About 300 persons are expected to attend the opening of the Cattle Breeders Hall of Fame in Christoval Aug. 26.

The opening will begin at 10 a.m. with fellowship. Lunch will follow at noon. Representative Tom Massey will present plaques to those being inducted into the Hall of Fame at 1:30 p.m., and Speaker of the House Bill Clayton will address the group at 2 p.m.

Present will be the 52 persons to be inducted into the Hall of Fame, invited guests and invited supporters of the cattle industry. Those inducted into the Hall of Fame were instrumental in the growth of the industry.

Seven of the cattle industry supporters will be recognized during the ceremonies.

Those at the opening will get a chance to see the inside of the newly opened museum which will feature items used by ranchers as they opened the western frontier.

Holvey Enochs, national chairman for the hall, said the museum does not have all of the exhibits it expects to receive for display, but planners are expecting more donations.

After the hall of fame opening, the museum will be open Monday through Friday from 8 a.m. to 4 p.m. for the public.

The camping grounds behind the building will also be open to the public, but persons must call for reservations.

Each year, the hall will add one man per breed of cattle per state to its list of members.

Something To Think About

By JANNETTE WILKERSON

SHOCK TREATMENT

Some call it American Graffiti, but if you have ever been in a public restroom, you've seen it. Wall to wall four letter words. These words have been around for a long time, and I think everyone is really getting tired of seeing the same old words. Even their shock value isn't what it used to be. Not only do you see them and read them; you hear them on TV, radio, every movie, and when someone hits their thumb with a hammer. After careful research, I've found some new four letter words that are guaranteed for an even better effect than the old ones. These words have also been around for a long time, but are very under-used and the shock value is unequalled.

The first one is W O R K. This works especially well in 16 year old boys — you can also follow up with an obscene gesture of pointing your index finger to the trash, then yell MOVE! I realize it's a terrible thing to say to a kid, but at 16, they have probably already heard it from other kids.

Another one is L O V E, this is a good one for shocking parents, grandparents, or spouses, teachers, or even good friends. If you really feel bold and want to shock someone try saying, 'I LOVE your dress,' or 'I LOVE your shirt,' or, and this really takes guts, 'Thank you for being my friend, I love you for it.' This will surely get you an embarrassed smile or even a blush.

I have saved the best for last. P R A Y. This is the real shocker. It's

Sanitation, Animals Top Health Problems

Sanitation and animal control are the two most urgent health problems in the county, as revealed in the annual report released by the county health officer, Dr. J.B. Brame this week. The report was received Monday by the county commissioners court during their regular monthly meeting.

Dr. Brame said both of the problems are of "the utmost importance and remain basically unsettled which in turn requires continued surveillance."

Brame pointed out that all dwellings in the city should be connected to the city sewer lines and those in the county should have closed sewers with adequate drainage fields.

However, he said there have been a number of cases of improper waste water disposal facilities. He feels that part of the problem rests with the influx of new families in the area.

After the annual report was released, the court advised the doctor that another sanitation problem existed, namely an area on the Santa Fe railroad that is being used as a dumping ground. Dr. Brame said he looked at the area, which is "one-quarter of a mile of trash." He is presently working with an attorney for the railroad to solve the problem.

The doctor noted that the problem of stray dogs and cats continues to be a problem in the city, "and as you know there is no adequate solution for this other than having a pound which requires great expenditure." He said he felt a program of rabies control appeared to be the most appropriate approach at the present time. The health officer said there has not been one case of rabies in the county this year, probably because of extensive rabies immunization programs the last two years.

In other areas, he reported that the diabetic and hypertensive clinics that have been established are continuing to function well and meet monthly. There are about 20 contacts each month.

As for as immunizations are concerned, he reported the county had 100 percent participation for DPT, Td and measles immunizations and over 99 percent for polio and

County Orders Truck

An oil and gas lease, bids for a new dump truck and a bill for work on the Little League field were top items during the short Commissioners Court meeting Monday morning.

First of all, Commissioners renegotiated an oil and gas lease agreement with Claude E. Neeley of Midland, who appeared before the court. The lease had to be renegotiated because of a printing error in a Gaines County newspaper.

The court also took bids on a dump truck and accepted a bid from Angelo Truck and Tractor, of San Angelo. The truck, which the company says will arrive from 90-120 days, will cost $14,934.

Appearing before the court were five members of the Jaycees, Wayne McGinness, Johnny Mayo, Jr., De Lux, Steve Whitten and Bill Hodges. They were asked to meet with the court because of a $318 bill they sent for work done on the baseball field.

Lux explained that the Jaycees took the entire responsibility for the Little League program in April and had little time to plan the summer's program. He said the Jaycees used a tractor, front-end loader and roto tiller to lift the mound. He said it took three men six hours to get the job done.

County judge Bob McWhorter told the group that "the usual procedure is to approach the court before the work is done."

Lux apologized for the group's failure to meet with the court before the work was done and twice thereafter when they were scheduled to meet with the court.

McGinness said, "We just didn't know to come before the court and were thinking in terms of getting the program started and underway."

Commissioners asked if the money would go into the Jaycees' general fund, and when were told it would, agreed to pay it.

An annual report was sent to the court by county health officer, Dr. J.B. Brame. Brame reported there are two major health problems in the county now, sanitation and animal control. He said there were a number of cases of improper waste water disposal. Brame said he felt there

Hotel Owner And Employee Tell History of 'Eldo Hotel'

In 1900, men and women were flooding into Schleicher County for a land rush. There wasn't much here except a courthouse, water works, a hotel and a few homes.

Of course, the hotel was the major gathering place for men who had come to claim land.

Since then, a newer building was built and then later remodeled. It became Eldorado's best known landmark, mainly because it was the only hotel in town and because the cafe served the best food in town.

Two people who have been associated with the hotel for many years provided history of the building.

W.F. "Rocky" Meador, who came to this county in 1900, remembers that the first hotel was only one story, but had a "good many rooms." Possibly it was a house that was moved to the location across from the courthouse.

The building also had a kitchen and dining room where family style meals were served. "Meals were two bits and I mean, there was plenty to eat," he remembers.

Elizabeth Ballew, who has worked for and with Meador since 1933, says the first hotel was owned by A.B. Priour who was also the county judge. Priour sold the building and lot to I.H. Elder for $1,250 on Aug. 6, 1901. Apparently, it was during this time that he built the Elder Hotel.

Elder sold the building and lot to S.W. Holland on Feb. 12, 1913 for $7,500. Holland then sold it to S.E.

McKnight for $5,500 on May 31, 1924. Meador recalls that it was renovated and stuccoed during this time.

The 20-room hotel was once again a busy place, this time due to an oil boom. Meador said, "In the late 1920's, there was an oil boom that lasted a short time when Phillips Petroleum brought in what was thought to be a gusher. But it didn't gush long. The hotel was a right busy place then."

Also during this time, there was a courtyard between the hotel and the old bank building. It featured large trees, an iron fence between the courtyard, and wooden sidewalk and benches and seats in the enclosure.

The courtyard was the setting for many social affairs including ice cream suppers, parties and showers for brides. Mrs. Ballew was among several young ladies asked to give readings under the direction of Miss Marie Doty for some of the socials.

The courtyard disappeared in 1928 when J.H. White built the building that now houses offices for the Page family, Benton Abstract, Bob Bradley and Westerman Drug.

H.H. Hooker operated the hotel for McKnight and then bought it himself on March 1, 1932 for $10,000. He made additional improvements to the property.

During the early 1930's, the hotel witnessed another boom to the town, this time when Shell Pipe Line Corporation built a pipe line across the county. Construction workers stayed and ate at the hotel.

During this time, the dining room was run by Mrs. Saphronia Jeffrey and her family. To this day, Eldorado natives remember how good her meals were. In fact, Mrs. Ballew and Meador remember that people from San Angelo and other towns drove to Eldorado for their Sunday dinners at the "Eldo Hotel." Meals then were 50 cents for all you could eat. Rooms were one dollar a night.

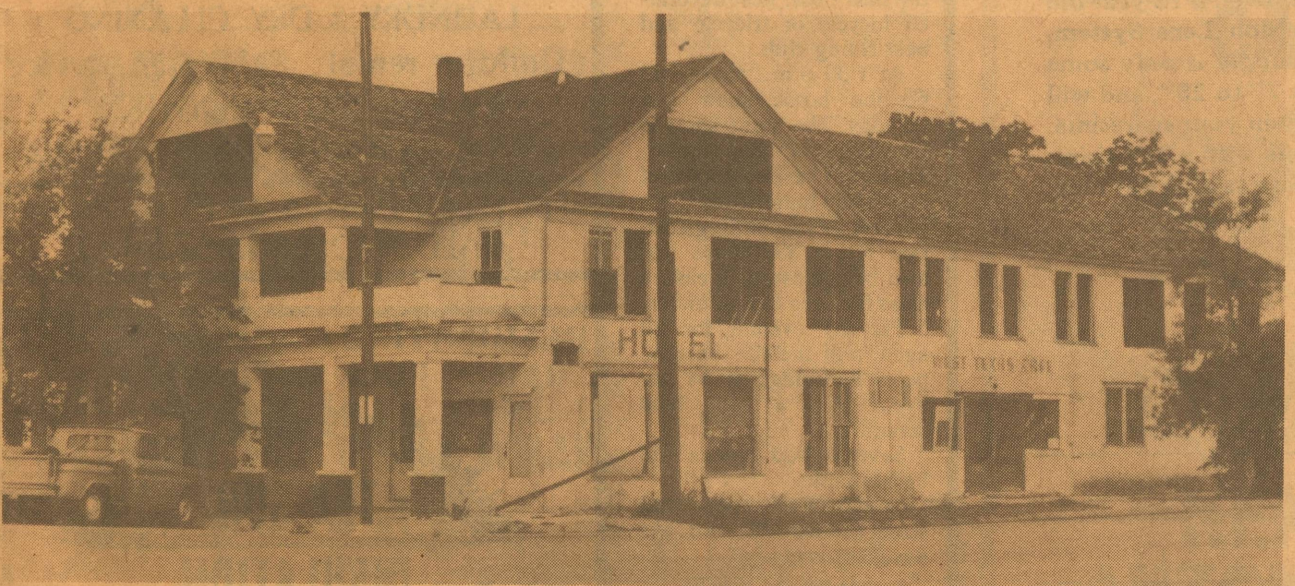

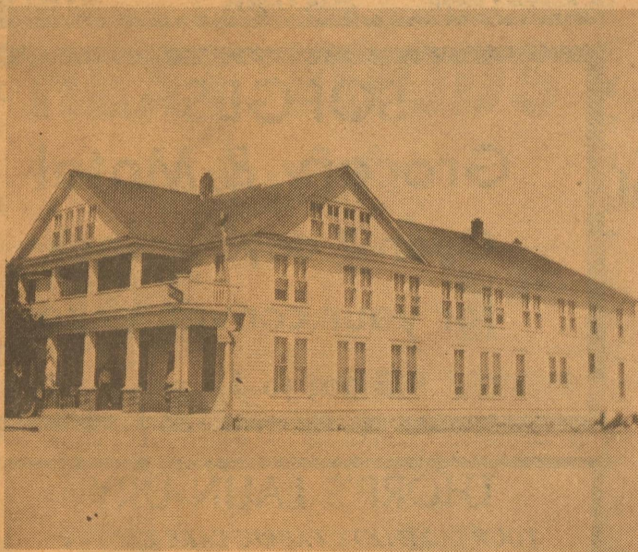

In 1933, John Isaacs resigned as manager of Benton Abstract and Title Company. Meador was employed to take his place and was elected president of the company. He moved his office from the old bank building to the hotel. He rented office space formerly occupied by J.A. Whitten.

"Rocky just inherited me," laughed Mrs. Ballew, who explained that when she was in high school, she worked after school and during summers for the abstract business. When the company changed managers, she began working for Meador in his hotel office.

During the noon hour, Mrs. Ballew doubled as cashier at the desk in the lobby.

"I was a jack of all trades," she laughs now, "and Rocky teases me about it." She ran errands for the Meador family and doubled during the noon hour as cashier. She received no pay for the second job, except to be able to eat all she

Just Jogging Along

By ED MEADOR

Seems like just a few days ago I said something about before we could turn around football season would be upon us, and we would wonder what went with the time in between. Sure enough, as I started jogging around the track Monday afternoon, there were the Eagles in their first 1978 workout running through their paces on the practice field. So here we go again, folks. Football and all that it means is with us once again. You can feel the adrenalin begin to rise.

Look around you and be glad. There is so much to be thankful for.

Life, like time, is a fleeting thing. Cody Neill was only five. Not very long to live and know the wonders of this world. But long enough to have made a place in it for himself, and long enough to have brought love and happiness and cheer to his mother and dad, Nancy and Terry Neill, and to have been loved by all the other friends and family that knew him.

Cody was killed last Thursday when the car he and his grandparents were in was struck from behind while waiting for a train to pass. A large truck drove their car into the train. The grandparents are still fighting to live.

Our hearts and prayers go out to those struck by this tragedy. Sombre reflection reminds one of what Hemingway said, "The bell tolls for each of us when any one of us is struck down." I guess the grown folks can somehow relate to death. But for a little guy like Cody...

If you are trying to budget your food dollar and your time you might want to consider making your own "biscuit mix" in quantity to use in making various quick breads.

It's easy and quick. To help you in measuring the flour you might want to remember that 9 cups of flour is just a little less than one-half of a five lb. bag. There are approximately 20 cups of flour in a five lb. bag.

BISCUIT MIX RECIPE
9 cups sifted all purpose flour
1/2 cup double acting baking powder

1 tablespoon salt
2 teaspoons cream of tartar
1/4 cup sugar
2 cups shortening which do not require refrigeration

Stir baking powder, salt, cream of tartar and sugar into flour. Sift together three times into a large bowl. Turn in shortening with a pastry blender until the mix is the consistency of cornmeal. Store in covered containers at room temperature. To measure the biscuit mix, pile it lightly into cup and level off with a spatula.

RECIPES USING BISCUIT MIX

Biscuits
3 cups Biscuit mix
2/3 to 1 cup milk
Add milk to the mix all at once, stirring 25 strokes. Knead 15 to 18 times on lightly floured board. Roll 1/2 inch thick. Cut. Bake on baking sheet in a hot oven (450) from 10 to 12 mins.

Muffins
3 cups Biscuit mix
2 tablespoons sugar
1 cup milk
1 egg

Add sugar to the mix. Combine milk and beaten egg. Add to the mix. Stir until flour is just moistened (about 15 strokes). Bake in greased muffin pans in hot oven (425 degrees) for about 20 mins. Makes 12 medium sized muffins.

Cornbread
1 1/2 cups Biscuit mix
3/4 cup cornmeal
1/2 teaspoon salt

Know Your Neighbor

By SUNSHINE

On June 4, 1913, Mr. and Mrs. W.T. Tipps, were blessed with the birth of twin girls, Ona Maude and Ora Hazel. The twins were the only girls in a family of nine children.

Ona Maude resides in Christoval with her husband, William Gaston where she stays busy with civic work.

Her life has been a very busy and full one.

According to Maude the twins first year in school was a nightmare. They were shy and had the tendency to 'hide in each others shadows.' Their oldest brother, Edwin, who lives in Levelland now, was their protector and would buy them apples and dry their tears.

"We had a lovely teacher," Maude says, "We were just scared. Later our brother married the teacher."

Maude says she was a poor student until third grade when her teacher challenged her to do her very best. "After that I made straight A's."

She went on to tell about being a little mischievous in school. She said a girl named Esta was continually bringing sweetpeas to the teacher, so one day, just for fun, she slipped a big bouquet of grassburrs on the desk. The teacher never let on it was a bit different from the sweetpeas.

She and a boy named Lloyd Auckerman finally decided something should be done about all the fussing over the flowers.

"I brought three or four aspirins to school and Lloyd brought some iodine. We put it on the flowers and it put off such an awful odor that the teacher was very careful about smelling and 'ohing and 'ahing over flowers anymore," she laughed.

Maude recalled one teacher that went into another room and fell asleep on a sandbox. "We left a note and the class quietly slipped out and went home. He never said a word about it and, of course, we were afraid to."

"I played basketball and was a forward. We played on a three section court and all our games were played outside. We finally did get to play inside when I was a senior. Our uniforms were white middy blouses and big black bloomer," Maude said.

In her senior year she was valedictorian of her class in spite of the fact that she had missed 21 days of school nursing her mother who had the flu and 14 days recuperating from the flu herself.

Shortly after graduation she married William Gaston. He had been the minister of their church, however they didn't start dating until years later when he had moved to another church.

When friends asked how he managed to catch such a pretty wife, William answered, "I never let any grass grow on the path to her door."

The Gastons have two sons, Bill of Corpus Christi and Harland of Iraan. They have one daughter, Mrs. Kenneth Stewart, of Buffalo Gap.

The Gastons bought their home in Christoval for future retirement in Jan. 1959. It was used for a young people's retreat until they moved here in 1972.

Maude held the position of Educational Director in Hereford, Uvalde and at St. Luke's in San Angelo.

She and Opal Crosby spearheaded the Junior Camping movement in Palo Duro Canyon. Maude worked with the Junior Camping group for twenty years.

Maude is president of the nursing home auxiliary and conducts Sunday School at the nursing home every Sunday.

She and Dorothy Apadoca started the first community wide Vacation Bible School in the city park in 1953.

She is the director for children's work in the Methodist Church and is an active member of the Concho Valley Council of Government.

Neighbors like Maude and William are two of the reasons why living in Christoval (Christ's Valley) is the ideal place to be.

Christoval Cougars Start Spring Drills

By SUNSHINE
Coach Jerry Miller is looking forward to another great season with the Christoval Cougars.
"We lost four seniors, however, we have twenty boys out for the team this year and ten of them are seniors, says Coach Miller.
"Our strong points will be in depth and size and I think our weak point will probably be a lack of speed."
"I'm looking for Paint Rock to be our toughest opponent, but we can't underestimate Marathon."

Marathon went on to a regional win after stopping the Cougars at their bi-district game in Big Lake last year.
Coach Miller says he thinks the team is looking real good, but hesitated to predict how far he thinks they will go, saying he prefers to take the games one at a time.
Fans will get a preview of the team on August 25 when they travel to Rochelle for a 5 p.m. scrimmage with Richland Springs.

COUGARS START SPRING PRACTICE ...to defend district title

Cheerleaders Named For '78-79 Season

New drill team leader for 1978-79 is Terri Martin.

High School cheerleaders are: Barbara Herrera (head cheerleader), Vicki Martinez, Lisa Green and Idalia Martinez.
Lanoy Solomon, Espri Onofre, Nela Martinez and Leslie Nichols are junior high cheerleaders.
Coach Blenda Sheffield sponsored these fine young ladies at the cheerleaders camp in Stephenville this summer. The camp was held at Tarleton State University.

They came away with the spirit stick for the first time in four years. They also earned ribbons on the high school level as follows: one in outstanding, one in excellent, three superiors, and one super star ribbon.
The junior high cheerleaders came back with one excellent, two superiors, two outstanding and a super star ribbon.
Looks as though our boys are going to have a great cheering section this year.

Recipe Roundup

by Liz Clark

Drying
Drying is the most natural way of preserving foods.

Dry in the sun only during summer months and when the weather promises to be fair.

Expose your foods to the sun in the morning and leave it outdoors all day, bring indoors at night and store in a dry place until next morning.

When drying in the open air, in the sun or in the shade, place a double layer of cheesecloth over your foods to protect them from flies and insects.

Dried fruits should be leathery and when cut with a knife they should not excrete even one drop of moisture.

When you have finished drying your fruit, put in air tight containers, a jar, wooden box or plastic bag, seal and label, store in dry place or freezer.

DRYING FRUITS
Apples, peaches, pears and apricots color can be preserved by a brief soaking, no more than 10 minutes, in an anti-oxidant solution of one teaspoon of ascorbic acid in one quart of cold water. Fruit is cut in half, quarters, or in thick slices before soaking or drying. Never peel them, even if your apples are of a sour type; drying is quicker and the yield is higher if they remain unpeeled.

Figs and grapes must be very ripe with a soft skin.

These two fruits, dry in the same manner. Choose fruit that has been exposed to the sun the most. Break figs in half, no need to pull them apart. Remove all imperfect and unripe fruits, drop into boiling water with one tablespoon soda added, remove in one minute. Cool immediately in cold water, dry in well ventilated shady spot. When they are dry, place them on racks in the sun, make sure fruit doesn't touch. Turn often, leave in the sun a few days until they look dry and have the appearance of dried figs and raisins.

Figs dried in the oven at 125 to 145 degrees takes about 6 hours.

Grapes dried in the oven at 120 to 140 degrees dry in six to ten hours.

SHORT NOTES

Bill and Sally McKinney and children, Billy Wayne and Trisha have moved to Houston where Bill is employed by Shell Oil Company.

Willie and Gary Pitts and children have moved to Christoval and are occupying the Bill McKinney home.

The Ben Keys Bible Class will be having their class picnic today in the park.

Gene and Sue Jones attended the rehearsal dinner and wedding of Ed Sealy and Cynthia Averitt. Ed is an old school friend of the Jones' family. Sue said they saw many old friends that they hadn't seen in such a long time and really enjoyed themselves.

Herman Allen, who had surgery at St. John's Hospital, returned home Monday.

Bob Holland and Doris Arthur were both injured in an early morning accident Aug. 10 while enroute to the hospital. Doris was treated and released but Bob was admitted with back and facial injuries. He is reportedly much improved at this time.

Nursing Home Barbecue Is Good News And Fun

About 150 people were cheerfully entertained by three musicians and a speaker during the fifth annual nursing home barbecue last week.

Even if it was "nothin' but bad news," the presentation by Mrs. C.C. Gilbert of Santa Anna livened the affair. Also setting the mood for the event were musicians Hayden Ellis and Fay Adams of San Angelo, and Deborah Hilliard, a professional organist from Houston.

Lillian Kroeger introduced guests and Delia Pina gave the devotional. Orland Harris had prepared the barbecued brisket and goat, and Blanche West supervised the serving lines.

Lenorah Thurman of Monahans, daughter of Zeral Holland, a nursing home resident, travelled the farthest for the event.

Present for the meal were Frank Reed, who has been living in the home longer than any one else. He has been there since 1970. Runnerup for the title is Ella Casbeer, who moved there in 1971.

Hattie Blaylock is the oldest resident, as she will be 98 Sept. 11, and Lester Garrett is the youngest at 69 years of age.

Residents and guests alike enjoyed the meal, musical entertainment, dancing and the recitation of Mrs. Gilbert's poem.

All Bad News

By FANNIE GILBERT

I jist hates to see all uens lookin so happy, cause I ain't got nothin but bad news fer ye. I come all the way from Santa Anna jist to tell ye what a sad situation we is in and so's ye'd know jist how terrible it is.

Now I jist can't hardly stand it when I think that we have nothin to do but something,

No where to go but somewhere,
No where to come but back,
No where to stoop but down,

No where to raise but up,
Nothin to eat but food,
Nothin to wear but clothes,
Nothin to breathe but air,
Nothin to comb but hair,
Nothin to sing but songs,
Nothin to ding but dongs,
Oh, I'll tell you this jist makes me hurt all over more than anywhere else.

Goodbye folks. Just remember that old age is jist a state of mind brought on by gray hair, false teeth, wrinkles, a big belly, short breath and an all over feeling of being constantly and totally pooped.

Nursing Home News

Our hospital, with lots and oodles of help from our dear Ruthie Dacy, really put the big pot in the little one on Friday evening of last week and sponsored a huge barbecue here in the dining room. It was supposed to be held on the patio here, just outside of our dining room, but the wonderful rain we received that afternoon changed the plans slightly, until it quit raining. As a result everyone had to be inside the dining room and there were so many in there you couldn't stir them with a stick" as the old saying goes.

Before time for us to go over in the hospital side where they had placed a long table with the bountiful supply of delicious food. There were salads of every kind galore, delicious barbecued goat, as only Orland Harris can season it, also vegetables of every kind and was all so yummy.

Also we extend our deepest thanks to Hayden Ellis and Mrs. Fay Adams for the wonderfully sweet musical program that they gave us. As I have told you before, those two go to nursing homes all around this area of West Texas and present their musical program. We surely appreciate it.

The home had several visitors last week: Zeral Holland's son, Zeral Jr., visited him. He lives in Burleson, Texas; Pauline Turnbow of Christoval and Myrtle Loden Gilmer, also of Christoval, visited Beaulah Harris and your truly, and others in the home. Pauline used to live in Eldorado and we have missed her since she moved.

We have a new resident who entered the home last week. She is Mabel Wilkinson of Menard, Texas. Her visitors last week were; Mrs. Perry Hartgraves, Alice Ellis Lee, Mrs. Hugh Spinks and Carol Spinks.

Mary Jess Childress and her granddaughter from Sonora visited their Aunt Georgia Springstun.

We had bingo last Wednesday but on account of the barbecue Friday we didn't have bingo.

The winners Wednesday were: Rafaela Tambunga, 2; Juanita Sanchez, 1; Fannie Blaylock, 1; Frank Reed, 1; Dehlia Gardener, 1; Beaulah Harris, 1; LaVita Brooks, 2.

The Methodist church had the service here in the dining room Sunday. Their pastor, Dan Adams, spent the time showing tapes that he took in England. It was so very interesting and beautiful. Most of the buildings were built in the 1900's. We all enjoyed it so very much and appreciate him showing them for us.

Now a really tough one — Scientists who unlocked atomic energy are seeking a peaceful use for the skateboard.

Your reporters, LaVita Brooks and Beaulah Harris

Funeral Held For Mr. Halbert

Graveside funeral services were held Wednesday for Olge Franklin Halbert, who died Monday evening on an oil rig near Sterling City. Mr. Halbert apparently died of a heart attack.

The Rev. Clifton Hancock officiated during the service.

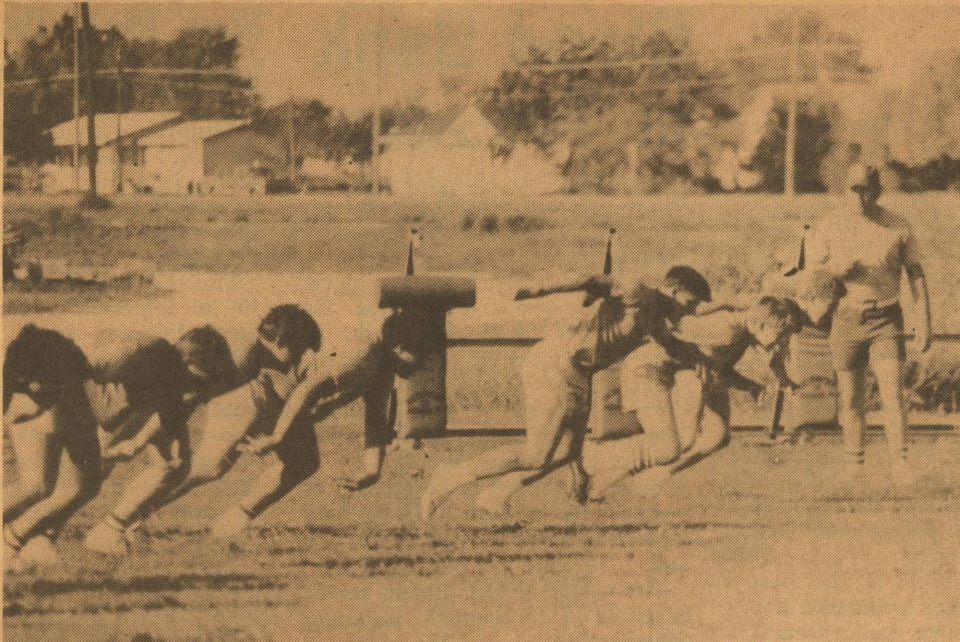

Mr. Halbert was born March 2, 1928 in Eldorado, where he lived most of his life. He married Winona Ryan Sept. 11, 1961 in Del Rio.

A Korean war veteran, he was employed as a driller for Tucker Drilling Company for the past 12 years.

He is survived by his wife; a stepson, Wayne Wallace of Austin; three sons, George of Eldorado, Franklin and Kevin of Sonora; one brother, Jack Halbert of Eldorado and one sister, Mrs. Lee Gates of Llano and several nieces and nephews.

Pallbearers were Brett Dacy, Joe Hudson, Hal Whitten, Holvey Enochs, Bernard Carr and L.D. Mund.

Services were under direction of Kerbow Funeral Home.

Catholic Rite Set By Couple

Anna Maria Arispe and Ramon Espinosa will be married Aug. 26 in Our Lady of Guadalupe Catholic Church.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Mike Arispe, and the bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Juan Espinosa.

Both the bride-elect and her fiance attended Eldorado High School. He is employed by West Texas Drilling Company, and she is owner of Anna's Drive Inn.

Forty or fifty years ago, the electric bill was most often called the "light bill". In thousands of homes, Mr. Edison's illuminating invention wasn't the only electrically powered appliance, but most people associated electricity with the most visible benefit — light.

Today, with the help of electrical energy and the appliances it powers, our tasks become easier and our lives more enjoyable. At West Texas Utilities we're working to provide you a continuing dependable source of electrical energy now and in the future.

wanted. "Sometimes it wasn't easy to get away to eat," said Meador, "she would start to fill her plate, get it half filled, jump up to take a diner's money, go back to the table, but she never did go back to work hungry."

Hooker sold the hotel to Meador's parents, Mr. and Mrs. C.L. Meador on Nov. 4, 1936 for $8,750. Mrs. Jeffrey and her family remained in the dining room. "I distinctly remember there was no better food served anywhere than that cooked and served by Miss Pearl Jeffrey and members of her family," recalled Meador.

In 1936, Meador's father died and his mother moved to the living quarters behind the hotel, which adjoined the office space he was renting. He later became operator of the hotel.

Meador bought an office space from his mother for $500 in 1944 and then bought another part of the building for $6,000 on Nov. 5, 1949. On the same day, his mother sold him and his brother, C.L. Meador, Jr., the rest of the building for $9,000.

Although there have not been any guests in the hotel for several years, Meador kept his office in the building until this summer. He retired in March of 1972 when Mrs. Ballew became manager of the abstract company. She moved the company to its present location.

Meador says that during the 45 years of occupancy and ownership by his family, many people came and went through the hotel, although none were famous personalities.

There were also a line of businesses such as a jewelers shop, dentist's office, and drug store. Sometimes eye doctors would set up an office in the hotel and stay long enough to see all who needed eye attention and make their glasses.

Although the hotel is the best known of Eldorado's landmarks, it is now being torn down. Santos Pina is doing the work and plans to use the lumber for new houses. No plans for the property have been announced.

Mrs. Ballew commented that there were "many interesting, exciting and unusual happenings; too many, in fact to recall or write about in a short period of time. But it can be said that since 1901, it served its purpose well and benefited many a weary and hungry traveler. Its owners or hosts were the best-friendly, hospitable and always ready and willing to lend a helping hand."

rubella immunizations. Two children did not have their polio shots, and one did not have his rubella shot.

He said he anticipates another free county-wide immunization clinic this year for preschool children to remain current on this status.

He also reported that the number of contacts for medically indigent persons seemed less this year, possibly because of employment increases and inclusion of elderly persons under Title XIX of the Department of Human Resources.

There have been two cases of severe communicable diseases this past year, but officials were unable to find the source of the disease.

The ambulance system, he said, is functioning well and additional equipment was purchased to make "the unit even more effective."

Dr. Brame said the health offices had more "contacts in the previous year than in the ten years of service."

The Winters City Council has passed an ordinance to control animals within the city limits. The ordinance was passed because of a problem with rabies.

Construction of an animal structure has already begun. Once completed, the city will employ some person to head the department and put the ordinance into effect.

The ordinance calls for registration of all pets, mandatory rabies vaccinations and penalties for violations, in addition to catching and disposing of stray dogs and cats.

Blood Bank Is Tuesday

The West Texas Blood Services of San Angelo will be in Eldorado from 2-7 p.m. Tuesday in the Memorial Building.

CWLD To Meet Tuesday At 7:30

Parents of school age children are invited to meet with school superintendent Guy Whitaker during a meeting of the Eldorado Association for Children With Learning Disabilities.

The meeting will be at 7:30 p.m. Tuesday in the Memorial Building. Whitaker will explain the school's program to aid children with special educational problems and answer questions regarding school activities. He will also describe government-aided programs for handicapped children.

A better understanding of both the school's programs and problems encountered with personnel and facilities are the purpose of the meeting.

not only the best advice you can give anybody, but you also have the satisfaction of using a four letter word that works! When you use this word, eyes will widen, jaws will drop, and they may even step back. Believe me, after the shock wears off, you'll both feel better.

Think of the paint that could be saved if we could see these words scrawled in public places. 'Oh, go to WORK', or 'LOVE you', or 'PRAY for peace.'

I don't think the old four letter words will go away (especially for those of us who hang pictures, or leave the vacuum cleaner in the middle of the floor), but maybe the next time you're tempted to say one, or write one, you'll think of one of these substitutes. They even make good bumper stickers, posters, and tee shirts.

Go ahead — do it — Shock somebody. Everyone else does. And that's something to think about this week —
