

On The DIVIDE

Schleicher County young feeders returned Wednesday from Ft. Worth after having won $382 prize money and first premium in the fat fine wool carload division which also competed with all other 4-H carloads and won the championship.

The Fort Worth Show winds up a busy season for the local lads. Entries from the county won this year at San Antonio, Houston, San Angelo and Fort Worth.

The young feeders of Schleicher county have again upheld their established reputation as Lamb feeders. With the raising of sheep the county's chief industry, this is, indeed, a record of which every citizen, business man and rancher is justly proud. The boys have determined to do even better next year which assures us that Schleicher county will continue to be among prize winners at all the major state shows.

New Refrigerator To Be Shown Here By W. T. Utilities

Women no longer need to cover cooked foods placed in the refrigerator, according to Jerry Pennington, local manager of the West Texas Utilities Company, who said an outstanding scientific and engineering improvement had been added to the 1939 Frigidaire which will be introduced to the public here at a 'premier showing' scheduled on March 21 and 22.

The new 1939 'Cold-Wall' model Frigidaire represents a unique application of a scientific principle, provides uniform low temperatures, very high humidity, and eliminates moisture-robbing air circulation.

These three important factors have been added without adding a single moving part to the mechanism," Mr. Pennington said. Foods are kept naturally moist and vitally fresh longer than ever before, and without a cover of any kind, because these three factors are utilized in combination.

With the Cold-Wall model comes the first radical change in basic design since the first electric household refrigerator was placed on the market, he pointed out.

"Actually," he declared, Cold walls of the cabinet play a dominating part in the protection of foods. The lower half of the cabinet is cooled by concealed coils within three walls of the refrigerator. The upper portion is separated from the lower portion by a solid glass shelf. In this upper section, cold air is permitted to circulate from a standard freezer unit. This, scientists say, is best for foods placed in containers or those not affected by air circulation. 105 Sign Gas Contract In Survey Here

A total of 105 citizens of Eldorado signed agreements to use natural gas if and when made available here in a survey of the city last week.

F. A. Hornaday, Jr., representative of the Rio Gas and Power Company of San Antonio was in the city several days last week in charge of the survey. He left here Friday for Ozona where a similar survey is now underway.

The number of potential gas users has not yet reached the minimum set by the company, the goal being set at 200, Mr. Hornaday stated before leaving Friday.

Additional citizens who contemplate the use of the gas may get in touch with Robert Page of the West Texas Lumber Company Mr. Hornaday stated.

Definite word regarding the company's plans will be received in the next few weeks, Mr. Page stated Thursday.

According to recent experiments, consciousness is simply a small increase in the electrical potential of the brain.

Over 100 visited Opening Of New Homes

More than a hundred visitors attended the formal opening of the Cameron Demonstration home, the home of Mr. and Mrs. Cicero H. Smith, here Sunday afternoon, it was announced this week by Mr. Smith.

The home was open from 1:00 to 6:00 p. m. Sunday in order that the people of the community could have an opportunity to examine various modern construction features of the attractive five-room dwelling completed two weeks ago.

Those who visited the home were all favorably impressed with the arrangement, convenient and improved features," Mr. Smith remarked.

Waterworks Is Completed Ahead Of Schedule

Construction of the Eldorado waterworks and sewer system has been completed about two months ahead of the contract time, Van Zandt Beall, traveling engineer of the Public Works Administration said while in Eldorado on a tour of inspection this week. The $80,000 project is being financed by a PWA grant of $36,000, and has given employment to an average of sixty men in Eldorado since the first of November.

Mr. Beall was accompanied over the project by L. L. Winons, PWA Resident engineer inspector.

"This project is an example of the high degree of usefulness which is demanded of all PWA projects," Mr. Beall declared. "Since the beginning of PWA both the President and Administration Ickes have insisted that PWA money be spent only on projects which were both useful and of a permanent character. We confidently expect that water works and sewer system to render many years of service to the city of Eldorado.

"PWA projects not only employ men in the local community but it has been determined that for each hour work provided on the site about two and a half hours work is provided in the mills, mines and transportation of materials," the engineer pointed out.

WEST TEXAS RANCH TALK

Harold Schmidt, president of the Mason County Fair Association, has announced that June 20, 21, and 22 are the date for the annual Mason County Rodeo. The three-day celebration is sponsored by the fair association.

Approximately 140 cars of gypsum were shipped out of Fredericksburg last year—140 cars with an average weight of 110,000 pounds. The gypsum deposit is located about 14 miles from the Stehling place and is to be found from a depth of 12 to 20 feet. The Gillespie gypsum, which is all shipped to a San Antonio cement plant, tests 97 per cent pure. Other than its use in cement, gypsum can be used for plaster of Paris and is said to be good in pulverized form mixed with cattle feed.

A delegation of Junior Chamber of Commerce members will go from Mason to the state convention at Fort Worth on April 28 and 29. Included will be Leroy Eckert, Jim Hatch, Harold Schmidt, Gordon McMillan, and T. A. Milam.

Marsh Lea of Fort Stockton, long-time director of the Texas Sheep and Goat Raisers' Association, has been named a member of the National Wool Growers Association predatory animal committee. The appointment was made by C. B. Hardlaw, president of the Texas Sheep and Goat Raisers' Association, in answer to a request from Roscoe Rich, president of the national organization.

Mohair men attending the quarterly directors' meeting of the Texas Sheep and Goat Raisers' Association at Fredericksburg estimated that there is not more than a million and a quarter pounds of hair left in warehouses of the state. Of this poundage they estimated that little, if any, more than 10 per cent could be bought under 40 cents a pound.

All reports on the 1939 clip are to the effect that goats are shearing from a half to a pound short. The length and the quality is good, warehousemen say, but the total clip will be two to three million pounds light.

Sheep & Goat Men Discuss Legislation At Kerrville Meet

Legislation, favorable and unfavorable, in state and national capitols filled the time given the first quarterly meeting of the year for directors of the Texas Sheep & Goat Raisers' Association at Fredericksburg the last of the week. Government loans on wool and mohair, appropriations for the Livestock Sanitary Commission, A & M College's scouring plant and the Ranch experiment Station budget divided the time with lengthy debate on the truck load limit legislation.

President C. B. (Dutch) Wardlaw of Del Rio introduced Lieutenant Gov. Coke R. Stevenson of Junction, who reviewed legislation at Austin of interest to stockmen. Perpetuation of the Livestock Sanitary Commission as a separate state agency and with adequate appropriations was discussed from the floor and directors voted to employ a representative at Austin in the interests of the commission and the ranchmen.

Directors and their wives were entertained Wednesday evening at a banquet given by the Fredericksburg Chamber of Commerce and Gillespie County directors of the association followed the affair with a dance at the Hotel Nimitz. Adolf Stielor was host. See No. 2 on last page

Two Wrecks Occur Over Week End

Two cars, one local and another from California, figured in wrecks here last Saturday night, with no serious injuries resulting.

A car driven by Harvey Williams, employee at an oil well here, overturned on the highway south of town, said to have been caused by horses on the highway; one of which was killed in the crash. Vernon Gibson is owner of the horses.

Williams was accompanied by Bob Jarvis, also of Eldorado, who received painful cuts on the face. Dr. H. W. Wiedemann, who treated the wounds said no serious injuries were received. Reports were that the car was badly wrecked.

A sport model Buick driven by Harris Adams of California, who had been visiting here, overturned just south of the ball park on the Sonora highway Saturday night. R. H. Blaylock of Schleicher County and a Heflin boy of Sonora were also in the car, but none received injuries. Landing on it's top, the car was demolished.

JOHANN GUTENBERG

The Capital City of Alsace-Lorraine, Strasboury, is preparing to celebrate this summer the 500th anniversary of the birth of printing in Europe and are honoring the memory of Johann Gutenerg, inventor of the printing art. Gutenberg, a German, moved across the Rhine from Mainz, his native town, to Strasboury to begin his experiments in printing. American visitors at the celebration will note a statue of Gutenberg which rises in the public square named after him. About the statue's base is a sculptured allegory showing likenesses of Washington, Jefferson and Franklin, aid depicting "the benefits of printing in America." The figure of the great inventor holds a sheet on which is printed "And There Was Light," signifying no doubt the illuminative knowledge disseminated by the press when that great institution is free and unfettered. This is quite a commentary on the Germany of today in which the press is so effectively censored that only news material favorable to the Nazi regime is allowed to be published. Furthermore, Nazi press censors "edit" the news of the world for German consumption, and a great deal of this material is most misleading if not grossly untrue.

There is a Masonic Lodge in London, Eng., named Johann Gutenberg Lodge No. 5593, the membership being almost exclusively composed of members of the printer's craft employed on practically every London morning and evening journal.

A PERTINENT QUERY

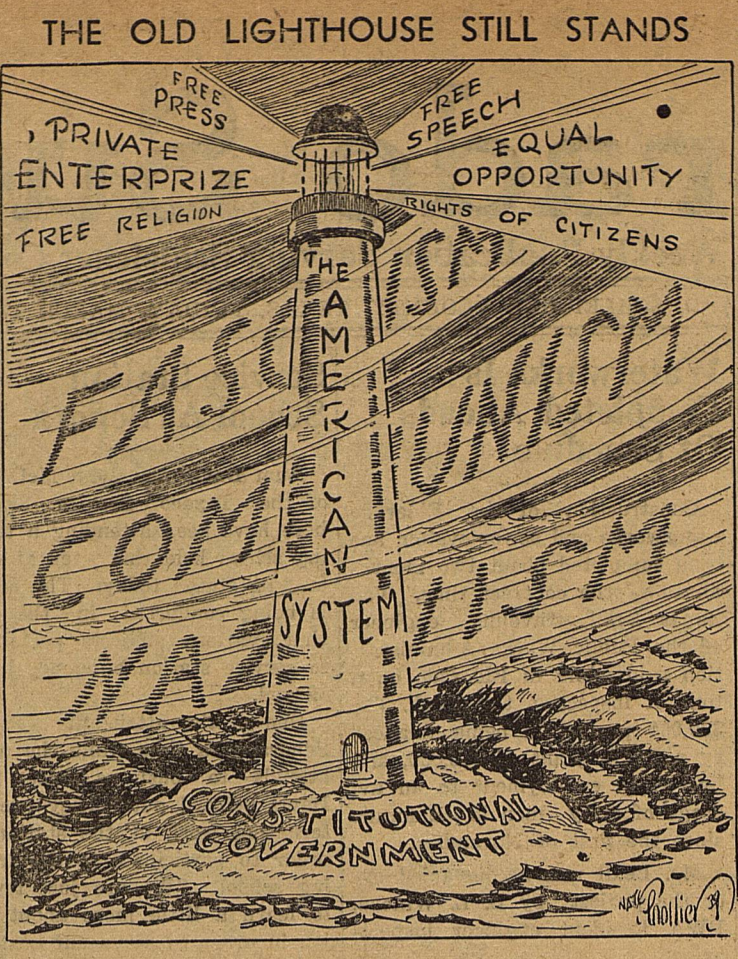

Does the safety of the American nation and the safety of the British Empire require that we go on helping Japan to exterminate, by the methods she is daily employing, the gallant Chinese soldiers with which she is confronted—not to speak of the civilian Chinese population that she is engaged in terrorizing? Is the condition of our statesmanship so pitifully inadequate that we cannot devise the simple means of international cooperation which would stop our participation in this slaughter? I for one do not think so. I believe that it can be done, and done executively, without serious danger to us.—Henry L. Stimson, former Secretary of State

AUSTIN.—The prospect of a deadlocked session of the 46th Legislature, which might end its 120-day regular sitting without passing any additional tax legislation, loomed large this weekend, as the House of Representatives prepared to begin floor consideration of the omnibus constitutional amendment carrying a 2 1-2 per cent sales tax plus a .5 per cent hike on natural resource taxes, which its committees drafted and reported out last week. The split among house members over the sales tax feature was graphically shown, when it voted down efforts to set the amendment for special order, with 51 votes registered against it. The anti-sales tax group, which proposes to offer various substitutes for the sales tax feature, including stiffer rate on natural resources, a state income levy, and a gross receipts tax, saused, and reported 56 votes pledged against the sales tax. Various other groups, including retail merchants are prepared to light to the last ditch against the sales levy. But debate on the House floor, and the test votes which will follow shortly, will be the only true indication of whether sufficient House votes can be held in line to beat the sales tax.

Won't Pay The Bill

In the other hand, the very interests which have fostered the committee amendment built around the sales tax, will fight to the last ditch against a state income levy, which they cannot pass on to somebody else, or against higher natural resource taxes than the 25 percent which they seem willing to take, if it is coupled with a sales tax that will put most of the pension burden upon the poor, and "freeze" the rates into the Constitution.

Indicative of carelessness in preparation of the amendment is the revelation that the sales tax amendment, if it yields the revenue estimated by the committee it will still fall about $9,000,000 short of the sum necessary to finance the social security program, including the $35,000,000 needed to guarantee an income of $30 monthly to all over 5 the plan urged by the governor after he had won the election, as a substitute for his earlier flat promise of $30 cash for everybody, which he made during the campaign. The committee estimated its amendment would raise $33,000,000 a year. It is proposed to devote $4,000,000 to teachers pensions and aid for destitute children. The committee estimated it would cost $26,000,000 to guarantee an income of $30 a month to all over 65, but later estimates plan this requirement at $35,000,000. Thus, the committee appears to have made a little $9,000,00 error, which has added nothing to the popularity of its proposal.

Woodward Is Confirmed

Prompt confirmation of Walter Woodward, ex-Senator from Coleman, ex-president of the Texas Bar association, corporation lawyer and lobbyist who enjoys the friendship of most legislators, as Chairman of the Board of Insurance Commissioners and Life Commissioner, went far toward healing the breach over appointments between the Senate and the Governor. His confirmation followed withdrawal by O'Daniel of the name of J. C. Hunter of Abilene to be Highway Commissioner. If the Governor names some reputable East Texan now to be Highway commission chairman, it is likely he will be quickly confirmed, and the battle over nominations will be over. The governor no longer sees the reporters, so hotel lobbies are full of rumors concerning a dozen prospective nominees for the highway post, without anyone having definite information.

Politics Is Evident

Praponents of legislation to effect budgetary and auditing reforms ran into a snag this week, when action on Sen. George Moffett's bill to create a State Budget director, named by the Governor, ran into strong opposition and adjournment was necessary to save it from defeat. Some senators do not want to pass the bill until the house and the governor have acted upon the bill already passed by the Senate, to permit the Legislature to name the State Auditor. Declaration was made on the floor that the Governor is trying to "horse trade" on the bill, and Mocett, while denying any such deal, declared if he were governor, he would never sign the auditor bill until the legislature had passed his measure permitting the Governor to name the budget director. Both measures are badly needed as a first step toward modernizing the fiscal setup of the State, but political manipulation prevent passage of either.

Test On Road Bill Up

This week probably will see a test of strength in the fight between certain County Judges who are sponsoring the bill seeking to have the State Board of County Bond Indebtedness assume $180,000,000 worth of "dead horse" county lateral road bonds. So far no indication has come from Washington that the Department of Agriculture will reverse its previous opinion that passage of the County Judges' bill would constitute diversion of gasoline tax money, and would result in Texas being penalized $4,000,000 of its Federal road aid allocation, under the Federal Hayden-Cartwright law. Sen. Clint Small plans to call up his bill renewing the present agreement to pay off bonds on county roads which have been taken into the state highway system, and will seek to amend it to incorporate the compromise plan of the Texas Good Roads Association. The latter plan proposes to refund to the counties payments made during past years on the bonds used for State road by the counties, when the income from the 1 cent of the gasoline tax was insufficient to meet the payments in full, as it now does. Sen. Will pace of Tyler, will seek then to substitute the County Judges bill, with but faint prospect of success, unless the Washington ruling should be reversed.

Austin Notes

The drivers' license law, which was stuck in committees for several weeks, has emerged with a favorable report in the House, and now seems assured of passage without too much butchering by amendment, leaving a stricter enforcement setup, and a 50-cent a year fee, although the latter may be reduced. . . . Progress also was made at a public hearing on a new land vacancy law, designed to curb the "vacancy hunting racket," and give original purchasers of land on which vacancy claims are filed a broader preferential right to acquire the vacancies, instead of giving all of the "breaks" to unscrupulous vacancy hunters. . . . Simultaneously, Attorney General Gerald Mann filed suit to cancel a vacancy sales of 2,652 acres of rich producing oil land in West Texas, made by ex-Land Commissioner Bill McDonald during his last week in office to R. L. York. York paid $3 an acre for the land, and the attorney general alleges his vacancy claim is void, and the price paid is so "so grossly inadequate as to shock the consciences of reasonable-minded people" . . . The House liquor Committee killed by a 13 to 4 vote the bill of the Hardin twins to abolish the State liquor control board, with both liquor dealers and dry spokesman supporting the board.

Mrs. Montgomery Adams Club Hostess

Members of the Adams Home Demonstration Club met Tuesday afternoon in the home of Mrs. Will Montgomery for their monthly demonstration by the C. H. D. A., Miss Margaret Stewart, given on "Housing Poultry."

"Adequate floor space in housing birds was brought out in her discussion as very important in that crowded houses sooner or later lead to a diseased flock. From 3 to 4 square feet of floor space should be allowed for each bird if flock is kept under close confinement, however, when adequate range is provided, never figure less than 2 1-2 square feet of space per bird," said she.

Blue prints of poultry houses for any size can be secured for the asking in the Demonstration agent's office.

A short business session and social hour was enjoyed following the program.

Dropping Pits Conserve Labor

"If anyone has ever seen or operated a dropping pit for a month they will never regret the expense or labor of building it in their poultry house," is the remark that Webb Montgomery made to members of the Adams Home Demonstration Club when they met in the Montgomery home.

Two years ago the Montgomerys put dropping pits in their chicken houses. One of the pits is made 8 feet wide and 12 feet long and the other is 8 feet by 9 feet. They are placed to the back of the house and away from the front opening. The pit is 18 inches from the floor, the frame being made of lumber, covered with 2 inch poultry netting and hinged to the porch of the house, this being so the pit may be raised to clean. The roost poles are 2 by 2 inches and placed 9 inches apart. The front of the pit is also covered with netting. 9 square inches is allowed for fowls.

The pit is cleaned every two or three weeks.

THE AWFUL PRICE YOU PAY FOR BEING NERVOUS

Quivering nerves can make you old and haggard looking, eranky and hard to live with—can keep you awake nights and rob you of good health, good times and jobs.

What you may need is a particularly good women's tonic—and could you ask for anything whose benefits are better proved than famous Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound? Let its wholesome herbs and roots help Nature build up more physical resistance and thus help calm your shrieking nerves, give more energy and make life worth living again.

More than a million women have reported benefit—why not let Pinkham's Compound help YOU, too, to go "smiling thru" trying times like it has other grateful women for the past 3 generations? IT MUST BE GOOD!

We sincerely appreciate the interest shown by the people of Eldorado who visited Cameron's Demonstration Home on Sunday March 12th. Let us show you how easy it is to own a home financed under F. H. A.

Restoration—And they shall build old waters." Isa. 61.4.

Waste of life is traceable. Sometimes it comes from absence of faith. If a man abide not in me, he is cast forth as a branch, and is withered." Sometimes it comes from the absences of love in the Christian type. It is love that makes other graces grow and bring forth fruit. Wasted lives are reparable only by Redemption. In the body there is a kind of a self-healing after sickness, not so with the soul that requires a Divine physician. Christ does more than forgive He renews and Restores. Just as the spring comes and the tender herbs appear, and nature puts on her new garment of beauty, rejoicing to have her incense-cup filled again by the hand of the Most High, so Christ desires that new grace should spring forth in every heart.

To Query Women All Over South

Touring Reporters have now asked over 1,200 women and girls of leading Southern Cities the now famous question: "Were you helped by CARDUI?"

Averaging all replies so far shows that 93 out of every 100 users questioned declared CARDUI benefited them!

Users by thousands are eager to tell how CARDUI has given them appetite; helped them gain strength; has thus relieved them of the symptoms of functional dysmenorrhea due to malnutrition. Many also say that, when symptoms indicate the need, CARDUI in large doses helps "at the time" to soothe pain.

ONE THING And THEN ANOTHER

By Fred Gipson

CORPUS CHRISTI — In the Morning Paper:

I see where Secretary of Commerce Harry L. Hopkins has pledged the administration to positive business recovery steps.

Which reminds me of when I used to unravel flour sacks for Mama, so I'd get the string for kite string and she'd get the sacks to make me some drawers out of. When I started at the right end of the string, it would unravel just as easy. But when I pulled the wrong end, the string just drew tighter and tighter.

I figure this business recovery is no different. Depending on Harry Hopkins, we're just wasting time pulling on the wrong end of the string. When we realize that we had to make our own livings before the New Deal came along, that we've had to make our own livings ever since its been in operation, that we're going to have to make our own livings after it's all over with, and start figuring out ways to do it best, we'll have finally got hold of the right end of the string. And business will then get along all right, and we'll all get along all right, and the whole snarled and tangled mess we brought on ourselves with our depression will unravel just as easy.

What we're needing is to think back to the time when our mamas were sewing us flour-sack drawers that had bright pictures in the seats of them. Our mamas didn't wait for Harry Hopkins to tell them how to get along in hard times.

I see where the constant decrease in the number of Texas bullfrogs has stirred up Rep. R. A. Fuchs of Brenham until he's introduced a state house bill to protect the bullfrog during the mating season and also to prohibit the taking of a frog less than four and one-half inches in length at any time.

Which reminds me of the night I was fishing up on the San Saba River at the Blockhouse Ranch and I heard a big old bullfrog roaring like a mad bull and I eased up the back of the river with a flashlight and found him sitting at the edge of some lily-pads and held the light in his eyes while I eased closer and closer and finally I made a grab for him and he suddenly wasn't there and I got a handful of mud and also lost my balance and dived head-first into a deep hole of water and my kid brother, Charles, just laughed and rolled in the grass and I got mad enough to fight, only he was too little for me to jump on.

I never did like to get laughed at. So I don't care whether that frog bill is passed or not, I don't like frogs that play scurvy tricks like that on a man.

If I were a legislator, I'd vote against that bill. Lots of legislators vote against bills for no better reasons,

I see where seven mustangs, a stallion, five mares and a colt—'galloping hell-bent for leather'—will be on the lawn of the Texas Memorial Museum soon, the state's first major monument to Texas wild life.

I don't know, but I figure J. Frank Dobie, Texas Folklore writer, had his spoon in the bean pot there. A couple of months ago, I was talking to him out in the Chisos Mountains, where he was writing on his next book, 'The Texas Longhorn,' and he talked nearly as much about getting some monuments and buildings on the University of Texas campus that would depict the early-day life of Texas as he did about his new book.

'We try to copy the culture of the East. We've done it in our buildings, in the landscaping of the campus, and in the courses we teach in the University. There's not one read Texas thing about the whole campus,

And, dammit, it makes my blood boil. What's wrong with Texas culture, Texas architecture, Texas learning? If Texans could ever learn to be themselves instead of trying to be like somebody else, they'd soon be second to none in anything!'

I like to see Dobie get stirred up about something. When he believes in something, he believes in it with both fists and his boot-heels. Dobie's a real Texan. His type is playing out mighty fast in Texas, though.

I see a Ballinger kid tumbled off into a well the other day, and it took the whole police force to rescue him.

Which reminded me of the time Frank Hubbard of Mason and I were about to swipe some peaches from old man Green's orchard and found an uncovered well in it and two pigs in the well, still alive but swimming around with just a bare inch of their snouts sticking out of the water and we went and took down a long piece of wire off old man Green's fence and went to trying to rope the pigs and get them out and Frank got over-balanced and fell in with the pigs and by the time I got him fished out, we didn't care whether the pigs lived or not. We were so scared we forgot to get any peaches.

Every once in awhile yet, I wonder whether or not some other peach swipers came along in time to save those poor little old pigs.

YOU ARE HEREBY COMMANDED, That you summon, by making Publication of this Citation in some newspaper published the County of Schleicher if there be a newspaper published therein, but if no: then in a newspaper published in the nearest County to said Schleicher County, for four consecutive weeks previous to the return day hereof, Lonnie Murray and the unknown heirs of Lonnie Murray, Coll Bramblett and the unknown heirs of Coll Bramblett, John Bramblett and the unknown heirs of John Bramblett, Evelyn Bramblett Watson and the unknown heirs of Evelyn Bramblett Watson, and O. B. Bramblett and the unknown heirs of O. B. Bramblett all of whose residence are unknown, to be and appear before the Hon. Powell is Plaintiff, and Lonnie Murray, and the unknown heirs of Lonnie Murray, Coll Bramblett and the unknown heirs of Coll Bramblett, John Bramblett and the unknown heirs of John Bramblett, Evelyn Bramblett Watson and the unknown heirs of Evelyn Bramblett Watson, O. B. Bramblett and the unknown heirs of O. B. Bramblett, and James Bramblett are Defendants.

The nature of the Plaintiff's demand being as follows, to-wit:

Plaintiff sues for the title and possession of survey No. 57, Cert. No. 1468 in Block K in the name of G. H. & S. A. Ry Co. containing 640 acres more or less, situated partly in Sutton County, Texas, and partly in Schleicher County, Texas, said action being in trespass to try title against all the above named Defendants.

Plaintiff also sues to cancel as a cloud upon his title to the above described tract of land that certain deed from S. E. McKnight to J. F. Logan dated the 18th day of July, 1913, and recorded in Volume 13, at page 96 of the Deed Records of Sutton County, Texas and that said deed from J. F. The said S. E. McKnight re-entered into possession of said land about June 5, 1917, and used and occupied the same and claimed the title thereto adverse to the Defendants herein until he sold and conveyed the said land to the Plaintiff herein by deed dated August 10, 1934, and recorded in Vol. 31, at page 177, of the Deed Records of Sutton County, Texas, that upon the delivery of said deed the plaintiff herein went into actual possession, occupancy

RANCH TALK

F. R. Marshall, secretary of the National Wool Growers Association, and Byron Wilson, secretary of the Wyoming Wool Growers Association, in Washington working on legislation of interest to wool men, indicate that they expect a break on the wool and mohair loan situation within the next week or so. Officials in the Department of Agriculture intimated that they felt the loan value should be decreased about 5 per cent on the theory that the index value on parity was about 5 per cent lower than one year ago. The association men, however, are hopeful of announcing a loan on the same basis as last year but with some changes in the 5 per cent deduction so far as it relates to Texas wools and the all-rail freight.

From Washington comes reports that Charlie South is providing a surprisingly able defender of the interests of the wool men at the hearings on the truth-in-fabric bill. Wool men at the hearings say that South "has a very complete knowledge of the situation, asks his questions adroitly, and is putting some of the opposition on the spot."

W. M. Simpson of Robert Lee has bought 15,940 acres of ranch land in Presidio County from the C. T. Mitchell Co. at $7 an acre. He will get possession on April 1. The ranch is 20 miles southeast of Marfa and does not include the homestead of the Mitchell family. The C. T. Mitchell Co. is retaining 50 sections.

I. G. Babcock, entomologist of the United States Department of Agriculture, at the Ranch Experiment Station at Sonora, has recently published a bulletin, 'The Control of Cattle Lice,' outlining a new use for sulphur in control of red and blue lice on cattle. He recommends a sulphur dip where large numbers of cattle are to be and use of said land and claimed the same adverse to the Defendants herein continuously until the filing of this suit February 22, 1937.

That Plaintiff further alleges that Defendants hold and claim their interest, if any they have, as heirs and by descent from Mrs. Eva Bramblett, Deceased wife of Coll Bramblett, who died November 1916, intestate; that the said executory contract of sale from S. E. McKnight to J. F. Logan of said land as shown by the deed above mentioned was rescinded by the said S. E. McKnight for default by the said J. F. Logan and by the said Coll Bramblett and the other Defendants herein and conveyed by the said McKnight to the Plaintiff as aforesaid. Plaintiff, in support of his allegations intresspass to try title, also pleads adverse possession against the Defendants and title resulting therefrom under the three year statute of limitation, under the five year statute of limitation and under the ten year statute of limitation in this State; and Plaintiff's said Petition prays for the title and possession of said land and for damages there-to and for a decree for removing and cancelling said deeds above described from S. E. McKnight to J. P. Logan and wife to Coll Bramblett conveying said land and the records thereof respectively as clouds upon Plaintiff's title and for his costs and all other relief, legal or equitable, general or special, as he may show himself entitled.

HEREIN FAIL NOT, And have you before said Court, on the said first day of next term thereof, this Writ with your endorsements thereon, showing how you have executed the same.

Given under my hand and seal of said Court, at office in Eldorado, Texas, this, the 21st day of February, 1939.

Wales Spencer of Idaho is reported to have contracted his 1939 wool to George Hertle of Nampa, Idaho, at 22 3-8 cents at the ranch with no discount for blacks. The price was higher than any 1938 wool sold in that territory.

Robert Lockhart, Bankamerica Agricultural Credit Corporation, San Francisco, reports a customer selling veal calves at King City at 10 1-2 cents.

Their offered prices were, medium wool, 28.68 cents, fine staple 25, fine clothing 12, rejects 23 tags 10, and mohair 28 cents. Country Woman's Club Meets With Mrs. McSwane

"Proper feed is an absolute necessity in order for hens to fill the egg basket," was stressed in the program on "Feeding For Egg Production," given by Mrs. Claud Alexander in the home of Mrs. Bill McSwane Wednesday afternoon, March 15.

"Two purposes for which feed is used, for are for body maintenance and to manufacture eggs. A complete ration might be termed one that will maintain body requirements. Egg production means that whole eggs contain 13 percent protein, 11 percent fat, 11 percent mineral and 65 percent water. The hen's body consists of about 22 percent protein, 17 percent fat, 4 percent mineral, and 56 percent water. Keep plenty water before chickens at all times."

Following the program refreshments of punch, cake and sandwiches were served to seven members.

unit, ice cubes, desserts and cold storage facilities are retained.

The lower half, however, retards circulation because cooling coils entirely surround the compartment, all parts are usually cold, and, hence, there is no need of circulation. As a result there is no drying out of foods. Atmospheric pressure is very high, keeping foods live and fresh and the old condition of flavors being carried from one food to another is reduced to almost nothing, thus virtually eliminating the need for covering dishes."

Showrooms in the local office are being "dressed up" for the opening date and new models will be put on display immediately.

at a barbecue at his ranch Thursday, entertaining approximately 400 persons in the course of the day.

Other business before the directors included the reappointment of the secretary, G. W. Cunningham; report from Fred Earwood on experiments in breeding meat goats to be undertaken by the Ranch Experiment Station at Sonora; a report from the secretary, and an agreement with H. M. Phillips, publisher of the Southwestern Sheep and Goat Raiser to change his publication from a semi-monthly to a monthly magazine with the association to pay $2,400 annually for its membership.

In commenting on the wool and mohair loans, Cunningham said that indications are that the wool loan will be lower because of the lower value of the dollar. A 30 and 40 cent government loan basis for mohair has been rejected by the association. The government made loans available at 20 and 30 cents last year, but with the market price exceeding that span the mohair was not utilized by the growers as was the mohair loan.

"Housing Poultry" Program For Eldorado Club

"Poultry quarters must be comfortable, dry, and well ventilated, were three essentials stressed in the program on Housing Poultry Miss Margaret Stewart, C. H. D. A., gave members of the Eldorado Home Demonstration Club at their meeting Friday, March 10, at the home of Miss Ruth Baker.

An economical way of closing the open sides of hen houses is by dipping water proof burlap sacks or ducking in a solution of one pound of paraffin. The gasoline will dissolve the paraffin without any heating. Carbalineum is a good wood preservative and will keep mites and blue bugs from harboring in the hen houses, were other points brought out by Miss Stewart.

Present for the meeting were Mrs. Thomas Baker, Mrs. R. L. Bricker, Mrs. A. E. Tree, Mrs. John Williams, Mrs. Joe Luckett, Mrs. Tom Riddle, Mrs. R. N. Brown, Mrs. Orville Conner, Mrs. Clyde Graves, Mrs. Norman Hodges, Mrs. W. H. McClatchey, Mrs. E. E. Menges, Mrs. Joe Moore, Mrs. Wiley Ratliff, Mrs. R. C. Spurgers, Mrs. Jess Thomson, Mrs. Norman Klink, Mrs. L. Wilson, Mildred Deaton, Mrs. W. H. Gunn and Margaret Stewart.

SUCCESSFUL FEEDING

The successful stock feeder of today is a student—a keen observer who keeps in touch with changing conditions. These changes are largely due to the discoveries in nutrition at our various agricultural experiment stations, declares Lyman Peck, a nutritional expert, in a recent article.

Feeders have long realized that a protein supplement in addition to corn and hay was essential for beef cattle. An important factor developed during recent years, as extensive experiments at the agricultural colleges revealed the superior value of a new comer, soybean oil meal. Among its advantages enumerated by Mr. Peck are these:

Soybean oil meal is the most highly digestible protein supplement obtainable; it is more palatable and produces faster gains than other protein concentrates, and as a general rule it is more economical to feed.

These advantages apply to all kinds of livestock and poultry, as has been demonstrated in the feed lots of Iowa State College, Ohio Experiment Station, Illinois, Purdue, Cornell and other universities, where scientific feeding is continually studied for the benefit of stockmen and farmers generally.

As an ingredient of mixed feeds, soybean oil meal is rapidly growing in popularity; in fact, its increased consumption in the last few years has been phenomenal.

This demand has greatly stimulated the raising of soybeans, which in several states now constitute a major cash crop.

Harmon Bodine who has been at home for a week because of illness, returned to A & M college where he is a student. He was accompanied by Miss Fae Bell Enochs who went to Bryan to visit her mother, acting as matron for the college boys there.

Mrs. Joe Russel and children will leave today for Oklahoma for a visit with her mother.

J. P. Duncan bought aged ewes from different ranchers and sold them to John Leudecke.

Two doubles of lambs were sold this week by E. M. Reynolds to John Clay Co. of Chicago.

Jerry Johnson, grandson of Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Nicks has been brought home from a San Angelo hospital where he has been ill for some time. He is reported as getting along nicely.

Mrs. Viola Gerard van Amring of Bridgeport, Conn. won a divorce from her husband after 15 years of married life, because he held a piece of limburger cheese under her nose and forced her to smell it.

Bill Roach of McCamey visited in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ambrose Roach Wednesday. He was also in Eldorado on business.

Mr. and Mrs. Ambrose Roach and Jim Tom visited in San Angelo and attended the Fat Stock show and rodeo last Sunday.

S. W. Espy of Brady visited in the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Williams last Saturday and Sunday.

The Australian Wool Board has set aside $37,750 to publicize Australian wool in the United States and will conduct a continuous campaign to make Australians at home wool-minded, according to recent Melbourne advices.
