Clarendon College To Pre-Register August 23 - 31

The registrar's office of Clarendon College has announced that pre-registration will be held during the period of Aug. 23-31. Office hours will be from 9:00 to 3:00, Monday through Friday, and 9:00 to 12:00 on Saturday.

The purpose of pre-registration is to allow freshman students who have indicated their intention to attend Clarendon College to register, to have ample time for consultation, and to complete their schedules prior to the time of regular registration. Such an arrangement is an advantageous one, particularly for the student who often feels bewildered and frustrated with his first experience of enrolling in college, and who might find classes which he wishes to take already filled and consequently closed.

Mrs. Jean Moore, registrar, advises those students who are eligible for pre-registration to take advantage of this convenience offered by Clarendon College.

FISHING LINES

By DICK WOLFF

When spinning tackle caught on like wildfire in America a few years back, a lot of people predicted that fly rod fishing would die a quick death. Spinning tackle was easier to handle, it permitted longer casts, and fishermen were making big catches of fish on their baiting monofilament lines.

Thoughtful fishermen—particularly members of the confirmed flyrodding fraternity—disagreed. They were right. Fly fishing did drop somewhat in popularity for awhile, but for the last few years has been decidedly on the upswing. Many fishermen have found that it's fun to fish with both types of tackle... and with baitcasting rigs, too. They learned that each type of tackle has its particular advantages, and they use whichever is best suited to fishing conditions.

No type of fishing demands a greater display of skill and grace than flyrodding. And yet, fly fishing can be mastered by almost any angler. No better method has ever been devised to present a tiny fly to a wary trout, or to drop a deer hair bug inches from a pugnacious bass. Frequently fish can be taken on fly tackle when all other methods fail.

With the rebirth of interest in fresh water fly fishing, there has also been a new departure—salt water flyrodding. Big tarpon, striped bass, bonita, bonefish and blues are being regularly taken on the willowy rods, and sailfish are even occasionally landed.

To meet fishermen's renewed interest in fly fishing, The Garcia Corporation designed a whole new group of hollow fibre glass fly rods. Unlike their bamboo predecessors, the glass rods won't take a "set," and they can even be used for trolling. The new breed of flyrods run from 7-foot delicate dry-fly action rods to 9-foot, heavy duty salt water models.

New Garcia fly lines are better than ever and are easy to care for. They have special life-time coatings which make greasing and drying lines and other "nuisance" chores as outmoded as the horse and wagon. Floating lines really float, sinking lines really sink.

Garcia also has a number of knotless tapered monofilament leaders which make perfect casts easier and leader knots a thing of the past.

Flyrodding has really come of age again, and today's anglers are finding the same fishing thrills that made granddads tremble with excitement.

FLASH—Pinas Bay, Panama. The Club de Pesca de Panama has just announced that a world's record 136-pound Pacific Sailfish has been landed by an angler using fly tackle with a 12-pound-test leader!

CLOWNING AROUND—Margaret Trenkler, whose father is Freddie Trenkler, the Bouncing Ball Clown of Ice Capades, will celebrate her third birthday at the 1965 State Fair of Texas. Margaret's birthday is October 16, which always comes during the State Fair—and makes Margaret its honorary birthday girl. Last year when she found this Hampshire ram in the Sheep Building adjacent to the Ice Arena, she performed a woolly "top to bottom" cleanup job. Ice Capades will return to the 1965 exposition in Dallas, October 9 through 24.

NEWS OF CONSERVATION

Leonard Glass is cutting his alfalfa crop for the third time this year on his ranch north of Alameda. This alfalfa was planted last fall and is doing well for the first year of production. Leonard uses a roll-type sprinkler irrigation system for irrigation. He has been well satisfied with the performance of his system. He has approximately 40 acres of alfalfa. It was fertilized with 50 pounds of nitrogen and 100 pounds of phosphate. Leonard plans to have the soil tested so that accurate amounts of fertilizer can be applied for maximum production.

SOIL EROSION—Our solution for protecting our soils on slopes where water erosion occurs is (1) to increase the rainwater-intake capacity of the soil by leaving crop residue on the soil surface, soil improvement crops, crop rotations, contour farming and terraces. Terraces will protect slopes and carry excess water to natural drainages or safe outlets. Another way is (2) protect steep slopes by establishing native or improved permanent grasses. This practice has been used more in the Gray County Soil Conservation District in the past 15 years. Farmers and ranchers have established grass at the rate of 2,500 to 3,000 acres per year to protect our land. In many cases, grass may be more productive than many of our annual cash crops.

 Curtis Schaffer, district supervisor, said, "This does not mean that we have found the final answer to full control of soil erosion. Our present practices may not completely stop erosion but will reduce it more and more as conservation measures are applied."

SOIL ASSISTANCE—The Gray County Soil Conservation District provides assistance to all landowners and operators within the district which includes Gray County. This entitles all farmers and ranchers to free technical assistance in designing and laying out irrigation systems, erosion problems, grass seeding, brush control, recreation and wildlife development. For further information, contact your district supervisor: Milton Carpenter, Stan Friend, Curtis Schaffer, James Clett and W. C. Epperson, or contact the local Soil Conservation Service.

 McLean's two voting boxes tabulated the deciding votes that passed the $350,000 bond issue to enlarge Highland General Hospital in Pampa and to construct a smaller hospital in McLean, in the July 30 election.

Of the $350,000 bond issue, $50,000 will be used to construct a small graded under the supervision of the hospital here, which will be operated by county hospital board.

The 15th anniversary of the McLean Public Library was celebrated here Tuesday. Open house was held from 10 in the morning until 5 in the afternoon.

Beautiful floral arrangements contributed by Mrs. Charles Cooke, Mrs. W. E. Bogan, Mrs. Bob Black and Mrs. Jess Kemp were placed throughout the building.

Over 60 persons signed the register, not including members of the 1943-44 graduating class who were present.

Mr. and Mrs. C. O. Goodman announce the marriage of their daughter, Marjorie, to J. D. Fish, son of Mrs. J. D. Fish of Alameda.

The ceremony was performed in the Claborn home, Aug. 9, at 7 p.m., J. C. Claborn, justice of the peace, performing the ceremony. Attending the wedding were Mr. and Mrs. Goodman and Mrs. Claborn.

The couple left immediately after the ceremony on a wedding trip. They will make their home in McLean, where Mr. Fish is serving as constable.

 Mrs. Jack Henley called her husband Tuesday afternoon, saying that there was a snake in the bathroom, and when Mr. Henley arrived he killed a diamond back rattler measuring 39 1/2 inches long, with nine rattles.

This is one of the first diamond back rattlers seen here and it is not known how the snake entered the house.

Mr. Henley brought the snake to the News office, and while a snake story is a change from fish stories, we don't mind saying that somehow we prefer fish stories.

Curbs and gutters are being put in on several streets preparatory to paving operations.

Cartwright Reunion Held at Stephenville

Visiting recently with Mrs. Pearl Matthews were her daughter and husband, Mr. and Mrs. Deb Smith and their grandson, Tony, of Sunnyvale, Calif.; and her sister, Mrs. Lucile Martin, her daughter, Mrs. Tina Payne, and children, Beverly and Scotty, of Palo Alto, Calif.

Mrs. Matthews, her son, W. E., and the out-of-town visitors, attended the reunion of the Cartwright family at Stephenville, and spent a weekend with Mrs. Matthews' and Mrs. Martin's brother and sister, Raymond Cartwright and Mrs. Bertha Fobes.

Forty-one members of the Cartwright family met for the reunion. A basket lunch was served and memorial services were held for those who had passed away since the last gathering.

Mrs. Matthews reports a very enjoyable gathering, with many memories that will remain until the next annual reunion.

CARE OF SPRAY RIG
 Clyde Magee and I were discussing the manner in which a spray rig should be cared for after its use in the summer.

One of the first things that should be done is to rinse the machine out thoroughly with clear water. Then run fresh water through the pump and nozzles to get out all chemicals. Next disconnect the two hoses that attach to the pump.

On the inlet side pour in a light grade oil and turn the pump by hand until it runs through to the outlet side. Then connect the hose so no foreign matter will collect. Next take all the nozzles, tips and screws off and place in a pint jar of light oil and kerosene. Place these in your tank for convenient storage, providing you have one of the large openings on your tank. Then wrap with plastic tape or other material the openings in the boom. This will save you a day of cleaning a spray rig and will make the rig last indefinitely.

Let's Go Fishin' BY BOB BREWSTER Outdoor Editor, Mercury Outboards

ADVICE TO THE RESORT-BOUND . . .
 Untold thousands of fishing licenses will be sold in the next month to vacationers who will try their luck in summer resort waters during those "two weeks off."

The vast majority of once-a-year anglers will find this fishing pleasant, but catches may be lean. To assist these folks, the experts at Mercury outboards, offer the following advice:

Fish early—the crack of dawn is generally the most productive time, not because of surface activity that develops later in the day, but because water temperatures are at their lowest point.

Tepid waters that delight swimmers and water skiers are unsuited to game fish. So even without disturbances going on overhead, fish still will seek the more temperate depths. During night, as the water loses some of its heat, fish make feeding forays into the food-filled shallows.

Fish late — for this reason, evening and night-time temperatures are most favorable to many species. Bass and walleye, particularly, are extremely active during the dark hours. This is the best time to fish for them in summer, resort area or not.

Fish deep—if you do fish during midday, go down into the depths where temperatures and oxygen levels are more tolerable to the quarry. By drifting slowly with a bottom bumping minnow, good catches may be taken.

Compared to other places and other seasons, resort area fishing in mid-summer is usually quite challenging, agree the Mercury lads. But, they add, it probably wouldn't be much different if the resorts weren't there. Time of year and type of water pose the problem.

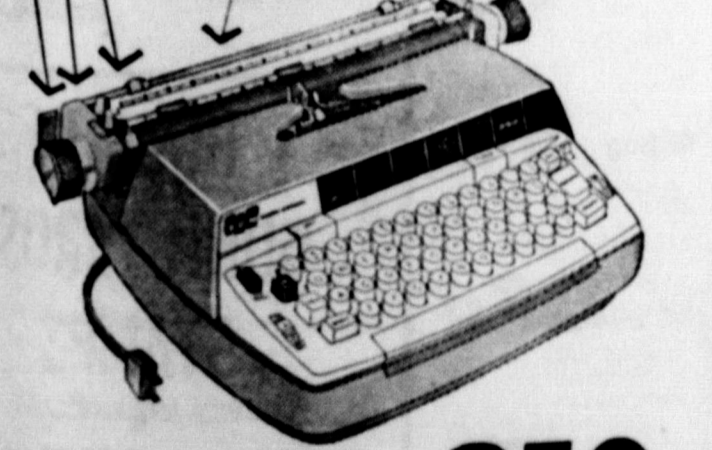

Even with these general rules you shouldn't expect too much. But be ready when the unexpected happens . . . it usually does!

WASHINGTON AND
"SMALL BUSINESS"

By C. WILSON HARDER

Up until fairly recently, the taxing objective of the American government was to secure revenue. But now there has been grafted onto the taxing system the principle of using taxes to regulate the economy.

Recent experience shows that when government seeks to adjust economic conditions by tax policies, there is a constant conflict between economic sense and political expediency. In the end, so far, political expediency has won.

According to the information being gathered all this year by a special field survey conducted by the National Federation of Independent Business, the 1964 income tax cut has not been considered very helpful by the nation's independent businessmen.

The independent business, as a matter of equity, voted through the Federation in favor of the removal of excise taxes, but there is still a great question how helpful this move will be.

Now there is a great deal of static being set up in Foggy Bottom about a tax measure that would relieve those considered in poverty income levels from paying any tax.

On the other hand, there seems little official concern over the fact that it does cost a family more than $600 per year to raise a child. Rep. Walter Rogers of Texas realizes this fact and has introduced a bill to raise the personal exemption to $1000. In a nationwide vote on this bill conducted by the Federation, 83% of the independent businessmen favor such a means as common sense, practical tax relief.

In addition, for several years, men such as Senator John Sparkman of Alabama, Rep. Charles Chamberlain of Michigan, Rep. Abraham Multer of New York have sought to get passed the so-called "plow-back" allowance.

Briefly, this would permit any business to plow back into the business tax free up to 10% of a year's profit, to a maximum of $30,000 to expand.

Now it is recognized that a main cause of poverty is a sufficient lack of jobs, and this situation is being aggravated by the automation programs in huge industry which releases men to unemployment.

On the other hand, nationwide surveys being conducted by the Federation show clearly that independent business, given a chance, will expand, and create more jobs.

The best example of this fact is shown by the data gathered by this survey. Many independent business firms were able to utilize the small business tax reform act passed in 1958. In one year, some 32% expanded with the result that in 1965 there are over 3,500,000 more employees in small business than there were in 1964.

It is to be hoped that future tax cuts will be predicated on an awareness of the new jobs that will be created, not the votes that may be influenced.
