"TWO BITS WORTH"
BY JOHNNY VALENTINE

The trouble with remaining in these days is that people expect you don't know what's going on.

tbw
The following article entitled, "A Fable for Modern Times," has appeared in some of our exchanges and we believe our readers would enjoy it also:

Once upon a time there was a Little Red Hen who scratched some grains of wheat. She called her barnyard neighbors and said, "If we work together we can plant this wheat and we will have some fine bread to eat. Who will help me plant the wheat?"

"Not I," said the Cow. "Not I," said the Duck. "Not I," said the Goose. "Then I will," said the Little Red Hen and she did.

When the wheat started growing, the Little Red Hen again asked for help. And got the same sort of answers from her neighbors. But finally it was time for harvesting.

"Who will help me reap the wheat?" said the Little Red Hen.

"Not I," said the Cow. "Not I," said the Duck. "Out of my sification," said the Pig. "I lose my ADC," said the Goose. So the Hen went ahead and harvested on her own, likewise the grinding into flour. Again, she asked for help with the baking.

"That's overtime for me," said the Cow. "I'm a drop and never learned how," said the Duck. "I'd lose my benefits," said the Pig. "I'm the only one helping, and my discrimination," said the Goose.

The Little Red Hen did the baking, and held five loaves of bread up for her neighbors to see. "I want some," said the Cow. "I want some," said the Duck. "I demand my share," said the Goose. "No," said the Hen. "I can rest for a while and eat the bread myself."

"Excess profits!" cried the Cow. "Capitalistic luck!" said the Duck. "Company profits!" shouted the Goose. "Equal rights!" the Pig demanded, and they hurriedly painted picket signs and marched around the Little Red Hen singing "We Shall Overcome," and they did.

For when the Farmer came to investigate the commotion he said, "You must not be greedy, Little Red Hen. Look at the oppressed Cow. Look at the disadvantaged Duck. Look at the privileged Pig. Look at the less fortunate Goose. You are guilty of making second-class citizens of them."

But - but, but I earned the bread," said the Little Red Hen. "Exactly," said the Farmer. "That is the wonderful free enterprise system; anybody can do as much as he wants, and should be happy to have freedom."

On other barnyards you would find to give all five of the loaves to the farmer. Here you find the four loaves to your suffering neighbors."

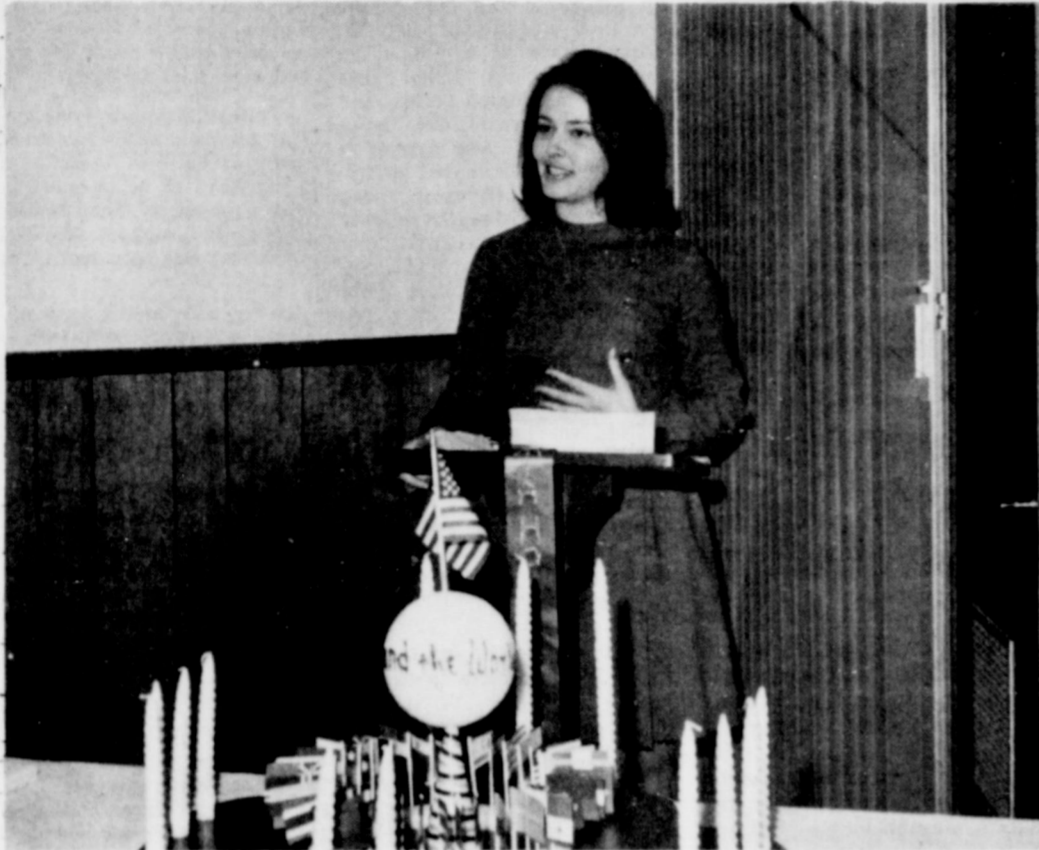

And they all lived happily ever after. Including the Little Red Hen, who smiled and smiled and said, "I am grateful, I am grateful."

But her neighbors wondered why she never baked any more bread.

Some men give their wives a penny they make. But many of the dollars, halves, quarters, dimes or nickels.

An advertising manager told a new employee: "You keep working hard eight hours a day on your job and some day you will wind up working hard 18 hours a day at my job."

The trouble with opportunity is that often you can't see the thing until you look back years.

Short was elected to serve as Area President for district II this coming year, 70-71. We were very proud of our group who attended from Tahoka. books at this meeting. The First Baptist Church was the host of a Regional Youth Rally, Saturday night from 10 until 12. There were about 480 youth from Tahoka and the surrounding area in attendance. the glory of our God and our country. President Nixon sent a telegram to lend his support of our "Demonstration." ## Dr. Beatrix Cobb Speaks To Phebe K. Warner Club

Phebe K. Warner Club met Tuesday, March 10 in the home of Mrs. Ivan McWhirter. The guest speaker, Dr. Beatrix Cobb from the Psychology Department of Texas Tech University, was introduced by Mary Brecheen. Dr. Cobb spoke on Crusade for Morality in Mass Media. She gave a very interesting discussion on why America has become a depraved or sick society, and what influence it has had on the youth of our nation.

She stated, "a turning away from God and Christianity, and a feeling of self sufficiency is greatest cause of a breakdown in morals. Prayer and a dependence on the Supreme Being is still needed. History of other nations has proven that when a country gets so affluent, there is a decadence of its people. Luxuries, to much money, hypocrisy on the part of Christian parents and teachers, lack of youth responsibilities, and a changing pattern in marriage have caused moral standards to fall. Population explosion, ways of communication, and transportation have aggregated people, and when this happens in any society, one can expect vice, crime, and moral deterioration. The American basic ideas have been destroyed, and youth is seeking a new faith in a new way."

She also said that in interviewing a group of college students that one-third of them had a deep commitment to God, one-third had no faith, and one-third had faith in the Bible and its teaching but seemed to be disillusioned and confused. Most of the students stated to Dr. Cobb that they desired their parents to be more spiritual and not so materialistic; that they would be more like adults instead of trying to be teenagers. They had a desire for more responsibilities and less protection from parents. They also wanted to earn what they received and be more independent. They objected to their parents smoking and drinking; they desired parents to set the right example, so that they would have some one to emulate.

"Love is the basic need in the world today," stated Dr. Cobb; "it needs to be expressed in words and in deeds. Love is the key to a brighter tomorrow, love for God and all humanity."

The president, Maria Embree, held a short business meeting, and Peggy Atwell was selected to represent the club at the district convention which will meet in Lubbock March 20 and 21.

There were twenty-nine present including eight visitors, Earylene Womack, Ruby Grogan, Rachel Huffaker, Lennie Cox, Louise Wyatt, Fleda Howell, Leta Warren, and Loucille Stewart.

Five Members Of Youth Choir Attended Festival

A huge massed handbell choir made up of 27 handbell choir from over the state and the Baylor University Band performed also.

Forderhaus, Secretary of the Church Music Department. The news department of ABC called to ask exactly "what was going on." This was the largest crowd to every use the facility in Ft. Worth.

1040 U.S. Individual Taxpayers Ask IRS

This column of questions and answers on federal tax matters is provided by the local office of the U.S. Internal Revenue Service and is published as a public service to taxpayers. The column answers questions most frequently asked by taxpayers.

Q) If IRS has mailed you estimated tax forms, does that mean you are required to file one of these forms?

A) You do not have to file an estimated tax declaration for 1970 unless you meet the requirements as explained in the instructions that came with the estimated forms.

Estimated tax forms have been sent to every taxpayer who filed an estimated return for 1969 as well as to those taxpayers who may have been liable for one because they had a balance due of $40 or more when they filed their 1968 return. The forms are identified with the taxpayer's name, address and Social Security number just as they appear in IRS files.

Read the instructions carefully and if you are required to file an estimated tax declaration, be sure to use the forms sent you. It will assure that your estimated tax payments are properly credited to your account.

Q) I just sent in my tax return. What records should I keep?

A) Keep the records you need to substantiate the income and deductions reported on your return. Cancelled checks, paid bills, Forms W-2 (Wage and Tax Statement) and 1099 (U.S. Information Return for Calendar Year), bank books and similar records in addition to a copy of the return, will be helpful.

Q) Will the amount my daughter receives from a college scholarship affect my dependency claim for her?

A) No, amounts received from a scholarship for study at an educational institution do not have to be included in total support in determining whether the support test for dependents has been met.

Q) My wife and I both received 1040 tax form packages in the mail because we were single in 1968. We want to file a joint return for 1969. Should we put both name labels on the return we file?

A) No, use only your label since on joint returns the account is primarily identified by the husband's Social Security number. You should insert your wife's first name and middle initial on your label and her Social Security number in the space provided on the return.

To make sure you are properly credited for all withheld taxes and estimated tax payments, if any, enter the name your wife used when she filed her 1968 return on the line under the address section of the form. Changes in address should be given here, too.

Q) I still haven't received my W-2. What should I do?

A) Ask your employer about your W-2 statement. If law, employers are required to provide withholding statements to their employees by the end of January. Since January is a Saturday, the deadline is February 2, this year.

Q) Does the fact that a child is adopted make any difference for dependency purposes?

A) A legally adopted child is considered your child in applying the dependency tests.

Q) Last year I sent in my return and W-2 and you billed me for tax. Will you still do this with the new form?

A) Yes, IRS will compute the tax just as it has in the past if your income is over $5,000 and consists of wages subject to withholding of not more than $200 of dividends, interest, and non-held wages. This is explained on the back of the Form 1040 you received in the mail.

Q) Our community just put in some new sidewalks and assessed the property owners the cost. Is this a deductible expense?

A) No, assessments for benefits that tend to increase the value of property are not generally allowed as deductions. You may, however, add the amount of your assessment to the cost basis of your property.

On Tuesday, March 13, at 1:45 the Home Economics class left the High School for a trip to the Cotton Mills at Post. The party was conducted through the mills by a guide who was well-informed as to the various processes of the manufacture of cloth and was anxious to explain each process to the group. The girls were very interested in seeing the raw, West cotton made into beautiful white sheeting.

The following people from Tahoka went: Mr. and Mrs. J.B. Pace, Mr. and Mrs. Charles V. Nelms, Martha Helen Powell, Gaynell Tate, Sylene Littleton, Pauline Smelser, Mrs. A. J. Mullins, Maxine Jones, Faye Massengale, Dama Anglin, Dale Bartlett, Eunice Mullins, Mrs. L.E. King, Elsie Dee McKaughn, Cora Lee Deaver, Mable Perkins, Marry Helen Parks, and Lenora Sides.

The trip was very worthwhile and interesting. Mr. M.I. Thomas, Hardy Chapman, Wes Greer, M.C. Thomas, Bert Short and R.M. Thomas left this morning for old Mexico on a fishing trip.

On the C.I.A. Denton, honor roll, appears the names of Milles Lucille Slaton and Mary Fenton.

Only one member of the entire student body appeared on the program rendered at the Institution on Honor Day recently. That student was Miss Lucille Slaton of Tahoka.

Mrs. J.S. Wells has made her own baby chick brooder, and it gets the joy of chicken raising done even better than the old hen can do it herself, she says. She has just raised 86 chickens from a start of 89 under the brooder.

Mrs. Wells simply makes her brooder from a large cardboard box such as may be secured at grocery stores. She leaves one side of the box open, and through the top she places an electric light double socket containing two 25-watt bulbs. Of course such a brooder cannot be used on the farm where electricity is not available, but it furnishes a very economical method of raising chicks in town, she says.

THE FAMILY LAWYER

Silencing the Liar

Mother-in-law trouble sent Fred's young wife into court.

"That horrid woman has been telling my Fred some terrible tales about me," she complained. "I want a stop order against these lies. I want an injunction to keep her quiet from now on."

But the court refused to issue such an order. The judge said the wife would have to let the mother-in-law do her talking—and then sue her for defamation of character.

To the young woman, the judge's advice was scant comfort. And to anyone facing vilification by another person, an ounce of prevention is surely better than a pound of cure.

Yet, as a rule, courts will not forbid a falsehood in advance—mainly for fear of stifling the free speech guaranteed by the Constitution. The law's usual remedy, instead, is to let the lie come out in the open, and then make the liar suffer the consequences.

This applies not only to private disputes, as in the case of Fred's wife, but to public disputes as well. For example:

A man fired from a charitable organization began publicly accusing its officials of misconduct. The organization went to court for a stop order, on the ground that the accusations were false—and were sullyng its good name.

But again the court refused to interfere, saying the organization would have to follow the slower path of a damage suit for defamation.

Nevertheless, a stop order may be issued when, in addition to the lie itself, there is some extra element of financial injury—something more than mere personal discomfort. Thus:

A motorist, dissatisfied with his car, demanded a new one from a dealer near his home—even though he had bought the car somewhere else. When the dealer said no, the motorist painted a large white elephant on each side of his car and began cruising around near the dealer's showroom.

This time, when the auto dealer went to court, the judge did issue a stop order against the motorist. Not only was his "white elephant" message deceiving, said the court, but it also was an effort to force a new car out of the dealer by a sort of blackmail.

NO SLEEPING HERE

Did you ever try to catch a fish in "bed"? Well, it's not as crazy as it sounds. Fall and winter months are usually good times for crappie fishermen, and the place to find these tasty game fish, say the angling experts at Mercury outboards, is around an active crappie bed.

Crappie beds are sunken trees or other underwater attractions which the fish seem to like. Primarily a lake fish, crappie — sometimes called calico bass — are a school fish, and once you locate an active bed, stay there until the stringer is full.

Crappie fishing falls off during spring and summer, but cool weather brings improved fishing, and it usually continues right through the coldest months. Anglers who can take the cold weather in stride are rewarded with good fishing.

Many crappie fishermen help their success by building crappie beds. The best kind is made with weighted cedar trees, tying them from the shore with wire to the bed stays about 10 to 15 feet underwater. Or, if cedar trees aren't available, gather up pine and fir Christmas trees immediately after the holidays and use them.

The active life of a crappie bed varies, but is usually several years. Then the bed must be replaced with new trees.

Minnows and small maribou feathered jigs are recommended by the Mercury lads as the best baits. And, you have to fish right in the tree branches.

You may lose a few hooks, but the catching is fun and fresh pan-fried crappie are hard to beat on the table.

SOIL CONSERVATION NEWS

By Richard L. Christie
Income from hunting leases

In Lynn County may seem strange to some people but it is a reality. This being National Wildlife Week I thought it would be a good time to discuss the benefits of managing land and water for wildlife. Nearly everyone enjoys some kind of hunting or fishing. Lynn County has the resources if developed and managed to have both.

These shallow lakes offer an ideal place for ducks and duck hunters during the season. With a tall grass like cover around the lake it invites game bird to rest and feed on it. Soil Conservation District Cooperators have reported an income of three to four hundred dollars from duck hunting leases alone. By providing the proper conditions and regulating hunting duck literally flock to Lynn County lakes. We are near enough to a large metropolitan area that hunters are plentiful if a person desires to lease.

With cover crops and field borders planted the quail will come to the land. If properly hunted, wildlife can be a valuable crop for farmers to harvest.

The conditions are proved if a farmer puts crops in alternated striping cover such as grain standing. Hunters and dogs enjoy hunting in this and will pay well for privilege. It is little trouble top

These ways of improving environment aren't only economically important but they sustain a way of life contributes to the society which we live. The good conservation practices trouble to provide good conditions for wildlife and improves the quality of life all America.

Many people are concerned about our natural surroundings today and many have done something about it. If you are interested in making plans such improvement contact Soil Conservation Service.

The raising of fish can be of economic value to Lynn County with little on some farms. This is done by providing a place people to fish. Some now grow fish commercial harvest and sell them like agricultural crops.

Why Rome Fell

Up into the Fifth Century, the Roman Empire had become the greatest in the world to that time. Then, this great people, long with its glorious culture, perished, not all at once, not noticeably, but over many years slowly, methodically.

There were many reasons for the fall of this great Empire, and these were the major ones: Moral decay among the citizens. Rising taxes. Too many government employees. Depreciation in money and debasement of coins. Erosion, deforestation, and water shortage. Abandonment of farms for life in the city.

Too many handouts that weakened the poor, too many luxuries that weakened the rich. Few children among the well-to-do and educated, many children among the poor and unlettered.

Constant drain of precious metals. Rising costs of public works. Too much leisure time spent at games and amusements. A yearly rise in crime rates. A decrease in patriotism.

For these reasons did Rome decline and finally fall away back in the Fifth Century. Can we Americans learn something from these reasons?

Bill Griffin, County Agent, Says.....

Beautiful lawns don't happen. They are the product of good planting and management, including the use of the proper grass, fertilizer, mowing, watering, in some instances drainage and disease and insect control.

A deadline is at hand, and that is a spring application of a complete fertilizer. It should be made about the time the grass begins to grow. The fall application, again of a complete fertilizer, should be made about 30 days before the average date of the first frost. Generally, a fertilizer with a 1-1-1 or a 2-1-1 ratio should be used and applied at the rate of 2 pounds of actual nitrogen per 1,000 square feet of lawn.

Bermuda and Zoysia lawns should also receive 1 pound of actual nitrogen per 1,000 square feet every 30 to 40 days during the growing season to keep them green and vigorously growing.

Nitrogen is the key element in turf production. It produces vegetative growth and gives the plant a deep green color. Phosphorus stimulates development of a good root system and potassium affects the physiological processes of the plant, explains the county agent.

A nitrogen deficiency causes stunted plant growth. The leaves are relatively small, thin, and yellowish green to yellow, resulting in a condition often referred to as "firing". Phosphorus deficiency causes slow growth of the entire plant and unhealthy dark green colored leaves. Potassium deficiency causes stunted growth with the entire plant eventually drying up and taking on a brownish color.

11 Accidents In Lynn County During Feb

The Texas Highway Patrol investigated 11 accidents on rural highways in Lynn County during the month of February, according to Sergeant H. E. Pirtle, Highway Patrol Supervisor of this area.

These crashes resulted in one person killed, four persons injured, and an estimated property damage of $14,275.00.

The rural accident summary for this county during the first two months of 1970 shows a total of 16 accidents resulting in one person killed, seven persons injured, an estimated property damage of $21,620.00.

In an all-out effort to stem the rising toll of traffic accidents in Texas, the Department of Public Safety is increasing the ranks of its uniformed services.

One hundred and twenty men between the ages of 20 and 35 are needed to start training for the position of patrolman on May 5, 1970.

All interested young men should contact any DPS office or patrolman for an application. Those who work Monday through Friday may contact the Lubbock Amarillo, and Wichita Falls offices on Saturday mornings for processing.

Miss Cotton Contest To Be Held April 24

The Lynn County "Miss Cotton" contest will be held Friday, April 24 at 8 p.m. in the Wilson High School Auditorium. Every Junior and Senior girl in Lynn County is urged to enter. Each one will receive an entry blank within the next few days.

Demonstration For Christ Held Saturday Night

Over 425 high school age young people participated in a demonstration for Christ Saturday night in the sanctuary of the First Baptist Church, Tahoka, from 10 until midnight. The Youth Rally was under the auspices of the Lubbock Baptist Association.

Youth from many towns over the area entered the sanctuary to the recorded music of "The New Hope Singers" and the "Kurt Kiser Singers." The theme was depicted by a sign (painted with fluorescence paint and hung above blacklights) which read "JESUS LOVES YOU... AREN'T YOU GLAD?"

The rally began with group singing led by Bob Strait, Minister of Music, Youth, and Education of the Tahoka church. Miss Donna Edwards, accompanist of the Youth Choir, played the electric harpsichord and piano as the hundred sang religious folk songs and choruses. Strait added to the accompaniment with his guitar and amplifier, Molly and Thermadine.

A newly organized singing group, "The Reflection", made up of students of the Baptist Student Union at Texas Tech, gave an exciting story of their knowledge of Jesus Christ through folk song and testimonies.

Sid Mueller, sophomore defensive safety for the Red Raiders gave his testimony of the relationship between being a real Christian and an outstanding athlete.

"Where In The World Are You Going" was the special music delivered by Strait before the featured message of the night, which was brought by Bill Maddox, newscaster on KSEL television. Maddox told of the deep inner satisfaction of being a part in introducing Jesus Christ to a friend. He told of his experiences in doing just that. He challenged each young person present to find this joy.

Doyle Holmes, Lubbock Baptist Association Superintendent, offered a way for dedicated high school youth to use their summer working as volunteers in Bible School during the vacation months.

Joe Wortham, Minister of Education, Music, and Youth, at the First Baptist Church in O'Donnell, was in charge of the program. He also serves as Chairman of the associational youth committee.

Rev. Jimmy A. Turner, pastor of the First Baptist Church, Tahoka, assisted with the program and played a large role in arranging for the rally. The church wishes to thank those who helped prepare for the rally and to the businessmen who helped publicize it. Tahoka will long be remembered by the hundreds who came as a place where they had a demonstration of Jesus Christ.

Linda Huffaker, CHD Agent, Says.....

Have you noticed some food cans are white on the inside? Researchers have found that some kinds of foods, especially those that are highly colored in the natural state, will keep their attractive appearance better if they are canned in enamel lined cans. This enamel lining has no other affect on the food.

Hand wash fiberglass curtains in warm water with any mild soap or detergent. Just swish them around in the water and rinse thoroughly in clear, warm water, but don't wring or twist. Also bleach should not be used with fiberglass. Drip dry curtains and hang over a shower rod or a line padded with towels; then rehang them while they are still damp.

Here are guidelines on preparation for various kind of chickens. Rock Cornish: The smallest, youngest member of the chicken family, suitable for roasting (especially with a rice stuffing), baking, broiling or frying. Usually weighs 1 1/2 lbs. or less; many serve an individual bird to each diner. Broiler-Fryer: The all-purpose chicken, a young meaty bird (about 9 weeks old) that weighs 1 1/2 to 3 1/2 pounds. Don't be deceived by its name, it may also be roasted, simmered or sauteed, for chicken dishes with moist succulent meat. Roaster: A little older and larger than the broiler-fryer, weighs 3 1/2 to 5 pounds, is about 12 weeks old, and has tender meat. Capon: A larger bird, weighing 4 to 7 pounds, with a fine flavor and a generous quantity of white meat.

Different types of fondue pots fit different kinds of fondues. Metal pots are usually used for beef fondue but can be used for cheese fondue if the temperature is kept low enough so cheese will not stick or burn.

Apply Terraclor Super-X and only the first time you plant cotton.

Think for a minute what it costs to replant an acre of cotton that doesn't make a stand. There's the cost of seed, fertilizer, herbicides, insecticides, equipment, operators and the precious time. Multiply that by the number of acres you could lose to seed and seedling disease.

Now think about Terraclor Super-X Soil Fungicide. It could very well eliminate replanting. Here's why: Terraclor Super-X is a combination of two Olin discoveries that effectively control the fungi that cause cotton seedling disease.

How important is this to you? The regional Cotton Disease Council reports that losses average $60,000,000 a year to seedling diseases alone.

Terraclor Super-X is applied while you plant. Your cotton seed is surrounded by protection in the furrow, where it counts. As the seed germinates and the seedling emerges, the fungi that kill unprotected plants are held off by Terraclor Super-X. You get a healthy, vigorous stand from only one planting.

About seed treatments: They are great... as far as they go. But seed treatment protection lasts only until the seed coat opens and the seedling grows into untreated soil. That's when you need Terraclor Super-X in the furrow.

Terraclor Super-X is available from your Olin dealer in three formulations: granular, liquid and dust. A special formulation is available with a quality soil systemic insecticide impregnated in the granules for combination fungus and insect control.

If you don't know your local Olin dealer, write to Terraclor Super-X, P. O. Box 991, Little Rock, Ark. 72203 for his name.

You ought to get to know him. He can help you get a good stand from only one planting. That's one good reason he is known as the rare bird in the business.

Protect Your Pecan Trees

For a pecan tree to produce an abundance of quality nuts, it must be protected from attack by both insects and diseases.

As an acid to pecan tree owners, whether a home owner or commercial producer, the Texas Agricultural Extension Service now has available a publication which should be of interest to all.

County Agent Griffin said the publication, MP-313, "Pecan Diseases and Insects," is a fine reference bulletin which pecan tree owners should find very useful in identifying the diseases and insects common in the area. A brief but to the point discussion has been prepared on each disease and insect of economic importance. Illustrations are used to make the identification job even easier, noted the county agent.

L.B. Thompson Seeks JP Post

L.B. Thompson, resident of Tahoka and Lynn County for 24 years, is seeking the office of Justice of the Peace of Precinct 1, Tahoka, subject to the Democratic Primary election on May 2, 1970.

Mr. Thompson was in the service station business for 12 years and also hauled cotton for Union Compress for 14 years.

L.B. feels that his business dealings with the public qualify him for the Justice of Peace job. He will make every effort to contact each one of you personally and asks your support and vote in the coming election.

The new publication, while pointing up the need for controls, gives only general suggestions but recommends that L-245, "Texas Guide for controlling insects and diseases on Fruits and Nuts," be used for the needed pesticides and their rates.

Griffin said copies of both publications are available from his office and also that he would be glad to visit with pecan tree owners in the county on problems of production. His office is located at 1600 Ave. J Tahoka.

Are you going to go through another year thinking you can't afford an Oldsmobile?

Our own surveys indicate that quite a few people think an Oldsmobile is out of their reach. They think it costs a lot more than it really does. Result? Many people buy an ordinary car and end up with a lot less car and value for their money.

It's so unnecessary, too, because Oldsmobile has many models that are priced right down with the so-called low-priced cars.

So why settle for the ordinary when you can step up to an Olds and all the value that an Olds represents.

Take this big, exciting Delta 88, for example. It starts out with a surprisingly modest price. Add to this the features that make it such an outstanding value—extras that are included in the modest price:  Regular-gas Rocket V-8  Power Steering  Power Brakes, front discs  Nylon-loop carpeting  Bias-Belted Tires  Door Side-Guard Beams  Hidden Radio Antenna  Flo-Thru Ventilation  Bigger, better riding 124" wheelbase. Check these extra values at your Olds dealer's today!
