Faye's Daze

Have you noticed that I haven't complained about the crickets this year? Well, this morning I found one in my bathtub and I drowned him with glee.

Speaking of crickets, I tuned in on a segment on TV the other night the topic of which was cricket manure. I can't remember just exactly what it is used on, but there is a place up north that has millions of crickets and they ship the manure to other parts of the country. They made mention of the fact that the manure is scarce and expensive, I'll just let you guess what I thought about that.

That shower last night was wonderful, I hope it was a general rain. We received .68 here in town and I hope the farmers got that much or more. There are portions of the area that are very dry, not receiving any moisture since the middle of June.

A salesman, visiting his barber for a haircut, mentioned that he was about to make a trip to Rome. "Rome is a terribly overrated city," said the barber, who came from Italy. "What airline are you taking and what hotel are you staying at?"

When the salesman told him, the barber criticized the airline for being undependable and the hotel for having horrible service. "You'd be better off to stay at home," he said.

"But I expect to close a big deal; then I'm going to see the Pope," said the salesman.

"You'll be disappointed trying to do business in Italy," said the barber, "and don't count on seeing the Pope. He only grants audiences to very important people."

Two months later the salesman returned to the barber shop. "And how was your trip?" asked the barber.

"Wonderfull" replied the salesman. "The flight was perfect, the service at the hotel was excellent, I made a big sale and I got to see the Pope."

"You got to see the Pope?" What happened?"

"I bent down and kissed his ring."

"No kidding! And what did he say?"

"Well, he looked down at my head and then said to me: 'My son, where did you ever get such a lousy haircut?'"

Feline specialist says cat owners don't know signs of pet's illness

COLLEGE STATION — Cats are becoming the pet of preference in America, but may lose the health race because owners mistakenly believe cats are hardy and can take care of themselves, says a feline specialist at Texas A&M University. "Cats contribute to this misconception because they are the wildest of our domestic animals. They don't let you know they are sick until it is serious," said Dr. Alice Wolf of Texas A&M's small animal clinic.

A national study commissioned by the American Veterinary Medical Association found that only 47 percent of cat-owning households in America obtained veterinary services in a single year, compared to 74 percent of dog-owning households.

"Cats hide their illness due to old predatory instincts," said Wolf. "But humans have changed their lifestyle and environment, so it is up to us to protect them as best we can."

The AVMA study of 64 million pet owners (representing 107 million dogs and cats) found that cat owners think their animals are naturally healthy. The survey also found that cat owners seldom know signs of feline illness (unusual behavior, runny nose or eyes, soreness, loss of appetite).

Recruits cite patriotism most often as reason for joining military

COLLEGE STATION — Patriotism, when defined as a desire to serve one's country, may be a bigger draw to military service in the United States than economic reasons, a Texas A&M University study indicates.

Dr. James Burk, an assistant professor of sociology, concluded that a desire to serve one's country is a strong motivation to join the military after analyzing data from more than 1,000 in-service military personnel and new recruits who participated in the 1980 National Longitudinal Survey of Youth (NLS).

One of the most frequently given reasons for joining up — when the participants were allowed to give more than one answer — was desire to serve the country, he said.

It was the most frequently given reason for enlistees not yet serving and ranked fourth among current servers. Among enlistees, 83.1 percent gave desire to serve as a reason for joining, making that motivation more common than "to better self," "travel," "unemployed" and "better income than as a civilian."

Thousands of successful tax preparers started their careers with the H&R Block Income Tax Course.

H&R Block has been teaching income taxes for 30 years and this year is offering a basic income tax course starting September 5th with evening classes available.

Many of the most successful people in the tax preparation business started with this basic course which teaches all phases of income tax preparation. The 13 week course progresses from simple to complex tax problems. Students learn through classroom discussion and homework.

Qualified course graduates may be offered job interviews for positions with Block. Many of Block's employees find the flexible hours a plus. However, Block is under no obligation to offer employment, nor are graduates under any obligation to accept employment with H&R Block.

The course is ideal for those interested in tax preparation as a career or for those who want to learn about taxes for their own personal use. The course is challenging and, for those who are highly motivated, can prove to be profitable as well. No prerequisites are required for enrollment.

Registration forms and a brochure for the income tax course may be obtained by contacting the Perryton H&R Block office at 314 N. Industrial. Telephone 806-435-5616.

Guymon to host Fall Cattle Festival

Dr. Earl Butz, former agriculture secretary under Presidents Nixon and Ford, will be keynote speaker Aug. 17 during the Fall Cattle Festival at the Texas County Fairgrounds Activity Center.

Dr. Dee Griffin, a spokesman for the Aug. 16-17 event, said the second annual festival will be co-sponsored by the Texas County Veterinary Association, the Academy of Veterinary Consultants (AVC) and a host of local, regional and national companies and organizations. About 1,000 people involved in various aspects of the cattle industry are expected to attend.

"We are honored to have Mr. Butz as our guest speaker," said Griffin. "His insights into current financial situations now facing the cattle industry and all of agriculture will be of benefit to everyone attending the festival."

Butz is scheduled to speak at 6:30 p.m., Aug. 17, following a full slate of workshops, panel discussions and individual talks.

The festival kicks off the Aug. 16 program with a variety of functions, beginning with a series of feedyard tours throughout the Oklahoma Panhandle, northern Texas Panhandle, and southwestern Kansas region.

The AVC will hold its quarterly educational meeting at 9 a.m. at the Guymon High School, and will also host a nutrition council meeting at 3 p.m.

Other events Aug. 16 will include golf at Sunset Hills Golf Course, a cookout for festival sponsors and persons attending the nutrition and AVC meetings, the popular Panhandle National Western Rodeo, a special "calf dressing" charity event, and a VIP reception at the Elks Lodge.

Lionel Lane, microbial products department manager for the Southwestern Division of Pioneer Hi-Bred International, Inc., a festival co-sponsor, said the Aug. 17 program features a wealth of information which can be used by people in the cattle industry, as well as persons who supply allied services and products.

Following registration at 8:15 a.m., the Chicago Mercantile Exchange will present a marketing workshop on new strategies. At 11 a.m., IBM Corp. will give festival participants a fresh look at how computers can benefit businesses.

A lunch program will feature a demonstration of "wheat straw ammoniation" by Dr. Gerry Kuhl of Kansas State University.

At 1 p.m., Dr. Kuhl and Dr. Bob Smith of Oklahoma State University, will examine utilizing crop residues in beef production. They will be followed by a discussion of efficient cow/calf operations by Dr. Larry Rice and Dr. Keith Lusby, both of OSU.

At 2:30 p.m., Dr. Bob Lee of KSU will discuss vitamin nutrition during a session on receiving cattle. He will be followed by Dr. Glen Lofgreen of New Mexico State University who will speak on receiving programs. Dr. Joe Cummins of Texas A&M University will speak on "interferon" benefits to beef producers at 3 p.m.

At 3:30 p.m., a panel of speakers will address current management concepts. Dr. L.S. "Bill" Pope, dean of agriculture of NMSU, will look at the overall agriculture scope at 4:00 p.m.

At 5 p.m., barbecue and a film on cattle feeding will precede Butz's talk.

A final session of the rodeo and "calf dressing" will be followed by a "dunes party" on the Beaver River.

Griffin noted that special auxiliary ladies programs will be led by Ms. Leota Jones, vice president of Texas American Bank in Amarillo, and Guymon merchants. The programs will include sessions on cooking, cosmetics, fashions and auto repairs.

Additional sponsors of the festival include Farr Better Feeds, First National Bank of Guymon, Great Plains Chemicals, Hi-Pro Feeds & Animal Health, Hitch Enterprises, Hoffman-LaRoche, IML, Inc., Merck MSD Ag-Vet, Rhone Poulenc, Syntex Agri-Business, Norden Laboratories, Walco International, Inc. and Tufts & Son.

Greenbugs build in milo

Greenbugs are becoming an erratic problem in Texas High Plains grain sorghum, and an entomologist at the Texas A&M Research and Extension Center in Amarillo said the next two weeks will be "very important in their control."

The entomologist, Dr. Carl Patrick, said today the worst infestations are in the northern Panhandle.

"But we are seeing a buildup in other areas," Dr. Patrick said. "Parasitic wasp activity is just beginning, and the next two weeks are very important in greenbug control. After that, wasp activity should control them."

"But I really think that between now and August 20 it will be important to keep an eye on grain sorghum."

Some growers had already treated their crops. Other fields need treating right away, Dr. Patrick said.

Some of the earliest planted milo on the High Plains is blooming, while some of the latest planted is in the boot stage. The variance in growth stages could extend the greenbug problem.

Dr. Tom Archer, entomologist at the Texas A&M Research and Extension Center in Lubbock, said South Plains grain sorghum had seen "plenty" of greenbugs, but parasitic wasps have taken over and the greenbugs are no longer a problem.

"Now midge are starting to show and anybody who has late-planted sorghum probably should watch our for midge," Dr. Archer said.

He said midge are sporadic in the South Plains. He cited Lorsban 4E, diazinon, Di-Syston, Lannate, Nudrin and parathion as insecticides recommended for control.

One grain sorghum grower who treated for greenbugs is Robert Gallman of Route 1 Friona, Texas. Gallman grows 150 acres of seed sorghum and he sprayed two fields last week with Lorsban 4E insecticide, a material he has used for the past four years.

On one field, Gallman used three-eighths of a pound (active ingredient) to the acre and on the other he used half a pound. Both rates controlled the greenbugs.

"My fields look great," Gallman said. "As far as I'm concerned, Lorsban is the one product to use in seed sorghum. It really kills the greenbugs."

Scott Fred of Route 3, Levelland, treated two circles of seed milo with Lorsban 4E and reported a "real good job." He said "virtually every leaf you picked up had dead greenbugs on it."

Fred added that Lorsban 4E "definitely didn't burn" any of his milo. Some greenbug insecticides burn grain sorghum severely.

Columbus & August

It was in the first week of August, 1492, that Columbus sailed from Palos, Spain, in search of a route across the Atlantic to China and the Far East. With three ships he sailed westward for more than nine weeks before land was sighted.

Columbus was looking for islands west of the Sargasso Sea. When a lookout sighted Watling Island, on the morning of October 12, Columbus thought he had reached India, named the natives Indians and called the island San Salvador. (Another island now has that name.)

Research has established that Columbus was not the first to discover America. A Viking had arrived five hundred years earlier, perhaps others. But Columbus' discovery was, nevertheless, the more important, because it opened up the New World to trade and exploration. For practical purposes, then, Columbus' discovery was the meaningful discovery of the New World.

Livestock Video Auction set

Cattle buyers nationwide can now view and bid on the same cattle at the same time without leaving the privacy of their home, office, or any where equipped with a satellite dish television system.

In the nation's first ever satellite livestock auction sale, the Amarillo Livestock Video Auction will telecast its Aug. 29 auction sale coast to coast via SATCOM IV communications satellite.

The auction will originate from the Amarillo Livestock Auction Co. sale arena where an auctioneer will accept bids telephoned in from buyers across this country.

In explaining the revolutionary livestock sale, Jack Tompkins, video auction manager, said the satellite auction sale will provide the cattle seller with a virtually unlimited market for his cattle.

"With this satellite link, we expand the market for the seller's cattle far beyond our regular video locations," said Tompkins. "Now, anyone who has access to a television hooked to an operable satellite dish can tune in our auction and bid."

Buyers must register with the Amarillo Video taping sale cattle in days in advance of the sale. They may then view the cattle Aug. 29 on SATCOM IV, Channel 2 between 10 and 11 a.m. Central Daylight Time. Bidding begins at 1 p.m.

The Amarillo Livestock Auction Co. established the video auction in 1983. The idea of video taping sale cattle in the field, then replaying the tape before prospective buyers was virtually new to the cattle industry in the Southwest. But the unorthodox form of selling calves and yearlings soon caught on and is drawing more and more interest on every occasion.

"We normally conduct the sale from the Amarillo Livestock Auction Co. arena, where a tape of each lot of cattle is viewed on a 10-foot screen just over the auctioneer," said Tompkins.

"The same tape is played simultaneously at several other locations elsewhere, where potential buyers can also bid. These bids are called in to Amarillo, where they are measured against others in the video auction network. The cattle go to the highest bidder, whether it comes from the arena or another sale location 1,500 miles away." The bidding is just like any cattle sale and normally 3000-3500 cattle per hour are sold.

Besides Amarillo, the sale is held in Oklahoma City and Lake Placid, Fla., where large meeting rooms are used to accommodate the video systems, telephone lines to the auction arena and the buyers. The auction also has been held in Garden City, Kan., and Jackson, Miss., two other key cattle locations.

"Despite the five locations, there are many potential buyers who don't have access to the video auction," said Tompkins. "That's the main reason we put together the satellite sale."

"Many cattle buyers like to make their transactions in private. The satellite sale will help to accommodate them."

Buyers and sellers know everything on the contract before the sale takes place, except the price. Buyers pay a down payment after the purchase and balance upon accepting delivery. Auction representatives assist in assuring that all deliveries are made proper. The seller is paid a down payment and the balance when the cattle are delivered.

The Aug. 29 sale will feature several thousand calves and yearlings. The average lot will include 300 to 400 cattle.

For more information, contact Jack Tompkins at Box 30668, Amarillo, Tx. 79120, or call collect, 1-806-373-7464.

Quilt Block Contest Set

The Panhandle-Plains Historical Museum and the Texas Agricultural Extension Service are co-sponsoring a Panhandle Sesquicentennial Quilt Block Contest in honor of Texas' 150th birthday. According to JoAnne Arasim, the Museum's Curator of Textiles, the contest is one of the Museum's official Sesquicentennial events, and it is the only Panhandle-wide activity planned for the 1986 Sesquicentennial Celebration.

Quilt block competitions will be held in each of the top 26 counties of the Texas Panhandle, according to Becky Saunders, Clothing Specialist with the Extension Service. Extension Agents in each county are announcing and promoting the contest beginning July 29, she said. Anyone is eligible to enter, with the exception of Extension Agents, Museum staff, and their families. Deadlines for submitting entries will be set by each individual County Agent, Saunders noted.

Each entrant is asked to create one or more quilt blocks representing a specific characteristic of her or his county. A panel of three judges, chosen by each County Extension Agent, will select the top three blocks in each county. Entries will be judged on overall appearance, workmanship, originality of design, adherence to theme, appropriateness of material and use of color.

The first place blocks will be sent to the Museum in Canyon on February 1, 1986, where they will become part of a 30-block Sesquicentennial Quilt. Thus, each of the top 26 counties will have a representative block, with the remaining 4 blocks representing the Museum, the Extension Service, the Sesquicentennial, and the Quilt project itself.

The Extension Service has issued general rules for the competition, Saunders noted. The rules pertain to such things as the size of the blocks, seam allowances, color, type of applique, type of fabric, and so forth. In addition, the Extension Service has prepared a detailed outline entitled "Tips for Making a Winning Quilt Block," which will assist in making the entries consistent, she said.

The Museum and Extension Service are planning a "quilting bee" for February 22-23, 1986, Arasim noted. Area quilters will come to the Museum to actually finish the Sesquicentennial Quilt, and the public will be able to view and participate in the work as it progresses, she explained. Further details will be announced in the autumn of 1985.

Once the Panhandle's Sesquicentennial Quilt has been assembled and finished, it will be on exhibit at the Museum in conjunction with "Lone Stars: A Legacy of Texas Quilts, 1836-1936," a major exhibit of the best quilts in Texas. This unique display is the outgrowth of several Quilt Roundup Days held around the state earlier this year, Arasim said. Of the 30 quilts selected for the exhibit, 6 were selected at the Museum's Quilt Roundup Day in March, she noted. "Lone Stars," which is sponsored by the Texas Sesquicentennial Quilt Association, will have its Texas premier at the Panhandle-Plains Historical Museum on April 27, 1986 and will be on display through June 8, 1986.

Persons interested in obtaining information on deadline dates, rules, tips, and entry blanks for the Sesquicentennial Quilt Block Contest should contact their local County Extension Agent for details, 659-2030 or 733-2901 or call Becky Saunders at (806) 359-5401 or JoAnne Arasim at (806) 655-7191.

Our Heritage of Faith

Style and content of Lutheran liturgy. Lutheran-Liturgical-Christian Worship is distinctive in several features: 1. It is Doxological; Praise is the basic theme: praise for salvation, praise to God for His promises and revelations of Himself for the benefit of sinners. 2. Scriptural: Liturgical Worship is based on basic Christian teaching and could not exist without a Bible basis. Liturgical Worship is orderly, as St. Paul demands without being rigid. Liturgical Worship recognizes the Lord's acceptance of any heartfelt Worship but that he also has a right to expect our best.

PDRA sets tax rate

The Palo Duro Water Authority met for their regular session August, 14, in their office in the Pittman-Shieldknight building.

Members discussed taxes with Alice Peddy, tax appraiser. The Authority also received a refund from the Appraisal District for 1984 for $114.

The board authorized manager, Johnnie Lee, to execute and sign contract with tax appraisal districts in both Moore and Hansford County.

Their request for $10,000,000 from the Texas Water Development Board was amended to $12,500,000. Lee stated he is optimistic about getting the money and feels that PDRA is on the top of the list. All of this depends on whether or not the water amendment passes in the fall.

Three scouts attend National Jamboree

Three Scouts from Troop 551, Spearman Texas, joined with thirty-three other scouts and four Scout Leaders from the Adobe Walls Council to attend the National Jamboree at Fort A.P.Hill, Virginia.

James Tindell, Keith Clark, and Jeff Vanlandingham along with the other thirty-three scouts left Amarillo on Wednesday, July 17th. Before going to Fort A.P.Hill the scouts had a one day trip to Philadelphia, Penn. where they toured Independence Hall, home of the 1st Continental Congress, the U.S. Mint, the Liberty Bell, and the Homes of Ben Franklin and Betsy Ross.

From Philadelphia the scouts went to Annapolis, Maryland for a tour through the Naval Academy and the State Capital of Maryland. They then spent three days in Washington, D.C. While there the scouts saw many of the sites in Washington, D.C.

On Monday they joined with 32,000 other scouts and scouters to help celebrate Scouting 75th anniversary, at the National Jamboree at Fort A.P.Hill, Virginia.

At the jamboree the scouts participated in many interesting activities. Some of these were: Handicapped Awareness, Confidence course, Aquatic sports, Merit Badge work and other fun activities.

On Thursday, July 25th, the scouts experienced inclement weather. "hurricane Bob" struck Fort A.P. Hill, blowing over tents and gateways. The Scouts arose to Badden-Powells challenge of "Be Prepared". Within two hours from the time the storm hit things were back to normal and the scouts began to use scouting skills to prepare their tents for a windy night. Although "Bob" dampened the ground it did not dampen the scouting spirit. The trading and swapping of items the scouts had brought from their home councils continued. The hottest trading items were hat pins, council strips and O.A.(Order of the Arrow) flaps. The scouts also participated in the Jamboree Wide Game. This game was used as a mixer to help scouts get acquainted with scouts from other parts of the United States.

The biggest highlights of the week long jamboree were the opening and closing Arena Shows featuring the Beach Boys and the Oakridge Boys respectively. At the closing Arena Show "First Lady" Nancy Reagan paid the jamboree participants a visit and gave a short speech. The Oakridge Boys then performed. The scouts then rededicated themselves to the Scout Oath and Scout Law, this was signified by a burning candle.

Then the fireworks began, a full thirty-five minutes of fireworks lit up the night sky, bringing scoutings 75th Anniversary to a climatic ending.

The scouts that went would like to thank our sponsors, the Lions Club, for their support and to the people who have donated money to the scouting program. We at Troop 551 want to extend a big THANK YOU.

Death Star?

Astronomers have long sought the answer to the widespread belief that every so many million years life on earth suffers extinction.

In the 1950's a Dutch astronomer determined a cloud of millions of comets envelops the solar system.

Now Armand Delsemme of the University of Toledo (Ohio) reports--at the recent annual meeting of the Astronomical Society of the Pacific--that he has discovered a dark body, with a mass many times that of Jupiter, orbiting the sun every 5 to 50 million years.

Some hail this as support for the theory of periodic mass extinctions of life on earth and refer to this dark mass as the "death star." The suspicion is that a shower of comets from this star, periodically, has caused the disappearance of life forms on earth over periods of millions of years.

What could deflect so many objects from this death star, or Oort cloud (named for Dutchman Jan Oort), that life on earth could be wiped out? Astronomers don't know. Many don't even agree with the death star theory. But Delsemme has added new credibility to it.

So, Buck Rogers and Flash Gordon, and present-day space whizbangs, there may be fantastic mysteries still to be solved out there in space. If there is a death star, and if comets from it erase life on earth every 26 million years or so (as claimed in a 1983 University of Chicago study), there's ample time to reflect on the danger.

One's past is what one is. It is the only thing by which people should be judged.

-Oscar Wilde.

WHO CANNOT SEW

The Traveling Salesman

Sunday morning in Buffalo—and a button falls off my last clean shirt: "Sorry, sir, valet service does not answer!"

Little girls can sew on buttons. Tailors can sew on buttons. My tough old sergeant could sew on buttons. But not me! I never got around to it.

I'm going to church anyway. Long time ago I realized that it may take a bit of effort, and some determination, and quite a lot of experience to become a regular church-goer. But life is full of real crises that demand faith and courage and a Source of guidance. There isn't much comfort in discovering that others can overcome such crises—while you never got around to it.

So any Sunday . . . in Buffalo, Rochester, Syracuse or Troy . . . you'll be seeing me in church. (I'm the stocky fellow, with the red hair—and the button missing from his shirt!)

The Water Amendment

Here are details on what the water amendment will mean to Texas agriculture if it is approved by voters this fall.

TEXAS FARMERS may be receiving $200 mil. in assistance with water conservation subject to two big "ifs."

The first is approval in November by voters of a proposed constitutional amendment on water project financing. The second is the successful operation of a pilot program of low-interest loans for purchase of high-efficiency conservation systems.

Legislators, in their regular session, approved HJR 6 by Rep. Tom Craddick, R-Midland, the proposed amendment to be voted on Nov. 5, and HB2, enabling legislation for the amendment, as the basis for water development and conservation efforts in Texas.

Legislators failed to agree on legislation in 1983, and for a while this year, it appeared House and Senate conferees might be unable to resolve differences in the versions of the measures approved in the two houses. But after over a month of arguing, conferees reached agreement under a deadline set by Lt. Gov. Bill Hobby and House Speaker Gib Lewis.

Craddick and Sen. John Montford, D-Lubbock, co-chairmen of the conference committee, called the package "well-balanced." But one conferee, Sen. Carlos Truan, D-Corpus Christi, charged the water proposals doesn't go far enough in assuring protection of freshwater inflows to bays and estuaries.

As approved by the conferees, HJR 6 would authorize issuance of an additional $980 mil. in Texas Water Development Bonds, with $200 mil. for flood control, and $400 mil. earmarked for state participation in acquiring and developing water storage and treatment facilities. Other bonds would be used for wastewater projects.

On a two-thirds vote of both houses, the Water Development Board would be authorized to issue and sell "Texas agricultural water conservation bonds in an amount not to exceed $200 million." Those bonds could not be sold, however, until "on or after the fourth anniversary of the date on which this section becomes a part of the constitution," the proposed amendment states.

HB 2 provides for use of up to $5 mil. in a pilot program of agricultural conservation equipment loans. The money may be used to make loans to lenders and (as) guarantees of loans, during fiscal 1986 and 1987. Lenders are to be soil and water conservation districts or underground water conservation districts, which would be able to charge up to 2.5 percent of the amount of loan to cover loan fees and charges. Interest rate would be the same as for other loans under programs administered by the Water Development Board.

Loan funds could be used for capital equipment of "materials composing an irrigation water delivery and application mechanism," or for equipment or materials to convert an existing system to a more efficient one, and for "associated labor, preparation, and installation costs."

The state guarantees to lenders that in the event of a default, the state will assume and pay one-half the amount that remains due and payable under the loan is liquidated.

WDB would establish rules for administering the program, and would issue report (one by Jan. 1, 1987, and a second by Jan. 1, 1989) on the progress of the pilot program.

Items to be covered in those reports would include experience with defaults, administrative problems, and "the expected feasibility of and demand for an expanded conservation loan program."

Also created under the bill is an agricultural trust fund, with $10 mil. Interest earnings from the fund are to be used to provide more for research in agricultural water conservation, including education, technical assistance, research, and, equipment for underground water conservation districts. Universities, and agencies such as Texas Department of Agriculture and the Texas Agricultural Experiment Service, could be appropriated the funds. Research could include aquifer recharge projects, desalinization research, and weather modification studies.

Other major provisions of HB 2 include requirements for applicants for state assistance on water projects to adopt water conservation plans, and "reasonable water conservation measures."

Financial assistance is made available specifically for structural and nonstructural flood control, subsidence control, recharge, chloride control and desalinization, in addition to other projects that traditionally have received state assistance.

A water bond insurance program is established, under which the general credit of the state would be pledged to ensure payment of the principal or interest (or both) on bonds. Non-profit, member-owned water supply corporations would be eligible under the insurance program, which is intended to allow issuers to obtain lower interest rates on bonds.

The bill also provides for creation of a technical assistance program for soil and water conservation land improvement measures, to be administered by the State Soil and Water Conservation Board.

Other provisions deal with protection of bays and estuaries, by assuring beneficial inflows to protect fish and shellfish.

Texas Parks and Wildlife Department is charged with gathering data and conducting a study on the freshwater needs of estuaries, with studies due by Dec. 31, 1989.

Farmers and ranchers also may find assistance through another bill passed by the Legislature, SB 1083 by Sen. Bill Sims, D-San Angelo. It provides for a statewide brush control management program to be administered through the Soil and Water Conservation Board and districts under the board's jurisdiction.

The board would designate critical areas where brush infestation is particularly serious, and water needs are great, with a management plan being adopted (including methods approved for eradication of brush). Landowners wishing to participate in a control program could be eligible for assistance through state cost-sharing.

An analysis furnished Senate members during their consideration of the bill notes that mesquite and salt cedar cover vast amount of acreage which was, little more than a century ago, native grassland. Spread of mesquite and salt cedar in West Texas has resulted in loss productivity on the land, with mesquite consuming 3.5 times the amount of water consumed by the grass it replaced. A soil and Water Conservation study concludes that productivity would be increased from the capability of supporting one cow on 40 acres to one on six acres if

The program would be under the Department of Community Af-

Too Much

Comments from the White House last month about President Reagan's recuperation were super-euphoric. Mrs. Reagan said he was "flying high." Press spokesman Larry Speakes said the president was "on a roll." The president told an aide, "This is Christmas in July." Vice President Bush, after his first visit, said Mr. Reagan was "running high and looking good."

These descriptions must have baffled foreign observers.

Boys Ranch Rodeo Set

The forty-first annual Boys Ranch Rodeo will be held over the Labor Day weekend with up to 10,000 people expected for the two performances. Nearly 250 of the Ranch's boys will be riding calves, steers, bulls, bareback broncs, along with area riding clubs that will participate in the grand entry. It is a rodeo for all of the boys and those who do not compete as contestants will be selling barbecue beef plates, soft drinks and snow cones, or working at the many jobs required for a successful rodeo.

The boys will be competing for belt buckles and for the titles of Junior and Senior All-Around Cowboys. Specialty acts will include a wild steer race, FFA project parade, calf scramble and barrel races with five and six-year-old boys riding strick horses. Among the spectators will be many of the Ranch graduates who are expected

Grain sorghum producers set election

Four grain sorghum producers of the Texas High Plains area are candidates for re-election to the office of Director of Texas Grain Sorghum Producers Board. Their names will appear on the same ballot as referendums to establish a uniform grain sorghum checkoff throughout Texas.

Texas Grain Sorghum Producers Board was established in twenty-nine counties of the Texas High Plains in 1969. Since that time, it has financed most of the promotion and market development for Texas sorghum. In this election, sorghum producers outside the current TGSPB area will vote on a proposal to join TGSPB and expand the program statewide.

The High Plains candidates are: Dennis W. Anthony of Friona in Parmer County, Albert Scheele of Lockney in Floyd County, Weldon Shelton of Lamesa in Dawson County and Loyall Turner of Spearman in Hansford County. If the referendum to expand the program is approved by two-thirds of the producers voting, seven directors will be elected at-large from a slate of twenty-three. The seven directors-elect will join eight who are serving unexpected terms on the existing board. Directors are elected to six-year terms with one-third of them rotating off each two years.

The directors have the full responsibility of the TGSPB programs within limits approved by the voters. They have the authority to set the rate of the assessment but may not exceed the maximum specified in the referendum. They also hire staff, decide projects and determine collection procedures. They are elected officers of the State of Texas. They are not paid for their services but provisions have been made to reimburse them for travel expenses.

While farmers in counties outside the TGSPB area vote on the checkoff, those in the High Plains area will vote on a referendum to raise the maximum limit of the assessment from 1/4 cent per hundredweight to one cent. The proposition is to allow the board of directors will have the authority to set the assessment at any rate which does not exceed one cent per cwt.

The TGSPB checkoff funds are used to finance the promotion of Texas grain sorghum in markets throughout the world. In recent years, TGSPB has concentrated most of its efforts in Mexico. Due largely to those efforts, Mexico is now buying as much U.S. sorghum as half of the Texas production.

Other TGSPB projects are selling Texas sorghum in Asia and South America with demonstration projects beginning in China and the Mideast. TGSPB has conducted numerous research projects to prove the value of sorghum as a livestock feed. One such project persuaded USDA to raise the loan rate and price support of sorghum from 92% of that of corn to 95%. That project has added from 10 to 15 cents per hundredweight to sorghum's price each year since 1972.

The proposed TGSPB checkoff is a uniform way to finance the sorghum promotion for the benefit of all sorghum farmers. Participation is voluntary. Any producer who does not wish to pay the assessment simply requests and promptly receives a refund.

Anyone who has produced sorghum in Texas during at least one of the past three years is eligible to vote in the election. Ballots will be mailed to more than 60,000 Texas sorghum producers on the ASCS roll. Any producer who does not receive a ballot by August 1, may obtain one at his County Extension Office or by calling toll-free 1-800-692-4169.

Farmers are also advised to use the toll-free number with any questions about the referendum or checkoff program.
