1922 football team had spirit

BY RENE CALCOTE

Payne Robinson had a great love for athletics. He played both baseball and football in his young years at Baylor University. His last two college years he served as captain of the Baylor Bears football team.

The Dallas News wrote, "Robinson has been the superior of all kickers and punters in the state. He has averaged upward of 50 yards under all conditions. He is the best ground gainer Baylor has." This was in the fall of 1908.

The Baylor "Round Up" of 1911 said of him: "By friend and foe alike, T.P. Robinson is conceded to be without a peer in the battlefield, being the best all around kicking halfback of his time...having crossed the goal for 24 touchdowns this season alone."

In 1964, Payne was inducted, posthumously, into the Baylor University Hall of Fame and he is always a choice on the Baylor all-time gridiron team.

Several years after graduating from Baylor, Robinson returned to Schleicher County to help his mother "Kate" in their general store. He also worked at the bank, farmed, bought cotton and did bookkeeping. All these things kept Payne busy, but he still had a longing to once again be involved in athletics. This desire inspired him to organize and coach Eldorado's first school football team.

Fourteen robust young men of Eldorado High School made the first football team in the year 1922.

Coaching these farm and ranch boys was not an easy task--their knowledge of football was practically none. Each had to furnish their own uniforms and equipment and provide a football field.

Dick Bearce, a member of the team, relates, "We had a bad first year, didn't score a point, lost every game."

The team began to improve the second season. Jim Finley, another Eagle remembers well the first points scored when Beeler Brown kicked a field goal. It was an exciting time!

These first Eagles, John McElroy, Captian, Hubert Grover, J.B. Bruton, Truett Stanford, Clyde Graves, Jim Finley, Jim Hinyard, Albert Tisdale, Herin Ramsey, Richard "Dick" Bearce, John White, Beeler Brown, Leslie Baker, Robert Isaacs, Tom Kent and Coach Payne Robinson, never lost their fighting spirit. They set a strong foundation for the future teams.

Keep this pioneer spirit going Eldorado, and have a great '88 season!

New Tax Rate set by SCISD Trustees

The Schleicher County Independent School District Board of Trustees met Monday night, August 22 for a called meeting.

The board adopted the budget for the 1988-89 school year.

Ray Lewis Ballew was present to discuss the calculation of the tax rate. The tax rate for the coming year was set at $1.1219 per $100 evaluation. Out of the $1.1219 rate, $.2253 will be directed to pay on bonded indebtedness (interest and sinking), and $.8966 will go to maintenance and operation. The state directs how the tax rates are calculated.

Student handbooks were presented to the board for approval. The handbooks were approved with one change in the elementary dress code.

The dress code is the same as last year with the exception that Pre Kingergarten through fourth grades can wear jams or loose fitting shorts that come below mid-thigh. No P.E. shorts may be worn in the classroom, only in P.E.

Discussion was held on the TASB process for Strategic Planning.

Mr. Moore announced the following aids were hired for the 1988-89 school year: Lori Dykstra, middle school library; Janet Curtis, middle school reading and special education; and Elida Estrada, special education, hired through the Menard Special Education Cooperative.

Westover succumbs —top of the divide— to liver disease

Ted L. Westover, a 43 year old liver transplant recipient who brought San Angeloans and West Texans together to raise money for his operation, died Tuesday, August 16, 1988 in Shannon Medical Center.

Westover was told in 1986 he would not live more than a year without a liver transplant.

Cans with messages asking for donations to the Ted Westover Liver Transplant Fund were found in many businesses throughout area towns. Donations included an East Texas house valued at $56,580.

West Texans donated more than $170,000 toward surgery and anti-rejection medication.

Westover received a new liver on March 7, 1987, after having been diagnosed as being in the terminal stages of cirrhosis, possibly caused by a bout with hepatitis.

After his operation, Westover returned to his business, Westover Roofing Company which he had owned and operated in San Angelo since 1974.

The hepatitis that destroyed Westover's first liver reoccurred in his new liver.

Memorial services were held Saturday, August 20 in Park Heights Baptist Church with the Rev. James Miller officiating.

Westover was born September 8, 1944 in Donwan, Mississippi. He married Debra Tomlinson on November 14, 1975.

Survivors include his wife, Debra; three year old son Colt; daughter Angel and son Mike by previous marriages; three sisters, Barbara Estep of San Angelo, Donna Fulton Westover and Beverly Lilley, both of California; four nephews, Randy and Robert Bridges, Christopher Bussard and Andrew Tomlinson; six nieces, Cherie Nelson, Tamara Bussard, Crystal Jowers, Misty Garverick and Breana Fonville; and a new niece, Crystal; an aunt, Verda Jeffries of Abilene; and an aunt and uncle, Eva and Charles Williams of Lordsburg, New Mexico; and several cousins.

BY THOMAS GIOVANNITTI

I am sure that for many of you, the fact that Dan Quayle served in the Indiana National Guard instead of the regular army, with the attendant risk of a tour in Vietnam, is no reason to not vote for the Republican ticket but for some reason it bothers me.

Dan Quayle says he didn't pull any strings or have any influential family member do anything to get him into the Indiana National Guard. He also says he didn't join the Indiana National Guard to avoid going to Vietnam.

Maybe he didn't use his powerful family connections to get in the Guard. According to an article in 'Monday's Standard Times the Guard Headquarters Unit Mr. Quayle was able to get into had a few vacancies. Now no waiting lists were kept a few of these old commanders said.

In 1969 the Indiana National Guard Headquarters unit was one of the very few Guard units with vacancies. Now if memory serves me, and I have been out of the Air Force for 20 years, many military units are, from time to time, undermanned. Usually this happened because each unit has only so many slots for officers, non-commissioned officers (NCO's), and enlisted personnel. None of the news articles defending Dan Quayle say whether he went in as an officer, which seems likely since he had just graduated from college, or whether he went in as an enlisted man.

Now, I'll tell you why I went in the Air Force in 1964. I could not get into the New Jersey National Guard. In fact, after talking to the Guard recruiters I was told there were no vacancies. I can't speak for all Vietnam Veterans, but as for myself, I have a little trouble seeing Dan Quayle there in his college dorm saying to himself, "Now I see my duty to God and Country clearly, I need to stay right here in Indianapolis, fully trained in military maneuvers so, if any commies make their way from California through Illinois, I'll be ready to fight for freedom right here." Give me a break! Come on Dan, it was 1969. There were all those bloody battle scenes on American News telecasts every night. The casualty lists from every state in the Union were getting longer. There you are, the son of one of the most powerful newsmen in Indiana and you didn't ask him to help you one bit. Right!

But even if Dan Quayle did not ask his father to help him I am still having a little problem that he chose the Indiana National Guard rather than service in Vietnam and he did it, he says, not to avoid service in "Nam". When I was there there was a Marine officer, in a combat unit by the way, named Lieutenant Robb, whose father-in-law was the President, and he served. I'll admit he got promoted rather fast but he did serve and in the field.

Dan Quayle's failure to see the need to serve in Vietnam would not bother me so much I think, except this is a guy who not talks about those soft on communist Democrats, after he had his chance to get a few communists himself!

Writer wants best Texas football game

Kirk Dooley, in The Book of Texas Bests (Taylor Publishing Co., to be published October 31, 1988), has stated that the "Best Football Game" is the annual Texas-Oklahoma bash in Dallas. Folks, let get serious: if Oklahoma didn't raid the Texas schoolboy ranks each year during recruiting season to fill their roster, they couldn't beat the University of Vermont in a game of marbles.

Kirk Dooley, creator of the Texas Trivia board game and author of Hidden Dallas, has few rivals when it comes to knowing about Texas; even prior to publication of his new book, however, this statement on Texas football has been called into severe question: it is felt by many that anything relating to a bunch of Okies and renegade Texans has little to do with the BEST of Texas.

Taylor Publishing is interested in checking reader's opinions on this matter: what are their thoughts on the Best Texas Football Game ever—high school, college, or pro? Of course, the examples are legion: San Antonio Breckenridge vs. San Antonio Lee in the high school playoffs, TCU's 6-0 upset of Texas in Austin while they were ranked #1 in the nation, or the classic Dallas Cowboys-Washington Redskins game on

Smith promotes registration

Congressman Lamar Smith has mailed voter registration applications this week to all residents of the 21st Congressional District in an effort to promote voter participation in the November election.

"The right to vote is one of the most important guarantees of our Constitution," according to Smith. "But," he adds, "in order to be eligible to vote in the election, citizens must be registered before the October 9 deadline."

Smith urges all adult citizens to register and to vote in the November election, reminding them to make their voice heard. "Your vote does count," Smith emphasizes, "since elections have been won or lost before on the basis of just one vote."

Simms backs country hospitals

Local hospital board member Pam White told the Eldorado Success Tuesday that the Rural Health Caucus, of which Senator Bill Simms is a member, is committed to attacking the problem of inadequate funding of rural hospitals under state Medicaid and federal Medicare programs.

"One part of the solution to adequate funding for rural hospitals under the Medicaid program is to raise the Standard Dollar Amount from $1,200 to $1,500," Senator Sims said. The SDA is part of the formula used to determine the exact amount an individual hospital is paid based on the patient's diagnosis. Senator Simms reports that a consistent theme presented to the Special Task Force on Rural Health Care Delivery during recent public hearings throughout the state, is that hospitals, particularly those with 100 beds or less, are experiencing severe financial hardship as a result of declining reimbursement rates for both Medicare and Medicaid. Some 52 hospitals in Texas have already closed.

Driver's ed trains student drivers

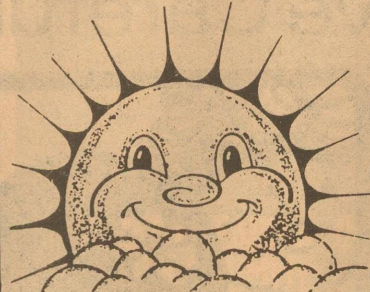

"Mom, Dad can I borrow the car?" is a familiar refrain heard across the state every day.

To ensure that the state's drivers are properly trained before hitting the streets, the Texas Education Agency, in cooperation with the Department of Public Safety, oversees driver education and traffic safety courses in the state's public schools.

A student in Texas may enroll in driver education and traffic safety courses at age 14 if he or she will turn 15 before the classroom phase ends. Upon successful completion of the course, a student is eligible to apply to the DPS for an instructional permit.

The driver education course consists of two phases, classroom and in-car instruction. In the classroom phase, students receive 56 hours of instruction in courses for state credit and 32 hours of instruction in noncredit courses. The in-car phase consists of seven hours of actual behind-the-wheel instruction and seven hours of observation.

Texas Legislature seeks pay raise

The Texas State Teachers Association announced this week it will ask the state legislature for a $5,000 across-the-board pay raise for all Texas teachers and will work for a 20 percent hike for other education employees.

Speaking at a State Capitol news conference Thursday, TSTA President Charles Beard said it is a myth that significant progress has been made in teacher salaries as a result of education reform in Texas.

"The fact is that in relative terms, teachers' salaries have been slipping faster than the price of Texas 'crude,'" Beard said. "Our national ranking in pay has tumbled from 21st in the nation in 1984 to 27th in 1988."

Beard said teachers feel "betrayed" because they were told that by submitting to TECAT testing, taking on more responsibilities, implementing a more stringent curricula with less flexibility, accepting a merit pay system and rigorous evaluations they would be rewarded with significantly higher salaries.

Not only are current teachers meeting higher performance standards, Beard added, but together requirements for becoming certified to teach public school are firmly in place.

"The quality of education is up and we can assure it will stay up so long as we can attract and retain quality teachers."

"Teachers have responded to every challenge, Beard said. "Student test scores are up at every level, but the legislature hasn't improved the salary schedule in more than four years and most school districts have let the local share decline."

Beard added that 20,000 teachers are already at the top step of the state salary schedule and another 15,000 will reach the top step in 1988-89.

"If the legislature doesn't act, these 35,000 teachers will not qualify on the state minimum schedule for an increment in the next biennium."

"The state cannot depend on local school boards to supplement teacher pay because last year eight of every nine school districts either froze or cut the base pay for teachers."

Linthicum appointed chairman

Horace Linthicum of Eldorado has been appointed area chairman for the Cattlemen's Round-Up for Crippled Children, according to James M. Alexander, CRCC general chairman.

This Schleicher County supporter is among 230 statewide chairmen assisting the CRCC fundraiser which benefits West Texas Rehabilitation Center in Abilene and San Angelo.

Aubrey Stokes of San Angelo is co-chairman of this 29th annual Round-Up which is anticipated to raise $275,000 this fall. Midwest Feedyards in San Angelo will serve as a regional collection point.

Sales of livestock are converted to dollars and the amount helps provide out-patient care for the more than 11,000 handicapped children and adults who will be treated this year at the Rehab Center.

Trained, licensed professionals provide physical therapy, occupational therapy, speech/language therapy, audiology, orthotics, education, diagnostic clinics, social services and work evaluations. Patients are admitted by referral, and are treated without charge except for braces and hearing aids.

Scheduled 1988 CRCC sale dates include Haskell Sale, September 24; Cattle Sale, September 26 at Abilene Auction; Horse Sale, October 1, Abilene Auction; Coleman Sale, October 5; Stephenville Sale, October 5; Junction Sheep and Goat Sale, October 10; San Saba Sale, October 13 and Brownwood Sale, October 26.

"Ranchers whose sale calendars do not correspond with Round-Up sales may make a pledge and then respond as soon as they can," Alexander explains. "Some stockmen cut out an animal or more throughout the year and ask their local auctions to send the sale proceeds to the Rehab Center."

Persons wishing to make a donation of livestock or cash, or those needing to arrange for transportation of animals should contact the local chairman or call the nearest WTRC facility.

Lunch prices set

Lunches for the 1988-89 school year have been set and will be the same as last year. They are as follows: K through third grade, $1.00; fourth through sixth grades, $1.10; seventh through 12th grades, $1.20; adult faculty, $1.60; and adult visitors, $3.45.

All lunches need to be paid in the school cafeteria in the mornings from 7:45 to 8:45 a.m. except for the older children who are paying for one day at a time which they can pay through the line. This is not a good policy for smaller children, as they tend to lose all or part of it frequently.

A simple method for paying is to place the money or check in an envelope, put the student or students names and the teachers or teachers names on the outside. Seal it and insist that the student take it to the cafeteria when arriving at school that morning.

One check may be made for all your children and list each one separately and the amount for each child on the outside of the envelope. This method saves time and keeps the child from having to stand in line and maybe be late for class. It also keeps them from misplacing their check or money.

REACHING OUT to catch the pigskin Friday afternoon, This Brady running back made a gridiron silhouette. [Staff Photo by T.B. Neill]

-letters to the editor- T.G.I.F. set Friday

Dear Editor:

Does America have the moral fiber to survive? Well we have some people in America that know what we must do to survive that is Nicholas Benton editor of Executive Intelligence Review associated with Lyndon LaRouche.

At ten o'clock Saturday night White House correspondent for EIR, Nicholas Benton was brutally assaulted in the streets of New Orleans. He was apparently followed from the Republican Convention Center, where he had been presenting his press credentials.

Jumped from behind by three or four men and hit upon the back of his head apparently with a bottle, Benton was rendered unconscious for six hours and awoke in an emergency room. While he fortunately does not appear to have been severely injured, he could easily have been killed. His press pass credentials and wallet disappeared.

Just one week ago Benton had been at the center of the international furor that was unleashed in the wake of his question to President Reagan about Democratic contender Michael Dukakis health records. As is now well known it was Benton who asked the question to which President Reagan responded with what became known as the "invalid" joke.

The K.B.G. wanting Benton out of way preferred Michael Dukakis over George Bush for the reason for Benton assault.

If Nicholas Benton can bring out what need to be brought out and risk his life then I think you as bystanders need to buy the Federalist paper or EIR to find out what is really going on.

What is keeping you from buying the Federalist paper and showing a little guts? That's if the press doesn't print favorable information about LaRouche you can find out what is needed to put moral fiber back into America, solve the depression and be strong to stop Soviet aggression. Lester Dahlberg

T.G.I.F. (Thank God It's Friday) is set once again for this Friday, August 26 at the Agape Assembly of God Church on the corner of Warner and Hackberry. The time is 4:30 to 6 p.m. for kids from three to 12 years of age.

"This will be the last T.G.I.F. of the summer so we want to encourage all the children to come and get in on all the fun. There will be singing, puppets, object lessons, clowns, Bible stories, and refreshments. We hope to see you there," a spokesman said.
