THIS FRIDAY AT IRAAN

Eagles looking for second win

BY TERRY B. NEILL

If a near capacity crowd was happy with what it saw last Friday night in Eagle Stadium--Armando San Miguel was ecstatic. "We're proud of them--they did a super job," he reported, commenting on the Eagles' 28-6 rout of the Mertzon Hornets.

The visitors stunned the big Eldorado crowd by scoring on their first play of the game--a 70-yard halfback option pass, but the Eagles regrouped and chalked up one of their most impressive opening game victories in recent history.

Quarterback Bradley Bass, who made the San Angelo Standard Times Honor Roll this week, completed seven of 18 passes for 185 yards and endured several drops, including two touchdown passes.

Penalties were another problem, with the locals being assessed nine flags for 100 yards, but the overall picture was one of optimism. "They just did a super job. Mertzon has some good kids, but ours were just ready to play," the second year head mentor said.

Outstanding offensive players for the Eagles according to San Miguel were Juan Espinosa and Cody Lozano in the backfield and receivers Neal Edmiston and Clint Griffin. "Bradley (Bass) had a good game and Ernie Espinosa and Larry Ramos were the best grading linemen. They were very consistent," San Miguel added. He also cited Kevin Gerald for his work.

Outstanding defensive players selected by their coach were Griffin, Juan Espinosa, Scott Robinson, and Ernie Espinosa. "Our special team captain we're calling Bill Bates Jr.--Nick Dacy. He was wild man on special teams," San Miguel reported.

The Eagles fell behind with only 23 seconds gone off the first period clock, but went ahead to stay when Lozano punched across from the one-yard line with 5:12 on the clock. The PAT was good and Eldorado led, 7-6.

Craig Gutierrez made a sensational grab in the endzone with only three seconds left on the first half clock and the PAT was good, leaving Eldorado in front, 21-6 at the half.

Bass got the locals' other score on a run around end from the one-yard line with 8:25 to go in the third stanza. The Eagles were also deep in Mertzon territory when the final gun sounded.

Repeated penalties on both teams, a light failure in the stadium and several turnovers all contributed to make Friday night's contest one of the longest in years. Kickoff was at 8 and the game finally ended about 11 p.m.

This week the War Eagles will take their air attack to Iraan for a meeting with the always-tough Braves. "Iraan is big, mean and tough and now they're mad after losing to Rankin last Friday," San Miguel said.

The Braves were upset, 28-27, and therefore could have a special incentive for defeating the Eagles. "Their coach is one of the best and you can expect him to have them ready to play. We'll just have to continue to run and throw the football well, cut down on the dropped passes and penalties," San Miguel added.

The Eagles will be near full strength. Lozano who had to leave last Friday's contest had a bruised knee but should be ready to go against Iraan. Center Donie Fuentes is the only questionable Eagle.

Iraan runs the famous Wishbone offense and a "27" on defense. "Iraan is very aggressive defensively and on offense they don't make mistakes. They will give us a handfull," the head coach offered.

Iraan has offensive linemen that weigh 234, 192, 211 and 193 across their interior. Jackie Stone, a 190-pounder, is a talented fullback-linebacker and Billy Casteneda at tailback is another good athlete, according to the scouting report.

Kickoff will be at 8 p.m. for the non-district tilt.

'A Day For Amy' scheduled

HORSESHOE, WASHER PITCHING, BRISQUET COOKOFF, DANCE SET

"A Day For Amy" will be held in Eldorado on Saturday, October 2. All proceeds from the day's activities will go to the Amy Robertson Fund at First National Bank.

Miss Robertson, 8-year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gene Robertson of Eldorado, is currently in Seattle, Washington preparing for a bone marrow transplant.

Included on the day's schedule of activities will be the Schleicher County Horseshoe and Washer Pitching Championships, a brisquet cookoff, barbecue and dance. All activities will be held at the Eldorado rodeo arena.

Mens and womens divisions will be held in horseshoes and washers, and a mixed division is also set in both. Childrens washers and horseshoes will include youths 12 and under. Trophies will go to the winners.

Plaques will also go to the winners of the brisquet cookoff. The brisquets must be cooked on site, with cooks required to be in camp by 8 a.m. A cook's meeting will follow at 8:30 a.m. and turn-in for brisquets will be at 4 p.m.

Awards will be presented at 5 p.m., followed by the barbecue at 5:30 and the dance at sundown. Admission to the dance will be a donation to the Robertson Fund and all entry fees in all contests and the cookoff will go to the fund also.

Chairmen of the cookoff are Danny Crowder and Sam A. Whitten, with Richard Preston conducting the washer pitching and Candy Richards the horseshoes.

Overall chairmen are Terry B. Neill and Mrs. Richards. Further details are available from either or at the Success office.

"We're not going to advertise this in the area--instead we're trying to include only Schleicher County folks. This will be a great opportunity to raise a good sum of money for Amy Robertson and have a good time in the process," Neill stated.

BY TERRY B. NEILL

OKAY, ENOUGH ALREADY.....

Okay, alright, fine! In the interest of self defense and fairness we must admit one little fact that we didn't have room for in last week's column.

This oversight was pointed out to yours truly pointedly by the new bride, whose casting skills or lack of such, were mentioned briefly in last week's t.b.

The bride sweetly asked this columnist to clarify one minor point.

Yes, this famous fisherman did sorta cast his line into the top of this tree along the river bank.

After all, even Marvin Thomas (Or whatever his name is), messes up every now and then. The tree sorta jumped out in front of us when we weren't looking. Boy, those oaks can sure move when they want to.

About the only thing Sue-Z-Que is having a little trouble adjusting to in Eldorado is being married to a newspaper publisher and getting her name in the paper every week.

You see she is basically a shy type person, content to remain in the background without fame or acclaim. Her favorite line is, "You'd better not put THAT in the newspaper buddy!"

We really don't understand why she gets so riled about it. Afterall we didn't say anything in last week's column about her getting carded at the liquor store in Kingsland, her strange brother-in-law, or her snoring, which by the way she says she doesn't do.

"You tell everybody everything!" she has been known to exclaim. "We have no secrets because of your big mouth and that darned typewriter," she adds quite frequently.

Sne doesn't realize that she is good copy. She's funny, fun and a whole lot more pleasant to write about than the poodle, Pierre LaDuc the 16th, which we mercifully call Duke. "Named him after The Duke--John Wayne?" we asked when we first met the little bugger.

"No, Dip! That's short for Pierre LaDuc the 16th," she went on, screwing her nose up in that little look she gets when she thinks her husband has finally said something less than intelligent. "Now I guess you're going to start writing about him!"

We might do a column on The Duke someday, but for now we'll say a few more words about the bride. Actually we think that she should consider herself lucky. Afterall she doesn't have to spend all of her time telling all she knows to everyone she talks to in Eldorado.

When someone says, "Hi, Sue, whatcha been doing?", she only has to say, "Just read this week's t.b. and t.b. will tell you all about it I'm sure." Now how's that for a sweet husband?

Girl Scouts starting

"I know that in the past Girl Scouts has not been very good in Eldorado. But, we are changing for the better," a spokesman said.

What is Girl Scouting all about? Is it just a program...an activity? Or is it an ideal, a philosophy, a way of life? "In other words is it what happens to the girl during the activity and not the activity itself."

"We are a value-rooted, people-centered, movement, and movement means, " a series of acts working toward some desired aim." Our aim is better people, not better knot-tiers; not better fire builders; not better artists; but better people.

"Our reason-for-being is not fire building, but character building.

"Every game we play, and song we sing and day we camp involves for our girls learning to live with others and with themselves; winning, losing, understanding responsibility, and affirmation of love.

"Our purpose is not for girls just to look, but to see; not just to hear, but to listen; not just to touch, but to feel.

"Our girls are not adorable saleswomen of baked goods. We are not a baby sitting society. We are not after school recreation group. We are not a girl's club. We are a way of life. A program with a purpose based on ideals and a code of conduct.

"We hope that because of Girl Scouting, life will be an adventure, not an assignment.

"I cannot do this alone, I need help. Moms, Dads, grandparents, anybody can help.

"Please come to the Memorial Building September 14 from 3:30 to 6:30 and sign up. Any girl between the ages of five and 17. Come join us now," the spokesman concluded.

VIPS orientation September 15

The VIPS program will begin with an orientation September 15 at 7 p.m. in the Eldorado Elementary Library.

This meeting will be for the purpose of organizing and disseminating information for Volunteers in Public Schools.

"As little as one hour a week can help make a positive difference in our schools. Teachers and administration cannot work alone. Parental and community involvement can only enhance our children's quality of education," a spokesman said.

Volunteers are needed for street crossing, assisting with arts and crafts, library work, story telling, cutting and pasting, clerical duties, and as an interpreter for non-English speaking children.

BULLETIN

Commodity Food will be distributed September 16 at 1 p.m. at the Schleicher County Courthouse. The food will be dispensed to those who qualify only.

USUAL SAFETY RULES APPLY

Motorists should watch for school children

School bells rang again in Eldorado Tuesday, September 2. Local law enforcement officers remind local motorists that the advent of school means an influx of youngsters both walking and riding bicycles in school zones.

"As usual we will be patrolling the school zones during morning and evening hours. Locals should be especially careful during the early morning hours and in the afternoon when school lets out," Schleicher County Sheriff Orval Edmiston said.

Parents also have the responsibility of teaching their children how to safely ride their bicycles. "Don't send your children off on their bikes unprepared," Edmiston added.

Children should also be careful about who they talk to on the way to school and back each day. "You read about abductions and so forth in the city regularly but Eldorado parents should remember that we are not immune to such and it could happen here," the veteran sheriff added.

"Just tell your children not to accept rides with or talk to any strangers. If they persist the child should run to the nearest house or business and seek shelter there--also alerting authorities," Edmiston said.

Bake Sale Slated

Members of the Eldorado Volunteer Fire Department's Ladies Auxiliary will have a bake sale Wednesday, September 16 in front of Parker Food Store in downtown Eldorado.

Society meets

The Schleicher County Historical Society met for its monthly meeting, September 7.

Ruth Baker opened the meeting. The secretary's report was read by Ethel Etheredge. A business meeting followed.

Those attending were Ada Bell Taylor, Willie Blanche Johnson, Ola Ruth Barbee, Ruth Baker, Ethel Etheredge, Ola Mae McDonald, Elizabeth Ballew, and Viola Finnigan.

"At 7 p.m. you will be able to hear Dan Ede preach. Dan has a degree in exercise physiology, worked as an aerobics professor, and is associated with the book "Faith and Fitness". He will talk about how our mind, body and spirit are all inter-related. He will motivate us to begin a faith and fitness program and can help you begin one. Dan also has a degree from Fuller Seminary. He also travels throughout the nation to compete in Triathalons.

"The cost of the meal and talk will be $5. All proceeds will go to Amy Robertson. Please call the church at 853-2731 if you plan to come to the meal," a spokesman said.

Davis family has annual reunion

Davis brothers, Chalmers, Charles, Walter, Weldon and Winiford, along with their wives, children and grandchildren, met over Labor Day for a family reunion at the Weldon Davis home.

Youngest in attendance was little Janay Davis, two month old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Larry Davis of San Angelo, and an aunt, Ellie Perry, of San Angelo, was celebrating her 81st birthday.

Pistol shooting champ was Stephen Davis of Clyde. Washer pitching winners were Winiford and Stephen Davis. Horseshoe pitching was won by Mr. and Mrs. Joe Davis of Lancaster. Wahoo champions were Eunice Davis of Lancaster, and Lisa Cates, of De Soto. Best skeet shooting was done by Joe Davis. Trophies were awarded.

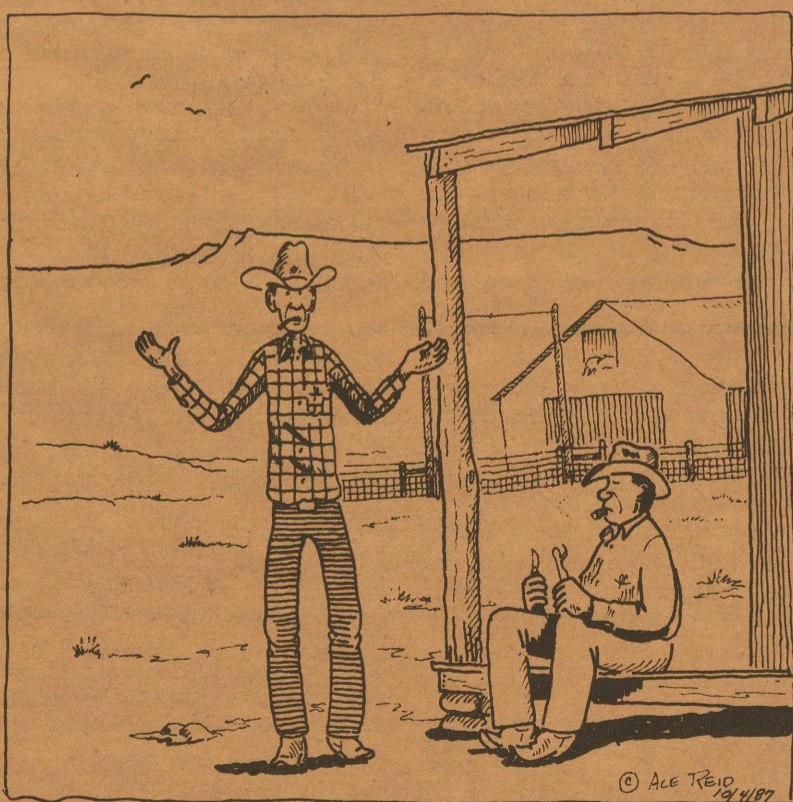

Davis men went dove hunting, children swam and rode horseback, while women played Wahoo and joined in other games, and much conversation.

Cooking was done outside by James Larry, Winiford, and Weldon Davis, and Charlie Wilson of Pearsall. There was a barbecue Saturday night of the three day reunion. Everyone brought food, and beds for their family. There was 54 in attendance, and Weldon Davis was presented "seed money" for a new pair of boots.

"Aunt Jemima" came by with a big watermelon. She was a surprise to the group, acted by Joe Davis.

Eldorado Womens Club has first meeting of year

Dr. Edna Lee Capps, Texas Federated Heart of Texas District President, was a guest of the Eldorado Women's Club Tuesday morning when the club held the first meeting for the 1987-88 year.

Other guests included Dr. Capps sister, Zelma Whitley and Grace White's sister, Alvarie Taylor.

After the hospitality committee served orange juice, coffee, quiche and cake to 20 club members and guests, Ora Deal, club president, welcomed those present. Jewel Bailey opened the meeting with a devotional.

Bridge, 42 games raise $530 for Amy

They played games for Amy Robertson last week--games of bridge, 84, 88 and 42 that is. Six tables of 84 and 88 were on hand, along with three of 42 and six of bridge.

Sponsored by Eldorado Duplicate Bridge Club, the benefit raised $530 for Miss Robertson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gene Robertson of Eldorado.

Amy is currently in Seattle, Washington, scheduled to undergo a bone marrow transplant.

Winners in bridge included Francis Peters and June Jones, first; Tooter Dunham and Mary Ruth Wallis, second; and Ethel Etheredge and Dorothy Evans, third.

Gene Jones took first in 42, with Donald J. Royster second. No winners in 84 and 88 were named because play was conducted with various rules.

Members of the local bridge club served refreshments.

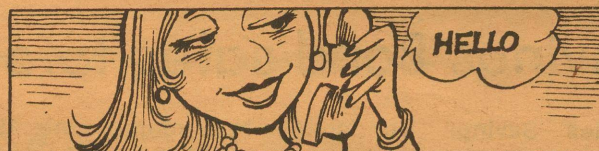

The yearbook committee presented each member with a copy of the new book. In keeping with the Texas Federated Woman's Club theme for this year, "Lighting the Torch", the program committee designed the year's activities along the guide lines of the Olympics.

Charlene Edmiston, program leader, stressed the need of "getting into the swim of things". Roll call was answered with an olympic activity.

Ora Deal, president of the local woman's club, introduced Dr. Capps who spoke briefly on the need for Federation of local clubs. She explained how Federation aids a club in more worthwhile activities.

Members brought gifts for the M.D. Anderson Hospital. Gifts included wigs, wig heads, socks, lotion, bath powder, and children's books. These items will be shipped to M.D. Anderson Hospital in the near future.

During the year's activities, the Woman's Club plans to stress physical training and keeping fit.

Savings Bond sales total for Schleicher told

United States Savings Bonds sales in Texas for the first nine months of fiscal year 1987 amounted to $304,574,108, an increase of $30 million or 11 percent over the same period of 1986. T.J. Morrow, District Director for the U.S. Savings Bonds Division in Texas, announced today. These sales represent 78.5 percent of the state's 1987 assigned dollar goal of $388 million.

Sales of Series EE Bonds amounted to $1,075 during June 1987 in Schleicher County, Leslie L. Baker Volunteer County Chairman, said. The October 1986-June 1987 total for the county was $21,149, which represents 52.8 percent of the County's 1987 assigned dollar goal.

Nationally, June 1987 sales of Series EE Bonds totaled $543 million and brought total sales of U.S. Savings Bonds to $8.87 billion for the first nine months of fiscal year 1987, an increase of 67 percent over same period a year ago. The amount outstanding in U.S. Savings Bonds as of June 30, 1987 was $96.80 billion, up 15 percent over June 1986.

Bond sales are back on sale again, after being suspended for a brief time between July 18 thru July 30. The average yield for Bonds held since the beginning of the market-based interest rate on November 1, 1982 is 8.68 percent; the rate for the period May 1, 1987 thru October 31, 1987 is 5.84 percent.

Outstanding Series EE Bonds, Series E Bonds and Savings Notes held and earning interest for at least five years after November 1, 1982 are also eligible for this market-based yield. All Series EE Bonds purchased on or after November 1, 1982 -- and held at least five years -- will earn 85 percent of the average market yield on Treasury marketable securities. Bonds held less than five years earn interest on a fixed, graduated scale.

Community Choir organizational meeting set

Anyone interested in singing with the Eldorado Community Choir is asked to attend an organizational meeting of the unit this Sunday at 5 p.m. at the First Baptist Church of Eldorado.

"We would like to invite anyone who enjoys singing to join," a spokesman said.

Special speaker scheduled

Are you losing your freedom of religion in America? What is the shocking story of what is going on in today's law schools? And what will be the final outcome?

Dan Ede, lawyer, and seminary-trained theologian, is in demand throughout the country to speak on "What is Happening to America?" On Sunday morning at 11 a.m. at the First United Methodist Church, he will preach on what he is telling churches throughout the nation.

"Christians in America must wake up. Make sure you wake up in time to hear him speak. Dan is also a godspell singer and will be calling people to Christ through song," a spokesman said.

Sonora woman to speak Wednesday at nursing home

Marty McLain, a Sonora native, will bring her storytelling talents to Schleicher County Medical Center Nursing Home next Wednesday, September 16.

Ms. McLain will speak at 11 a.m. and the public is invited to attend. Her topic will be "Tales of Pioneer Women". She was a frequent entertainer at the outdoor theatre in Sonora this summer.

AT&T ANNOUNCES UPCOMING PRICE CHANGES FOR SOME TEXAS INTRASTATE SERVICES

AT&T announces the following price changes for some of its Texas intrastate services. These changes, which more closely reflect the actual costs incurred by AT&T in providing these services, will become effective on October 1, 1987.

- SDN (Software Defined Network) Schedule B prices will be reduced an overall 7.1%. Schedule C prices will be reduced 4.4% for the initial 30-second rate period of each call.
- WATS 80 service prices for both the initial period 80-hour usage and additional period usage will increase 5%.
- The monthly prices for AT&T's Private Line Service will increase up to $25 per channel termination for Analog services and 10% for Digital Data Services.
- A $25 monthly surcharge will also apply to any private lines which may be used to access the local exchange network, unless certified as exempt by the customer. The $25 surcharge, which was previously authorized by the Public Utility Commission of Texas, is a flow through of charges assessed by the Local Exchange Companies to AT&T for those Private Line services.

The combined effect of these price changes is expected to produce approximately $4.99 million annual revenue, which is approximately .5% of AT&T's annual revenues for all Texas intrastate services.

If you have questions regarding the changes for Private Line service, please call AT&T toll-free at 1-800-345-5092. If you have questions regarding the WATS or SDN price changes, please call our business consultants toll-free at 1-800-222-0400. AT&T's tariffs reflecting these changes will be filed with the Public Utility Commission of Texas on August 31, 1987, with an effective date of October 1, 1987.

Persons who have questions regarding this tariff filing may also contact the Public Utility Commission of Texas in writing, at 7800 Shoal Creek Blvd., Suite 400N, Austin, Texas 78757, or by calling the Consumer Affairs Division at (512) 458-0223, or (512) 458-0227, or (512) 458-0221 for teletypewriter for the deaf.

THIRD PART OF A SERIAL

Search gains more help on Rafter H

EDITOR'S NOTE--This is the third installment of a multi-part serial based on the fictional Rafter H Ranch in far West Texas.

BY T.B. NEILL

"Darn, that sun is bright and in the wrong spot," Jim thought, adjusting the mirror in his pickup so that the day's last production of light would not blind him.

Jim wondered where Buck was and if he had found the missing plane. Laura, his wife, was an EMT in town and all eight of the community's emergency medical folks had been put on call when first word had come down about the probable crash.

Since it was on the Rafter H--or near there, Jim had loaded his Ford pickup and headed for the ranch. Buck was one of his best friends and he knew the sprawling West Texas spread just about as well as the foreman.

Three years ago Jim had tired of corporate farming and all the high level brown-nosing it seemed to foster and dropped out for a while.

Utilizing skills he had learned growing up between Van Horn and Marfa on his dad's ranch the young man earned his living that winter by trapping. The price for pelts was higher that year than it had ever been and he had done well.

He had known Buck before that year, but only barely, and had to talk to the foreman and Goerge Jenkins, the ranch owner, to get their permission for his trapping operation. Jim pulled his 27-foot travel trailer out to Rafter H and lived there for about eight months.

It had been a lonely life, sparked by only scarce trips into Van Horn and he had become fast friends with Buck and his kids over countless games of dominoes and front-yard beer drinkings.

Jim and Buck had hunted together and Jim had helped out on several round-ups, following the ageless code of the west that called for neighbors to help neighbors when they weren't busy.

The young trapper had traps on the Rafter H and four other neighboring places, so he had stayed busier than many probably imagined. He hadn't made as much money, but it was a lot of fun and there was not a single bigshot he had to listen to.

As Jim turned his four-by-four off the interstate and pointed it north towards the ranch house he leaned down and made sure his CB radio was set on channel 14. Buck, Jim and Neill, the other member of the "Wild Bunch", as they called themselves, all kept their radios on 14.

"Too much garbage on 19," Jim thought. He didn't expect to get any answer but he decided to try Buck anyway. "Break 14 for the Buckaroo. Can you copy this Jim Dandy?" he asked, waited a moment then repeated the message twice more before putting his radio back in its cradle.

Neill would have loved this little adventure, Jim knew, but he was out of town on a hunting trip and not due back in until that night. "Must be nice to be rich," Jim mused, grinning at the thought of Neill returning home to find he had missed all the action.

Jim knew that if the plane had gone down on Rafter H they could be in for a long search. The sun had just fallen below the mountains when the new searcher braked the Ford and walked onto the porch at the ranch house.

He sauntered through the house and directly to the chalkboard which Buck kept adjacent to the radio equipment. Scrawled in Buck's less-than-attractive handwriting was the message, "Red Canyon".

"Still a man of few words," Jim said through a smile. He considered calling Buck on the ranch radio, but thought better of it, remembering that Buck didn't like the thing used except in emergencies. "You know how weird George can be about things like that?" Buck had asked him--more than once.

Instead of using the radio Jim opened the refrigerator on the porch and helped himself to a six-pack, then remounted his still idling pickup. Some 25 minutes later he sat at the cattleguard which heralded the start of Red Canyon, engulfed by darkness.

He tried Buck on the CB again and again was answered only by silence and the sound of a single coyote serenading its young. He hated to do it but Jim drove on without the benefit of his high dollar sound system, installed in the truck under protest from his bride and at a price that would have made Neill flinch.

Now he would do without George Strait and Reba McIntyre so that he would be sure and not miss any radio messages. "The things I do for my friends," he muttered.

It didn't take an Indian guide to tell that Buck had come in this way and gone through the canyon. "I'll go around the back way and top out. I know he'll have to end up at Stone Tank eventually," he thought.

The back way was just that--and way rough! Buck had gone through the canyon because he had already seen most of the canyons on the south side of the mountain when he came in, Jim reasoned, as his pickup climbed higher and higher.

When he got up on top Jim paused and looked back towards the ranch house. The security light and front porch light both winked at him, despite the fact that he was at least 12 miles from the headquarters.

He would never quit appreciating the good, pure air of West Texas, he thought as he released the clutch and continued along the ranch road. Moments later he jolted to a stop at Stone Tank and tried the radio again.

"Break 14 for the Buckaroo. Got a copy on the old Jim Dandy?" he asked, opening another cold beer. "10-4, thar old buddy. Got the Buckaroo here. Where you at? Ya sound close," Hix asked.

"This feller happens to be at Stone Tank--waiting on yore sorry hide my friend," Jim spat back in the good natured banter both enjoyed. "And I got us a cold beer or two too."

"Yep, must have taken 'em out of my refrigerator," Buck complained. "10-4 you got that right buddy. Say how's the big search going?"

"Wal, I'll tell you all about it in just a minute or two. I'm not a half mile from you now--you should be able to see my lights in a second. Wait until you hear about that plane's cargo," Hix said, obviously loving leaving Jenkins in a high state of curiosity.

"10-4, wal hurry up. Jim Dandy over and out!" Jim exclaimed, opening the door of the pickup and stepping away from the truck. Idling away the seconds he wandered over to check the water in the tank.

He was hanging off the steps of the rock tank, peering into it when the two wetbacks stepped out from behind the cactus and leveled their stolen pistol at his back.

[The Rafter H serial will continue in next week's Success.]

Dear Editor:

We were very disappointed Friday night, when we attended the football game here in Eldorado. We could not watch the game. It was not only the children. Some of the adults were just as bad. As soon as the ball was in play there was someone standing in front of you.

I paid my money to watch the game. What did everyone else come for, to visit, run up and down the bleachers?

This intrusion into your weekly newspaper is in payment of a gambling debt incurred in a horseshoe match with your illustrious publisher and his prospective bride. I don't, however, want to leave the impression that this is a labor nurtured in turmoil. It's an honor and a privilege to be part of the same profession as T.B. It was an even greater tribute to be allowed on the same horseshoe court. Now, to have the opportunity to build a verbal monument to T.B., surpasses any ambitions I might have imagined for myself, a humble farmer-turned-scribe. Recently a group of us were huddled around a stuffed beer cooler in the backyard of Terry's palatial estate when he volunteered to teach my wife and me how to pitch horseshoes. Imagine, we who had never flung a nag's sneakers, were to be introduced to the sport by one (we were later to discover) who is the standard by which horseshoe-lobbers are judged. In a partners game with T.B. and Suzy-Q, who T.B. Explained, had not been beaten in foreign, domestic or interplanetary competition, we upstarts were quickly dispatched in the

"The constitutional amendment to authorize the issuance of an additional $400 million of Texas Water Development Bonds for water supply, water quality, and flood control purposes."

PROPOSITION NO. 24 ON THE BALLOT

House Joint Resolution 83 proposes a constitutional amendment to allow a county to use county equipment and personnel to perform work, without compensation, for another governmental entity if the commissioners court finds that the work will not interfere with the performance of county work and improves performance of the work. The governmental entity must be located wholly or partly in the county, and the governing body of the governmental entity must file a written work request with the commissioners court.

The proposed amendment will appear on the ballot as follows: "The constitutional amendment to permit a county to perform work, without compensation, for another governmental entity."

PROPOSITION NO. 25 ON THE BALLOT

Senate Joint Resolution 5 proposes a constitutional amendment to allow the Legislature to authorize Randall County to levy a tax for the benefit of the Amarillo Hospital District. Any such tax could be levied only on property located outside the City of Amarillo and outside the South Randall County Hospital District. The tax could not be more than 75¢ per $100 property valuation and would be effective only upon approval by the voters in the area to be taxed. If the tax is authorized by the Legislature and approved by voters, the Amarillo Hospital District is to serve residents of part of Randall County. If a tax is levied under this provision, Randall County must repay the State for the cost of publication of this amendment.

The proposed amendment also permits the legislature to authorize a hospital district to change its boundaries or jurisdiction if the district was created or authorized by a constitutional provision that includes a description of the boundaries or jurisdiction of the district. Any change in the boundaries or jurisdiction of such a hospital district would become effective only upon approval of the voters in the district.

The proposed amendment will appear on the ballot as follows: "The constitutional amendment authorizing the legislature to permit the Amarillo Hospital District

PROPOSITION NO. 19 ON THE BALLOT

House Joint Resolution 88 proposes a constitutional amendment to authorize the issuance of $500 million in general obligation bonds, the proceeds of which will be used to establish a superconducting super collider fund. The fund would be used to provide economic incentives for the superconducting super collider research facility, and the agency administering the fund would be authorized to grant land or property to the United States government for undertakings related to the facility. The proposed amendment will appear on the ballot as follows: "The constitutional amendment authorizing the issuance of general obligation bonds to fund undertakings related to a superconducting super collider research facility sponsored or authorized by the United States government, and to make appropriate grants for such undertakings."

PROPOSITION NO. 20 ON THE BALLOT

House Joint Resolution 96 proposes a constitutional amendment to allow the legislature to provide ad valorem tax relief for mobile offshore oil and gas well drilling equipment. The tax relief would be limited to equipment that is being stored while not in use in a county that is adjacent to the Gulf of Mexico or on a body of water that is adjacent to the Gulf of Mexico. The proposed amendment will appear on the ballot as follows: "The constitutional amendment to authorize the legislature to provide ad valorem tax relief for certain offshore drilling equipment that is not in use."

PROPOSITION NO. 21 ON THE BALLOT

Senate Joint Resolution 17 proposes a constitutional amendment to provide for legislative involvement in the executive branch of government by permitting the legislature to include the speaker of the house of representatives in the membership of an agency or committee that includes officers of the executive branch of government and performs executive functions. Under current law, the legislature is not allowed to exercise any powers in executive matters under Article II of the Texas Constitution, which provides for the "separation of powers" into three distinct departments. The proposed amendment will appear on the ballot as follows: "The constitutional amendment valorem tax of up to ten cents ($10) per $100 valuation of the property located in the district. The proposed amendment will appear on the ballot as follows: "The constitutional amendment to allow for the creation and establishment, by law, of special districts to provide emergency services."

PROPOSITION NO. 14 ON THE BALLOT

Senate Joint Resolution 34 proposes a constitutional amendment to allow the state a limited right to appeal criminal cases. Under current law, only criminal defendants are allowed to appeal. This proposed amendment would allow the legislature to pass laws granting state prosecutors the right to appeal in limited circumstances. The proposed amendment will appear on the ballot as follows: "The constitutional amendment giving the state a limited right to appeal in criminal cases."

PROPOSITION NO. 15 ON THE BALLOT

House Joint Resolution 35 proposes a constitutional amendment to abolish the office of county treasurer in Gregg County and transfer the duties of that office to the county auditor or an elected official designated by the commissioners court. The amendment would also abolish the office of county treasurer in Fayette and Nueces counties if a majority of the voters in those counties vote in favor of the amendment. In Fayette County, the functions of the treasurer would be transferred to the county auditor or the officer succeeding to the auditor's functions. In Nueces County, the powers, duties, and functions of the treasurer would be transferred to the county clerk. The proposed amendment will appear on the ballot as follows: "The constitutional amendment to provide for the abolition of the office of county treasurer in Gregg, Fayette, and Nueces counties."

PROPOSITION NO. 16 ON THE BALLOT

Senate Joint Resolution 6 proposes a constitutional amendment to allow the commissioners court in a county with a population of more than 150,000 to establish more than one Justice of the Peace court in each Justice of the Peace precinct, i.e., to provide for the election of more than one Justice of the Peace in each Justice of the Peace precinct. The proposed amendment will appear on the ballot as follows: "The proposed amendment will ap-and mental health and mental retardation facilities."

PROPOSITION NO. 9 ON THE BALLOT

Senate Joint Resolution 9 proposes a constitutional amendment to provide that a state legislator is eligible to serve in another state office even if the compensation of the office was increased during his legislative term or even if the appointment is made in whole or in part (including Senate confirmation) by the legislature. The legislator could not, however, receive the increased compensation approved during his legislative term. The proposed amendment will appear on the ballot as follows: "The constitutional amendment to provide that a member of the legislature is eligible to be elected or appointed and to serve in a different state office but may not receive an increase in compensation granted to that office during the legislative term to which he was elected."

PROPOSITION NO. 10 ON THE BALLOT

Subsections (d) and (e) of Section 1 of Senate Joint Resolution 12 propose a constitutional amendment to allow the legislature to exempt from ad valorem taxation all tangible personal property except structures which are used as residential dwellings and property held or used for the production of income. This exemption would be in addition to the personal property homestead exemption already established by the constitution. If the legislature authorizes the exemption of additional personal property from taxation under this amendment, local political subdivisions may pass resolutions providing for taxation of such property unless the property is exempt from ad valorem taxation under another law. The proposed amendment will appear on the ballot as follows: "The constitutional amendment to allow the legislature to exempt from ad valorem taxation certain personal property not held or used for the production of income."

PROPOSITION NO. 11 ON THE BALLOT

Section 1, Subsections (f) and (g) of Senate Joint Resolution 12 propose a constitutional amendment to exempt from ad valorem taxation goods, wares, merchandise, and ores other than oil, gas and petroleum products. These items would be exempt from taxation only if they

PROPOSITION NO. 1 ON THE BALLOT

House Joint Resolution 104 proposes a constitutional amendment to allow the legislature to provide a guarantee for the Texas grain warehouse self-insurance fund. The guarantee of the fund may not exceed $5 million, and when the fund reaches $5 million, the guarantee will cease. The proposed amendment will appear on the ballot as follows: "The constitutional amendment to provide for the surety of a grain warehouse fund to be established by the grain industry for the protection of farmers and depositors of grain in public warehouse facilities."

PROPOSITION NO. 2 ON THE BALLOT

House Joint Resolution 60 proposes a constitutional amendment to permit rural fire prevention districts in counties with populations over 400,000 to levy a tax at a rate not to exceed six cents ($.06) per $100 property valuation for the district, if the voters of the district approve the tax. The proposed amendment will appear on the ballot as follows: "The constitutional amendment to raise the maximum property tax rate that may be adopted by certain rural fire prevention districts, but only if approved by the districts' residents."

PROPOSITION NO. 3 ON THE BALLOT

House Joint Resolution 48 proposes a constitutional amendment to extend the school ad valorem tax exemption for elderly persons to the surviving spouse of a person receiving the exemption. If a surviving spouse is at least 55 years old at the time of death of the person receiving the exemption, ad valorem public school taxes could not be increased as long as the homestead remained the residence homestead of the surviving spouse. The proposed amendment will appear on the ballot as follows: "The constitutional amendment to limit school tax increases on the residence homestead of the surviv-

"The constitutional amendment authorizing agreements between the State Department of Highways and Public Transportation and the Texas Turnpike Authority and the governing bodies of counties with a population of more than 400,000, adjoining counties, and cities and districts located in those counties to aid turnpikes, toll roads, and toll bridges by guaranteeing bonds issued by the Texas Turnpike Authority."

PROPOSITION NO. 6 ON THE BALLOT

House Joint Resolution 4 proposes a constitutional amendment to allow the legislature to establish three separate development funds. A Texas product development fund could be established to aid in the development and production of new or improved products in the state. The amendment would authorize the issuance of up to $15 million of general obligation bonds to provide initial funding for the program. A Texas small business incubator fund could be established to foster and stimulate the development of small businesses in the state. Small businesses operating under the program would be exempt from ad valorem taxation. The amendment would authorize the issuance of up to $10 million in general obligation bonds to provide initial funding for the program. A Texas agricultural fund could be established to promote the production, processing and marketing of agricultural products produced primarily in Texas by small Texas agricultural businesses. The amendment would authorize the issuance of general obligation bonds in the amount of $100 million outstanding at one time to carry out the agricultural fund program. The legislature could require review and approval of the issuance of bonds and the use of bond proceeds. The proposed amendment will appear on the ballot as follows: "The constitutional amendment authorizing the legislature to provide for state financing of development and production of Texas products and businesses."

first game.

Just to fluff up the egos of us hayseeds, T.B. allowed us to notch the first victory, ever, over him and "whats-her-name" as he affectionately calls his intended.

My admiration for T.B. grew as he whined and disputed every measurement in the contest—just as though he really cared about winning.

Euphoria in what I had imagined to be one of the biggest fluke wins in the history of athletic competition, I rashly suggested that the loser of the next match write a tribute to the winner in the winner's newspaper.

It was obvious that T.B. allowed

Suzy-Q all the glory, since he pitched most of his attempts in the general vicinity of Pave Paws, while Suzy-Q racked up ringers like slamdunks.

Ah yes, my borrowed audience, my team lost a horseshoe match and a wager, but how can there be a loser when the indebtedness is thus.

to serve certain residents of Randall County, to authorize Randall County to provide financial assistance to the district, and to authorize certain hospital districts to change their boundaries or jurisdiction with voter approval."

EXPLANATORY STATEMENT FOR STATEWIDE REFERENDUM NO. 1

Senate Bill 86 submits to the voters the question of whether the 15 members of the State Board of Education should be appointed instead of elected. If the proposition passes, the Governor will appoint a member of the board for each district, with the consent of the Senate. If the proposition fails, the members will be elected from these districts.

The referendum will appear on the ballot as follows:

"The State Board of Education shall be composed of members who are appointed from districts instead of elected, with equal representation throughout the State of Texas."

EXPLANATORY STATEMENT FOR STATEWIDE REFERENDUM NO. 2

The Texas Racing Act submits to the voters the question of whether pari-mutuel wagering should be legal in Texas on a county-by-county local option basis. If pari-mutuel wagering is adopted by the voters statewide, a county must also pass a separate proposition on pari-mutuel wagering at an election held in the county before any such wagering may be conducted in that county.

The referendum will appear on the ballot as follows:

"The legalization of pari-mutuel wagering under the Texas Racing Act on a county-by-county local option basis."

permitting the legislature to include the speaker of the house of representatives or the speaker's appointee in the membership of an executive agency or committee."

PROPOSITION NO. 22 ON THE BALLOT

Senate Joint Resolution 53 proposes a constitutional amendment to allow the legislature to limit the term of office of a gubernatorial appointee to a vacancy in a state or district office to a partial, temporary term if the appointment is made on or after November 1 of the last year of the governor's term and the governor is not reelected. Under this amendment, the legislature may provide that the tenure of such an appointee would end sooner than the term would normally expire.

The proposed amendment will appear on the ballot as follows:

"The constitutional amendment to allow the legislature to limit the authority of a governor to fill vacancies in state and district offices during the end of the governor's term if the governor is not reelected."

PROPOSITION NO. 23 ON THE BALLOT

Senate Joint Resolution 54 proposes a constitutional amendment to authorize the Texas Water Development Board to issue an additional $400 million in water development bonds. Of the $400 million authorized, $200 million would be designated for conservation and development of water resources, $150 million would be designated for water quality enhancement, and $50 million would be designated for flood control. The amendment also authorizes the legislature to provide for review and approval of the issuance of the bonds and the use of the bond proceeds.

The proposed amendment will appear on the ballot as follows:

"The constitutional amendment providing that certain justice precincts may contain more than one justice of the peace court."

PROPOSITION NO. 17 ON THE BALLOT

Senate Joint Resolution 26 proposes a constitutional amendment to allow the legislature to define by law those municipal functions that are governmental and those that are proprietary. This authorization would apply to laws passed by the 70th Legislature, 1987, and by future legislatures in regular or special session. A municipality is liable for damages arising out of acts committed under its proprietary functions, but not its governmental functions. Definition of such functions by the legislature would clarify the liability of a municipality in civil lawsuits filed against it.

The proposed amendment will appear on the ballot as follows:

"The constitutional amendment authorizing the legislature to define for all purposes the governmental and proprietary functions of a municipality."

PROPOSITION NO. 18 ON THE BALLOT

House Joint Resolution 18 proposes a constitutional amendment to authorize the legislature to provide for the creation, operation, and financing of jail districts. Financing of a jail district could be accomplished through the issuance of bonds and other obligations, or by levy of an ad valorem tax on property located in the district if the qualified electors of a district approve an ad valorem tax or bonds secured by a property tax.

The proposed amendment will appear on the ballot as follows:

originated outside the state and were located in the state for a period of 175 days or less for purposes of assembly, storage, manufacture, processing, or fabrication. Such property could be taxed by a county, school district, or municipality if the governing body of the political subdivision took official action to provide for the taxation of the items while they were located in the political subdivision. If the governing body of a political subdivision took official action to tax the items before January 1, 1988, the tax would be effective for the 1988 tax year. If the action were taken after January 1, 1988, and before April 1, 1988, the tax would become effective January 1, 1989.

PROPOSITION NO. 12 ON THE BALLOT

Senate Joint Resolution 35 proposes a constitutional amendment to allow a married couple to agree in writing that all or part of their community property will become the property of the surviving spouse if one spouse dies.

The proposed amendment will appear on the ballot as follows:

"The constitutional amendment permitting spouses to hold community property with right of survivorship."

PROPOSITION NO. 13 ON THE BALLOT

Senate Joint Resolution 27 proposes a constitutional amendment to authorize the creation of special districts to provide emergency services. The commissioners court in a county participating in a district could, upon approval of the voters, levy an ad valorem tax on property located in the district if the qualified electors of a district approve an ad valorem tax or bonds secured by a property tax.

valorem tax on property located in the district if the qualified electors of a district approve an ad valorem tax or bonds secured by a property tax.

PROPOSITION NO. 8 ON THE BALLOT

Senate Joint Resolution 56 proposes a constitutional amendment to allow the legislature to authorize the issuance of up to $500 million in general obligation bonds to be used to acquire, construct, and equip new correctional institutions and mental health and mental retardation institutions or to repair existing institutions. The amendment also authorizes the legislature to provide for review and approval of the issuance of the bonds and the use of the bond proceeds.

The proposed amendment will appear on the ballot as follows:

"The constitutional amendment providing for the issuance of general obligation bonds to finance certain local public facilities."

PROPOSITION NO. 5 ON THE BALLOT

House Joint Resolution 65 proposes a constitutional amendment to permit the State Department of Highways and Public Transportation Turnpike Authority and to contribute money to the costs of turnpikes, toll roads and toll bridges of the Authority. The amendment would authorize the governing body of a county with a population over 400,000, a county adjoining such county, and any city or district located in or partially in such county to make agreements with the Texas Turnpike Authority and levy ad valorem taxes to pay part or all of the principal and interest on Turnpike Authority bonds and to pay maintenance and operating expenses of the Turnpike Authority, if the voters approve the tax.

The proposed amendment will appear on the ballot as follows:

valorem taxes to pay part or all of the principal and interest on Turnpike Authority bonds and to pay maintenance and operating expenses of the Turnpike Authority, if the voters approve the tax.

PROPOSITION NO. 4 ON THE BALLOT

House Joint Resolution 5 proposes a constitutional amendment to allow the legislature to create programs and make loans and grants of money for development and diversification of the economy, elimination of unemployment and underemployment, stimulation of agricultural innovation, promotion of agricultural production, and development of transportation and commerce. Bonds or other obligations payable from ad valorem taxes must be approved by the voters in the political subdivision seeking such funding sources.

The proposed amendment will appear on the ballot as follows:

"The constitutional amendment authorizing the legislature to provide assistance to encourage economic development in the state."

PROPOSITION NO. 6 ON THE BALLOT

Senate Joint Resolution 28 proposes a constitutional amendment to authorize the legislature to provide for the creation, operation, and financing of jail districts. Financing of a jail district could be accomplished through the issuance of bonds and other obligations, or by levy of an ad valorem tax on property located in the district if the qualified electors of a district approve an ad valorem tax or bonds secured by a property tax.

The proposed amendment will appear on the ballot as follows:

Catholics set meal Sept. 20

Members of Our Lady of Guadalupe Catholic Church are hosting a Mexican food dinner Sunday, September 20.

They will serve a Mexican dinner plate complete with dessert.

Several small booths for children will make up a mini-festival during the dinner.

A drawing for a gas grill, $100 cash or a pair of binoculars will conclude the affair.

Tickets can be obtained from any member of the church.

The meal will begin at 11:30 a.m.

Booster BBQ big success

"We would like to thank Danny Crowder for doing such a fine job cooking the briskets for our barbecue," a spokesman for Eldorado Eagle Booster Club said Tuesday.

"The barbecue was a big success even though the scrimmage was cancelled. In addition to Danny we would like to thank everyone who worked on the project and all those merchants who furnished briskets," the spokesman continued.

The booster club meets each Monday night at 7:30 p.m. in the field house. The film from that week's Eagle game is shown and business conducted. All residents of Schleicher County are invited to join the club and attend the meetings.

New pictures of footballers and cheerleaders have been taken and badges should be ready for the next home game.

Wedding Selections

Mr. and Mrs.
John Paul Joiner

McCalla's

-top of the divide-

BY THOMAS GIOVANNITTI

The other day I was heading toward the bank from the courthouse and I observed a newly married couple, who shall remain nameless, get out of a black bronco and head into the Diner for lunch. Like many newly-weds after dismounting from the vehicle the new husband dutifully took the Mrs.'s hand and they strolled "hand in hand" into the Diner. Love truly conquers all, including a man's natural distaste for public shows of affection.

Now, this is merely my own theory, with absolutely no empirical support. My theory is this; that men do not like, and have never, since the dawn of time, liked or enjoyed public displays of affection. On the other hand women may or may not enjoy them but they coerce men into making such displays as the price men must pay for any private affection.

Now, think about this before you go calling me some chauvinist "you-know-what". It is not meant in any way in derogation of women. In fact it shows their inherent mental superiority that, from eons in the past women knew what men wanted long before men did. Women also realized, at least in the tough world of cave dwelling, that men could probably take what they wanted so she devised a way to make every man pay some small price in return. Holding hands is only one of these signs. I am not advocating that women stop demanding such little tokens, in fact, such tokens may very well be what have brought civilization as far as it has come.

One of the great problems facing our nation today is whether the liberation of women and their resultant equality will actually undermine civilization. Actually the hand gun may have done that already, since it eliminates differences in size and gender, but that is another question. What we're dealing with here is that as soon as women quit demanding these little humanizing gestures from men the whole of humanity could slip back into barbarianism.

On the other hand, the one not being held, even if, after reading this, you ask your husband, whether new or used, does he mind holding your hand in public he is probably, if he has any sense at all, going to say "Sure I do".

They Friday he is going to want to know why I ever brought up the subject in the first place, since he nearly had you broke of the habit and now he has to start all over again. Of course that is why I did not identify the newly married couple at the beginning, so no one would know of whom I was speaking and would bother the poor bearded guy about starting all this in the first place.

'Lunch Bunch' set for Mondays

The 'Lunch Bunch' gang of First Baptist Church will be serving nutritious meals again this year.

Meals will be served each Monday during lunch. All junior and senior high school students are invited to the church for lunch. A bus will be at the school to transport students to and from the church.

The menu for September is as follows:

September 14 -- Hot Dogs with Chili, Chips, Cake and Tea.

September 21 -- Submarine Sandwiches, Chips, Cake and Tea.

September 27 -- Soft Tacos, Salad, Peach Cobbler and Tea.

The cost of the meals if $1.25.

NOTICE OF PUBLIC HEARING
 Notice is hereby given of a Public Hearing to be held Tuesday, September 15, 1987, at 7:30 p.m. at City Hall for the following purpose:
 Closing of portion of Meador Street between Murchison Avenue and W. Warner Avenue as petitioned by the Schleicher County Medical Center as adjacent property owner. Said portion of closed street would be used in expansion of said facilities.
 Interested persons are invited to make comment or ask questions.
 City Secretary
 Carolyn Mayo

THANK YOU
 The Schleicher County Chamber of Commerce would like to thank all the people for their time, effort and donations that made the Eldorado Air Force Station (PAVE PAWS) dedication a huge success.
 A very special thanks to Jackie Harris and the Harris Catering crew for donating all their hard work and time in preparing the food for this event. Thanks for a great job!
 We would also like to thank all the ladies from all the local churches that provided the delicious cakes. To John Pitts for the electrical help, to Southwest Texas Electric Coop for setting up barrels, boards and tables; to all the people who served in the food and tea lines; to all the local business people for their contributions of money and materials; to Jerry Swift for picking up the ice machine; to Nancy Lester for the many, many things she did; to the Air Force Band of the West from Lackland Air Force Base for the great entertainment. A special thanks to Judge Griffin for mowing the courthouse lawn while his employee was on vacation and to Col. Paul and all the Air Force gang at Eldorado AFS for a job well done.
 We truly appreciate all who helped us in this endeavor and all your efforts are sincerely appreciated.
