SNOW HERE TODAY BRINGS 3-DAY PRECIPITATION TO 1.07

LARGE AREA OF WEST TEXAS GETS DROUTH-BREAKER

Airport Gauge Shows .44 Inch Moisture This Morning

Fast falling flakes of snow and drizzling rains, combined with temperatures which made the ground wet and the roads slippery, pounded away at the long-standing drouth today over a great section of West Texas.

The snowfall, preceded by a brief rain, began here at about 8 o'clock this morning, when the ground still bore patches of the snow which fell Sunday.

At 2 o'clock this afternoon, the moisture resulting from the snowfall was .22 inch, bringing the total for three days to about 1.07 inches.

Reports from all directions indicated that either gentle rains or warm snows were wetting down the country.

To the west as far as Pecos, snow was falling today. The same condition extended east as far as Big Spring, reports here said.

Crane, to the southwest, reported snow and a heavy fall was reported as far southwest as Fort Davis, Iran, farther south, reported a gentle rain.

Seminole and Lamesa reported good snows today, a rain preceding the fall at Lamesa. Lubbock was having no snow but reported a rain.

Ranchmen and farmers here believed the moisture in its present form, was the most beneficial to have been received at this season for years. Stimulation of weed growth in pastures seemed assured and farmers were expecting to be able to break land after the spell.

The weather forecast indicated continued cloudy weather and local showers over the western half of Texas.

Midland streets and sidewalks were "slippy" today, impairing pedestrian traffic.

Snowflights were in progress at the schools at noon, with hundreds of students getting a fair chance at such sport for several seasons.

Cattae were said to be standing in the wet weather, a demonstration of the fact that the mercury was not dropping.

The army airbase weather and radio station reported at 1:50 o'clock this afternoon that .44 of an inch of moisture had resulted since morning from the snowfall there.

The low mark of the thermometer was 30 degrees and the high mark at 1:50 was 35 degrees.

MISS MILLER IS EMPLOYED AS A FULL-TIME AGENT

Miss Myrtle Miller was employed as full-time home demonstration agent for Midland county at the meeting of the commissioners court Monday, it was announced today.

She will take up her new position on March 1.

In view of Miss Miller's efficiency which has produced a demand for her services and the being the end of the season with increased opportunity for service and with a good season, County Judge E. H. Barron expressed the belief that it was a good business project to employ her to devote her entire efforts to furthering demonstration work in this county.

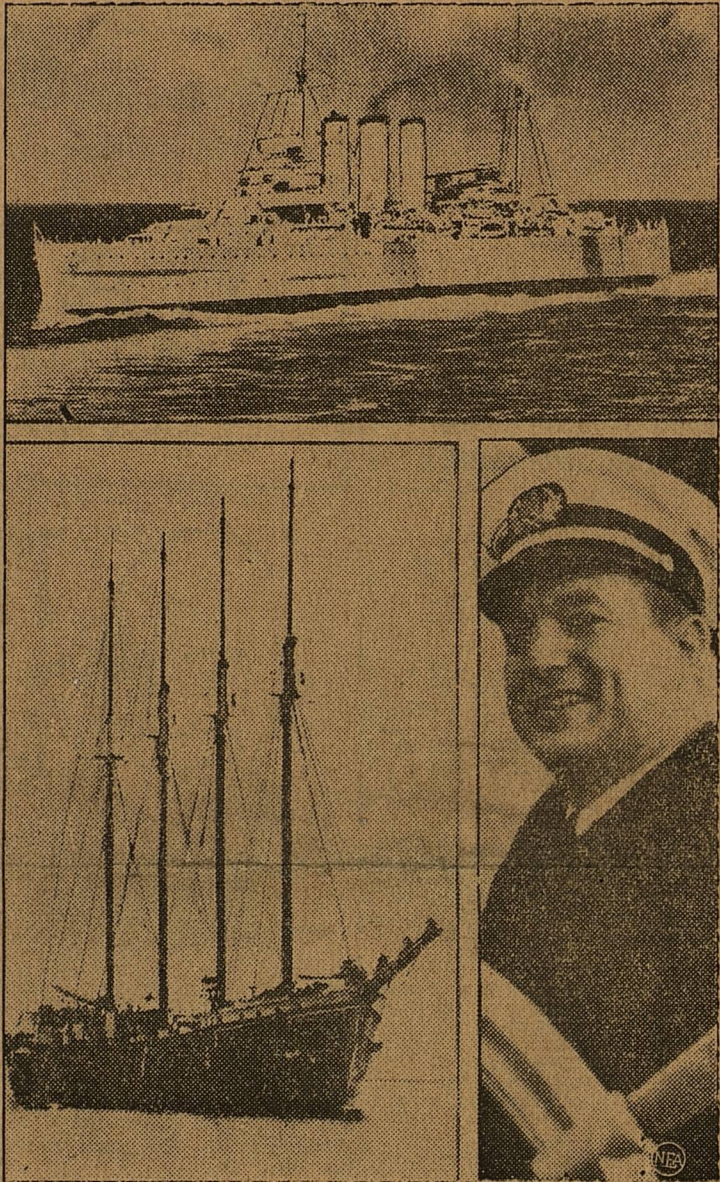

For the past year, Miss Miller has alternated part-time work in this county with similar work in Martin county.

Miss Adale Kate Hill of College Station, district supervisor of home demonstration work, met with the court.

HEARING TODAY BRINGS SPIRITED TALK ON METHODS

Operators Oppose a Proposal to Open Wells for Test

By PAUL OSBORNE
In a spirited meeting with officials of the State Railroad Commission, 150 independent and company oil producers of West Texas were in session today in the Crystal Ball room of Hotel Scharbauer to discuss the commission's proposal to re-take potential gauges on wells of the area.

Gordon M. Griffin, chief engineer, was conducting the hearing, and pointed out the Railroad Commission's stand as being that reallocation of production in the area would lead to fairer distribution of production of the region as allowed under commission orders.

West Texas operators, eager to discuss the problem with the officials, expressed objections to the proposal on the grounds that the cost would be great, that a measure of waste would be involved, and that there is danger that opening of wells for taking gauges might cause water to come into and possibly spoil some of the wells.

Operators, in the morning session today, were anxious to know the necessity of the re-gauging action, the methods proposed for doing it, the cost involved and the proposed time interval for gauge flow.

Interest of the operators made it necessary to continue the hearing during the afternoon, and there was indication that it might last into a night session and possibly into tomorrow.

BILL PASSED TO AID ENFORCEMENT OF ORDERS

AUSTIN, Feb. 12. (AP)—The house today passed the second of two bills to amend court procedure to provide a further check on issuance of injunctions by district courts, restraining the railroad commission from enforcing its orders.

Rotary School to Be Held Tonight

A Rotary school of instruction will be held at 8 o'clock this evening, at the office of W. G. Riddick, 205 West Wall street, for new members of the club.

Technical knowledge of the organization and the principles upon which it is founded will be brought out in talks by members of the local chapter.

This method of acquainting new members with the organization, rather than to repeat it at open meetings of the club, was adopted recently to allow more time for varied luncheon programs, officers announced.

W. R. Upham will direct tonight's program.

Customs Officer Slain in a Duel Over a Horse

EL PASO, Feb. 12. (AP)—Carlos Ayala Reyna, Juarez customs inspector, was shot and killed in the rear of the Customs House Monday afternoon.

Another customs inspector, Almazo de la Garza, was held for questioning.

He told other officers Ayala Reyna was riding a horse back of the customs house, with the bridle on wrong. He said he called attention of the rider to the bridle and was cursed.

Ayala Reyna then asked him to a duel. De la Garza said: "I thought he was joking but when he pulled his gun I grabbed him."

De la Garza said he was killed with his own gun in the scuffle.

Ayala Reyna was 27. Leopoldo Verdugo, Juarez customs collector, ordered an investigation.

Campbell Races Time and Death to Reach Speed of Five Miles a Minute

By JIMMY DONAHUE
NEA Service Sports Writer
DAYTONA BEACH, Fla., Feb. 12.—Sir Malcolm Campbell, English automobile racer and world record holder of 272 miles an hour, is a hard man to satisfy.

Four times Campbell has risked his neck on the 12-mile stretch at Daytona Beach, rocking over the course at speeds varying from 207 miles an hour in 1928, to the present record, set in 1933.

He won't be content until he does 300!

In his rebuilt Bluebird, the same car in which he set the present record, with changes in streamlining, a slight increase in horsepower, and four rear wheels turning in traction instead of two, the titled Briton will make another assault on time here between Feb. 15 and Feb. 22, the date depending on the tide that hardens the white sand.

Giving Final Oratory Over Hauptmann

The last pleas to the jury, both for and against Bruno Richard Hauptmann, were flung late Monday. Attorney General David T. Wilentz, chief prosecutor, and Edward J. Reilly, chief defense counsel, are shown in characteristic poses as they summed up the evidence in final effort to prove or disprove their theories of guilt.

STALCUP GETS DEATH SENTENCE

LUBBOCK, Feb. 12. (AP)—Virgil Stalcup, southwestern desperado, was convicted of murder and sentenced to death today for the killing of Sheriff W. B. Arthur of Dickens county in a jail break there.

The defense gave notice of appeal. The 99th district court jury received the case late yesterday afternoon. Attorneys used six hours for argument.

ITALIAN TROOPS, PLANES READY TO INVADE FRONTIER

ROME, Feb. 12. (AP)—Ethiopian troops, numbering approximately 30,000, are massing near the Italian Somaliland frontier, in the vicinity of Uakal, a government spokesman revealed today.

The information was made public as a quarter million reservists received mobilization orders and stood ready to join a possible African military expedition.

A force of 30,000 men had been moved to concentration points. Fifty Italian army planes were en route to Eritrea from Tripoli.

Official sources said negotiations for settlement of recent clashes at Uakal and Afudub were proceeding in Addisababa.

Italy was described as adamant in previous demands for reparation for Italian casualties in recent border incidents.

Legion to Vote on Measures Tonight

A number of measures that Legionaries are interested in will be voted on at the meeting of the Woods W. Lynch post at the American Legion assembly room in the Petroleum building, Commander W. V. Bennett announced today.

"Some things will be carried out that they won't like, if they are not there to vote against them," he said, in urging a full attendance.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Feb. 12. (AP)—Legislation designed to expand the market for home-produced fuels and oils and displace about a million pounds of annual foreign oil imports, was introduced in the House today by Representative Kleberg of Texas. JURY MAY GET CASE LATER IN THE AFTERNOON

Wilentz Argument at Noon Recess Was Uncompleted

FLEMINGTON, N. J., Feb. 12. (AP)—The state, bringing the murder trial of Bruno Richard Hauptmann toward an end today, charged that the defense was financed by "cranks, idiots and fools."

Hauptmann was called the "public enemy number one of the world." The jury was asked to show no mercy.

"The murder of the Lindbergh child," cried Attorney General David T. Wilentz, "would shrink into absolute insignificance in comparison to the crime that would be committed if this man were freed. That would be the crime of the century."

Wilentz characterized Hauptmann, accused of kidnaping and murdering Charles A. Lindbergh, Jr., an "animal lower than the lowest form in the animal kingdom."

"If you get to feeling that this case is what Mr. Reilly says is a perfect case it is your solemn duty to find a verdict of murder in the first degree," Wilentz told the jury.

"There may be some questions you can't answer, but there sits a man who can answer them," he said, gesturing toward Hauptmann.

At request of Attorney General Wilentz, the court admonished Hauptmann and wife to make no outcry at anything he said. His plea was not finished at the noon recess.

REJECT PROPOSAL TO SPLIT SECURITY BILL; VOTE 17-6

WASHINGTON, Feb. 12. (AP)—A proposal to split the administration's social security bill into separate measures dealing with old age pensions and unemployment insurance was rejected today by the house ways and means committee, by vote of 17 to 6.

Proponents of the motion contended that the bill, in its present form, embodied too many things to permit the expectation that it would be letter-perfect when enacted.

SERVING THE CONSUMER

For many years, the chief criticism of the Bureau of Standards, that great federal testing laboratory on the outskirts of Washington, has been that it served business directly, and the people only indirectly.

Perhaps all the recent consumer agitation has had an effect after all. For as a result of years of experiments on silk stockings, the bureau has learned a great deal about them, and offers the information directly to consumers in a pamphlet which may be had from the Government Printing Office at 5 cents.

For instance, two teaspoonfuls of aluminum sulphate dissolved in half a pint of hot water have been found good for new stockings. Soak, dry, and then wash gently. Washing new stockings before wearing usually adds to the wear. And so on.

All of which is just an indication of how valuable the Bureau of Standards could be to the people as consumers if it were used more generally in that direct service, and its information made more easily available to those of us who buy and use things.

Health Service Report Given

Fourth Annual Summary of Work in Midland County Presented by Nurse At Health Board Meeting Recently

Editor's Note: The following is the fourth annual report of the Public Health Nursing service for Midland county. It was presented by Miss M. Elizabeth Wilson, county public health nurse, at the annual meeting of the Midland County Public Health Board recently.

By MISS M. ELIZABETH WILSON
In the infant, maternal and preschool service we teach the need of medical supervision, the value of routine, diet, more water, sunshine and cod liver oil, dental care, rest, and recreation.

W. A. Yeager and Mr. Ralph Bucy. The P. T. A. women of North Ward paid for the tables.

In connection with our school health work, conducted through the P. T. A. women of North Ward, we have held 6 courses of health studies in 1934. Four adult health clubs and one junior health club were organized, and studies finished during the year.

Infant Maternity and Preschool Comments
In Russia the expectant mother is given a course of pregnancy by her physician or a clinic. This allows her special privileges on trains and in the cooperative stores.

It is one of the nurse's aims this year to begin a really adequate maternal service for Midland county. Dr. Leggett has offered to give at least one afternoon a week to a prenatal clinic, and I believe the other physicians will do as much.

There must come over the medical and nursing professions a realization that the standards of our profession are not up to the standards of the techniques and philosophy of modern education.

During the May Day health week, North and South Ward elementary schools held a combined program of playlets, songs and poetry. Five of the county schools had a combined program with each school trying to emphasize some different phase of health.

Office Conferences
Office conferences are conducted from 8 o'clock to 8:30 each morning, from 1:30 o'clock to 4:30 each Wednesday afternoon and from 8 o'clock to 11:30 in the morning and from 1:30 o'clock to 5 o'clock in the afternoon on Saturday.

Home Visits
In the division of home visits, 809 calls were made, distributed as follows: Prenatal and postnatal, 50; infant and preschool, 175; school 272; not home, nursing care and general care, 291; social service, 21.

Contagious Diseases
The following is a tabulated report on the contagious disease work during the year:

Immunized: Whooping Cough 3, 187-Diphtheria 1, Measles 15, Scarlatina 15, Pneumonia 6, Chicken Pox 9, 287-Typhoid Fever 217-Small Pox 1

School Work
Monday and Tuesday mornings of each week are devoted to work in the city schools. Rural schools are visited intermittently. The total number of visits to schools during the year was 272.

Work in the schools included the making of 69 health talks, the distributing of 875 pieces of literature and a limited exclusion for skin rashes. The hot lunch problem was solved through the PTA and the relief commission.

Since September of last year I have spent at least half of my time working on the hot lunches for the schools. Up until December 14, I had the entire responsibility for planning and buying the food supplies. I was then given a secretary from the relief office to help with this work. Although this work did not belong to my field, I undertook it because I felt it would act as an opening wedge to more health teaching in the schools, and would certainly mean better health for the school children.

Through the cooperation of Mr. Lockey, the South Ward P. T. A. (Parent-Teachers Association) furnished the equipment for the hot lunches to be served in the school. The equipment for the rural schools is furnished by each school through the cooperation of the trustees of these schools.

The equipment for the negro school was furnished by the colored P. T. A. with the assistance of the Red Cross. For the Mexican school the Red Cross bought the equipment with Mr. Donald Butt giving the stove. The Junior Wednesday club gave $2.50 toward buying the dishes for the Mexican school.

The equipment for the Junior High and North Ward was paid for from subscriptions collected by Mr.

With the Church Groups

Circle B of the Presbyterian auxiliary met with Mrs. J. R. Norris Monday afternoon with Mrs. W. J. Coleman leader.

Mrs. Coleman read the devotional from Matt. 5:1-12 and led in prayer. She also reviewed the book, "Planning a Good Life" by Henry Sweets.

At the business meeting it was decided to hold a social meeting three weeks from Monday at the home of Mrs. Andrew Fasken.

Refreshments were served. Fourteen were present at the meeting of Circle A held at the home of Mrs. W. K. Wilson.

Meeting in joint session at the church, having been made circles of the Methodist missionary society held a study program.

Mr. F. E. Shipley of the production department of Phillips Petroleum company here and Miss Beulah Lee Miller of Breckenridge were married at Abilene Saturday evening.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. B. F. Miller of Breckenridge. She attended school at Ranger, Texas.

The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Shipley of Bartlesville, Oklahoma, and was educated at that place.

Whoooping cough and chicken pox are two diseases for which exclusion from school is provided for in the statutes of our state, but in our Midland schools we let sick children go to school and infect other children, who may infect a little baby brother or sister, to whom such infection may mean death.

There were 154 births and 57 deaths in Midland county last year. (In the city) among the births reported, 6 were reported by midwife and 148 by doctor. Among the deaths, 11 occurred under two years of age, 6 of those being still-born; 6 deaths were due to accidents, 3 due to pneumonia, and one woman died of child-birth.

I have spent part of my time this past year educating the people on the need for the pit type toilets; especially where the home is not connected with the sewer system.

We wish to express our appreciation of the cooperation shown us in our health work by numerous other agencies, especially by the state department of health, medical association, dental fraternity, welfare association, Red Cross, P. T. A. (Parent Teachers' association), Sunday schools, chamber of commerce, county library, and home demonstration clubs.

AUSTIN—Reports received by the University of Texas Bureau of Business Research from 1,628 representative Texas establishments show a total of 75,459 workers were employed during the week ended January 12, an increase of 3.1 per cent over the corresponding week last year but a decline of 1.4 per cent from the previous month. Total payrolls were 7.1 per cent above those a year ago but 2.2 per cent under those of December.

Picture History of Acceleration at Daytona

Sport of Kings Under Palm-Fringed Skies

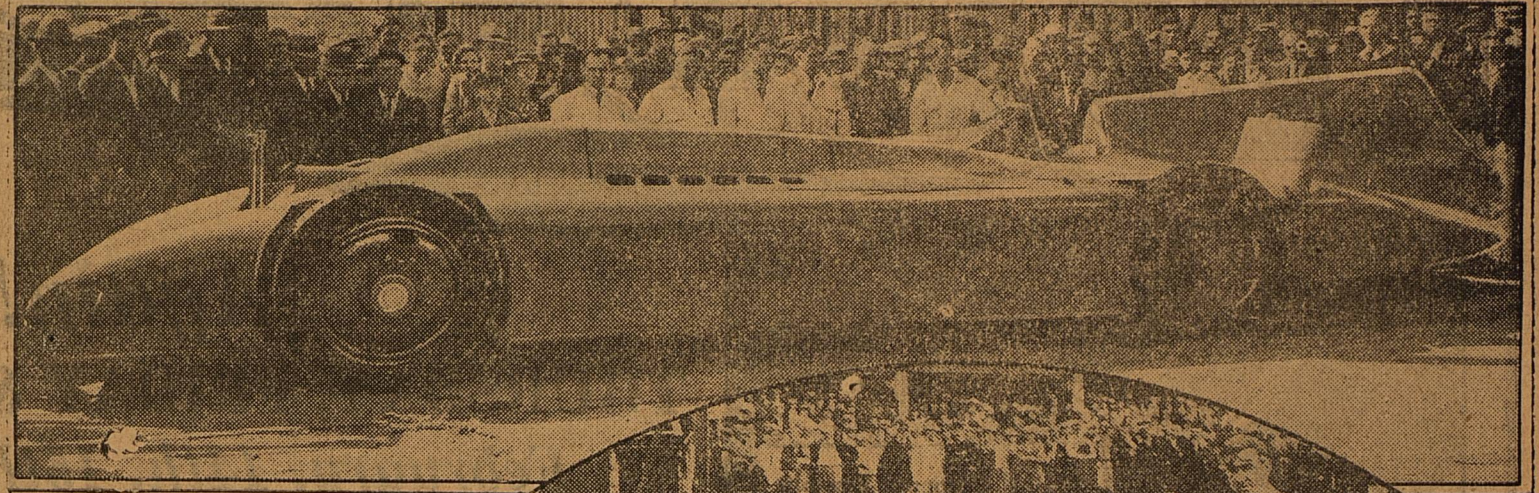

No more thrilling scene than this on a race course. George Cassidy, in the starter's stand, is sending away a field of six from the Bahr gate at Hialeah Park. Note in the background the state-of-the-art palms; also the new Sunshine Open-Air Stadium at the Florida track; and a portion of the throng which jammed the stands.

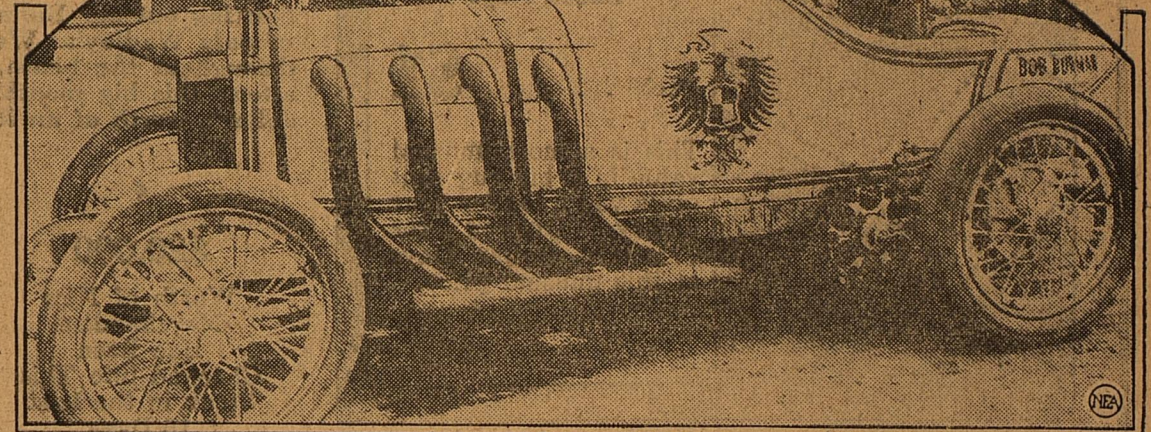

Claims Millions in 'Widow' Suit

A "wedding" ceremony in which the bridegroom also was the pastor was described in the suit of Geraldine Ott, above, Beverly Hills, Calif., singer for a widow's third of the $15,000,000 estate of Bertrand L. Taylor, late paper magnate, in New York. Miss Ott, who bases her claim on the alleged common law marriage, was awarded $10,000 by Taylor.

Here are two juggernauts of the Daytona Beach, Fla., sands—but with 24 years intervening. That's Sir Malcolm Campbell's rebuilt Bluebird above, newly arrived from England at the world's fastest track along the ocean front. It is powered and streamlined to go 300 miles an hour. Sir Malcolm believes. Below is the Blitzen-Benz which "Wild Bob" Burman, at the wheel, drove 141.73 miles an hour on April 23, 1911. Without stream-lining with chain drive, clincher tires and a 200-horse-power engine he set a record which stood for eight years.

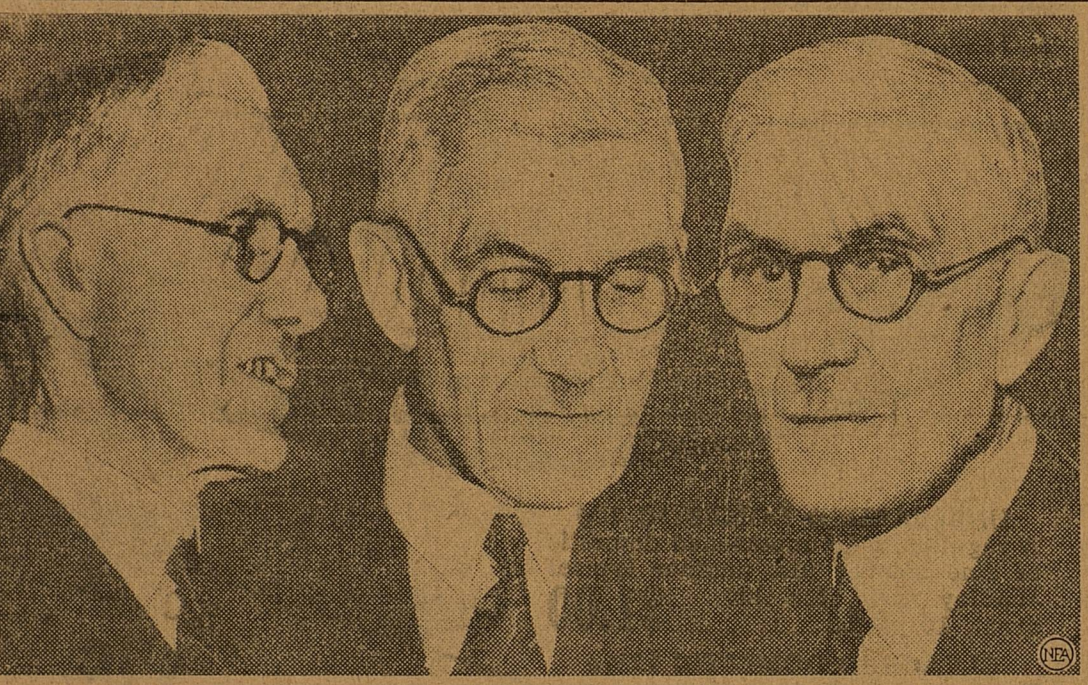

Cabinet Members at Social Security Hearing

The two cabinet members whose work will be most affected by the passage of old age and job insurance bills appear before the House Ways and Means committee in Washington to outline their views for Congress. At left is Secretary of Labor Frances Perkins; right, Secretary of the Treasury Henry Morgenthau, with the data in hand showing that the proposed legislation would cost the Federal government $4,000,000,000 yearly above income.

His Is the Mightiest Pen in Pension

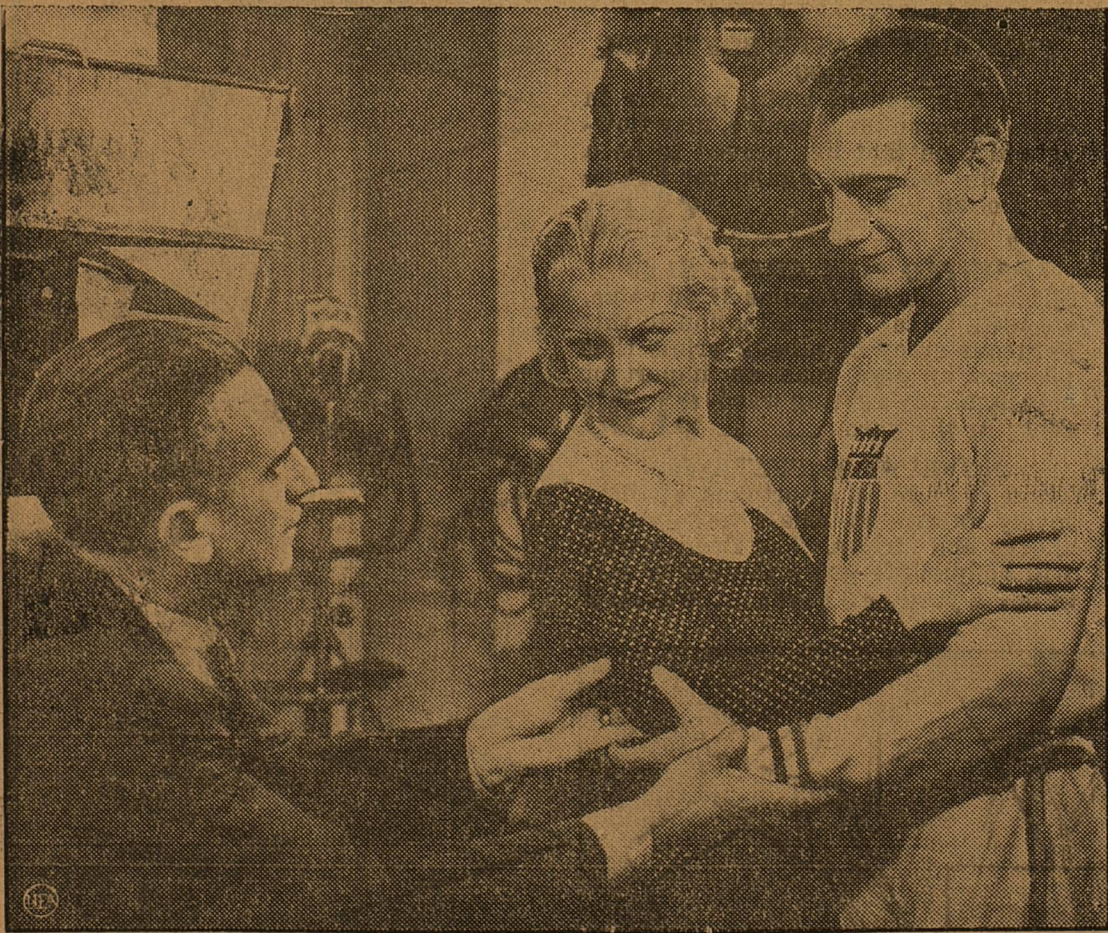

Seldom has a single person risen so quickly to so great an influence over Congress as the man pictured above in three characteristic poses. He is Dr. Francis E. Townsend, the California physician whose "revolving old age pension plan" of paying $200 monthly to all elderly people has obtained such wide support. Actively lobbying his bill in Congress, writing continually in its favor, and making a continual round of organization meetings and speeches, Dr. Townsend enjoys none of the leisure he bespeaks for other elderly people.

New Gas Mask Doesn't Mask Beauty

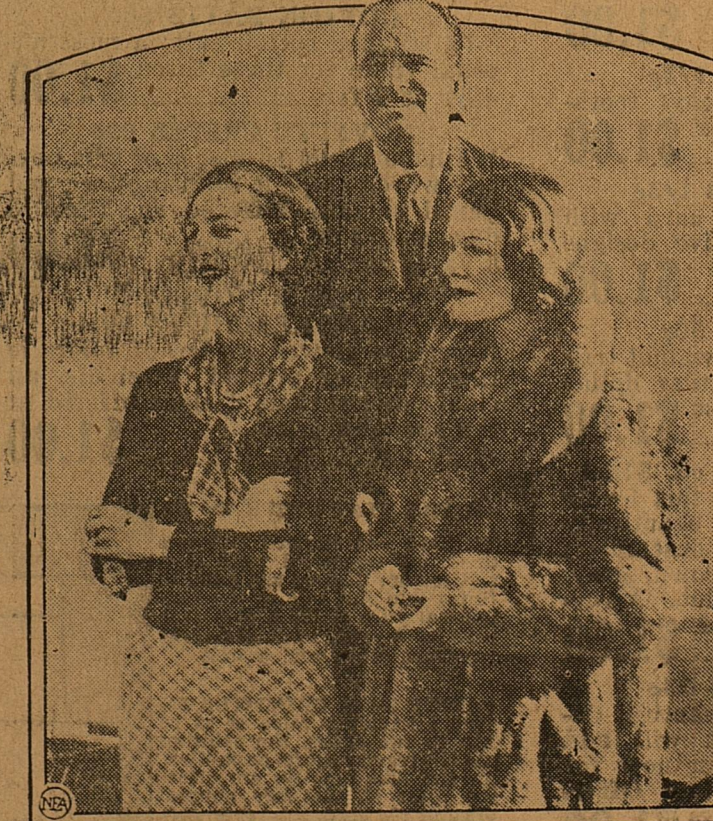

So business will not be interrupted if enemy airplanes should loose gas bombs on Rome before quitting time, a new transparent gas mask that enables a typist to see clearly while enjoying protection from noxious fumes has been introduced into the war-minded Italian capital. There wasn't any need to mask her fear when the young lady posed for this picture.

Movies Beat Baseball to Hero Howell

Baseball lost one of its brightest prospects in years when Dixie Howell, that forward passing phenom who heaved Alabama to victory over Stanford in the Rose Bowl game, decided to accept a movie contract. Howell has been signed to do the lead role in a sports serial, and will postpone his baseball career until next season. He is shown above at right, with Eole Galli, actress, and Director Jack Foley, as he took a screen test.

Doug Rome With Lady Ashley

Visiting Rome after holidaying extensively on the Riviera, Douglas Fairbanks and Lady Sylvia Ashley (right) are shown with a friend in the Italian capital. Since Mary Pickford divorced him, Fairbanks' marriage to the also divorced English actress, has often been rumored.

Allred Adheres To His Policy For Clemency

AUSTIN. —(P).—Governor James V. Allred has adhered to the letter of his declaration that his acts of executive clemency would be governed by recommendations of the board of pardons and paroles. Governor Allred was a severe critic of the pardon policies of past governors, believing that convicts with money and influence thereby were enabled to obtain freedom while their less fortunate fellows remained in prison. The day he assumed office the governor issued a proclamation advising pardon seekers to present their cases to the board of pardons before coming to the executive office. The board's recommendations have been followed in every instance. Governor Allred also has relied solely on its decisions in respect to commutation of death sentences.

Two death cases presented were denied. Governor Allred has definite recommendations pending before the legislature on crime control. He believes one of the most effective ways to make convicts realize their offenses against society is to make them serve a suitable time on their sentences but at the same time keep alive a hope of release if they conduct themselves properly and show a disposition to again become useful citizens. To that end he recommended changes in the law regulating the pardon board. Control over release of convicts would be taken from the governor and that responsibility placed with the board. There is considerable sentiment in the legislature for enactment of a law that would insure fair and impartial treatment of all convicts. Under the proposal definite conditions would be set up under which convicts could be paroled, such as good behavior, general demeanor and willingness to work. The law would provide that after a convict had served the minimum on his sentence his case automatically would be presented to the pardon board. It would come up regardless of whether he petitioned for a pardon or parole. Instances have been reported where prisoners without friends to take up their cause have remained in prison for years. Under an equitable system they would have been entitled to release. Another bill pending would require the pardon board to advertise applications for pardons in the county of conviction with notice of the application sent to the prosecuting attorney and sheriff and, where possible, to the injured parties. This would insure that no convict would be released without a full hearing. In some instances folks back home have learned of the release of a convict only after he returned and had been seen on the streets. The bill also would limit fees that could be collected by an attorney representing a convict before the board. A substance having all the desirable properties of bakelite, an American product, has been produced from coal at a low cost by German scientists.

GETS APPOINTMENT
ALPINE, Feb. 12, (AP).—J. D. Jackson, Brewster county ranchman, was notified of his appointment to the Board of Regents for the Texas College of Mines, and the University of Texas. The appointment was made by Governor Allred. If any one set of brake shoes is operating inefficiently, there is excessive wear on the other three, which are then required to carry the whole load.

Valentine Party At Country Club For Barbara Harper

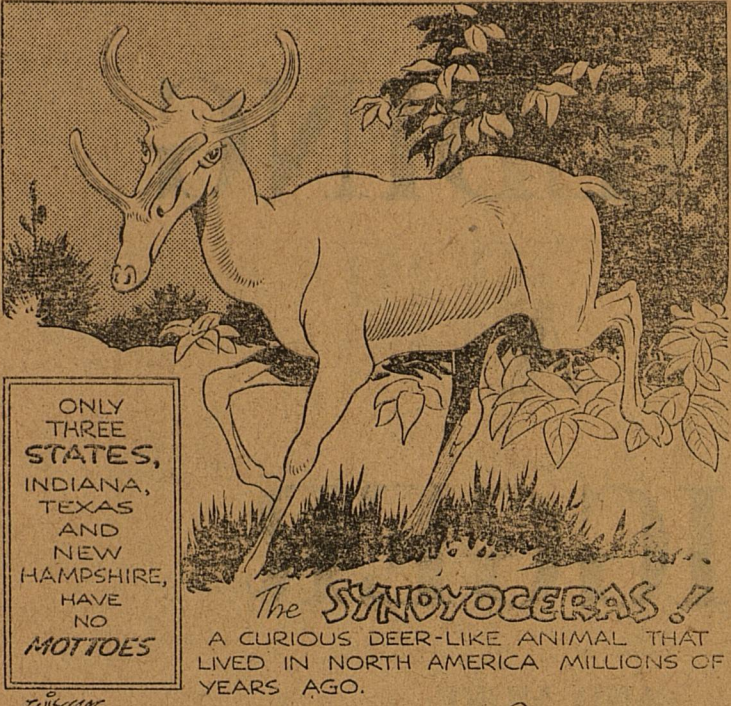

Honoring her daughter, Barbara Jean, Mrs. O. C. Harper entertained with a Valentine party at the country club Saturday evening. Playing hours were devoted to games with dancing later in the evening when Mary Margaret Mann was at the piano. Mrs. George Abell assisted the hostess in directing the games. Refreshments carried out the Valentine motif. Plate favors were heart-shaped boxes of candy. About 35 were present.

Junior Play--

students in the portrayal of their roles in "Be Yourself."

Vera Hefner-- The Juniors hit a high water mark in the presentation of their play last night. The performance was an inspiration and a challenge to all others who plan to engage in any dramatic activity. The director, assistants, sponsors and cast are to be highly commended for their truly enjoyable entertainment.

Elizabeth Lomax-- The presentation of the Junior play was marked by the excellent character acting of several members of the cast, especially Mary Howe as Mrs. Ballard and Marcelline Wyatt as her daughter. Some of the other parts were more difficult, and in all the work of the students was very impressive, as they had been encouraged to work out their own ideas on their parts.

Walter Barnes-- The play was well-coached and well acted. Each player did his or her best and proved equal to his responsibility. Mary Howe, to me, seemed the most outstanding actress.

Theresa Klapproth-- I enjoyed every minute of the Junior play. None of the parts seemed overdrawn or too difficult for the actor to portray. The way in which each actor stayed in character, the perfection with which each responded to his cues, and the clear enunciation were remarkable for high school students.

Tammie Burrus-- Acting is the most difficult of all things in dramatics. Every actor in the Junior play not only acted well but spoke well and in general performed very nicely in being the person the author of the play intended for them to be.

H. D. Bearden-- As a performance it was entertaining and well up to standard.

J. H. Williams-- I think the play "Be Yourself" is one of the best three-act plays I have ever seen presented by high school students. Each student was "in character" throughout the play. I have heard nothing but favorable criticism from those who attended the performance of "Be Yourself."

Stella Maye Lanham-- The Junior class and its director are to be congratulated on the presentation of "Be Yourself." Sustaining the pep and enthusiasm throughout the entire play every member of the cast contributed to the splendid manner in which the large attentive audience received the sparkling comedy.

D. D. Shiftlett-- I congratulate Miss Zant and the Junior class and sponsors on the overwhelming success of a clever, most interesting and perfectly cast play. The lines were clever and funny; the plot interesting and the parts well executed and beautifully spoken.

Lena Douglas-- The play presented last night by the Junior class of 1935 was especially well selected and presented. Outstanding was the part of "Beulah" played by Marcelline Wyatt. The character was delightful in its similarity to Mitzie Green, popular on the screen a few years ago.

Mrs. R. D. Scruggs-- Financial Success-- The play was also a financial success, as shown by the following report of sales by Miss Helen Miley, who had charge of ticket sales:

10-A pre-sales $49.75
10-B pre-sales $4.85
10-C pre-sales $4.85
4 Box-office sales $28.30

TOTAL $137.75
The proceeds will be used to finance the Junior-Senior banquet, which will be given in the crystal dining room of the Schaefer Hotel Thursday evening at 7:30. This banquet has long been an annual affair, and for the past ten or fifteen years the Juniors have used this method of financing the brilliant affair.

Cast of Characters-- The three sponsors of the Junior Class are Miss Kathryn Zant, who selected, cast, and coached the play; Miss Helene Miley, who had charge of advertising and pre-ticket sales; and Mrs. H. D. Bearden, who had charge of the box office sales. Miss Stella Maye Lanham of the Junior high school faculty was make-up artist. The play, "Be Yourself," was written by Wilbur Brauns, and is a royalty play. Following is the cast of characters:

"BE YOURSELF"
The Junior Class Play
DRAMATIS PERSONAE
in order of their appearance
Bing Warren, bell boy and would-be detective--C. A. Goldsmith
Mrs. Patricia Ballard, eccentric tenant--Mary Howe
Beulah Ballard, her "baby" daughter--Marcelline Wyatt
Leslie Ferris, interior decorator--Betty Minter
Beverly Lane, seamstress--Marcelle Scarborough
Mrs. Hendricks, tenant in same apartment house--Christine Pate
Anna Karova, wife to Prince Luverne--Jane Dunagan
Leslie Prince, newspaper man--Frank Cowden
Madam Francis, landlady--Jahit Marie Johnson
Arnold Ford, fiance to Leslie--Sam McKiff
Prince Luverne, the new tenant--Robert Prothro

Synopsis of Scenes-- The entire action of the play occurs within twenty-four hours in the vacated apartment of Mrs. Ballard in a large apartment house building in New York City.
Time: The present.
Act One-- The twenty-seventh day of April Morning.

Act Two-- Late afternoon of the same day.
Act Three-- A few hours later. Evening.

Just as Mrs. Ballard the eccentric tenant, so completely dominating, is about to vacate her New York apartment, Mrs. Hendricks' jewels are stolen. Beulah Ballard, the daughter, returns for property left by mistake and finds that a princess has entered the apartment. Mrs. Ballard's consequent reappearance causes much inconvenience to Beverly Lane and Leslie Ferris, seamstress and interior decorator, employed by Madam Francis, the owner of the apartment, to decorate the place and prepare it for a prince Luverne and his wife. The two girls find themselves in a very awkward position. They are at one time credited with thievery and royalty. Marriage plans for Leslie Ferris are smashed, but Leslie Prince becomes enamored of the little Cinderella.

Bing Warren determines to find the criminal. The real Prince Luverne arrives and eventually the characters swing into their true roles. Beulah finds the jewels; Mrs. Ballard spirits away the nobility; the lovers are free of annoyance; Bing is back at the routine.
Stage and Property Manager--Bob White.
Assistant to director--James Connor.

Another mark was reached last evening in the history of Midland High in the presentation of the Junior Play "Be Yourself," May I say by way of compliment to the director and cast that the efficient manner in which it was presented would do honor not only to the amateur but to the professional stage as well.

Campbell--

some defect in mechanical makeup of the car confronting the driver, as the only test it is given at top speed is the actual assault on the record.

Gears in the rear axle are subjected to such great pressure that they become overheated after a minute and a half at top speed, and if one should crack--well, please omit flowers.

The tires he uses are given a life of three minutes at his top speed, and they must be changed after his first run down the beach before he starts his mad dash back. Sea shells along the course tear the rubber on the tires, and he must think in split seconds. It takes about fourtenths of a second for Sir Malcolm's mind to tell his muscles what to do, and at that time his hurtling speed has covered 338 feet.

Sensing all these dangers, the Englishman has designed his car to give the maximum in safety. The double wheels in the rear not only lend more traction but help stabilize the car and eliminate the tendency to skid sidewise.

Broke Record Four Times
Campbell is 49, an age when most persons begin wondering what is going to happen to the Townsend pension bill. He is the only man ever to set more than one record at Daytona Beach, and he set four of them--207 miles an hour in 1928; 257 in 1931; 254 in 1932; and 272 in 1933.

He has been racing 29 years, and the sport is in his blood. It provides excitement that human existence lacks and, sandwiched between trips in airplanes and expeditions into the South Seas to hunt for lost pirate gold, it manages to keep him out of mischief and satiate his desire for action.

The probability of his reaching 300 miles an hour is fair. His rebuilt speedster hits 100 miles an hour in low, 205 in second, and when he gets past that mark, he shifts into high.
He has an approach of four miles of beach before he hits the line denoting the start of the measured mile over which his speed is clocked, and by the time he hits that line, he is going full blast, with 205 miles an hour in second gear giving him nearly as much momentum as his average speed in the up and down runs of his record dash in 1928.

Sir Malcolm has confidence in his six-year-old Bluebird, and, while naturally reluctant to make an out-and-out prediction that he'll hit 300, he wouldn't be spending seeds of money necessary to build a car and bring it over here if he didn't think he could.

GRAVES IMPROVED

Clarence Graves survivor of the automobile wreck in which two lives were lost here Saturday night, was reported at a hospital today to be improving. A head concussion and a broken right arm were the principal injuries. He had regained consciousness after being in a semi-conscious condition for two days.

Your Income Tax (CLIP THIS DAILY)

No. 11
Gross Income, Net Income, and Surtax Net Income

Three of the terms used in the income-tax law, namely, "gross income," "net income," and "surtax net income," should be noted particularly, inasmuch as they are vitally important to the whole subject of the income tax.

Gross income includes in general all income from any source whatever, unless exempt from tax by law. The gross income of the usual business consists of the gross profits on sales, plus any income from investments and incidental or outside operations or sources. The return must show the gross sales, purchases, and cost of goods sold. To reflect income correctly, inventories are necessary at the beginning and end of each taxable year.

A lawyer, doctor, architect, physician, dentist, clergyman, author, or other professional man must include in gross income all fees, salaries, and compensation of any kind for professional services.

Net income upon which the tax is assessed is gross income less the deductions allowed by law. Such deductions include business and professional expenses, such as salaries, wages, and other payments to employees, taxes, losses, interest paid, bad debts, depreciation, depletion, contributions, etc. Failure to understate gross income will result in a normal tax. Having arrived at the net income, the next step is to deduct the personal exemption and credit for dependents, etc., for the taxpayer's household.

The balance represents the "surtax net income." The next step is to deduct from such balance the earned income credit and other credits to which the taxpayer is entitled. The remainder represents the amount of net income subject to the normal tax of 4 percent. Any amount of net income in excess of $4,000 is subject to the surtax. The surtax is to be computed in accordance with the rates provided in the various so-called surtax brackets.

Insolvent Taxpayers Make Good Response

A few months ago the tax collector's office sent a letter to insolvent delinquent taxpayers, explaining that insolvent taxpayers levied on personal property and polls where no real estate is rendered. Since that time, $118,827 in insolvent taxes has been collected.

"We consider this a splendid response," a member of the collector's force said. "It will help to alleviate the real estate tax burden and to keep the rate at one dollar." A number of tax payers have taken advantage of the opportunity to pay delinquent taxes without incurring the penalty. It was also reported that taxpayers who have not yet done so are reminded that after March 15, the penalty on delinquent taxes is again in effect.

METEOROLOGICAL WORKER HERE

E. N. Snodgrass, who underwent an operation for appendicitis Monday evening, was reported resting well today. He is in a Midland hospital.

Winkler Well Is 700-Bbl. Producer

Making the best well in the new northern Winkler county field to date, Magnolia No. 5 Walton, east of the 100-acre No. 4 well in the Sayre pool, yesterday gauged 593 barrels on a 20-hour test, making the well capable of about 700 barrels daily.

The new producer, which is the fourth completion of the pool, has been closely watched inasmuch as it seems to extend produced bit eastward. Three other wells of the area are scheduled for early gauges.

Southward, Fox-Butler No. 1 Brown Altman, a wildcard in section 8, block B-5, public school land, is again at an interesting stage in the deflected hole drilled by tools lost in the original hole. Production was encountered in the well at 3,093 feet, but with dropped liner and tools it became necessary to drill by via whipstock, and the new bore is reported this morning to be at 3,103 feet in hard limestone, apparently not yet to the producing sand originally encountered, because of the angular deflection of the corrected drilling.

Wells Orchestra Plays Thursday

The Floyd Wells orchestra will play for the Valentine dance at the Hotel Schaefer Thursday. Manager C. A. Sheffield announced today.

"This organization, coming direct from Omaha, Neb., is a nationally known orchestra having played a long run engagement in the Benjamin Franklin hotel, Philadelphia, and that chain of hotels," Sheffield said.

Economics Class Praised for Work

Commendation from the chairman of the Midland County Child Welfare board for work done by home economics students of Midland high school was expressed in a letter to school officials.

The economics department had conducted sewing, toy rebuilding and scientific food preparation for underprivileged children, each member of the classes taking one child to aid.

The letter follows: "The attention of the Midland county Child Welfare Board has been attracted by the splendid work being done by the home economics department of the Midland High School. Recognizing the fact that such training is invaluable to the future homemakers and mothers of the community, the board voted to express its appreciation for the work of Miss Vada Crawley and Miss Kathleen Mullino, instructors in the department. The outstanding result of the recent class in dietetics impressed the board as being one of the most worthwhile projects in the training of high school girls. The Christmas project which benefited pre-school children was not only practical and helpful training for the girls but proved to be a very great help to the indigent children."
