TENS OF THOUSANDS MOURN AT EVERY STATION

"MRS. HARDING?" IS QUESTION ASKED BY THE REVERENTIAL CROWDS.

DEER GRATITUDE TO THE PEOPLE FOR THEIR HELP

Late President Will Not Lie in State in Ohio Capital as Was Requested.

Harding Funeral Train, Wya.—Beating the time of overhead flyers, the funeral train speeding eastward with a slowing up only as it neared where groups of mourners were gathered to see the speedy transcontinental train go by. Early Sunday morning trains were shunted back near Medicine Bow, and waited for hours to let the train pass.

When the train stops the people are asked from reverential silence by:

"Mrs. Harding?" Her heart goes out to her in the same ways and she knows she is asked by it. But instead of appearing weak and self-pitying she appears to gain strength.

She wished she could express to everybody the deep gratitude for the thousands of people of sympathy that have never tell these dear people how they have helped me and upheld me. "hour," she said her hand was full of telegrams that keep coming every station.

When she had to be the first to see the President called upon to attend the transcontinental funeral train in itself is an ordeal. Five days of the most strenuous and emotional strained every nerve of the breaking point, with the breaking point, with the breaking point, with the breaking point.

MARION IS PREPARING FOR THE FUNERAL

Orders issued for Mobilization Troops

Marion, Ohio.—To handle crowds that are expected to attend the late President Harding's funeral here, orders have been issued by Adjutant General Henderson of Columbus mobilizing 3,000 soldiers of the United States reserve forces of Ohio, Company D of Marion has been mobilized and will be pressed into service immediately to take care of the many hundreds of visitors that are already coming into Marion.

DEATH COMES TO HARDING VERY SUDDENLY

Mrs. Harding Reading to Chief Executive When Change in Condition Brings Hurry Call.

Harding's Last Words

San Francisco, Cal.—"That's good, go on! Read some more!" These were the last words uttered by President Harding to Mrs. Harding.

Mrs. Harding was at his bedside reading aloud when she paused and looked at the President, according to Alfred Hofman, San Francisco publisher, and close personal friend of the President, who visited the sick man a few moments before the end came.

Mr. Hofman told interviewers that the President's hand raised as he asked Mrs. Harding to continue reading. Instantly his expression changed. He was dead.

Presidential Headquarters, Palace Hotel, San Francisco, Cal.—Warren G. Harding, President of the United States, died instantaneously and without warning Thursday night at 7:30 o'clock, a victim of a stroke of apoplexy, which struck him down in his weakened condition after an illness of exactly a week of ptomaine poisoning and pneumonia.

The disease had been conquered, the fire was out, but seven days of silent, though intense suffering had left their mark and a stroke of apoplexy came without an instant's warning and before physicians could be called, members of his party summoned, or remedial measures taken, he passed from life's stage after having for nearly two and a half years served his Nation and for many more years his native State of Ohio.

The end came after a day which had been described by Brig. Gen. Sawyer, the President's personal physician, as the most satisfactory day the President had had since his illness began.

The physicians in their formal announcement of the end, said that "during the day he had been free from discomfort and there was every justification for anticipating a prompt recovery."

The first indication that a change had occurred in the condition of Mr. Harding came when Mrs. Harding personally opened the door of the sick room and called to those in the corridors to "send Dr. Boone and the others quick." At that time Mrs. Harding was understood to have been reading to the President, sitting at his bedside with the evening papers and messages of sympathy which had been received during the day.

Dr. Sawyer was alone of all the doctors in the apartment when the climax came. He first was called by Mrs. Harding, who then rushed to the door leading into the hotel corridors and commanded an immediate search for the other physicians.

Secretary Wallace was the second member of the President's official family to learn of the passing of his chief, and he likewise was so overcome with grief that he could say nothing.

DISTRICT COURT IN SESSION IN TAHOKA THIS WEEK.

District Court convened in Tahoka Monday morning, with District Judge Clark M. Mullican, of Lubbock, presiding, and District Attorney, Gordon B. McGuire, looking after the interests of the State.

It is understood that very few cases will come before the court for trial at this session. Only three or four civil cases have been tried this week. The Court officials will likely return to their respective homes the latter part of the week, but court will not adjourn until the end of next week, however, it is learned that no cases will come up for trial.

The petit jury has been excused from duty for the second week, a notice of which appears elsewhere in this issue.

The grand jury is still in session at this writing Thursday afternoon.

A full report of the proceedings of the court will be published in the News next week.

UNKNOWN FLOWER

A. M. Sullivan has in his possession an unknown flower which exceeds any we have seen for rapid growth. While Mr. Sullivan and family were visiting in Erath county a short while ago, Mrs. Sullivan brought home some bulbs from her childhood home, thinking she was getting some tube roses. Upon their arrival in Tahoka they planted the bulbs and one came through the dirt grew seven inches and bloomed in one day. Another grew three and one-half inches and also bloomed. If any one can excell this we would be glad to hear from you. We have not been fishing either.

HON. JOE BURKETT
Hon. Joe Burkett, of Eastland, was a court attendant in Tahoka Monday. Mr. Burkett recently announced for United States Senator subject to the democratic primaries in July, 1924. He stated that he expected to return to Tahoka sometime during March, 1924, and address the voters in behalf of his candidacy for the Senate.

The News is in receipt of a letter from Mrs. P. H. Northcross at Waxahachie, Texas, stating that she would not return home until her mother, who is quite ill, is entirely out of danger. She ordered the News sent to her while in that city.

Mr. and Mrs. Horace Morgan of Bryan Mills are visiting Mrs. Morgan's brother W. M. Harris and wife.

Mrs. Ross E. Ketner and daughter Faynia, Misses Willie Davidson and Joyce Ketner left Saturday night via Post for Dallas on a two weeks vacation. Mrs. Ketner will also purchase stock for the Limit drug sundry and confectionery store while in the city.

Parade 5:45 p. m. to Club House grounds for barbecue.

Song at grounds, by "Home Brew" Quartet of Lubbock.
Band music.

MENU.

The following menu has been "hashed up" for the occasion:

Jay birds, mocking birds, octrich (EGGS) es.

Ice cream, cold cream, vaseline and sandwiches.

Rein deer, snow deer, dear me, and ante-lope.

The women eat so much (mush melon) the men say they can't lope. (cantaloupe).

Fried liver, baked liver and Carter's little liver pills. Every one wonders who will pay the bill. If no others the I. O. O. F. will.

Messrs. F. V. Williams and H. H. Frye, the publicity committee, state that every Odd Fellow will be cared for. The Canadian will be present to help put on the work. Their "Goat" is in fine shape and they want you to ride him.—Slaton Slatonite.

BETHEL CHURCH ORGANIZED

The Bethel Church at Tahoka Ward School House, was organized the first Sunday in July, and held its first meeting beginning the fifth Sunday, with Rev. G. W. Cunningham as helper. There were nine conversions, and four joined the church by letter and four by baptism. The meeting ended August 8th.

N. D. ALLGOOD, Moderator.

DEATH OF MRS. MATILDA SANDERS, OF WILSON

Mrs. Matilda Sanders, wife of John Sanders, died Sunday morning August 5th, at West Texas Sanitarium in Lubbock.

Mrs. Sanders was the mother of ten children, two died in infancy. She was born July 4, 1885. The family moved to this county in January 1923. She was a member of the Lutheran Church. Mrs. Sanders was buried in Slaton.

We extend our heartfelt sympathy to the bereaved husband and children. Thou art gone, but not forgotten.

Mrs. Dick Harbin is visiting in Eastland.

TELEGRAM
Lubbock, Texas, Aug. 8, 1923.
S. B. Hatchett, Tahoka, Texas.
Lubbock, with the assistance of her many South Plains friends has secured the "Tech" College. You are invited to join us to-night in an informal celebration. Come with your shirt-tails out.
(Signed:)
LUBBOCK CHAMBER OF COM.
By Curtis A. Keen, Sec.

"Lubbock Won the Tech." This glad news was passed from lip to lip, not only in Tahoka, but in every town and hamlet over Texas, Wednesday afternoon about 3:00 o'clock. Our citizens are rejoicing that this great institution of learning is to be built on top of the "cap". Tahoka people also have a right to be proud of the fact that they are within 30 miles of the place where the college is to be erected. The school is one of four of the kind in the whole United States, when completed, and will be the only institution of the kind west of the Mississippi river.

The locating committee finished its tour of inspection Tuesday and at a meeting in Fort Worth Wednesday the decision was unanimous in favor of Lubbock for its location.

Fully ten thousand people were on the streets of Lubbock Wednesday evening to celebrate the winning of the Technological college.

Many stirring short speeches were made, one of which was made by our fellow townsman, S. B. Hatchett.

Red Coral Long Traded In.
Trade in red coral with the Far East began in very remote times. It is mentioned in a poem by the Chinese poet Yung Pal, who died in 117 B. C. and in the time of the Han dynasty. About 200 years later a traveler was sent from China to report on the coral fishery of the Mediterranean sea. At a later date it was introduced into the Chinese materia medica.

Reinach described the trade with the Celtic races in pre-Roman times. Specimens have been found in Britain and Ireland. The Romans stopped the trade with the Celtic races, however, in order to send the coral to India in exchange for frankincense, myrrh, and precious stones.

Ancestors of the Necktie.
The necktie came into use as something with which to warm the neck in cold weather. The ruff was the forerunner of the bit of color that is knotted at a man's throat today.

After the ruff came neckcloths of Brussels lace, which were at one time worn so long that the ends were tucked in the waistcoat. Later a broad silk ribbon was worn and the grandfather of the cake eater wore a cravat which passed twice around the collar. The modern scarf made its appearance about forty years ago.

The News covers Lynn County like a blanket. Your advertising gets results.

Pitt Walton and wife of Jacksonville are visiting his brother Frank Walton, manager of the City Pressing Parlor.

G. W. Hickerson and family returned Tuesday from a visit with their son and brother Joe at Graham, Young county.

HEALING WOUNDS OF PLANTS

What Might Almost Be Termed Surgical Operations Are Frequently Employed by Gardeners.

It seems strange to think of a plant being put into splints very much in the same way as the surgeon fixes up a broken bone, says St. Nicholas. Yet this plan is often followed in the modern garden. From one cause or another a bough becomes broken, although the parts are not actually severed. Frequently this is due to the weight of the fruit. In this case money will be lost if something cannot be done to repair the injury.

It is here that the practice of putting a plant in splints becomes useful. First of all, the expert gently straightens out the bent portion. This has to be done with great care, so as, if possible, to avoid a complete fracture. Then he takes two splints—lengths of wood a little wider than the branch and long enough to allow several inches above and below the break—and binds them in place, not too tightly, or it would hamper the circulation of the sap. When the splints are well adjusted cotton wool is tucked into any exposed parts about the fracture. In this manner the action of the air is excluded as far as possible.

If the matter has been looked after promptly, there is no reason why the growth above the break should not go on steadily. Finally, the wound is so completely healed that the place where the break took place is as strong as any other part of the plant.—New York Post.

Softening Phonograph Tones.

Undesirable high tones, or "whistles," an annoyance commonly experienced by phonograph users, may be eliminated by the use of interference tubes. They consist of U-shaped metal appliances, designed to be incorporated in a main tube that is fitted between the reproducer and tone-arm of a talking machine. According to the inventor, the arrangement of bypaths for the sound waves causes certain of these to be considerably softened with but little loss in volume.

CAN'T FOOL DIAMOND DEALER

Men Who Handle Precious Stones Have Many Ways of Detecting Those Which Are "Fakes."

For the reason that the traffic in imitation precious stones is growing, diamond merchants nowadays are obliged to devote more time than formerly to the detection of fakes. The experienced dealer can often tell a faked stone at a glance.

Once suspicion falls on a stone it is subjected to various tests. For example, the gem may be placed in water, and watched to see if it loses its brilliance. If this happens, the stone is discarded at once as being false.

Another water test consists in placing a drop of water on the stone. The water globule is then touched lightly with the point of a pencil. If the globule breaks the stone is a fake.

Sometimes a black dot is made on a piece of white paper, and the diamond held in front of it. If the stone is an imitation the dot appears blurred.

The hardness of a stone is another deciding factor. A real diamond can be filed with the hardest instrument without being scratched. A faked stone will crack and probably break up under the process.

British Museum Readers.

Charge for admission to the British museum in Bloomsbury, London, does not at present include the famous reading room, which is alleged to possess the largest dome in the world. Many professional searchers earn precarious livelihoods in this splendidly appointed library. According to the Manchester Guardian, an expert reader was recently offered £40 to summarize a Latin life of one of the popes. He demanded £50, but some one else did the work for five guineas (about $25).

One man copied all the old prize fights for about 25 cents per 1,000 words, and it recently came out in evidence that a retired clergyman translated Italian stories for about 25 cents per 1,000 words. Innumerable readers search guides to horse racing, a Westminster city councillor used to work there with regularity, and several retired generals from the army are among regular attendants at the British museum reading room. It is stated that recently a Klu Klux Klan asked for English law, with chapter and verse, as to right and left-hand dogging.

Old Information Is Misinformation

The World changes. Old governments are passing; new governments, territories and parties are in the forming. The discoveries and inventions of to-day are superseded by the achievements of to-morrow. The old-fashioned, bound, stitched and glued encyclopaedia served its purpose in a past generation. A new age demands a new Encyclopaedia—a reference work that can keep pace, step by step, with the New World.

Nelson's Loose-Leaf Encyclopaedia, with its patented loose-leaf binding device, is the only Encyclopaedia that can discard the old and out-of-date and substitute the new and living in its place. IT IS THE ONLY PRACTICAL PLAN FOR RELIABLE INFORMATION.

A Few of the Reasons Why You Should Own Nelson's

It covers the whole field of knowledge—over a million topics—from the dawn of civilization to September, 1922. It is accurate, concise, authoritative—with over 1,000 contributors, each a specialist in the subject assigned to him. It is fully and beautifully illustrated—over 7,000 illustrations, colored plates and maps, photographs, reproductions of the famous paintings and linédrawings.

Its editorial and Advisory Boards include the finest minds of the world—men at the very head of the various fields which they represent.

It is ALWAYS new—kept constantly down-to-date by the issue every six months, of 250 or more new pages, old out-of-date facts and figures being eliminated and new ones supplied to take their place.

It is supplemented, by a Research Service Bureau which will supply free of cost, any additional material which you may desire.

It is an authority, used by government departments, libraries, schools, and educational institutions, throughout the country.

It is, like history itself, by means of the patented loose-leaf binding device, continually in the making—always complete, but never completed.

It saves you the expense of buying a new Encyclopaedia every five or six years. It is a complete Reference Library and equal to a College Education.

It is AMERICAN, made in America, for Americans. Librarians everywhere, when asked where to find the latest and most accurate information, answer

Dr. J. R. Singleton and family were Post visitors Sunday.

The Old Time Counterfeiter Is An Artist at Trade

WASHINGTON, Aug. 6.—The old-time counterfeiter, an artist in spirit, who toiled painstakingly in the gloom of cellars in tenement districts of large cities, has disappeared from the game, and a new crop of bungling craftsmen have taken his place. This has been the most significant change in the spurious money-making game—which still flourishes, however, according to officials of the Secret Service here.

Most of the counterfeit money which circulates now is very poor imitation of Uncle Sam's bona fide currency, they find. A large part is raised bills, which even a careful layman could detect. Many of these raised bills have been passed abroad, where American money is in great demand, but its markings not so well known. The counterfeiter no longer uses the former tools of the trade. There had been only one arrested by the Secret Service in the last several years who used a steel plate engraver and could be described as a first-class workman.

This may be the reason why the number of arrests for fake money-making has increased in the last few years, though it was said that counterfeiting has probably grown along with other forms of crime since the war. Before the war arrests for counterfeiting and forgery averaged 600 to 800 a year. Last year there were 1,200 arrests for these offenses. There are expected to be fewer this year, however. One very interesting development since prohibition went into effect has been the entry of many bootleggers into the counterfeit game, as a sideline to the illicit liquor manufacture. It has been but a short step from faking the "Bottled in Bond" labels to counterfeiting Uncle Sam's currency. Many cases of this nature have been discovered.

Most of the counterfeiting now is of bills. However, the man who likes the feel of silver has not entirely disappeared. A counterfeiter recently arrested in San Francisco carried a black bag containing over 800 spurious silver dollars. He had been shadowed as a bootleg suspect.

MILLIONS SEE THE DEATH TRAIN PASS

CHICAGO, Ill., Aug. 6.—More than a million people lined the tracks outside the city Monday as the train carrying the body of President Harding passed through on time. Railroad officials believe that the train will lose at least an hour of time, in making its way through the states, on account of the huge crowds that await the coming of the train to pay silent tribute to the dead executive. All along the line sympathetic citizens are asking concerning the health of Mrs. Harding, and in some sections people have taken their places along the track and have awaited for an entire day to see the train that bore the remains of the former president of our country, others stood at a great distance from the track, but solemn and sorrowing. In many places a down pour of rain was falling, but they remained unmoved, and kept their places to see the train as it sped by.

At Dixon, Illinois, Dr. George T. Harding, brother of the late Warren G. and Dr. Carl W. Sawyer, son of Mr. Harding's personal physician boarded the train to make the funeral arrangements with Mrs. Harding.

RAILROAD COMMISSION TO HOLD MEETING AT LORAIN

LORAIN, Texas, Aug. 7.—The Railroad Commission has set date for the hearing of the case between the T. & P. road and the City of Lorain as August 15th, and instead of having the hearing at Austin it has been decided to meet at Lorain. Mr. W. A. Nabors of the Commission will be present, and also the officials of the road so that the citizens of the town can go before him and present their claims. The changes asked for that have not been granted are an additional waiting room for negroes at the station and the enlarging of the cotton loading platform. These are improvements that have been needed for some time and that should be granted by the railroad company and we believe that when the Mr. Nabors comes here the 15th and hears the case on the ground that he will readily see the merits of the case and ask that the desired changes be made at once.

An International Cast For Gest's New York Theater

BERLIN. (By mail to the United Press.)—Morris Gest, American theatrical producer, is in Germany to add his bit to the internationalization of the American stage. Gest, producer of New York's biggest spectacles during recent years, is in Berlin working out a new theatrical stunt—an international theatre for New York, with Max Reinhardt, Germany's leading producer and director, in charge. Gest has signed Reinhardt to spend three months in New York this winter rehearsing the cast.

"The venture is not to be all-German," Gest said, in an interview. "It will have leading actors from all over Central Europe. It will be international. Reinhardt has proposed his 'Miracle' as a suitable piece, but I am convinced we should have another which will give the various nationalities represented an opportunity to show themselves at their best. 'The war is over. We want to reestablish understanding between nations. And this is not easy, even in America. Great and small diplomats are busy endeavoring to bring it about. And as theatre manager I am convinced that internationalization of the theatre—bringing the best in Europe to America—is a big step toward understanding between nations.'"

COTTON DETERIORATES IN JOHNSON COUNTY

CLEBURNE, Aug. 7.—According to W. H. Goldsmith, one of Johnson County's leading cotton growers, within the last three weeks the cotton crop has so deteriorated in the county that on an average there will be but a fourth of a bale to the acre, or a total of about 35,000 to 40,000 bales. The hot, dry weather has cut the crop prospects.

NEED HARVEST HANDS IN CANADA'S WHEAT BELT

WINNEPEG, Man., Aug. 7.—Prospects of a serious shortage of harvest hands in Western Canada in view of the bumper wheat crop which promises to be the greatest in history, have caused government officials in the three prairie provinces to send out a call for 52,000 extra workers. Of the army of harvest hands required, it was stated at a meeting of officials here, Saskatchewan will need 30,000, Manitoba 12,000; Alberta 10,000. The workers will be recruited from the eastern provinces, British Columbia and the United States. Manitoba's wheat harvest, according to the present outlook began August 7, Alberta's about Aug. 10, and Saskatchewan's about the 15th.

Crop experts confine their predictions of the biggest harvest in nineteen years. Some estimates places the yield of wheat at 500,000,000 bushels. Conditions in the fruit belt of British Columbia are extremely good according to the provincial horticulturalist. Yields of all fruits, present estimates indicate, will exceed by a considerable margin the output of last year.

BATTLE FLEET WILL BE AT THE AMERICAN LEGION CON.

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 7. United Press)—A battle fleet of the United States Navy will participate in a spectacular naval show to be held during the convention of the American Legion here from October 15 to 19. Announcement from Secretary of the Navy Roosevelt that a large fleet will be detailed to San Francisco for the convention gives assurance that the navy will have more prominence than it has received at any previous national gathering of any veterans' organization. Included in the fleet will be nine battleships, thirty-eight destroyers and a number of armored cruisers, tenders, hospital ships and other auxiliary craft. Personnel attached to the vessels will number 900 commissioned officers, 10 warrant officers and 16,000 enlisted men. Naval authorities of a number of countries allied with the United States in the World War have been asked to send vessels.

Very few of the citizenship of Tahoka evidently do not realize the magnitude of the college that is to be located at Lubbock, judging from the small amount of interest taken Wednesday afternoon when the news was given out. Only a half dozen or more attended the celebration in Lubbock Wednesday evening. We believe it is time to wake up, folks, since the location of the college is bound to be of untold benefit to Lynn County. Why not talk it up and at least show the world that we know about it.

The majority of News readers have no doubt noticed that the paper is now eight pages, all home print. The patent inside has been discontinued for the time being at least, or until the advertising is cut down to such an extent that we cannot issue eight pages each week. We consider the change is in line with all up-to-the-minute weekly newspapers in the Panhandle, and hope our readers will be pleased with the home print edition.

Lockwood sent us a sample of her ever bearing strawberries so you see why we are living high. If there is any one who knows how to appreciate good eats it is certainly the editor and family.

SOME NEWSPAPER RULES

Chillicothe News: A Texas newspaper recently issued the following rules, which explain themselves:

Fifty cents per line will be charged for all obituary notices of business men who get their job printing in another city; 25 cents per line will be charged for like notices to all business men who do not advertise; while all delinquent subscribers will be charged 15 cents per line on passing out to the New Jerusalem. Advertisers and cash subscribers will receive the best in the shop free-gratis when they shuffle off. Those who extend the paper no support whatever, and go around knocking the editor of the paper, or lambasting the community and its citizens, drop banana peelings on the sidewalk, spit like a dime or try to sell us gold brick, will be given the truth, which wont look good in print, when they give up the ghost.

Better send in your orders for job printing and advertising, pay up your subscription, get to boosting this paper and its editor and speak in glowing terms of the town and its people, for an epidemic of hog cholera is said to be abroad in the community.

Chillicothe News: If you would increase your happiness and prolong your life, forget your neighbor's faults. Forget all the slander you ever heard. Forget the temptations. Forget the fault-finding, and only remember the good points which make you fond of them. Forget all personal quarrels or stories you may have heard by accident, and which, if repeated, would seem a thousand times worse than they really are. Blot out, as far as possible, all the disagreeableness of life. Such things will come, but will only grow larger when you remember them. Obliterate everything disagreeable from yesterday; start out with a clean sheet tomorrow, and write upon it for sweet memory's sake, only those things which are lovely and lovable.

IT'S TIME TO CULL NON-LAYING HENS

Successful Handling of Flock Involves Getting Rid of Boarder Hens and Keeping the Producers.

Lexington, Ky., July 30.—Any hen that moults in July and August and has a deep yellow color in her beak and shanks very probably is a typical poor layer that should be culled out of the flock at this time of the year, according to J. H. Martin, in charge of poultry work at the College of Agriculture. The statement was made in response to scores of inquiries coming to the college from farmers and poultrymen in all parts of the state asking how they can distinguish between the good and poor layers in their flocks. Approximately one-third of the farm hens in the state show these two characteristics of a poor layer at this time of the year, Mr. Martin says.

"The moult is one of the most valuable points in picking out the cull hen. The body feathers are shed first, the tail feathers next and then the wing feathers. Tests have shown that hens which moult in July are the poorest layers, provided the flock has been fed and managed so that the good hens could continue to lay. These early moulting hens take from three to four months to get their new feathers and start laying again and even then produce only a small number of eggs, because winter has set in by that time. Tests have shown that hens which moult after September 1 lay more eggs between that time and the first of the following March than hens that moult in July and August.

"The fading of the yellow color in the yellow-skin breeds of chickens is another good point that can be used to advantage in culling the flock at this time of the year to get rid of poor layers. Laying uses up the surplus fat in the body and especially removes the fat from the skin. In the yellow-skin breeds this loss of fat can be seen readily by the fading of the yellow color. The different parts of the body tend to bleach and become white as the hen uses up the stored fat in laying. This color fades from the eyelids first, then from the beak and then from the legs and feet. And hens that have failed to fade out a considerable quantity of this yellow coloring very probably are poor layers, but allowance should be made for hens that have hatched and brooded chicks."

DOING THINGS

By Phebe K. Warner

We are living in an age of doing things. One sometimes wonders how the world ever reached the stage it has without all the agencies of today for doing things. But then there is more to do today than ever before and the new civic conscience that has been discovered in both men and women is both the cause and effect of doing things.

It takes organized effort to put things over. One person don't amount to much in this world. It takes two at least and more—unless that ONE person represents a whole institution of some kind.

Col. William Rockhill Nelson, the late editor of the Kansas City Star, once told a reporter: "The Star has a greater purpose in life than to merely print the news. It believes in DOING THINGS." The home paper bears the same relation to the home community that the Kansas City Star bears to a national community, and the idea of doing things for the good of the community has become a part of the definite program of the thousands of publications of the smaller towns and cities of the nation, as a result, perhaps, of the good example of such publications as the Kansas City Star, the Chicago Tribune, the New York World, Detroit Free Press and the Fort Worth Star-Telegram.

Take the ice fund for the baby hospital as kept up by the work of the Star-Telegram. How many little ones does it not only make more comfortable but actually save during the hot summer? Who knows what those lives may mean for the world some day? And the Community Chest Fund and Goodfellow work at Christmas time and every night the radio program. What does all this service mean to the world? There is no way to measure it.

But there are a thousand other forms of service in the home community that need attention. Who is going to take them up and put them over?

A little Iowa town was about to be divided by a river. One section had a newspaper run by an editor who believed in doing things. He started a campaign in his paper for hitching and auto sheds for the farmers. Some folks fought it. Too expensive!

But the editor, through his paper, won. His side of the town is growing. The other side is worrying and the editor's business is growing, too.

A little Iowa town was about to die. The editor started a "clean-up column." He noticed every broken sidewalk, every dead tree, every old fire trap, and dirty, vacant lot. Never was personal in his suggestions.

In a few weeks he started a second column beside the clean-up column, headed "Improvements." In it he mentioned every tree planted, every house painted, every old fence or shed torn down, every pretty flower garden every new sidewalk. Soon all the items had climbed over into the second column. The newspaper had cleaned up the town and once the people saw it all cleaned up they were proud of it and the little town took on new life.

A little Kansas town of 325 population was made up of half a dozen nationalities and as many religious denominations, that had in some way taken sides and by choice divided themselves into two factions. The editor began talking up a civic club. The first thing they did was to have a community Christmas tree, and now the whole town turns out to hear the radio concerts from Kansas City Denver, Fort Worth and Los Angeles. The radio set costing $1,000 is located in the newspaper office—but the expense is carried by the whole community. And the material results of all this work is the least of it. The good fellowship in the community, the new pride and civic spirit created and the education and pleasure brought within the reach of all the people are the biggest dividends paid by such investments.

Nor is there a greater influence for better morals and cleaner entertainment in the small town than the home paper. It has been said that the small town newspaper has been the most powerful single influence in the reform of the carnival. Show companies can not afford to bring anything to town that is not approved by the town paper. Therefore, if you have a clean paper, you ought to appreciate it and patronize it, for you have no way to know how many dollars of advertising that paper refuses for the sake of the morals of your town. You have no way to judge how much good has been done for your family by the indorsement of the good and the rejection of the evil in your home paper. And the paper, like the person who lives and thrives is the one who believes in doing things. And even though it takes a while to bring things to pass, the inward consciousness of having done some things for somebody or your town or community is worth the waiting.

COOLIDGE TAKES UP HIS DUTIES AS PRESIDENT

His Venerable Father Administers the Oath of Office in Country Home.

ASKS CABINET TO REMAIN

Announces His Intention to Follow Out the Policies Inaugurated by Harding—Goes to Washington to Assume Duties.

Washington,—Calvin Coolidge, thirtieth President of the United States, is here in Washington at the head of the executive branch of the government. Like the 100 per cent efficient United States marines, he has the situation well in hand. The presidency is functioning without friction.

Calvin Coolidge took the oath as President of the United States at Plymouth, Vt., at 2:47 a. m. Friday, August 3. The ceremony took place in the living room of the residence of the new President's father, John C. Coolidge. The oath of office was administered by the father, who is a notary public. The text of the presidential oath had been telephoned to Mr. Coolidge at Plymouth from the White House.

Statement by New Chief.

President Coolidge received the news of the death of President Harding and of his own elevation to the presidency at ten minutes before midnight, standard time, Thursday.

Mr. Coolidge received the first news through telegrams from George C. Christian, Jr., secretary to President Harding.

Mr. Coolidge issued the following statement:

"Reports have reached me, which I fear are correct, that President Harding is gone. The world has lost a great and good man. I mourn his loss. He was my chief and my friend. It will be my purpose to carry out the policies which he has begun for the service of the American people and for meeting their responsibilities wherever they may arise.

"For this purpose, I shall seek the co-operation of all those who have been associated with the President during his term of office. Those who have given their efforts to assist him I wish to remain in office, that they may assist me.

"I have faith that God will direct the destinies of our nation."

The following telegram was sent to Mrs. Harding:

"Plymouth, Vt., Aug. 3, 1923.

"Mrs. Warren G. Harding, San Francisco, Cal.: We offer you our deepest sympathy. May God bless you and keep you.

"CALVIN COOLIDGE, "GRACE COOLIDGE."

Message Tells of Death.

The telegram announcing the death of the President was as follows: "Palace hotel, San Francisco, Cal., Aug. 3, 1923.—Mr. Calvin Coolidge, Plymouth, Vt.: The President died, instantaneously and without warning, while conversing with members of his family, at 7:30 p. m. His physicians report that death was apparently due to some brain embolism, probably an apoplexy.

"GEORGE B. CHRISTIAN, JR., "Secretary."

This telegram was brought to the Coolidge home at Plymouth Notch by W. A. Perkins of Bridgewater, who was the telephone line running from Bridgewater to Plymouth. About five minutes later newspaper men arrived in Ludlow.

A drive of thirty miles through the mountains brought them to the Coolidge summer home.

Mr. Coolidge and Mrs. Coolidge had retired about an hour before the death messages were received. Ten minutes after the arrival of the newspaper men Mr. and Mrs. Coolidge came downstairs into the sitting room of the Coolidge home. Mr. Coolidge was dressed in a black sack suit and wore a black necktie. Mrs. Coolidge wore a black and white gown, white shoes and stockings. Mr. Coolidge was very pale and showed deep regret for President Harding's death. He seated himself at a table, while Mrs. Coolidge brought a lamp and read the telegrams he had received.

He then called his assistant secretary, Irwin Gelsser, and dictated to him his statement and the telegram to Mrs. Harding.

Mrs. Coolidge Weeps.

In the meantime people were arriving from all directions. Mr. Coolidge, seeing the house becoming crowded, gave orders that an adjoining house be opened for use as press headquarters.

Meanwhile, the new first lady of the land sat weeping softly and exclaiming in sympathy for the bereaved first lady in San Francisco.

"What a blow—what a terrible blow to poor Mrs. Harding," she said. "She had had such a heavy burden, in her own illness, to bear up under—and now this!"

Finally Secretary Gelsser returned with the press copies of the statements, and pushing back the old photograph album and the family Bible on the center table, Mrs. Coolidge busied herself with the work of helping distribute them.

The newspaper men had scarcely gotten out of sight when another telegraph messenger arrived with a copy of the presidential oath from Washington. In the same sitting room with its hand-branded rugs, its clutter of venerable colonial furniture, its old wood stove and its family Bible—Calvin Coolidge received the oath of office from his father, and became America's thirtieth president.

Calvin Coolidge is a quiet, taciturn man, known to his friends as "Silent Cal."

For more than twenty years prior to his election as vice president he had been in political life, starting almost immediately after finishing college. His first political office was in the city council of Northampton, Mass., where he had settled. For years he held various offices in that city, including those of city solicitor and mayor; then he was elected to the Massachusetts house of representatives. Later he won a seat in the state senate and was its president.

Coolidge was lieutenant governor of Massachusetts and in 1919 was elected to the governorship in the first campaign won by the Republican party in several years. He was governor for two years. It was during this term he was in connection with the policemen's strike in Boston. He took firm control of the situation, ordered the state guard to patrol the streets, and kept down rioting, taking the stand that law and order must be preserved. The strike was a complete failure. Following his action in this situation he was nicknamed "Law and Order" Coolidge.

He was mentioned as a possibility for the presidential nomination prior to the 1920 campaign, but he made a public announcement that he would not consider the nomination. His nomination and election to the vice presidency followed.

In Washington Mr. Coolidge has been ranked as a clear thinker, careful in speech, a fair mixer—as aggressive as any vice president can be.

LADY GOT SO WEAK COULD SCARCELY STAND

After Suffering From Many Female Troubles This Lady Found Cardui and Took It, She Says, "Umm I Was Well."

"SOME TIME AGO," says Mrs. Buena McFarland, of R. F. D. 2, Bostic, N. C., "I suffered a great deal with weakness common to women. I had bearing-down pains, my sides and back hurt, and my limbs drew. I would get so weak in my knees I could scarcely stand.

"I was very nervous, and could not rest. I didn't feel like eating. I grew thin, and did not have ambition for anything.

"I had been trying other remedies... but did not get any better.

"Some one told us of Cardui, and what it was recommended for, I also took a Ladies Birthday Album and read of a case something like mine. I told my husband to get it and I would try it.

"I saw a great improvement after the first bottle (of Cardui), so I kept it until I was well. Now I can do my health."

Thousands of other women have written, to tell of the beneficial results obtained by taking Cardui, and to recommend it to others.

Cardui has stood the test of extensive use, for more than forty years, in the treatment of troubles common to women. Try it.

Big Tract Of Fine Land Is Opening For Actual Settlement

LITTLEFIELD, Aug. 6.—Active operation in developing the town of Amherst and putting on the market the famous Six House pasture of the Halsell ranch was begun this week.

Ewing Halsell, owner of the properties, accompanied by his Sales Manager Stanley Watson, Private Secretary James Higgins and his wife, of Kansas City, and Contractor Wm. Robertson, of Vinita, Oklahoma, arrived on the grounds Friday.

Mr. Watson is one of the prominent citizens of Kansas City, was acting mayor at the time of building the big Union depot of that city and was instrumental in the construction of the noted Twelfth street viaduct. He has had several years successful experiences as a realtor and is well qualified to handle the management of this important project.

In an interview this week with a representative of the Leader Mr. Watson stated they had about 15 carloads of building material now in transit. The local land office construction was begun this week. One of the first buildings to be erected will be a two story brick 100x40 feet, costing approximately $40,000. The lower rooms will be used for mercantile purposes while the upstairs will be occupied by a modern hotel. Several residences will also be erected immediately.

It is understood that a general mercantile store has already been arranged for at Amherst, that a drug store will soon be established there and at least one lumber yard installed within the next 30 days.

Surrounding the town of Amherst there are 70,000 acres of fine prairie land that is being put on the market by the Halsell Farms Co. That the land will find ready sale is evidenced by the fact that this week 12 farms have already been sold, though the company is not yet ready for business. Mr. Watson states every mail is bringing inquiries regarding this land—more than 300 of them being on file at present. Representatives have been appointed throughout Texas and Oklahoma and within the next 30 days it is anticipated business will be developing on a large scale.

WOULD LIMIT THE TERM OF U. S. PRESIDENT TO ONE TERM

CHICAGO, Aug. 6.—A constitutional amendment limiting the term of office than any one person can hold the office of President to one term of four years, will be offered by Senator Cummins of Iowa. He declared his reason for offering this bill amending the constitution that the "responsibilities and strain of the office is greater than one man can stand for a longer period than four years."

Senator Cummins declared today that if President Coolidge adopts the policies of the late President Harding, that there will be no extra session of Congress, adding that he knew personally that Harding was against the move for the extra session.

SALESMAN FOUND DEAD; GUN NEARBY

SAN ANTONIO, Aug 7.—Arch W. Goodwin, 36, clothing salesman, was found dead in his home here this morning.

He had been shot in the abdomen and death was probably instantaneous. A double barrel, 16-gauge shotgun, carrying an empty shell, was lying near the body. Coroner R. Neill Campbell gave it as his opinion that Goodwin had ended his own life.

WOODROW WILSON IS TO BE IN THE HARDING PROCESSION

WASHINGTON, Aug. 6.—Woodrow Wilson, former president of the United States under the Democratic administration has written a letter to President Coolidge, stating that he "would esteem it an honor" to take part in the funeral procession of the late President Harding. "I sincerely grieve as you do over the death of Mr. Harding who undoubtedly won the esteem of the whole nation by his honorable and conscientious conduct in office," stated Mr. Wilson to the President.

Application has been filed with the Interstate Commerce Commission by the Missouri-Kansas-Texas Railway for permission to acquire control of the Oklahoma Northern Railway, an Oklahoma corporation, by the purchase of its outstanding stock for $242,000.

Expenditures of the Veterans' Bureau have passed the peak, in the opinion of Director Hines, who said that he would be "greatly disappointed" if he was not able to bring about a reduction of $20,000,000 next year. His estimate was based on an incomplete analysis of the bureau's outlook for the fiscal year 1925.

Greece is rapidly returning to normal conditions and has sufficient food left by the American Red Cross to care for its refugees until Aug. 15, Major Edmund Daley said in a statement issued upon his return from Athens, where he served eight months as a deputy to Lieut. Col. William N. Haskell, American Red Cross commissioner to Greece.

Employment conditions are described as generally good throughout the country in a report made public on a special survey by the employment service of the Department of Labor. Shortages of various kind of labor are reported in several States. While in others surpluses mostly of minor importance are reported, but generally the supply and demand are described as fairly equal.

The Mosquito seaplane, smallest in the world, made trial flights before naval officials at the Anacostia naval air station. The tiny plane, eighteen feet over all and weighing under 1,600 pounds, is designed as a scout to be used with submarines. It is built so that it can be knocked down and stored in a submarine quickly. In effect, the baby plane gives the submarine a periscope several thousand feet above the water.

Three quarters of a million dollars annually will be saved the shippers of live stock by the revised schedule of commission rates at Chicago, Omaha, Kansas City and St. Paul, as announced by the packers and stock yards administration of the United States Department of Agriculture. The new scale was fixed after investigation by representatives of the department, and which the commission men agreed to accept.

Savings deposits in banks in the Dallas Federal Reserve District at the beginning of July amounted to $85,254,000, an increase of $1,300,000 compared with June, made an increase of $12,400,000 compared with July of last year. The report includes 113 banks in the Dallas district. The 886 banks in all the districts, registered an increase of about 19 per cent in savings during the year, the total at the beginning of July being $6,657,305,000.

Shall it be "opera" or "onions" is the question agitating holders of business premises in Convent Garden Market, London. Business has grown to such an extent of late that dealers allege the opera house, which admittedly is old and decaying, should be demolished and the site utilized for an extension of the congested market.

Living expenses increased 110.2 per cent in Cologne during the three weeks ending July 11. The prices of necessities on that date were 27.454 times the average for 1913-14, figuring the mark at its face value. The minimum expense at which a family of four, consisting of two adults, a boy of 11 and a girl of 6 can live for a month is officially computed at 3,577.647 marks.

Some of those who won the Victoria Cross, the highest British decoration for valor in battle, in the World War, have found that this little bronze cross does not necessarily pave the way to a good job in peace time. Several winners of the decoration have been found in the ranks of the unemployed and more than one has tried to pawn his decoration, because of the lack of money. The delegation of members of the Near East Relief who have been studying the refugee and economic situation in the western provinces of Greece, attended a luncheon and fete at the National Exposition Hall where King George conferred the decoration of St. Xavier upon eleven of the workers for their efforts in behalf of the refugees since the Smyrna disaster.

The Italians are raising a squad of laborers to discharge the cargoes held up by the strike at the English docks. They will work under police protection.

McMurry College will open its doors for the first time on September 19, 1923. A visit to the grounds discloses the fact that the magnificent Administration building, which has been under construction for more than twelve months, is as beautiful on the inside as it is from the outside. All the furniture and fixtures for the class rooms, offices, laboratories and fine arts departments are under contract to be installed before the opening of the school and in plenty of time for the proper occupancy of the building.

Carrying out the architectural plans for the grounds, a second building, which will be used this year as a dormitory for the young women, is now under construction and will be completed by the 1st of September. At a later time it is proposed, when the dormitories both for the boys and the girls, as outlined in the original plan, are completed, to use this building as a co-operative home, but for the present it will constitute a commodious and handsome home for forty four young women.

Buildings adjoining the grounds are nearing completion and will be ready for occupancy by the boys before the opening date. A visitor to the grounds is impressed with the fact that the hill is literally alive and pulsing with the energy of the great church that is entering upon its divine mission for the Christian training of the youth that have come within the pales of its influence.

FOUR POINTS MADE.

In the establishing of an institution, of the character of McMurry College, there are four points to consider in its affiliation with the higher institutions of learning that are of vital importance to every student entering its door. These are; first, buildings; second, equipment; third, faculty, and fourth maintenance. In the building of this college all four of these points have been safeguarded from the first. The administration building will take rank with school buildings of the first rank in Texas. In the construction, size and arrangement of the Administration offices, the President's, Dean's and Bursar's offices, the Teacher's offices, Library, class rooms laboratories and Fine Arts Departments, the buildings are far in excess of the requirements of the State Board of Education. In the purchase of equipment every piece installed has been selected in keeping with the building naturally eliminating the question of requirements of the State Board of Education. As to the faculty, the College is able to announce to its friends that, just as in the case of buildings and equipment, it has selected a faculty about which there is no question.

The organization of the "Purple Cross," an assurance fund for proper maintenance and operation of the school, which the churches throughout our territory are enthusiastically endorsing and supporting, will give the College a Class A rating on the fourth point from the day that it opens its doors. Thus McMurry College, which has broken all records by being built by cash, proposes to step into the front rank of the schools of its class at the very outset.

GOV. DAVIS SUFFERING OF TYPHOID BUT IS BETTER

TOPEKA, Kans., Aug. 7.—Governor Jonathan M. Davis is now reported to be suffering of typhoid fever, and the attending physicians say that he has a better chance of recovery now since the definite nature of the illness has been learned. It is reported that he is resting easier now, with a temperature lower than it has been since taking ill last Saturday.

EXPERT SWIMMER LOWERS SWIMMING TIME IN ENGLISH CHANNEL

CALAIS, France, Aug. 6.—Henry Sullivan, of Lowell, Mass., expert swimmer has crossed the English Channel from Dover to the French coast. He left the water at 8:50 Monday evening, swimming time was recorded as 26 hours and forty-three minutes. Sullivan was the first American and the third of any nationality to succeed in crossing this body of water by the swimming route. Captain Matthew Webb, an Englishman, swam from Dover to Calais, on August 24-25, 1875, in twenty-one hours and thirty-five minutes. Thomas Burgess another Englishman, crossed in September, 1911, in 22 hours and 35 minutes.

Anthropological Find.

At Haelberg, in southern Germany, one of the most important finds in the whole history of anthropology was made in 1907. The specimen was a lower human jaw belonging to the so-called interglacial period, and fired the age of the first human race appearing in western Europe. "Had the teeth been absent," says a report of this discovery, "it would have been impossible to diagnose it as a human jaw. The teeth are molars, pre-molars, canines and incisors, and are all essentially human though primitive in form. The conclusion is that the jaw, regarded as unquestionably human from the nature of the teeth, ranks not far from the point of separation between man and the anthropoid apes."

May Day and May Baskets.

The celebration of May day is an English custom which originated with the Druids. The Floralia, or floral games of the Romans, which began on April 28 and continued several days, were festivals of similar character. In medieval and Tudor England the first day of May was a great public holiday. The young people started at an early hour to gather flowers and hawthorn branches, with which they decorated every door and window in the village. In Northamptonshire it was the custom for the young men early on May day morning to leave a large bunch of flowering hawthorn at the door of the prettiest girl in the village; later the hawthorn gave place to the May basket. In some places in the United States May baskets are hung on the evening of April 30, but there is no authority for the custom.

THE right kind of repairs add new life to your machines. And the only right kind are those made from the same materials and by the manufacturer of the original machine. Use only genuine IHC repairs for your McCormick-Deering farm operating equipment. A genuine repair part fits exactly and becomes a perfect part of the machine; a substitute is simply a patch.

When you buy genuine IHC repairs from us, you also get the benefit of the McCormick-Deering service, a service that is prompt, dependable and permanent, and one that saves time and makes money for you.

NOTICE TO THE PUBLIC
This is to notify the public that the Tahoka Produce Company have moved across the street in the Highway Garage and Filling Station. We will occupy one-half of this building. We invite our friends and customers to call on us in our new location.
B. M. ROBINSON, Mgr. 49

The writer had occasion to make a short visit in the country adjoining Tahoka on the east for several miles. Cotton is holding up good and some fields we visited will make near a bale to the acre. The farm of G. W. Small three miles east, occupied by John Link and family, has a field of cotton containing 225 acres. It is as good a stand as one will find anywhere. We also had the privilege of sampling a few fine watermelons on this particular farm. Come to the South Plains.
