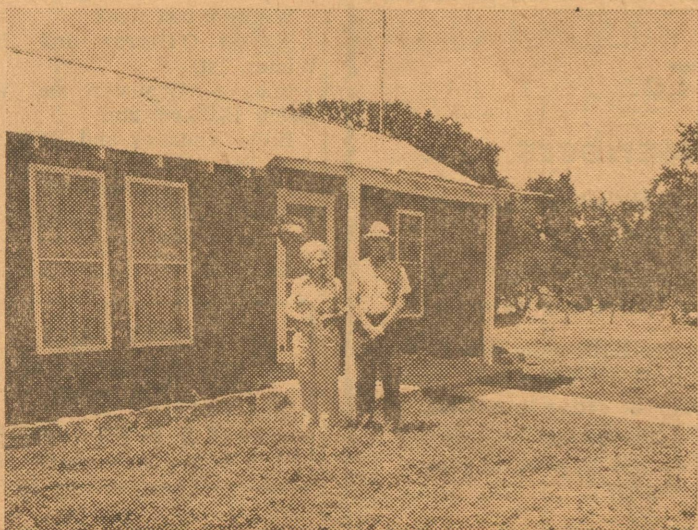

T. J. Bailey retired from West Texas Utilities 9 years ago after having worked with the firm 40 years, most of that time in Ozona. Mrs. Bailey retired two years ago after having completed 28 years of teaching in Ozona.

Mr. and Mrs. T. J. Baileys' children are Mrs. John Lee Henderson of Ozona and Joe Bailey of Dallas.

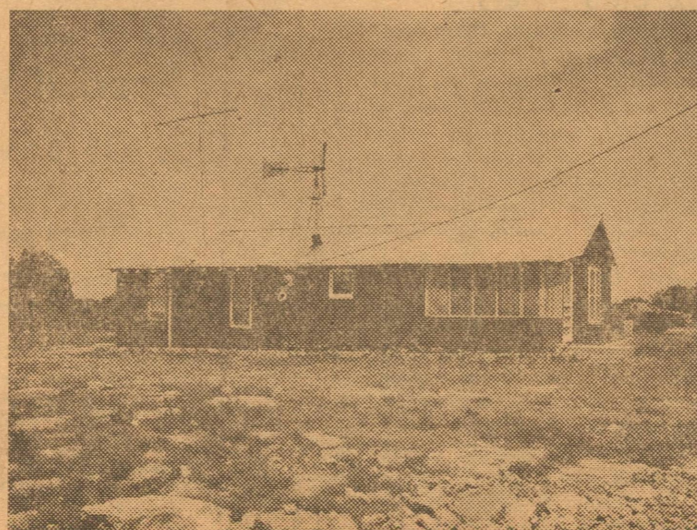

Gene Edmiston had the Roach ranch leased for 33 years. Eldred Roach of Ozona now has the place leased.

Bailey's Barn is located 11½ miles out on Ranch Road 915, better known as the Mertzon highway.

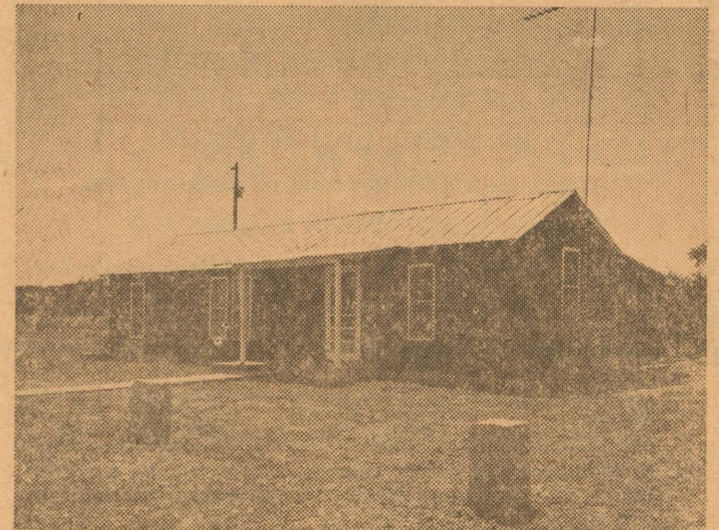

As a restored ranch house of an earlier era, Bailey's Barn provides an insight into how life was back then, and its modernizing and up-to-date touches provide a good home for the Baileys today. The renovating and restoration of the best of the past is now being done over the entire country as our nation is getting ready to observe its 200th birthday in 1976.

This is a view of the "Bailey's Barn" taken from back side of house.

This is the "Bailey's Barn" located on the old Ambrose Roach ranch on the Mertzon highway, about a dozen miles out. The ranch is now owned by Mr. and Mrs. T. J. Bailey; she is the former Jewel Roach.

The Baileys and Mrs. Ruth Harper are shown sitting in the patio in the back yard of the renovated place. —Staff Photos

Chicken Cordon Bleu—A Blue Ribbon Winner

Today's homemaker has many factors to consider when planning family meals—good nutrition, low cholesterol foods, rising prices, as well as individual likes and dislikes. Convenience and ease of preparation must also be weighed if the homemaker is a wage earner. Aside from these considerations the meal planner is expected to incorporate variety and imagination in menus to stimulate interest in mealtime.

An impossible task? Not when you serve dishes like Chicken Cordon Bleu. This French-inspired recipe uses boned, skinned chicken breasts instead of the traditional veal cutlets. Chicken is readily available in your supermarket and currently is selling for less than most other meats. It is also low on the cholesterol scale, high in protein and popular with all family members.

Chicken Cordon Bleu is made by rolling up the flattened chicken breasts with slices of ham and Swiss cheese, breading the rolls and frying them in Planters Peanut Oil. Wise homemakers favor peanut oil because of its high smoke point. This means it can be heated to very high temperatures without smoking or burning.

Working mothers will be interested to know that this recipe can be made in advance and refrigerated leaving only the frying to be done at the last minute.

- CHICKEN CORDON BLEU
- 2 chicken breasts, boned, skinned and split
 - Salt
 - Pepper
 - 4 rectangular slices boiled ham
 - 4 rectangular slices

- Swiss cheese
- 1 egg
- 1 tablespoon milk
- 2 tablespoons flour
- 2/3 cup fine dry bread crumbs
- Planters Peanut Oil
- Parsley

Place each piece chicken between sheets of wax paper. Pound very thin with smooth-surfaced meat hammer or rolling pin; do not tear flesh. Remove wax paper. Lightly sprinkle chicken with salt and pepper.

Fold 1 ham slice into quarters, folding from short end. Wrap 1 slice cheese around ham. Place on one side of a chicken breast.

Fold chicken breast in half overlapping sides so that ham and cheese are completely enclosed. Press edges together. Repeat with remaining ham, cheese and chicken.

Beat egg and milk together. Coat chicken with flour. Roll in egg mixture, then in bread crumbs coating evenly. Refrigerate at least 20 minutes.

Fry chicken in a ¾-inch depth hot (375°F.) Planters Peanut Oil about 4 minutes per side, or until well browned and done. Drain on paper towels. Serve garnished with sprigs of parsley. Makes 4 servings.

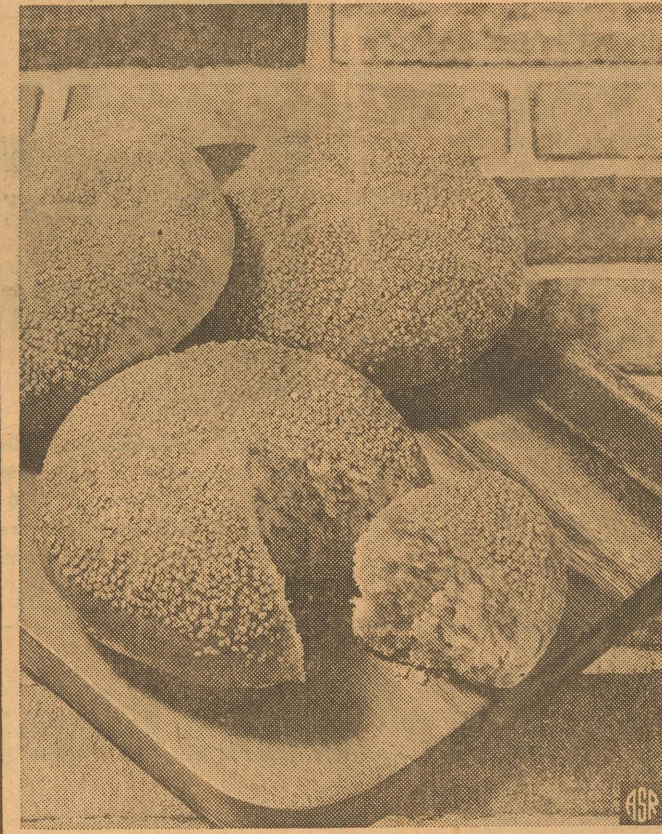

Bake Bread At Home For Economy, Flavor

All over America, women (and men, too!) have been searching for ways to cut their food bills. The money crunch has hit everyone.

Families have initiated the custom of growing their own vegetables. Women have learned to prepare foods they used to buy already packaged. Interestingly enough, in this day of saving money on food, we've never eaten better.

One of the delicious results of the difficult economy is home-baked bread, a treat that everyone enjoys. When it's Oatmeal Sesame Bread, it's even better. The 3-MINUTE BRAND OATS acts as an extender and a delectable flavor ingredient. From one easy recipe, three loaves are shaped, brushed with beaten egg white and water and sprinkled with sesame seeds. This is a bread that can easily become a family tradition, no matter what the state of the economy.

- Oatmeal Sesame Bread
- 1 package active dry yeast
 - 1½ cups warm water (110° F.)
 - 2 tablespoons sugar
 - 2½ teaspoons salt
 - 2 tablespoons butter
 - 1½ cups 3-MINUTE BRAND OATS
 - 2½ to 3 cups flour
 - 1 egg white
 - 2 teaspoons water
 - Sesame seeds
- Dissolve yeast in ½ cup water. Combine remaining water with sugar, salt and butter. Stir in yeast, oats and 1 cup flour. Add enough of remaining flour to form a soft dough. Knead until smooth and satiny — 6 or 7 minutes. Cover and let rise until double in bulk. Punch down, divide into three equal parts and let rest for 10 minutes. Meanwhile, beat egg white and water. Shape each portion of dough into flat, round loaf.

Brush with egg white mixture and sprinkle with sesame seeds. With back of knife, make three deep grooves across each loaf without cutting all the way through. (This should divide each loaf into 6 pie-shaped wedges.) Let rise until double. Bake at 400° 20 to 25 minutes or until browned. Break into wedges to serve.

NEW ORLEANS' OWN SHRIMP COCKTAIL

If you visit New Orleans you may find yourself passing up your own favorite shrimp cocktail for the local favorite, Shrimp Remoulade. This is shrimp marinated for hours in a fiery, reddish-gold sauce, then served as an appetizer, traditionally on flat plates over unusually wispy amounts of salad greens. Behind the scenes in the city's restaurant kitchens, especially the famous older ones, you will see an inevitable array of large, flat pans filled with marinating shrimp, Creole style. One nice thing about this tangy remoulade is that all ingredients are familiar, easy to get. Nothing far-out or expensive. And it will work texturizing miracles with the handiest package of all, the can-vient kind of shrimp. Canned shrimp remoulade keeps and keeps. Make it a week or more ahead, if you wish, and keep refrigerated. The longer the shrimp stand in the sauce, the firmer, more "chewy" they seem to get.

SHRIMP REMOULADE

- 3 cans (4 1/2 ounces each) shrimp
- 3 garlic cloves, cut fine
- 1/3 cup horseradish mustard
- 2 tablespoons catsup
- 2 tablespoons paprika
- 1/2 teaspoon cayenne pepper
- 1/3 cup tarragon vinegar
- 1/2 cup olive oil or other salad oil
- 1/2 cup finely chopped green onions, tops included

Drain shrimp. Crush garlic in a bowl and stir in all ingredients, except shrimp. When thoroughly blended, add the shrimp. Marinate in the refrigerator two hours or longer, stirring occasionally. Serve on small portions of shredded lettuce or other salad greens. Makes 6 to 8 servings. (Note: Canned shrimp remoulade is perfect make-ahead party food. Provide party picks and assorted crackers.)

Austin, Tex.—Organized crime is involved in Texas prostitution, bookmaking, fencing stolen goods, car theft and drugs, according to the latest report of Texas Organized Crime Prevention Council. The Council's latest annual report estimates $1 billion in illegal bets were placed with bookies last year, turning profits of nearly $121 million.

Bookies were said to be operating in Belton, Brownsville, Corpus Christi, Dallas, Fort Worth, Galveston, Houston, Midland, Odessa and Wichita Falls and regularly contacting others in 117 Texas cities and 119 in other states.

Placing illegal bets on college and professional basketball games was pegged as the state's largest organized crime activity of 1974.

However, the Council said 1,028 prostitutes, 535 procurers and 99 madames have been identified by the Texas Department of Public Safety over the last even year.

Income to organized crime from prostitution was estimated at about $127 million annually, with prostitutes earning an average of $1,500 a week.

The Council said no Texas membership in La Cosa Nostra has been identified, but more than 200 Texans are believed associated with the Dixie Mafia operating in Alabama, Florida, Georgia, Louisiana, Mississippi and other southeastern states.

"Recovery Begins"

Texas economic recovery, after a downturn, is starting slowly, according to The University of Texas Bureau of Business Research.

Encouraging signs included rising urban residential construction, a decrease in the seasonally-adjusted unemployment claims, lengthened work week and an improving job picture in individual labor market areas.

Austin, Dallas-Fort Worth, and Houston areas reported large job increases. Corpus Christi, Longview & Marshall, McAllen-Pharr-Edinburg, Midland-Odessa, Tyler and Waco areas showed small increases in June. El Paso and Lubbock registered significant decreases in June employment.

Short Snorts . . .

District Judge O. P. Carrillo's impeachment trial, scheduled to start September 3 in the Senate, may have to be fitted around his income tax trial set to open September 8 in federal court at Corpus Christi.

Terence O'Rourke of Houston announced for Railroad Commissioner in the 1976 election.

The proposed new Texas constitution will be explored in detail at a September 19 conference sponsored by Texas Press Association, Texas Daily Newspaper Association and Texas Association of Broadcasters.

Agriculture Commissioner John C. White extended 10 days the August 31 plow-up deadline for Lower Rio Grande Valley cotton farmers.

TIPS ON BEATING VACATION INFLATION

Planning can help you to cut your travel expenses by as much as 10 to 25 percent.

The typical vacation budget breaks down this way: car care, 30 percent; lodging, 19 percent; food, 23 percent; miscellaneous expenditures, 18 percent; and entertainment—the whole point of the trip—only 10 percent.

Whether you are taking a three-day holiday weekend trip or a two-week fling, Judi Hampton, consumer affairs director for Mobil Oil Corporation, has this advice:

TIP 1: CAR CARE

Get your car tuned up at least a week before the trip. It will save you gasoline and money. According to Ms. Hampton, misfiring spark plugs, faulty carburetor chokes and clogged air filters could lower gas consumption several miles per gallon. Have a complete lubrication and an overall checkup. This means looking at the battery, oil filter, cooling system, tires, lights, brakes, windshield wipers, fan belt, ignition system, springs, shock absorbers, and wheel alignment.

A car tuned to perfection can provide 25 percent better gas mileage and prevent breakdowns. Also, know your travel route to avoid wasting gasoline.

TIP 2: LODGING

Make overnight reservations in advance to avoid disappointment. Ask about prices. Summer travel keeps hotels, motels and inns booked, especially the least expensive rooms. Guest houses and tourists' homes are usually less expensive than hotels and motels. Tipping runs higher in hotels than motels.

An aid to planning is

A car tuned to perfection can provide 25% better gas mileage.

If you're in a hurry, excellent food is served in many cafeterias—and there's no tipping. Consult your Mobil Guide.

Reduce breakfast expense and ease the morning rush by taking along a plug-in coffeemaker kit with its own cups and a jar of instant coffee. Pick up fruit or canned juice and packaged rolls or doughnuts the night before.

Picnicking will substantially cut food costs. Many states have roadside stops or rest areas, most with tables, many with shade and fire-place. Your picnic kit is straight from your own kitchen—knives, forks and spoons, bottle opener, paper cups, plates, towels; if you plan to barbecue, take a frying pan, safety matches, and a thermos bottle.

TIP 3: FOOD

Good food ranges from elaborate souffles to hot dogs from street vendors.

picnic. The money you save by breakfast on-the-run and picnic lunches can pay for one night's lavish meal.

TIP 4: MISCELLANEOUS

Here's the big area for economizing. Part of the secret is in packing. List the things you'll need, to avoid buying what you already have at home.

A few musts: snacks, blankets, insect repellent, pre-moistened towelettes or damp washcloth, a good first-aid kit, emergency car kit, Mobil Travel Guide, family prescriptions.

Where are you going? What will you be doing? A sports vacation calls for bathing suits, sunglasses, fins, snorkel, bathing cap and suntan lotion. The list is endless but so is the expense of buying any of these items en route. Take favorite sports equipment like golf clubs, tennis rackets, fishing rods and inflatable water rafts to avoid renting them.

Film bought at a discount store at home is cheaper than that bought at a major tourist attraction.

Take magazines, books, paper and pencil, small sewing kit. For the kids—comic books, paper dolls, coloring books, bat and ball, a magnetic checker set.

Did you tighten your Christmas card and gift-giving list last year? Why not cut down on postcards and "little gifts" for everybody back home?

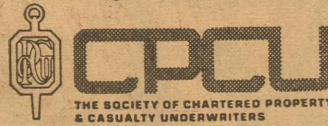

TIP 5: ENTERTAINMENT

From the money you saved in the other categories, you can splurge on a few fancy restaurants, deluxe hotels, renting a sailboat for the day or buying a wonderful memento of the trip.

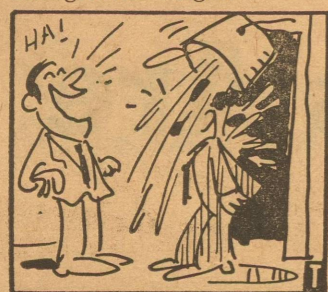

Better yet, start saving for your next vacation!

Q. Revenge is sweet. The office practical joker is coming to my home for dinner and I've rigged up a trick that's guaranteed not only to dampen his spirit, but his party suit as well. I figure that the liability part of my homeowners policy will protect me against any damages. Am I right?

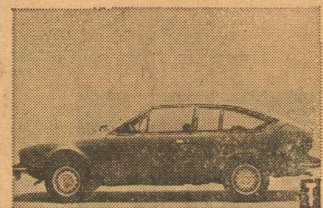

A. No, no, you are wrong! Your homeowners insurance policy protects you against damage caused by accidents, but not from damage resulting from your intentional acts. Here's one case where your own joke may be on you.

IT'S SUPERIOR!

Superior value: A 69.42 carat flawless diamond ring, highest-priced diamond ever sold at an auction, which brought the remarkable price of $1,050,000. The ring now sparkles on Elizabeth Taylor's hand.

Superior time: The "kalpa," which is the longest measure in Hindu chronology. One kalpa is equivalent to 4,320 years!

Superior automobiles: Alfa Romeo autos, driven by eight percent of Italian car owners, and one of the very few cars for which the demand may be greater than the supply! Above is the Alfetta GT, new to the American market!

Superior writing paper: Sold by Cartier of New York for nearly $200 a sheet, it's hand-made, personally water-marked paper from Finland.

Teacher's Scotch Information Centre
THE GREAT GREY MAN

Most people have heard of the Abominable Snowman, or Yeti, which is supposed to haunt the heights of Mount Everest. But Teacher's Scotch Information Centre would like to introduce you to Scotland's Abominable Snowman—the Great Grey Man of Ben Macdhui, a mountain in the Cairngorm range which crosses the Highlands.

Ben Macdhui is a mysterious mountain which exerts a peculiar effect on climbers who reach its summit. A Glasgow University professor described at a mountaineering club dinner how he was at the top of the Ben when he heard footsteps behind him. The footsteps followed him round the cairn at the summit and all of a sudden he was seized with an inexplicable terror. He ran down the mountain-side and the footsteps followed him for some time and then stopped.

After this revelation other responsible mountaineers came forward and told how they had heard and sometimes had seen the Great Grey Man of Ben Macdhui. Those who heard the footsteps claimed that Scotland's Abominable Snowman took only one step for every two or three of their steps, so they thought that the Great Grey Man was at least twice the height of a normal human being.

There is no actual proof that the Great Grey Man exists, but mountaineers still bring in reports that they have seen or heard him on Ben Macdhui.

Safety Tips For Power Mowers

Even if you're an old pro at power-mowing your lawn, you may have forgotten some of the basics of lawn mowing safety. Studies show that safety is no accident and 95 percent of all accidents are caused by carelessness. Here from the Outdoor Power Equipment Institute are simple safety tips that will cut blade accidents in power mowing.

1. Read the owner's manual carefully, often, and become familiar with your mower before using it.

2. Start the mower engine with feet and hands well away from the blades and other rotating parts.

3. Know your controls. Learn how to stop machine fast in an emergency.

4. Stop the engine and disconnect spark plug before checking the discharge chute and working on the blade, or any other part.

Remember, outdoor power equipment is not a toy and should not be treated as such. By observing these and all other safety rules, you can help assure that grass is all your power mower blades cut this summer.

YOUR LIFE INSURANCE

Prepared by the American Society of Chartered Life Underwriters, the national society of life insurance professionals who have earned the CLU designation by meeting high educational, ethical and experience requirements.

Q. I don't believe this! My summer home was broken into last month and among several items of value, the thief took my life insurance policy. It's not of any value to the thief is it? Or does he know something about life insurance that I don't know?

A. No, he doesn't. An insurance policy has absolutely no value to anyone except you. And it is also replaceable by your insurance company.

You may be interested to know that last year over 350,000 lost, stolen, or mutilated policies were replaced. Although most Americans are careful to protect their families with some form of life insurance, many of them are not so cautious about taking care of their policies.

To reduce the risk of losing your policy again, here's some good advice.

*Keep all your insurance policies in a safe place.

*Keep a separate record of all your policies.

*Let the beneficiaries know where the policies and records are kept.

A small, watertight, fire-resistant metal file box is useful for storing your policies. And a good point to remember is that it is not necessary to store them in a safe deposit box, since your beneficiaries will probably have to get permission from the tax authorities to open the box and this could delay the payment of insurance.
