

Eldoradans Avert Disaster in Wreck Near Sonora on 277

Clela Clark of Eldorado was detained overnight in Hudspeth Memorial Hospital following a two car traffic accident on Highway 277 North Friday night. Miss Clark was a passenger in a 1972 gold Oldsmobile driven by Kendra Dunham also of Eldorado. Miss Clark's sister Dee Dee was also a passenger but neither Miss Dunham or the younger Clark girl were injured.

The other vehicle involved was a 1976 Chevrolet pickup driven by Eric Olsen of Sonora. Neither he nor his passenger Matt Shannon of Alpine were injured.

Both vehicles were traveling North on 277 6.7 miles from Sonora. One vehicle bumped the other as they drove parallel down the highway, sending one vehicle into the right ditch. The vehicle slid sideways facing east before it overturned. The other vehicle slid across the south bound traffic lane and came to rest facing the west next to a fence.

No property damage resulted other than the damage to the vehicles.

Etc.

By Donna Garvin

Due to the poor attendance at the last two meetings of the Schleicher County Progress Council, the following was written by some concerned residents of Eldorado as an open letter to the community.

APATHY: (Ap' e-thi) pl. apathies --Noun. 1. Lack of emotion 2. Lack of interest; listless condition; indifference.

Due to lack of concern and emotion the Schleicher County Progress Council may be shortlived. Over 100 businesses and individuals have been contacted with approximately 90 percent interested in seeing Eldorado improve itself. The trouble is just that--most of us want to SEE it done but don't want to be a part of it. Let the other person do it! This attitude has destroyed other organizations, too.

One of the reasons for the Progress Council being organized was to unify the business district and keep Schleicher County citizens shopping in Eldorado and enjoy living here. Our business community expressed a desire for help...BUT where is it?...Another reason was the apparent "unfriendliness" of Eldoradoans and Schleicher County residents to newcomers and outsiders. The Progress Council proposed to supply the community with at least two events annually to let people get to know each other and have a little clean fun. People are the greatest resource available--we need each other.

Another reason for the Progress Council was to encourage pride in the community--at Christmastime with activities for young and old, during the spring and summer with cleanup programs, and all year 'round to make Schleicher County a nice place to live in and visit. Many people coming through Eldorado think this is a "dirty little town"--no one can blame them. Even some of the older businesses and residences are the most cluttered and in need of repair.

Some of the new businesses are adding life to our community--the older businesses might find they are losing a patronage because of their lack of desire to grow and improve their facilities.

The Progress Council has been meeting every other Thursday at noon. Of course, it is understandable that some would-be active members might not be able to come due to the lunch hour being a busy time; however, that was the time most desired by those answering questionnaires.

The attendance at meetings has gone from fair to bad. A few steady ones show up each time. Perhaps those dropping out do not like something--but they should speak up because majority is the rule. The attendance has dropped from over a dozen to a meager three or four. Therefore, unless Eldorado and Schleicher County residents pull together and show some life, this worthwhile organization will bite the dust! Apathy strikes again!! Other communities are doing it--but Eldorado isn't. Our fear is that a town must advance or die--it can't sit still. Is Eldorado dying?

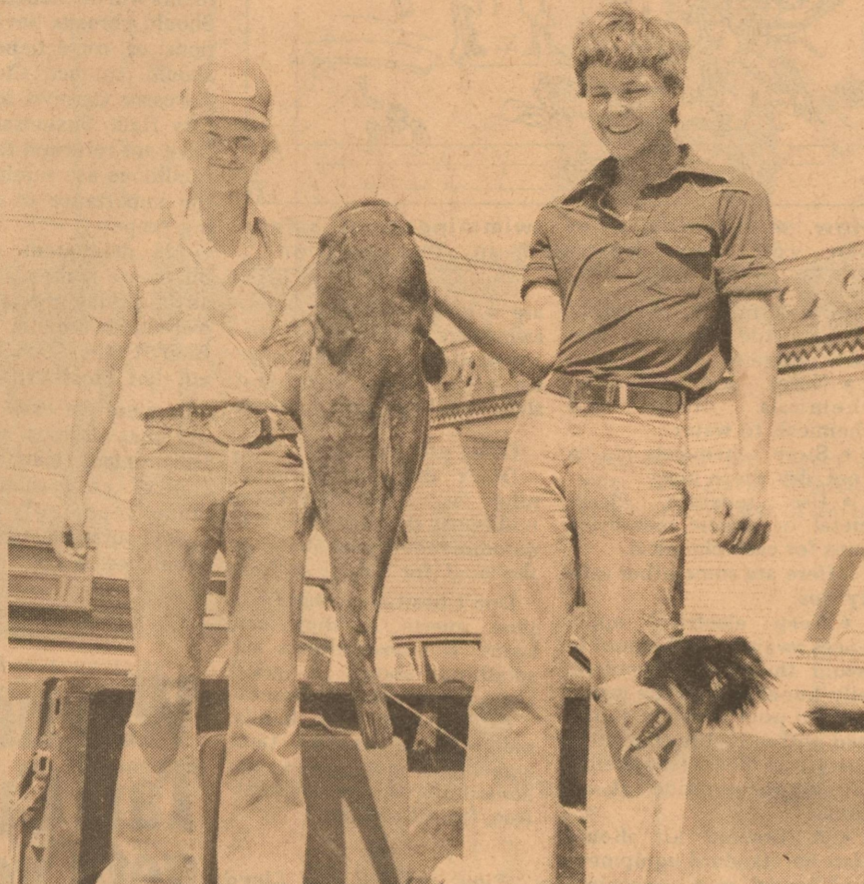

The next meeting will be July 3 at noon in the Eagle Dairy Mart. If no one shows, say good-bye to Schleicher County Days, a rodeo parade, Christmas lights for downtown, Welcome to Eldorado program, "Shop at Home" and other community programs. The meager three or four are tired but willing to try. Please don't let apathy say in our community!

WHO SAYS ALL THE BIG ONES GET AWAY?--This 35 pound yellow catfish was caught by Derek Engdahl (left) and Douglas Garvin last Wednesday morning at the Garvin fishing lease on the Pecos River, 18 miles from Langtry. It was caught on a drop hook using a shredded minnow as bait.

50th Mias Amigas Celebration Starts Friday, Saturday

Several hundred ex-students of the Eldorado school system will pour into Eldorado this weekend for the 50th annual meeting of the Mias Amigas.

Festivities will begin at 5 pm Friday, in the Memorial Building with registration. A sandwich supper and entertainment will follow at 7:30 pm on the courthouse lawn.

Josephine Hill, a well-known resident of Schleicher County, will have the honor of ringing the old school bell at 9:30 am Saturday, calling in the ex-students to the business meeting as it called many years ago. Special recognitions and introductions will be made during this meeting, including special recognition of the classes of 1929-30 and 1959-60.

A barbecue will be held at noon on the courthouse square Saturday and a program will be at 2 pm. Advance tickets for the barbecue are $4 and may be purchased from Jimmie West or Becky Mund Moore.

Mias Amigas officers are urging local ex-students to attend as their attendance has been poor in the past. Local ex-students did not receive invitations because of the cost of postage.

FAMILIAR FACE AT REUNION--The old school bell sits in quiet patience waiting to be rung during the annual Mias Amigas meeting this weekend. Josephine Hill, a long time resident of this county, will have the honor of ringing the bell, which will begin the festivities of the annual reunion. The old bell was used to call many of the ex-students attending the affair to classes many years ago.

Were You Counted in Census?

Were you counted in the 1980 Census of Housing and Population?

If you think you or your family might have been missed, fill out the "WERE YOU COUNTED?" form printed in today's newspaper as a public service. Cut it out and return it by mail to U.S. Census Office, 116 4th Street, Pecos, Texas 79772. The form will be checked against the master address list for your area so there is no chance of an individual or household being counted twice.

This appeal to the public is made by Janet Faulkner, manager of the Pecos area District Census Office. Faulkner says that the "WERE YOU COUNTED?" campaign is an additional effort to insure that no one is overlooked during the 1980 Census. The Census Bureau hopes that any households missed in previous census operations will respond during the "WERE YOU COUNTED?" campaign.

Faulkner noted that very shortly the Census Bureau will turn over to local officials the population counts for their communities. These preliminary population counts will be subject to a review by local elected officials. The purpose of this Local Review Program is to give city and county officials an opportunity to spot errors while census workers are still in the field. This allows the Census Bureau to recheck any questioned population counts and should contribute significantly to the accuracy and success of the 1980 Census.

Faulkner also pointed out that local officials will see only the population totals for their communities, not the census questionnaires containing personal information, which are kept in complete confidence.

READY FOR MIAS AMIGAS--The 1980 officers of the Mias Amigas make final plans for the annual homecoming to be held this weekend at the courthouse square. They are, left to right, Becky Moore, Patsy Kellogg, Ruth Harper, Jimmy West, Ann Barker and Mrs. Jimmy West. They have completed plans for the event, which will draw several hundred out of town visitors.

Six Enumerator Positions Still Needed In Schleicher County

Workers are needed to fill six positions for the follow-up on the 1980 census in Schleicher County, beginning the first week of July until about Aug. 10. The announcement was made by Charlotte Judd, new Crewleader for this area who replaced Teri Tarvin.

Workers will be paid $4 an hour and 20 cents per mile car allowance. Each applicant will be tested on alphabet, clerical and map reading skills in a test to be administered soon. The necessary test takes about one hour and will be given to all those interested. Interested persons should contact Carolyn Mayo at City Hall (853-2691), county judge secretary Helen Carman (853- ) or Mrs. Judd at (884-2260 collect).

Workers have to be 18 years of age, have a high school education or its equivalent and have a reliable vehicle.

City News

By Carolyn Mayo

The mosquito situation has gotten to be a problem once again. The City purchased the insecticide for the Firemen to spray as soon as weather permits. Because of the type of chemical used, they would prefer the weather to be dry and not windy. The high weeds and grass on lots in town have attributed to the mosquito situation; therefore, citizens are reminded to keep their lots mowed and free of any standing water. The County crew has been finishing hauling and leveling of caliche in alleys and streets in town. City Hall is still being flooded with calls for caliche; however, citizens should keep in mind that caliche for driveways is the owner's responsibility. City crews cannot work on private property nor provide materials for private use. Also, due to the flatness of our community, care should be taken not to restrict the natural flow of water. This causes water to back up and also provides a breeding ground for mosquitos. With all the dryness in our community, a lot of water is being used by homeowners on their yards. Eldorado does not currently have a water shortage, although at times the pressure does get low due to pump failure. Care should betaken to not "water the street"...which is wasteful, irritating to any neighbors with a drainage problem in front of their home, and once again--breeding ground for mosquitos. The City's attorney, Charles Sherrill, of Sonora has the proposed TV franchise agreement in his office for his study and recommendations. City Secretary, Carolyn Mayo, has received very few comments from Eldorado CATV subscribers. It is important to air comments at this time in order for the City Council to negotiate with the TV cable operators, for new stations, better service, rates, etc. As soon as Judge Sherrill completes his review of the franchise agreement with additions by the City Council, the City will present the amended franchise agreement to CATV for their consideration. A hearing will be held when an agreement is made. Delinquent tax statements will be mailed July 1. Should persons have questions or corrections, they should contact City Tax Assessor Carolyn Mayo at City Hall. Businesses who have not returned their tax renditions are reminded of the importance of rendering payroll. 134 delinquent utility bills were mailed June 16, as of Friday the 20th, 20 were still unpaid. Sybil Blair, Utility Clerk, reported that most are on the delinquent list each month and that utilities will be discontinued starting the 21st of each month for those repeatedly delinquent pursuant to Utility Ordinance on file. ## Social Security News

"Will my money be there when I'm ready to retire?" More and More people are asking this question. Both currently and future Social Security Beneficiaries want assurance that their benefits are not in jeopardy. Congress has taken several positive steps to insure continuation of social security benefits. Current projections show that the combined trust funds include adequate resources for the immediate future. The scheduled payroll increases will permit the fund to begin accumulating larger reserves in the early 1990's right on through the early part of the next century. In addition to expert advisory groups, people all across the country have been giving us their opinions through our national out-reach programs of symposia and town meetings. Social security has kept its promises for the last 40 years. As Secretary Harris recently put it: "The Social Security System is dynamic and from its inception the government has made whatever technical and substantive changes were necessary to improve and guarantee benefits."

How many don'ts of swimming pool safety can you find illustrated in this cartoon?

- Never mix chemicals together. Add them to the pool separately.
  - Never add water to chemicals. Always add chemicals to water.
  - Store chemicals in a cool, dry, clean place.
  - Use separate, clean, metal or plastic measuring cups for each chemical.
  - Here are some other safety tips:
    - Keep electrical appliances away from the pool to avoid their being accidentally knocked into the water.
    - No pool is safely equipped without a life ring and a long-handled shepherd's crook at poolside at all times.
    - A first-aid kit should also be standard equipment and stored in a convenient location known to all family members.
    - Visible depth markers are a good idea to prevent swimmers from diving into too-shallow water. Proper use of the diving board and slide should also be stressed.
  - Other precautions:
    - Don't dally while lighting or a thunderstorm builds. At the first sign, it is recommended you abandon the pool for indoor shelter.
    - Don't hesitate to ask first-time guests if they can swim. If nonswimmers are splashing about, a good swimmer should be present.
    - A meeting of family members to explain (and agree on) pool rules can contribute to an accident-free, fun-filled time.
- Film and TV star Lloyd Bridges is spokesman for Sun Swim Pool Products, manufactured by the FMC Corp.

THE GODHEAD
Colossians Chapter 2, verse 8--Beware lest any man spoil you through philosophy and vain deceit, after the tradition of men, after the rudiments of the world, and not after Christ.
Verse 9--For in Him dwelleth all the fullness of the Godhead bodily.
Verse 10--And ye are complete in Him which is the head of all principality and power.
In Jesus we find the fullness of the Godhead, the Father, the Son, and the Holy Ghost.
We often read or say, go to the church of your choice, but we need to try to pull people out of tradition and vain deceit as Jonestown and other doctrines that are not of Christ.
Let us pray that more people will know the fullness of the Godhead.

The purpose of this Campaign is to provide the community with information about Cystic Fibrosis and to raise funds to support research, education and care programs for CF patients.

The number one genetic killer of children, Cystic Fibrosis is inherited and incurable. An estimated one in 20 Americans is a symptomless carrier of the recessive CF gene. One in every 1500 babies born in this country is a victim of CF. Currently, half of all children born with CF will die before they leave their teens.

Eldorado Chapter of A F S

The Eldorado Chapter of the AFS is now in its third year. More than ever before do we need international understanding and peace. The AFS has made it a goal to work toward a wider understanding of the diverse cultures of the world. In pursuit of this goal, the AFS has helped families, communities, groups, and the maturing young people from different cultural backgrounds share each others lives for one year.

In the past two years, The Eldorado AFS Chapter has hosted Franck Boulmer from France, then Luis Rosas from Brazil. This year the Chapter hopes to welcome Miss Mia Kuikko from Finland. The AFS has sponsored over 90,000 student exchanges so far; it receives no governmental assistance, but is financed entirely by freewill donations. It will cost the Chapter $975.00 to host its next student. If you believe that this program has a beneficial effect on us and other countries, please give your support.

RECESSION IS PAID FOR BY JOBS AND LOST SAVINGS

While there are some signs that the Administration's orchestrated recession may be working to curtail the worst inflation we've experienced in peacetime, millions of working Americans are paying for that policy with their jobs and their life-long savings.
 And it's a good bet that eventual recovery for the economy as a whole will not necessarily mean recovery for those who have been most affected by the ravages of recession—individuals and struggling smaller businesses.
 Business expansion now is at a standstill. Jobs are being lost. Credit is tight and money expensive to borrow, if it can be obtained at all.
 The take home pay of all Americans has been seriously eroded by the combination of high prices and record high taxes. As a result, we have been forced to adjust drastically to reduced purchasing power, and lowered expectations.
 These are the real hardships of recession that cannot be measured by tracking rises and falls on the Dow Jones industrial averages, or monitoring the Consumer Price Index.
 Recession is a very real human tragedy. It can be understood only in personal terms.

This recession has left Americans doubting the future—and our ability to solve our own problems. Have we weathered the worst of the current recession? It is too early to tell. It is certainly too early to predict a turnaround. Prediction after prediction from Washington that this recession would be mild and short-lived has been refuted by hard numbers.
 Inflation in March stood at an annual rate in excess of 18 percent. While it dropped some in April, unemployment has increased considerably. It now stands at over 7 percent.
 That means that more than 7.3 million Americans are now out of work. During April, 825,000 men and women lost their means of livelihood, while the economy shrank by some 500,000.
 Auto plants continue to be shut down. Steel workers continue to be laid off. Construction projects continue to be scrapped. This recession has been particularly severe on the building and construction industry, which saw the bottom fall out of the market by tight credit policies, high interest rates and large inventories.

Economic trends in construction unfortunately point to more of the same for the time being. The value of all construction in March declined by 5.8 percent. Those knowledgeable of housing patterns say housing starts this year will drop to about a million units. Last year, that figure was approximately 1.7 million units.
 No industry escapes a recession. But it seems every time the economy slumps, housing, construction, and all related businesses are the first to feel the impact and the last to recover. It has been the case in past recessionary cycles, and it is running true to form this time.
 The effects of this recession appear to be much more widespread, however. Small business and agriculture are experiencing equally hard times.

The longer this present recession lingers, the more imprecise its shape. If it were to conform to the average of the past six recessionary periods we have experienced since World War II, it would last eleven months. Unemployment would reach 7.3 percent. Real output would decline 2.7 percent. Inflation would drop nearly seven percentage points.
 But the problem is no one can predict with any certainty that the current recession will conform to the past.
 One thing is certain, however. The complexion of the economy in coming months will hinge on what Congress does right now to balance the budget.
 Under consideration now is a balanced budget resolution, which establishes targets for Federal spending in the coming fiscal year.
 It calls for reduced Federal expenditures. It also provides for desperately needed increased defense outlays in order that this country might once again assume unquestioned military superiority throughout the world.

With Federal spending reduced, we can pave the way for desperately needed tax reduction for individuals and business.
 Recession, and bringing it to an end, is uppermost on everyone's mind. The budget process underway today will help determine what will happen to our economy in coming months. It will also determine what this country can afford and what it cannot afford.
 More than anything else, what this country cannot afford are budgets calling for more deficit spending. Deficit spending only ensures that, somewhere down the road, recession will again have to be paid for in human suffering.

Affection Important Says Study

Studies reveal that societies in which babies receive an abundance of physical affection produce adults who are relatively non-violent, says Cindy Wilson, a family life education specialist on the home economics staff of the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A & M University System.

Spotlight On Business

Douglas Willhoit with thoroughbred Tiny Angel

Douglas Willhoit has done many things in his life including driving bull dozers, working for a trucking company, hauling cattle moving houses and was an air pusher for Western Slope for four years. But his interest has always turned back to his first love, working with horses.

Now the 68 year old owner and operator of the Texaco station also owns several thoroughbred horses which he keeps at his residence on the Big Lake highway.

Willhoit is a native of Rocksprings and was raised in Uvalde, and began working with horses at the age of 18. One of his most interesting experiences came when he was hired to be a wrangler during the filming of the movie "The Alamo" at Bracketville in 1958, earning $100 a day. From there he was hired to do a minor role in "Two Rode Together" where he drove a wagon and was a member of the Calvary. Willhoit also worked in Purcell, Okla., for A.B. Green and was a ranch manager for Bob French on the Anacacho Ranch for three years. He also was ranch foreman for a Sonora rancher for three years and managed three ranches at San Diego, Texas for Doug Risinger for two years.

He and his wife, Mary, married on June 19, 1937 in Houston and moved to Eldorado from Wall. The couple had two children, the late Sandra Harris and Michael Willhoit of Carlsbad. They also have a grandson, Bennjie Harris, 17, who lives with them.

Willhoit has three studs at the present time, "Tiny Angel" who has a racing time of SI 93, "Missile Pass" with a racing time of SI 93, and "Vic Torious". All are registered thoroughbred quarterhorses. Beginning early in 1981, he plans to stand another thoroughbred horse, Festus, for Jimmy and Allison Powers of Sonora. Festus is the grandson of Bold Ruler.

Other plans for his "First love" are to build new stud barns and remodel his pens for the 1981 breeding season.
