Have you figured out all the answers to last week's trivia questions?

Here they are:
Sgt. Preston's dog was Yukon King. The four sisters in Little Women were Amy, Beth, Jo, and Meg. Joe Palooka's friend was Humphrey Pennyworth. Roosevelt's two dogs were Fala and Medworth; John L. Sullivan's nickname was Boston Strong Boy; and the theme song of Tommy Dorsey's orchestra was "I'm Getting Sentimental Over You."

Did you ever stop to think that maybe Mary was irritated at having a little lamb follow her everywhere she went in that famous nursery rhyme? I'm convinced that there were times that Mary wished the wolf would get that troublesome hunk of mutton, because I have a little "lamb" who follows me everywhere in the person of Lane's Andrew Pepper (Andy, for short), a two-year-old Beagle who thinks he is my shadow.

He follows me every day to the News office, and patiently sleeps in his little cubbyhole until he hears my little girl come in from school, and then it is her turn to play "Mary Had a Little Lamb."

And he has followed her to school on occasion much to her embarrassment!

Poor Andy is a patient dog, and he has never really understood that I don't want him to come to work every day to protect me. We have tried tying him up (he promptly chewed through the rope), fencing him in (of course, he dug under the fence), and trying to throw him off the track by coming to work a different way (that didn't work either, because as soon as I had completed my circuitous drive around town, and came to the News office, he was patiently waiting for me at the door.)

So I have given up...defeated by a persistent Beagle. I am resigned to driving down the street with this little black and tan dog baying at my tires or allowing him to ride in the front seat of the car with me.

And the first one of you who sings "Mary had a little lamb, little lamb..." has had it!

I'm superstitious about one thing in life. It has never failed that if I allow my perspective on life to get a little out of line, and begin to worry about financial problems or other mundane things, something happens to jerk me up and make me realize what is really important in life.

Last week as I was returning from Pampa with the week's edition of The McLean News, I was driving on the two-lane stretch in Pampa between the Miami highway and the Lefors highway, when I noticed an approaching car veering into my lane. There was no other traffic on the road, and I could tell that the car was travelling at a high rate of speed. I hesitated for a few seconds because I did not want to swerve into the wrong lane, but the driver of the approaching car

Tigers, Tigerettes Bring Home Two Trophies

The Tigers and Tigerettes of McLean High school brought home two trophies from the Samnorwood tournament last weekend with the Tigers taking the consolation bracket, and the Tigerettes winning second.

The Tigers played Allison on Thursday, and although Allison had beaten the Tigers handily on the previous Tuesday night, the Allison team had their hands full with the hot-headed Tigers in the opening game of the tournament.

McLean jumped out to an early lead, doubling the Allison score in the first quarter by scoring 12 points to Allison's 6. Allison came back in the second quarter scoring 19 points and the first half ended with Allison carrying a one-point advantage 25-24. In the third quarter the Tigers again took the lead and ended that period ahead 38-36, but Allison finished the game two points ahead 50-48 to knock the Tigers out of contention for first place in the tourney. Randy Suggs scored 20 points and Brad Melton scored 10 for the Tigers.

The Tigers did not play on Friday, and came into the game for consolation on Saturday with two starters missing. Suggs was attending an FBLA meeting in Austin, and Melton was participating in try-outs for All-Area band in Canyon.

The Tigers faced Briscoe in the tough match for consolation and managed to stay within shooting distance of their rivals throughout the game. The first quarter ended with McLean behind three points, but McLean took up the slack and went to the dressing room at half time behind one point, 31-30.

Briscoe again took the lead in the third quarter, ending that period of play 42-40, but the Tigers scored 15 points in the final stanza to win the consolation trophy 55-53. Shooting high point for the Tigers was Tim Killham with 22 points, and James Matheny scored 16 for the Tigers.

The Tigerettes defeated their first two opponents in the tournament without much trouble but lost a hard-fought battle in the final game of the tournament against the host Samnorwood team.

In Thursday's game the Tigerettes jumped to an early lead over Briscoe scoring 16 points in the first quarter. The first half of play ended with the McLean quintet ahead 27-23. However, in the third quarter the Tigerettes scored 16 points to Briscoe's 4 points and were never in danger again. The game ended with McLean 57 and Briscoe 33 with Jill Trew scoring 13 points and Nora Gately scoring 10 points for the Tigerettes.

In the game on Friday, the Tigerettes faced Mobeettie whom they had beaten earlier in the season. The game was close through the first half, but Mobeettie managed to take the lead only once in the half and the period ended with McLean ahead 27-24. Mobeettie threatened again in the third quarter but McLean managed to pull ahead ending the quarter ahead 39-30. The game ended with the Tigerettes winning 54-43. Jill Trew and Sally Haynes shared high-point honors with 16 points each, and Joy Rhine and Nora Gately each scored 10 points.

Saturday night's thrilling championship game between McLean and Samnorwood found the host team slow getting started despite an easy victory over Allison the day before. The Tigerettes got in early foul trouble but managed to lead Samnorwood 10-5 at the end of the first quarter and 18-13 at the end of the first half.

Samnorwood regained its poise during halftime and came back to score 17 points to the Tigerettes 8 points in the third quarter. With starters Joy Rhine, and Jill Trew fouling out in the fourth quarter, and starter Nora Gately carrying four fouls, the Tigerette reserves came on the floor to play a fast-paced final quarter, with sophomores Missy Billingsley and Leslie Skipper, and senior Ann Skipper helping keep the Tigerettes in contention.

With 40 seconds left on the clock and McLean behind one point, Nora Gately was given a one-and-one opportunity at the free throw line, but the shot wouldn't fall, and the Tigerettes fouled with 20 seconds left. Samnorwood's Sally Kincaid sank both free shots, and the championship trophy slipped from the Tigerettes grasp as the game ended 38-35 with Samnorwood on top. Judy Trew scored 14 points, Joy Rhine, 9 and Jill Trew, 8 in the game.

Cagers Lose Two To Allison

The McLean Tigers and Tigerettes travelled to Allison Dec. 4 and lost two games to the host team. In the first match-up of the evening, the Tigerettes led the Allison girls through the first half of play, going into the dressing room at half time with a 22-18 score.

Allison tied the game in the third quarter, and the final buzzer sounded with the score locked at 39 for each team. McLean scored 2 points in the extra period, but Allison took advantage of fouls and scored 5 to win the game 44-41. Jill Trew scored 16 points to lead the Tigerettes, with twin sister Judy Trew following closely with 14.

In the second game of the evening, Allison jumped out to an early lead, and the Tigers were never quite able to recover. Half-time score was 34 to 20 with Allison on top. The game ended with Allison scoring a total of 43 points to 31 points for the Tigers. Randy Suggs scored 10 points to take high-point honors and Brad Melton scored 7 points for the Tigers.

Santa Claus Announces Visit

Santa Claus has informed The McLean News that he plans to visit the downtown area of McLean this Saturday at 2:30 p.m. following the weekly Chamber of Commerce drawing.

Santa said that he is bringing sacks of candy, nuts, and fruit for the children, and will listen to each child's request for Christmas gifts.

All area children are invited to come to McLean to visit with Santa.

Firemen Extinguish Truck Blaze

The McLean Volunteer Fire Department was called out Saturday at 1 a.m. to help extinguish a fire on a truck near the Windi Inn in Alarreed.

According to fire chief Jim McDonald, two tires blew out on the truck as it left the construction part of Interstate 40 and caused the blaze. The truck from B & J Trucking out of Indiana sustained minor damage in the incident.

Melton Named To All-Area Band

Brad Melton, senior member of the Pride of the Tigers High School band, added another honor to a long string of kudos in his musical career Saturday, when he was chosen first chair trombone in the All Area band.

Melton, the son of Mr. and Mrs. N.N. Melton, will compete for the All-State band in Lubbock Jan. 19.

Melton and senior Trudy Stewart competed in the all-area tryouts in Canyon Saturday. Miss Stewart was chosen first alternate, but will not be able to compete for the all-state band.

Director of the Tiger band is Miss Debbie Reipma.

School Board Discusses Routine Business Monday

The McLean school board met in regular session Monday evening to discuss several items of business.

In addition to approving the minutes, the checks, financial statements, the tax assessors report, and the cafeteria report, the board discussed bids on re-roofing the school buildings. The school received insurance payments of $7968 for hail damage, so the board decided to take bids in accordance to the insurance specifications of damages.

The board discussed the directors of the Wheeler County Appraisal District board.

Joe Blaylock was reassigned as head cook of the cafeteria.

Board members discussed purchasing an outside freezer, but took no action.

The Christmas faculty party was set for Dec. 19 at 4:15 p.m.

at the home of Dorman Thomas.

The board approved the sponsorship of a Pee Wee Basketball tournament for later in the year.

All employees of the school district will receive a $100 bonus for Christmas.

The board discussed the school's policy on use of school facilities, set Dec. 18 as the date for the school audit, and approved a budget amendment.

The board also approved the contract for 1980 with Troy Sloane of Spearman as industrial tax contractor.

A letter from the state Department of Health regarding the asbestos in the ceiling of the band hall was discussed, but no action was taken.

Attending the meeting were board members Lloyd Hunt, Darryel Herndon, Joe Billingsley, June Suggs, Joe Magee, Jim Allison, and Tony Smitherman; and superintendent Carl Dwyer, business manager Shirley Johnson, and high school principal Ron Cummings.

McLean Hospital Kitchen Will Close Soon

The kitchen at McLean Hospital will be closed temporarily, according to Barbara Trew, administrative director.

A tentative date of Jan. 1 has been set for the closing.

According to Mrs. Trew, Hospital Corporation of America owners of the facility, have decided to close the kitchen on a trial basis as an economic move. "We have two full time employees and one part time employee which have to be paid whether we have any patients or not," Mrs. Trew said.

Meals will be catered from the Thomas Nursing Center during the trial period and brought to the hospital in special containers.

No equipment will be removed from the hospital, according to Mrs. Trew. The kitchen will remain in tact during the trial period.

The length of the trial period has not been decided, Mrs. Trew said. The dietary department at McLean Hospital has been losing money, but if the new procedure proves unwork-

The Decade Of The Seventies: A TIME OF CHANGE IN McLEAN

By Linda Haynes
McLean News Editor

"DECADE: a period of time covering ten years." The 1980's are just days away from arriving in McLean, and as the Seventies breathes out its last gasp in the town, the staff at The McLean News decided to look back at what changes have occurred in our town in ten short years.

The Seventies was a period of change for McLean just as it was for the country. In looking back at the issues of The McLean News from 1970 I found that the old cliché "The only thing permanent about life is change," seems to be the theme of that decade.

When 1970 dawned in McLean the City was gearing up for two of the bitterest and most hotly-contested elections in many years. A $450,000 bond election to build a new high school had been called and the county commissioners race with six candidates was getting into full swing.

The papers of that year are filled with stories and advertisements about the bond election which eventually was defeated.

In the county commissioner's race, six candidates John Dwyer, Ted Simmons, Joe Billingsley, Truitt Johnson, Red Easton, and Hershel McCarty had filed for the post. Dwyer eventually won the run-off election and was elected county commissioner in the November election. He held office for less than a month when he died, and his wife Mary was appointed to fill his office.

In 1970 McLean got its first foreign exchange student: Yara Baretta of Sao Paulo, Brazil, who stayed with Mr. and Mrs. Jack Riley.

Rhonda Davis was elected Miss McLean, and Dennis Duniven was chosen Most Valuable Player of the Tiger football team. Butch Lands was named to the All-District basketball team for the Tigers.

In a hotly-contested school board race, Dick Everett, Bob Sherrod, and Howard Gibson unseated the incumbents to take three places on the board.

W.W. Boyd, Joe D. Smith, and Glen Curry were elected to the city council.

The first city sales tax began in McLean on April 1, and about that time, Doctor Herford won the Reserve Champion at the Houston Livestock Show.

1970 was filled with its share of tragedies too. The home of Mr. and Mrs. Marion Harkins burned in February, and in April a killer tornado struck Greenbelt Lake and McLean, and five members of one family died at Greenbelt. Mr. and Mrs. C.B. Simpson, their daughter Pat Day, and Mrs. Simpson's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Emery Jewell were all killed in that tragic storm.

The tornado that hit McLean destroyed the home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Williams, and damaged several other homes.

The deaths of several prominent citizens were also reported in those 1970 papers.

Several businesses and organizations were active in McLean that have since disappeared.

The town had a very active boy scout troop, and an effective and hard-working JayCee club. Businesses which have since closed include Master Cleaners, and Derby Drive In, Simmons Chevrolet, Jewel Box Fashions, Greyhound Drug, Kiva Beauty Salon, Billie's Beauty Shop, and Marie Foundations.

Twenty-seven seniors graduated from McLean High School in 1970 with Linda and Donna Pearson serving as valedictorian and salutatorian of the class.

Lynn Taylor was the 1970 Rodeo Queen.

In July a group of McLean students returned from a trip to Europe, and the Alanreed-Mc-Lean Museum planned a big open house.

The citizens of McLean banded together to send letters to their congressman in a successful effort to save McLean Hospital's medicare certification.

McLean had several golf tournaments that year, and the Alanreed-McLean Historical Society was still active.

Nancy Brown was elected Football Queen when fall rolled around, and Tommy Duniven, who went on to play for the Texas Tech Red Raiders and the Houston Oilers, was named player of the week in the Amarillo Globe News.

F. Jake Hess was elected president of the American Hereford Breeders Association late in the year.

Mariza Cost of Brazil was McLean's second foreign exchange student that year. She lived with Mr. and Mrs. Sam Haynes.

In the time since 1970, Mc-

Lean has had four school superintendents: Jack Riley, Sam Gayton, Homer Jefferson, and Carl Dwyer. The city has had two mayors: Boyd Meador and Sam Haynes. Each church in McLean has had several pastors. In 1970 D.L. Craddock was pastor of First Baptist Church; Robert Brown was pastor of First Methodist Church; David Fultz was minister of the Church of Christ; Z.A. Myers was pastor of Assembly of God Church; Jerry Tucker of Shamrock was preaching at the Church of the Nazarene; Walter L. Comstock was pastor of the Pentecostal Holiness Church; and although the Presbyterian Church did not have a full time minister, the church was having services each Sunday.

Familiar names and faces fill the Seventies papers, with birth announcements, wedding announcements bringing back memories of happy times. A strain of sadness runs through the papers too as the names of many people who have since died appear in new stories about the town.

The Seventies brought many tragic events to the citizens of McLean with deaths and accidents, but the greatest tragedy of the Seventies, a left-over from the tumultuous Sixties, was the Viet Nam War which was to take the lives of four McLean boys: Val Sharp, John Evans, Gary Back, and Jim McCarty.

Time has healed many wounds of the last decade, but memories of the tragedies will never leave us.

As we look forward at the 1980's, perhaps it is a good thing that none of us has the gift to read the future. Crises are easier to take, if viewed one at a time.

THESE ARE THE GOOD DAYS!

With the New Year and a new decade approaching it is a good idea to count our blessings. Many of us have fallen prey to believing the misconception that our high rate of inflation and the current economic squeeze has us living in a very rough period.

But consider some of these facts. In the good old days (1875 to be exact) 57 percent of a family's total expenditures went for food, compared to only 25 percent now.

In those halcyon days in 1875 the average worker spent 94 percent of his money on necessities compared to 62 percent today.

In 1875 less than one percent of the families reported any spending on recreational and personal education, but the figure had risen to 17 percent in a 1972 survey.

In the good old days, two-thirds of the families relied on the earnings of their children for one-third to one-half of the family income. Today child labor has virtually disappeared.

In 1875 only one percent of the people owned their own homes, as compared to a whopping 48 percent today.

In that same year in the last century, Americans spent 14.5 percent of their income on clothing. Today Americans spend 8.2 percent on clothing.

So as the Seventies draw to a close and we approach the new decade, let's keep things in perspective. Americans of this generation are the best fed and the best clothed people of anyone in the world, now or in the past. We enjoy the highest standard of living in the history of the world, and take for granted luxuries that a king could not purchase in 1875.

Look up, and say Thank you.

YES, VIRGINIA.....

EDITORS NOTE: The following is the famous editorial written for The New York Sun by Francis P. Church, Sept. 21, 1897. This copy was loaned to us by Mrs. Bonnie Fablan. IS THERE A SANTA CLAUS?

We take pleasure in answering at once and thus prominently the communication below, expressing at the same time our great gratification that its faithful author is numbered among the friends of THE SUN: DEAR EDITOR-I am 8 years old.

he no childlike faith then, no poetry, no romance to make tolerable this existence. We should have no enjoyment, except in sense and sight. The eternal light with which childhood fills the world would be extinguished.

Not believe in SANTA CLAUS! You might as well not believe in fairies! You might get your papa to hire men to watch in all the chimneys on Christmas eve to catch SANTA CLAUS, but even if they did see SANTA CLAUS coming down, what would that prove? Nobody sees SANTA CLAUS, but that is no sign that there is no SANTA CLAUS. The most real things in the world are those that neither children nor men can see. Did you ever see fairies dancing on the lawn? Of course not, but that's no proof that they are not there. Nobody can conceive or imagine all the wonders there are unseen and unseeable in the world.

You tear apart the baby's rattle and see what makes the noise inside, but there is a veil covering the unseen world which not the strongest man, nor even the united strength of all the strongest men that ever lived, could tear apart. Only faith, fancy, poetry, love, romance, can push aside that curtain and view and picture the supernal beauty and glory beyond. Is it all real? Ah, VIRGINIA, in all this world there is nothing else real and abiding.

No SANTA CLAUS! Thank God! he lives, and he lives forever. A thousand years from now, VIRGINIA, nay, ten times ten thousand years from now, he will continue to make glad the heart of childhood.

was surveying the fields on his left as he drove and he continued to come at me in my lane. Seconds before we would have collided I swerved into the wrong lane, and it was only then that the driver saw me.

By that time he was almost off the road on my side of the highway, and when he saw me he swerved back toward his lane, and I hit the shoulder of the road. The driver who nearly hit me overcompensated when he saw me and he hit the ditch on the wrong side of the road and drove several hundred yards in the ditch until he was able to bring the car back under control.

I watched him in my rear view mirror to make sure he did not roll the car, but I did not have the presence of mind to get his license number.

I stopped the car and sat and shook for several minutes before I was able to drive, because I was within inches and seconds of a fatal head-on collision.

I had to realize as I continued to drive home that I had very narrowly averted a tragedy that even if I had lived through it, would have changed my life for years to come, and suddenly all the hassles of a weekly deadline, the continued financial struggle of running a weekly paper, even some family problems, seemed relatively unimportant to me. So, regardless of what caused that incident...fate of God or just blind coincidence...I appreciate the lesson.

If you have not been attending any of the basketball games in McLean this season, you have missed a real treat.

Since we have a daughter playing for the Tigerettes, we have attended most of their games, and with the exception of one game against Clarendon, every game has been a real cliff-hanger.

The Tigerettes have a hard-driving offense, and usually manage to make each game an exciting thriller, but Saturday night had a classic moment in sports.

The Tigerettes were one point behind...there was less than one minute left on the score board...the small hot gym at Samnorwood was packed with screaming fans...three of McLean's starters had fouled out...the championship of the tournament was on the line...and a Samnorwood girl fouled Nora Gately!

The coach called a time out, and the McLean girls rallied around Nora, hugging her and giving her words of encouragement.

Play resumed and Nora stepped up to the free throw line...she bounced the ball...wiped her hands on her shorts...looked at the basket...the noise increased to a deafening level...the ball went up, up...hit the rim...rolled around and around and fell out! Play resumed, but the Tigerettes were not able to score, and the game ended with Samnorwood in possession of the championship trophy.

I'm sure as long as the McLean sophomore lives, she will never forget that exciting moment in her life, and even though the shot was not good, she handled the pressure with a surprising amount of calmness.

Moments like that are one of the reasons I am a sports fan, and one of the reasons that I believe in competition for high school students. It is possible that Nora will never again be placed in such a terrifying position, but the fact that she didn't faint (as I would have) but managed to get the shot off is an indication that whatever pressure life hands her, she will be able to handle them...and that's what sports are all about!

editor of The McLean News in 1990 can look back and see how close we came.

I predict that:
The 1980 census will show a population gain for McLean and the town will continue to grow each year of the decade until the population will reach 1800 by 1990.

A large unexploited reserve of natural gas and oil will be discovered close to McLean causing a boom in the economy.

Sometime in the Eighties McLean will get a movie house, a dry good store, another grocery store, a dry cleaners, and several other new businesses.

McLean Hospital will be expanded into a complete emergency receiving center, and McLean will have four doctors. McLean High School will win the state football championship two years in a row.

McLean High School girls track team will sweep honors at the state meet.

Interstate 40 still will not have bypassed McLean!
Church attendance will be dramatically increased over the Seventies.

The City of McLean will still have a problem with dogs!
The Thomas Nursing Center will be expanded to care for 100 patients.

The McLean Senior Citizens Club will have a building of its own.

The City of McLean will have a community center with an indoor swimming pool, meeting rooms, and recreation areas for the town's teenagers.

And, finally, there will be hundreds of wonderful people (and a few old soreheads) who think McLean is the greatest place in the world to live.

Dear Friends:

We are old timers from McLean and have enjoyed our paper very much, as its the only way we hear from so many of our friends and relatives, as I'm not much of a writer.

Read the Distaff...Good...Down Memory Lane. Wow! How the years roll by!

We like California, moved here in Aug. 1941, but McLean is still home to us. So much I'd like to write. Let's hear more about the old timers. Brings such memories. Our dear father still lives on North Main in McLean. W.S. Kunkel. Say Hello for us.

Thank you,

Dear Editor:

Last Week's editorial opinion regarding President Carter and his handling of the Iranian situation were [sic] grievously in error. Jimmy Carter got us into this mess and now refuses to take action to get us out. Using the pretext of his human rights movement as justification, Carter pressured the Shah into releasing Communist revolutionaries who had been legally tried in court and legally imprisoned for their subversive activities. By threatening to refuse aid and weapon sales, the Carter administration demanded and received [sic] from the Shah incredible concessions designed to help strengthen his enemies. Carter was not content with merely undermining the Shah's strongly anti-Communist government, but insisted on pushing the Iranians into the fetters of Communism.

Columist Ben Stein of the Los Angeles Herald-Examiner reported on last March 4:
"After the Shah left Iran, there was fear in many newspapers that the military in Iran, a pro U.S. group, might stage a coup. Now, incredible as this may sound, the Carter gang dispatched the deputy commander of NATO to Tehran to tell the generals not to stage a coup. United States diplomacy would guide Iran through troubled waters, the generals were told. So the generals, obedient to a fault, did nothing to halt the tide of Khomeini."
A few hours after Khomeini and his clique took over, they assembled the generals we had warned off, took them to a roof, and shot them. Then their bodies were hung on meat hooks in downtown Tehran, as a warning. Carter killed those men as surely as if he had commanded the firing squad. He forced them to surrender to people who murdered them. Now, what I want to know is this: How on earth can Jimmy Carter look himself in the mirror each morning and not see bodies hanging from meat hooks?"

There is a considerable [sic] amount of evidence that indicates Khomeini is under Communist discipline [sic]. There certainly is no question about Soviet control of the PLO. Yassar Arafat, the arrogant leader of this slimy terrorist army of women and child killers, meets at least once a week with Soviet leaders to receive [sic] instructions. High ranking PLO officers have defended their close ties with the Kremlin and boasted of the training they received [sic] in the USSR.

The current hostage situation suggests of a PLO operation [sic]. It was the PLO who was responsible for many airline hijackings and the holding of the passengers hostage until their demands were met. The PLO is well practiced in the art of holding hostages for ransom.

The PLO has served as an intermediary between Khomeini and Moscow. The Soviets even assisted in the training of Khomeini's new secret police, the nucleus of which is a special PLO unit, hand picked by the KGB.

As early as April 17 of this year, Arafat promised that a holy war was on the way and he made it clear that many different blows against the US had been planned for the near future. Witness: our embassy in Iran, in Pakistan, in Libya, and the terrorist attack against unarmed US servicemen in Puerto Rico [sic].

Khomeini has stated on more than one occasion that he intends to purge Iran of all Western influence and establish ties with Communism. He has publicly proclaimed that Communists will participate in his government.

His own Brother is a long time member of the Communist party.

A book written by Khomeini calls for the total annihilation of all Western nations, as does the Soviet doctrine.

Many of the "students" that are holding the hostages are middleaged and some of them speak Russian.

Involving the UN will not remedy the situation in Iran.

The UN has never condemned the Communist tyrants for assaulting religious freedom, destroying the sanctity of the family, abrogating property rights, abolishing free elections, or murdering millions of people.

The UN did condemn the United States for maintaining military bases in Guam, and for importing minerals from anti-Communist Rhodesia.

The US has only one vote in the General Assembly while the USSR has three (USSR, Byelorussia, and the Ukraine.)

The money contributed by American taxpayers has been used to suppress freedom and glorify tyrants.

The UN has expelled Free China from its membership and welcomed in their place the Communist tyrants who have ordered untold millions of innocent people.

Two groups affiliated with the PLO (the Special Unit on Palestinian Rights and the Committee on the Inalienable Rights of the Palestinian People) have been receiving funds from the UN.

Remember too, the UN

Letters To The Editor

Chinese, Koreans into fighting Koreans and Americans, Vietnamese into fighting Vietnamese and Americans, Africans into fighting Africans, and Iranians into fighting Americans.

Why has Jimmy Carter betrayed Iran and the Constitution he is sworn to uphold? Perhaps to involve the US in another disastrous foreign war fought in the tradition of Korea and Vietnam which would succeed in destroying the remaining free nations in the Middle East. Perhaps to demonstrate to the world that the United States is in fact a "paper tiger." Perhaps to use the loss of Iranian oil as an excuse to impose gasoline rationing and place restrictions on the use of automobiles.

If the Shah is yielded [sic] up to the Communist Iranians, no anti-Communist leader anywhere in the world will be safe. If Carter allows the hostages in Iran to be tried for espionage, no American citizen will be safe outside of the United States.

Every day that our President procrastinates, the Iranian Communist's hope of victory is increased.

The foreign policy that Carter and his advisors hold to would have once been called treason, but now it is called diplomacy.

I realize that many will flatly refuse to believe the preceding facts. I realize that some may even be offended. But facts are facts and anyone who is willing to take the time can confirm every thing in this letter.

Veritas vincit.

Sincerely Yours,
Tommy Gipson

"Credat Judaeus Apella."

"What was that about a "born again" Christian?"

It is a shame that our President does not have the will to follow Theodore Roosevelt's example of Americanism, when in 1904 one American citizen, Lon Perdicaris and his stepson were abducted from their villa near Tangier by one Ahmed ibn-Muhammad Raisuli. Roosevelt sent the Marines and a message. The dispatch read simply, "perdicaris alive or Raisuli dead."

Some will say that a military action in Iran will provoke the Russians. Bunk! The Soviets have never confronted an enemy. They will not risk a humiliating defeat. They will provoke Chinese into fighting

4-H CORNER

4-H'ERS INTRODUCED TO VET SCIENCE:

A love for animals and an interest in animal health attract thousands of young people each year to the national 4-H veterinary science program.

Local veterinarians, working with volunteer 4-H leaders, introduced boys and girls 9-19 to various aspects of animal health, disease prevention, immunology and career options in veterinary science.

4-H members learn there are some 38,000 veterinarians in the United States whose training in the biological sciences and medicine qualifies them for a number of careers directly or indirectly related to animal health. About 75% of American veterinarians work in private practice as animal doctors. Others are employed in drug research, disease research and control, public health or teaching. Rural youth often join the 4-H veterinary science program to complement their 4-H projects in poultry or livestock. City and suburban youngsters, whether or not they have animals of their own, also find the program educational and fun. 4-H'ers learn-by-doing to use good management and sanitation practices in caring for birds and animals. They get involved in such community service activities as assisting with a neighborhood rabies clinic or helping establish a local library on animal care and health.

Outstanding 4-H members are recognized annually in numerous ways: four medals of honor per county; a $50 U.S. Savings Bond for one 4-H'er in each state; expense-paid trips to National 4-H Congress in Chicago for 24 sectional winners; and six $1,000 scholarships nationally.

Winners are chosen by the Extension Service and awards are arranged by the National 4-H Council.

Youth interested in more information about the 4-H veterinary science program may contact the County Extension Office, 669-7429, or come by the Courthouse Annex in Pampa.

Educational programs conducted by the Texas Agricultural Extension Service serve people of all ages regardless of socio-economic levels, race, color, sex, religion or national origin.

MRS. RUTH MAGEE

By Linda Haynes

From valedictorian of her graduating class at McLean High School in 1933 to president of the Texas Hereford Breeders Auxiliary to the first female member of the McLean City Council and vice president of the powerful Panhandle Health Systems Agency governing body, Ruth Magee has led a life full of unexpected challenges and exciting changes.

Mrs. Magee, who is the daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. J.L. Hess, pioneer residents of McLean, has long been interested in serving others. She has been a member of the Eastern Star, the Pioneer Study Club, and when her children were in school she was president of the PTA and active in school affairs.

In 1969 she served as president of the Texas Hereford Breeders Auxiliary and traveled around the state promoting the interests of the beef industry.

Following the death of her husband Clyde in 1975, Mrs. Magee continued with her work in the McLean First United Methodist Church where she is a life-long member. Active in the United Methodist Women, she represents that group as the Northwest Texas Conference, and, as chairman of the committee one year and a member of the executive committee, she travelled extensively in the United States to attend meetings.

In 1977 she ran for a place on the McLean City Council, and began a new experience in the realm of politics. The council meets once a month, and occasionally more often on called meetings, Mrs. Magee said.

She describes her experiences on the council as "very fulfilling." In 1977, following the resignation of Sam Haynes from the Panhandle Health Systems Agency board of directors, he placed Mrs. Magee's name in nomination for the group, and she was selected to serve on the board.

"The PHSA is a very misunderstood group," Mrs. Magee said. "Before I became a member I did not know what the group did." Mrs. Magee explained that the PHSA, an organizational division of the Panhandle Regional Planning Commission, is responsible for the health planning and promotion of health resources development for the Panhandle.

Mrs. Magee is a member of the review committee of that group. The review committee is responsible, among other things, for hearing presentations by groups who are interested in establishing health care facilities in the Panhandle. "The Review Committee recommends either approval or disapproval of requests, and the governing board usually takes the committee's recommendation."

The eleven-member review committee heard a presentation last week by Hospital Corporation of America, concerning the proposed new hospital in Pampa. Mrs. Magee said that the committee will probably make their recommendations in regard to the Pampa hospital on Jan. 3.

In addition to issuing certificates of need for health facilities, the PHSA also reviews all grants pertaining to health care in the Panhandle, and effectively has the final vote on the approval or disapproval of these grants.

"The Agency is involved in every aspect of health care, including disease prevention, health education, the treatment of chronic and degenerative conditions, maternal and infant health, mental health, and drug and alcohol abuse," Mrs. Magee said.

The PHSA was created as mandated by the National Health Planning and Resources Development Act of 1974. The agency itself is made up of a six member paid staff, a volunteer governing body, and the members.

The governing body and members of the group are chosen from the Panhandle area and are divided into "consumers" and "providers" and "Metropolitan" and "non-metropolitan" classifications. The "providers" are doctors, nurses, and others who are professional in the field of health care; the consumers are simply people from the area who, though not medical professionals, are interested in area health care. Some of the members are from "metropolitan" areas (i.e. Amarillo), and others are from "nonmetropolitan" areas, (such as McLean).

Mrs. Magee explained that one purpose of the Health Systems Agency was to get citizens involved in the governing process, rather than a large number of bureaucrats.

The paid staff of the Agency functions in an advisory capacity, but the major decisions are made by the members of the group, who are doctors, lawyers, nurses, housewives, and other members of the community.

Mrs. Magee said that when she attended her first meeting of the group and realized that she was surrounded by doctors, lawyers, administrators and other professionals, she asked them "What can I contribute to this group?" Their answer "Common sense" was enough to ease her feelings of inferiority, she said.

"Being a member of the PHSA has been an education in itself," she said. "The problems are so varied, and the people so interesting, that I feel a strong sense of responsibility."

Though she receives some travel expense reimbursement, she receives no pay for the lengthy twice-a-month meetings in Amarillo.

Part of Mrs. Magee's concern for health care in the Panhandle stems from her strong ties to this area where she was born and has lived all her life, and her strong sense of family. She is the mother of four children: three daughters, all teachers, Mrs. Donna Smith of Amarillo, Mrs. Janiece Zimmerman of Kalamazoo, Mich., and Mrs. Marilyn Money of El Paso; and one son, Joe, who is a rancher and lives in the McLean area.

Mrs. Magee also has two sisters Mrs. Mary Dwyer and Mrs. Margaret Coleman, and one brother, F. Jake Hess, who all live in McLean. "Perhaps that is the most unusual aspect of my life," she laughed when she was interviewed. "We all still live in the same town, and we all still like each other!"

Besides keeping busy with family responsibilities and her various activities with her church, the city council, and the PHSA, Mrs. Magee has recently discovered the joy of travelling. In April of this year, she went on an extended tour of China, and in October, she went to Hawaii.

What lies ahead for this busy mother, politician, and church worker?... "Not Retirement!", she said firmly. She plans to travel some more, continue her work in the church and with her other activities, and hopefully find some time to do some creative art work.

Other than a planned trip to Washington, D.C. in the near future, her plans for the future are very general, but it is very likely that whatever they are, they will include something that will be interesting, challenging, and at the same time, a service to other people.

In the first game of the evening, McLean's seventh grade Cubs lost to Skellytown 16-12. The Cubs were only able to score two points in the first half of play with Skellytown scoring 10. The Cubs came back in the second half of play to score 10 points to Skellytown's 6, but the effort was too late.

Grant Mann scored 4 points, and Sam Houdyshell, Dusty Bomar, and Tim Hembre each scored 2 points.

In the second game, the Cubettes easily outscored the Skellytown visitors 35-19. The McLean quintet scored Skellytown 10-3 in the first quarter, from that point on, it was all McLean's game. The first half ended with McLean ahead 24-9.

The final score was 35-19. Maria Eck scored 8 points, Candi Carpenter scored 6, Sharla Todd, 5; and Jana Harris, 4.

The eighth grade Cubs played a slow first half against Skellytown with the half ending 10-5 in favor of the visitors. The Cubs began hitting the basket in the second half and came to within three points of Skellytown, but the game ended with Skellytown ahead 19-16.

Ricky Vasquez scored 6 points, Robert Swaner 5, and Kevin McDowell 3.

Dec. 6 the Cubs and Cubettes travelled to Shamrock where the girls beat the Irish Lassies 28-23. The Cubettes jumped to an early lead, ending the first half with a score of 16-7 for McLean. Shamrock caught fire in the second half and came close to edging the McLean visitors, but the game ended with McLean on top 28-23.

Scoring for the Cubettes were Maria Eck and Candi Carpenter with 8 points, Sharla Todd with 6, and Jana Harris with 4.

The Cubs fought a low scoring battle with the Shamrock team with the Cubs scoring only two points, and Shamrock scoring none in the first quarter of play. However, Shamrock began hitting in the second quarter and scored 9 points to McLean's 2. The second half was all Shamrock with the Irish scoring 19 points to McLean's 4 and the game ended with Shamrock on top 28-8.

Scoring for the Cubs, each with 2 points, were Randall Wynn, Scott Stubbs, Robert Swaner, and Ricky Vasquez.

AUSTIN, Texas (Sp.) — Mexico has said "Viva!" to a University of Texas scholar by awarding her one of its rare honors. President Jose Lopez Portillo has bestowed on Dr. Nettie Lee Benson the Order of the Aztec Eagle, "a distinction of the highest degree" which recognizes services rendered to Mexico or to humanity by non-Mexicans. Dr. Benson, a scholar of Mexican history, is an internationally known authority on the acquisition of Latin American research materials. Mrs. Jim Wheeler and Dick were surprised Tuesday with an early Christmas visit from her nieces Mrs. Larue Potter, Mrs. Mary Bartlett, and Mrs. Agnes Graves of Hollis, Okla. Also present was her daughter Mrs. Marguerite Burgin of Groom.

Mrs. Leta Mae Hess and Mrs. Jerry Corbin attended a luncheon for the hospital auxiliaries of the McLean and Pampa Hospitals in Pampa Tuesday at the Coronado Inn.

The luncheon was hosted by the Coronado Community Hospital Inc. (formerly Highland General). The president of the two clubs were presented pocket calculators by the company. Mrs. Peggy Hathaway is president of the McLean Hospital Auxiliary.

Each guest was presented with a selection of cheeses by the Cheese Chalet in Pampa.

Lincoln's mother rose with the sun. Does that tell you anything?

BRAIN: Yes. Mrs. Lincoln was a dirty liar. Leave me alone.

You cannot fight centuries of motherhood-guilt-trips. I rise. Instinct guides me to the coffee pot. Leaning on the cabinet, I pretend. I, Scarlett O'Hara stand alone in the cotton fields of Tara, clutching that dry carrot. It is winter. "As God is my witness, I'll never get up early again, me nor none of my kin." --I reach the moment of high drama--Scarlett falls to the ground--

My husband enters, announces--"You are wanted on the phone." He has two rules for living: 1. Do unto others as you would have them do unto you. 2. If anyone calls your wife, she must come to the phone immediately. He would drag me off of a hospital delivery room table to talk on the phone.

I don't mind but at 7:30 a.m. I'm never sure what I have said. I once promised to be a cub scout den mother for a year and to play the part of an Indian girl in the P.T.A. play.

7:30 is Good Morning America and Barbara Walters telling (for the fourth time) about the Shah's paisley pajamas. It is a late school bus, a 10 year old unfolding a map of Greenland in your face (Greenland is bigger than Texas. Did you know? Did you care?) It is the hour of the Great Truths of life--the bottom rung of the ladder of enjoyment.

8 A.M. The bus arrives. Bob goes to the post office. They know him well. His is the box with a hand poked through waiting for the mail.

8:15 Look around the kitchen. South Chicago is cleaner than that stove.

NEWS OF HEALTH

Answers about Health and Medicines from the Proprietary Association.

Q. How much do consumers spend for non-prescription medicines?

A. Total sales of non-prescription medicines are about $4 billion per year compared to more than $9.5 billion for prescription medicines and nearly $17 billion for tobacco products. This breaks down to less than $20 per American for nonprescription medicines per year, as compared to $44 for prescription drugs and $77 for tobacco products. In the 11 years between 1967 and 1978, the consumer price index for nonprescription medicines increased only 57 points. This compares to 117 points for medical care and 93 points for all items in the index. Nonprescription products are good medicine for inflation as well as everyday health problems.

PIONEER Harvest Hotline

John Maxson reports High Plains Results

Again this year Pioneer brand seeds are delivering outstanding yields in field after field. But we know it takes more than one year's performance to tell the whole story. Look at these results, then ask your Pioneer dealer to show you records from several years. You'll see for yourself why Pioneer brand seeds have become famous for their consistency.

In 24 comparisons in this area, 3311 averaged 181.3 bu./A. for a yield advantage over competitive hybrids of 208 bu./A. In addition to this top yield potential, 3311 has shown excellent drought tolerance. And it adjusts kernel depth to match growing conditions. Northern High Plains corn farmers aiming for top yields should look to 3311 again next year.

This popular hybrid proved itself again in 1979 as its out-yielded competitive hybrids by 17.7 bu./A. in 24 comparisons. Excellent for grain or silage, 3195 has high seedling vigor, quick grain fill, and excellent disease tolerance.

A yield advantage of 14.9 bu./A. over competitive hybrids was produced by 3184 in 32 field comparisons on the Northern High Plains this year. Well-known for its dependability and consistency, 3184 proved its outstanding drought tolerance and standability in field after field.

Although relatively new to many High Plains farmers, 3183 is an established favorite of many across the U.S. And its performance on the Northern High Plains proves why it's so popular. In 34 comparisons, it averaged 12 bu./A. more than competitive hybrids while averaging 153.0 bu./A. in these tests. With performance like this, make sure 3183 is part of your 1980 farming plans.

3360 showed a yield advantage of 8.7 bu./A. in 27 comparisons on the High Plains this year. With better standability than most of the upright leafed hybrids, 3360 is one of the most consistent performers you can plant.

SEWING HOLIDAY FABRICS:

Holiday season is here and sparkle is the fashion. Look for metallic and sequined fabrics everywhere. When sewing with metallic or sequined fabric, select simple patterns without gathers or buttonholes. This fabric has a nap, so buy fabric according. When pinning fabric, insert pins under sequins, not through them. Use tailor tacks for marking.

Use shears that are well sharpened because these fabrics will definitely dull blades and may eventually ruin the shears. Make all fitting alterations before stitching. Ripped seams will leave broken metallic disks or a permanent line of stitching holes. Use a fine needle and change often because of dulling.

As sequins break in a seam, pull off and attach new sequins. For cleaning and pressing, read the recommendations on the end of the fabric bolt. Most fabrics must be dry-cleaned. Press fabric on the wrong side with a dry iron at a low temperature setting. To help prevent flattening, cover the ironing board with a terry towel. Always test a scrap of fabric to make sure the steam will not discolor or melt the metallic.

ATTIC VENTILATION:

Avoid completely closing off all attic ventilation openings during the heating season. Although rising heat loss and cold air gain mean money lost, covering attic vents - turbine, automatic, eave (or soffit) and gable - may cause problems. Trapped, warm, attic air does decrease the temperature differential between outside and inside air, resulting in less interior heat loss. However, the same trapped, warm air is generally moist as a result of washing dishes and clothes, cooking, bathing and even breathing.

In homes without moisture vapor barriers in the ceilings, this warm moist interior air rises to the attic space. Also, some homes have range hoods and bathroom fans which are incorrectly vented into the attic space. In the cold attic space, trapped moisture begins to condense from the warm air. This moisture reduces the effectiveness of insulation and can cause wood structure rot. Ventilation is necessary to move the moisture from the attic.

WINDOW GREENHOUSES - EXCITING "LIFT" FOR PLANTS, DECOR:

Window greenhouses give a new, exciting "lift" to plants and home decor. They're emerging as one of the most colorful, popular window treatments since traversing draperies. "Sprouting" in bathrooms, kitchens, dining rooms and utility rooms, the window greenhouse is a cross between a bay window and a miniature greenhouse. They also make an eye-catching focal point for a non-descript living space - if you make sure they feature small-scale plants in colors and containers that blend or harmonize with other elements in the room. Design-wise, most units resemble half a glass box with a slanting roof. They come equipped with adjustable shelves, screened vents and a tray for water and pebbles at the bottom.

Greenhouse windows are far more than good places to grow plants. They're showcases for healthy, well-groomed plants, and they enhance both the interior and exterior appearance of houses, apartment buildings and mobil homes. New home builders aren't their only customers, either. Remodelers and renovators of older homes are eager clients, too. Because window greenhouses let light into a room from top, front and sides, they create a spacious "outdoor feeling," even in small rooms. All of these decorating advantages make their uses almost limitless and their popularity ever-growing.

In deciding on location for a greenhouse window. Think "outside and inside". Outside, select locations where plants won't cook. A poor choice, for example, would probably be the home's west side, if that side is unprotected from the hot afternoon sun. Inside, look at the kitchen, bathroom or utility room as strong possibilities. Location over a sink in the kitchen or utility room is ideal for both the plants and the worker. Additional light helps in doing work at the sink, while extra humidity from the running water will benefit the plants.

When privacy is a factor, the greenhouse can be covered as any other window since it projects from the outside, so don't let that interfere with your location choices. Decoratively speaking about location, treat a greenhouse window as part of the room's overall design. Its location should balance with the furniture arrangement. Its presence should enhance the total room.

Educational programs conducted by the Texas Agricultural Extension Service serve people of all ages regardless of socio-economic levels, race, color, sex, religion or national origin.

EARLY-DAY ALANREED

A LOOK AT THE PAST.....

THE ALANREED FOOTBALL TEAM

By Linda Haynes
McLean News Editor

The publication of a picture of an Alanreed Football team in a recent edition of The McLean News has brought us a great deal of information about the sport in Alanreed from Mrs. Buddie Hill, a former resident of Alanreed who now lives in Bentonville, Ark.

According to copies in the Alanreed yearbooks for the years 1935-36, 1936-37, and 1937-38, the first football team to ever represent Alanreed High School "took the field in 1935 to crown themselves with victory."

The team that year, coached by D.V. Biggers, won six games and lost three. They won games from Hedley, Samnorwood, Pampa Guerrillas, (twice), Donsonville, and Pampa Junior High, and lost to Claude, Kelton, and Lakeview.

Players on the team were full back Gilliam; quarter back, Ernest Oakley; half backs, Red Pettit, J.H. Wetsel and Bill Reece; ends Wallace Bolles, Ace Greenwood, Elgin Campbell, Cleis Fish, Rudell Sanders, Roland Gibson, and Red Hill; tackles, Fred Hall, Buddie Hill and Wheeler Snyder; guards, Narville Stapp, Harvey Craig, and L.W. Bryant; and center, J.R. Bryant and Ray Reeves.

The next year the Alanreed Longhorns were not quite so lucky in their season as they lost four games and tied two. Scores were Claude 42, Alanreed 0; Samnorwood 47, Alanreed 0; Pampa Junior High 7, Alanreed 0; Pampa Junior High 0, Alanreed 0; Donsonville 13, Alanreed 13; and Kelton 27 and Alanreed 0.

According to the annual, "light and inexperienced with only four letter men back from the previous year, the Longhorns played ball to the best of their ability; but they were always outclassed and outweighed. All through the season their sportsmanship was outstanding."

The players that year were N. Stapp, B. Crisp, K. Reeves, E. Campbell, J. Tibbets, W. Snyder, E.C. Fulton, J.R. Bryant, J. Bible, B. Hill, A. Snyder, B. Reece, E. Nichols, C. Browning, J. Spradlin, and L. Carter. Faye Pettit was the football queen for the 1936 team.

The coaches name is not given. In the 1937-38 school year, the last year that Alanreed participated in 11-man football, the team had "the best football team Alanreed has ever known."

The team, playing under coach Coy Palmer, won five games, lost three, and tied one. The scores were Groom 7, Alanreed 0; Samnorwood 0, Alanreed 7; Kelton 14, Alanreed 12; Dodsonville 6, Alanreed 29; Pampa 1, Alanreed 18; Kelton 6, Alanreed 6 (Alanreed won on penetrations); Samnorwood 12, Alanreed 28; Dodsonville 6, Alanreed 19; and Pampa Jr. 12, Alanreed 0.

J.R. Bryant was captain, and players were Buddy Hill, Joe Spradlin, Alton Galbraith, Weller Snyder, Neil Hill, E.C. Fulton, Arthur Snyder, L.W. Bryant, Ray Reeves, and Chester Darnell.

Substitutes were Jake Bible, Roland Gibson, Adlia Prock, E.R. Reeves, Bob Sherrod, Thomas Terbush, and James Darnell.

The following news story appeared in the October 1937 edition of an area paper. We assume The Pampa News: ALANREED USES HIDE-OUT TO MOP UP ON GUERRILLAS 18-0

By Archer Fullingim
ALANREED, Oct. 22-An intercepted pass and the ancient layout play were used by the Alanreed Longhorns to whip the Pampa Guerrillas 18 to 0 here Friday afternoon as a county fair crowd looked on.

Buddy Hill sneaked over to the sidelines, unseen by the Guerrillas, caught the ball when it was thrown to him and ran for a touchdown in the third quarter. The Longhorns used a long run to march down the field in the first quarter for the first counter. At times later, the heavy Alanreed line simply opened up holes in the Guerrilla line and the bigger backs went through them. However, the Guerrillas made a notable goal line stand, and the Longhorns barely edged the ball to the middle of the goal line on the fourth down for the first score.

In the first quarter, A.C. Miller, Pampa back, left the game with an injured ankle, and Walter Work took his place, and Word's end runs and line smashes made you forget Miller. Work was the best ground-gainer of the afternoon for the Guerrillas, and will probably put up a battle for a birth in the starting lineup. R.R. Clemmons, Heiskell and Saulsbury also played hustling games both offensively and defensively.

Lester Clemmons, unable to play in the game because of a boil in the center of his forehead, was replaced at end by Bob Guy Andis, of the Harvester squad, but the Guerrilla ends sitting on the bench probably could have done as well as Andis around whose end the first touchdown was made. The Longhorns gained ground repeatedly around that end during the afternoon. However, Andis made several nice tackles during the game.

STOPPED AT GOAL LINE

Both the Guerrillas and Longhorns were penalized frequently, and roughing was not only noticeable but flagrant. The Pampans were penalized twice after they reached the Alanreed two-yard line.

Outstanding linemen for Pampa were Ripple, Giddens, L.G. Bailey, but the prettiest tackle of the afternoon was made by Auids in the Longhorns first touchdown march a few feet from the goal line just as Ray Reeves spurred for the final jump over the marker. A flying tackle around the feet sprawled him. Candler blocked an Alanreed punt shortly after the Longhorns blocked a Guerilla punt, but Candler didn't seem to be "putting out" as he does when the Guerrillas scrimmage are Harvesters.

The other Longhorn touchdown was made by Red Pettit in the fourth quarter as a result of an intercepted pass. The Guerrillas attempted 11 passes with Doyle Auids doing the flinging, and completed three. Two were intercepted. The Pampa boys also made seven first downs to four for Alanreed. The Guerrillas attempted 11 passes with Doyle Auids doing the flinging, and completed three. Two were intercepted. The Pampa boys also made seven first downs to four for Alanreed. The Guerrillas repeatedly threw the Longhorns for losses and first downs piled up, but a scoring punch was missing. Alanreed attempted five passes and completed none, but intercepted two.

The lineups:
Alanreed-ends, Spradlin and Hill; tackles, Snyder and Gilbreath; guards, Fulton and Hill; center, Bible; quarter, Reeves; backs, Bryant and Prock; full-back, Pettit.

Pampa-ends, Clemmons and Andis; tackles, Giddens and L.O. Bailey; guards, Ripple and C. Bailey; center, Candler; quarter, Andis; backs, Miller and Saulsbury; fullback, Heiskell.

Pampa subs included Work, Montgomery.

FUELED UP FOR FITNESS

HOME BAKED BREAD MAKES A HEALTHY COMEBACK

How often have you heard weight- or health-conscious folks describe their diets by saying, "I didn't cheat today—I passed up the bread." In fact, they are cheating themselves of essential nutrients as well as the entire dimension of smells, flavors and textures worshipped by bread-lovers and bread-bakers for centuries.

Wheat bread is a valuable source of the B vitamins which are needed to convert the foods we eat into the form of energy which the body uses as fuel. Very active people burn more fuel and therefore demand these vitamins in larger quantities. Fiber, a natural constituent of whole grains and cereals, is thought by many to play a protective role against several of the nation's leading killer diseases. The Fleischmann's Corn Oil Margarine used in this recipe is big on flavor, but low in saturated fats and cholesterol-free, another nutritional plus. So take a hefty slice of the bread of life and stop cheating yourself of homemade goodness.

In a large bowl thoroughly mix 2 cups flour, sugar, salt and undissolved yeast.

Combine water, milk and margarine in a saucepan. Heat over low heat until liquids are warm. (Margarine does not need to melt.)

Gradually add to dry ingredients and heat for 2 minutes at medium speed of electric mixer, scraping bowl occasionally. Add cracked wheat and beat at high speed for 2 minutes, scraping bowl occasionally. Stir in enough additional flour to make a soft dough. Turn out onto lightly floured board; knead until smooth and elastic, about 8 to 10 minutes. Place in greased bowl, turning to grease top. Cover; let rise in warm place, free from draft, until doubled in bulk, about 1 hour.

Punch dough down. Turn out onto lightly floured board. Cover, let rest on board for 15 minutes. Shape into 2 loaves. Place in greased 8 1/2 x 4 1/2 x 2 1/2-inch loaf pans. Cover; let rise in warm place, free from draft, until doubled in bulk, about 1 hour.

Bake at 400° F. about 30 minutes, or until done. Remove from pans and cool on wire racks.

NEWS OF HEALTH

Answers about Health and Medicines from the Proprietary Association.*

Q. What do we really need nonprescription medicines for, anyway? If a person has a health problem, even a little one, shouldn't he go to the professional?

A. We'll probably never find the money or the people to staff a medical care system that can handle all the headaches and heartburn and at the same time not neglect serious illnesses. Therefore, the only alternative to nonprescription medicines is to endure the headaches and heartburn—to tough it out until nature works its way.

But that's going backward. The goal of medical science is not only to lengthen life by curing cancer and heart disease, but also to improve the quality of life by relieving lesser discomforts. Nonprescription medicines serve exactly that function—they ease the aches and pains that can reduce the quality of human life.

DASHING THROUGH THE DOUGH?

Snowed under by the high cost of Christmas gift giving? Don't despair. There is a "store" where the prices are as small as the variety is great. And best of all, it comes right to your door everyday. It's the Classified section, a real bargain center at Christmas and all the time.

If your supply of Christmas cash is holding back your gift giving spirit, the Want Ads provide a fast and easy source of those extra needed dollars, too. Just check your storage areas for usable but no-longer-needed items. Then call a friendly Ad-Visor. She will help you to compose a sure selling message that will put the Christmas jingle back into your pocket.

Wheeler Mustangs Take Championship

The Wheeler Mustangs cruised into the state Class B championship football game for the third straight year with a 27-7 victory Saturday over Valley View.

The Mustangs, District 1-B titlists for the last time since they will be moving up a class next year, spotted Valley View a 7-0 lead but closed their endzone after that, scoring 27 unanswered points.

The contest at Vernon was knotted at halftime 7-7, but Wheeler dominated the second half. The Mustangs will play High Island for the state championship at 7:30 p.m. Saturday at Cleburne. Both Wheeler and High Island boast 13-0 season records.

High Island is located on the Gulf Coast, near Galveston, so the title game will match teams from vastly different settings. Wheeler will be seeking its 45th win in its last 46 games and its second state crown in three years. Union Hill stopped the Mustangs 14-7 in last year's championship game, ending Wheeler's winning streak at 31 victories.

The Panhandle team is ranked No. 1 among Texas Class B outfits by the Harris Rating System.

Last Saturday, Bobby Cope threw a 20-yard pass to Alan Kassen and kicked the extra point to give Valley View a surprising lead in the first quarter. But Benny Baker scored from a yard out in the second period to enable the Mustangs to tie the score.

Rich Brown connected with Russell Gaines for a 52-yard touchdown pass in the third stanza to give Wheeler the lead, and two Mustang scores in the fourth quarter iced the game. Willie Valencia tallied on a 4-yard run, and Paul Bentley scored on a 4-yard throw from Brown.

Mike Evans kicked three of four PATs. Wheeler gained 340 yards to 179 for Valley View.

This is the time of year when the post office is deluged with letters to that jolly old fellow Santa Claus. Lots of time and effort go into these, especially for parents as they carefully tell little Junior how to spell Race Track Set, Bongo Drums, Submachine Gun, and Puppy. Usually they tell the kid that all of it is spelled C-L-O-T-H-E-S.

I think my first letter began with a simple request for a Tiny Tears doll, and the rest progressed through the years to a succession of petticoats with 30 yards of net, a wrist watch with real diamonds, and a new boyfriend.

In college I asked old St. Nick for cigarettes and a flashy convertible, neither of which I got. If I remember correctly my stocking contained a sensible pair of gloves and a reliable Timex (no diamonds).

Then I got married and Santa forgot where I lived. Oh, I had figured out by that time that Santa didn't live at the North Pole, that he was usually someone who lived in the same place I did, but I had always relied on the fact that he would come through somehow. I guess that was when I learned my first lesson on husbands and gift giving. Never tell your spouse that there's nothing you need for Christmas, because that's exactly what you'll get. Since then I have made detailed lists each and every holiday, and that list is packed not only with the things I want, but with everything I might possibly want sometime in the next few decades. This way if I am disappointed by a lack of generosity on Old Dad's part at least I'll have the satisfaction of releasing my hostilities through violence, when I bean him with the Yule log.

This year my list is more idealistic than usual, and therefore harder to fulfill. But I'll keep on wishing, and, since my list contains items that are somewhat universally desired by wives and mothers, I won't fuss if you clip this letter and hand it to your own Santa.

Please, if you decide to give me something to wear, made it go all the way around my posterior without a struggle, but make the size read a dainty "8", even if you have to cut out the label that reads "Queen-Size Fashions-Extra Large".

Please bring me a set of carkeys and a telephone, both of which deliver a slight electric shock whenever they are handled by teenagers.

If it's not too much trouble Santa, I'd really like a Sunday afternoon in the fall when there would not be a single sports event shown on television. It would be all right with me if you gave Howard Cosell's mouth a rest that day (In fact, it would be all right with me if you gave Howard Cosell back to his wife, although she might not be really thrilled about it.)

I think, Santa, that I could use the sense God gave a flea (at least my family says I don't have it.)

If I have to spend the rest of my life eating salads while the rest of the world is enjoying hot fudge sundaes, let my salad at least taste fattening.

If you must send me a puppy, please send one that knows I'm not his mother. Just give me any old pooch who will disregard me completely.

A really thoughtful gift would be some birth control pills for the dirty clothes—they're still multiplying at an alarming rate.

And last, Dear Old St. Nick, I'd love a new foot—one that won't fit in my mouth. I'm really tired of this steady diet of toes.

Love, Marbles

LIBRARY NOTES by Sam Haynes

GEORGE BURNS, THE THIRD TIME AROUND By George Burns "The Third Time Around" will emerge as an indispensable volume for people truly interested in the golden days of Hollywood entertainment. George Burns, in this intimate account of his performing days with Gracie Allen and after, furnishes hitherto unknown vignettes of show business personalities and occasions, which are extremely entertaining as well as unusual. Excerpts from the comments made by famous entertainers at the Dean Martin Roast of George Burns are included in the book and will furnish many a chuckle for readers.

Many famous humorous comments by Burns are included in the book, such as "I enjoy being old. For one thing, I'm still here. I like being older than I was yesterday. And I'm looking forward to being older tomorrow than I am today. When you're young, if you're lucky, you get older. When you're middle aged, if you're lucky you'll get to be old. But when you're old, you're in a holding pattern—that's it. It's sort of a reward for being young all that time."

Many accounts of Burn's recent emergence as a top box office star with such movies as "Oh God", are included in the excellent writing, and any comedy fan will laugh from cover to cover. "George Burns, The Third Time Around" is heartily recommended by this writer, and is now available at Lovett Memorial Library.

Patrick Henry not only helped draw up Virginia's first state constitution but was elected the state's first governor.
