EMS Week

To help Texas citizens to know what to do in a medical emergency and to recognize the lifesaving efforts of emergency medical services personnel, Governor Ann Richards proclaimed May 10 through 16, 1992 as Texas Emergency Medical Services Week.

"Almost everyone has witnessed an emergency at some time," said Ray Ballew, "but not everyone knows what to do." Everyone needs to know that if they witness an automobile crash, the injured victims should be left in the vehicle until EMS arrives unless the danger of fire or an explosion exists.

"We are trained to move victims from car crashes without further injury to an injured neck or spine," said Ray Ballew. Also, said Ray, if you stop at a motor vehicle crash, do not park your vehicle directly behind the wrecked vehicles, but pull in front of the crash site and park approximately 50 yards ahead.

Besides responding to calls for prehospital emergency medical care, the EMTs of Schleicher County play an important role in educating the community about preventing injuries.

"National Safety Council statistics show that nearly 50,000 people die in motor vehicle crashes every year," said Gene Weatherall, chief of Texas Department of Health Bureau of Emergency Management, "and at the health department we know that more than 3,000 of those traffic deaths happen in Texas." Some 11,000 die nationwide of falls and another 5,600 drown. Fires and burns account for 4,800 deaths annually in the U.S., and poisoning accounts for 4,000 deaths.

During EMS Week, Schleicher County EMS is joining with Texas Department of Health to urge people to prevent accidents on our roads, in our homes, at play, and at work. "If one family learns to take precautions to prevent, for instance, accidental poisoning, because of what we say during EMS Week," said Ray Ballew, "then we will have done our job."

First Grade Hosts Rodeo

On Thursday, May 7th, Eldorado Elementary held its 4th Annual First Grade Rodeo.

The rodeo started off with a Grand Entry of all of the first grade students, dressed in painted T-Shirts and a few clowns. Following the Grand Entry, The Pledge of Allegiance, "America" and "Texas Our Texas" was led by the class.

The events included a Boot Scramble, Pony Express, Hat Toss, Barrel Race and Calf Roping.

The events were followed by singing by the classes. The songs included "Deep in the Heart of Texas," "The Cowboy on the Ranch," "I Started on the Trail," which was followed by the Grand Finale.

Participants in the Boot Scramble were: Monica Moreno, April Pace, Esmeralda Fuentes, Hannah Robledo, Naomi Gonzalez, Bobby Phillips, Chase Baker, Chris Sanchez, Daniel Iglesias, and Tommy Johnson.

Participants in the Pony Express were: Chris Mathis, Buddy Greer, Ray David Buitron, Mike Adame, Ty Martinez, Toni Martin, Jessica Lozano, Jennifer Rodriguez, Lilly Vallejo, and Leah Wolfe.

Participants in the Hat Toss: Andy Villavicencio, Timmy Martinez, Phillip Martinez, J.R.

Arispe, Virigilio Escobar, Brandi Davis, Kimberly Hight, Courtney Mankin, Todd Overstreet, and Lora Warren.

Participants in the Barrel Race were: Jennifer Rojas, Casey Arispe, Loida Almazon, Hortencia Garza, Blake Snelson, Courtney Sauer, Christina Redish, Vanessa Ruiz, Amanda Sellers, and Vicki Estep.

Participants in the Calf Roping were: Murl Kelley, Cody Reavis, Jesse Guadarrama, Jameson Griffin, Sergio Garcia, Ross Hodges, Nathanael Wolfe, Luis Enriquez, Frankie Arispe, and Alex Sanchez.

Roping tricks were performed by third grader Gavino Rojas.

A special thanks to: Coach Mitchel and Mrs. Parker for helping coordinate the rodeo. The following people were invaluable in making props and painting T-shirts: Mrs. Lloyd, Mrs. Guitierrez, Mrs. Sauer, Mrs. Martinez, Mrs. Escobar, Mrs. Iglesias, Mrs. Johnson, Mrs. Martin, Mrs. Mankin, Mrs. Mathis, Mrs. Whitten, Mrs. Griffin, Mrs. Moore, Mrs. Edmiston, Mrs. Brown, Mrs. Davis, Mrs. Phillips, Mrs. Arispe, Mrs. Nixon, Mrs. McGinnes, Mrs. Robledo, Mrs. Herrera and Foxworth Galbraith.

Special Friends Recognized

Special Friends (L-R) Kristin Althaus, Jennifer Cheatham, and Joe Garcia help each other decorate cupcakes as Darlene Edmiston looks on.

Tuesday, May 12th, this year's Special Friends were honored through a party at the Multi-Purpose Room.

Special friends who have been helping each other grow throughout the year were children from Mrs. Althaus' Early Childhood class, Mrs. Wink's Kindergarten Class, and Mr. Well's high school art class. They have met 3 to 4 times per week for about 1 1/2 hours to do craft projects or small research and exploration projects together.

Special Friends

I am a child
So small and meek
I look up at you
It's just love I seek

You take my hand
And look back at me

No visible flaws
Do you see

We discover things together
And sometimes just talk
We run and laugh
And sometimes just walk

You help my hands
Color, paint and glue
Then you help me clean
Them

When we are through

We were just flowers
Planted in the ground
Now we are a masterpiece
With many blooms around

You have touched my life
My special friend
Now we have a bond
That will never end

TOP OF THE DIVIDE

by Thomas Giovannitti

The other day Maxine and I delivered a used table to a relative. On top of this table was some sticky substance that would not come off with the usual cleansers.

This got me to thinking about all of the adhesives that are used. (Face it folks, this is a small town so there is lots of time to think about this sort of important topic.)

For instance, take the glue that is used to attach the advertising label to cookware. The manufacturer always puts the paper ad right in the middle of the baking surface and attaches it with non water soluble paste. No amount of washing seems to be able to remove the stickiness from the center of the pan. Other marketers like to glue down the name brand so it cannot be peeled off except after days of soaking in soapy water.

It goes without saying that in this day of recycling, the removal of labels from jars and cans will become an often repeated act in many ecologically sensitive households. The problem will be those three strips of glue left on every jar after the label has been removed. No amount of regular home cleansers can ever remove those last three strips of paste.

I know this because even before recycling came into fashion, Grandma has been saving every jar we ever get in our house for some future use.

Now this future use for empty jelly, pickle, or olive jars is not always apparent, but Grandma likes to save them anyway. Of course, now she has been vindicated by all of the public service ads that say we should dump all those glass containers. The only thing I don't know is if the glass recyclers can ever get those three strips of glue off the jars or do they just throw that part away?

Our Sympathy

Katharine Berry Davis

Katharine Berry Davis, 77, of San Angelo and formerly of Eldorado, died Friday, May 8, 1992, at Schleicher County Medical Center in Eldorado following a brief illness.

Graveside services were held on Sunday in Mertzon Cemetery with the Rev. Hawley Wolfe, pastor of First Presbyterian Church in Eldorado officiating. Kerbow Funeral Home was in charge of arrangements.

Katharine ("Kate") was born June 25, 1914, in Marshall, Texas, to Katharine Harrel Berry and Giles Ernest Berry. The family moved to Brownwood in 1920 and she graduated from Brownwood High School in 1931. She attended Daniel Baker College, San Angelo Junior College, and the University of Austin. She taught piano and organ in Eldorado, Texas, a number of years and served as interim organist for the Presbyterian Church there. She moved to Sonora, Texas, in 1957 and was a charter member of the Presbyterian Church of the Good Shepherd and interim organist there also. She was a member of the Pocahontas Chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution, and the local Chapter of Colonial Dames of the 17th Century. She was awarded a medal from the Ground Observers Corps, U.S. Air Force in 1944.

She was preceded in death by a twin brother, Lt. Charles Ernest Berry in 1944 during World War II. She was also preceded in death by a sister, Helen Clair Allison of Sonora, and a grandson, Cody Gene Paxton.

She is survived by her two daughters, Suzy Linthicum Rosford of Eldorado and Prissy Linthicum Paxton and son-in-law, Ronnie Paxton, of Eldorado; three grandchildren, Whit Paxton and wife, Sherry, and Justin and Traci Paxton, all of Eldorado; and one great-granddaughter, McKenzie Paxton. She is also survived by several nieces and nephews.

The family requests memorials be made to West Texas Rehabilitation Center or a favorite charity.

Bernice A. McCormick

Bernice A. McCormick of Eldorado passed away Saturday morning, May 9, 1992, in Shannon Medical Center.

"Bee" was born July 9, 1914, in California.

Memorial services were held on Sunday, May 10, 1992, at First Baptist Church in Eldorado. Arrangements were made by Johnson's Funeral Home.

The family requests that donations be made to charities.

She is survived by a son, Rex H. McCormick Jr., a son and daughter-in-law, Phil and Abbie McCormick, one granddaughter, Crissi McCormick, and one grandson, Matt McCormick, all of Eldorado.

Cleo Bridge Duncan

Mrs. Mary Cleo Bridge Duncan, 97, of Brady died at 11:43 p.m. Wednesday, May 6, in a Brady nursing home.

Funeral services were held on Friday in Heritage Funeral Home with burial in the Calf Creek Cemetery.

Born July 24, 1894, in Pontotoc, she and William Robert Duncan were married March 12, 1914. He preceded her in death March 19, 1984.

Mrs. Duncan was a lifelong member of the First Baptist Church and was a Sunday School teacher at Calf Creek where she raised her family. She took great pleasure in making all things beautiful, her home, her garden, and her relationship with her family and friends.

Survivors include three daughters, Geneva Wade of Eldorado, Ruth Humphrey of San Angelo, and Flois Turner of Brady; five grandchildren, Dan Gandy of San Angelo, Monetta Wilson of Midland, Debbie Smith of Austin, Wes Wade of San Angelo and Jackie Wade of Austin; nine great-grandchildren, Kyle Gandy, Jessica Wade and Jason Wade of San Angelo, Deidre Grimes of DeSoto, Stephanie Smith of Austin, Mike Wilson and Byron Wilson of Midland, Lisa Whitworth of Fort Worth, Lana Ricks of Chesterfield, Va.

Also surviving are six great-grandchildren, Jonathan Whitworth, Cheryl Witworth and Sarah Whitworth, all of Fort Worth; Ryan Gandy and Mackenzie Gandy, both of San Angelo, and Brady Grimes of DeSoto; and two sisters, Gladys Wood and Bernice Bradshaw, both of Brady.

She was preceded in death by one daughter, Valaree D Gandy; and one grandson, Robert Shirl Gandy.

Many people want to have a dark glowing tan because they think it is attractive. There are several ways to get a tan which include the sun, tanning beds and tanning pills, all which can cause health problems.

The sun and tanning beds can cause skin cancer. Tanning pills can cause the skin to turn orange, nausea, diarrhea, severe itching, night blindness, and drug induced hepatitis according to the Skin Cancer Foundation.

Due to the erosion of the ozone layer there is an increasing number of cases of skin cancer. There is no safe way to tan, but if you enjoy being in the sun, the preferred hours are early in the morning before 10:0 a.m., or late in the afternoon, after 5:00 p.m. During those hours, the use of a good sunblock lotion is still recommended

If you want a tan, do not over do it.

Laugh and Live

If you love something, set it free
If it returns, you haven't lost it
If it disappears and never comes back,
Then it wasn't truly yours to begin with.

And if it just sits there watching television,
Unaware that it's been set free,
You probably already married it.
- Shoebox Greetings

Everywhere I turn these days, I hear someone else talking about the "pain and problems of PMS." PMS has even been used as a legal defense by some woman who killed her husband. Said she was having a bad day. Well, LA TI DA. We men have our problems too.

I am one of millions of men who suffer from TMT (Too much testosterone). Symptoms of TMT include scratching in places that seems lewd and crude to people with PMS, compulsive watching of sports, not lowering the seat on the toilet, burning desires to be hunting, fishing, golfing or just spending time in the great outdoors, and an overuse of the television channel changer (the puncher, as I like to call it).

It is time that we received a little understanding and sympathy for our disorder. It is not easy suffering the way we do. Do you really think we LIKE being this way? Do you really think we enjoy hearing the high-pitched shriek, "Will you turn that thing off and take out the garbage" after our psyches have forced us to watch the first 11 rounds of the fight of the century and the challenger is two blows away from becoming the Heavy Weight Champion of the World? Do you think that we enjoy being reminded that we are blithering idiots for not lowering the toilet seat because someone suffering from PMS is too danged lazy to lower it herself? Do you think that it is fun having to drive 300 miles and camping out with the snakes, lizards, spiders, toads, coyotes and God only knows what else just because our hormones are screeching, "GET AWAY! FIND SOME SILENCE!!!" No, no, no. This is not fun.

It is time that those who are engulfed in this epidemic of TMT arise. You have been enslaved, impoverished and down trodden long enough! Stand up for your rights! Use your channel changers like swords and take back your God given rights! Show the world that... (I'll have to finish this later, my wife just came in the room and wants me to help with the dishes.)

Till The Next Time...

MAY GOD BLESS!

Living Without Dieting

Diets are dead, say psychologists at The DeBakey Heart Center in Houston.

"Research shows diets do not work and can be harmful," said Dr. John P. Foreyt, director of the heart center's Nutrition Research Clinic and a professor of medicine at Baylor College of Medicine in Houston.

"However, about one-fourth of the adult population is obese and desperate for a weight management program that will work," Foreyt said.

The Living Without Dieting Program, outlined in a new book by Foreyt and co-researcher Dr. Ken Goodrick, requires changes in lifestyle, attitudes and relationships with others. It is designed for people who are frustrated in trying to manage their weight, Foreyt said.

The program advocates a lifetime, seven-step plan to set up a support system, establish an exercise habit and adopt a low-fat eating habit.

"Many people fail at managing their weight because they try too hard, too fast. We recommend a gradual approach for making major changes," Foreyt said.

For example, "Living Without Dieting" proposes learning to enjoy healthy eating by starting with one low-fat meal, slowly working up to low-fat eating days. The same one-day-at-a-time approach is recommended for exercise sessions.

"Human beings are instinctively programmed to desire high-fat foods," Foreyt said. "We have to learn gradually to enjoy low-fat eating so we do not feel deprived."

Most overweight people also have negative attitudes toward exercise and must "slowly learn to enjoy it, to recognize and appreciate its benefits and to learn to eliminate excuses not to exercise," he said.

A key element of the program is accepting the reality that society's current concept of thinness may not be possible for many people, Foreyt said.

"Genetic inheritance, childhood family practices and a history of dieting may have led to bodily changes and an excessive number of fat cells in the body so that thinness is not a realistic goal."

A support group can help a frustrated dieter learn new attitudes about weight and appearance. Group members boost self-esteem and help an overweight person feel accepted and normal.

"The Living Without Dieting Program is more a lifestyle than a weight management plan. Our research led us to emphasize healthy living and to eliminate unhealthy dieting," Foreyt said.

The DeBakey Heart Center is a joint program of Baylor college of Medicine and The Methodist Hospital supporting cardiovascular research, treatment and education.

Historic Preservation Week

More people are beginning to realize that learning about history is an exciting and rewarding activity, and they are having fun preserving their heritage and integrating it into their leisure activities.

Gov. Ann Richards has declared May 10-16 Historic Preservation Week in Texas, and communities across the state will be joining in the 20th annual celebration of the event which is cosponsored by the Texas Historical Commission and the National Trust for Historic Preservation. The theme of this year's Preservation Week celebration is "Preservation Brings History to Life."

Texans in small and large communities alike will be calling attention to their local National Register landmarks, Recorded Texas Historic Landmarks, and other historic sites and structures with tours and commemorative ceremonies. They will be sponsoring exhibits for school children and adults and transforming local businesses into storefront museums.

"Preservation Week activities give even more people the opportunity to discover their diverse heritage in authentic settings," said Curtis Tunnell executive director of the Texas Historical Commission. "When children or adults visit one of Texas' many restored train depots that are now local history museums, for example, their experience propels the past into the present." he added. Each time someone visits a historic landmark or site, witnesses a historic reenactment of a famous event or reads the text on one of the thousands of Official Texas Historical Markers scattered around the state, history comes to life.

Preservation is part of an ongoing reawakening of historical awareness across Texas. For example, a community in South Texas recently transformed an abandoned public electric generating plant into a beautiful library; the town's first a historic jail in another part of the state has been restored for use as a regional performing arts center; and a group of steam train enthusiasts in Austin has purchased and restored a retired locomotive to establish a tourist train through Central Texas' scenic Hill Country. In addition, each year hundreds of school children and adults participate in week-long archeological excavations alongside professionals.

The Texas Historical Commission urges Texans to contact their local historic preservation organizations for scheduled activities or to initiate their own celebrations. The Texas Historical Commission is the state agency for historic preservation. It oversees preservation efforts by placing historical markers, working with cities and towns to revitalize their central business district, identifying and protecting archeological sites, and working with county historical commissions around the state in various preservation projects. The National Trust for Historic Preservation is a nonprofit membership organization dedicated to the preservation of historic buildings, districts, and maritime resources in the country.

Social Security Update

If you continue to work full-time past age 65, you may increase your basic Social Security retirement benefit in two ways. First, for each month that you do not receive a benefit - until the month in which you reach age 70 - your benefit amount will automatically increase.

Second, you will be adding years of high earnings to your Social Security record, and these earnings may result in higher benefits.

Under the delayed retirement credit provisions, if you will be 65 this year or in 1993 and you continue to work, your benefit amount will increase 4 percent per year.

By age 70, your Social Security benefit will be 20 percent higher than it would have been if you began receiving monthly benefits at age 65.

If you're like many people who continue to work after age 65, your most recent earnings are your highest earnings and continuing to work adds them to your Social Security record. Because benefits are based on earnings averaged over most of your working career, higher lifetime earnings result in higher benefits.

One important point to remember is that if you decide to delay retirement, you should be sure to sign up for Medicare by age 65. You need to contact Social Security about 3 months before your 65th birthday to sign up for Medicare hospital insurance (Part A).

And, you also need to let Social Security know if you want to apply for medical insurance (Part B). Medical insurance may cost more if you delay applying for it. If you or your spouse are covered under an employer health plan, check with Social Security to discuss your options for Medicare enrollment. You do not need to be retired to enroll for either part of Medicare, but you do need to let Social Security know if you want to enroll.

For more information about your retirement benefit options, call Social Security's toll-free number, 1-800-772-1213, any business day from 7:00 a.m. to 7:00 p.m. or visit your local Social Security Office.

Eldorado Spotlight

Allison Rae Schleicher, Jr.

This week our spotlight shines on Allison Schleicher. Allison is a resident of Cape Carl, Florida and Alford, Massachusetts.

Mr. Schleicher recently visited Schleicher County after spotting the name on an Atlas.

He doesn't know whether the founder of Schleicher County is of the same family as he is, but he was interested in visiting the county bearing the same name. Mr. Schleicher's grandfather, Frank, had 12 brothers. Between 1850 and 1870 they all went west except for him.

Mr. Schleicher is a retired engineer. He was married to Margaret Edith Schauwecker, and has two children and three grandchildren.

His mailing address is: 130 N. Edgremont Rd., Alford, Mass. 01230 and 1716 S.E. 39th St., Cape Carl, Fl. 33904.

Water Update

Texas and Southwestern Cattle Raisers Association, a livestock trade group whose members control millions of acres of land and the water beneath it, has asked a Travis County state judge to reverse an April 15 decision by the Texas Water Commission that took the vested property rights of landowners in the Edwards Aquifer region without due process or compensation.

The Edwards Aquifer is the major source of ground water for all or part of Kinney, Uvalde, Medina, Atascosa, Bexar, Comal and Hays counties. The City of San Antonio in Bexar also is a principal user of water from the Edwards.

Surface owners in Texas can pump ground water under the state's "rule of capture" law, a part of Texas case law supported by the courts and the Legislature for decades.

When various water user groups refused an April 14 deadline to sign off on a Texas Water Commission interim management plan for the Edwards Aquifer, the state regulatory agency asserted control over the ground water in the aquifer by declaring the Edwards an underground river, subject to immediate state control. Commission officials also issued emergency regulations requiring all owners of water rights in the Edwards Aquifer to file with the Commission for a water use permit. A partial moratorium on the drilling of new wells in the aquifer was issued at the same time.

On May 1, TSCRA intervened in GBR v. Texas Farm Bureau, Danny McFadden, and City of San Antonio, to oppose the Guadalupe-Blanco River Authority's request for a declaratory judgment confirming the Water Commission's decision to declare the aquifer an underground river.

TSCRA intervened in GBR v. Texas Farm Bureau, Danny McFadden, and City of San Antonio, to oppose the Guadalupe-Blanco River Authority's request for a declaratory judgment confirming the Water Commission's decision to declare the aquifer an underground river.

"Texas and Southwestern was formed 115 years ago to protect property rights. We find ourselves on the courthouse steps today in a historic struggle to protect private property rights, in this case, ground water. Our action is for and on the behalf of landowners over and beyond the besieged boundaries of the Edwards Aquifer, said John W. Jones, TSCRA president and Brady ranchman.

"We believe the Texas Water Commission is guilty of excessive force. Agency officials and staff have ordered us to not believe what our eyes see (an aquifer), but what they tell us (an underground river)," Jones said. "A stroke of a pen overturning 150 years of water law is an inexcusable act of bureaucratic impudence and impertinence. No one in this state can rest easy until this seizure of private property without due process or compensation by state regulators is reversed."

Jones said the cattlemen's group is unmoved by threats from state officials that had they not acted "the federal bogeyman would hammer us into submission." He was referring to a federal lawsuit in Midland that asks the US Fish and Wildlife Service to take over the Edwards Aquifer to protect certain endangered species in Comal Springs in Hays County.

"We don't believe it is the place of the state or the federal government to regulate ground water in Texas," Jones said. "If landowners and the Texas Legislature determine that regulation is needed, then local underground water conservation districts may be created. That is why we have them in the first place to protect vital ground water supplies."

In stepping into the legal fray over the Edwards Aquifer, TSCRA is asking the Travis County judge to declare, among other things, that:

1) the Water Commission is bound by a decision made 35 years ago by its predecessor, the Board of Water Engineers, in which Subdivision One of the Edwards Aquifer was designated as underground water reservoir. This designation should not be changed in the absence of conditions which would support such a change;

2) the so-called finding by the Commission that an emergency exists is illegal and unsupported by the Administrative Procedure and Texas Register Act (APATRA);

3) the action of the Commission constitutes a taking of vested property rights without due process; and

4) the Commission lacks power and authority to adjudicate title to Underground water.

Texas Hospital Week

Gov. Ann Richards has designated May 10-16 as Texas Hospital Week, coinciding with the national designation to recognize the nation's hospitals.

This year's theme, "Round the Clock Health Care," emphasizes that various types of hospitals are available 24-hours, ready to treat an unexpected illness, injury or a lingering health problem. In the proclamation, Richards notes that facilities are available to assist with any medical need, from winter flu and summer heat stroke to chemical dependency, psychiatric problems, rehabilitation or home health services.

"Hospitals are good community citizens and major employers, and health care workers are dedicated, caring professionals," Richards states in the proclamation. "It is fitting that we salute Texas hospitals and their employees for the around-the-clock care they provide. We should recognize Texans across the state who support hospitals by volunteering their time, using hospital services and programs, and making charitable contributions."

Texas Hospital Week is a time to recognize the dedicated people who deliver hospital services to Texans, said Terry Townsend, CAE, president of the Texas Hospital Association.

The hospital's mission can be accomplished only by a team approach, which includes doctors, hospital employees, volunteers, board members and benefactors," Townsend said. "All team members play a vital role in achieving the overall goal of providing the patient with quality health care services."

Texas Hospital Week is celebrated in conjunction with National Hospital Week, which originated in 1921. A hospital magazine editor selected May 12, Florence Nightingale's birthdate, as a special day for communities to get to know their hospitals. In 1924, the American Hospital Association assumed sponsorship of National Hospital Day, and in 1953 it extended the celebration to National Hospital Week.

Texas Hospital Week is sponsored by the Texas Hospital Association, the Austin-based trade association that represents 81 percent of Texas hospitals.

School Districts Report Appraised Value

Texas school districts report that the appraised value of all property on their tax rolls rose by 2.5 percent in 1991, from $651 billion to more than $667 billion, Stab Comptroller John Sharp says.

This data-along with a regional analysis of property by category-is contained in the latest issue of Statement, a monthly publication of the Comptroller's Property Tax Division.

"Texas homeowners generally saw stabilization in the values of their residences last year," Sharp said. "Along the Gulf Coast, there was a 5 percent hike in home values, while school districts along the Rio Grande recorded more than a 2.5 percent increase in appraised value of single-family residential property."

"In the Metroplex, home values rose about 1 percent, and in East Texas they increased by slightly less than 2 percent. On the Texas Plains, home values remained the same, while in the Central Corridor, homeowners saw about a 1 percent decline in their property values," Sharp said.

According to the report, school districts along the Texas Gulf Coast led all other regions of the state, reporting a 3.8 percent hike in the overall value of their appraised property.

"The 32-county Gulf Coast region-with more than one-third of the state's property wealth-saw overall property values increase from almost $217 billion to more than $225 billion last year," Sharp said.

Single-family residences-representing more than 34 percent of the Gulf Coast's total value-were up by more than 5 percent last year.

Harris County led the state with the greatest dollar increase in property value last year, from about $113 billion to more than $118 billion, an almost 5-percent hike.

Of the top 10 value-gaining counties in Texas, seven are located along the Gulf Coast. They are Calhoun, Brazoria, Fort Bend, Galveston, Harris, Jefferson and Montgomery counties.

Counties along the Rio Grande and in East Texas saw small declines of about 1.6 percent and about 1 percent, respectively, in their overall property values.

Frio County led those along the Texas-Mexico border with the largest percentage increase in property values, rising by more than 28 percent from $613 million to $789 million. Other counties in the region that showed more than 10 percent increase in values were Zavala, Culberson and Jeff Davis.

On the other hand, overall property values in Central Texas dropped by almost 3 percent, while values in both the Dallas-Fort Worth Metroplex and on the Texas Plains declined by less than 1 percent.

Dallas County experienced a $2.1 billion reduction in property values-the largest dollar amount lost by any county in Texas. When comparing percentage increases, King County, east of Lubbock, led the state with a 46-percent jump in appraised value, from $370 million to $542 million.

SCMC Remodeling Lobby

by Tonya Mahanay

Schleicher County Medical Center is currently remodeling the front lobby. After 24 years of use, the board, family of patients, and other individuals have committed to totally remodeling the front lobby of the Nursing Home with coordinating furniture.

The new furnishings will be much more conducive to entertaining residents, family and visiting. Colored sketches of new furnishings are on display in the front lobby area. These sketches have been produced by Pamela Wood, an Interior Designer of National Furniture.

We are accepting donations, as the new furnishings will cost $3500. The ladies auxiliary recently held a bake sale with the total proceeds going to the remodeling project.

Individuals, board members, family members and friends have already pledged their donations. However, more donations are needed to meet our goal.

Texas Economy Picking Up

While Texas escaped most of the crippling effects of the extended national slump, the state still saw a slowing in the pace of expansion that started in the late 1980s.

"A combination of a weak national economy, significant and rapid cuts in defense spending, and a soft petroleum sector has slowed the state's growth. But momentum will pick up Texas in 1993 and 1994. While the national recovery is underway, it will not be enough to provide significant near-term stimulus to regional business conditions," said Dr. Perryman, President of Perryman Consultants, Inc., a large economic forecasting and consulting firm with offices in Waco, Dallas, and Washington, D.C.

The following Texas economic analysis reflects a modest recovery and the price of oil (West Texas Intermediate crude) remaining in the $17-$23 per barrel range through the end of 1994.

*Nominal Gross Product advances at a compounded yearly rate of almost 7.2% from 1991 to 1994. Real Gross Area Product the most common measure of overall business conditions used in the world, improves at a 2.8% annual rate. This expansion reflects the recent slowdown in overall state activity.

*Nominal (current dollar) Personal Income rises at 6.6% yearly pace, with Real (inflation-adjusted) income increasing by about 2.5% per year.

*Employment growth occurs at an annual rate of about 2.1% with the most significant strength being towards the end of 1994.

*The projected Employment expansion is enough to bring reductions in the Unemployment rate to the 5.6% level by the end of 1994. *Population growth happens at a 1.4% yearly pace, showing modest immigration to the state during the next three years.

*Productivity (real output per worker) advances at a rate of 0.6% in our latest forecast.

*The Rotary Rig Count, which has recently reached historic lows, sees modest improvements to slightly above 300 by the end of 1994. This level of drilling activity is less than 25% of the peak that happened at the height of the oil boom in the early 1980s.

*The Texas Consumer Price Index is projected to increase at a 4.0% annual pace during the next three years. The somewhat higher rates of inflation in Texas than those found in other parts of other parts of the country reflect the recovery of local real estate markets are compared to substantial declines in other parts of the country.

*Housing Permits continue the pattern of increases that has been established lately. Increases of almost 80,000 single and multi-family units on an annual basis are expected and expanded by the end of 1994.

*Retail Sales activity improves at a compounded yearly rate of 7.0%. Sales activity is enhanced by gains in employment and income across Texas.

*The Texas Regional Business Cycle indicates a relatively stable pattern through 1994. The sensitivity of the state to national business fluctuations is not showing a market trend in either direction right now.

*Standards of living are improving for Texans. Gains are observed on a real per capita basis in several indicators of overall activity, including Output, Income, and Sales.

*Projected gains in real output during the next three years are 1.1% in Mining; 2.6% in Construction; 3.6% in Wholesale and Retail Trade; 1.9% in Finance, Insurance, and Real Estate; 3.1% in Durable Manufacturing; almost 2.1% in Non-durable Manufacturing; 4.2% in Services; 3.2% in Government; 3.0% in Transportation, Communication, and Utilities; and 3.5% in Agriculture.

"These results show that the economic outlook for Texas is reasonably optimistic. The state will benefit from a more robust national economy and strength in key growth industries. The prospects are encouraging," said Dr. Perryman.

Lions Club Donates Bluebonnet Books To Public Library

The Eldorado Lions Club donated money for Texas Bluebonnet Award Books to the Schleicher County Public Library.

The books were given in memory of Dick Preston, a long-time Lions Club member and a Library Board Member for many years.

The Texas Bluebonnet Award is designed to encourage Texas children to read more books, to explore a variety of current books, to develop powers of discrimination, and to identify their favorite books through the voting process.

The Texas Bluebonnet Award, a project of the Texas Library Association, is sponsored by the Texas Association of School Librarians and the Children's Round Table, two units of the Library Association. The program is administered by a committee of seven which includes school and public librarians and a coordinator.

Students in grades 3-6 are encouraged to read books from an annual master list of titles. Those children who read five or more books on the master list (or who hear them read aloud) are eligible to vote in January for their favorite books.

The author of the book voted the favorite in the statewide vote is honored with a medallion presented at the Texas Library Association spring conference. Children who participated in the reading and voting are selected by random drawing to present the author's award.

Both school and public librarians are encouraged to participate in Texas Bluebonnet Award activities; however, registration and voting are limited to schools.

"Stop The Silence"

On Monday, May 11 at 7 p.m. on the steps of the Tom Green County Courthouse, the Children's Advocacy Center sponsored a rally to "STOP THE SILENCE" in our community on the issue of child abuse.

The figures for 1991 have just been released and show 1,807 cases of child abuse and physical abuse were reported in Tom Green County. This represents a 22% increase over the 1990 figure.

The goal of the "STOP THE SILENCE" Rally is to raise awareness of how many children are trapped by the silence that surrounds child abuse - the silence that is often demanded by the abuser, and the relative silence of the community at large to respond to this growing problem.

The "STOP THE SILENCE" Rally was an opportunity for people concerned about child abuse to help position this issue as a priority in our community.

For more information about the Children's Advocacy Center, contact Kay Noelke at 944-9666.

Boys Ranch Sunday

Good food, fun and entertainment for the family are the agenda for Boys Ranch Sunday set for May 17, from 11 a.m. to 4 p.m., at West Texas Boys Ranch. The family festival will be hosted this year by the WTBR Board of Directors with Larry Garvin and Wayne Coker as co-chairman.

The day's activities will get under way with a barbecue lunch served from 11:30 a.m. to 2:00 p.m.

SCISD Board Meets

The regular meeting of the Board of Trustees of Schleicher county Independent School District was held on May 11, 1992, at 6:00 p.m. in the Administration Building.

The meeting was called to order by Phil McCormick, President of the Board. New members, Ilse Williams and Scott McGregor were sworn in by Dr. Blair, and officers were elected as follows: Phil McCormick, president and Lynn Williams, vice-president. Board members appointed Judy Blair to be secretary.

After extensive discussion concerning costs and the possibilities for a statewide education financing plan, board members agreed that bids for the cafeteria renovation and a new gym be taken on June 4, 1992. Two base bids will be taken, one for the cafeteria renovation and one for the new gym, with alternate bids for such items as dressing rooms. The cafeteria renovation would have a fifteen-day acceptance period and the gym and alternates would have a 60 day acceptance period.

Larry Garvin met with the board to discuss employee accident insurance coverage. Board members requested that he refigure the premium based on the district's summer employees.

Elementary Principal, Harold Steele reported that the Shannon Harbor Relays will be held on May 14th and the Elementary Awards Assembly will be on May 21st at 1:00 p.m. He proposed the extending of the Pre-kindergarten program to a full day program. This would allow some additional five year olds who are not developmentally ready for kindergarten to participate in the program. The program will be called KIDS and will feature a developmentally appropriate curriculum of play-type activities rather than academically oriented activities. Board members voted unanimously to adopt the KIDS program.

In other information items, Dr. Blair reported that the latest financial report that the school district has received from Austin shows a $35,256 loss in funds to SCISD due to a statewide shortfall in tax revenue. He also informed board members that the Texas Education Agency has issued a report indicating that the SCISD administrative cost per weighted student is $75 as compared to a statewide average administrative expense of $99.

Board members adopted the school calendar as presented and agreed to move the regular June board meeting to Monday, June 15, 1992.

Superintendent Blair informed board members that on Friday, April 24, he was visited by Mr. Zambrano of the U.S. Dept. of Justice. Mr. Zambrano said that he had met for the second time with a group of local representatives of the Hispanic community who feel that Hispanics are under-represented at the administrative and classroom teaching levels and non-represented at the board level in SCISD. Mr. Zambrano requested a meeting with Dr. Blair and a group representing the school, himself and representatives of the Hispanic community at some future date to discuss possible solutions, including single-member districts, filling any vacant board positions with Hispanics, hiring Hispanic administrators and teachers, better counseling of Hispanic students, and the creation of an advisory committee to the board representing the Hispanic community. Board members agreed to contact him and express their willingness to meet.

Dr. Blair reported that the Comprehensive Safety Program Handbook has been completed and is available for review.

Under action items, board members approved as submitted the state mandated Site-Based Decision Making plan, a contract with the Region XV Education Service Center for media services for the 1992-93 school year, the financial expenditures for the month of April, the Chapter 1 and Chapter 2 programs for the 1992-93 school year, and a waiver request to be submitted to TEA to no longer teach Consumer Math, Fundamentals of Math, and Correlated Language Arts (below-level courses). These courses will be replaced by on-level instruction for all students, since all students are expected to pass the exit level TAAS (Texas Assessment of Academic Skills) test before they are allowed to graduate.

Board members also agreed to deed to the county, with the same restrictions as in the previously deeded rodeo arena land, the triangular shaped piece of land near the rodeo arena.

Dr. Blair was appointed to serve on the Region XV Regional Advisory Committee; members approved the 1992-93 Discipline Management Plan as submitted, and board policy was updated by the adoption of the Texas Association of School Boards' Localized Update 41.

No action was taken on a request by Melva Santellano for a salary increase; however, the request will be considered at regular budget time.

The final action of the board was to employ Debbie Griffin as an elementary teacher.

Beta Sigma Phi Update

by Glenda Harris

Beta Sigma Phi met on Monday, May 11th with all members repeating the Opening Ritual. The Founder's Day success was discussed and at this time we wish to make a correction to last weeks article. The pledges of the year were shared by Linda Lindsey and Charlotte Crain, not Charlotte Steele. We apologize for the error.

We then discussed the nominations for the Beta Sigma Phi state project. Kylee is the 22 month old daughter of a Midland Beta Sigma Phi member. She has developed tumors in her kidneys. If this project is chosen as the state project, money will be sent to help defray a year of surgeries and chemotherapy.

The next item of business was a bake sale that we are having with the proceeds to go to a fellow member, Tammy Worley. Tammy and her husband, Danny, have a 2 year old daughter, Ashlyn, who is having to undergo extensive tests and therapy to diagnose a yet unnamed disease. The money from this bake sale will go to help defray some expenses that are not covered by insurance. The bake sale will be held on Thursday, May 28th, of the corner across from the bank and will begin at 8:00 a.m. This will be everyone's chance to help feed the company coming in for graduation and help a worthwhile cause.

President Dorothy Dacy then passed around the different committee assignment sheets and everyone signed up to do their part for next year.

Following the adjournment of the business meeting, the Closing Ritual was repeated and refreshments were served.

Our next meeting will be held on Monday, May 25th.

Property Tax Protest and Appeal Procedures

The law gives property owners the right to protest actions concerning their property tax appraisals. You may follow these appeal procedures if you have a concern about:

- * the value placed on your property
- * any exemptions that may apply to you
- * the cancellation of an agricultural appraisal
- * the taxable status of your property
- * the local governments which should be taxing your property
- * any action taken by the appraisal district that adversely affected you.

More information

You can get more information by contacting your local appraisal district office at 1 West Warner Avenue or by calling 853-2617.

You can also get a pamphlet describing how to prepare a protest from the appraisal district or from the State Comptroller's Property Tax Division at 4301 Westbank Drive Building B, Suite 100, Austin, Texas 78746-6565.

Deadline for Filing Protests with the ARB*

Usual Deadline
On or before May 31 (or 30 days after a notice of appraised value was mailed to you, whichever is later).

Late protests are allowed if you miss the usual deadline for good cause. Good cause is some reason beyond your control, like a medical emergency. The ARB decides whether you have good cause.

Late protests are due the day before the appraisal review board approves records for the year. Contact your appraisal district for more information.

Special Deadlines

For change of use (the appraisal district informed you that you are losing agricultural appraisal because you changed the use of your land), the deadline is before the 30th day after the notice of the determination was mailed to you.

For ARB changes (the ARB has informed you of a change that increases your tax liability and the change didn't result from a protest you filed), the deadline is before the 30th day after the notice of the determination was mailed to you.

If you believe the appraisal district or ARB should have sent you a notice and did not, you may file a protest until the day before taxes become delinquent (usually February 1). The ARB decides whether it will hear your case based on evidence about whether a required notice was mailed to you.

* The deadline is postponed to the next business day if it falls on a weekend or holiday.

Rabies Clinic Held

On Saturday, May 9th, 140 dogs and 46 cats were vaccinated at the Rabies Clinic that was held on the square. "There were no dog fights and only a few cats escaped," stated Dr. William Edmiston. "The high point of the day was when the noon fire whistle went off and we had 15-20 dogs who all started howling."

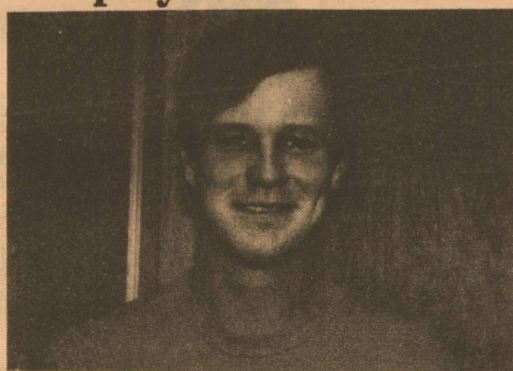

There will be another rabies clinic held today from 5:00-8:00 p.m. on the back part of the Memorial Building. The cost is $5.00 per animal for the rabies vaccination.

"We have not had any rabies cases in a couple of weeks, so it may be slowing down," commented Dr. Edmiston.

The hospital has given pre-exposure vaccine to several persons. Vaccine is still available for anyone interested.

UNITED ARTISTS

The Student Writer

A new program, THE STUDENT WRITER, has been established in conjunction with the Eldorado Success newspaper. We have set up a fund through which student articles published by the paper will be rewarded with a small stipend of between $5,- and $15,-.

The program was established to help provide motivation to students to write with a purpose, by sharing their views, knowledge, or surprising ideas with others. Students from all grades may participate.

In order to be published, an article must be informative, interesting, thoughtful, and, in the case of a report, verifiable. We will be willing to publish a wide range of submissions, such as reports, academic papers, essays, poems, letters, feature stories, etc. Editing help will be available at the Success Office. We are also willing to pick up submitted articles from each campus secretary each Monday afternoon.

This is not a writing contest. Any number of well written articles may be rewarded; there is no "1st" or "2nd" prize! Through this program we hope to sponsor a bit of "real life" journalism and/or literature.

This week's paper is publishing several articles that were submitted. Students who find that their articles were published may pick up their check at the Success office or submit their address, so the checks can be mailed.

The phone number of the Success office is 853-3125.

Trip To Observatory

by Kirk Curtis - E.M.S.

Last Monday, the fifth and sixth grade Gifted and Talented Class of Eldorado Middle School left on a trip. Martha Spinks and Becky Sterling took eight children to Alpine and Fort Davis, Texas. Lesli Green, Andi Sterling, Mackenzie McCravy, Renee Edmiston, Beau Sallee, Andrew Sauer, Collier Shurley, and I all stayed at Mrs. Spink's mother's house.

Because Mrs. Spink's father, Arthur Hill, was a Texas Ranger, the home, filled with priceless items, was like a museum and very memorable.

On Tuesday, we first went to see The University of Texas McDonald Observatory to see the sun through a special telescope. We then saw the gigantic 130-inch telescope. After that we went to old Fort Davis and climbed a mountain. That was exciting!

On Wednesday, we went back to the observatory at night to see Jupiter and its four moons. Before returning, we saw the Museum of the Big Bends.

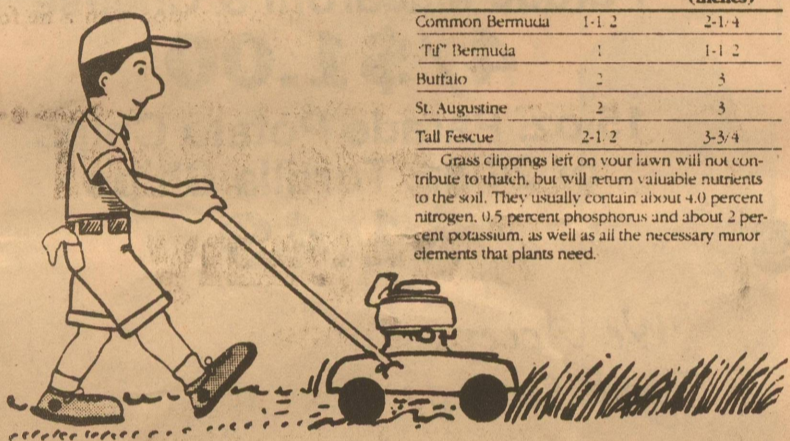

Everyone agreed it was a unique and fun experience. Thank you Mrs. Spink and Mrs. Sterling.

County Agents Report

This "Don't Bag It"

Lawn Care Plan will save you time, energy and money too!

Mowing Plan

The rule of thumb for mowing home lawns is not to remove more than one-third of the leaf surface at any one time. With this mowing schedule, you no longer will need to bag your grass clippings.

Type of grass	Mower setting (inches)	Mow when or before this height (inches)
Common Bermuda	1-1/2	2-1/4
TIF Bermuda	1	1-1/2
Buffalo	2	3
St. Augustine	2	3
Tall Fescue	2-1/2	3-3/4

Grass clippings left on your lawn will not contribute to thatch, but will return valuable nutrients to the soil. They usually contain about 4.0 percent nitrogen, 0.5 percent phosphorus and about 2 percent potassium, as well as all the necessary minor elements that plants need.

Watering Plan

Fertilizers vary in their need for water:

1. Tall Fescue requires the most water.
2. St. Augustine
3. TIF Bermuda
4. Common Bermuda
5. Buffalo (requires the least water)

During the driest period of summer, our lawns usually require about 1 inch of water every 5 to 6 days. Most hose-sprinklers apply 1/4 to 1/3 inch of water per hour, so they would need to run approximately 4 hours in one spot. If water runs off the lawn before 1 inch is applied, turn the sprinkler off, let the water soak in for about an hour, and then continue watering.

The best time to water is early morning, so less water is lost by evaporation. The worst time to water is in the evening because the lawn stays wet all night. This encourages disease development. Lawns watered too frequently tend to develop shallow root systems which may make them more susceptible to grub damage.

Fertilizing Plan

The rate of fertilizer application, the frequency of application, the ratio of nutrients in the fertilizer and the source of nitrogen all have a great effect on how fast the lawn grows.

This fertilizing plan is designed to allow the lawn to grow at a moderate rate and still have

Fertilizer ratio (NPK)	Fertilizer analysis	Application rate - pounds per 1,000 sq. ft.
4-1-2	2-4-8	8
	15-5-10	-
	21-7-14	5
or
4-1-2	16-4-8	6
	20-5-10	5
or
1-0-0	38-0-0	3
	32-0-0	3
	40-0-0	3

For slow, even growth, use a fertilizer containing either sulfur-coated urea or ureaformaldehyde as a nitrogen source rather than soluble forms. The soluble forms such as urea or ammonium sulfate tend to produce very fast growth for short periods of time.

Fertilizer Application Dates

Common Bermuda
April 15, June 1, July 15 and September 1

Buffalo
May 1 and September 1

St. Augustine
April 15, June 1 and September 1

Tall Fescue

Sonnet 1

I do not want to write this little verse,
But maybe if I try I will succeed.
There is one way where this could be much worse:
I could be assigned a thick book to read.

In English IV we do a lot of work,
And there are better ways to spend my time.
Writing poetry makes me seem a jerk,
Thinking of words that I must read and rhyme.

My mind is wondering of what I lose
By spending time working so hard on this.
I could be in the mall buying new shoes,
Watching TV, anything else--boo! hiss!

To sum up this sonnet I think I'll say,
I'm splitting. I'm cruising. I'm out to play.

by Sonja Richards - E.H.S.

HER

The purity and beauty of a friend
Makes one feel warm, secure, and safe inside.
And dreams that are a secret now I send
To this true heart, in whom I can confide

Sometimes, she can make me utterly mad,
But then, I can do the exact same thing.
She is the one I can turn to when I'm sad.
Harsh words from her cut deep, feel wrong, and sting.

She knows not the strength of my lasting love.
Best friends grow close even while they're away.
It must be in the stars way up above.
She gives me hope . . . What else is there to say?

Grab on, hold tight. I pray we never part.
Come in, invade, live close, deep in my heart.

by Jeremy Steele - E.H.S.

Wisdom In Teeth

"They must come out," my dentist said.
"But, sir, I won't enjoy the pain!"
"They are too crowded inside your head."
And all my protests were in vain.

He promised me I would not feel a thing;
Those words did shrink; my jaws did swell.
Despite the pills, I felt most everything.
For several more days I did not feel well.

My legs were weak; my head did spin!
I could not walk; I could not eat.
I tossed my cookies again and again.
And chewing my meat was quite a feat.

So regarding wisdom teeth here I stand:
"Four in the mouth is WISER than four in the hand."

7th Grade Mock Trial Held

by Chuck Fitts - E.H.S.

The seventh grade history classes of Eldorado Middle School received a first hand view of the judicial system Thursday May 7th by participating in two mock trials held in the Schleicher County Courthouse.

County Judge Johnny Griffin presided over a DWI and an assault trial. Students took roles of defendants, attorneys, jurymen, and witnesses.

Throughout the trials, Judge Griffin, with the help of County Attorney Thomas Giovannitti, explained to students how lawyers defend clients and how juries reach verdicts.

The students witnessed an actual questioning of a deputy by Mr. Giovannitti.

The project was planned and sponsored by Mrs. Julie Griffin and Coach Larry Mitchel. Mrs. Griffin explained that students do not understand about democracy or the Bill of Rights until they experience these things.

"The most important right that we as Americans have is the right to a trial by a jury of our peers. No one in this country should be afraid of or intimidated by our court system. A good understanding of the system should be made available to every student in our county," Judge Griffin said.

What's an Energy Saving Plan Home?

It's a home that gives you extra comfort plus lower energy bills. So check out the features an ESP home can offer.

Attic Ventilation

Proper ventilation controls summer heat build up and moisture accumulation in winter. This adds life to the building and its components.

Insulation

Insulation in the ceiling and walls in the amount appropriate for this area and climate keeps ESP homes cooler in summer and warmer in winter.

Air Distribution System

Correctly sized air ducts and proper placement of supply and return air are important considerations for an ESP home.

Heating and Cooling Equipment

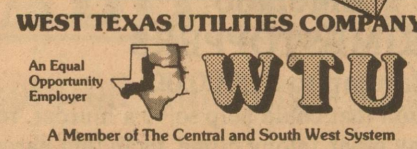

Equipment is properly sized to the structure for highest efficiency. WTU recommends the all-season electric heat pump that heats in the winter and cools in the summer for year-round savings. Call WTU for details.

Air Infiltration Control

Air infiltration control helps stop uncomfortable drafts with weatherstripping, caulking, and insulation.

Windows and Doors

Insulated or storm doors and windows greatly improve both efficiency and comfort by reducing heat gain and loss in both summer and winter.
