Just Between Us

McLean, the city that hasn't witnessed a gasoline price war in more than 18 years, is in the grip of one now that doesn't seem to want to end.

Local service stations are nearing the close of the third week of low prices, and no one was budging up or down Wednesday afternoon.

Major companies have been holding since early last week at 21.9 cents per gallon for regular, while the independents are a penny lower.

Wheeler Carter brought us an interesting article on the subject recently. It is contained in the February issue of Mechanix Illustrated.

One of the principle reasons the wars are started, according to this magazine, is over-production of the gasoline plants.

"A revolutionary new gasoline-making process" now makes it possible for a company to squeeze 38 gallons of regular and higher-octane gas from each 24-gallon barrel of crude oil, according to the article.

This is 40 per cent more than the 21 gallons previously produced by the old process.

Instead of slowing down operations at the plants, the companies continue producing and a surplus rapidly builds up.

The surplus is sold, Mechanix Illustrated reports, to independent companies at a reduced price. They are able to sell it cheaper, and the price cutting begins.

This session of the Texas Legislature has the makings of a jimdandy.

Controversial bills are being poured into the legislative hopper so fast it's hard to keep up with them.

First one introduced would allow youngsters 15½ years old to obtain drivers licenses if they pass approved drivers education courses.

Another would make available to people dining in Texas restaurants tiny, two-ounce (or less) bottles of distilled spirits. Each restaurant providing the service would pay a $500 license fee annually.

A bill raising the salaries of school teachers $45 per month for each month of the school year was added to the growing list.

This measure has more than 80 representatives' names attached to it, so it's certain to pass even if no one votes for it except the sponsors.

It is expected to have easy sailing in the Senate, as well.

Still another bill provides five days sick leave a year for teachers, cumulative to 30 days.

At the same time, however, the Texas committee on state and local tax policy recommended that the local school districts bear a bigger burden of the minimum foundation program.

In other words, the Legislature plans to vote for this increased spending, but make the school districts find the money to pay a big portion of the cost.

Groom Rites Held For Voda McKee

Funeral services for Voda McKee, nephew of Bert McKee of Alanreed, were held Wednesday in the Methodist Church in Groom. Officiating was M. W. Reynolds, pastor, assisted by James Coffman, pastor of the First Baptist Church in Groom.

Mr. McKee was killed Sunday afternoon in a car accident near Groom.

Burial was in the Memphis cemetery.

Besides his uncle, he is survived by several sisters.

Bert McKee attended the services.

LEARNING TO READ: Susie Edwards of Nashville, Tenn., born with a birth defect that later caused her to go blind, receives instruction in Braille from James J. McCormack, who also is blind. Funds for the instruction and for earlier medical assistance for 11-year-old Susie came from the March of Dimes.

Bucket Brigade Is Saturday in McLean

Snow and cold weather postponed the March of Dimes Bucket Brigade scheduled for last Saturday, but Lions and Boy Scouts are due to report for duty this Saturday.

Motorists and pedestrians will be hailed at the two intersections of Main and Highway 66 and asked to drop their contributions to the MOD in buckets carried by the volunteer workers.

LOCAL STOCK ARE IN SHOW

Several McLean Future Farmers of America and 4-H Club members showed animals in the Amarillo Fat Stock Show, and some won places in the competition.

The show opened last weekend and closed with the annual sale on Wednesday.

Three FFA barrows and one steer exhibited by local youngsters were ranked by the judges.

Kelly McClellan's barrow placed sixth; James Harkins' 10th, and Wayne Jackson's 13th.

Steer Ranked Ninth
An Angus steer shown by Lynn Mays was ranked ninth in a strong middle weight class. The steer was from the George Saunders herd in McLean.

Nelson Christie, McLean High School vocational agriculture teacher, said the barrows were shown (See SHOW, Page 5)

Cubettes Win 21-5 Over Clarendon Girls

The junior high Cubettes defeated Clarendon there Monday night 21-5, but the Cubs were downed.

The scorebook on the Cubs' game wasn't available this morning to provide the needed statistics on the contest.

Norma Hill was the top pointmaker for the Cubettes, with 10. Marsha Hunt had nine and Debra McClellan two.

In the finals of the tournament at Wheeler last week, the Cubettes were defeated Saturday night 15-14 by the hosts, but came home with the second-place trophy.

Hunt was the local girls' leading scorer in that game with six points. Hill made three and Janet Middleton five.

Proceeds totaling $144.44 have been reported from the coffees to date.

The hostesses themselves will be complimented at a coffee Friday afternoon in the home of Mrs. Evan Sitter.

Boosters to Meet
A meeting of the McLean Band Boosters is scheduled for 7:30 p. m. next Thursday in the band hall. Parents of band members are invited to attend.

New McLean Hospital Is Accepted by Commissioners

GROUP MAKES FINAL CHECK OF FACILITIES

Gray County commissioners Wednesday afternoon accepted the new McLean Hospital after a final inspection of the facilities.

The commissioners court, county hospital board, architects, contractor and hospital administrator visited the just completed structure.

Truitt Johnson, commissioner from McLean, said Wednesday night that "a few minor things" which need to be corrected were found and brought to the attention of the architects.

Open House Planned

Administrator Bill Robertson said he hopes to complete arrangements by mid-February for opening the hospital.

The date the hospital is to receive its first patient and plans for an open house before this time will be decided in the near future.

Here for the inspection Wednesday, in addition to Johnson and Robertson, were County Commissioners Joe Clarke, Clyde Organ and Jimmy McCracken; County Judge Bill Craig; hospital board members John C. Haynes, J. R. Sparkman and Don Conley; Clayton Shiver and Russell Meget, Amarillo architects, and J. C. Page, the contractor.

Parking Lot Roadied

Work is expected to be completed this week on the hospital parking lot, located on property purchased by the city across the street from the new building.

Precinct employees, under the supervision of Johnson, are now leveling the lot after pulling several trees. Johnson said paving of the parking lot by city employees will not be done until this spring.

Several persons have already been hired for operating the hospital, and Robertson said others will be added as needed.

GOLFERS TO HOLD MEETING

The McLean Lions Golf Association will discuss building a club house and forming a country club at a special meeting next Wednesday night.

All association members are invited to attend the meeting at 8 p. m. at the Methodist Church.

Directors of the organization will present a proposal to purchase a house and move it to the McLean Golf Course for the clubhouse.

A location for the house, if it is purchased, also will be decided. Directors indicated an increase in membership dues will be necessary. The Golf Association and country club may be operated separately, with residents permitted to belong to one or both, as they choose.

Association members were urged to be present to vote on the proposal.

Feb. 9 Last Day For Registration

All students interested in attending Clarendon College were reminded this week that Feb. 9 is the last day to register for any class, day or evening, for the spring semester.

Any student who failed to register on Jan. 25 may still enroll at the college, providing he does so before the Feb. 9 deadline.

BAD WEEK ON COURTS FOR LOCAL TEAMS

The week hasn't been very enjoyable for McLean's Tigers and Tigerettes, and they're facing another tough evening this Friday.

White Deer invaded the local gym last Friday and defeated the Tigers 46-43, the Tigerettes 55-41 and the Tigerette B's 37-26.

Then Tuesday night the Tigers fell to Memphis 74-60 and the Tiger B's were dumped 41-37. Memphis does not have a girls team.

Powerful Wellington comes calling Friday for games starting at 6:30 p. m., and the locals go to Canadian next Tuesday.

Stiff Fight
Against White Deer, the Bengals put up a stiff fight before being nosed out.

The Bucks took a 9-7 lead at the close of the first quarter and stretched this to 24-19 at halftime. But the Tigers caught up in the final frame after the visitors had held a 40-34 advantage when the third period ended.

Eddy Windom's 17 points was the best total in the game. Homer Goldston finished the evening with 10; George Green, eight, and Dickie Crockett and Gary Hester, four apiece.

Reynolds with 16 was White Deer's leading scorer.

Lead 3 Quarters
At Memphis the Tigers led through three quarters, only to see the Cyclone go on a scoring spree in the waning minutes to wrap up the victory.

McLean was in front 16-11, 33-27 (See TIGERS, Page 5)

James Ronnie Webb Promoted to Captain

James Ronnie Webb, son of Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Webb of McLean, has been promoted to the rank of captain in the U.S. Army.

Capt. Webb is assigned as assistant director of services in Headquarters Fourth Logistical Command at Fort Lee, Va.

A 1961 graduate of Oklahoma State University at Stillwater, Capt. Webb entered the Army as a first lieutenant.

He was sent to Hawaii in December, 1961, and spent three years there. He was transferred from Hawaii to Fort Lee last December and reported for duty there on Jan. 3 after a visit with his parents.

Lt. Pakan Winner In Photography Contest

First Lt. John S. Pakan, stationed with the U.S. Army in Berlin, Germany, made a clean sweep in both the black and white and color slide categories of the Berlin Brigade's Special Services Photography Contest for December.

Lt. Pakan, son of Mr. and Mrs. Miro Pakan, is assigned to the brigade's Advanced Marksmanship Unit.

His black and white entry, "Winter Wonderland," netted him a $25 savings bond, as did his color slide entry, "Three of Berlin."

The two winning entries are being forwarded to USAREUR for further judging in the 1965 All-American 11th Interservice Photography Contest.

Lt. Pakan is a graduate of West Texas State University, where he was photographer for the yearbook.

Letters Express City Interest in Lake On McClellan Creek

Letters expressing McLean's interest in the McClellan Creek watershed project were signed Wednesday afternoon by the city commission.

The letters were sent to Milton Carpenter and Curtis Schaeffer, members of the Gray County Soil Conservation District board of supervisors.

The action was taken by the commission in an effort to help speed the progress of the proposed upstream flood control project on McClellan Creek.

Members of the city commission several weeks ago expressed an interest in securing one of the proposed structures on the creek north of here as a city water supply and for recreational facilities.

An application for the McClellan Creek project has been pending with the Texas Conservation Board for several years.

If approved, a number of dams and reservoirs would be constructed on the McClellan watershed to prevent flooding.

The city commission met in special session Wednesday to attend to this matter and other items of business.

During the session, the governing board also voted to employ Dickey Jack Smith on a six-months trial basis starting Feb. 1. If his work is satisfactory at the end of this period, he will become a permanent city employe at a salary of $300 per month.

Judith Going Wins 'Homemaker' Title

Judith Going, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Going, has been named the McLean High School's "1965 Betty Crocker Homemaker of Tomorrow."

She scored highest in a written homemaking examination taken by senior girls on Dec. 1, and is now eligible for state and national honors.

Mrs. Aleta Thompson, local homemaking teacher, announced the name of the winning student this week.

Test papers of all school Homemakers of Tomorrow in Texas are currently being judged. The state's highest-ranking girl will receive a $1,500 scholarship from General Mills, Inc., sponsor of the annual Betty Crocker search for the American Homemaker of Tomorrow.

The state runner-up will be awarded a $500 educational grant. In addition, the school of the state Homemaker of Tomorrow is to receive a complete set of the Encyclopaedia Britannica.

Later this spring, the Texas Homemaker of Tomorrow, together with a school advisor, will join first-place winners and advisors from each of the 49 other states and the District of Columbia in a tour of Colonial Williamsburg, Va., Washington, D. C., and New York City.

Climax of the week-long tour will be the naming of the Betty Crocker All-American Homemaker of Tomorrow. To be chosen on the basis of original test score and personal observation and interviews during the tour, she will receive an increase in her scholarship to $5,000.

The search for the American Homemaker of Tomorrow was initiated by General Mills in 1954 to emphasize the importance of homemaking as a career. Including this year's record enrollment of more than half a million senior girls in (See JUDITH, Page 2)

THE FAMILY LAWYER

CHILD AT STAKE

In a hospital room, a child lies seriously ill. Doctors agree on the medical treatment that the child should have. But the child's parents, prompted by sincere religious convictions will not allow it.

May a court step in? Does society have the power to order medical treatment for a child in defiance of his own parents?

Clearly, momentous issues, both moral and legal are involved. A state has both the right and the duty to protect a child in danger. Yet parents, by and large, are entitled to raise their children as they see fit. And, in most cases of this kind, they buttress their position by pointing to the constitutional guarantee of freedom of religion.

Case by case, in the law's cautious fashion, basic doctrines have been worked out to resolve the dilemma. Broadly speaking, a court may indeed step in and order medical treatment—but it may do so only in extreme circumstances. Before taking that step, the court will weigh these key questions:

How serious is the child's illness? How risky is the medical treatment that is contemplated?

What are the chances that the treatment will succeed?

In one case, doctors urged surgery to correct a bone disease they felt would cause permanent deformity in the victim. Still, the child's life was in no danger. And the operation, although a common one, did involve an appreciable risk. Refusing to authorize surgery, the court said:

"We have not yet adopted as a policy the Spartan rule that children belong, not to their parents, but to the state."

In another case, however, a court did authorize the removal of a child's eye, because the operation had a good chance of success—and because the alternative was almost certain death. And in a third case a blood transfusion, needed by a badly burned child, was given by court order. To the parents' insistence on religious freedom, the court replied:

"The parents in this case have a perfect right to worship as they please and believe what they please. They enjoy complete freedom of religion. But this right of theirs ends where somebody else's right begins. Their child is a human being in his own right, with a soul and body of his own. He has rights of his own."

Peace Corps Tests Offered on Feb. 12 In Amarillo, Pampa

An opportunity for McLean area residents to test their aptitudes for Peace Corps service will come at 8:30 a.m. Saturday, Feb. 12, in Amarillo and Pampa.

The Peace Corps placement test will be given at this time in Room 322 of the Amarillo Post Office Building and in the main Post Office at Pampa.

The test is not passed or failed, but simply indicates where the applicant's greatest potential lies. The Peace Corps questionnaire which must be filled out and brought to the exam unless previously submitted, tells what an applicant has done in the past.

But the placement test is aimed at showing what he or she can do in the future. Applicants do not have to register for the test ahead of time.

Questionnaires can be found in Post Offices. If not available there, the applicant should write to the Peace Corps, Washington, D. C. 20525.

Applicants should plan on about 1½ hours at the testing center, unless they wish to take the Spanish or French achievement test. For this optional test, another hour should be added.

Temperatures for the most part were on the chilly side during the week, but did manage to climb to comfortable levels two days—72 on Sunday and Monday.

Breakthrough Comes In Reading ZIP Code

Acting Postmaster Frank Simpson of McLean said Wednesday he has received word that a big "breakthrough" has now been made on electronic machines to "read" ZIP-coded addresses on mail.

Postmaster General John A. Gronowski said he expects to begin installing these sophisticated new machines in major Post Offices starting in about a year.

Each machine will be able to sort, as well as read, at the rate of 35,000 letters per hour.

The offices to get the address readers have not been announced, but Simpson said they will have significant effects on the mail in and out of each community, regardless of whether it gets the new machines.

This is because they will speed incoming mail to smaller offices from major cities and step up the dispatch of mail deposited in smaller communities but which must be processed en route at major mail massing points.

City Team to Install CJC FBLA Chapter

A team from the McLean High School Future Business Leaders of America chapter will install a new FBLA chapter tonight at Clarendon Junior College.

POISON CONTROL CENTERS

From our extension entomologist at Texas A and M I have recently received a list of poison control centers in Texas. Purpose of these centers is to provide information, treatment and public health information to local physicians who may not be acquainted with the proper treatment and antidotes for specific pesticides or other poisonous material.

Our closest poison control center is at Amarillo. You might want to write this address in the front of your telephone directory in red ink along with the other emergency numbers that appear in the front page of your directory: Amarillo Poison Control Center, Northwest Texas Hospital, Emergency Room, Phone DR 6-4431, extension 211 or extension 212.

Dr. Patrick Oles is in charge of this center. Fifteen or 20 years ago we had a very few poisons and the antidotes were generally known. Today we have insecticides by the thousands and more new ones coming on the market daily.

This would be a good time to say the safest bet is to keep all insecticides and other poisonous materials high out of the reach of small children.

While on the subject of safety we might add that one of the most dangerous things you can do is store gasoline in a glass jug inside your garage. I used to do this myself until I had the opportunity of viewing a safety demonstration that showed the danger. Have you ever thought what might happen if you had an open flame stove in your garage and you accidentally dropped the jug in the garage. Store your gasoline in a tin can. It is best to store it in an outside building.

FLIP BREEDLOVE RETIRES

Our very good neighbor county agent to the south, Flip Breedlove, is retiring at the end of this month.

Practically all of my time in the extension service has been in a neighboring county to Flip. Armstrong County on Flip's west, Carson County northwest adjacent and Gray County north.

I have always admired his enthusiasm and zeal. He is an inspiration to all those in his county as well as the county agents over the Panhandle.

Flip has had a long list of 4-H Club boys and girls as winners at the stock shows. In most of the publicity that has been given Flip on his retiring, I believe the most important things have been overlooked.

Many a Donley County boy or girl have used their winnings at the shows to pay their expenses in college.

Flip always taught these boys and girls to be honest first and win second. His code of ethics is unquestionable at the shows. He never sympathized with a boy, girl or their parents at the shows because they didn't win. He taught them good sportsmanship. I have seen a few agricultural leaders pitch in and cue the judge a little bit to make the parents feel better. If Flip didn't win he said we will do better next year. He always conditioned his 4-Hers by not getting them built up too high when they had a good calf.

As we hear so many nice things said about Flip we also hear extremely nice things said of his wife, Dorothy. "She is the finest person in the world." "Isn't she a honey?" and "A great asset to Flip." All these expressions came from people who know Dorothy.

So we would also like to pay tribute to Dorothy.

We think of the almost two months of each year that Dorothy is a county agent's widow when Flip was at the shows and all the times she waited until Flip came in before fixing his supper.

So to Flip and Dorothy we say the best of luck in your new venture in the banking business.

Flip will become vice president of the Farmers' State Bank in Clarendon.

WASHINGTON AND "SMALL BUSINESS"

By C. WILSON HARDER

It would be quite interesting if a businessman went to his banker and showed with his books that he was running badly in red figures and that in addition, both his creditors and competitors were doing their best to take advantage of the situation. Would the banker therefore help him out?

But what would make it even more interesting, assuming the banker showed some interest in extending help, if the businessman also said, "And while you are at it better leave me have a few more extra thousand so I can go to Las Vegas and take a chance on some new forms of gambling to see if I can bail out this way, too." Obviously, the banker would take a very cold attitude.

While that may sound ridiculous, and it is, it is perhaps no more ridiculous than the recent maneuvering in the world monetary market participated in by the United States government to bolster the British pound.

In the last election, by a very narrow majority, the British put into power a Labor government. Now of course the British people have the right to elect any kind of a government they desire.

But the Labor Government has announced that it is determined to continue socializing industry, continuing where they left off the last time in power.

The plans are to nationalize the steel industry, the trucking industry, and others, as well as extend welfare state.

However, with their economy already deeply in the red, these announced plans to further socialize the economy made investors, holders of British pounds, and others, understandably nervous.

Also as a factor was the memory that the last British Labor government lowered the value of the pound by almost half. So, with all these uncertainties, investors started dumping the pound on the open market to get rid of them at the best price possible before the boom was lowered.

But immediately, to prop up the British pound, the United States participated in a move to raise $3 billion to prop up the pound, even digging into the diminishing U.S. gold supply.

Thus, by indirection, the people of the United States are now committed to support socialism in Britain.

Thus, the situation is weird, especially when a nation that is supposed to believe in the free enterprise system, taps the resources of its citizens to support a socialistic regime.

It is not inconceivable that in the not too distant future somebody will come up with the idea of government financial aid to counterfeiters. After all, if American funds can be used to maintain a false value on British currency, why cannot it be used to support bogus American money?

WALTER ROGERS REPORTS

In the fast pace of headline-events during Inaugural Week, many Americans may have missed the substance of President Johnson's message to Congress on the current state of our nation's defenses.

For friend and foe alike, the message was clear: Our military forces are supreme and unparalleled and we mean to keep them that way.

"I am able to report to you that the United States today is stronger militarily than at any other time in our peacetime history," the President declared. "For the past four years, the focus of our national effort has been upon assuring an indisputable margin of superiority for our defenses. I can report today that effort has succeeded."

In four years, Americans can note these milestones of progress—and our enemies abroad, who might be contemplating new adventures in a test of arms, also can give them sober study:

Our strategic nuclear power on alert has increased threefold; our tactical nuclear power has been greatly expanded; our special forces, trained for the undeclared, twilight wars of today, have been expanded eightfold; our combat-ready Army divisions have been increased by 5 per cent; our Marine Corps has been increased by 15,000 men; our airlift capacity to move these troops anywhere in the world has been doubled; our tactical Air Force firepower to support these divisions in the field has increased 100 per cent.

Remember: This strength has been developed to support our basic military strategy, a strategy of strength and readiness, capable of countering aggression with appropriate force from ballistic missiles to guerilla bands.

Supporting our defenses at this level of preparedness costs approximately half of all the money we Americans pay in taxes. But Congress and the country know that our security and continued sovereignty depend on vast military expenditures—and will for the foreseeable future. As the President said, "We—and free men everywhere—have proved preparedness to be 'the most effectual means of preserving peace.'"

Our defense dollars are to be spent, according to the President's plan for the next fiscal year, on further increases in missile strength as well as further technological improvements and research and development.

Major new developments to begin include these: A new missile system, the Poseidon (with double the payload of the Polaris), to increase the striking power of our nuclear submarines; new payloads for strategic missiles; a new short-range attack missile, the SCRAM; improved ability to concentrate U. S. military power rapidly, by expanding airlift and seallift capability and increase the amount of prepositioned equipment; stepped-up efforts to protect our people, cities and industry should a war be forced upon us; and continued research and development into systems providing protection against missile and bomber attacks.

We all know that the United States is the leader of Free World forces arrayed against a treacherous enemy. International communism may be deterred from overt aggression by the knowledge of America's military might, but despite serious problems created by ideological differences the Red-dominated nations are bent on world conquest by whatever means they determine will succeed.

Thus, the struggle involves more than military might. The moral and economic vitality of freedom will continue to be tested.

EVANGELISTS: Lee Mays & Tom Waters

DID YOU KNOW?

That as we have studied about Christ's church in the past, someone is still asking who founded the "Church of Christ?" Certainly, no one in the past eighteen hundred years, for Paul spoke of the "Churches of Christ" in Romans 16:16. No one can be found in the last few hundred years that which had already been founded nearly two thousand years ago.

That we should ask ourselves this question: Did the founder or founders of the church I belong to shed his or their own blood to purchase this church I belong to? Christ's Church was purchased by his own blood (Acts 20:28). Christ is the head of His body or church and is the Savior of His church (Eph. 5:23). Is the founder of the church of which I am a member the head of that church and is He the savior of that body?

That we could be like the people Paul talked to in 1 Cor. 1:10-13. Maybe you want to be of Apollos and I of Paul and another of Cephas, but there is one of Christ, "a Christian."

Mission of Ysleta by E. M. Schiwetz

THE MISSION OF YSLETA

The Church that changed sides!

When the Indians revolted against Spanish rule in 1681-2 in the upper Rio Grande Valley in New Mexico, refugees sought safety at the mission at El Paso del Norte (now Juarez). One group settled on the Mexican river bank and named its community Ysleta del Sur (South). This settlement was established in 1681 and a mission was completed the following year on a small island in the Rio Grande.

The Rio Grande changed its course and the site is now in Texas. Ysleta and its mission are generally given the distinction of being the oldest permanent settlement in Texas . . . truly a church that changed sides!

CHOOSE THE SIDE OF FREEDOM...with U. S. Savings Bonds!

Thus, Ysleta del Sur, the refuge of the oppressed, became the earliest of settlements to identify itself with a brave, new land of freedom.

Today, millions of Americans choose the side of freedom and they do something about it — by purchasing U.S. Savings Bonds.

Every dollar you invest in Savings Bonds gives Uncle Sam exactly that much help in the vital task of safeguarding liberty for yourself and your family. Buy Savings Bonds at your bank or on the payroll savings plan where you work.
