Something To Think About

By JANNETTE WILKERSON

"CAN A REDNECK MOTHER FIND HAPPINESS IN THE BIG CITY?"

Saying good-bye has never been one of my strong points, however in this case it's impossible.

Working for an oil company has meant, first of all, a livelihood for our family, getting grease out of permanent press and wondering if Dad would make it home for the birthday candle "blow-out", or game-time kick off. But sometimes they throw us a real curve and we get transferred. They did! and we are!

There are no words to express what living in Eldorado has meant to our family, and no way to show the gratitude for your friendship.

It won't be easy adjusting to a new life for any of us and our comfortable, at ease life style will change when we get to Odessa. I don't know about the rest of the family, but I'm not sure the city is really for me. I've made a list of things I'll have to de-program myself from doing such as:

1. Loitering at the post office, having lengthy discussions about kids, rainfall reports, meeting new people, seeing who all got a pink card for a package, and comparing junk mail. Yes, no doubt about it, I'll miss the post office.

2. Being able to take a walk, bike ride, or letting the kids play out after sundown without the fear of getting mugged.

3. There are no deer roaming free in Odessa. The countryside allows little for a seasoned wildlife spotter like myself. Therefore, I'll have no excuse for being a rotten driver. The thought of five o'clock traffic gives me a chill.

But I think what I'll miss most are the smiles, yelling across the street to a friend, seeing the sheep dogs in the back ends of pickups, the noon whistle, the caring and sharing. Shoot! I'll even miss working in the concession stand and wearing that dumb Eagle suit at Pep Rallies.

What it boils down to is "can a redneck mother find happiness in the big city?" Probably not as much, but it's another chapter in our lives and so far I've not been disappointed. Each day brings change and hopefully progress. If we can manage to meet these new challenges with faith and enthusiasm, maybe we can turn a sad situation into a good and learning experience.

Of course, I'll really miss writing this weekly column. Being able to express the things that matter to me and sharing a few thoughts and smiles has been a joy and privilege. Being able to "tattle" on my family has been a source of therapy for me, even though they sometimes don't speak!

It's been fun and your response has been a treasured gift. A special part of my heart will always belong to Eldorado and its people.

In Eldorado you have it all! So guard it well, my friends. Its beautiful and becoming more rare everyday — and that's something I'll think about and hold dear for the rest of my days — Thank you.

Hall Of Fame Opens Saturday In Christoval

Recalling the history of the cattle business in the United States will be the order of the day during the opening at the Cattle Breeders Hall of Fame in Christoval Saturday.

The hall of fame is located on a tract of land on the Concho River on Highway 277 in southern Christoval.

About 300 invited guests will gather at 10 a.m. in the hall's museum for fellowship and at noon for barbecue.

Representative Tom Massey will present plaques to those being inducted into the hall of fame. At 2 p.m., Speaker of the House Bill Clayton will address the group.

C.W. "Dud" Adams, organizer of the hall of fame, says that 52 men and women will be inducted into the hall. All Texans, they were instrumental in the development of the cattle industry. One of these is Holvey Enochs, a Schleicher County rancher who is also national chairman for the hall of fame.

Seven supporters of the cattle industry will also be honored during the ceremonies including Floyd Butler Jr., of Eldorado. The hall of fame includes a museum of items used by ranchers when they first came to the west. Items include old barbed wire, bullets, wolf traps, knives and cow bells. There is also a victrola, antique living room suite and wood burning stove.

The museum will be closed one

Coach Williamson Optimistic About 1978 Football Team

Eldorado Eagle head coach, Mike Williamson, and his staff are optimistic this year with eleven regulars returning from last year's squad.

Forty boys reported for practice August 14 and all in good condition. The attitudes are very good toward the workouts and all of the boys have been to each practice. They have responded well at each session.

Although there are only four seniors this year, there are seven defensive returners from last year. Williamson expects to gain some strength for his varsity squad from some promising boys up from last year's junior varsity.

Coach Williamson noted the Eagles will have average size and also pointed out his speed might be their biggest asset.

The depth in experience might be our biggest problem, but if the boys come through, and work hard, mentally and physically, the Eagles should have a good season, commented Williamson.

Eldorado had been tapped for the cellar in District 9A this year with Wall and Junction picked for top spots followed by Menard, Mason and Reagan County, according to the preseason coaches poll. The polls, however, sometimes leave out "who wants to win the most" and "who can make the fewest mistakes."

As optimistic as coach Williamson is and as eager as the boys seem to be, the Eagles will have a chance to contribute themselves to a successful grid season.

Every team needs supporters to back them during the season. A good way for the fans to begin is by going to the first scrimmage Aug. 25 in Sterling City. The game will begin at 6:30.

September 1 the Green and White will travel to Sonora to scrimmage the Sonora Broncos. Game time has not been set yet.

Assisting Coach Williamson this year in various sports will be: Jimmy Marshall, assistant varsity football and assisting in track.

Kenneth Thomas has been on the Eagle coaching staff for 11 years and will be assistant coach of the JV and Junior High football. Thomas will help scout for football and basketball this year.

Larry Mitchell begins his 5th season and will be coaching the Junior Varsity Football, basketball and Varsity Track.

Tim Terry will be assisting Varsity Football, Varsity Basketball and Golf.

Winston Leifester will have one of the integral parts of a football team as scout. He also coaches elementary P.E.

Football season always stirs up

Hot Weather, Meat Diet Biggest Changes For Exchange Student

Life has changed considerably for Franck Boulmer. For most of his life, he has lived in a small village near Rennes, France. So naturally, he is accustomed to cool temperatures ranging from 20 degrees in the winter to 68 degrees in the summer.

He enjoyed riding his bike around the curves in French roads and resting under shade trees as he travelled from one small town to another. Because of the cool weather and the location of his home, he is used to wearing wool and corduroy clothing, berets and eating a diet of vegetables and fish.

But all that changed when he was accepted as an American Field Service Exchange student and came to Eldorado to live with the Kenith Homer family.

Gathered around the Homers' kitchen table, Franck and members of the host family talked about the changes he has faced since his arrival. The Homer family is composed of Kenith, his wife, Karen; daughter Kara and son Kurtis, who is Franck's age.

The first thing that Franck had to get used to was the heat. Not used to 100 degree weather, he nursed a headache for several days. "But I am over that," he says.

Franck says the next thing he had to get used to was the difference in food eaten here. In France I ate only vegetables and cereals," he says, adding, "Now it is only meat." The French don't have "so much soft drinks" and have either wine or beer with their meals instead of iced tea. Bread in France is either long or round, whereas here it is sliced, he says.

Because the Homers live in the country, there are many chores to be done, and their guest has chipped in to help. In the two weeks he has been here, he has helped spray Johnson grass and unload a truck of hay. "I had helped unload hay in France," he said, "But it was different. The bales were smaller and tied with string, not metal wire. We used pitchforks to throw them." One advantage of farm life, he noticed, is that "you can mix free time with work time."

Riding a bike is different here, too, as the roads offer no challenge because they are long and straight, with "no trees to rest under."

Mrs. Homer pointed out that Franck saw his first cactus in West Texas. In France, he says, cactus is grown only in greenhouses and is a rarity. Homer laughingly told him he could take a whole truck of it home with him.

But it has not been all work and no play for the French native, as the host family has also taken him to the lake. There he tried his hand at water skiing and driving a jet ski. Franck had little trouble with either as he had snow skied in France. However, he did not know to fall backward on the skis and sported a knot on his forehead where he hit the ski when he fell.

Franck is getting used to the music in the United States, too. "We have rock, but not the other (meaning country-western)." He learned quite a bit about the German culture of people here when he attended a wedding dance in San Angelo Saturday night. "He did the Bunny Hop and the Cotton-Eyed Hoe," said Mrs. Homer, "I don't know if he learned how, but he was out there trying."

Franck and Kurtis will be seniors this year. Franck will be taking typing, Spanish, speech, American History, agriculture, English and algebra. If he had not come here, he would possibly be attending a university studying Russian.

Of course, Franck is not the only one who is having to adjust to the program. For Kurtis, Franck is "somebody to talk to and be with" where as before he was mostly by himself.

For Kara, Franck is another brother, which she seems to think is alright, especially since Kurtis doesn't bother her as much.

For Mrs. Homer, the change comes mostly in preparing meals. She worries because Franck eats so little meat. "I think he'll do fine, if he doesn't starve," she said with a smile.

Of course, another son to help with chores is nice for the father of the house, who teases the new resident, as he does his own children. However, he has helped Franck learn many other things since his arrival, such as the game of pool. "Franck never knows when Kenith is teasing," says Mrs. Homer, but the rest of the family watches out for him.

Franck speaks English quite well and understands it if it is spoken slowly. He also speaks German, but right now he is teaching the Homers a few words of basic French, which they enjoy.

Already Franck is fitting into the routine West Texas life. He has a pair of boots which his feet are not used to and a hat he rarely wears. This week he planned to buy short sleeved shirts for school.

Given a little time, Franck will be used to the climate, a diet of basically meat and country life. He is bound to become a basic part of the Homer family and Eldorado.

Eldorado Golfers Win Annual Hext Tourney

It took a little doing, but two Eldorado golfers came out on top of the annual Jack Hext Memorial Tournament here last weekend. Paul Page and Buddy White scored a 120 to tie with Blackie Howard and Sonny Perez of San Angelo. After four extra holes of play, the Eldorado team came out on top.

Third place winners in the championship flight were Wes Harrison and Sam Harvey of San Angelo with a 124.

First in the flight were Sonny Cortese of San Angelo and Earl McClure of Fort Stockton with a 128. A.G. McCormack of Eldorado and Phil McClure of Fort Stockton tied with the team of Joe Martinez of San Angelo and Johnny Ramariz of Sonora with a 129 for second place at the end of regulation play. McClure and McCormack won on the first hole.

In the second flight, George Johnson and Tommy Thorp of Sonora scored 128 for the first place. John Callison and Paul Page, Jr., of Eldorado were second with a 129 and Delbert Taylor and Ralph Waldron of Eldorado were third with a 131.

An Eldorado-Menard team of Guy Whitaker and Ken Williamson of Menard were first place winners in the third flight with a 136. Don Nicholson and Weatherly Kinser of Eldorado scored a 138 for second, and Joe Daugherty of Big Lake and Burton Lanehart of Big Lake won third on a play off after scoring 139.

There were 40 teams playing in the annual event, representing about seven West Texas towns.

Local golf club members termed the tournament a huge success and have expressed their appreciation to all those who helped with it.

In other golf news, six local women attended the monthly round robin at Riverside Golf Course last week. Melissa O'Harrow and Joan Edmiston placed in the play. Others attending were Mabel Freitag, Eddy Kinser, Mary Waldron and Myrta Rathbone.

The next round robin playday will be in Robert Lee in September.

Girl Scouts Start Year

The Eldorado Neighborhood of Girl Scouts will be re-organizing the scout troops and leadership for 1978-79.

According to Mrs. Joyce Marshall, neighborhood chairman, there are a few positions for assistant leaders open. She is responsible for organizing the troops and obtaining leaders.

First meeting for the year is set for 9:30 a.m. Monday in the club room of the Memorial Building.

"If you have a desire to work with young people and don't mind giving up some of your time once a week and want rewards in return, consider working with Girl Scouts," said the chairman.

Booster Club Sets Meeting

The Eldorado Booster Club will have its first meeting of the 1978-79 school year at 7 p.m. Aug. 31. The meeting will be in the Corral Room of the Memorial Building.

Members will elect officers for the coming year.

The announcement was made by president Ted Short.

City Budget Hearing Set

A public hearing on the proposed city budget for 1978-79 is set for 7:30 p.m. Tuesday in city hall.

The budget proposes $293,636 for expenditures and $308,659 in revenue.

It includes $17,000 for building repairs and construction of fencing around city-owned property. It also includes $10,000 for a city vehicle.

A condensed form of the budget is as follows:

Utility fund	$181,493
General fund	7,455
Trash fund	34,688
Public health	8,732

Shown on the proposed budget is an estimated sales tax of $40,000 and revenue sharing of $8,732.

ACS Needs Donations

Members of the Eldorado chapter of the American Cancer Society are looking anxiously toward the end of their fiscal year, which is Aug. 31.

The chapter lacks $400 reaching its goal of $2,770. For the past eight years, the chapter has met its goal and received and award for doing so.

To help raise the $400, the chapter is having a bake sale Aug. 30 beginning at 9 a.m. in front of the bank. Donations of any baked goods will be cheerfully accepted.

Any monetary donations may be mailed to the American Cancer Society, in care of Ruthie Dacy, Box 202 or call 853-2814.

MAN OF THE YEAR — Jimmy Powell of Eldorado, left, is presented the "Man of the year in Texas Agriculture" award by Gilbert Heidemant at the 1978 Texas County Agricultural Agents Association Annual meeting in Lufkin. In the center is Powell's wife, Nancy. Powell has been active in soil and water conservation programs in Schleicher County for several years.

Beef Market May Weaken Soon

Beef markets will likely weaken a bit during the second half of the year, says a livestock marketing specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service. Prices of both fed and feeder cattle will probably be at their lowest levels in September or October and then begin to gather strength once again.

Beef prices will come down somewhat in response to some consumer or retailer resistance. Beef production will be down about 2 percent during the third quarter.

One thing you can count on... things are always changing!

Now, I hear that Captain Dad has received a real nice promotion, and he's taking all the kids that are still at home and moving to Odessa. That's bad enough. But he's also taking Janette. That really leaves us with something to think about. Or, I should say, without something to think about!

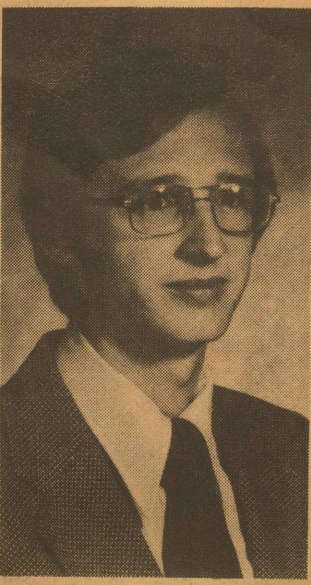

We'll miss Janette. She has been a vital part in making the Express News and now the Leader, an interesting and readable paper. It is hoped that she can continue to provide us with those interesting and philosophical comments that have prevailed her writings these past two years. She has brought a lot of fun and happiness to a lot of people, and knowing her personality, she will be doing that where ever she happens to be.

You've been a bright spot in all our lives, Jannette, — good luck, and keep in touch!

Terry Neill has been named president of the West Texas Press Association for the ensuing year. Owner and publisher of the Leader and the Stanton Reporter, Terry has done an outstanding job not only in his newspaper work, but in the communities in which he works. We're fortunate to have people like Terry providing such leadership. He's a 'get up and go' sort of guy.

What looked a couple of weeks ago like a complete washout as far as local crops are concerned has turned into promise of at least a fair chance. If that rainy spell could have been followed by a second one a few days later it would have really made a difference. Both milo and cotton are making growth, but there's quite a distance to the bank yet. Parts of the county are showing that they didn't get much of that rain, after all.

GRADUATED — Ken Wilson, who has been the speech teacher at Eldorado High School for the past several years, received his masters of arts in teaching from Angelo State University this summer. He graduated with a 4.0 average. Wilson was recently hired by the Plains School District.

Home Front News

Visiting in Eldorado recently were Duncan and Betty Pollard of Napier, New Zealand. They have been visiting in the home of Mrs. F.M. Bradley, Mr. and Mrs. Bob Bradley, Margaret Frost, and Mr. and Mrs. L.L. Ballew. Also visiting with them were Mr. and Mrs. Jack Davis of Snider, Okla.

Imogene Edmiston is home after a visit with her sister and her family, Mr. and Mrs. Claude Roth in Piedmont, S.D. During her visit, she visited Mount Rushmore, the Black Hills and Little Big Horn. She also visited with the Roth's children, Mr. and Mrs. Tom Roth of Piedmont, Mr. and Mrs. Bob Roth of Laramie, Wyo., and Mr. and Mrs. Tom Morrison of Montana.

Raymond Hall is in the Breckenridge Hospital in Austin where he underwent surgery Tuesday morning.

Mrs. McKinsey of Christoval visited in Eldorado Tuesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Hickman of El Campo spent four days with the Jim Holley's. Danny Hickman of San Marcus visited the Holley's for the weekend. Mama Holley went home Tuesday after spending the summer with the Holleys and the Buff Whittens.

Small Grains Could Help Solve Drought Problems

Due to the extreme dry spring and early summer months, many farmers have not planted their annual crops. This presents three problems: lack of income for farmers, residues are not returned to the soil, and bare fields are now susceptible to severe soil erosion from wind and water. The solution to these problems this year may be solved by planting small grains. Since the area has received some moisture as to date, it could make ideal conditions for late summer and early fall planting of various small grains.

Small grains return a considerable amount of residues to the soil, which not only improves soil, but also decreases its erodibility. Also due to the drought conditions there should be a good market for small grains this coming year. A cover crop is very essential in protecting against the erosion of the soil from high winds and washing from hard and heavy rains.

Small grain could be the answer to the area's agriculture disaster relief this year. For more information, call or write the SCS Field Office in Eldorado at Box 459 or call 853-2720.

Cattlemen Are Reducing Herds

Cattlemen across the nation are continuing to reduce their herds, but some signs point toward a buildup by next year.

Dr. Edward Uvacek, Jr., livestock marketing specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, notes that recently reported lower cattle numbers mean producers are still in the liquidation phase of the cattle cycle.

Total cattle and calf inventories on July 1 were 7 percent below a year ago while beef cows were down 9 percent. The specialist says beef cow replacement heifers were also down sharply, but nine states reported an increase in such heifers and had no change from last year.

"This, in itself, might be signaling a somewhat different attitude among cattlemen and may point toward a buildup by next year," contends Uvacek.

The ancient Europeans believed beating the water would cause rain.

Three Quick Thinking Youths Pull Lady From Lake Saturday

Quick thinking and prompt action on the part of three teenagers probably saved the life of an unidentified woman in Christoval Park.

The youths, who were in Playland Park, saw the woman struggling in the water near the opposite shore where she had apparently become entangled in river plants. They swam across the river, freed her and helped her to shore.

The incident occurred about 7 p.m. Saturday. Steven Burress, 17, of Christoval, Skeeter Gatlin, 16, of Miles, and Oscar Epperson, 17, of San Angelo were the three rescuers.

'View Point'

By SUNSHINE
QUESTION: How do you feel about our present welfare system?

Art Avila, singer: I don't believe in it. I think people who are able should be working. The present system is misused and abused.

Diane Musick, housewife: If everyone who received welfare had to put in 40 hours a week doing 'something' before they could get their check the welfare line would be a lot shorter.

Bill Green, service station owner: I feel like anyone who is able bodied and under 60 ought to have something to do. If they won't find something to do let them go hungry and they will go to work.

Jack Tounget, retired: I think there is room for improvement.

Sandra McMillian: When I worked in a grocery store I saw first hand how the food stamp program was misused. I feel it needs to be overhauled.

From The Horses Mouth

By JERRY SWIFT
Schleicher County Agricultural Agent

If you have not already treated your lawn for white grubs, do it now. You might even consider another treatment since the grubs are particularly susceptible now. The moist soils are conducive to good root development of St. Augustine grass so the grubs are having a feast. They are feeding actively and it is a simple matter to get the pesticide down to them. In moist soil, the active ingredients in pelletized or granular pesticides are easily soluble and translocated in the soils. Apply diazinon (Spectracide) or dursban granules evenly with a fertilizer spreader. The directions for use are on the package. Be sure and water over them thoroughly. This seems to be the way to get the best results.

By the way, all pets and children should be kept off the treated lawn until dry. Dursban and diazinon are readily absorbed by the skin and could be hazardous. Use all the care you would normally use when handling all pesticides. They are meant to be toxic.

SHADE TREES
Hot dry weather can cause serious damage to recently planted shade and ornamental trees unless they get a little special care. The main thing is to make sure they get adequate water since hot summer days and drying winds take a great deal of moisture from the leaves and stems. Since a transplanted tree has a small root system, the only water it can utilize is that which is in the soil close to the tree. If this soil area becomes dry, the leaves wilt, turn brown and drop. Branches or even the entire tree may die.

Water at regular intervals all trees planted within the past year. If the soil is sandy, water about once a week; if it is clay or loam, thorough watering every 10 days to two weeks should be enough.

Using an open-end hose, regulate the water flow so there is no run-off and saturate the soil around the tree. To determine whether or not you are supplying the proper amount of water, take soil samples between waterings at depths of 12 to 18 inches; the soil should be moist but not muddy.

Insect control is also critical for transplanted trees. A few insects can cause severe damage to a newly planted tree, so control measures should be applied promptly when insects are found.

Also, for steady vigorous growth, fertilize the tree once it is established.

If the tree was worth planting it is certainly worth the little extra effort required to keep it in good growing condition.

FALL GARDENING
Do vegetable seeds you plant while the weather is still hot refuse to become productive plants for your fall garden?

Instead of becoming a headache to deal with, some simple preparatory steps will encourage seeds to sprout and develop into productive plants.

Providing a better environment for the seed is the real key.

To begin, bed the garden rows before planting. Then make about a one-inch furrow down the center of each row. Water the furrow several times to moisten the soil to 2 or 3 inches and then you're ready to plant.

It also helps to soak seed overnight to improve germination.

After spreading seed evenly in the furrow, cover it with a light layer of compost, potting soil or vermiculite, which is light in color, effectively reflects the sun's scorching rays and provides a cooler environment for the seedlings.

As seedlings appear, protect them from the sun with boards, cardboard or draped cloth, particularly on the west side of the plants. And remember to keep watering.

After seedlings reach a height of 1 to 2 inches, thin excess plants to allow those remaining to reach full production.

deacon in June of 1971 and spent one year at St. Elizabeth's in Milpitas, Cal. He was ordained a priest in St. Mary's Cathedral in San Francisco May 27, 1972.

Father Woodruff studied Spanish at the Mexican-American Cultural Center in San Antonio and had an audience with the late Pope Paul last year.

While in Abilene, he was in charge of the St. Joachin Mission in Clyde and helped organize St. Ann's Mission in Baird.

Chili Cook-offs For Stout At Heart

By Sunshine

Interviewing winners at a Chili Cook Off isn't an easy chore.

I arrived shortly after five at Playland Park to get it all; pictures, interviews, etc. Wow! Was I surprised — but then, I'd never been to a chili cook off before either.

First I had to cross the swinging bridge. About one-third of the way across I met several of the revelers coming from the other side, apparently about three sheets in the wind, reeling and rocking as they went. Well, the swinging bridge tried to throw me several times, but I hung on, grimly determined to get the story.

On the other side I found pandemonium.

I asked the first person I saw who was in charge. He just stared at me with glassy eyes and said he didn't know and didn't care, then staggered on his way.

After asking about half dozen people and getting more shocks than answers I finally came up with the following winner: (perhaps true, but not guaranteed) Arm Wrestling, Jeff Calvin.

No names could be obtained for horseshoes, washer pitching or the other categories, however, in the horned toad race there was only one horned toad entered so I assume that he or she won.

The lady who won the wet tee shirt contest was also nameless, but everyone I talked to was very able to describe her.

By this time I was wishing that my courage had failed me at the swinging bridge so with camera and notes, I scurried to the stairs and rushed across the bridge, hopping over spaces where boards were missing in my haste to return to my safe, sober, solid world.

A chili cook off is for the very stout at heart.

Two-Pasture System Is Helpful To Livestock

Ranchers in Schleicher County are using the two-pasture, one herd livestock grazing system. This type of grazing system has proven to produce much more grass and forage than the continuous grazing system.

In addition to increased forage production and forage quality, other benefits can be realized. Less labor is required to check only one pasture instead of two which also reduces vehicle expenses.

Cows, calves, ewes and lambs graze a more balanced plant variety and will better utilize the varieties of forage. Also the number of deer tend to increase in this type system.

Here is how it works: Two pastures of nearly equal sizes are needed. Livestock are all grouped into one pasture. Every four months, the herd is rotated into deferred pasture. During this cycle, pastures will be deferred at different seasons of the year.

One major disadvantage is that nearly equal pastures are needed.

However, if this grazing system fits your ranching operation, a change in the composition of plants will occur and the new plants will be more palatable, productive and nutritious.

For more information about planned grazing systems contact the Soil Conservation Service in Eldorado.

PASS OUT THE PUNCH — Youngsters attending Vacation Bible School at the Church of Christ last week were hot and thirsty as the temperatures soared into the 90's and 100's. So, naturally at the end of the classes, they bombarded the water can, here supervised by Patsy Kellogg, right. Thank goodness she had enough to go around.

Nursing Home News

Bro. Dan Adams, pastor of the First Methodist Church here, showed us tapes of some buildings in London, England, and other parts of England. The article in the newspaper stated that the buildings were made in the 1900's, however, they were made in the 1700s.

Last Sunday the Church of Christ on the Mertzson Highway conducted the service here in the dining room. Bro. B.C. Coates, who had been their pastor for several years, resigned recently, and Bro. Gene Lusk of San Angelo conducted the service. He will be their substitute pastor until the church here can secure a regular pastor.

We enjoyed the message he brought very much and there was a large number of the members from that church present, so we had a good singing, and I do love that.

We had a few visitors with the residents Sunday and last week. Mable Wilkinson had a grandson, Jack Wilkinson and Bob Wilkinson from Menard as visitors, also, her brother and his wife, Mr. and Mrs. E.L. Oliver, came to see her.

Alice Payne of San Angelo visited her grandmother, Beulah Harris, and Beulah's great-grandson, Kirby Harris of Van Horn, who is Alva Lee Harris' son, came to see Beulah.

The bingo winners last wed. were: Beulah Harris, 2; Erna Rexroat, 2; Elva Daniels, 2; Urel Holland, 1; Lester Garrett, 1; Fannie Blaylock, 1; LaVita Brooks, 2. On Friday: Lester Garrett, 2; Mae Mercer, 1; Frank Reed, 1; Beulah Harris, 2; Fannie Blaylock, 2; Elva Daniels, 2; Mabel Wilkinson, 1.

More and more doctors think that people should work after 65, and lots of bosses think it wouldn't hurt before that. Reporters, LaVita Brooks, Beulah Harris

Peters Top Bridge Winner

Sarah McCravey and Billie Andrews were guests last week when Dorothy Evans entertained the Two-Bits Bridge Club.

Frances Peters won high, June Jones won low, and Elizabeth Ballew won bingo.

Hunt Family Opens Antique Shop In Sonora

A new shop named "The Old Shop" is opening in Sonora this fall. For many years, this has been a dream of the James Hunt family, and it is finally going to become a reality. As long as the Hunts lived on the ranch, they did not feel it was feasible to have a shop, but they spent much of their time studying, traveling and buying in preparation for this store. When they moved to town the idea became a reality, and this fall The Old Shop will not only be a dream but a real shop.

The Old Shop will be a residential shop located next to the Hunt's home, and their house will be an integral part of the shop. Do watch for notices of the opening this fall.

At this time, however, the Hunts are carrying some selections made by Jane Wallace and Wayne Doyle in their home until their wedding Sept. 6.

According to Linda Hunt, the shop will have "A Little Bit of Everything Nice", for everyone. "We are putting together the kind of things we love and treasure," she said.

Some of their inventory will be antiques and collectables of all sorts, reproductions, beautiful linens, china, crystal, silver, pewter, cloisonne, brass, copper, baskets, a lot of the Old Chinese blue and white, Babar books and even the lovable Steiff teddy bear. Famous Amos cookies and Godiva Candy will be something new in Sonora, and for Christmas, many goodies as well as the old German wax ornaments and traditional Old World Christmas decorations — plus oven to table ware, old crockery, old molds and many more things too numerous to mention.

French Student Gives Program

Franck Boulmer of France, a foreign exchange student in Eldorado, presented a program for the Good Neighbors Club on Aug. 14 in the home of Linda Daniels.

The student told the members about food in France, saying that fish was the main food. He also spoke on the grade levels at the schools there and showed them dollar bills and monetary change used in France and England.

Members present were Louella Sauer, Connie Spence, Ruth Baker, Ruby Hight, Flora Riley, Marguente Gillasp, Frankie Schrier, Linda Daniels, Gregoria Pina, Mrs. Emmett Sparks and Nancy Lester.

Tennis Winners Are Announced

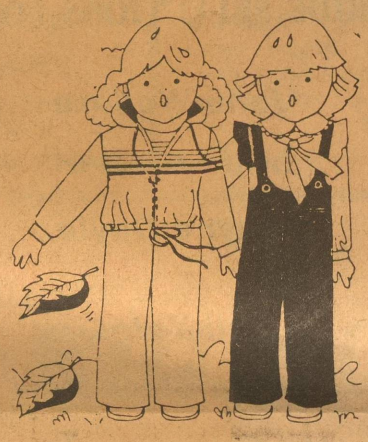

Jim Grimsrud was the top men's winner during the Eldorado Tennis Club competition this week.

Top winner in the women's division was Chris McCravey.

The club meets each Monday for competition.

Mother Nature May Need Help

With the right growing conditions, high quality hay can be produced as late as September and early October. And a forage specialist says producers can help Mother Nature provide the right conditions.

Don J. Dorsett, with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, says a high quality last cutting of hay requires fertility and prime growing conditions, especially moisture.

Dorsett says production from residual nitrogen fertilizer which was applied in April, May or June should not be expected.

"If additional hay or pasture is needed and can be used, an application of nitrogen fertilizer is the main control an individual has to increase production," the specialist says. He suggests applying at least 50 pounds of actual nitrogen per acre (150 pounds of ammonium nitrate.)
