CAR CRASHES THROUGH SIDE OF POST OFFICE MONDAY

One McLean resident got in a hurry to check his mail Monday evening and opened up a new drive in window at the McLean Post Office.

Mr. Ross Grogan, apparently hit his accelerator instead of the brake, jumped the curb, crossed the sidewalk, jumped about a foot into the postoffice, knocking out a plate glass window, knocked down two sections of mailboxes, with the car coming to a stop inside the postoffice. Highway Patrolman Gullede investigated the accident.

A. G. Kesterson and Pat Henley, clerks on duty, and two patrons in the postoffice at the time were shook up, but no injuries were reported.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Johnston of Goldsmith are the proud of twins born Nov. 29 in Odessa. The boy was named Terry Wayne and the girl Jennie Leigh.

Their grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Elton Johnston of McLean and Mrs. Ruby Harvey of Oklahoma City.

Forgive us now and then for going back to one of our most beloved writers for some old thoughts that have stayed new through the years. We are thinking of Will Rogers... Recently a story about him appeared in a little magazine called "Yesterday" From its pages we borrowed the following. Please note that his thoughts still apply to our day:

"A liberal is a man who wants his ideas on things in preference to generations who he knows knew more than he does."

"The one thing no nation can ever accuse us of is Secret Diplomacy. Our foreign dealings are an open book... generally a check book."

"One third of the people in the United States promote, while the other two-thirds provide."

"One way to solve the traffic problem would be to keep the cars that are not paid for off the streets."

"Everybody is ignorant only on different subjects."

Stretch Winter Pastures

High-quality winter pastures should be used to greatest advantage, says Dr. Neal Pratt, agronomist for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, Texas A&M University.

Winter pastures have been relatively slow to become started this fall, due to inadequate rainfall during September and early October. And short days, cool temperatures and cloudy weather which will prevail during much of December, January and February will limit pasture growth during the winter. Thus, pasture management is critical.

"The most efficient way to use winter pastures is to limit grazing. This means permitting cattle to graze the high-quality forage for the time needed to meet their nutrient requirements," points out Pratt.

Cows can be easily trained to be removed from the pasture after they obtain their nutrient requirements. By keeping the cattle from lying down, winter pasture can provide up to twice the grazing obtained when cattle are permitted to stay on the pasture continuously during the day and night.

"Cows with calves can usually obtain their protein requirements when grazing every third or fourth day or by grazing one-and-a-half to two hours each day. Grazing low-quality forage in an adjoining pasture or providing hay can be effective way to stretch high-quality winter pastures."

Electric fences work well for controlling the pasture area to be grazed. When one area is grazed heavily, cattle can be moved to another area to facilitate applying topdress

Santa Needs Letters For Yule Edition

All youngsters in this area are being invited to write letters to Santa Claus for publication in the McLean News annual Christmas edition on Dec. 21.

Word received by the News from Santa indicates the jolly old gentleman is getting ready for his yearly trip south from his home at the North Pole.

"My toy factory is running at full force now," Santa's letter to the News said.

"Mrs. Claus and all our other helpers started working earlier this year than usual, because of the increase in the number of children we must make happy."

"My reindeer, who gets a little flabby around the middle because of inactivity from Christmas to Christmas, have started getting in shape."

"All of them, that is, except Rudolph. He is too busy having fun to take his exercises. If I didn't need his red nose to guide us on our trip, I would leave him home this year."

Santa told the News it would be alright for the boys and girls in McLean, Alarreed, Kellerville and the area to receive help from their parents and teachers in writing their letters.

He asked that the letters be mailed or brought to the News office by Monday, Dec. 18th, to assure delivery in time for the Christmas edition.

Sheep and Lamb Feeding Declines... New Trailer Light Laws... Cattle, calf, sheep sales up, hog sales down... Egg Production Declines...

A three percent reduction in sheep and lambs on feed in Texas is reported by the Texas Crop and Livestock Reporting Service. Elsewhere, sheep and lamb feeding increased two percent in seven major feeding areas of the nation.

Texas sheep and lambs on feed in Texas totaled 210,000 head, down three percent from a year ago. Sheep and lambs on feed during September and October are down five percent from a year ago. Marketings of fed sheep totaled 141,000 head, or two percent below the same period last year.

DEPARTMENT of Public Safety has issued requirements for cotton trailers under 15,000 pounds gross weight when operated during daytime with visibility of more than 1,000 feet. The requirements coincide with the provisions of the lighting and trailer brake law as amended in the last special session of the Legislature.

Regulations include the following: for trailers less than 80 inches in width and under 30 feet in length—two red reflectors, one on each side of the rear. Trailers less than 80 inches wide and more than 30 feet in length: one amber reflector on each side centrally located on trailer body, and two red reflectors, one on each side of the rear.

Complete details may be obtained from your local Texas Department of Public Safety office.

SALES of cattle, calves, sheep and goats were above a year earlier, but hogs sales declined from last year's levels throughout the state.

Cattle and calves marketed through auctions numbered 803,000 head, which is seven percent above a year ago and 13 percent above a month ago.

Sheep sales totaled 100,000 head, up 14 percent from last year, but 21 percent below a month ago. Goats sold total 37,000 head, which is six percent above a year ago.

Hogs sold totaled 44,000 head, or 30 percent below a year ago.

EGG production in Texas is six percent below a year ago, but three percent above last month.

Texas layers totaled 11.4 million, which is a 10 percent decrease from a year ago; nationwide the number of layers is five percent below a year ago.

Texas eggs laid daily per 100 hens averaged 57.9 during the month. This compared with 55.3 a year ago. Nationwide, production was slightly higher than for the Texas average with 60.8 eggs laid per 100 hens.

Egg-type chick hatch in Texas was down 21 percent from a year ago. Hatch of broiler chicks increased 17 percent from a year ago. Turkey poultry hatch was up 26 percent from a month in the state.

Egg production totaled 204 million, down six percent from a year ago.

WEATHER conditions throughout the state continue to delay harvest of cotton and other crops. Cotton harvest is about 40 percent complete, which is 10 percent ahead of this time last year. Corn harvest is completed. Grain sorghum harvest is nearing final stages. Yields have been good throughout the state.

Pecan harvest is being slowed by wet, cold weather.

Wheat seeding for the state is completed except for a few isolated areas.

STATE CAPITAL Highlights AND Sidelights

by Bill Boykin

TEXAS PRESS ASSOCIATION

Most homeowners are expected to get a big break on insurance rates next year.

Exceptions will be those who live in the 27-county Gulf Coast area.

The industry-oriented Texas Insurance Advisory Association recommended the State Board of Insurance reduce by 17.7 per cent extended coverage (hail, windstorm, vandalism, etc.) rates and by 16.2 per cent homeowners' rates in the North-Northwest area. That includes most of the Panhandle and South Plains.

Association recommendations for the big Central Inland Territory (Dallas, Fort Worth, San Antonio, El Paso, Austin areas) included a 12.1 per cent decrease in extended coverage and 10.9 per cent reduction in homeowners' premiums.

The Seacoast territory (Beaumont-Port Arthur, Houston, Galveston, Corpus Christi and Brownsville areas) would get a 17.5 per cent hike in extended coverage premiums and an 8.3 per cent increase in homeowners' policy rates.

All territories would benefit from an Association proposal to reduce fire insurance rates statewide by 7.7 per cent.

An association spokesman estimated total savings of $6 million for extended coverage and $9.8 million for homeowners' insurance in the Central Inland territory. He calculated increases of $8 million for extended coverage and $5.9 million for homeowners' rates in the Seacoast territory.

About 500 insurance agents who attended the Board hearing on the proposals expressed approval but loudly protested another recommendation by the Association to standardize their commission.

The Board staff is awaiting directions as to whether to calculate new rates on its own formula or the new recommendations.

COURTS SPEAK
Texas Supreme Court agreed a re-trial is in order for a lawsuit against Union Carbide Company as a result of an explosion which killed two and injured two.

The Court of Criminal Appeals held a San Antonio man cannot complain about exclusion of blacks from his murder trial jury since he agreed to the exclusion himself.

The Third Court of Civil Appeals held property owners in Wylie County School District should have the right to join the Abilene School District.

The Supreme Court threw out a district court injunction preventing a State Bar grievance committee investigation of complaints against a former Hill County district attorney.

A Houston Court of Civil Appeals decision that heirs of a man who died in a Waller County Hospital after an auto accident should get a full trial of a malpractice suit against doctor who treated the wreck victim was upheld by the State Supreme Court.

AG OPINIONS

Deputy constables are authorized to carry guns only after they have completed a minimum amount of training, Atty. Gen. Crawford C. Martin held.

Martin's opinion, requested by Brazos County Attorney W. T. McDonald Jr., also stated that reserve deputy constables serve without pay at pleasure of the constable with in the period of time authorized by the County Commissioner's court.

Martin reached these conclusions in other new opinions Harris County can operate a mental health center for the state but cannot change it into a county department by commissioners court resolution.

Parks and Wildlife Department can spend other money for park expansion than that set out in Item 10B of the appropriations bill.

A Beauty operator may offer cosmetology services in a barber shop and may operate a barber shop under general supervision of a Class A barber, but a barber may not operate a beauty shop without a cosmetology license.

A district attorney who applies for retirement on a certain date fixes the date his office is vacated.

GAS PROBLEMS TOLD
Natural gas supplies are dwindling and producers are not meeting agreements, the Railroad Commission was told in a hearing last week.

The Commission is studying the possibility of setting priorities for gas distribution when there is short supply.

One pipeline company claimed a chief supplier delivered little more than half the gas it agreed to provide. A company spokesman suggested homes and schools get first priority on the gas supply available, with second priority allocated to generation of electricity for domestic consumers.

HORSE RACING REVIVAL
A Senate committee is conducting a survey, results of which admittedly may be used to bolster a new drive for pari-mutuel horse race betting.

The Senate Horse Racing Study Committee sent out 5,000 questionnaires to assess the horse industry and its economic impact on Texas.

Among questions asked of the horse owners and riding equipment suppliers is whether pari-mutuel wagering would expand their operations and how local lawmakers would vote on the issue.

The Committee vice-chairman said results of the survey "could be used to build an economic case" for wagering on horse races. A meeting of the panel is slated here December 14 to hear opponents of racing and pari-mutuel gambling and to receive a report on potential state revenue from legalized wagering. Committee heads said a constitutional amendment would be necessary to revive pari-mutuel betting on the races.

HOW TO PICK UP $5 MILLION
Texas could gain $5 million a year in delinquent sales taxes by changing collection procedures in the comptroller's office, a Senate interim study committee has been told.

Actually, an Illinois tax expert estimated, the state could collect $8 million more each year, but hiring of an additional 200 state sales tax auditors would take about $3 million of the gain.

An attorney general's representative and Attorney General Martin wants to require Texas businesses to post bond to insure payment of the sales taxes they collect.

POLLUTION MONEY MAY BE LOST

Texas may get only half the federal funds it counted on to help build new sewage treatment plants, State Water Quality

Board Chairman Gordon Fulcher stated.

A new federal act, said Fulcher, would cut Texas' allocation to $55.4 million for fiscal 1973 for treatment plant aid, as compared with $106.3 million for fiscal 1972.

Fulcher said the loss would "hurt a whole lot of cities and towns in the state," particularly smaller communities which depended on federal help (up to 75 per cent) to finance

Parks and Wildlife Department has ordered an exhaustive study of Mustang Island in preparation for developing the site as a new state park. A consumer protection study committee of the state Senate heard a plea for new laws to protect tenants from unscrupulous landlords who refuse to refund security deposits or make needed repairs.

Statewide Quail Prospects Look Good
"It's a good year to buy a bird dog."
Horace Gore of the Parks and Wildlife Department is optimistic about quail season throughout Texas this year.
"With the exception of a few counties scattered over the state," said Gore, "quail populations look the best in several years.

Drought hit some areas of the state last year and department biologists feel that it may have robbed quail of food and cover during critical breeding periods.
Timely rains in most of the state, however, have increased quail numbers by over 100 percent.
According to George Litton, department project leader in the Permain Basin, bobwhites are up to a whopping 188 percent and blue or scaled quail have increased at least 94 percent.

One problem with all this abundance is that heavy stand of weeds could hide the increase in birds until the first killing frost improves hunting conditions.
Late summer "whistle counts" in Northeast Texas indicate the highest populations since 1969.

BOBBY BROWN

Brown Ranks 8th in NAIA

McMurry senior Bobby Brown of McLean played college football this year for the first time. A "walk on" from the student body.
McMurry, a member of the Lone Star Conference and Bobby Brown was first in this conference in punting.
Brown ended his one-year punting career as the No. 8 ranked punter in the nation, according to the latest National Athletics (NAIA) statistics.
He broke a McMurry record in punting for a game of having an average of 45.5 yards. In his last game he had one punt for 70 yards. This is the second largest punt in McMurry's history of 200 games won. The best punt was 74 yards. Brown punted 49 times for 2,025 yards.
His first and only college letter was earned this year as a senior.
Bobby is the son of Rev. and Mrs. Robert W. Brown.

Aleppo pine and Norfolk Island pine. Suggestions for Central Texas include the cedar cedar, Arizona cypress, juniper, Podocarpus and Yaupon holly as well as many other holly varieties. The Norfolk Island pine serves as a delightful plant for interior landscaping.

In North Texas the Colorado blue spruce, Scotch pine, Norway pine and a great variety of junipers make beautiful living Christmas trees, according to Janne. Some interesting decorative effects can be achieved by using plants that are a little out of the ordinary in regard to shape rather than the typically conical shape usually associated with the Christmas tree.

Schedule your plans so the tree doesn't remain in the house more than two weeks. Place it where it isn't in the air stream of a heater or air vent. A room temperature of 65 degrees at night will help keep the tree fresh.

Be sure to place the root ball or container in a leak-proof or tub or box, or cover the rug or floor with polyethylene film to prevent water damage. If the plant is balled and-burlapped, put it in a container large enough to place, an inch or two of damp peat moss, saw dust or pine bark around the ball to prevent excessive drying. Because of the low humidity usually found in heated homes, plants will probably require watering at least twice a week and maybe more often. They must receive enough moisture to prevent desiccation, caution Janne.

With a little care and imagination, you can plan something different this year that will provide pleasure and beauty for many years to come.

KANSAS CITY, MISSOURI--Getting a bull qualified as "super sire" under the American Hereford Association's Register of Merit program is no easy matter, as these nine Hereford breeders will attest. ### Hunters Should Keep Safety In Mind

The "in" color for the hunting season is the hunter's fluorescent orange, according to Texas Parks and Wildlife Department officials. A matching orange cap and vest is more than just fashionable. It will help hunters prevent what is considered a sartorial faux pas in the hunting game--bullet holes. Parks and Wildlife department officials point out that fluorescent orange is probably one of the most unnatural colors one could bring into a forest and that's a big plus in its favor. There is no mistaking an orange vest coming through the woods for anything but man, so there is less chance of getting shot by someone who is a little too anxious to bring home a trophy.

NOTE TO BORED YOUNG

(This article once appeared in the Montello, Wisconsin Tribune, and was distributed to every pupil in Watertown, South Dakota. A reader later sent the article to Ann Landers to be published. It was turned into the McLean News Office and was thought it would be good for every young person of this area to read it.)

"Always we hear the plaintive cry of the teenagers: 'What can we do? Where can we go?' I can make some suggestions. Go Home. Remove the storm windows. Paint the woodwork. Rake the leaves. Mow the lawn. Learn to cook. Scrub the floors. Build something. Clean up a park. Read to a blind person. Tutor a handicapped child. Offer your services to your pastor, the Red Cross, the Salvation Army. Assist the poor. Study your lessons. And when you're through, if you aren't tired--read a good book. Your parents do not owe you entertainment. The world does not owe you a living. Your village does not owe you recreation facilities. You owe the world something. You owe it your time and energy, and your talents, so that no one will be at war or in poverty, or sick or lonely, ever again. In plain words: Grow up; quit being a cry baby; get out of your dream world and develop a backbone, not a wishbone.

"I'm a parent. I'm tired of nursing, chauffeuring, protect

"Harold is awfully obstinate." "In what way?" "It's the hardest thing in the world to make him admit I'm right when he knows I'm wrong."

"A fellow told me I looked like you." "Where is he?" "I killed him."

One evening Jones was discovered by Brown trying to push a horse on to his front doorstep.

"I say, old man, do give me a hand," he pleaded, and Brown, wondering, did so. "Now," continued Jones, "let's get him up the stairs and into the bathroom."

After a lot of struggling, they got the horse safely installed, and Jones closed the door on him.

"What's all this about?" asked Brown, puzzled.

"I'll tell you," said Jones. "I've got a brother-in-law living with me and he knows everything. When he goes in the bathroom tomorrow morning he'll shout down: 'Hey, there's a horse in the bathroom,' and for the first time I'll be able to shout back: 'Yes, I know!'"

"I've decided I won't be married till I'm 25," confided the co-ed.

"And I, said her elder sister, have decided not to be 25 till I'm married."

One - To - One Basis Requirement For Hunt

Hunters under 17 years of age who wish to hunt on one of the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department's wildlife management areas must be supervised by adults on a one-to-one basis, according to department officials.

The officials say there obviously has been a misunderstanding of this policy since many of the applications they have received have been for one adult and two or three juveniles.

Each adult can sponsor only one hunter under 17 years old. Failure of the sponsor to supervise the minor will be considered cause for forfeiture of permits of both sponsor and minor.

Holiday Oranges

The holiday season is rich with legends, including the famous "Twelve Days of Christmas."

In keeping with this 12-day spirit, Foods and Nutrition Specialist Judy Ann Grubbs with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, Texas A&M University suggested 12 tricky, easy ways to serve holiday oranges.

1. Glamorously float an unpeeled orange slice in a glass of punch.
2. Baste the turkey with freshly squeezed orange juice, grated peel and honey.
3. Tuck tender flaky coconut between slices of juicy oranges for a refreshing climax to a big feast.
4. Soak dried mint leaves in freshly squeezed orange juice. Add a little sugar, cayenne and nutmeg. Put this sauce on lamb.
5. For dessert, serve sherbet or ice cream in scooped out orange shells left over from the breakfast juice.
6. Try cooking rice in orange juice. Add grated peel for extra flavor.
7. Stuff duck or cornish hen with quartered oranges.
8. Cut large oranges in half and serve them like grapefruit.
9. Make an orange omelet simply beat a little freshly grated peel and juice with eggs.
10. Slice orange sections into tossed green salad.
11. Substitute freshly squeezed orange juice for water when making turkey gravy. Also add grated peel and a bit of nutmeg.
12. Create an O.J. float by adding a scoop of ice cream to a glass of orange juice.

As for the ardent orange lover, simply peeling and eating an orange just can't be beat, Miss Grubbs concluded.

Get A Dishwasher For Christmas

If Santa leaves a dishwasher under the Christmas tree, it could mean a surprise--and a real reduction of kitchen clean-up chores all year long.

Lillian Cochran, home management specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, Texas A&M University, offered some hints in selection, use and care of this appliance, now in one-fourth of the nation's homes.

In selecting one, first examine the family's needs for a dishwasher--several different kinds are available. Then use these needs as a guide in choosing the one to buy.

"Look for dishwashers with features that allow 'programming' the machine for different loads.

"Some models have a 'rinse and hold' cycle, so there's no need to waste water on partial loads--an ideal option for a single person or small family.

Other models may feature a long, heavy duty or soak cycle for pots and pans. "All dishwashers offer the convenience of warming plates--simply by advancing the dial to the dry cycle."

Where there's limited space, as in some homes and apartments, a portable may be the answer.

"Portable models roll up to the sink at wash time, connect to the hot water faucet, and plug into an electrical outlet."

As an added bonus, some portables convert to under-the-counter use once a permanent place is available, Miss Cochran said.

On the other hand, built-ins fit right under the counter for easy loading.

Turning to usage, she noted that a booklet will come with the machine, instructing proper use of the dishwasher.

"Usually it recommends the amount of detergent, tells how to load the appliance for greatest efficiency and lists items best washed by hand--such as hand-painted china, cast iron and soft plastic.

"No matter what type or model a person has, he should use only detergent designed for dishwasher use," she stressed.

"Any appliance purchase should involve careful thought and planning--consider the family situation and needs, expenses involved, the warranty or guarantee, and the expectations of its use."

THE FAMILY LAWYER

Leave Love

Once upon a time a man in Chicago wrote a "will" containing a series of magical bequests.

To children everywhere, he left "the long long days to be merry in, in a thousand ways, and the Night and the Moon and the Milky Way to wonder at."

To lovers, he left flowers and stars and music, to be used in describing their feelings for each other.

To parents, he left "in trust for their children, all good little words of praise and all quaint pet names."

To the elderly, he left "Memory, to the end that they may live the old days over again freely and fully." He left them also "the knowledge of what a rare, rare world it is."

Of course this document, composed by one Williston Fish in the year 1898, would never stand up in court as a legal will. Still, it is a striking reminder of the special opportunity given to each of us by our right to make a will--the opportunity to leave behind, as we depart this life, a legacy of love.

Few of us are as imaginative as Williston Fish. Yet most wills, in one way or another, do indeed reflect the deepest and most tender of emotions. Between the lines, behind the formalities, may be found gratitude to a devoted spouse, forgiveness for a wayward child, concern about an ailing relative, ardor for a worthy cause.

And even in the most properly executed, legally correct will, people are constantly finding fresh ways to express plain and simple affection.

A few months ago the following will, only 18 words long, was admitted to probate in a New York courtroom:

"Dearest George,
 All I have is what you gave me. So everything I have is yours.
 Lovingly, Helen."

"Few people are fast enough to keep up with their good intentions."--Herman Gross, Tri-County (Mo.) News.

COOL MAN!

GET PAID WHILE YOU LEARN

People are so busy here and there that they often fail to perceive the beauty and grandeur of Creation. A storm at sea, a beautiful sunrise or a full moon riding in a clear sky are but commonplace aspects of the weather. Towering mountains, a great waterfall or a far-spread fertile valley are but features of the landscape. Blessed is the man gifted with the vision and understanding to see the deeper meaning of Nature's matchless wonders. For behind all the wonderful phenomena of earth and sea and sky is the pattern of a sublime plan which stirs the awe and challenges the imagination of man. There can be but one answer to the marvels and wonders of the universe—God! The Church brings man into spiritual relationship with his Creator.
