

PLAIN TALK

By BILL PERKINS

Good news certainly travels fast. Woody Wilkerson was vacationing with his family last week and was on Pike's Peak when he learned that McLean definitely would get the Calvin Fraser factory.

Football season will soon be here and preparations are already underway. Coach Hap Rogers and Assistant Coach Jack Riley are in Lubbock this week attending the coaches training school.

Odell Mantooth and Cooper's already have their big placards out with the Tigers' schedule on them and Meador's Insurance Agency is distributing their bill-fold size schedules.

Superintendent Freeman Melton Jr., is getting the season tickets printed and they will probably go on sale this week-end or early next week.

The Greenbelt Bowl game is set for August 17 in Childress and Charlie Vineyard former McLean Tiger tackle, will be playing on the West team. Top Texas Coaches Abe Martin of TCU and Paul (Bear) Bryant of Texas A. and M. will be on hand for the 7th star-studded affair.

Noticeable improvements around town include the new cyclone fence around the elementary school building and the green lawn that is withstanding the August heat pretty well. The back of the Derby Drive-In screen has been covered, making it more attractive and more substantial against high winds, the management hopes.

Headline of the week appeared in the New York Mirror last week: Monaco Weather Forecast: A LITTLE RAINIER IN FEBRUARY

Two McLean Boosters SPEAK AT LITTLEFIELD VILLAGE

GOSSIP (More or Less)

Mr. and Mrs. J. Boyd Smith and daughter, Linda, spent a week-end recently with Mrs. Smith's mother, Mrs. Alice Stout, at Nocona. While there they made a trip to Wichita Falls where, by chance, they met Mrs. Salla Stephens and children of Frederick Okla. Mrs. Stephens is the widow of Rev. John Ray Stephens, former pastor of the First Baptist Church of McLean.

Mrs. Lela Sherrard was awarded $19 in merchandise certificates at the Appreciation Day activity Saturday. Gifts of merchandise went to Mrs. Etta Carmichael and Mrs. Eva Peabody.

Two McLean men, Amos Page and Larry Fuller, flew to Littlefield Monday where they talked to the Industrial Development committee at an early morning breakfast. Fuller and Page were asked to speak to the group by Howard Home, Southwestern Public Service manager in Littlefield and a former manager in McLean.

A plane was sent from Littlefield to Shamrock which Page and Fuller boarded at 6 o'clock. After speaking to the group they were flown back to Shamrock and were back home by 11 o'clock the same morning.

Although Littlefield is located in a stable irrigation area, residents are seeking industry to locate there.

Littlefield has recently had an industrial survey made and just last Saturday morning a report was delivered by the engineer. The population of Littlefield has jumped over 40 per cent since 1950 to an estimated 9,274, according to Burt C. Blanton, Dallas industrial engineer. Blanton presented his completed industrial survey on Littlefield and its trade territory to the industrial group in a meeting at the City Hall.

Blanton's population estimate exceeded by 474 the estimate released earlier last week by Homer Hunter, another Dallas engineer, who has just completed a survey for the city commission on water and sewer facilities.

The industrial engineer pointed out that industry is most interested in towns with population under 25,000. He cited incidents where the deciding factor in attracting an industrial plant was the attitude of the civic leaders.

Page and Fuller were called upon to tell the steps taken by McLean to land the From O Uth Brassiere company plant which is to locate here in the near future.

Several guests were present, including Lions Ralph Thomas and Rufe Jorgan of Pampa. Smokey Price was the guest of Lion Flea Simpson, and C. P. Callahan was the guest of Lion Larry Fuller.

Lion S. A. Cousins, program chairman, turned the program over to Lion Freeman Melton who introduced Sheriff Rufe Jordan. Sheriff Jordan brought a trio of young ladies with him who presented the program.

The program consisted of five numbers with the girls singing "Five-Foot-Two," "I Almost Lost My Mind," and "Candy and Cake." A solo, "Smoke Gets in Your Eyes," was followed by a piano rendition of "Twelfth Street Rag."

Lion Boyd Meador presented ten Lions with membership cards for contributions to the Lions Camp for Crippled Children at Kerrville. A perfect attendance pin for last year was presented to Lion Boss George Saunders by Lion Meador.

Final Rites Held For C. L. Upham, 88

He was a member of the Methodist church in Panhandle and was a steward. He is survived by his wife, two sons, C. L. ## Coach Rogers Reports PROSPECTS LOOKING GOOD FOR '56 McLEAN TIGER TEAM

INJURED MAN FOUND ON 66 NEAR McLEAN

A Pampa man, Henry Bergland, was found on Highway 66 near McLean, suffering from head injuries, about 12:30 Wednesday morning.

A couple of tourists from Ohio spotted Bergland lying on the south side of the highway about two miles east of McLean and reported it to City Marshal C. G. Nicholson. Nicholson called Constable J. D. Fish. Fish and Deputy Sheriff Jimmy Shelton found Bergland lying partially on the highway.

Bergland was brought to the McLean Hospital and Clinic and was later transferred to Highland General Hospital in Pampa. Sheriff Rufe Jordan's office was making an investigation Wednesday and stated that several persons who were in the vicinity at the time had been questioned.

With a few good breaks, we expect to have an excellent ball club," the coach concluded.

Coach Rogers and Assistant Coach Jack Riley are attending the coaching school at Lubbock this week. The school is scheduled August 6 through 11.

Pushed by other experienced players, a powerful and fast backfield is expected this fall.

Reserve strength this season will definitely be stronger because of the larger number of boys going out for the team, Rogers said. He added that this team is the best bunch of training boys that he has worked out with since he has been in McLean.

AUTO WRECK INJURES ONE WEDNESDAY

Mrs. Frank Hartman of San Diego, Calif., was brought to the McLean Hospital and Clinic in a Richerson-Lamb ambulance early Wednesday morning after the car in which she was riding overturned about eight miles west of McLean on Highway 66.

Highway Patrolman Harvey D. Capps reported that the car, driven by her husband, apparently hit a rock and overturned. The accident occurred at about 7:00 a. m.

The Hartmans, who had been in Europe for the past year, were on the way to their home in San Diego. The new car in which they were riding had only 1530 miles on it when the accident occurred.

Mrs. Hartman was the only one to receive injuries and remained in the local hospital Wednesday. She was recovering nicely and was expected to be released from the hospital late Wednesday afternoon.

Fire Department's Annual Picnic Held Thursday at Park

The McLean Fire Department's annual picnic was held in the City Park last Thursday evening with over a hundred persons present.

The annual affair is a highlight of the department's activities, when the families of all the firemen, plus several guests and friends, get together.

Fire Chief Boyd Meador recognized those firemen responsible for the preparation of the food and arrangements, and also the guests.

Meador then called on Mayor Ed Lander who introduced members of the city council and their wives, as well as city employees and their families.

Food for the occasion was delicious and plentiful and the ice cream for dessert was a hit with the youngsters and not so young alike.

Color film taken by Jimmie Don Morris, R. L. Brown and John Anders at the recent firemen and fire marshals school at College Station was shown to the group. Heavy wind and threats of rain caused this latter portion of the program to be moved inside the fire station downtown. Morris and Brown narrated the films as they were shown.

SPEAKING OF CARDS

WHO'S FOR EUCHRE?

The Euchre group of games is one of the most prolific in the entire card repertory. In its many variations, Euchre was a favorite party game in the eastern United States before Auction and Contract Bridge began to overshadow it shortly after the turn of the century. It is still, however, widely played in fraternal and veteran's organizations and in industrial card tournaments.

In Rochester, New York, for example, Euchre is so popular that it ranks second only to bowling, and the city-wide industrial Euchre tournament held each year is an event of importance to the entire town.

All efforts to find a German origin for Euchre have been unavailing, despite the fact that the term bower used in the game undoubtedly comes from the German Bauer (one of several names for the jack). Best bet is that it originated among the Pennsylvania Dutch around 1824 and spread throughout the country to become one of the leading card games. As many another card game has done, it gave to the language the word euchre meaning to defeat in a scheme.

The basic game is for four players in two partnerships, but it can be adapted to play by three, five, six or seven, making it a versatile game for odd groups.

To play Euchre, you need a pack of 32 cards, formed by discarding all cards below seven from a standard pack of 52 cards. Euchre is based on this pattern: each player receives five cards; a card is turned to fix the trump suit; the object of play is to win at least three tricks. If the maker's side fails to win at least three tricks, it is euchred. The winning of all five tricks by one side is called a march.

In the trump suit, the cards rank: J (right bower), J (left bower), A, K, Q, 10, 9, 8, 7. Right bower is the jack of the trump suit. Left bower is the jack of the other suit of the same color as the trump suit (for example, diamonds when hearts are trumps).

When the joker is added to the pack it ranks as the highest trump over the right bower.

If you would like the complete rules for playing this popular family game, including the rules for Auction Euchre (a variation adapted to five, six or seven players) just send a card or letter to Dept. E, Playing Cards, 420 Lexington Avenue, New York 17, N. Y.

Rival Rustlers Clash In 'Robbers' Roost' Coming to Derby

That dean of western action stories, the late Zane Grey, who wrote more than a hundred novels of the old west, is the author of "Robbers' Roost," fast-shooting film in Eastman color which shows Friday and Saturday at the Derby Drive-In Theatre through United Artists release.

This story of two rival gangs deliberately pitted against each other, reveals the master story teller Zane Grey at his best, and unlike many another of his tales, "Robbers' Roost" has never before been told on the screen.

The picture stars stalwart George Montgomery, with Richard Boone, Sylvia Findley, Bruce Bennett, Peter Graves and Tony Romano in featured roles. Bruce Bennett is cast as a once-active ranch owner, now confined to a wheel chair, who decides to protect his vast herd of cattle by hiring two of the west's toughest gangs of rustlers as overseers. He counts on their distrust of each other to act as a prevention against his cattle being stolen.

Among one group of rustlers headed by Richard Boone, is a strangely silent, crack-shot, straight-forward fellow, seemingly out of place with the gang of cut-throats. This is Montgomery's role; a man who secretly joins the gang to avenge the death of his wife and child when that same gang raided his ranch a few months earlier.

About one-half of the weight of the human body is made up of muscles.

REDDY'S Farm Report

FROM THE AGRICULTURAL DEVELOPMENT DEPARTMENT SOUTHWESTERN PUBLIC SERVICE COMPANY

SIMPLE, INEXPENSIVE DEVICE OFFERS 'ROUND-THE-CLOCK PROTECTION FOR BABY CHICKS

Poultry raisers can now go to bed secure in the knowledge that the safety of their baby chicks is guarded by a new protective warning device which rings an alarm bell should there be a temporary interruption of the flow of electricity.

Brooding with electric heat lamps is recognized as a superior method of providing life-giving heat to baby chicks, and this new warning device creates still another advantage to the use of electricity. Under no other brooding method can such protection be installed with such simplicity and with such inexpensive outlay of cash.

Here's how it works: The device pictured rings an alarm bell awakening the farmer who can then take measures to protect his baby chicks. Necessary to its operation is the self-contained mechanism which trips the alarm bell, the bell, and two ordinary A batteries. In another device available, the bell is contained within the tripper housing. Regular electric wire of proper size must be used to connect these devices to the electric circuit. Chicken raisers who might wish to build their own alarm device can do so through the use of an electro-magnet which will "break" whenever current fails to flow through it, thereby triggering the alarm system.

Although LeRoy Hutton's brooder alarm is home made, when he saw the manufactured unit illustrated, his first words were, "Where can I buy one for my hens?" So impressed was he that he didn't even inquire as to the cost. However, the units are inexpensive and can be purchased for about $10.00.

LeRoy Hutton raised 2,000 baby chicks under heat lamps with an automatic alarm unit. An overloaded circuit in the brooder house caused a fuse to blow, thereby interrupting the flow of electricity and causing Mr. Hutton's alarm to sound off about 3:00 a.m. the first night that his heat lamps were connected. Now Hutton rests well at night, knowing that his alarm will warn him of trouble in the brooder house.

MORAL INIQUITIES

Some time ago Cameron Hawley, author of the enormously successful novel, "Cash McCall," made a talk before the Pennsylvania Bar Association.

Mr. Hawley observes, as have many others, that there are grave financial inequities in our tax system. But he does not belabor that point. He writes: "What is apparently less obvious, but in my view even more important, is the plain fact that our federal tax structure is responsible for a progressively more and more serious deterioration of the moral and ethical standards of a substantial segment of our citizenry."

Mr. Hawley specifically describes how businesses and individuals have found ways to take advantage of the tax laws and to avoid payment of taxes. These stratagems may be legal—but, in Mr. Hawley's view, they are ethically and morally wrong and lead to "the eroding of our traditional code of commercial morality."

No stronger reason could be advanced for a complete overhaul of that system. For, to quote Mr. Hawley again, "... there is one truism that history teaches us—when law loses its respect for the individual, the individual loses his respect for the law."

THE MEDICAL CARE DOLLAR

Ray Vicker of the Wall Street Journal, in a story on the American Medical Association's recent convention in Chicago, had something interesting to say about the cost of medical care. It will come as a surprise to those who believe that doctor bills are outrageously high, and constitute a major drain on the average family's resources.

This year, Mr. Vicker says, America's total medical care bill is expected to reach $11.8 billion. The doctors' share of that will be somewhat over $3 billion. But this sum, Mr. Vicker continues, will be about a billion less than Americans will pay out to auto mechanics, repairmen and such for maintaining vehicles.

Mr. Vicker explains why doctors' incomes are rising—"a larger volume of patients is the chief reason since doctors have been somewhat slower to raise their fees than have many other sellers of merchandise or services." He states also: "The larger volume of patients stems from increases in the incomes of Americans, spreading use of prepaid medical health plans such as Blue Cross and Blue Shield, a jump in union sponsored health programs, a growing number of traffic accidents, a rising older population and a record pregnancy and birth rate."

No one likes to pay doctor or other medical bills. But, seen in the light of logic, it has to be admitted that we get a tremendous return for the medical care dollar. One of the greatest problems facing the medical profession is to preserve the doctor-patient relationship that has been the hallmark of private medicine: as contrasted to a state dominated medical system. A larger volume of patients per doctor inevitably endangers the individual human relationship.

GRASSROOTS OPINION

Arlington, Texas, Citizen: "If Arlington can meet its obligations in the matters of education without neglecting its responsibilities, we think there are few other communities in the nation who cannot meet their obligations without the benefit of government doles."

Clarksdale, Miss., Press Register: "The cost of all government in the U. S. averages, per person, $575 a year. That would make the average family tax bill about $1,900."

Elsinore, Calif., Leader-Press: "A very long time ago, England's George III was having a terrible time of it with us Americans over taxes. He laid a tax on tea. We not only wouldn't pay it but we dumped the tea overboard in Boston harbor. We even rebelled—treason it was! ... But hold!—we don't want to get in the position of seeming to advocate armed insurrection all over again. It can't be treason, however, to think that George III, if he could come back and see the tax picture of today would have his reason scrambled worse than it ever was!"

Emporia, Kans., Gazette: "Emporia is doing its bit in urging more young people to learn how to swim."

THE AMERICAN WAY

There is alarm over physical fitness in the U. S. and swimming beats hot-rodding forty ways from Sunday.

Childress, Texas, Reporter: "An American and a Dutchman were talking. 'What does your flag look like?' asked the American. 'It has three stripes,' replied the Dutchman, 'red, white and blue. We say they have a connection with our taxes: we get red when we talk about them, white when we get our tax bills, and pay 'till we're blue in the face.' 'That's just how it is here,' commented the American, 'only we see stars, too.'"

American Bank Changes Hands

A deal has been made whereby G. Q. Chandler of Wichita, Kans., and Ernest Aiken of Medicine Lodge, Kans., take over the stock of W. H. Holt in the American State Bank in this city. These gentlemen were here the first of the week and contracted for the purchase of the stock, but the final transfer will not be made until the first of September.

Mr. Holt has contracted for the cashiership of the Central National Bank at Ellsworth, Kans., one of the old established institutions of the Sunflower State, and while we regret to lose him from our business community, yet we are glad to note his advancement and his numerous friends in McLean will join heartily in wishing him continued success in the world of finance.

All of the local stockholders and officers of the American State will continue their interests in the institution.

Boot and Shoe Factory

Stanway Rogus of Kansas City, who has recently been working in Amarillo, announces that he will open a first class boot and shoe shop in the Cash building. He will make boots and shoes to order and do all kinds of repairing in the leather line.

Mr. Rogus has been in this business all of his life and has been engaged in some of the best factories in Kansas City since coming to America.

McLean Shoe Store to Move

The first of next week the McLean Shoe Store, under the management of John Mertel, will move to the Cash building and will increase its stock to meet the demand of the fall and winter trade.

Mr. Rogus will also be in this building with a first class repair shop. He will also make boots and shoes to order. Both gentlemen solicit a part of your business.

'A Lawless Street' Stars Randolph Scott In Top-Gun Role

In "A Lawless Street," top-flight outdoor action star Randolph Scott has taken a page from one of the west's most violent chapters, and has brought it to the screen with explosive force and savage realism. "A Lawless Street," in color by Technicolor, opens Sunday at the Derby Drive-In with Scott starred, a swiftly-paced, dynamic and gun-blazing drama that offers plenty of excitement for action fans. Co-starred with Scott is the blonde and beautiful Angela Lansbury and the story revolves around the attempts of two Colorado territory renegades to do away with Scott, the lone symbol of law and order, in the frontier town of Medicine Bend.

Scott, who knows that as long as he wears his badge of office he cannot have the woman he loves, is torn between his desire for a normal life and the knowledge that the town would be turned into a hotbed of violence and murder if he ever put up his guns. In the course of the film, Scott faces more enemies than he has bullets. He is forced into a brutal hand-to-hand fight with one, and later, while slowed-down by the physical brutalities of the fight, enters into a gun duel with a hired gun-slinger. For the first time in his own death-dealing career, the lawman does not win.

How Much Does It Cost You

when your neighbors go out of town to buy?

We may think . . . when one of our neighbors buys a shirt, or a car, or a hot water bottle in the city . . . that it's nothing to us . . . unless we happen to be trying to make a living in the shirt, or car, or hot water bottle business here in this community.

But . . . as a matter of fact . . . every time a dollar leaks out of local circulation, it hurts everybody who lives around here.

Because . . . financial anemia is a very contagious disease. Trade volume . . . the lifeblood of every community . . . when drained off to invigorate some other place . . . leaves us weaker, our schools and churches poorer, job opportunities fewer, our own businesses less profitable, our property worth less, our living standards lower, and important help and services less convenient to us.

On the other hand . . . Prosperity is also contagious.

Every single dollar that stays here at home turns over again and again as long as it's here . . . to account for two, three, or more times it's value in increased local trade volume . . . to keep every single one of us in better economic health.

ployee within a calendar quarter. Amendments to the Social Security Act in 1950 provided that totally exempt organizations could, by signing a waiver of their social security tax exemption and with approval of two-thirds of their employees, elect voluntarily to be covered under social security. Many of these organizations, especially churches, community chests, church schools, etc., exercised the option and began reporting their employees.

son, manager of the Amarillo social security office, some of these organizations failed to file with the Internal Revenue Service the necessary waiver form and accompanying list of employees who desired the coverage. In these cases, Sanderson says, the coverage is not actually effective even though the social security tax is being deducted and social security tax returns are being filed. Employees and employers in this category should satisfy themselves that their coverage is actually in effect, Sanderson says, to prevent the disappointment which will follow if the terms of the law have not been complied with in electing this coverage.

"Not worth the bother," cheerfully returned the driver, "I left my glasses at home."

Manager of Memphis C-C Congratulates McLean on Factory

Boyd Meador received the following letter this week from Clifford Farmer, manager of the Memphis Chamber of Commerce. Memphis was one of the towns that Mr. Fraser inspected on his tour through the Panhandle three weeks ago.

Dear Mr. Meador:
 I want to congratulate you and your community on getting the Calvin Fraser garment operation. As you know, we were working for it along with a lot of other towns. Since we were unable to land it, we are mighty happy to know that you were able to get it—after all, we are pretty much in the same neck of the woods.
 We were very well pleased with Mr. Fraser and think that the factory will prove a highly successful business for your community.

We are going to try for something along this line in the future. A payroll for women is needed here. When your plant gets in operation, it should prove a good boost for the community.

Yours sincerely,
 Clifford Farmer, Mgr.,
 Memphis Chamber of Commerce

Gray County SOIL DISTRICT

Rangeland
 Some rains have fallen and caused our grassland to look green and show signs of producing some foliage once again. More rain means more grass, more grass means more beef more beef means more dollars, the object of most farming and ranching operations. The rancher or operator has some control over all these items except the rain. Management is the rancher's most important conservation tool. Soil conservation service technicians assisting the Gray County Soil Conservation District suggest the use of two important practices: deferred grazing and proper use as first steps toward bringing ranges back to their normal production. Deferred grazing is simply taking cattle off of an area for a long enough period to cause beneficial effects. Deferralment for a period of 90 days any time during the year will be beneficial to most any range site. During early spring, deferralment will tend to increase vigor of old plants and give small seedlings the chance to get a proper start before grazing or trampling. Rest during late summer gives the grass a chance to produce seed heads for possible re-seeding, thus producing thicker stands of the better grasses. If cattle are taken off during winter months more dead litter may accumulate. Litter left on the surface will tend to decrease run-off, increase water intake rate, and give protection against wind erosion.

The practice of "proper use" is about what the name implies. To use a range properly would be to take the maximum amount of forage off in beef production yet leaving enough grass so as not to abuse the range. According to conservation ranchers and agriculture experiment stations, the best rule to follow is to take half and leave half of the current production. This type management practice is based on the most desirable grasses present. SCS technicians are available to
