Telephone Prayer Chain To Begin At Presbyterian Church

A telephone prayer chain is being formed at the First Presbyterian Church to focus prayer power on needs of our friends, family and neighbors. The prayer chain, which will be under the direction of Alma Corbell, is open to the community, both to pass on requests for prayer and to be part of the prayer chain itself.

"Prayer is a very powerful gift which God has given us. When prayer is "focused" by many Christians praying at once for a single concern, important things can happen. The object of the prayer chain will be to have as many people as possible focusing prayer power on a concern as quickly as possible -- within a matter of minutes or hours.

The content of prayer concerns is confidential. We hope many of our friends in the Eldorado community will make use of our prayer chain as the need for prayer arises."

Those desiring to be a part of the prayer chain may call Alma Corbell at 853-3365. Prayer chain partners will get a loose leaf notebook with pages in which to "log in" prayer concerns, along with a sheet of guidelines. These will be handed out at a special organizing meeting which will include a discussion of prayer as a ladder for personal spiritual growth and greater sense of the daily presence of Christ.

There will be an organizing meeting for the prayer chain on Sunday February 9, 1992 at 1:30 p.m. (the meeting will last less than an hour) in the Fellowship Hall of the First Presbyterian Church.

SCMC Implementing New Programs

by Jim Blum

One of the things that I noted when I first came here is the number of people that depend upon going to San Angelo for specialist services. I knew that I couldn't compete with that, but what I could do is to attempt to bring the specialists out here.

We already have one specialist, Dr. Marc Whimpee, an orthopedic physician and surgeon, who comes to Eldorado on once a month on Wednesday afternoons to Dr. Johnson's office. I wanted to expand upon this because I knew that people were coming from Sonora, Menard, Ozona, and other outlying areas to see him rather than traveling all the way to Angelo.

I approached physicians from San Angelo about the possibility of having specialist clinics out here. Initially we are going to have three specialists, Dr. Donald Cook, a Urologist and Urologic Onchologist; Dr. Pat Gibson, a General and Vascular Surgeon; and Dr. Bruce Heare, a Gastroenterologist. They also have two Certified Registered Nurse Anesthesiologists who will be traveling with them.

These specialists will be using the clinic areas to see patients on Wednesday's and Thursday's when Dr. Johnson and Dr. Peaslee are closed. We will be performing various procedures on an out-patient basis. Some will be procedural type things and some will fall into the realm of out-patient surgery.

We are going to be taking the old O.B. area and convert it into an out-patient surgical area. Much of the equipment needed for this is being borrowed or donated.

One piece of equipment that will have to be purchased is a machine that provides non-basic blood pressure monitoring, or indirect measurements of systolic and diastolic blood pressure. It automatically inflates a blood pressure cuff, setting it at different time frequencies so that you can measure what the person's blood pressure and Oxygen Saturation point of the blood. These are two very critical and important things to monitor in a emergency situation.

Dr. Cook will begin seeing patients on the first Wednesday in March.

Booster Club Meets

The Eldorado Booster club met on Monday, February 3rd in the Field House. Several items of business were discussed.

It was decided that the Booster Club will sponsor the Free-Throw Contest at the last two home games. The Booster Club will also have the concession stand at the February 21st game, the last home game of the season.

The All Sports Banquet was discussed and it was decided that we will begin accepting bids for the meal. The bids will be presented at the next meeting, set for February 17th at 6:00. Anyone interested in submitting a bid should contact Cathy Smith at 853-3125.

Time magazine, for what at first appeared to be no good reason, picked Mr. Ted Turner of cable television fame as their "Man of the Year" for 1991. I have to admit that I really thought with a little effort such a prestigious magazine could have selected someone who seems a little more involved in world affairs rather than merely reporting such events. But, then I got to thinking about Mr. Turner and maybe Time was correct! He has four channels on our cable system and probably many more on those big city systems. He has two news programs. CNN was right there as Bagdad was being bombed. It is difficult to do much better than that when trying to report a war than to be right in the middle of it. Headline news gives the viewer those typical ten second news bites of the days events, covering world events, sports, economics, and the usual crime stories in each half hour session. This guy is so smart he buys advertising from himself on each of these channels to advertise the other. He also sells himself air time to promote his TNT channel and TBS, both of which present a series of specials, movies, and documentaries all of which he has in the film library he bought from MGM studios. It also appears he is not going to let all of the those movies be seen in the first few years either. Much like the pay per view movie networks he shows the same movies several times in the period of a month or so. This way he can ensure almost anyone who wanted to see a particular movie will have a chance to do so. He is not ashamed to show his feelings either. Just remember his affectionate attention to his then girl friend Jane Fonda. Since the nuptials he has taken to showing a lot of his in-laws on the television. He has shown a reprise of Henry's works several times with maudlin commentary by, who else, Jane herself. So maybe Time magazine was right, Ted Turner was the best guy in ninety one. Now if he would only change the name of that baseball team he might be eligible for the Nobel Peace Prize, and wouldn't that make Old Jane happy?

Sims is a long time rancher, former county agent and representative for West Texas many years in agriculture and politics. We cannot afford to have someone in office that does not understand our needs. The 25th District has added Mitchell, Nolan, Taylor, Callahan, Shackelford, Runnels, Coleman, Brown, Concho, McCullough, San Saba, Lampasas, Coryell and Llano counties to our old district. The population difference in the new area could swing the election in favor of their current representative. Letters To The Editor

Dear Editor,

Someone once wrote, "There is not enough darkness in all the world to put out the light of one small candle..."

These words ring true of our dearly beloved son and brother, the late Emery Eugene Robinson.

In his own way, Emery strived to better his life and that of others against insurmountable odds.

He showed us through example that life is a challenge which must be approached with courage.

The expressions of sympathy shown to our family are evidence to that spark of courage which Emery ignited in all of us through his being.

Words alone cannot fully express the gratitude we feel for those who were there for our family during our time of sorrow.

It is our wish to thank each and every person for their kindness. May the Lord bless you all.

We will miss our eldest son and brother; we are thankful to God for the 35 years he allowed us to have Emery touch our lives in his own special way.

We pray that Emery's light will continue to shine in our hearts and in yours forever.

Sincerely yours,
Mr. and Mrs. Felix and Victorina Chavez and Family

Dear Editor and Parents,

I attended the school board meeting Thursday night, January 23rd. It was standing room only. Dr. Blair and Mr. Barton presented the Partnership School Program to persons present.

Their presentation was informative and answered a lot of questions I had been concerned about.

When it came time for discussion I asked that the school board vote to take the same information, compile it into a letter to be sent home with each child in school to every parent.

I had another proposal that I'd planned to present but set it aside because the board had already expressed their intention to have public hearings on the model schedule. By the reaction from a few of the audience, you would have thought I had asked the board to do something illegal.

One gentleman in the hall made a statement about the tail wagging the dog and went onto say we had elected the school board and they had done a great job. He left the impression I had no right to ask them to send out the information on the Partnership School Program to all parents. By the way, Johnny Griffin, this part of the tail elected some of that school board and if anyone should have the right to wag the dog it should be the tail. Then we had a cheerleading program for the school board by a few members of the audience.

I did not ask the school board for an illegal or a difficult thing. I did ask them to go one step further than normal. I asked, not once but twice to present this program to all parents by way of a letter sent home to all parents. They would take no action at all. I hope the school will take the initiative.

If you weren't there the only ways to get the information you need are to (1) read the minutes of the school board meeting published in last week's paper, (2) call a school board member, (3) call Dr. Blair, (4) call Mr. Barton or one of his middle school staff.

If you wish to know when the school board meets you will have to go by or call the administration building at least twice a week. The board is required by law to post notice of their meeting and agenda 72 hours in advance. The agenda and notice is posted in a public place - in the window of the administration building.

I congratulate the middle school for being chosen for the program because of their scholastic excellence. No one ever doubted their desire or ability to achieve this excellence. This doesn't mean I like the model schedule I saw at the meeting. There are a lot of potential problems with the model schedule to be resolved. I did not and have not set out to take anything away from the middle school achievement. Let's congratulate them for a job well done. Then let's get on with business of learning and get a schedule that benefits our kids and our families.

The only way you the parents can have a say in your children's education is to work had to say informed, because that information won't just be handed to you. When we as parents are afraid to speak out our concerns because we might be ridiculed by a few prominent people, we have lost our children and our rights as parents. I've had some calls from parents expressing their thanks for what I attempted to do. But just two or three parents expressing their concerns won't make any difference. If you remain silent and uninformed, you deserve what you get. The problem is, your kids don't.

Sincerely,
Debbie Clark

Health News

by Dr. Rico J. Forlano

Chiropractic theory and practice broke into the nation's consciousness again recently as a result of an article in Time magazine. The article indicated that about one out of twenty Americans see a chiropractor annually, mostly for back pain. Celebrities who have "gone public" with their praises of chiropractic manipulation include actress Cybil Shepherd and quarterback Joe Montana.

Reference was made in the article to research-based studies such as the one being done currently by RAND Corporation. The RAND study found chiropractic manipulation to be helpful for people with certain low-back pain. This important study is being managed by the foundation for Chiropractic Education and Research (FCER).

Parents Should Postpone Solids For Infants

Parents eager to start their infant on solids may want to postpone the porridge for the time being.

A researcher at the Children's Nutrition Research Center in Houston suspects that introducing solids into the diets of infants too soon could rob them of important minerals.

"We know that infants can digest cereal relatively well as early as one month. However, the extra protein and calories contained in the cereal are lost in the stool," said Dr. Robert Shulman, associate professor of pediatrics at Baylor College of Medicine.

Shulman has also found that the stool of cereal-fed infants contains increased levels of nitrogen, a building block of protein. "I want to know where this nitrogen is coming from," he said.

Shulman suspects that the nitrogen in the stool is caused by either diet or nitrogen-containing cells that line the intestine.

"Is the nitrogen coming from improperly digested formula and cereal or does the cereal cause the intestinal cells to slough off at a more rapid rate than normal?"

To find the answer, Shulman will follow the diets of male infants at the center's Metabolic Research Unit. He believes the answer will help scientists understand how the introduction of cereal affects digestion.

"This information may help us determine the most nutritionally beneficial time to introduce cereals into an infant's diet, learn more about the components of nutrients and, in the future, allow pediatricians to design diets where nutrients complement rather than inhibit each other," he said.

In the meantime, he encourages parents to avoid the temptation to introduce cereal to their infant's diets because they think their infant needs to gain more weight, they prefer the convenience and availability of baby foods, or they mistakenly believe that added solids help an infant sleep through the night.

If parents have questions, they should consult their pediatrician, he said.

County Agent's Report

Jerry Swift - Schleicher County Extension Agent

Festival managers and organizers can learn more about planning successful activities at the 12th Annual Festival and Events Workshop February 10-12, in Rudder Tower at Texas A&M University.

The program begins at 6 p.m. February 9 with a welcome and registration followed by dinner. Registration continues from 8 a.m. to 9 a.m. February 10.

"Keeping Your Festivals and Events on the Right Path" is the theme for this year's meeting, which assists newcomers and veteran organizers with current information on various issues, said Susanna Coppennoll, Extension assistant with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

"Texas festivals continue to grow as more communities attempt to find ways to bring money into their area or decide to recognize, promote and celebrate their heritage," she said.

The workshop, co-sponsored by Texas A&M department of recreation, park and tourism sciences and Texas Festivals Association, provides training to help organizers improve their events. The program is divided into three educational tracks:

* Core -- provides information for the beginner.

Workshop topics include finance and budget ideas, evaluation, volunteers, sponsorship, total marketing, administration and logistics.

* Electives -- designed for those who have attended at least one workshop, and covers specific needs of experienced managers. Topics include risk management, sponsorship, community cooperation, interpersonal skills, as well as panel discussions on topics such as vendor fees, ticket sales and obtaining market information.

* Management Update -- designed for festival and event managers who have completed two years of the workshop, giving latest information concerning the Texas Festival Industry. This session will address various problems such as waste recycling, food management and food safety.

Contributing sponsors for the 1992 workshop are M and M Productions, Alexander Tents, Dixie Flag Manufacturing Co., CC Creations, B and B Specialties, Time Works, E-Z Up, Party Time, Texas Hall of Fame, Texas Sounds, Aggreko Incorporated, Aradyne Flags, Joy Concessions and Power Temp Systems Inc.

For more information on the workshop, contact Susanna Coppennoll, (409) 845-5419.

Ten Most Frequently Used Names For 1990 Released

The Bureau of Vital Statistics of the Texas Department of Health has released a list of the ten names most frequently given to newborn boys and girls of Texas residents.

State Registrar Richard B. Bays, who is chief of the bureau, said that, "Calendar year 1990 was the first year that these names were available for publication in our annual report."

The 10 most popular names for boys born in 1990 were: Michael, Christopher, Joshua, David, Matthew, Justin, Jose, John, Daniel and James.

Girls born during the same year were most often named: Ashley, Jessica, Amanda, Brittany, Sarah, Stephanie, Samantha, Lauren, Jennifer and Elizabeth.

"When examined by ethnicity, Whites, Blacks and Hispanics each chose Michael as one of the most popular names for boys, while Ashley and Jessica were among the most popular girls names" Bays said.

Keeping an eye on Texas

Rainfall records rise across the state

In 1991 Dallas-Fort Worth and Austin experienced the wettest year recorded for their areas, while many other Texas cities showed rainfall totals far above the annual average.

DANGER ZONE: THE SUBSTATION FENCE

The signs on the substation fence say, "Danger-Keep Out!" or "Warning-High Voltage!" and they mean it. They may not sound very friendly, but these signs carry an important safety message: that fence is there for your protection.

The electrical substation changes the extremely high voltage carried by the long-distance transmission line into the lower distribution voltage that serves your home and business. To do this, the substation must have a direct feed from the transmission line into the substation structure. The equipment within the substation is always under high-voltage electrical load.

Substation technicians, electrical linemen and maintenance crews are trained to work in high-voltage situations and to recognize and avoid potential hazards that exist in the substation. You can avoid these hazards by paying attention to the signs on the substation fence; they mark the danger zone for you.

Local FFA And 4-H Members To Attend Houston Livestock Show

11 FFA members and 9 4-H members from Eldorado will be joining other 4-H and FFA members from throughout Texas for show ring competition at the upcoming Houston Livestock Show, February 15 through March 1 at the Astrodome.

These FFA and 4-H exhibitors compete in one of two divisions of the Houston Livestock Show - the junior show division. The other division, the open show, attracts its exhibitors from the world's agricultural industry, primarily professional breeders and ranchers.

Entries in both the open and junior shows combine with horse show entries to make the Houston Livestock Show the world's largest.

Those attending from Eldorado are: Cy Griffin-Market Steer; Lindsey Griffin-Market Steer and Market Lamb; Jodie Hooten-Market Steer; Lindsay Johnson-Market Lamb; Carmen Joy-Market Lamb; Madolyn Joy-Market Lamb; Crissi McCormick-Market Steer; Matt McCormick-Market Steer; Whitney McGinness-Market Lamb; Jimmy Barton-Market Lamb; Jonathan Lemons-Market Lamb; Levona Lloyd-Beef Heifer; Eric McGinness-Market Lamb; Lonnie Middleton-Market Barrow; Shiane Middleton-Market Lamb and Market Barrow; Shy Lowe Middleton-Market Lamb and Market Barrow; Landon Neal-Market; Mondee Nelson-Angora Goats and Breeding Sheep; Christy Robinson-Market Lamb; and Ericka Schooley-Market Lamb. Representing 886 Texas

4-H clubs and FFA chapters, the junior show is expected to exceed 13,000 entries this year. A variety of animals are shown in the junior show division: market steers, market swine, market sheep, market poultry, beef and dairy heifers, breeding sheep, goats, commercial steers and breeding rabbits.

The four market animal categories represent animals raised by the exhibitor as food sources. Top animals in each of these categories are eligible for their individual market auctions. Total money paid in 1991 at the four junior show auctions exceeded $3 million.

"This week of junior show competition really represents what the Houston Livestock Show and Rodeo is all about--great youngsters putting their hearts and minds into the future," said Steve Woodley, Houston Livestock Show and Rodeo assistant manager.

In addition to the upcoming livestock show competition, a series of lectures, seminars and live animal demonstrations again will be on the calendar for the month of February--the International Livestock Congress. Held February 16 - 19, 1992, at the Sheraton Astrodome Hotel, this school focuses on lectures and seminars delivered by agricultural experts from throughout the world.

A new show for 1992, sure to be great fun for spectators, is the miniature potbellied pig show.

Also new this year is the International Cutting Horse Contest, featuring competitors from seven nations. This contest helps kick off the upcoming Houston Livestock Show and Rodeo beginning Wednesday, February 12. The National Cutting Horse Association World's Championship Finals is scheduled for Thursday - Sunday, February 13 - 16. The 1992 Horse Show also will feature competition from six different breeds.

Bar-b-que cooking fans can enjoy the World's Championship Bar-B-Que Contest beginning Friday, February 14, at 4 p.m. in the northwest corner of the Astrodome parking lot. Judging for the contest begins on Saturday, February 15 at 7 p.m.

The streets of downtown Houston will fill with hundreds of thousands of spectators for the 54-th annual downtown rodeo parade. The parade, featuring 6,000 trailriders, marching bands and colorful floats, will begin following the Conoco 10K Rodeo Run.

Starting at 9:45 a.m. downtown, this year's race is expected to draw 4,500 to 5,000 runners. All entry fees will be donated to the Show's scholarship fund. A total of $208,000 in entry fees has been donated to the Show since the race's inception in 1988.

Also scheduled for Saturday, February 15 at the Astrodome complex are dominoes, hay hauling, horseshoe pitching and washer pitching contests. Winning quilts from the Go Texan quilt contest also will be on display in the Astrodome's west wing through March 1.

Presented by Budweiser and KPRC-TV, running pigs take to the track during the special pig racing event, held February 18-19: 4 p.m. and 6 p.m. and Feb 17, 20, 22 and 24: 2 p.m., 4 p.m. and 6 p.m.

Also, H.E.B. Pantry Foods and KTRK-TV will present the exciting Wild West Show in the Astrodome at 6:45 each night Monday, February 17 through Monday, February 24.

Another fun family feature will be the Great American Petting Zoo, located in the Astroarena and sponsored by Kroger and KTRK-TV.

Across the street in the Astrodome, each rodeo performance will be enhanced with a special fireworks display as a performance finale, sponsored by Southwest Airlines.

Houston Coca-Cola again will sponsor a special visual presentation of the American flag, along with an indoor fireworks display choreographed to the national anthem.

For those spectators wanting an extra view of rodeo action, Continental Airlines and KIKK Radio team up to sponsor the High Flyin' Hard Luck awards, a video presentation showing the contestants with the "hardest luck" from the previous performance.

Audience members' applause determines the bad luck winner. Exxon Company, U.S.A. will sponsor M video replays for each of the rodeo events during all 18 performances.

Spectators can take advantage this year of the Coors Light Rodeo METRO Express shuttle bus service from three satellite parking sites: Gulfgate, Meyerland and Northline shopping malls. The shuttle service, beginning February 15, will run from 9 a.m. to midnight Saturdays and Sundays and 5 p.m. to midnight on weeknights. The fare will be $2 per person round trip.

All net proceeds from the annual Houston Livestock Show and Rodeo provide funds for scholarships and research projects throughout the state. Currently, more than 1,000 students receive some form of Show-sponsored financial assistance. Almost 10,000 volunteers ensure the success of each year's event.

This year's event begins with horse show competition, Wednesday, February 12 followed by other livestock competition beginning Saturday, February 15. The first rodeo performance will be held at 4-p.m. Sunday, February 16. All events conclude March 1. Twenty-six star entertainment acts are scheduled to perform during the rodeo's run-

Saturday matinee performances begin at 11 a.m. and the Sunday, February 23 matinee performance begins at 1 p.m. The first and final Sunday performances, February 16 and March 1, will be held at 4 p.m. All evening performances begin at 7:30 p.m.

Ticket prices are $5, $10 and $12 and include admission to the horse show (excluding National Cutting Horse Association sponsored events), the livestock show and the rodeo. Tickets can be purchased at all Ticketmaster outlets, including the Astrodome box office.

Lion's Roar

At our meeting of January 29, 1992, the Eldorado Pride Committee of the Chamber of Commerce presented a very interesting and informative program. Pat Sykes and Jo Ann Sproul presented the program. The other members of the Pride Committee were unable to attend.

The ladies informed the Lions Club of the history of the committee, some of its accomplishments, and their hopes, plans, and dreams for the future. By their enthusiastic presentation they enlivened our meeting and encouraged many of the members to offer their assistance in the future projects of the committee.

During the month of February the Lions will hear programs about the changes and developments of the Underground water district, some innovations in telephone services, and Lion programs across the our district.

QUICK QUIZ

How far are you along the road to knowledge about transportation in America? Taking this little test can help you tell.

1. Most Americans would not be willing to pay a nickel more for a gallon of gas to pay for improvements to public transportation and roads. (a) True (b) False?

2. Public transportation is important to (a) rural Americans only (b) urban Americans only (c) both?

3. Better transportation would be (a) good (b) bad for local restaurants and merchants?

4. Most Americans are (a) concerned (b) unconcerned about the quality of our air?

ANSWERS

1. (b) In fact, Americans will support a five-cent-per-gallon gasoline tax increase if the funds are spent on mass transit and highway improvements, according to a recent nationwide survey. The survey was conducted on behalf of America's Coalition for Transit NOW. It's a broad-based coalition of more than 175 members that support increased federal funding for mass transit. Its members include environmentalists, business groups, major corporations, trade associations, aging and disability groups, veterans' organizations, chambers of commerce and unions, among others. 2. (c) Nearly nine of ten Americans agree that expanded public transportation services are equally important in small towns and rural areas, to reduce isolation and increase access to jobs and services. 3. (a) The easier it is for customers to get to their establishments, the more money they're likely to make. 4. (a) According to the survey, 66 percent think air pollution is an important problem. Anyone can write Congress on either side of this or any issue at the U.S. Senate, Washington, D.C. 20510 and the House of Representatives, Washington, D.C. 20515.

Public Health Week February 2-8

The Texas Department of Health (TDH), and local health agencies will observe Public Health Week in Texas, February 2-8, as proclaimed by Gov. Ann Richards.

This year's theme for the annual observance is "Celebrate Your Good Health!"

Dr. Robert A. MacLean, Acting Texas Commissioner of Health, said, "If a person enjoys clean air, safe water, non-contaminated food, dependable emergency medical care and modern disease control services, then he or she has reaped the benefits of the state's public health programs."

During Public Health Week, community leaders have been urged to help promote the health services available to their populations and to discuss emerging public health issues.

"The week is an opportunity for communities to take stock of their health resources and protections, and to compare their programs with those of other cities," Dr. MacLean said.

"It also is an ideal time for local groups to offer activities that allow citizens to learn more about public health and the personnel who provide services," he added.

Among some of last year's local activities, the Tyler-Smith County Public Health District offered free health screenings at a senior citizens center, while the Tyler media aired public service announcements. Meanwhile, the Beaumont Health Department sponsored a variety of activities, including free items and services (such as birth certificates and T-shirts) offered to the public during the week.

Similar activities in other cities, accompanied by extensive media coverage, underscored interest in public health throughout the state.
