

PLAIN TALK

By BILL PERKINS

Since The News does not have its own engraving facilities as most people know, we have to send our local pictures out of town to have them made into plates ready for printing. This process usually takes four or five days and many people may wonder how we managed to get the picture of the Morday night beauty contest winner, Othelia Eustace, back in time for this issue.

Actually, we had arranged for the picture last Saturday. Othelia was installed as worthy advisor in the Order of Rainbow for Girls Saturday night and we were going to have her picture in The News. When we learned that she was named the beauty contest winner Monday night her picture was already at the engravers at Guthrie, Okla. Quite a coincidence, we thought.

Below is a Texas Oil Millionaire story to end all such stories. It was told by Vern Sanford, general manager of the Texas Press Association, at a recent meeting of the New Mexico Press Association where he was guest speaker:

"This Texan drives like a streak of lightning. One day he was barreling down the highway—in his Cadillac—driving at least 90 miles an hour—when a half mile down the long stretch of highway he spied a hitchhiker. The big, burly Texan slapped on his brakes, came to a skidding stop, opened the door, and yelled to the young man hitchhiker—'JUMP IN, PARDNER, and I'll give you a ride.'

"That he did, and what a ride he got! 60-70-80-90-100 miles an hour.

"The hitchhiker became worried. But he didn't say a word, he was scared stiff! But, finally he took his eyes off the highway long enough to take a peek at the driver. In so doing he noticed a pair of thick-lens glasses in the seat between them.

"Another quick look at the driver revealed deep marks on the Texan's nose—indicating that he habitually wore glasses. But he had none on!

"MISTER, don't you wear glasses?" asked the boy.

"YES SREEE, pardner," said the Texan.

"Are those big, thick-lens glasses yours?" said the hitchhiker—as they 4-barreled it along the highway at 100 mph.

"You bet they are, pardner," said the driver.

"MISTER, as fast as you are driving, and as much as you need glasses, don't you think you'd better have them on?" inquired the worried hitchhiker.

"NOT ME, pardner," the Texan replied. "You see, man, I got MY WINDSHIELD ground to fit my eyes!"

McLean News classified ads really do get results and the latest to testify to that is Howard Williams. Last week Howard advertised the W. R. James Chevrolet in our paper and a subscriber in Fort Worth read the ad and bought the car over the telephone.

While temperatures in McLean were in the 60's Wednesday Florida reported that it was 41 degrees down there. For years we've heard of folks going to Florida for the winter. If winter is what tourists are looking for, that certainly seems to be the place to go.

AGRICULTURE DAY PROGRAM SET FEB. 14

The Gray County Agriculture Day program will be held in the Palm room of the City Hall in Pampa Friday, February 14, beginning at 9:30 a. m. The program sponsored by the Extension Service, Burlington Railway, the Pampa Chamber of Commerce and the Gray County Soil Conservation District, should be of interest to farmers, ranchers, business and professional men and women, according to County Agent Ralph Thomas.

John McHaney, agricultural economist, Texas A. and M. College, will discuss the agricultural outlook for 1958. He was a very popular speaker at a meeting of farmers and business men two years ago.

C. G. Scruggs, associate editor of the Progressive Farmer, will give an insight into agriculture's future. Time and rates of water application will be explained by D. W. Sherrill, irrigation agent, Extension Service.

In the afternoon Paul Marion, superintendent Spur Experiment Station, who has visited Gray County on several occasions, will discuss feeding home grown feeds to cattle.

With the decline in prices of grain sorghum and cotton, many farmers are interested in growing commercial vegetables, and to discuss this topic, Joe Cole, extension horticulturist, will be on hand.

To conclude the day's program Reagan Brown, extension rural sociologist, will tell the group how to work together for a better agriculture.

Thomas said that everyone is invited to this all day program or to any part of it. Gray County Soil Conservation District supervisors and farmers in the agriculture committee of the chamber of commerce selected the subjects thought to be of most interest to farmers to be discussed at the meeting.

Figures compiled by the Outboard Boating Club of America reveal that there are more than seven million pleasure craft in the United States today.

Of these seven million, over half of them are outboard motor boats.

You can find a goodly number of boats on any lake in Texas on any sunny Sunday afternoon. That's one of the joys of living in Texas. Actually, boating goes on in the Lone Star State practically every day of the year.

Another advantage of the wonderful Texas climate is that most boat owners don't have to resort to dry docks and winter storage. Very few Texas lakes and rivers ever freeze over.

If you don't believe that boating really has become big business, just ask your local boat dealer. He can give you plenty of facts and figures. Also the names of many persons whom you know who right now are enjoying the great outdoors.

He can tell you, too, that in 1957 Americans pumped 397,000,000 gallons of gasoline and 19,000,000 gallons of lubricating oil into their outdoors.

Furthermore, he can tell you that these same Americans spread 9,800,000 gallons of marine paint and varnishes during the same time. Also that they used 149,000,000 square feet of plywood; 45,000,000 pounds of aluminum; 20,000,000 pounds of fiberglass; 6,600,000 pounds of rope; and 8,000,000 square feet of sailcloth.

ASTOUNDING, isn't it? And, there'll be more of it in 1958. So, if you don't have a boat you'd better get in the swim. It's the popular thing to do.

Buying a New Rod?

In buying a new rod this year you'll be impressed with the number of popular brands now being made in two pieces. They also have medium size guides. Generally they are known as "spincaster" because you can use either a conventional rod or one of the new enclosed models.

Pflueger has just announced a new enclosed reel, the 88, with immediate line control. The company has solved one of the troubles with enclosed reels. By limiting the free flow of line from the cone, spooler operation is had. Pflueger is one of the old-line tackle manufacturers, being famous for its Supreme reel for many years.

I don't know why tackle manufacturers were slow to get around to the two piece rods with large guides. For a number of years I've been fishing with a home-made one. Really there is nothing new in the idea. Nearly all of our original steel rods were two or more pieces. I still have the old Bristol rod I learned to cast with. It is a 4 1/2 foot three piece rod. While it wasn't much for casting, it was easy to take along and it has caught plenty of fine bass.

Nowadays these new two piece rods can be cased easily and transported without danger of breakage. With a high traction rod, a smooth operating reel, monofilament line, and light lures, you have just about the ultimate in tackle.

In buying one of these spincast rods I'd suggest you look for one where the two sections are about the same length. Then you are less likely to break a tip, either in the case or in transporting the equipment.

It's Crow Killing Time

This is the time of the year when you can do a lot about protecting next season's quail, young turkeys, peacocks and roasting ing ears. If every hunter in Texas would kill a half-dozen crows it would mean a great deal to the protection of game birds and crops.

I don't think I ever have seen more crows in Texas than there are right now. In driving across the state I have seen hundreds following the plows in the field or squawking about their looting. In the late evenings great hordes of them can be seen flying from freshly plowed fields back to their roosts in river bottom tree tops.

In some areas game wardens have assisted in dynamiting crow roosts. In others, crow shooting have been arranged.

Crow shooting offers a very good practice for shotgunners. Two or more gunners can stack up a big pile of crows in a short time of good shooting, in a very simple way.

For shotgun shooting it is desirable that the shooters find a good clump of trees near a freshly plowed field, or where crows or peacocks have been left in the field. With a crow call, which sells for a dollar or two, you can call them in quickly. Crow calling is much simpler than calling ducks or geese. Almost anyone can attract crows with just a few minutes practice.

If you have a stuffed owl and will mount it on a fence post, then us your crow call like a crying call for help, crows will flock in to you. That's the time to get in some real shooting.

You don't have to have any particular size shot or load for crows. You can shoot them with duck loads, or bird loads. Either is very effective.

One of the nicest shooting guns I've seen lately for this work is that over-under double-barrel Marlin. This fine o/u is equipped with anti-doubling single trigger mechanism. For a shooter who is partial to a double gun, but still likes to sight down a single tube, this is the answer.

Somewhat I have a tender spot in my heart for Marlin guns. They are oldtimers. The company has been making rifles and shotguns for many years. Currently it is the only American company making the o/u shotgun, which I think is a real beauty.

Of course, you don't have to use a shotgun on crows. They afford wonderful targets for rifle shooting. There is more danger, however, in rifle shooting. Bullets from rifles, even the modest 22, will travel a long way. For that reason, most care should be used. In fact, if anything larger than a 22 rim fire is used, the caliber should be limited to one of the high speed varmint loads. They break up on contact and are less likely to kill someone in the next county.

NO NEWS IN THE HOME TOWN PAPER?

The universal cry of the small town newspaper reader is "Aw, there's no news in this blankety-blank paper." The daily carries the Sputnik story, television pictures what has happened in Timbuctoo and the magazine goes to great lengths to tell you why Gary Cooper likes his eggs sunny side up. Radio gives you news on the hour, every hour, and the ladies at the coffee parties have news to relate that sometimes hasn't happened as yet, but the small town newspaper merely carries "too many ads" or "all that stuff about Mrs. Jones visiting with Mrs. Smith last Saturday."

And yet somehow that small town newspaper carries the entire life of its community when serious reflection is employed. Little Miss Nancy Smith was born at the hospital and weighed 8 pounds, 2 1/2 ounces. Nancy Smith entered kindergarten this week. Nancy Smith scored 14 points in the basketball game Tuesday night. Nancy Smith, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Smith, was married Sunday to Billy Jones. A son, John Jones, was born to Mr. and Mrs. Billy Jones. Time passes—Mr. and Mrs. Billy Jones celebrated their 50th anniversary on Thursday evening—and services for Mrs. Billy Jones were held Monday at the local church.

So there it is—a slowly developing, nothing sensational story—repeated week in and week out. It's the story of small towns everywhere.

No news—just the story of life.

—Boyd Schultz in the Newell (la.) Mirror

"JAYHAWK EDITOR"

The "Country Weekly" is typical of the United States. It is the voice of the local community. In the 48 states, there are over 11,000 weekly and smaller city daily newspapers.

The "Country Press" gains in stature as the years roll by. Nothing else in the world duplicates its service. It is a living record of community life—births, marriages, deaths, local events, news and legal statistics. Its editorial opinions are a guidepost for consideration of political issues and local problems.

Representing the highest traditions of the "Country Weekly" is the Belleville, Kans., Telescope, established in 1870. And hereby hangs a tale.

Active editor and publisher for over 60 years, A. Q. Miller, Sr., is now co-publisher of the Telescope after turning it over to his journalistic sons who have followed their father in keeping it one of the outstanding weekly newspapers of the country with many honors to its credit. In addition, they are active in publishing 7 other weekly and one daily paper.

Now in his eighties, Mr. Miller continues his activities in journalistic and public life. His book, "Jayhawk Editor," recently published by Sterling Press, Los Angeles, is a monument to the country editors of the nation. From printer's devil to owner of weekly papers in Kansas when the railroads were reaching into the western states, Mr. Miller's biography is virtually a motion picture of events which are unfamiliar to most younger editors today.

To an older newspaper man who knows what it meant to set a stick of type, or mix flour paste for single wrappers, the book is a delight to read. For the younger generation it gives insight into the character and courage that goes into individually owned papers which keep the meaning of a free press and free speech untarnished in this country. "Jayhawk Editor" is a must for country editors to read—it will make them proud to be one of that clan.

"INVEST FOR THE LONG RUN"

Parade magazine of January 12 carries a little article about a club in Madison, Wis. It has 12 members, and its name is the Amateur Investors Club. Each month these members put up $10 apiece and then decide how best to invest the money in corporation stocks. This is no hit-and-miss undertaking. Annual reports and financial statements are carefully analyzed, brokers are interviewed, and there is "prolonged head scratching." The club now owns shares in a number of leading corporations and the operations have shown a profit.

Once a year modest flyers are taken in highly speculative stocks. However, as the club's founder points out, "... basically we're interested in growth, not speculation. It may be 10 years before we're substantially ahead. But we know our money's going to grow. That's what our investments have taught us about America."

There are something like 15,000 other such groups in the country and the number is growing fast. Parade gives some excellent advice on organizing one of these clubs. Members should be picked carefully and the numbers kept small. A broker should be selected to handle the investments—member firms of the New York Stock Exchange are found in 600 communities. Applicable laws should be checked, and officers elected. Committees should be assigned to investigate particular stocks and industries. And, of top importance, "Don't expect to get rich overnight. Invest for the long run."

Here's an excellent way we can learn about the economic system that makes this country tick, get a personal stake in it—have fun in the process.

TELEPHONE TALK

by Clyde Dickerson, Manager

BACKWARD GLANCE

Once again, we're well into a new year.

Before old man 1957 disappears completely from sight, let's take one last look at him. He was a year of continued telephone activity in McLean and other nearby communities we serve. For that, he at least deserves a tip of the hat from us.

Here, in brief, is his telephone record:

1. Total telephones now in service in McLean 712.
2. Average number of local calls a day 3000
3. Average number of Long Distance calls a day 185

To sum it up, folks in McLean depended on their telephones to do many jobs for them in 1957 and we plan this year to continue offering the kind of service that telephone users here have come to depend on.

QUESTION FOR THE LADIES

How many times did you answer your telephone today? Several times, I'll bet. Chances are, you'll get one or two more calls before the evening's over.

I'll bet, too, you're usually in the kitchen when the phone rings, or when you need to make a call. Sometime, just for fun, count the steps you take going back and forth from the kitchen to the phone. And count the times, too, when you hurry through a conversation because there's something on the stove and you have to get back to keep an eye on it.

A telephone in your kitchen—where you need it most—is just about the handiest "appliance" you can have. You'll be surprised, too, how little it costs to put one in—even if you choose yours in one of the glamorous new decorator colors.

If you'd like more information about how you can have a handy new kitchen phone, just call the telephone business office—and we'll give you complete details.

Call by number. It's twice as fast.

The Subway Barber Shop in Fort Worth is gone—the small building which housed it for 25 years has been replaced—but the Subway lives in the memories of its patrons.

Especially is Bruce Chenault, the proprietor, remembered—a quiet man, with a good sense of humor.

Probably his greatest feat was a bit of legerdemain, so to speak. A rare coin dealer, who was a customer, exhibited a penny (let's say it was of 1860 mintage) which he said was worth $10.

Under pretense of examining the coin, Chenault substituted another in the envelope which he then returned to the dealer. Then Bruce said, "I'm going to start keeping a lookout, maybe I'll come across one."

He opened the cash drawer, removed a handful of change and drew forth the rare coin.

"Did you see 1860?" he asked.

"Yes," said the expert.

"Look"—and Chenault handed over the penny.

The dealer said, "I'll give you $10 for it," and drew out some bills.

Chenault said, "Suppose you look in your envelope first," and the dealer discovered the switch. There was a roar of laughter in which everybody joined except Chenault. With the delicacy of a true artist, he only smiled.

I attended the funeral of a noted man some time ago and, as the crowd was filing out of the auditorium, I noticed two prominent men right ahead of me—and they were talking about a business matter before they even got out of the church.

I wonder how much respect they expect when their time comes?

Tax-Man Sam Sez:

The income tax folks spend a lot of time sending back income tax returns that Papa signed and forgot to have Mama sign. One taxpayer wrote the Internal Revenue that he had enough trouble with wife without letting her know how much money he made. Since Texas is a community property state, Mama has to know how much Pop made because she is responsible for taxes on half of it. Every year the revenue folks tell taxpayers to have both husband and wife sign the joint return. Every year thousands of tax returns are sent back by the Internal Revenue folks to those who forgot to sign. If you don't want to take up corresponding with the Internal Revenue service, get Mama's signature the first time.

Junior High Cagers Drop Two Games To Wheeler Monday

Coach Bill Adams' junior high school cage teams played two good games at Wheeler Monday night although both local teams lost by small margins.

In the boys game Wheeler won by a score of 23 to 17. Jim Watson, with 9 points, was McLean's high scorer, and Jim Jolly scored 7 points for Wheeler's top honors.

In the girls game the Wheeler sextet led 22 to 18 at the final whistle. Cynthia Rice scored 9 points for McLean and high score. Barton of Wheeler scored 12 points.

In the Monday night game Phyllis Flowers played a very outstanding game at guard for McLean.

On the return trip the teams stopped in at a restaurant in Shamrock for refreshments and as the group left other customers in the cafe came over to Coach and Mrs. Adams to compliment them on the fine behavior of the McLean group.

HIGHLIGHTS AND SIDELIGHTS

By VERN SANFORD

College Preparation
 By 1962 the first wave of the state's "war babies"—probably hundreds of thousands of them—will be seeking a college education in Texas.

Time to get ready for them is now, says the Commission on Higher Education.

Created by the Legislature in 1955, the Commission has spent some two years getting organized and gathering facts. Now, says the Commissioner's director, Dr. Ralph T. Green, it is ready to start making "firm recommendations," beginning with its meeting Feb. 10 in Denton.

Commission has the responsibility for studying the needs and problems of all 18 state supported colleges and universities and making recommendations and appropriation requests for them to the Legislature.

Commission staff has done extensive research in areas of professors' salaries, how many students take what courses and possible need for more branches and courses in certain areas.

Several cities have been active in demanding senior college status for their junior colleges. Commission is to have recommendations on this later.

At present, says Dr. Green, Texas' 18 state colleges have some 77,913 students. By 1962, he predicted, they will have 102,000.

Statewide, the possibilities are even more overwhelming. There are some 160,000 students in both state and private colleges now, said Dr. Green, but by '62 there will be an estimated 320,000 prospective college students.

Exact figures are not possible, of course, he said, but "there's no getting around it, the kids are there. It's almost frightening to foresee this tremendous volume and know, too, that standards must be raised to meet demands for improved scientific and technical training. But with good planning, we can do it."

Former McLean School Teacher Dies in Dallas

Word was received here last week of the death of Mrs. J. H. (Ruth) Horton, a former McLean school teacher. Mrs. Horton died at the home of her daughters, Misses Lucile and Helen Horton, 6011 Martel St., Dallas.

Not only Mrs. Horton, but all the Horton family will be recalled pleasantly by many oldtimers of McLean. Mrs. Horton taught in the grade school and later taught art. Mr. Horton was superintendent of the McLean school through 1910, 1911, and 1912. He was superintendent at the time of McLean's first graduating class, of which Lucile was a member. Afterward Lucile taught in Wheeler and several years in Shamrock before she moved to the Dallas schools.

In addition to the two daughters, Mrs. Horton is survived by one son, Charles. Her husband and one son, Orman, preceded her in death.

Health Department recently is the 1957 polio figures—lowest in a decade.

Total for 1957 was 734 cases, just a little over half the 1956 total of 1,307, and less than one-fourth the peak year of 1962 (3,964).

Department officials said they expect a continued, but more gradual decline, as more people take the vaccine. Shots are not likely ever to stamp out the disease completely, they said, since the vaccine does not prevent non-paralytic polio.

Come and See Us
 Texans can garner many millions in out-of-state dollars by learning to be good hosts to tourists.

Said Tom Taylor, manager of information and statistics for the State Highway Department, "the tourist industry is one of the easiest in the world to promote. Every community has something to offer. But many Texans don't know enough about their own community to give directions."

Considering the scarcity of promotion, said Taylor in a speech to the Texas Motor Transportation Association, it was surprising to note that Texas is fifth among the states in number of tourists. It was a $500,000,000 industry in 1957, he said, bringing Texans more income than cotton, cattle and wheat combined.

But, Taylor noted, competition from other states is getting stiffer, and Texans will have to work harder to get out-of-staters to spend their vacation money here. School Studies to Go Out
 Some 25,000 manuals are to be mailed to counties by Feb. 15 for use in a massive study of Texas public schools.

Study guides are being sent out by the Hale-Aikin committee which is to report to the next Legislature on school needs. County leaders will distribute the 44-page study guides to the local school districts. It is hoped that answers and suggestions will be worked out in a series of group meetings in each area.

Rep. L. DeWitt Hale, vice chairman of the study committee, said local groups should feel free to add more topics of their own. Study guide has 167 questions.

If people all over the state respond with facts, ideas and suggestions, the committee will have some 42,000 replies to serve as basis for its recommendations.

More Cotton Asked
 Texas should be allowed to produce more cotton this year to meet a demand for better grades, says Agriculture Commissioner John White.

Despite the cotton surplus in storage, there is a shortage of middling grades and an active demand for better grades, said White. Because of the end of the drought, he said Texas has an excellent chance to produce high quality cotton this year for the first time in eight years.

Well Watered
 Texas goes into the 1958 growing season with the best soil moisture conditions in years, reports the U. S. Department of Agriculture. High plains wheat prospects are considered the best in years. Most areas have enough moisture to carry the crop well into spring. In many areas growers now want "open" weather. Said US DA, "Many fields in East Texas have turned pale as waterlogged soil prevents root aeration." Panhandle grain farmers need sunshine to prepare for spring planting and valley vegetable growers to harvest the winter crop.

Flu Up Again
 Number of flu cases in Texas climbed in January, but was no where near the October peak.

According to State Health Department officials, the estimated number of cases at end of December was 3,411. In successive weeks totals went up to 4,301, 4,820, and 8,800.

But during the October outbreak the total reached 40,000. Gov. Price Daniel was among the recent victims.
