The flooring is of hardware cloth which makes it more sanitary for the chicks. The brooder has attached a four foot long sun porch which has a covering and flooring of hardware cloth. The porch is used by the chicks when it is warm enough for them to be in the sun.

This brooder is large enough to care for 100 to 125 baby chicks. The cost included 83c for hardware cloth, 15c for stripping and 50c for used lumber.

Sonny Stanford, 11-year-old 4-H Club boy took top money prizes and the blue ribbon for exhibiting champion lamb of the show as Schleicher County 4-H club and FFA boys displayed their animals in the 10th annual event here Saturday. The animals were bred by S. L. Stanford and Son.

Lawhon Jack Montgomery, the only FFA boy to show in the top three places of this event, won third place in ribbon and money honors of $9, showing an animal bred by B. Montgomery.

David Williams, feeder of the 1938 grand champion lamb at the Houston Stock Show, which sold for $6.50 per pound, earned eighth place money of $8 and tenth place in ribbon awards in the singles class. Williams showed sheep bred by Jess Koy. Dick Lawhon bred the Houston champion, however.

Gerald Nicks, another outstanding young feeder who showed the 1938 San Angelo Fat Stock Show champion which sold for $3 per pound, won 16th place money of $2 in the show. Nicks also showed a lamb bred by Jess Koy.

Judges for the show were Roy W. Snyder, supervisor of specialists' work of the Extension Service, who judged fine wool lambs; W. I. Marshall, Tom Green County Agent, who judged breeding animals and beef; and Clay Atkinson, Sutton County Agent who judged the pig event.

W. G. Godwin, Schleicher County agent, who sponsored the 4-H Club, and E. O. "How Dare You" To Be Presented

"How Dare You!", the Senior play, will be presented Friday night, February 24, at 8:00 in the High School Auditorium. The cast, composed of seven boys and six girls under the direction of T. D. Riddle, has been working constantly and diligently for the past three weeks.

Presenting the play at this time has meant much hard work for sponsor and seniors. The chosen date is the only available one for several weeks since so many of the boys are to be gone on week-ends to the Stock Shows with their V. A. projects. We hope that the community will honor the departing students by attending their last class play in Eldorado High School. The admission charges will be 15c for students and 35c for adults.

The stage has been remodeled and now very beautiful with new blue curtains. This will add very much to the play, since a pretty background makes a very nice impression. The P. T. A. has made this possible and the Senior Class, as well as the entire school, is very grateful and appreciative.

Eat More Lamb Drive Here Is Big Success

Large attendance, in spite of the rainy weather was present in the District Court Room, when Roy W. Snyder, Supervisor of Specialist, Extension Service, gave a meat cutting demonstration showing the various cuts of lamb. Mr. Snyder stated that the lamb that he gave his demonstration with, was one of the best carcasses that he had ever had the privilege of seeing and using in a meat cutting demonstration.

After the meat cutting demonstration Miss Margaret Stewart gave a meat cookery school in which each cut of meat from a lamb was cooked. Tables were set and various foods exhibited with the cooked cuts of lamb, to show best what should be served with lamb.

Schleicher Boys To Exhibit Lambs At State Shows

Sonny Stanford, David and Harold Williams will exhibit their fat fine wool lambs in the South Western Texas 4-H Club show at San Antonio, according to County Agent W. G. Godwin. They have gone to that city with their animals and will show there this week.

Lambs fed by Cecil (Pinky) Moore, Gerald Nicks, David Dewey and James Griffin were taken to Houston Tuesday to be entered in the lamb show beginning Saturday February 25 and continuing through March 1.

Moore will show lambs of both club and singles in open class, including the group of three shown in the local show. Places received by Moore's lambs here were second and seventh in the fat lamb singles division and grand champion in the three-animal class.

Nicks, another outstanding feeder who showed the 1938 San Angelo stock show champion, plans on showing the group of three lambs receiving seventh place in the show here Saturday. There will be sufficient lambs to enter all the classes of fat fine wool lambs that the show will offer.

There will be entries of 35 4-H lambs and 35 FFA lambs at San Angelo. 176 4-H Lambs and 10 FFA lambs at Fort Worth.

Changes In Deferred Grazing Practice

It is expected that in connection set up a list of additional practice, the county committee will set up a list of additional practices or specifications other than those for which specific payment is made which should be carried on ranch land in the county. If the county committee determines that for the deferred grazing to be effective in re-seeding the deferred land one or more of such additional practices should be carried out, they will after consultation with individual ranch operators designate such practices. Where the ranch operator carries out the additional practices recommended by the County Committee, the payment for deferred grazing on 25 percent of rangeland on the ranch will be 60 percent of the range-building allowance. On those ranches for which additional practices are designated by the County Committee but are not carried out the ranch operator will receive 40 percent of the range-building allowance for carrying out the deferred grazing practice.

If the County Committee fails to set up additional specifications, either for the county as a whole or for individual ranches in the county, taking the position that no additional specifications are necessary, all such ranch operators may earn only 40 percent of the range-building allowance by the practice of deferred grazing.

The question has arisen as to whether the county committee may require an additional practice or specification designated in connection with deferred grazing to be carried out on an entire ranch rather than on only the acreage of range land deferred from grazing. This question has been raised particularly with re-

A franchise for distribution and sale of natural gas in Eldorado was granted to the Cooper Gas Company Monday, by the City Council in a called session. It was announced this week by Mayor A. T. Wright.

After a 60-day period, to be used in making a survey of the city, the gas company is to indicate intentions as to whether a distribution system is to be built and gas piped here from the Cooper Gas Co. wells in the Page ranch.

Present at the council meeting were Mayor A. T. Wright, and Alderman Leslie L. Baker, A. J. Roach, W. D. Gregory and Ray Jones, and City Secretary A. J. Atkins.

Cooper Gas Co. was represented by John M. Cooper and George D. Morgan of San Angelo.

Construction of the Eldorado municipal water and sewage system is nearing completion, according to Mayor Wright. About two weeks of work will be required for the completion of the system and after approval it will be connected with the old water works.

Construction of the system has been underway for approximately four months. A water and sewage system will serve the business district and almost every residential section of the city. A new deep well has been dug, furnishing the city with adequate water supply. Fire hydrants have been placed at various points, affording greater fire protection.

The construction of the municipal water and sewage system is one of the major steps taken for the development of Eldorado in recent years. This added convenience and protection to property owners of the city, established Eldorado as a progressive and growing community.

Utilities Co. Will Untangle Boy's Kites

The approach of kite-flying days has prompted the West Texas Utilities Company to invite youngsters hereabouts to notify the local office in order to prevent possible accidents resulting from entangled kite strings in electric line wires.

"We remember when we used to fly kites," said Jerry Pennington, local manager for the company, "and we're willing to do the work when it comes to rescuing a kite from light and power poles or lines."

He urged that boys notify the local office in event their kites become entangled so that an experienced pole-climber can help get it down.

"The safest thing," he said, "is not to fly kites near the lines due to the danger of contact with current. We are anxious to prevent possible tragedy from interfering with the fun of flying a kite."

FAKE PRIZE SCHEMES

A rather ancient scheme for separating the unwary from their money is being worked again, both in the United States and Canada, according to a leading business men's magazine.

The plan is to insert an advertisement containing a perfectly simple puzzle which anyone can easily solve, and offer prizes for correct solutions. A favorite prize is a "buildinglot."

Of course anyone who sends in a solution of the puzzle wins a lot, but he is informed that he will be expected to remit a small sum—in one case $7.75—for the deed and other incidental transfer of the property. The "lot" is very small and the $7.75 fees alone would net the seller around $200 an acre for some worthless land.

So, if the "winner" swallows the bait he is out just $7.75 for the privilege of working the puzzle, while his name is passed along to swindlers as that of an easy mark to be added to the "sucher list."

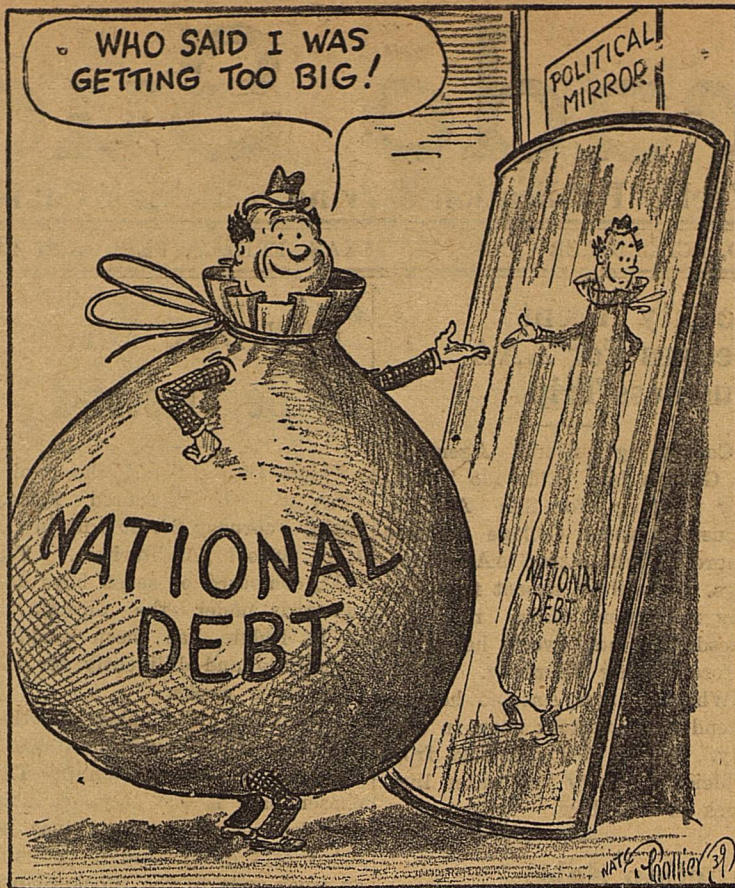

There are many perfectly legitimate prize offers advertised in various periodicals, but those which require a payment of cash before the prize is delivered are generally fraudulent and should be shunned.

WHAT KILLED IDA?

When Ida, a famous ostrich of the London Zoo, passed away some time ago, to the grief of all who knew her, there was much speculation as to the cause of her untimely death. To try to determine the matter, a post mortem examination was held, according to the Associated Press, which reports that the following assortment of material was found in her ample gizzard:

"Two women's handkerchiefs a man's handkerchief three gloves, three feet of cord, an empty film spool, a four-inch nail, an eight-inch lead-pencil, four half-pennies, two farthings and a French coin, part of a celluloid comb, part of a rolled gold necklace, a collar button, a bicycle-tire valve, a brass winding key for an alarm clock, a dozen bits of wire,

ONE WAY OF LOOKING AT IT

Nobody's Business

By Julian C. Capers

AUSTIN—A quick funeral with few mourners, was being prepared this week for the O'Daniel transaction tax scheme, as the House committee on taxation and revenue, finished with its public hearings on the Townsend-inspired plan submitted by the Governor, prepared to take up sales tax natural resource tax bills, in the order named.

By common consent, it was agreed the transaction tax got nowhere at the hearings. Its only backers were a motley crew of men, women and children, numbering about 200, who were herded together by professional pension advocates, and marched to the capitol carrying banners. Half a dozen Townsendite professional organizers, and promoters of rival pension organizations, appeared, and endorsed the O'Daniel bill. Most of them admitted they had never read it.

Meanwhile, under way in both metal staples, screws, small nails, and copper rivets, glove fastener and a piece of wood four inches long.

The dispatch did not disclose just what the verdict was, but a mere layman might venture the thought that Ida had suffered from something akin to indigestion.

houses was a movement by conservative leaders, to get at the social security program sensibly, by enacting legislation liberalizing the pension law somewhat, and defining "need" in definite terms. Then, accurate estimates will be made to determine the cost of pensions and other phases of social security. The next step will be, if the plan of this group works out, to attack the problems of raising whatever additional revenue is needed, but with definite knowledge of how much. Efforts also were scheduled to combine the social security program with a better governmental set up. Some leaders were hopeful of divorcing specific functions, such as pensions, from certain individual tax sources, and getting all but the constitutional allocations of income into a general fund, from which appropriations would be made to each governmental department or function. That is an ambitious program, but one on which the governor and many legislators are thoroughly agreed. So there is some hope of achievement.

Progress Is Being Made

Despite disagreement between the solons and the governor over appointments, evidenced when six East Texas Senators spent a morning rapping vigorously the nomination of J. C. Hunter of Abilene, as highway commissioner, and other minor issues, both houses are showing a willingness to work with the Governor on constructive matters, and virtually every such suggestion made by O'Daniel has received ready cooperation in the Legislative halls. Evidences are O'Daniel's recommendation for a better budgetary system, for an auditor controlled by the Legislature, for elimination of the Tax Commissioners' office, and similar recommendations.

Led by Will Pace, spokesman for the East Texas group, six senators voiced their opposition to naming Hunter or any other West Texan to the Highway Commission. They included Joe Hill, Clay Cotten, John Redditt, Allen Shivers and Gordon Burns. Conviction of Hunter—not because of any question of his integrity or ability, but because the East Texas group seeks to preserve the geographical division of the commission which has been in effect ever since it was created—seemed doubtful at the weekend. Pace and Redditt related a hotel conference to which they were asked by Carr P. Collins, rejected highway commission nominee, a few days previous to the nomination of Hunter. They declared Collins urged them to reconsider his own nomination, and threatened that if they did not, "they would get a man from West Texas." The Senate fiercely resents any attempt by an outsider to dictate to or intimidate its members, and Collins' threat may cause rejection of Hunter.

Diversion Grab Rapped

The scheme of some County Judges to divert gasoline tax money to pay off millions of "dead horse" county lateral road bonds, scheduled for a showdown this week, was given a severe setback when Thomas E. McDonald, chief of the U. S. Bureau of Good Roads, wired Alfred Petsch, opponent of the bill that the diversion contemplated by the bill would draw a penalty of $4,000,000 which would be withheld from the State's federal highway allocation of about $12,250,000 annually. The bill is being actively opposed by the Texas Good Roads Association, headed by Lowry Martin, Corsicana publishers, and the Federal ruling was regarded as its probable death knell, as numerous members of both houses expressed an unwillingness to do anything that would jeopardize the State's allocations of Federal road-building money.

Lobby gossip in Austin credited certain speculators as being the real behind-the-scenes backers of the measure. It was asserted they have bought up millions of dollars of depreciated county bonds, well in advance of the session, and that they already have made substantial profits as prices of many county bonds have gone up on the prospect of the State's credit backing them, as provided in the bill. Unfair distribution of the benefits, as shown by an analysis proving that 29 counties would get 56 percent of the benefit, while ten counties would receive nine at all and all of the remaining 216 counties only 44 percent.

Mexican Oil Seizure Rapped
Charging that the Mexican government is threatening the Texas oil market by bartering oil from seized American and British wells to Germany and Italy, and by shipping oil into Texas, a resolution by Rep. Travis Dean, urging the Federal Government to insist upon fair and prompt payment of the seized oil properties, quickly passed the House this week. Dean also is author of a bill to tax all oil imported into Texas from other states or foreign countries, where a severance tax of less than that charged in Texas, has been paid at the point of origin. This bill also is intended to halt the flow of Mexican oil, into Texas, where much of it has been processed and re-exported in recent months.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Powell of Ozona visited her parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Parks, last week end. Maurine Parks returned home with them to spend this week.

An excellent way to use bits of lamb left over from previous meals was demonstrated by Margaret Stewart in the district court room last Saturday. The dish looked so appetizing that one feels obligated to pass the recipe on to those of you who were unable to attend the demonstration. Line a casserole with cooked rice. Mix two cups chopped lamb and one half cup bread crumbs. Break one egg, beat slightly and add to other ingredients. Add to this mixture about one fourth teaspoon salt, one eighth tsp celery salt, dash of paprika and a bit of milk to moisten. Pour into casserole dish, cover lightly with some more rice, dot with butter and bake 45 minutes in a shallow pan of water.

Other dishes prepared by her that morning were rolled shoulder, crown roast, leg of lamb and lamb chops, dishes that make one see lamb and its possibilities in the diet in a new light.

STOCK SHOW WILL HONOR HER

Miss Smith is a student at the University of Texas but finds time from her studies to attend to her own ranching business. She will hold a spotlight position at the world championship rodeo and horse show in Fort Worth. Several social functions will be held for the girls during the stock show.

FIRST METHODIST CHURCH

"Unto Him that loved us."—Revelation 1:5

When Christ set out for His journey of redemption, He did not take the thunders of the almighty power or fire to destroy He took that which only heaven can give—LOVE. Knowing that He would not get much love in this world, He dipped His almighty heart in love, because He can not make the journey without it. This stream of love flows from the throne of eternity deep, broad and wide and the souls of sinners are saved and made white in the blood of our Christ. He offers Himself to every sinner and promises to make him a king with a kingdom in his heart and soul—the promised land.

ONE THING And
THEN ANOTHER
By Fred Gipson

CORPUS CHRISTI—Lately, I've been torturing myself and our household with getting-up exercises.

A physical culture magazine I read is responsible. I ran out of shoot 'em-up westerns and just had to have something to read to off the time and keep from worrying myself sick about all this money I don't have. And in that magazine was an article about how to recognize symptoms of a body going to seed.

And though I'd been feeling fit as a fiddle singing at a barn dance ever since I quit my flu bed a couple of weeks ago, I immediately upon reading that article, found myself, short of breath, creaky of joint, sallow-skinned, with a coated tongue, little itchy places all over me, not to mention odd little pains that stabbed at various parts of my anatomy.

Whereupon, I thought: "Fred, if you don't get some of that old rich Gipson blood stirred up and pulsating through your body again, you'll soon be just an inert lump of senseless nothing, fuzzy with mold and sprouting ferns and things around the edges."

So I began to exercise, never letting the sun get more than a couple of hours high in the mornings, before I leaped from my bed and started going through all the motions of a naked swimmer who's accidentally bumped into a black wasp nest.

But it was no go. And I'm already about to quit.

To begin with, the good wives in the neighborhood began shaking pitying heads at one another across backyard fences, exclaiming what a shame it was that one of my poor looks and so-evident lack of possibilities should also be afflicted with the St. Vitus Dance. Then, too, I began crippling myself and breaking up the landlady's furniture.

I'd get on my toes and squat and rise and bring my arms about and take deep breaths, saying "One, two! One, two!" in the approved getting-up exercise form. But on about the third count, smash would go a reading lamp to the middle of the floor, while I grabbed at a peeled elbow and danced in painful dizzy circles about the room, until a big toe connected with a table leg and the table toppled over and I turned loose my peeled elbow to grab my toe and sit in the floor and hold it awhile.

I don't think an architect ever lived who could design a room that I could take exercises in.

The trouble is, I find, that I have an uncontrollable tendency to list and creep to one side in my exercising. You know, like some automobiles you see that keep trying to pull off the road. I once rode a horse like that.

I discovered this listing by getting out in the middle of the floor and taking measurements. Any object within a 10-foot radius of my starting point will be assaulted by some part of my exercising. I haven't got around to working out the exact ration yet.

My landlady, however, has had time to make out a list of goods damaged and destroyed and the amount of cold, hard cash necessary to replace them.

- 2 plaster-of-paris bookends $4.00
- 1 bottle of ink " 15
- 1 bottle of ink remover 1.00
- 1 reading lamp 3.00
- 7 lamp bulbs 1.75
- Repairs on table 1.00
- 2 ash trays .70
- 3 bed slats 1.05
- 1 chair 5.00
- 5 window panes 5.00
- Total Too Much

It would require no expert accountant to look over that bill and tell that I can't pay it. It would require no medical specialist to look over the numberless bruises and abrasions and contusions and incisions that mar the beauty and proper functioning of my body to tell that I've got to stop exercising if I want to keep my health.

The only trouble is that article I read. It's still on my mind.

I thought once of going outside to do my getting-up workout every morning. But just the other day, I crawled over the backyard fence to snitch a little kindling wood for the fireplace and was seen in my disreputable state of disrobement, and now every inmate of our happy home is ruined, socially speaking, in spite of the fact that I'm known to be afflicted with the St. Vitus Dance and shouldn't be held responsible for what anti-social acts I perform.

Altogether, I've become so discouraged that I'm now lying flat of my back in bed and doing what exercises I can from that position. But I find that so conducive to returning to sleep that the last two mornings I've barely stretched a muscle—just enough to turn over so the sun won't shine in my eyes.

I hope to forget what I read in that magazine before much longer and return to my normal state of perpetual hibernation.

Big, healthy robust people appeal to me, but I don't see any chance of my ever becoming one of them.

IT'S A HIT! The NEW

Firestone

CHAMPION TIRE

Because IT'S THE ONLY TIRE MADE WITH THE NEW

SAFETY-LOCK CORD BODY and GEAR-GRIP TREAD

CAR OWNERS everywhere are acclaiming the extra blowout protection and non-skid safety of the new Firestone Champion Tire. And automobile manufacturers, knowing its outstanding performance, have adopted it for their new 1939 models. On every hand you hear, "It's the most effective tire we have ever had on wet pavement and in mud and snow!" It's the hit of 1939!

The Firestone Champion Tire is a completely new achievement in safety engineering and the result of a new and revolutionary means of locking greater safety into the cord body of a tire. This is accomplished first, by the use of a new type of tire cord called "Safety-Lock," in which the cotton fibers are more compactly interwoven to give greater strength. And then the fibers in each individual cord, the cords in each ply and the plies themselves are all securely locked together by a new and advanced Firestone process of Gum-Dipping, which provides amazingly greater strength—and greater strength means greater safety.

The new Safety-Lock cord construction gives the added strength that makes possible the use of the new thicker, tougher, deeper Firestone Gear-Grip Tread, which provides remarkably longer non-skid mileage. This sensational new tread is called "Gear-Grip" because of its unique design which has more than three thousand sharp-edged angles that grip the road with a sure-footed hold to protect against skidding and to assure a safe stop.

Come in today and equip your car with a set of new Firestone Champion Tires, the only tires made that are safety-proved on the speedway for your protection on the highway.

AB JENKINS
World's Safest Driver
Ab Jenkins, holder of 87 world records for safety, speed and endurance, who has driven more than a million and a half miles on Firestone Gum-Dipped Tires without an accident, says, "On the speedway or on the highway, I insist upon the extra safety of Firestone Gum-Dipped Tires on my cars."

Feed Loans Are Being Received

Applications for emergency crop and feed loans for 1939 are now being received at W. N. Ramsey Office, by J. C. Hunnicutt, Field Supervisor of the Emergency Crop and Feed Loan Section of the Farm Credit Administration.

Farmers who can obtain the funds they need from an individual, production credit association, bank, or other concern are not eligible for crop and feed loans from the Emergency Crop
