State Capital NEWS

By Vern Sanford

Railroad Commission turned up the oil allowable record high 48 per cent of total—retroactive to July 1 to meet demands created by Middle East shoot-out.

Commission's extraordinary month emergency order was third of its kind since Arab oil cut-off. It boosted the allowable to 3,830,560 barrels a day—higher than during the last part of the 1967 Suez oil crisis and probably the highest in wide-open production days when producers were encouraged to build up war-torn crude supplies.

New increase adds 131,000 barrels a day to July allowable, which was raised to 42.9 per cent on the first of the month. Purchasers told the commission added production was necessary.

Allowable was 33.8 per cent in the Arab-Israeli shooting war in June. Commission cut it slightly—to 35.9 per cent in mid-June, retroactive June 1, and on July 1 announced the 42.9 per cent order. August allowable is due to be set this week.

Since the percentage factor was first used in 1963, the 37.5 per cent-of-potential production is the highest adjustment used in the present Middle East crisis.

In addition to the major effect on the state's general economy, steadily climbing allowable appears likely to increase Texas' permanent tax income substantially. It has been estimated that the July 1 order would add a $53,617 a day increase in state tax income—or a total of $1,800,000 through this month. Obviously, the increase now will be greater.

If the crisis continues for several months, the added income will be a major factor in shaping special session tax bills next year.

Meanwhile, Chairman Jim C. Long emphasized that the commission is determined to avoid repetition of the situation that followed the Suez emergency when oil industry suffered for two and a half years working off surplus stocks which piled up as a result of the big allowable boost a decade ago.

APPOINTMENTS ANNOUNCED—Gov. John Connally announced a mountain of major and minor appointments and reappointments before departing for a six weeks big game hunt in Africa.

Among them were the following that are of interest to people in this part of the state:

Marshall Formby of Plainview as Texas Tech College board of directors; Dick Fowler of Memphis, state board of pharmacy; E. Raymond Evans of Tulsa, to state seed and plant board; O. E. Stark of Quitaque, Carl Hill Parnell, Fred Mercer of Silveston and Arville Settiff of Turkey, to flood control and irrigation district board.

AG OPINIONS—State can pay for telephones and rent electric typewriters for use by legislators in their home district offices, Atty. Gen Crawford Martin has ruled.

In other opinions, Martin concluded that:

New law reorganizing Texas National Guard Army Board and extending terms of members to six years is constitutional. Dallas County auditor has authority jointly with the county's hospital administrator to establish and keep accounting procedures for the Dallas hospital district subject to board of managers' approval.

Lee County attorney and 36th district attorney must report to district courts and county clerks all their collections of public funds (or file reports if they have received none).

Miss Leona Forbes Resigns From McLean School

The McLean school board has accepted with regret the resignation of another excellent teacher of McLean school system, Miss Leona M. Forbes.

Miss Forbes has taught in the McLean schools for 20 years, starting in the fall of 1947. Before coming to McLean she had taught seven years in New Mexico schools.

In submitting her resignation to the school board, she made the following statement:

"It is with extreme regret on my part, that I find it necessary to submit the following decision relative to my position as a teacher on the school faculty for the coming year. In fact, it has been the most difficult decision of all my experience.

"I am herewith resigning my position as a member of the McLean school faculty for the year 1967-1968. I had hoped that this decision would not be necessary for one more year. However, it seems that Father Time, Mother Nature and prevailing circumstances have decreed otherwise."

She said, "I can sincerely say, I do not know of another place where I could have served these 20 years as a teacher in a more pleasant and congenial environment than here in McLean."

"I shall ever remain your most humble and indebted servant. May God's richest blessings rest upon you and yours is my parting salutation to each of you who have been so kind and gracious to me."

Jack Riley, school superintendent, stated this week that "The loss of Miss Forbes will be felt in the years to come, as it is becoming increasingly difficult to find capable and dedicated teachers."

There have been 21 known rabies cases in Texas this year, according to Texas Veterinary Medical Association.

Gray County S.C.D. NEWS

By LYNN McDANIEL

We are finally getting the moisture and I hear several complaints that they wish it would quit raining so that the rest of the maize could be planted. Several fields located over the county still haven't been planted. Lots of the wheat land hasn't been plowed.

Rain is one thing we cannot turn down. This is the item we need most in Gray County to increase the productivity of our cropland and rangeland.

We should be trying to keep the rain on the ground where it falls so we will have the moisture to produce grass and crops. Cover, whether dead or alive, on top of the land is the best protection we can provide the soil.

The sloping cropland should have covers and much of it needs terraces also.

Terraces hold the moisture on the land longer so that the soil has a longer period of time in which to soak up the moisture. Terraces also break up the concentration of water. This eliminates large volumes of water from washing the land.

Instead of wishing the rains would stop, more thought should be made about how we can keep all the moisture that falls and store it in the soil for future use.

sleep. Eat your regular diet and don't go overboard on cold cuts and salads unless you like them anyway.

Get up early in the morning to do your heavy work on the lawn or garden. Or work at dusk in the evening, but try to avoid heavy exertion during the hottest hours of the day. There is a sound physical reason behind the siesta custom of the tropics.

You need exercise in the summer as well as in the winter, but don't overdo it, especially on extra hot days. Don't overdo physical exertion, whether at work or at play.

The more relaxed outdoor life of the summer months has many advantages to compensate for the heat. Stay relaxed and use common sense and you can beat the heat—at least somewhat.

OUTDOORS IN TEXAS

Spring and summer months always bring a rash of boating accidents.

Tragically accompanies many of them. Others are just plain fun. Some are downright stupid!

Accidents happen to large and small boats alike. Size doesn't seem to matter. For instance, on a Central Texas lake very recently a party of four were in a fast boat, having a wonderful time. The boat had lots of power in its outboard and the driver was "showing off" how he could take a short turn.

He made the turn all right. But it was "over." As he whipped the boat around, the back end went down too far. He picked up so much water the boat was swamped before he knew what had happened. Fortunately, another boat was nearby and rescued the four passengers. But they lost a lot of equipment.

One night I was loading my boat on the trailer. I had set the brakes on the car, but the ramp was wet and slick. When I started winching the boat onto the trailer the whole outfit—car, trailer and boat—started sliding back into the water. And it didn't stop! Boat, automobile and everything went into the water. The boat floated away but later was recovered. The trailer hitch broke loose and the car settled down atop the trailer.

It was a wierd looking sight, with twin beams from the burning headlights shining from the water. It was costly and it taught me a lesson. Now when I am loading a boat I always scotch the wheels of the automobile.

Up on Lake-o-Pines in East Texas recently three fishermen loaded their gear into a brand new 14-foot cartop boat which they had hauled 300 miles. The boat weighed 90 pounds. But 500 pounds of manpowwer got into the boat. When the motor started up, the front end scooped up water so fast it almost swamped the boat.

The man up front got in the middle seat and that helped some. But the boat generally was so unsteady they didn't enjoy their fishing too much. They learned this lesson: a cartop boat is fine, but don't sacrifice safety for convenience and weight. Two men can handle a 125 or 150 pound cartop boat almost as easily as a 90 pound boat. And the larger boat offers more comfort and more safety.

It also is a good idea to "keep your head" in a boat. Another fellow I know was standing up while fishing out of a boat that was absolutely safe. The wind blew it against a tree with a resulting bump.

For some reason he jumped straight up . . . and into water well over his head. He held onto his rod and reel and climbed back into the boat without ever stopping movement, giving his two fishing buddies the biggest laugh of the day. But it taught all three a good lesson. Another real danger in boating is going too fast in water where there might be some obstruction beneath the surface.

In some of the larger lakes, like Buchanan there are huge rocks, some of them just under the water line. If you hit one of these rocks or an old log going too fast, you are certain to have trouble.

Despite all warnings, however, most of us still will be careless. Before the summer season is over, there will be too many names in the obituary columns as the result of boating accidents.

So let me repeat: Be sure of your boat before you go onto the water; take strange waters easily and be sure you have approved life preservers. Preferably they should be worn, but at least they should be handy enough for every person to grab one in the event of an accident. Don't stand up in a boat unless you absolutely have to.

And above all—don't ride in any boat that is overpowered or overloaded. Both are dangerous!

SHARON GOLDSTON

Sharon Goldston To Be Honored

TWIN GORILLAS . . . These twin baby gorillas were born in the Frankfurt, Germany Zoo recently to Makula, an 11-year-old gorilla from Spanish Guinea. They were approximately four pounds each at birth. Both female, they are the first twin gorillas born in captivity.

News From County HD Agent

Dried fruit such as peaches, apricots and plums will keep a year or so when stored in a dry, cool, dark place.

Here are some food preservation tips from Jimmie Lou Walcott, Gray County home demonstration agent. Select about 6 pounds of fresh, ripe and firm fruit. Wash and drain and peel them if you wish. Then cut them in halves and remove pits.

To prevent discoloration, soak fruit 15 minutes in a solution of 3½ teaspoons sodium sulfite to one gallon water. A druggist can supply this chemical.

Arrange fruit on trays and place in 150° oven with the bottom tray 3 inches from the oven floor. Don't use the top unit in an electric oven. Prop the oven door open ½-inch if your oven is electric, or 8 inches if it is gas, to let out moisture. Alternate the trays every 1 to 2 hours.

The fruit is dry when pliable and leathery. Usually about 6 hours is required. Pieces around the edges of the tray will dry first. Remove these as soon as they are dry.

Cool the fruit and package at once. Pack the dried fruit in glass jars, plastic, metal or heavily waxed cardboard frozen food containers. Use a tight seal.

News From The LIBRARY

The summer reading program had a increase of 2 last week for a total of 29 boys and girls.

The damp weather and other reasons caused a drop in attendance for this week. There were 20 boys and girls to hear Mrs. Nelson Christie tell the stories.

Mrs. Morris Brown did a fine job last week. Mrs. Bob Dunlavy will be in charge next week.

Guy Beusley, librarian, reported that the reading program has gotten off to a good start and is being enjoyed by everyone present.

Given in marriage by her father with the "her mother and I" avowal, the bride was attired in a white street-length dress. Her brief veil was secured by silver-tipped white rose coil and she carried a bouquet of yellow roses.

DON'T BE NEXT!

You say that your tractor is a necessity to the operation of your farm or ranch? "I readily agree," says C. H. DeVaney, Texas Farm Bureau president, and adds that it is one of the most dangerous necessities to any agricultural operation.

The average tractor operator refuses to become alarmed when told that 1,000 persons die annually as the result of tractor accidents, especially when he finds that this is only 2.2 deaths per 10,000 tractors.

But before you close your mind to safety reminders, consider that YOU could very well be Texas' next tractor fatality.

What causes most tractor accidents? No, it isn't mechanical failure; neither do most accidents just happen. A careless operator is the number one cause—of both injury to himself and others. Going up too steep a grade, working too close to embankments and moving along the highway with improper safety equipment are perfect examples of this carelessness.

A cautious, careful operator has all lights, reflectors and the like required by law; but he can do more to prevent accidents. Such items as the SMV (slow moving vehicle) emblem, roll or crash bars and crush-proof cabs add to the operator's safety.

Don't become injured, disabled or even killed due to carelessness. Not only are you needed by your family and friends, but by agriculture in general. Our state is hurt each time it loses an agricultural worker.

Continue to operate safely and proudly in one of the world's oldest and most respected professions—that of producing our food and fiber.

GI's to Receive Aid in Schooling

Checks for more than 200,000 veterans who will attend college next fall under the new GI Bill for Vietnam veterans will arrive about 10 days earlier each month because of an improved system adopted by the Veterans Administration.

Future checks arrive about the 10th of the month, according to Jack Coker, manager of the VA regional office in Waco.

The 10-day speed-up results from dropping the requirements for monthly certification, Coker said. Now a veteran who is attending a regular course at an approved college or university certifies his attendance at the beginning of the school year.

Checks continue as long as he continues in regular attendance or until his eligibility expires, the VA manager said. The additional certifications required are handled independently of the checks.

CURIOS STARE . . . "Chi-Chi," the giant panda, peers curiously at the toy panda held by four-year-old Sarah Bates who visited the bear's new quarters at the London Zoo. "Chi-Chi" now has a larger pen, which will hopefully accommodate a mate for her, and includes air conditioning. Zoo officials have hopes that the Russian male panda "An-An" might still visit London in the Fall.

Cattle Industry Gets Bad Publicity

During the past several weeks, the cattle feeding industry has been receiving much unfavorable publicity. This adverse publicity stems from the pollution of Buffalo Lake which is located southwest of Amarillo. From reports released by officials in charge of the lake and game refuge, there seems little doubt that the lake water is in unsatisfactory condition.

Accusations have been broad and many, that feedlots located on the watershed of the lake are a major cause of the lake's polluted condition. These accusations have been made with little evidence of where the undesirable materials are coming from.

Some of these charges have been issued by government officials who have not visited the area in question and are generalizations which have resulted in bringing the wrath of public opinion down on the feeding industry without contributing to the solution of the problem.

Much has been made of the fish kill in the lake. However, lake officials have publicly stated that a chemical was placed in the lake about the time the flood waters reached the lake, for the specific purpose of eliminating the rough fish. They have further stated that a very high percentage of the fish kill was of the rough species.

Many of the feeding operations in the Buffalo Lake watershed area have spent considerable sums of money on control facilities. It seems unfair to denounce an entire industry before the evidence is in on any segment.

The cattle feeding industry is a multi-million dollar industry in the Panhandle area and contributes substantially to the economy of the region. The industry realizes its responsibility to the general public. The Texas Cattle Feeders' Association and the individual feeders involved, are willing and ready to cooperate with local, state and federal officials in determining the source of the lake pollution and in correcting the situation. Continued unfounded statements will serve no worthwhile purpose.

The Texas Cattle Feeders' Association proposes that a special commission be formed with representatives from governmental agencies involved and representatives from industries affected. The purpose of this commission would be to study evidence available and make additional studies if deemed necessary. The commission would make specific recommendations for correcting the present situation and make specific recommendations for measures to prevent recurrence of problems in the future.

FOOD AND YOUR TEETH

Disease affecting the teeth is the most prevalent condition impairing the health of the American people. True or false?

Dental health is closely allied to good nutrition. True or false? The answer to both questions is that the statements are correct. Dental cavities in children and diseases in older persons which result in loss of teeth affect more persons than any other health hazard.

How does nutrition affect the teeth, and how do the teeth affect nutrition? The second half of this question is answered quickly and easily. Without good teeth it is difficult if not impossible to maintain a dietary plan that will continue to keep the body well nourished. This is a common experience among older people whose dental deficiencies limit their diet. More of this later.

How Nutrition Affects Teeth
 How nutrition affects the teeth is less easily answered. The most important time in the life of the individual's teeth is when they first develop as "buds" in the jawbone of the unborn child. This means, of course, that the only possible influence upon the nutrition of these embryonic teeth is through the diet of the mother. It has long been a popular belief that a woman must expect to sacrifice a tooth for every child—or more than one. This has now been proved to be unsound and needless. The expectant mother can protect her own teeth, and as sure better nutrition for those of the embryo, by a proper supply of calcium and other minerals in her diet.

When the child's teeth erupt, from about six months up to the age of the last wisdom tooth, a new problem arises—cavities, the most prevalent childhood "disease". Prevention of cavities is not as hopeless as was once believed. A plentiful supply of minerals and vitamins, including fluoride, is essential. So are tooth and mouth hygiene and the control of germ population in the mouth. So is a diet in which sticky sweets are not too prominent.

Problems For Others
 In middle and old age, another problem arises—the health of the bone structures and membranes in which the teeth are embedded. Here we may encounter a vicious cycle: poor nutrition contributing to poor teeth, and poor teeth making good nutrition more difficult. The important factor here is calcium, and we must overcome the prevalent notion that old people do not need and should not have calcium, especially if they have arthritis!

Reduced to its simplest terms, assurance of good nutrition for good teeth and good teeth for good nutrition boils down to a varied diet with plenty of milk and other dairy products, meats, fish, eggs, fruits and vegetables, cereals and breads—the familiar four food groups which we stress here so regularly.

Farms, Ranches Increase in Size

Texas farms and ranches continue to grow in size, value and products sold, according to Tom E. Prater, extension farm management specialist at Texas A and M University.

Farm and ranch value (buildings and land) reached $79,625 per farm or ranch in 1964 as compared to $51,787 per unit in 1959. The value of buildings and land has increased from $82.11 per acre in 1959 to $114.20 per acre in 1964.

Prater said the 1964 U. S. census showed investment per farm or ranch in buildings and land alone exceeded $100,000 in 417 counties. An investment of $200,000 was exceeded by 45 counties, and 14 counties exceeded an investment of $300,000 per farm or ranch for land and buildings.

The average size of the Texas farm or ranch increased 60 acres from 630.7 in 1959 to 690.9 in 1964.

Farm products sold in 1959 amounted to $2,108,880,646 as compared to $2,227,339,392 in 1964. The average per farm or ranch for 1959 was $9,306, and in 1964, $10,850.

DOWN MEMORY LANE

40 Years Ago

Miss Ina Anderson and Mr. Ben Parson were married at the home of the bride's parents at 5 a.m. Saturday, July 23, Rev. B. W. Wilkins, pastor of the First Methodist Church, performing the ceremony in the presence of the immediate relatives of the bride.

Bert Palmer, who has been connected with the Elite Barber Shop, has bought the Jackson Barber Shop and assumed active charge.

Twins are rare and should be so recognized, especially such tiny twin boys as are found in the Braxton home. That's what the neighbors and friends thought when last Thursday at 4:00 they met at Mrs. Jim Back's residence and honored those "mites of manhood" with a miscellaneous shower.

Mrs. J. B. Kibler and children of Ponca City, Okla., are visiting the lady's parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Glass.

30 Years Ago

Mrs. C. C. Mead of Miami, who, before her marriage, was Miss Madge Edna Landers, was honored with a bridal shower Thursday of last week at the home of Mrs. J. M. Noel, with Mrs. S. W. Rice as hostess, assisted by Mesdames Noel, J. P. Dickinson, John Cooper, Paul Kennedy and M. G. Armstrong.

According to Fred Staggs, the McLean singing class will meet Sunday afternoon, beginning at 2:30 at the Pentecostal church. C. O. Greene, Witt Springer and Vester Smith are in Chicago attending the international convention of Lions Clubs as representatives of the McLean club.

Revival services at the Church of Christ will begin Sunday, July 25.

Rev. E. B. Featherston, 87-year-old pioneer Baptist minister who, with Mrs. Featherston and his grandson, Elmer Featherston, was visiting his daughter, Mrs. Jim Back, was honored last Sunday afternoon with an open house party. Many friends visited the Back home to talk over old times with the preacher during the afternoon.

20 Years Ago

A Memphis motorcade, replete with a western string band and the Memphis High School band, will make 30-minute stops in towns of this area July 18 for a lively session of musical entertainment as they spread the world of the gala entertainment at the rodeo to be held there July 24, 25 and 26.

J. E. Shortt, director of the McLean school bands during the past year, has tendered his resignation to the city council, it has been announced.

A group of seven Boy Scouts and two adults from Mishawaka, Ind., camped in the City Park Tuesday night, en route to the Boy Scout Ranch near Cimarron, N. M., for a 13-day outing.

Pointing out that shrubs, hedges, etc. are obstructing the view to drivers within the city limits of McLean, members of the city council this week asked all residents who own such obstructions to correct this fault.

Formal opening ceremonies of the new Pentecostal Holiness Church in Alanreed will be held Sunday night beginning at 8:30, it was announced this week.

10 Years Ago

A series of services will be held during the month of August to promote the idea, "Sunday nights belong to God," by the First Presbyterian Church and the McLean Methodist Church.

Pfc. Dale Glass of the 337th Engineer Detachment in McLean, left Sunday to complete six months of active training at Fort Chaffee, Ark. Dale is to return in January with the rank of corporal.

Mr. and Mrs. Eddie Mac Stewart of Houston are the parents of a son, Charles Edward, born July 7. He weighed 7 pounds, 11 ounces. Grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Leon Crockett and Mr. and Mrs. F. E. Stewart of McLean.

Billy James Rainwater of Dumas spent the weekend with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Rainwater.

Miss Cathy Cooke of Phillips is spending the week with her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Cooke.

Miss Laura Switzer of Weatherford, Okla., spent the weekend with her parents here.

WHERE do juicy, tender pork chops come from? Ask any 4-H'er working on a swine project and he'll tell you that they come from the back of the hog. What's more, the hog provides three kinds of chops: loin, rib and shoulder. He knows that pork chops from properly fed hogs today have less fat and therefore fewer calories than ever before.

But that's not all. In a swine breeding project, he learns about breed selection, housing and approved sanitation and health.

If he has a marketing project he keeps up with latest information on feeding, weight gain, and supply and demand for live hogs. In between he finds time for showing, demonstrating approved practices, and judging animals and meats.

Scores of 4-H farm youth enrolled in the national 4-H Swine program get instruction in animal sciences such as anatomy, bacteriology, genetics and physiology. County extension agents and local 4-H leaders guide the young farmers in specific project areas, and coach them in management and record keeping. They also explore careers both on and off the farm.

In addition to using this knowledge, the youngsters are encouraged to do their best and try for awards provided by the program sponsor, Moorman Mfg. Co.

The awards include six $500 scholarships for national winners chosen from all the state award winners who receive expense-paid trips to the National 4-H Club Congress in Chicago. As many as four members per county can earn gold-filled medals for completing the best swine projects in the county.

SUNDAY'S SERMON

FAIR PLAY

It is not always true, as it has been said, that "nice guys finish last."

Many of the nation's greatest athletes have earned recognition of the public as "nice guys." And, let's face it, if an athlete is good enough to win, and to win often, he should learn how to become a graceful winner.

On the other hand, some never learn to lose. Winning is important to the professional athlete. He has to win to survive. Yet the professional athlete, generally, knows that his success or failure depends upon his personal ability. He does not have to be popular to remain in professional sports. He just has to keep winning.

In the game of life, many of us are quick to blame our failures on someone else. It is never that we did not try hard enough, that we did not do the things that needed doing; it is, instead, that someone interfered with our efforts, someone got in the way; someone "goofed" it up.

The best players in any game, those who win the majority of the time, are usually the ones who observe the rules of fair play and good, honest competition — who blame only themselves when someone turns in a better effort.
