IN GRID OPENER FRIDAY

Eagles aim at Dogs

BY TERRY B. NEILL

Most of the news from Eagleland this week is positive as the local gridgers prepare for their opening tilt of the season this Friday night in Eden. Kickoff will be at 7:30 p.m., the only early start the Eagles have this year.

Coach Armando San Miguel, beginning his third year at the helm of the Eagles had a lot of positive things to say about his team after its scrimmage with Ricksprings last Friday in Edwards County.

The Eagle first team won, 2-0, while the second string prevailed, 1-0.

"We were pleased with our overall performance. Our backs ran real hard and our defense played real well, keeping Ricksprings in their own end of the field most of the game," San Miguel said.

"Ricksprings came out and blitzed us a lot, something we don't like to see and gave us a good test. It was just what we needed," San Miguel added.

He praised quarterbacks Carter Edmiston and Bradley Bass for both their passing and running efforts, and running backs Juan Espinosa and Juan Ramirez, a transfer from Sonora, who is expected to help this year's Eagle squad.

Tight ends Howard Ledbetter and Joe Montalvo were also cited for outstanding play, along with Ward Evans, who graded out highest among linemen.

On defense the entire secondary was praised--Carter Edmiston, Trey Preston, Espinosa, Bass, and Dusty Barton. "They came up and forced on the line of scrimmage better than any secondary has for us in several games," San Miguel said.

Linebackers Scott Robinson and Larry Ramos "did their usually fine job", he added, and Donnie Fuentes and Ledbetter played well in the line.

Eden, a new addition to the Eagle schedule, will field a salty squad.

Eden advanced to bi-district play last year and returns a solid

As I was opening mail the other day, I happened to open an envelope from the Texas Department of Public Safety. In this envelope was a story.

School starts this week. Let's all remember to watch for kids when out in our automobiles. This story tells it all.

THE END OF SCHOOL

"A few seconds ago, he was full of wonder and excitement. His first day of school, and his fresh-scrubbed face had been flushed with the thrill of it. His new cap had bounced on his small blond head, and coat and trousers -- newly purchased -- could hardly contain the delightful thrill that ran through him as Mama had let him out of the family car.

"Mama had brushed a sudden dampness from her eye and had thought, "My what a handsome young man we've raised."

"She thought, too, of how the night before Dad had told his wide-eyed youngster how he must behave and mind the teacher and eat all his lunch and not get into fights but not to dare back out of a fight and all the things he could read in just a little while. And how nice they had thought it would be for him to be able to read to other little ones.

"Only a few seconds ago, he had spotted a small friend, had waved and screamed a greeting--to his Mother's dismay--and had dashed from the car to join the happy throng of small ones for a day of days.

"And only a few seconds ago, Mama had smoothed the cowlick for the last time and carefully placed the cap which had been left off until their arrival at school. The cap, she had thought, didn't quite fit, but then Lord knows it wouldn't be on long if she knew her boy.

"And she was right. There it was - just a few seconds later, lying there in the middle of the road. And she thought abstractedly, as she slowly picked it up from the dust, that she'd never get the stains out--for the realization hadn't yet fully penetrated her numbed mind.

"And she thought, "Why is that man looking so shocked? It isn't real, after all. It can't be!"

"For there he was, still as handsome as ever, she thought, the lunch pail, it's true, could never be repaired. But it couldn't be true, she thought...for, only a few seconds ago....

"But just a second or so ago, she hadn't seen the car--with the now-shocked looking young man on his way and late to work. And only a few seconds ago her boy--their first--had been on his way to school, but now--only a few seconds later--he would never even get spanked for bad grades or not eating all his lunch--nor even for fighting.

"It was the end of school already."

First school established at Verand

BY RENE CALCOTE

Its that time again! Children are retrieved and mothers are relieved! School days!

Early Schleicher County students welcomed the beginning of school, it meant less hours spent working in the field, pasture, or around the house. It was a lot easier to sit in a classroom all day.

The first public school was established in 1894 at Verand, later this one room structure was moved to Eldorado. It was where City Hall is now.

It was necessary to establish small rural schools in the early 1900's. Transportation was not available for the students to travel into Eldorado every day and most students walked, rode horses or rode in buggies to these rural area schools. The classes were abreast of the times and they offered the conventional curriculum or rural schools prescribed by the State Department of Education.

These rural schools were Mayer No. 1, Mayer No. 2, Adams, Lofton, Cliff, Bailey

Ranch and Raffin.

One of these schools, Bailey Ranch, consisted of a large one room wooden frame building which served as a rural church as well as classroom. It was named in honor of Bob Bailey, who originally owned the ranch on which it was built.

The first teacher at Bailey Ranch school was Susie Gibson. Other teachers were Pearl Bailey, Clarence Womack, Ellen Stroud, Tom Murry, Rosa Canova, Maggie Hogan and Lodice Putman.

The site of the first building was donated by Frank Spencer, located three miles south and six miles west of Eldorado.

Peyton Cain described Bailey Ranch school as follows: "The Bailey Ranch community was composed of fine people. Many new settlers. The community was progressive, forward, unified and free from prejudice and community troubles. The hospitality was typically western and the spirit was superior. The library was well equipped. The

Benefit Bullride slated

A benefit bull riding will be held September 18 in Christoval, on the river, with proceeds going to Michael Phillips of Eldorado.

Phillips was injured in Idalou when a bull stepped on his face shattering both cheek bones and breaking other bones in his face. He was in plastic surgery eight hours to rebuild his face, including the implant of plates and screws.

He is recovering at home now but faces more surgery ahead. He is the son of Bobby and Mildred Phillips of Eldorado.

Proceeds from the benefit will go to help defray some of the hospital and out-of-hospital bills. A fund is set up at First National Bank of Eldorado for donations.

Gates open at 4 p.m. September 18. Introduction of bull riders will be at 5 and the main event starts at 6 p.m. Stock is being furnished by Steve Powers. A buckle will be awarded to the winner.

Admission is $5 at the gate and includes the bull riding and the dance. The dance will be from 8 p.m. to 12 midnight on the slab. Music will be provided by "The Intentions" from Lubbock.

Concessions will be available including drinks and barbecue. KBIL radio will broadcast live from 5:30 to 9:30 p.m. There will be special attractions for the kids.

Books open September 14 and close at 4 p.m. The first 50 that call will be entered. Entry fee is $60. Call 915-658-4936 to enter or to obtain information.

Texas makes strong recovery

State Comptroller Bob Bullock Friday said Texas government will end its fiscal year next week in the black for the first time in two years.

"When the state closes its books on the 1988 fiscal year on August 31, we'll be ahead by nearly $100 million, and that's a sure sign the Texas economy is rebounding," Bullock said.

Last year at this time, the state was in the hole $745 million. At the end of 1986, the balance in the General Revenue Fund was a minus $231 million.

Bullock made the announcement at the West Texas Council of the Texas Chamber of Commerce's mid-year meeting Friday morning in Abilene.

The dramatic turnaround from a large deficit to a positive balance in just one year is further evidence of Texas' strong economic recovery, Bullock said.

He said that state income from sales taxes, motor fuels, insurance, oil and natural gas and the franchise tax are all better than expected.

"It's another clear indication that the Texas economy bottomed out in the spring of 1987 and is in a sustainable recovery," Bullock said.

"Texas manufacturing is coming back because of the lower value of the dollar and increasing competitiveness of U.S. exports. Consumer spending is being buoyed by confidence that the recession brought about by the collapse of oil and real estate speculation is over and that better times are ahead," Bullock added.

Bullock said that in June he raised his revenue estimate of 1988 major fund revenues by $319 million in anticipation of the economic improvement, but "the economy's performance has even exceeded our expectations."

Bullock's early revenue estimate for the 1990-91 state budget shows projected state income for the next session of the Legislature will be enough to cover the cost of state services at the current level for the first time in five years.

school program was conventional, but elastic. Great freedom was allowed, and modern methods were used by the teachers."

In 1946, six of the seven common school districts of the county were annexed to the Eldorado Independent District. Lofton was the last district to annex but in 1948 it was added to Eldorado District and this made Eldorado one unified school district for all Schleicher County.

These rural schools are a thing of the past era but are fondly remembered by old timers recalling the good old days of being young and sharing school day memories with a small, warm group of fellow students.

Events Calendar released

A new, expanded Texas Events Calendar has just been released by the State Department of Highways and Public Transportation. The information-packed pamphlet, covering the months of September, October, and November, lists more than 1,000 ways Texans have fun in fall.

In September, dozens of communities commemorate the state's rich Hispanic heritage as they honor Mexican independence day. In October, German heritage reigns with Oktoberfest celebrations planned throughout the state.

Texans celebrate the season and the official state dish with nearly 30 chili cookoffs, including the State Championship in San Marcos and the International Championship in Terlingua. Others vie for titles at the State Championship Pinto Bean Cook-off in Ballinger, the State Championship Kolache Bake Show in Caldwell, and the World Championship Barbecued Goat Cook-off in Brady.

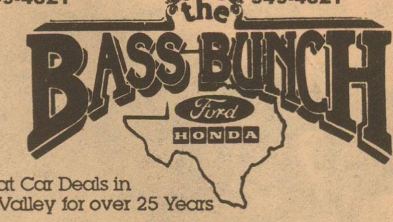

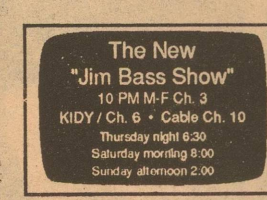

The Desert Regatta in El Paso entertains visitors with dry-land boat races. While in Jollyville, folks celebrate the end of the chigger season with a musical festival.

BY THOMAS GIOVANNITTI

Annamarie Giovannitti starts her first day of school today. I am anxious to hear from her how the day went. I am not so sure I want to hear from her teacher how her day went.

My boys, although they don't dislike school, were and are better at vacation. Neither Mario or Nicolas were too excited about starting school. Annamarie, on the other hand has been interested in going to school since she was three.

She seems so small but she does not seem intimidated by the idea. On Tuesday she was up, early for her, and immediately wanted to know if this was the first day of school. Annamarie can already print her name, with a little help sometimes, and she is eager to learn more. If you'll take a close look at her full name you can see it is no mean trick to have learned those two names at such an early age.

I have to admit that, with the boys, I pretty much knew what they would like and not like about school. I also was fairly sure of what sort of problems they would encounter, but with Annamarie I am a little less sure.

She already seems, to me at least, to be a little too articulate for a kindergartner. I have no allusions that she is any more intelligent or quick than any of the other kids that are entering with her, I just know she is a whole lot more aware of social interaction and readiness in general than the two boys were.

Since I have to write this a few days before she has gone to her first day I'll have to wait to see her reaction.

Maybe I've become a slightly better parent. What I mean is maybe it was not that my sons were less aware, maybe I was less sensitive to them and their reactions to their first encounters with the world outside their home and family.

Annamarie, I hope, will enjoy school, learn to cooperate with others, although she is not now uncooperative with us. Getting along well with others is something the boys do well. Annamarie seems to be a little more selective as with whom it is that she gets along. Of course, I hope one of those people she wants to get along with is her teacher. It sure will make my life easier and her's also.

With my youngest child finally in school I can see the "Light at the end of the tunnel" and aside from a few usual traumas, I hope her school days will be days she can remember with fondness. Do me a favor, though, drive carefully if you see her and her big brother walking home.

Cancer detection unit here soon

According to the American Cancer Society, one out of ten women in the United States will develop breast cancer sometime in her lifetime. It is currently estimated that over 37,000 women died each year as the result of breast cancer.

Ninety percent of breast cancers are diagnosed by women or their physicians finding a lump in the breast. Women who are diagnosed with a lump large enough to feel have a 50 percent five year survival rate. A woman who is diagnosed as having breast cancer by mammography, before a lump can be felt, has a 97 percent five year survival rate and a 90 percent 10 year survival rate.

The Mobile Breast Cancer Detection Unit will be in Eldorado on Friday, September 16. Appointments may be made by calling 853-2507.

The American Cancer Society has established guidelines for mammography in asymptomatic women. (Women who have no symptoms of disease.) Those guidelines have been adopted by the American Academy of Family Physicians, American College of Obstetricians and Gynecologists, and The American College of Radiology. Those guidelines are:

1. 35-40 years of age - one baseline mammogram.
2. 40-50 years of age - a mammogram every 1-2 years depending on breast type and risk factor.
3. 50 years of age and over - an annual physical examination and annual mammogram.
4. Asymptomatic women under 50 years of age with significant high risk factors should be examined at appropriate intervals. These risk factors include previous breast cancer and family history of cancer.

5. A symptomatic woman should have a mammogram at any age when she experiences a mass, nipple discharge, skin changes or unexplained breast pain.

A screening mammogram is an x-ray of the breast using extremely low dosages of radiation (usually comparable to dental x-rays) and is designed to find very early cancers.

A female technologist who is highly trained in mammography will perform the examination.

The charge for the screening mammogram is $50. The Unit accepts cash, check, Visa, Mastercard and American Express.

NOTICE OF PUBLIC HEARING ON TAX INCREASE

SCHLEICHER COUNTY
The (HOSPITAL DISTRICT) will hold a public hearing on a proposal to increase total tax revenues from properties on the tax roll in (1987) by (7.99%)

() percent. Your individual taxes may increase or decrease, depending on the change in the taxable value of your property in relation to the change in the taxable value of all other property.

The public hearing will be held on (SEPTEMBER 8, 1988) at (BOARD ROOM).

7:00 PM
FOR the proposal: William Edmiston, Penny Bland, Floyd Butler, William Dakan, Jerry Jones, Hyman Sauer, Pam White

AGAINST the proposal: None

PRESENT and not voting: None

ABSENT: None

(Names of all members of the governing body, showing how each voted on the proposal to consider the tax increase and, if one or more were absent, indicating the absences.)

The statement above shows the percentage increase the proposed rate represents over the (EFFECTIVE) tax rate that the unit published on (AUGUST 4, 1988). The following table compares taxes on an average home in this taxing unit last year to taxes proposed on the average home this year. Again, your individual taxes may be higher or lower, depending on the taxable value of your property.

	Last Year	This Year
Average home value	$ 17,707	$ 17,918
General exemptions available (amount available on the average home, not including senior citizen's or disabled person's exemptions)	-0-	-0-
Average taxable value	$ 17,707	$ 17,918
Tax rate	$ 0.32	$ 0.3486 (proposed)
Tax	$ 56.66	$ 62.46 (proposed)

Under this proposal taxes on the average home would (INCREASE) by $ (5.80) or (10.24%) percent compared with last year's taxes.

Comparing tax rates without adjusting for changes in property value, the tax rate would (INCREASE) by $ (0.0286) per $100 of taxable value or (8.94%) percent compared to last year's tax rate. These tax rate figures are not adjusted for changes in the taxable value of property.

Otwell receives Doctorate

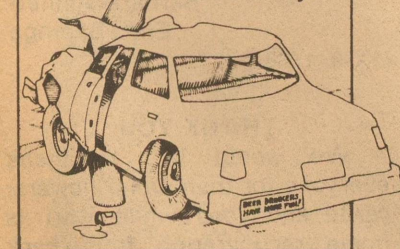

Adonna Otwell, sister of Reverend Ken Otwell, pastor of Agape Assembly of God Church in Eldorado, received a Doctorate in Education from East Texas State University, Commerce, on August 19.

Her dissertation was entitled, 'The Possible Predictive Efforts of Religious Beliefs, Locus of Control, and Certain Demographic Variables on Academic Achievement.' The study was conducted with a group of college freshmen, and a conclusion of the study was that strong religious beliefs among students, as measured by the McLean Religious Inventory, are predictive of high academic achievement.

Adonna, nominated by the chairman of the Secondary and Higher Education Department, was inducted into Kappa Delta Pi, an international honor society in education.

Adonna is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Delbert L. Otwell of De Leon and is currently a professor at Southwestern Assemblies of God College, Waxahatchie.

begin at 6 p.m. and the roping at 7. Entry fee for three head will be $30.

Sunday, September 4, the Kimble County Museum will be open to the public from 2 to 5 p.m. There is no admission. Special exhibits are scheduled. Refreshments will be served that afternoon. To always slow down in school zones.

To drive with extra caution, and be prepared to stop when you see children ahead.

To remember to slow down in residential districts, even away from school zones, during the hours when children are on their way to and from school.

To expect the unexpected and regard every child near the curb as a human caution sign.

To form the habit of walking around your car each time before you back out of a driveway, and then back only when you are certain that no children are behind.

To allow plenty of room for bicycles.

YOUR PET'S HEALTH

Your Dog:
The Skin He's In

Lhaso Apso

Flea alert! Fighting your pet's fleas can really get under your skin. Those pesky pests can do a great deal of damage to your pet's skin as well.

If your dog has been scratching lately, dragging her hind quarters on the carpet or ground, or if you notice a strong body odor, then your dog may have Flea Allergy Dermatitis (F.A.D.). This is an allergic reaction caused by a toxic chemical in the flea's saliva. Not all dogs suffer from F.A.D., but many do.

To help soothe the itching of Flea Allergy Dermatitis, use a product such as Sulfodene® Medication. It has antiseptic properties and aids in the natural healing of skin problems often caused by F.A.D. Take your dog to the vet to learn what else can be done to control this uncomfortable and potentially serious condition.

For an informative free booklet on Fighting the Flea, write to The Sulfodene/Scratchex Pet Skin Care Center, P.O. Box 328 MC, White Plains, NY 10602.
