

On The Divide

Jerry Pennington, West Texas Utilities manager here, is already making devnite plans for his vacation that will start early in June. He has resigned his job as manager of the Lions club softball team and has begun to make other arrangements for his absence from the city.

Jerry will spend two weeks on his farm over in Arkansas, he says. The place is located near a fine lake in the Arkansas hill country and he plans to devote considerable time snaging members of the finny tribe. He promises to furnish photographs of the large ones caught as well as scenes about the farm on his return to Eldorado.

About the best way to really do justice to one of these West Texas Barbecues, such as the FFA and 4-H club affair at the fair grounds Wednesday evening, is to file through the line and heap on the plate about twice as much as you think you can eat of the meat, pickles, sun-of-a-gun, beans and other trimmings. Then find a good grassy spot, set the plate down, the black coffee along-side and hunker down—setting on one heel, cow-tradin' style—and start eating.

At a stay affair, one doesn't have to worry about getting gravy on his tie or grease under his chin—he can just eat and yarn with the guy hunkering nearest by. There have been some mighty good fishing stories told along with numerous others on just such an occasion.

Speaking of fishing, old timers say the signs are not right now for the big ones to be biting good. About two weeks from now and they will jump out of the river after an empty hook, one of our accomplished fishermen tells us.

Coach Accepts Position At Three Rivers

Mr. Bynum has served in the local school the last four years as coach and Spanish teacher. In 1937 local boys won regional championship in football, and have lost six games out of the 33 played in the last four years. The football squad has grown from 23 to 45 boys since 1935.

FIRE TRUCK IS PLANNED FOR ELDORADO

Eldorado will have a modern firefighting unit in the near future if present plans of the city council are carried out, Mayor L. L. Baker stated this week.

According to a recent communication from PWA authorities a 45 percent grant might be obtained for the purchase of a fire truck and other equipment, Mayor Baker pointed out.

Negotiations have been underway for some time with various fire equipment dealers and several types of units have been inspected by members of the council. No definite decision has yet been reached as to the type of equipment that will be secured, it is understood.

Last week the Mayor and several members of the council attended a fireman's meeting at Rocksprings where equipment was demonstrated. Members of the council will probably go to Ft. Worth in the near future to inspect additional equipment.

After a truck has been secured by the city, a volunteer department will be organized to combat the dreaded fire deamon and to protect loss of life and property in the Eldorado community.

With an efficient fire department, property owners of the city will experience considerable saving annually in insurance rates, Mayor Baker remarked.

WEST TEXAS RANCH TALK

A choice Rambouillet buck, representative of the sheep raised in the country's biggest sheep producing county, left Del Rio this week for an air express route to the Botany Mills at Passaic, N. J. The buck was raised by Pat Rose Jr., of Del Rio. He was presented to Col. Charles F. H. Johnson, president of the Botany Worsted Mills, on the 50th anniversary of the mills. 'Miss Botany,' representing the mills, played Bo-Peep to the Texas sheep on his arrival at the Newark airport. G. W. Cunningham, secretary of the Texas Sheep & Goat Raisers' Association, took the Rambouillet to Amarillo to catch a TWA plane there Tuesday. Botany is one of the largest users of Texas fine wools.

Frank Krschgraber of Cline and the fireman of Uvalde are sponsoring a rodeo at Uvalde May 19, 20, and 21. Rodeo stock will be furnished by Dudley Storey of Cotulla.

Whitehead, president of the Woman's Auxiliary to the Texas Sheep & Goat Raisers' Association for window displays in the state's major stores of samples of the woolen material presented to the Queen of England. The display, she believes, will be of special interest to Texans because of the material having been made wholly from Texas' fine wools. The first display is in the window of the Cox-Rushing-Greer Co at San Angelo.

WORLD'S LANGUAGES

In a comprehensive work on languages of the world, published in Paris, no less than 6,760 tongues and systems of writing are listed. But the actual number worthy of classification as distinct languages has been computed by officials of the French Academy to be 2,796.

Chinese, including its many dialects, is used by more people than any other language in the world, about 475 million. There are about 43,000 different characters used in Chinese writing.

English is spoken by about 225 million people, far more than one-half of whom are citizens of the United States. Several million more in various parts of the world know enough English words to make it possible for them to carry on simple conversations for the purpose of barter and the like.

Russian and its various dialects is spoken by more than 160 million. Other principal languages, with figures representing the number of millions by whom they are spoken, include the following: Japanese, 90; Spanish, 80; German, 78; French, 62; Portuguese, 47; Italian, 43.

The above figures are estimates of the number of people actually speaking the languages named and do not include those of native colonies and others who do not use the language of the governing nation. India for example, while under British rule, has more than 300 million inhabitants who do not speak English, but use scores of native languages and dialects.

A young woman of Memphis, consulting a lawyer, was asked why she wanted a divorce. 'I don't—yet,' she explained. 'I'm engaged to be married soon, and I just want to see what Ill have to go through when I am ready for a divorce.'

Two books drawn from the Milwaukee public library in 1909 were recently returned. The library, however, did not collect the accumulated fines of $219.

Two motorists with identical names, charged with the same offense and arrested the same day at the same place by the same officer each paid a $25 fine in Salt Lake City.

Responding to a knock at the door, William T. Doyle, 64, of Louisville, thought he saw a ghost when he admitted his brother, Robert Doyle 61. The brothers had not met for 39 years.

After waiting 28 years for her husband, who deserted her in 1911 and hasn't communicated with her since, Mrs. Mary Hill of Oklahoma City has filed suit for divorce.

Among the things Mrs. Grace Brand of Chicago alleged in a divorce petition was that her husband would tee off in the parlor, using a meat ball or a biscuit for a golf ball.

HONEST WEIGHT????

Nobody's Business

By Julian C. Capers

AUSTIN.—The optimism of Gov. W. Lee O'Daniel, who declared on his Sunday morning radiocast that he felt confident the House of Representatives would pass Senate Joint Resolution No. 12, providing for a constitutional amendment carrying a $40,000,000 tax burden in order to get $10,000,000 more for old age pensions, was not shared by many members of the House, as they passed the end of the customary 120-day regular session period. The proposed amendment carries a 2 percent sales tax, together with slight increases in the natural resource taxes, averaging 25 percent.

The House beat off numerous attempts to recruit the 100 votes necessary to pass the resolution last week, and then riddled it with amendments. Most important of these removed food, clothing up to $5, medicines and ice from operation of the sales tax.

O'DANIEL TURNS A FLIP

Cold chills went up the spines of Gov. O'Daniel and the special interest lobby which has been advising him in the tax fight, when the House considered an amendment substituting the Townsend-O'Daniel 'transactions tax' plan for the sales tax in the pending resolution. Rumors flew about the capitol that Abe Mayes, of Atlanta, author of the substitute, had enough votes lined up to adopt it. As Mayes spoke for the substitute, O'Daniel rushed a message to the House, repudiating his endorsement of the transactions tax, and urging the members to support the Senate sales tax resolution, declaring a vote against the latter was 'a vote against pensions.' The Governor committed a major political blunder, because the vote showed Mayes only recruited 39 votes for his substitute, but the terrible political consequences to O'Daniel, and the equally terrible economic consequences of the special interest groups which authored the transactions tax plan, which would have ensued had the House adopted it, made O'Daniel and his advisors so panicky that they rushed into the fight without waiting to see whether they were needed to beat the substitute.

ANTI BLOC STANDS FIRM

The next test was scheduled to come Wednesday, when the Senate resolution is up again. Then, if proponents of the measure succeed in getting the needed 100 votes, it will be passed and sent back to the Senate. Naturally, the Senate will refuse to concur in the House amendment, and then it will go to a conference committee. The latter, which readers may be sure, will be composed of House and Senate members who are advocates of the sales tax, will restore the resolution to approximately its original Senate form before the House amendments were put on, and then it will go back to the House to accept or reject. Thus, the anti-sales tax House members will be forced to take a sales tax or nothing. Thus far, the opposition bloc, led by Joe Morris of Greenville, aided by Albert Derden, of Marlin, Leighton Cornett of Clarksville, DeWitt Hale of Farmersville, Bob Woods, of Marshall, and others, has held its lines fast, and 89 votes were all the sales taxers could muster on the latest test. Whether the sales tax will pass in the dying hours is a matter no man can foretell. If the House, on the other hand, rejects the entire amendment this week, then the agony will be over sooner, and the best guess is the Legislature will adjourn shortly, instead of dragging out the session another two weeks, as most observers now guess it will.

HOUSE PASSES ROAD BOND BILL

The House this week rejected the original County Judges Bill, which proposed to lay the burden of nearly $200,000,000 of 'dead horse' county lateral road bonds on the backs of the gasoline taxpayers, and prorate the benefits on a basis of how much each county owes. The House passed the Tarwater substitute. It allocates surplus in the State road bond fund to counties on a basis of motor registrations, population, mileage of lateral roads, and area, and gives counties the option of spending the benefit money for paying bonds or for building new roads. It assures that a substantial part of the 'Santa Claus' money the counties will get from the State will go for building new roads, instead of all going to pay off the 'dead horse' bonds. The bill was a compromise between the county judges, who wanted to pay off bonds, and the Texas Good Roads Association which wanted the money used to build new roads. The Senate is expected to accept the House compromise before the session ends.

SENATE GOES WILD

The economy program received a severe jolt when the Senate went on a wild spending orgy, and put more than $7,500,000 additional appropriations onto the appropriation bill for state colleges, for new buildings. The House bill carried a total of about $15,000,000. The Senate wound up with $25,000,000. But the conference committee is expected to take out much of the increase, and the economy program may survive in part.

AUSTIN NOTES

Somebody is holding the sack for $75,000 for building a building on the campus of John Tarleton College at Stephenville. Gov. Alfred issued a deficiency warrant to pay for it. Attorney General Gerald Mann ruled the legislature cannot legally appropriate money to pay off the deficiency. Mann cited the constitutional inhibition against paying claims not based on previous appropriations. . . . The busy Attorney General also answered whispered criticism of lack of progress in his investigation of mutual assessment insurance companies, when he filed suits for receivership and liquidation against four such companies. . . . The legal lights are expecting Gov. O'Daniel to send up a new nomination for Chairman of the Highway Commission this week. They declare a recess appointment cannot be made, since the law says a recess appointment can only be made to fill a vacancy. Since the law also provides Commissioners hold office until their successors qualify, they point out John Wood would remain commissioner, since there would be no vacancy, if O'Daniel should let the session adjourn without getting an appointee confirmed. Three of his choices, Carr Collins, J. C. Hunter and Jim West have been rejected by the Senate. . . . The Senate quickly confirmed O'Daniel's nomination of Dr. W. B. Vasey of Huntsville, as a member of the State Health Board. . . . The optometry bill, fought by Texas newspapers because it proposed to limit advertising by optometrists, passed the House, but it was so amended that the antiadvertising provision was taken entirely out. . . . Joe Morris, Greenville representative who has led the anti-sales tax forces is slated to run for Cong-

MEN LOVE GIRLS WITH PEP

If you are peppy and full of fun, men will invite you to dances and parties. BUT if you are cross, listless and tired, men won't be interested. Men don't like "quiet" girls. When they go to parties they want girls along who are full of pep. So in case you need a good general system tonic, remember for 3 generations one woman has told another how to go "smiling thru" with Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. It helps build up more physical resistance and thus aids in giving you more pep and lessens distress from female functional disorders. You'll find Pinkham's Compound WELL WORTH TRYING!

Fiery Itching Skin Gets Quick Relief

Home Treatment Eases Unbearable Soreness—Distress

There is one simple yet inexpensive way to ease the itching and torture of Eczema, Itching Toes or Foot Rashes and many other externally caused skin eruptions and that is to apply Moone's Emerald Oil night and morning and people who suffer from such embarrassing or unsightly skin troubles would be wise to try it.

Just ask any first-class druggist for an original bottle of Moone's Emerald Oil and refuse to accept anything else. It is such a highly concentrated preparation that a small bottle lasts a long time and furthermore if this clean, powerful, penetrating oil that helps promote healing fails to give you full and complete satisfaction you can have your money refunded.

America's Gift To The Queen

WHEN they meet in Washington in June, Queen Elizabeth of England and Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt will wear summer-weight wool dresses—the Queen's a gift from the wool growers of America, and Mrs. Roosevelt's from growers of the British Empire. Material for the Queen's dress, woven from the finest virgin wool from the 34 wool growing states, is shown here being given to Captain Irving of the S.S. Queen Mary for delivery to Buckingham Palace. Left to right are Senator Clark of Idaho, Senator Schwartz of Wyoming, Captain Irving, Christopher Kemble, representing the British Consul General, and G. W. Cunningham, Secretary of the Texas Sheep and Goat Raisers' Association. Simultaneously, Mrs. Roosevelt announced that her dress will be of light weight summer wool in a shade called "Azure Blue" and that the Queen's, also light weight, will be in a new color called "Queen's Blue."

Mrs. Roosevelt (lower right) shows samples of the dress materials to Miss Prunella Wood, famous New York fashion writer.

CORPUS CHRISTI—Slumgullion: A man finds some odd people in this world.

The morning I left here, a month ago, our neighbor who sits on an apple box in his back yard next to our garage and looks at his black and quackless ducks it's reported he imported from Belgium—Well, he spoke to me for the first time.

He said: "Boy, I've been wondering about you. Do you sell something?"

I said no, I'm just a newspaper man. And he said oh and turned and went to watching his ducks again.

Then the first morning after I got back, I went out to the garage, and he was still sitting on the same apple box and watching the same ducks. And he looked up at me, surprised, apparently.

"Morning!" he greeted. See you're back again. Well, I've just you sell something?"

I said no, I'm just a newspaper been wondering about you. Do man. And he said oh and turned and went to watching his ducks again.

Sometime, when I've got something I'm going to try to sell it to that old apple-box sitter. Bet I could sell him a black duck. But I don't know where a man would get one, unless he swiped it out of the neighbor's pen.

Sometimes I wonder what life would be like, just sitting on an apple box and looking at black and quackless Belgium ducks.

I come back here and find that nobody's killed that fool mocking bird that sings all night long outside my window here.

I wrote an editorial about him before I left, but seems like editorials don't carry the weight they once did. Haven't heard of an editor getting horsewhipped in the longest.

Bought me a mighty swanky beach suit the other day The shirt part hangs out over the britches, just like the corntopping jumpers Mama used to make for us, so we wouldn't get son hot in the fodder-making time.

And I wore it and lounged around on the beach, and I guess lots of people couldn't tell me from the filthy rich playboy tourists that infest these parts during the summer.

On the other hand, I noticed the crane-legged widow on the make for a rich husband didn't give me much play. Guess she's one that could see through my disguise.

'Wall's rise up to protect the pure in heart,' claims the pious Watermelon Sam Davis, colored shine boy, whose sliding Horn Yella Gal burst into tears and refused to testify against him in corporation court here the other day, after she'd had him jailed for breaking a beer bottle over the head and 'razoring' a warehouse buck that had been shining up to her on the nights that Watermelon Sam slipped off from home to drink beer with Big Farina in the joint across the tracks.

Times make some mighty changes.

A mother I know promised her 8-year-old son $1 every time he brought in a straight 'A' report card. Lately, she's been out a $1 every month. And she got to inquiring around and found out that the grandmother had been talked into 'giving $1 for a straight 'A' report card, and one uncle and a grandfather and two aunts and a neighbor woman. And now, the mother's beginning to wonder how much 'cut' the teacher's getting out of the racket her young son's built up.

When I was a kid, I got paid off only on bad report cards. Papa did it with a razor strap.

Because of a dog fight, Chris Cummins of Imaha is suing his neighbor, Luther Creek, for $1,000. Cummins charged that when their dogs fought his wife was knocked down and injured so severely that she was unable to care for the three boarders, who moved out.

AT A friend's home, lately, I heard this juvenile yarn. It bears the mark of authenticity to my way of thinking and deserves a wider circulation than could be given it by word of mouth.

Alice was sent to the grocery on an errand. "Well, I hear you have a little baby brother at your house. What do you think of him," asked the grocer. "I don't like him, said Alice frankly. "He's got a funny red face and he cries all the time." "Well," said the grocer, "why don't you send him back where he came from?" "Oh, I'm afraid we couldn't do that," she said. "We've used him three days already."

Extension Service Anniversary Held Here Monday

A county-wide observance of the 25th anniversary of the extension service, created by the Smith Lever Act, was held here last Monday evening.

A very interesting program followed a covered dish supper at the court house.

The anniversary of the act, which created the Extension Service as a joint agency of the U. S. Department of Agriculture, the land grant colleges, and the county commissioners' court, was celebrated throughout the State Monday. Prepared by Senator E. D. Smith and Representative A. F. Lever, both of S. C. and signed by President Woodrow Wilson, the measure recognized the work of pioneer county agricultural and home demonstration agents and established the Extension Service on its present federal-state-county basis.

Texas Extension service is the largest in the nation with 647 workers. Included in the organization are 246 county agricultural agents and 40 assistants, 181 county Home Demonstration agents, and a headquarters staff of 77, including 39 specialists in various fields. 8,521 extension workers are employed in the nation as a whole.

75 attended the local celebration.

METHODIST CHURCH

'As one whom his mother comforteth'—Isaiah 66:13

The devotion of mother is not that of hours, not of days only, but of years. It is not exhausted when its object has passed through infancy, but is active and anxious over its youth; yearns fondly, even when it can accomplish but little, lives and reigns in the heart of the mother until death—and who can tell perhaps may still watch and guide and bless from a world of spirits.

The mothers of the world are the monuments of perpetuity—one had almost said of eternity—of love. No orator, no singer, no artist-worker, is to be compared with the mother who is carving the image of God in the soul of her child. The gates of Heaven will swing open in its soul and all earth will be blessed by its influence.

Joycelyn Pruitt Has Marvelous Record

Joycelyn Pruitt, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Pruitt, and a sophomore in the local high school has a yearly average of 97 1-4 in all school work for 1938-39 and 98 for the year ending this month.

This as the best average made by any student in this high school in recent years and probably the best in the history of the school, according to a statement made by Dave Williamson, superintendent.

Miss Pruitt has never made a grade lower than B since she entered the first grade here in 1929. This year she has carried five subjects, a privilege granted only to those with an A average for the preceding year. Her extra curricula work includes library, press club, typing team and reading.

Miss Pruitt won second place in the typing and ready writers contest in the district meet at San Angelo. She has been president of her class since entering high school.
