Just Between Us

Bernard McClellan hasn't been so much of a believer in age-old cures that one might say border on superstition.

But now? Well, he and his wife, Zella, find it hard to say what they do and don't believe about one of these cures.

A few months back, Bernard found himself in quite a costly situation—one that the best heads in veterinary medicine still have been unable to figure out.

The farmer, who lives south of town on the Hedley Road, derives much of his income from raising registered show pigs.

When his sows started farrowing, some strange disease began to take its toll among the baby pigs. Usually no more than two pigs in each litter were the victims.

A veterinarian was summoned, but none of the miracle drugs he administered to the sick animals did any good. They continued to die.

The veterinarian performed an autopsy on one, and found that its stomach was empty, indicating the pig, unable to eat, had starved to death.

The same results were noted when another of the animals was shipped to Texas A and M University for closer analysis.

It was decided to send still another carcass to the University of Wisconsin for an autopsy. There a pathologist discovered an unexplainable mucus around the pig's stomach and intestines.

Still, no one was able to learn the cause of death. The disease was one the veterinarians and pathologists had never before come across.

Ninety-five pigs had died and two more were sick when Bernard's mother, Mrs. Sam McClellan, remembered she had heard many years ago that goats will absorb disease.

Mrs. McClellan didn't know (See JBU, Page 2)

Tournament play begins Saturday morning among the younger netters, and will continue through the day for all three age groups. The finals will be Sunday afternoon.

The divisions are: 12 years of age and younger, 13 through high school and the third for all others.

$1 Entry Fee
An entry fee of $1 is to be charged all players above high school age. There will be no fee for the younger entries.

Trophies will be awarded to the winners in each age group. All tennis players in the McLean area are invited to enter the tournament.

Additional lights have been installed at the tennis courts in preparation for the tourney.

66 Association Can Claim Hollow Victory Over Sooner Signs

Cities and towns along Highway 66-Interstate 40 can claim only a hollow victory in the Oklahoma Turnpike Authority's decision to change the wording on two controversial road signs in the Sooner State.

This is the opinion of Jack Cutberth of Clinton, Okla., executive secretary of the U.S. Highway 66 Association.

Cutberth said the Turnpike Authority has decided to change the wording on the huge billboards from "best route" to "southern route."

One of the billboards is located on the Turner Turnpike near Tulsa and the other near Oklahoma City, and they encourage motorists to take the new Bailey Turnpike south through Oklahoma when traveling west.

Mislead Motorists
This was brought to the attention of the U.S. Highway 66 Association, which has taken the lead in a campaign to change the billboards. The association claims the billboards mislead the motorists into believing that there is a closer route than Highway 66 to California and other points west.

The association in a recent meeting in Elk City, Okla., raised some $4,000 to pay for signs to combat the billboards.

Association members also have conducted an intensive letter-writing campaign to newspapers. (See HIGHWAY, Page 2)

Miller to Complete Okla-Tech Course

OKMULGEE, Okla.—(Special)—Charnell Miller of McLean is among the 224 students at Oklahoma State Tech, Okmulgee, listed as prospective graduates for the August commencement.

Miller is completing a 12-months course in auto parts.

He is the son of Mrs. Elizabeth Miller.

Graduates of Tech will total more than 6,800 with the completion of courses by the August graduating class. The number of prospective graduates for the Aug. 12 commencement is 45 more than for the same trimester last year, reflecting the continued rise in enrollment at the vocational-technical school.

LOCAL MARINE IN VIETNAM

Walter Kirk Is
Radio Operator

Pfc. Walter Kirk, McLean Marine, has found duty in Vietnam dull at times.

Kirk, son of Mrs. Ruth Kirk, celebrated his 18th birthday on Monday of this week while serving as a field radio operator with the U.S. armed forces in Vietnam.

He is the grandson of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Hill and the nephew of Mrs. Purline Reeves, all of McLean.

Mrs. Kirk this week received her first letter from Walter since he arrived in Vietnam, and the youth asked his friends to write him to help while away the lonely hours.

His address is Pfc. Walter A. Kirk 2054994, H Company, 2/7 Third Marine Division, Art'y., c/o Fleet Post Office, San Francisco, Calif. 96601.

In Marines Since Oct. 1
Walter entered the Marine Corps on Oct. 1 last year, and left Camp Pendleton, Calif., on May 24 for overseas duty. He arrived on Okinawa on June 22 and reached the Philippine Islands about July 1.

A ship carrying Walter and other Marines in his company departed from Subic Bay in the Philippines for Vietnam on about July 15.

The youth wrote his mother that when on duty he is "perched on top of a hill with a radio, and can call in an entire company if the need arises."

When not in actual combat, Walter and other Marines in his anti-aircraft unit "play war games in order to keep in practice."

Marie Foundations Needing Operators

More sewing machine operators are needed at the Marie Foundations factory in McLean, Dale Greenhouse, production superintendent, announced this week.

Greenhouse urged women in this area interested in working at the factory to make application as soon as possible.

"Our file of employment applications for women interested in operating the machines has been exhausted," Greenhouse said.

The production superintendent said the factory has been hiring a number of women in the past couple of weeks, and he would like to add even more to the Marie Foundations payroll.

Women from throughout this area interested in working at the factory are invited to make application.

Rock Island Is Told To Keep Depot Here

STATE BOARD SAYS NO TO CLOSING BID

The Texas Railroad Commission has denied an application from the Chicago, Rock Island and Pacific Railroad Co. to close the depot in McLean.

Mayor Boyd Meador was advised of the commission's action in a letter received this week.

A hearing on the railroad's application was conducted by the Railroad Commission in McLean last Aug. 18, and a decision had been awaited here since that time.

The notification received by Meador states:

"Docket No. 1839-RO McLean: Application of Chicago, Rock Island and Pacific Railroad Company for authority to discontinue its agency at McLean and to establish McLean, Texas, as a prepay station for the handling of carload shipments only in the freight tariffs."

Hearing Aug. 18

"After due notice the matter hereinafter identified by docket number and caption was called for hearing August 18, 1964, in McLean at which time evidence and statements were presented in favor of and in opposition to the application.

"Based upon such evidence and statements, the commission is of the opinion and finds that the application should be denied.

"Therefore, it is ordered by the Railroad Commission of Texas that the application of Chicago, Rock Island and Pacific Railroad Company for authority to discontinue its agency at McLean and to establish McLean as a prepay station for the handling of carload shipments only in the freight tariffs be, and it is, hereby denied."

The letter was signed by Chairman Ben Ramsey and Commissioners Jim C. Langdon and Byron Tunnell.

Protests Heard

At the August hearing, representatives of the McLean city commission and of several ranches and businesses in this area testified against the railroad's proposal to close the depot.

It was pointed out that the railroad's business was increasing here, rather than decreasing, and the fact was also brought out that closing the depot would greatly inconvenience the Marie Foundations factory and area ranchers.

Mayor Meador and other members of the city commission expressed satisfaction with the Railroad Commission's decision.

Miss Grain Sorghum Entry

Phyllis Will Enter National Pageant

Phyllis Bench, daughter of Mrs. Dorothy Bench, will represent McLean in the national Miss Grain Sorghum Pageant on Aug. 7 in Dimmitt.

Miss Bench was chosen as the McLean entry at the Derby Town Jubilee last Saturday night. She received a majority of the votes cast by persons attending the Jubilee.

ROACH GOING TO GOLDSMITH

El Paso Plant Due
New Superintendent

J. B. Roach, superintendent of the El Paso Natural Gas Co. plant here since 1957, is being transferred by the company to Goldsmith, 20 miles northwest of Odessa.

Roach said this week that he will move to the El Paso plant at Goldsmith next Wednesday.

Coming to McLean as superintendent will be G. W. Ramsey, a veteran of some 23 years with El Paso Natural Gas Co.

Coming From New Mexico
Ramsey is due to arrive here next Wednesday from the Oil Center plant near Eunice, N. M.

Roach first came to McLean on July 1, 1957, while the El Paso plant was being constructed, and has remained here ever since.

He has been employed by the company for 20 years, and the move to Goldsmith will mean a promotion for him.

While he will hold the same title of plant superintendent there as he holds here, the Goldsmith plant is larger than the one in McLean.

WELCOME RAIN DAMPENS AREA

The dry spell which set in early this month lifted at least temporarily Tuesday, as light thunder showers moved across the McLean area.

Through Wednesday night the new weather activity had brought the city another .45 inch of moisture. Clouds continued to hang heavy over the area Wednesday night.

A 15-inch shower Tuesday and another that added .30 on Wednesday jumped the total moisture received in McLean to 16.65 inches.

By this same date in 1964 only 11.78 inches had fallen. It was October last year before the 16-inch precipitation total was reached.

.51 for Month

The latest rains brought to .51 inch the amount the city has received in July, 1964, saw only .44 fall here.

This week's showers also brought some relief from the hot weather that has gripped the Panhandle for days.

Maximum thermometer reading Wednesday was only 84 degrees, compared with the high for the week of 100 last Saturday. The low was 67 on Tuesday.

THE WEATHER

Miss Bench, who also was the all-school beauty at McLean High School the past year, will be sponsored in the national contest by the Junior Chamber of Commerce.

At Dimmitt, she will be in competition with other girls from across the nation.

Represent Industry

The young lady chosen at the national Miss Grain Sorghum will represent the grain sorghum industry during the next year in public appearances and other events throughout the United States.

A large crowd was on hand to help in the selection of the McLean entry.

Peace Corps Test Set for Aug. 14

An opportunity for McLean area residents to offer their abilities to the Peace Corps will come at 9 a.m. Saturday, Aug. 14, in Pampa and Amarillo.

The opportunity is the Peace Corps placement test, which will be given in Room 322 of the Amarillo Post Office and in the main Post Office at Pampa.

Persons desiring to take the test should obtain an application at the Post Office. The application form should be completed and taken to the testing center on the day of the examination.

The placement test is neither passed nor failed, and an applicant cannot study for it. It measures general aptitude and the ability to learn a language.

The Peace Corps uses the test only as a tool in the matching of volunteers and jobs.

Applicants should plan on about 1½ hours at the testing centers, unless they wish to take the Spanish or French language achievement test, which requires an additional hour.

TEXAS PRESS ASSOCIATION

AUSTIN—(Special)—Not even prolonged spring rains were enough to dampen Texas tourism this year.

Attendance at tourist attractions the first six months of 1965 increased 14 per cent over the same period last year.

A mid-year survey by the Texas Tourist Development Agency shows that 14,069,333 visitors were counted by 18 attractions and state parks, with some places showing a 25 per cent increase in out-of-state visitors.

Largest single increase was removed by the Fort Davis Historic Site in far west Texas. Although the fort still is undergoing restorations, the tourist load there increased almost 50 per cent.

Other leaders in the visitors' increase were the Old Stone Fort at Nacogdoches, Big Bend National Park and a replica of the original Fort Bliss in El Paso.

SCREW-WORMS BACK—A combination of mild winter weather and inattentiveness on the part of livestock producers is believed to have caused a sudden spiral upward in the number of screw-worm cases reported last month.

In a joint report the Texas Animal Health Commission and the U.S. Department of Agriculture reveal that 129 Texas cases were confirmed between May 30 and June 26. Only 35 cases were reported in the entire Southwest in June, 1964.

AG OPINIONS—Atty. Gen. Waggoner has ruled that a county may not legally operate a "translator system" to bring TV to its people.

Garza County cannot close the county hospital, but it may lease or sell it.

A prisoner "laying out" fines at $3 a day in the county jail may not get credit on two cases at the same time. In other words, the two jail terms follow each other instead of running concurrently.

REDISTRICTING SUIT FILED—Nine Republicans filed a motion to intervene in a federal court challenge of constitutionality of the new congressional redistricting act.

They charged the Texas Legislature failed to create 23 districts of equal population as ordered by the court in 1963 and that the redistricting act "constitutes an extreme and indeed classic case of gerrymandering against certain political and metropolitan groups."

Inequalities were cited in Dallas, Bexar, Jefferson, Orange, Ector and Midland counties. Districts, the new plaintiffs maintained, vary from 9.7 per cent above the average to 9.7 below. They asked the court to apportion the state into proper districts after an investigation supervised by a mastery in chancery.

SHORT SNORTS
Committee of the Governing Boards of State Colleges and Universities has unanimously endorsed the Constitutional Amendment that provides for reallocation of the ad valorem tax, increases the amount from 5c to 10c and increases the number of participating institutions from 12 to 17. Proposal will go to the voters on Nov. 2.

Texas Employment Commission reports total employment in Texas stood at 3,760,100 in mid-May, up 28,600 from mid-April and a 101,900 gain from May, 1964.

Texas Highway Department has let contracts for widening two bridges on U.S. 290 in Gillespie and Blanco Counties near the LBJ Ranch. They are the Three Mile Creek Bridge, two miles west of Stonewall, and the Williamson Creek Bridge, four miles east of Stonewall.

Gov. Connally has wagered 2,122 Texas pecans against Gov. William Scranton's 1,061 Pennsylvania apples on the outcome of a football game on Aug. 14 between Texas and Pennsylvania High School All-Stars.

John Sublett Is Honored at Reunion

A family reunion honoring John N. Sublett of McLean was held Sunday in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Stidger, Amarillo.

Fifty persons attended, including Mr. Sublett's children—Vernon Sublett, Tulsa, Okla., Buster Sublett, Canyon, Mrs. Chester (Marie) Bird, Stinnett, Mrs. John (Kate) Moore, Dimmitt, and Mrs. A. B. (Lydia) Berry, Canyon.

Mr. Sublett, known as Uncle John to his many friends, is a well-known resident of this area, having been a cowboy on several of the more famous ranches.

His grandchildren are delighted when he tells of his recollections of earlier days on the Golden Spread.

Mr. Sublett celebrated his 89th birthday last June and has 15 grandchildren and 27 grandchildren.

WASHINGTON AND "SMALL BUSINESS" BY C. WILSON HARDER

Now that a drive is definitely being made to repeal Section 14-B of the Taft-Hartley Act so that no state will be permitted to outlaw labor contracts which force workers to pay dues to a union, there is being unleashed a lot of high flown oratory in favor.

However, this is all patent nonsense and even those who shout it do not believe it. For stripped of all sham and pretense the essential issue involved is money.

C. W. Harder

At the present time, union membership is down to some 17 million. What this figure would be if in most states union membership were not required to hold a job is a subject for conjecture. But even with present membership, and setting a low monthly dues average of $5 per month, the unions even now have an income of some $85 million per month, tax free.

Now while unions are not supposed to employ their funds in carrying on political activity, it is no secret that this law is violated, or circumvented.

The labor leaders themselves have been quite upset that despite the means they have to force workers to pay dues to them, union membership is still less than 25% of the present working force.

There are 19 states with right to work laws. The total population of these states is about 50 million, or equal to a third of the total population in states where people can be forced to pay union dues to work.

Hence, using rough average, repealing section 14-B would probably force 5 million more people to pay dues to work.

This would produce a new, fresh tax free union income of somewhere around $25 million per month. Presumably, this would more than compensate them for the monies they have spent in political activity.

On three different occasions, the nation's independent business proprietors, voting through the National Federation of Independent Business, have opposed repeal of Section 14-B by majorities in excess of 80%.

And leaving aside the principle involved here of using federal laws to enforce collection of monies for the privilege of earning a living, this is an issue which could create disruption of the American system.

For after all, the greatest strength any government actually has over the long run is confidence of the people in that government. An inconsistent government is weak.

In this instance, there is no government that has taken such a stand with both money and the blood of its men to uphold the right of other peoples to determine without own duties free from subordination to others. Yet the fact that the government would attempt to deny the right of a job to its own citizens unless they conform to the dictates of labor leaders is a great inconsistency.

Now, Cutberth isn't so sure it's a good thing.

"We have enough trouble with people driving south during the winter when they hear about snowstorms in the Amarillo area," he said. "This is sure not going to help that any."

Signs Best Answer
Cutberth said it looks as if the best answer would be to continue with the group's plans to erect road signs of its own along the Turner Turnpike between Oklahoma City and Tulsa.

"I've just received figures for June, and they show that our traffic on U.S. 66 was down 1,700," he reported. "The turnpike was up by 50,000. Of course, it can't all be attributed to the signs, but they sure help."

Farmers Advised To Keep Close Watch For Cotton Insects

Cotton farmers in this area should be on the lookout for various kinds of cotton insects, according to Donley County Agent Ronald Gooch.

Such insects are building up in many fields, particularly in irrigated ones, Gooch noted this week.

Some of the more common insects that do damage include:

1. Fleahoppers, which pierce terminal buds and newly formed squares, causing them to drop off. Plants develop tall whip-like growth or increased vegetative branches.

2. Cotton leafworm—the greenish worm feeds on the cotton leaves, and its presence is soon causes loss of both squares and by ragged or stripped leaves.

3. Bollworms—Feeding of larvae causes loss of both squares and bolls. Newly hatched larvae feed on terminal buds and small squares and later attack larger squares.

4. Bollweevils—Squares and bolls are punctured by adult weevils for feeding or egg-laying. Egg punctures have a wart-like appearance. Punctured squares flare open and fall to the ground within a week.

5. Grasshoppers, which are feeding on cotton in many parts of the county. They usually start around fence rows and other areas where grass and weeds are found.

Information on identifying and controlling these cotton insects and others may be obtained by contacting Gooch in Clarendon or Gray County Agent Foster Whaley in Pampa.

Bernard scoffed at the idea and said he wasn't going to have any goats around his place. But his mother persisted and bought one anyway.

The goat was placed in the lot with the pigs, and was given the run of the place. This was some eight weeks ago. One of the two sick pigs died; the other recovered and is now healthy—and not another one has come down with the disease since.

WHAT YOU DON'T KNOW

THERE is a saying: "What you don't know can't hurt you." This is a false and dangerous concept. Not long ago, in a southwestern city, the newspaper carried a startling story that illustrates this fact. A rattlesnake was found in a house, curled around the leg of a chair. A guest had earlier been sitting in the chair completely unaware of the danger he was in.

Undoubtedly, the visitor would be the first to acknowledge that what he did not know could have hurt or even killed him!

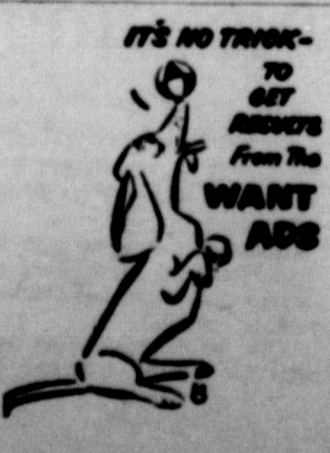

And yet, in matters of religion there are those who would have us believe "ignorance is bliss." The Apostle Paul clearly pointed out this error when he said:

"And the times of this ignorance God winked at; but now commandeth all men everywhere to repent: Because he hath appointed a day in which he will judge the world in righteousness by that man (Christ) whom he hath ordained . . ." (Acts 17:30-31).

And again, "Study to show thyself approved unto God . . ." (II Timothy 2:15).
We invite you to join us in our study of God's Truth this week.

JUNIOR HEREFORD FIELD DAY
Farris Hess and son, Jakey, recently attended a meeting of Junior Hereford Breeders in Amarillo.

Purpose of the meeting was to plan the annual field day that has become so popular in the Panhandle. Fact is, the first one was held on the Hess Ranch three years ago.

This set the stage. Several have been held all over the state, patterned after the one held here.

This year's Junior Hereford Field day will be held at Boys Ranch. The program will be much the same as in the past—the usual judging contest and prizes.

All Junior Hereford Breeders are asked to be present by 8:30 a.m. Aug. 20 (day of the Field Day) for the election of officers.

Dan Thornton, former governor of Colorado, will be the feature speaker. There will be some exhibition rodeo acts. This promises to be one of the best.

All 4-H and FFA boys and Junior Hereford Breeders are urged to attend.

CATTLE FEEDING
There is a continued interest in cattle feeding in this area. Most of the cattle feeding (over 80 per cent) in Texas is done in large commercial-type feed lots.

I believe there is a place for 100 to 500-head feed lots. I see no reason why a feeder in this economic size can't compete real well with the commercials.

Jesse Coleman is seriously considering feeding cattle on a small-scale basis. It can be done now with a minimum of labor. Small Thursday evening visitors in the home of Mr. and Mrs. T. A. Langham were their children, Mrs. Jim D. Sparks from California, Mr. and Mrs. Ervin Baker, Mr. and Mrs. Wes Langham and family of Pampa. Other guests were Mr. and Mrs. Howard T. Miller of McLean.

Letter to the Editor

To the Editor,
I would like to express my appreciation to our mayor, Boyd Meador, and others responsible for the weed mowing that has taken place, especially in the northeastern part of the city of McLean.

After the rains of June, the weeds had reached waist high in all the vacant lots. These weeds make an ideal place for the breeding of fleas and mosquitos—not to mention snakes—and with the danger of encephalitis arising from mosquitos, this was a very much needed project.

Besides it looks so much nicer. What's wrong with having a beautification plan here in our own city? McLean could be a very pretty little town with the added effort of the home owners.

So may I say "thanks" again to Mr. Meador.

A Northeastern Resident

Mrs. Cooper Honored On 80th Birthday

Mrs. Julia Cooper was honored on Tuesday evening, July 20, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Willie Woodmore, the occasion being her 80th birthday.

Those attending and sending gifts were Mr. and Mrs. Homer Wilson, Mrs. Bob Black, Mrs. W. N. Pharis, Mrs. Howard Williams, Mrs. Maude Hanner, Mrs. Lizzie Miller, Mr. and Mrs. Sam Sharp, Mr. and Mrs. Buddy Holloway, Mr. and Mrs. Ben Jones and daughter, Rev. and Mrs. Comstock, Mr. and Mrs. Emory Smith, Mrs. Vera Castleberry, Mrs. Millie Castleberry, Mrs. Ruby Gilbreath, Mrs. J. N. Smith, Mrs. Laura Cook.

Out-of-town guests were Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Martindale and boys, Mrs. James Fulton and boys of Pampa, Mrs. Susie Trout of Lefors.

Housewarming Held For Mrs. Stubbs

Mrs. Fidelle Stubbs was honored with a surprise housewarming on July 24.

Mrs. Stubbs had been called away from home, and when she returned the house was full of friends and neighbors.

A beautiful table laid with pink cloth, a centerpiece of pink gladioli and a punch service, had been prepared.

Mrs. Stubbs was welcomed into the new home with many good wishes in the form of cards and gifts.

According to Mrs. Stubbs, this was a complete surprise and will be an occasion she will never forget.

Elderly People May Qualify for Loans From Farmers Home

Elderly people, if they live in rural areas, need not give up the idea of building, buying or repairing their homes on credit.

This word comes from Claude Moore, Farmers Home Administration county supervisor, serving Armstrong, Gray and Donley Counties.

Moore said citizens who are 62 years and over, living in a rural community of 2,500 or less, may be eligible for a 33-year loan bearing four per cent interest to buy an older home or build a new one.

The FHA supervisor said elderly residents may also be eligible for smaller loans for home repairs.

He pointed out the increasing demand in small towns for rental units designed to meet the housing needs of older folks.

The Farmers Home Administration can loan direct funds to non-profit organizations for construction of senior citizen rental housing units designed for independent living.

Funds for construction of senior citizen rental housing units may also be provided by private investors with FHA guaranteeing repayment.

This fiscal year through April 30 Farmers Home Administration has advanced $5,586,876 to senior citizens for construction, buying and repairing of individual homes. The total loaned is up 17 per cent over a similar period last fiscal year.

Over 1,200 elderly people in the 50 states, Puerto Rico and the Virgin Islands were able to get loans for new or improved housing through the senior citizen rental housing program of Farmers Home Administration.

Another $1,248,510 was advanced by the U.S. Department of Agriculture agency for the construction of rental housing units for senior citizens during the same period, July 1, 1964, through April 30, 1965.

"Farmers Home Administration's senior citizen housing loan program offers citizens, 62 years and older, an opportunity to have housing suited to their needs in the community in which they have spent their working years," Moore said. "This program also stimulates the local economy by providing jobs for workers engaged in the construction industry and customers for local trades and services."

In 1962 Congress authorized Farmers Home Administration to make direct loans and insured loans to individuals and corporations to finance rental housing for the elderly.

FHA direct loans for senior citizens rental housing in rural communities bear 3.75 per cent interest, with up to 50 years for repayment. But loans insured by the agency for rental housing currently bear 5.75 per cent interest. Borrowers have up to 40 years to repay.

Additional information about the senior citizen rental housing loan program is available at the Farmers Home Administration office, Gillham Building, 111 West Third, Clarendon.

SMALL BUSINESS
By C. WILSON HARDER

While there is probably no great credence to be attached to it, it is understood that there is some sentiment in Washington prevailing to pressure the Generalissimo of the War on Poverty to have his name changed legally.

As is well known, the head of the War on Poverty is Sargent Shriver, and it is his first name that confuses the people, as the question arises, "How can a sergeant run a war?"

Therefore it has been suggested that the head of this war should have a name more befitting the rank. Obviously, even a 5-star general or admiral in the other forces is not paid sufficiently enough above the huge staff under Shriver, and it would perhaps seem a bit peculiar if he changed his name legally from Sargent to Admiral or General.

Therefore the only suggestion that seems to have merit is that although the Americans have never gone to war with a commander carrying a title of Field Marshal, which is quite common in Europe, it would be most fitting if he changed his name to Marshall.

This would probably put the War on Poverty in a status somewhat comparable to the amount of money being spent on the effort, as in the public mind there would be no more confusion that this war is being directed by a sergeant, but rather by a marshal, and thus the public would probably feel much better about it.

In the meantime the nation's independent businessmen seem to be waging their own war on Poverty, as according to surveys being conducted by the National Federation of Independent Business since last year almost one-third of them have expanded their operations, and produced over 3.5 million new jobs without costing taxpayers one cent.

After all, a salary of $18,000 a year is somewhat less than that paid to a 4-star general or admiral, and is about 50% more than the base pay of the Marine Corps General who took the forces into Vietnam.

Thus the problem becomes a National Federation of Independent Business

Knowing when to water and how much to water is very important in raising grain sorghum. Grain sorghum will use about 0.3 inch per day during the boot and bloom stages.

The boot, bloom, milk and dough stages are considered the critical moisture stages. At the above rate, grain sorghum should receive 3.75 inches every 10 days to make maximum yields.

If an irrigation well produces 700 gallons per minute, 92 acres could be watered every 10 days during the peak use period. Irrigate to 50 to 60 per cent of available soil moisture in the root zone has been used.

How often should protein supplement be fed? Texas A and M University has just published results of feeding cottonseed cake to Hereford cows.

One bunch of cattle was fed two pounds of cottonseed cake daily. One bunch was fed seven pounds of cake on Tuesdays and Saturdays. A third bunch was fed 4 2/3 pounds of cake on Tuesdays, Thursdays and Saturdays. Cattle were rotated among the pastures to minimize pasture differences.

At the end of the fourth year, cows fed cake twice weekly showed slight advantages in weight and calf crops weaned. These cows tended to graze pastures more uniformly without waiting at the feedground for supplemental feed.

Feeding cattle twice weekly resulted in saving approximately 60 per cent on labor and travel. Similar results were found at the Woodward Experiment Station at Woodward, Okla.

BLWIN' Out the CORNERS Uncle Zeb

The following article written by Waldemar W. Argow would be a good blueprint for any life. It is entitled:

YOUTH'S CREED

I believe in the greatness of myself, and that I am in this world for a purpose, that purpose being to put back into life more than I have taken out.

I believe in the integrity of other people, assured that they try as hard to follow the gleam as I do.

I believe in the gallantry of older people whose seasoned experience and steadfast devotion has preserved for me the precious heritage of the past.

I believe in the magnificence of the past, knowing that without its stored wealth I would possess nothing.

I believe in the challenge of the future, fully realizing there will be no future except it become alive through me.

I believe in the sacredness of duty, through which I must conserve what was given me, and thereby help to preserve it for all comers after me.

I believe in the contagion of health, and that I can spread it through cheerfulness, wholesome habits, sensible expenditure of energies, and wise use of food.

I believe in the nobility of work as the creative expression of the best within me, and as my share in easing the common load of all.

I believe in the enrichment of play and laughter as the means of cleansing by body of staleness and my bitterness.

I believe in the holiness of friendship, knowing that my life is a tapestry woven from the silken threads of many lives.

Because I believe this, I therefore believe in God, who justifies all my beliefs: He is the still small voice within, ever urging me toward the unattained. Since He cares for these precious possessions from me.

And whatever more I believe is entwined in those precious feelings that lie too deep for words.

Training Conference Is Held in Pampa

A Range Training Conference was held in Pampa Tuesday for Soil Conservation personnel from the eastern half of the Texas Panhandle.

A Book of Comfort by Elizabeth Goudge, given in memory of Mrs. Jim Hathaway by the Pioneer Club.

Dearest Debbie by Dale Evans Rogers, given in memory of Robert McDonald by Mr. and Mrs. Milton Carpenter and Johnnie.

Clipped from the cover of a book in Lovett Memorial Library:

A BOOK SPEAKS

Between my covers you will find the heartaches, the passions, the dreams, the struggles and aspirations of mankind. I bring you laughter and tears, amusement and learning, gaiety and wisdom.

The ancient past, the fleeting present, the marvels of the future—all are inscribed upon my leaves. At your will, I can transport you to ancient cities which time has wholly destroyed, or project you into the vastness of the unborn future.

To kings and emperors, statesmen and sages, I speak in the same accents with which I address the outcast and pariah. My courtesies and kindnesses are extended to all alike; nor am I influenced by race, creed, color or social distinctions.

What men have prized above all else is written within me. The thoughts for which wise men risked their lives, the discoveries wrought by scientists with incredible toil and disheartening years of struggle, the vibrant lines written with the heart's blood of an unrecognized poet, the revelations of prophets and seers—all are part of my vast hoard.

Many have feared and hated, lived and honored me through the centuries. I have incited revolutions and shaken the very foundations of society. At times men have sought to destroy me—but all such attempts have ended in failure. I live. I will live forever. For it is not given to man to efface me.

I am a book—the friend, entertainer, servant and aide of man. I wait upon your pleasure, I am yours to command.
