Tahoka Public Schools Begin Monday, September 1st

The 1919-20 session of the Tahoka Public Schools will begin its session Monday morning, September 1st., under the superintendency of Prof. H. P. Caveness, assisted by a full corps of efficient teachers. The term promises to be the best in the history of the town. Already many families are moving here preparatory to sending their children to the Tahoka school this year.

Throughout the county there has been a decided increase in educational interest. The contemplated road improvement over the county will make it easier for the students to come in each day. Once the roads are brought up to standard there is a splendid chance for Tahoka to absorb many of the smaller districts surrounding the town, and once that is accomplished, we can build up a school here equal in every respect to those in the cities.

Never miss a chance to speak a good word for the Tahoka schools and help make them equal to the best in the state.

The following teachers have been elected to fill positions in the school for the following year:

- HIGH SCHOOL
H. P. Caveness, Supt.
Miss Geneva Curry, Principal.
Miss Mary Preston,
Miss Fay Gooch, 7th.
GRADES
Miss Grace Hester, 1st and 2nd.
Miss Pauline Powers, 3rd and 4th.
Miss Donnie Winters, 5th and 6th.

Gins Getting Ready For Work This Season

Local gins are preparing for the fall run. Last year only one of the gins was operated in Lynn County, that being on account of the short crop, but through the coming season, unless something unforeseen happens to the crop, six gin plants will be in operation in the county this season; three in Tahoka, one at Grassland, one at O'Donnell and one at Wilson.

W. S. Willoughby boarded the northbound train Monday for Lubbock to consult a physician in regard to an affected tooth, which was giving him considerable pain.

C. O. Edwards, owner of the T-Ranch, who resides in Ft. Worth, came in Tuesday, and will spend several days here transacting business matters.

Mr. and Mrs. Wade Davis, of Aspermont, Texas, are the guests of his brother, E. S. and family.

The Misses Clinton returned Saturday from a few weeks visit in Plainview.

Messrs. Glenn Brasher and Bruce Williams transacted business matters in Slaton Saturday.

Uncle Jimmy Flemming and son, Emmett, returned Tuesday from a visit in Comanche.

Mrs. Charley Harter, of Canyon, is the guest of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Cowan.

Frank Hendrix left the first of the week for Tulsa on a visit with Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Barnes.

Mrs. H. B. Howell has returned from a two weeks visit with relatives in Kansas.

Millinery Opening At The McCormack Store

The McCormack Store of Tahoka, announces a millinery opening at their store on Thursday, Sept. 4th. Mrs. Ham will have charge of this department. Read their advertisement on the last page of this issue.

Three Lakes Young Couple Married Sunday

On Sunday afternoon, August 24th, at the home of the brides parents in the Three Lakes community occurred the marriage of Mr. Herbert Lewis and Miss Eunice Edwards, Rev. J. B. Vinson, of Kress, performing the ceremony.

The News joins a host of friends of the young couple in wishing them a bonny voyage over life's matrimonial sea.

Mesdames Marshall and Hamilton, and Miss Hamilton, returned to their home in Lamesa Monday, after spending several days here visiting with the family of Terry Noble, in the west part of the county. Miss Hamilton had just returned from the Canyon Normal, Canyon, Texas.

B. P. Harrison, of Midland, returned to his home Monday, after spending sometime here attending the bedside of his father, Judge G. W. Harrison. We are glad to report him slightly improved at this writing.

Will Observe Memorial Sunday, August, 31st

DALLAS, TEXAS—Memorial Sunday, August 31st, will be observed by all Methodist preachers throughout Texas, Oklahoma, Louisiana and New Mexico. At this time subscriptions will be taken towards the Soldiers' Memorial Building to be erected at Southern Methodist University in Dallas. With this date the campaign will close as the number of subscriptions already received indicate the raising of a fund sufficient to erect the $250,000 Memorial.

Charley Harter, of Canyon, is in the city visiting at the home of his wife's parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Cowan, arriving Wednesday afternoon.

Att'y. G. E. Lockhart, and family, spent Thursday afternoon in Lubbock. They were accompanied by Mrs. R. B. Haynes.

Among the many new readers of the News this week is Mrs. S. A. Richmond, of this city, who subscribes for the next twelve months.

A. M. Carrington, of Clovis, N. M. came in Tuesday, and joined his wife and baby here, who arrived a week ago.

Jack Blankenship, an ex-Tahokaite, of Plains, Yoakum, county, had business in the city this week.

A Word Regarding Free Text Books

To The Patrons of Tahoka school:-

Your school opens September the first with very bright prospects for a successful school term.

The new Free Text Law goes into effect this year, and while it is new to us all, I hope every one will do his best to successfully carry out its provisions.

Under the law parents will be held responsible for the books handed their children. Reasonable allowance will be made for wear of the book. Those who wish to purchase their books outright will have that opportunity.

One-half the exchange price will be allowed for books that were in use last year and are now in good condition, but unless the Board makes some provision for the payment of these books, no funds will be available for paying for them before about the first of next March. The time for bringing in these old books will be announced to the children.

We should be glad to have all the patrons at the school building on the first morning when we expect to have Judge Cain to address you on the workings of the new law and other matters.

Mrs. A. E. Whitehead and little child returned to their home in Slaton Monday, after spending from Saturday till Monday in Tahoka, the guest of the Clinton family.

Over Two Inches Of Rain Falls Here

Lynn county has received slightly over two inches of rain since Tuesday night of last week; thirty-six hundredths of an inch was reported by the local weather bureau on the 19th, and one and thirty-six hundredths on Sunday and Monday of this week, making a total fall of two and two one-hundredths inches up to Monday night. It will be of vast benefit to many late crops and will help cotton. Some fear is expressed that cut worms will become more numerous and cut down the cotton yield more than would have the dry weather. Tons of feed stuff will be gathered in this section this fall.

W. W. Anderson, of Bradner, Ohio, returned to his home Tuesday. Mr. Anderson owns a fine section of Lynn county land west of town and was here looking after his property. He became a subscriber to the News in order to keep in touch with the happenings in this part of the world.

Mr. and Mrs. M. M. Herring and daughter, Eloise, returned home the first of the week. Mr. Herring from Desdemona and Mrs. Herring and daughter from Waco.

Miss Inez Edwards departed Saturday for Mineral Wells, to spend a few weeks recuperating, after which she will enter Baylor-Belton for the term.

Mrs. A. C. Head returned to her home in Georgia yesterday. She was a guest in the Nevils home here.

H. C. Crie has accepted a position in the water works department of the Tahoka Oil & Gas Co.

T--- Locals

Quarterly Conference met at Draw last Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Ben Estes gave an ice cream and watermelon feast last Tuesday night, in honor of their daughter, Miss Tulas Ferguson, who left Wednesday morning for Gowen, Okla., where she has accepted the principalship of the Gowen schools.

Mrs. R. L. Green, of Amarillo, is visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Kuykendall.

The Revival at T--- begins Thursday night and continues one week.

Lee Wood and Miss Pauline Bohannon experienced a taste of the Tom LeMond trouble while on their way to the Estes home Tuesday. The Ford stopped and therefore the only remedy was to be pulled in.

Sunday night the neighbors gathered at the Kuykendall home for a singing. All report a good time.

REPORTER.

R. A. Baldwin Only Candidate For Rep.

R. A. Baldwin, of Slaton, who is a candidate for the office of State Representative from the 122 Representative District, is the only person in the district that has announced for the place. A special election has been called by the State on August 30th, but as Mr. Baldwin has no opponent it is not likely that the polls will be opened in many counties included in the representative district.

Mr. Baldwin carries an advertisement in the News, and we heartily endorse him as the man for the office which he seeks. This section will receive every benefit possible at the hands of this able lawyer and statesman.

Mr. and Mrs. O. D. Cardwell of Post, were in the city Tuesday. These people have charge of the Fair Store in Post and are considering establishing a Millinery store in Tahoka at an early date.

Farmers Will Hold Meeting Saturday Sept. 6th

Lynn County farmers will hold a mass meeting at the Court House in Tahoka, Saturday, September 6th for the purpose of setting a standard price on cotton picking this fall. Every farmer in the county is requested to be present to settle this important matter before cotton picking time arrives. Be on hand at the court house in Tahoka, Saturday afternoon, September 6th.

Lucian Bones, who has been with home folks for ten days, returned to his work near Amarillo yesterday.

BAPTISTS LAUNCH WORLD PROGRAM

Dr. L. R. Scarborough of Fort Worth, Tex., General Director of Campaign.

Recognizing the need of the world for more religion and christian service among general lines, the Baptists of the South have resolved to contribute $75,000,000 to a program of reconstruction following the war, and have laid plans to subscribe this sum during the week of November 30-December 7, a period of five years to be given in which to complete the payment of these subscriptions.

Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Ketner returned the latter part of the week from the Dallas markets. Assessor, J. Thomas had charge of the store during their absence.

H. B. Howell had business in Slaton the first of the week.

L. F. Bones made a business trip to Brownfield yesterday.

Mrs. Olive King returned to her home in Toyah, Wednesday.

42 Club Entertained

The ladies of Tahoka's Forty-two Club were entertained Wednesday afternoon at the beautiful home of Mrs. Henry Vinson, in North Tahoka. A delicious iced course was served the guests. Mrs. H. M. Larkin won High score. The club will meet next week with Mrs. S. J. Smith.

Brownfield Baptist Ass'n Meet Here Sept. 10th

Tahoka, Texas, Aug. 25th To the Baptists of The Brownfield Association.

Dear Fellow-Workers: I have been elected by the State Board as County Organizer for our 75-Million Dollar Drive in our association, I am therefore, calling a meeting of our pastors, Sunday-School workers, W. M. U. Presidents, and other workers, to meet at the Baptist Church in Tahoka Wednesday at 4 o'clock P. M. Sept. 10th. This meeting is exceedingly important, and we hope that the brethren and sisters of the association will not fail to be with us at that time. The Baptists of this association are asked for $75,000 within the next five years and to do this, we must organize thoroughly for the great drive, so be sure and come.

On Wednesday evening at 8:30. The Brownfield Association will begin its 1919 session following this organization meeting, and Dr. R. C. Pender of Abilene will preach the introductory sermon. All the Baptists of the entire association are most urgently requested to attend this association. All trains will be met for messengers and visitors.

Cordially,
L. L. F. PARKER.

Geo. J. German, of White-wright, is prospecting in the city this week. We understand Mr. German has bought a tract of five Lynn County land, the sale being made by the West Texas Real Estate Co., of Tahoka.

A. L. Kemp, father of A. J. Kemp of this city, returned to his home at McCauley Thursday, after spending a week visiting with his son and family. They returned home with him for few a weeks visit.

We are glad to report Justice of the Peace, G. W. Harrison very much improved, after having been confined to his room with rheumatism the past few weeks.

W. L. Yates, of the Three Lakes neighborhood, came in Tuesday morning and caught the train for Kaufman county, where he goes on a visit with his mother.

J. F. Nevil returned to his home in Cisco yesterday.

Baptist Ladies Entertain Husbands

One of the most enjoyable entertainments of the season was had Tuesday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Edwards, when the Baptist ladies of Tahoka entertained their husbands. A program had been prepared and was carried out much to the enjoyment of those present. One of the most amusing numbers on the program was the song service, when all drew numbers and were forced to sing in groups of four. Each one made a strong effort to carry out his or her part amid much laughter from the audience. The Baptist $75,000,000.00 campaign which will soon be launched, was fully explained by the pastor of the church, Rev. L. L. F. Parker.

Refreshments of grape juice and watermelons was served to forty-two people. Mrs. Conway May assisted Mrs. Edwards in entertaining during the evening.

If you live anywhere near Tahoka, the News wants to make mention of your visitors and also of your visits to other points. All you have to do is to drop a note telling who is visiting you and where the visitor is from; or the matter can be reported by telephone, No. 35. We want the news and will appreciate any courtesy shown us in gathering it.

Red Cross Representative In Tahoka Tuesday

Mrs. Claude B. McCartney, Red Cross Representative, passed thru Tahoka Tuesday from Post enroute to Lamesa. The News was honored with a very pleasant call by this lady, and consented to run a two-page supplement for the society, once per month, beginning at an early date. These columns contained an interesting article written by Mrs. McCartney in last weeks issue.

Mr. Harris and family came up Thursday morning from Lamesa to visit with his father and mother, who have been visiting their daughter, Mrs. Clifford Thomas, of this city.

The Santa Fe ran an extra freight train over this line Sunday, something out of the ordinary. Business is getting good on the Lamesa branch of the system.

Mrs. W. B. Slaton and daughter, Lucile, left the middle of the week for Kerville, Texas, to spend several months recuperating.

J. C. Welch has returned to town from the farm west of town and has resumed his position with the firm of Knight & Brashear.

H. E. Baldrige, of O'Donnell, renews his subscription to this paper for one year.

Gordan Williams has returned from a visit with relatives in Amarillo.

A. D. Shook and son Charley have returned from Desdemona and Ranger.

Hershel Oden of near Grassland was visiting in Tahoka this week.

Leigh Bones will leave for school at Clarendon next week.

Chevrolet Garage Re-opened For Business

The old Chevrolet Garage located southeast of the square, has been reopened for business by G. W. Knoy & Son, of this city. They place an advertisement in the News and are asking for a share of the auto repair work in this section.

Just Once! Try Dodson's Liver Tone! Take No Calomel! Listen To Me!

If bilious, constipated, headachy or sick, I guarantee relief without taking dangerous calomel which sickens and salivates.

Stop using calomel! It makes you sick. Don't lose a day's work. If you feel lazy, sluggish, bilious or constipated, listen to me!

Calomel is mercury or quicksilver, which causes necrosis of the bones. Calomel, when it comes into contact with sour bile, crashes into it, breaking it up. This is when you feel that awful nausea and cramping. If you are "all knocked out," if your liver is torpid and bowels constipated or you have headache, dizziness, coated tongue, if breath is bad or stomach sour, just try a spoonful of harmless Dodson's Liver Tone.

Here's my guarantee—Go to any drug store and get a bottle of Dodson's Liver Tone for a few cents. Take a spoonful tonight, and if it doesn't straighten you right up and make you feel fine and vigorous by morning, I want you to go back to the store and get your money. Dodson's Liver Tone is destroying the sale of calomel because it is real liver medicine; entirely vegetable, therefore it can not salivate or make you sick.

I guarantee that one spoonful of Dodson's Liver Tone will put your sluggish liver to work and clean your bowels of that sour bile and constipated waste which is clogging your system and making you feel miserable. I guarantee that a bottle of Dodson's Liver Tone will keep the entire family feeling fine for months. Give it to your children. It is harmless; doesn't gripe and they like its pleasant taste.—Adv.

The Last Word.

Mistress—Now, Bridget, there's no use of further argument as to how the dish should be prepared, but our ideas on the subject are so different that it is evident one or the other of us is crazy.

IT'S NOT YOUR HEART; IT'S YOUR KIDNEYS

Kidney disease is no respecter of persons. A majority of the ills afflicting people today can be traced back to the kidney trouble.

The kidneys are the most important organs of the body. They are the filters of your blood. If the poisons which are swept from the tissues by the blood are not eliminated through the kidneys, disease of one form or another will claim you as a victim.

Kidney disease is usually indicated by weariness, sleeplessness, nervousness, despondency, headache, stomach trouble, pain in loins and lower abdomen, gall stones, gravel, rheumatism, sciatica and lumbago.

All these derangements are nature's signals that the kidneys need help. You should use GOLD MEDAL Haarlem Oil Capsules immediately. The soothing, healing oil stimulates the kidneys, relieves inflammation and destroys the germs which have caused it. Go to your druggist today and get a box of GOLD MEDAL Haarlem Oil Capsules. In twenty-four hours you should feel health and vigor returning.

After you feel somewhat improved continue to take one or two capsules each day, so as to keep the first-class condition and ward off the danger of other attacks.

Ask for the original imported GOLD MEDAL brand. Three sizes. Money refunded if they do not help you.

REPTILES AT HOME IN SAND

Naturalist Makes Interesting Report of Habits of Small Dwellers of the Desert.

Quaint and curious are the ways of some reptiles of the desert, as revealed by the famous naturalist C. L. Camp, who has been studying them in the Colorado desert. He tells of some reptiles, the burrowing snake sonora, the gridiron-tailed lizard, the ocellated sand lizard, and the desert "horned toad," which actually swim into the loose sand by the strong lateral movements of their heads. The gridiron-tailed lizard is very swift and agile, and when chased will race over the sand at fifteen miles an hour. Most of the desert reptiles of Colorado are colored like their surroundings, and are difficult to detect. Others can change their colors to suit their surroundings, while not a few of the desert lizards are able to part with their tails very readily when they are seized. There is humor in the ways of desert tortoises. When one meets another, unless both are males, when a fight invariably takes place, each nods its head rapidly up and down as though in salutation, and sometimes noses are touched as they pass.

If the toothache doesn't worry a man it's because some other fellow has it.

WIFE GAVE HIM INSPIRATION

Author, at His Wit's End for Plot, Got Excellent Idea From His Better Half.

How the idea of a new book was suggested in an unexpected manner to the author is told by William J. Locke in "The Rough Road." "One evening a couple of months after I had finished 'The Red Planet,' I was tearing my hair and saying that this time I really had come to the end of things and would never again have the ghost of an idea for another book, when my wife, who was sitting on the divan in the drawing room playing unconcernedly with our little Pekinese—she had heard this cry of wolf so many times before—addressed this little beast—I love him dearly, by the way—in the maudlin tone of which we both are guilty: 'Why doesn't he write a nice book about you, darling? Whereupon I clapped my hand to my forehead and cried: 'I will! I'll write a story about a man brought up like that dog and pitched into the war!' And I went straight into my study and set to work on the scheme."

What Makes 'Em Attractive.
"Is she an attractive widow?"
"I don't know. I haven't heard yet how much insurance her husband left her."

Rubberized Silks in Bathing Suits

Looking over the newest things in bathing suits one might easily conclude that fair bathers object to getting wet and only go into the water to get cool, or to be "in the swim" with their sister bathers. What they really object to (unless they possess Venus de Medici figures) is the way in which bathing togs cling and stick and the somewhat bedraggled appearance they are likely to make when they come out of the water. Nothing escapes the notice of the keen manufacturers of bathing togs and they have met this situation with suits on the order of that one shown in the picture.

Rubberized silk in rose color is used to make the shapely and modest overdress in this suit and it is trimmed with black and white checkboard bands that give it a lot of snap. The long-waisted body is gathered into a wide flat band with the fullness brought to the sides and the skirt is managed in the same way, so that even bathing suits take note of the wider hips that are indicated in styles for fall.

The knickers for this suit are made of black satin and a vestee of the same material in the overdress bears them company. Black silk stockings and black sateen slippers take care of the feet in an effective but inconspicuous fashion, while a gay little four-cornered cap of rose colored rubber cloth puts a pretty finishing touch to the outfit. As no one aspires to a deep coat of tan this year, a black and white striped parasol lends its aid to face creams to keep the face and neck from too much sunburn.

Rubberized silks in brilliant colors have been used in much more elaborate beach clothes than this very sensible suit, and even for those who prefer silk or wool in their swimming clothes, mantles and capes of rubberized silk prove sightly for wear on the beach and for the walk to and from it.

Pile Fabrics Popular

The prophecy that, when the price of a pile fabric clashes with that of a fair quality fur, the latter is preferred, does not seem to be borne out in the operations of the cloak manufacturers for fall. Pile fabrics in the most expensive makes are proving so popular with the buyers that it is estimated the supply is going to fall far short of the demand. The pile fabric makers believe that the most important reason for this successful competition of their product with fur is that the imitation has reached a stage where it is difficult to tell the difference between it and the real thing. Another reason ascribed is the better wearing quality of the artificial fur.

with a piece of brown or white paper on each side. Now press hard with a warm flatiron on the ribbon under the paper, and pull the ribbon all under the flatiron. Then reverse the ends. It requires two persons to successfully press ribbons in this way. The process is very simple, and the ribbon will look as good as when new, and will not lose its stiffness or look glossy, as those ironed the old way.

Julia Bottomley
Big Demand for Skirts.
The great retail demand for summer skirts has cleaned out retail stocks and showered the manufacturers with duplicate orders. Flannels and gabardines are among the leaders, although linens and crepes are getting their usual heavy demand. White is most desired, but the pastel shades are attracting more than the usual amount of attention given to colored skirts for the summer. The scarcity of silks and the high prices quoted by jobbers of such material, will turn to other fabrics, it is said, some of the business that would otherwise go to silk numbers.

If a Rug Curis.
Rugs that curl on edge or wrinkle in middle have lost their "sizing." Place the rug face down on the floor. Make very thin cooked starch and add a small quantity of powdered gum arabic dissolved in a little water. Apply to back of rug with a paintbrush or a paper hanger's brush. When the rug is dry it will be quite stiff and will lie without curling.

THE KITCHEN CABINET

To take a cheerful, hopeful, optimistic, never down-in-the-mouth, but courage-always-up attitude of mind, is to set in, and keep in continual operation, subtle, silent forces that are working along the lines we are going and that open the way for us to arrive.—Trine.

A SYMPOSIUM OF SALADS.

A salad will often use up leftovers in wonderfully attractive ways, but the ingredients should be put together carefully. Dressed lettuce is one of the simplest of salads and now is the time when we should be supplying our tables with salad greens from our own gardens. By sowing lettuce seed several times during the summer one may have tender, crisp lettuce until fall.

Lettuce, spinach, chard, peppercress and beet greens supply mineral salts needed to keep up the bodily health as well as supplying the valuable fat soluble vitamins that are so essential to the growing child.

The first important consideration in salad making is a good foundation. Whatever is used let it be crisp and fresh and neatly arranged and the next important step is the dressing. The most delightful combinations may be ruined by a poor, badly seasoned dressing. Salads containing fish, meat, nuts, eggs or cheese will make a dish sufficiently sustaining for a main dish.

The simplest of all dressings is the French dressing and one which is most commonly used. With a good brand of olive oil, using three parts of oil to one of vinegar, a little salt and sugar with a dash of paprika and cayenne, all beaten with a Dover egg beater until thick, and all the ingredients cold, this dressing is ready to serve.

"Mid the rich store of nature's gifts to man
Each has his loves, close wedded to his soul
By fine association's golden links."

ODD MEATS APPETIZINGLY PREPARED.

Perishable meats like sweetbreads, brains, liver and kidneys are so wholesome, delicate and appetizing when carefully cooked and served that the demand for cuts of meat would decrease if more of our people used these sundries; then there would be plenty of all kinds for all, at all times. Sweetbreads are considered a great delicacy, but brains are spurned by the majority, for no reason than that they are not in the habit of cooking them. The same is true of liver and kidneys, the latter if carefully cleaned, parboiled and cooked make a most tasty dish.

Liver from whatever animal is tender and requires little cooking to make it palatable, while kidney should have either a long, slow cooking or a very short stage; there is no middle ground.

A heart is better if cooked slowly a long time, or it may be sliced and cooked in a hot frying pan. If a tender young heart, this makes most delicious eating cooked as one does steak, either broiled or pan broiled.

Tripe being what it is, the stomach lining, is very easy of digestion and needs but little cooking. It is usually served with a highly seasoned sauce of some kind, tomato being the favorite.

A piece of sparerib, though covered with little meat, which, by the way, grows less and less, makes a good seasoning for a dish of cabbage, even if there is no meat to serve; the flavor is there which makes a tasty dish. Greens, beets, spinach, dandelions may be cooked with spareribs.

Sweetbreads are too expensive in the city for the average family, but in the country where there is less demand they are sold at a reasonable price. To cook, simmer in water to cover, to which has been added a half tablespoonful of vinegar. Remove after twenty minutes of simmering and plunge into cold water to make them firm. After removing all the uneatable portions they are ready to be creamed, baked or fried.

A SUMMER DINNER.

A pleasing beginning for a dinner is some sort of fruit cocktail, served well chilled in dainty stemmed glasses, garnished with a sprig of mint or a maraschino cherry on the edge of the glass. There is such wide range in fruits that one may have at any season something worth while.

A very pretty and delicious fruit cocktail is made of the heart of a ripe watermelon. Cut balls with a good-sized French potato cutter, marinate with a sugar sirup flavored delicately with orange rind. The juice of the orange may be added to the sirup, cutting down some of the water, if preferred. Garnish with a sprig of mint and serve ice cold. Peaches, pears, grapes of various kinds as well as berries make splendid possibilities for cocktails.

Mutton With Peas.—Take a piece of lamb or mutton for stewing, simmer in boiling water with one small onion and three cloves, a pepper corn and an eighth of a bay leaf, for flavor; when tender and ready to serve remove the meat to a hot platter, prepare the gravy by thickening with flour and butter worked to a paste and stirred into the liquor from the meat. Cook until smooth, strain and add two to three cupfuls of fresh green peas, cooked and poured around the meat. The seasoning of salt and pepper must be added before the meat or gravy is well cooked, in order to be well seasoned.

Salad Chiffonade.—Arrange lettuce, pepper grass, tender green mustard and strips of pimento in a salad bowl; cover with French dressing and serve well chilled.

Radish Sandwiches.—Wash a dozen crisp, fresh radishes and chop finely; add four nut meats minced and four tablespoonfuls of mayonnaise dressing. Spread on slices of buttered oat bread.

Quick Oat Bread.—Take two and one-quarter cupfuls of rolled oats; put through the meat grinder; add four teaspoonfuls of baking powder, half a teaspoonful of salt, one cupful of milk, one egg well-beaten and two tablespoonfuls of corn sirup. Bake in a greased breadpan 40 minutes.

Pimento, Egg and Tuna Salad.—Mash the yolks of four hard-cooked eggs with three-fourths cupful of tuna fish, well flaked, and a teaspoonful of lemon juice and half a teaspoonful of salt. To one-third cupful of mayonnaise dressing add an eighth of a teaspoonful of mustard, a few grains of cayenne and a tablespoonful of chopped pickles. Add a teaspoonful of dissolved gelatin to the mayonnaise and use to stuff the pimentos which have been drained and carefully wiped. Set each in a gem pan until filled and set; then chill before serving. Slice and serve on lettuce.

"HAVE A HEART."

The hearts of young animals are all easily cooked and make a delicious meal. Cut in slices and saute in a little butter, cooking not too long, then serve piping hot.

Boiled Heart With Rice and Raisins.—Wash the heart, remove the tubes and gristle, cover with boiling water and cook ten minutes, then simmer very slowly on the back of the stove or in a fireless cooker until tender. Add washed rice, salt and pepper, using three-fourths of a cupful of rice, a teaspoonful of salt, and one-fourth of a teaspoonful of pepper; cook until the rice is tender. Drain the liquor from the rice, add three-fourths of a cupful of raisins, half a cupful of walnuts cut in bits, one and one-half tablespoonfuls of lemon juice, salt and pepper to taste and bring to the boiling point. Place the heart in the center of a platter, surround with cooked rice, pour nuts and raisins over the heart and garnish with parsley.

Kidney a la Pomme.—Wash one kidney, remove the tough portions and tubes, parboil changing the water two or three times. Drain, roll in seasoned flour and cook in three tablespoonfuls of drippings. Remove to a hot platter and keep warm. Slice four large onions, and cook in this fat, remove them when yellow to the serving dish. Add two cupfuls of boiling water to the fat in the pan and add six cooked potatoes cut in thick slices. Bring to the boiling point, add four tablespoonfuls of flour mixed with a third of a cupful of cold water. Stir and cook, add a teaspoonful of kitchen bouquet, with salt and pepper to taste. When the potatoes are thoroughly heated, remove them to the platter, reheat the kidney sauce and pour over the potatoes. Surround with the onions and serve at once.

Puree of Peas.—Cook a pint of tender green peas and put through a sieve; add a tablespoonful of butter mixed with two of flour, salt and pepper to taste. Cook until the flour is well cooked, add a cup of milk, heat and whip with a dover egg beater, then serve at once. If there are more to serve, the amount of milk may be increased without injuring the flavor.

Ox Tail Soup.—Cut one ox tail in pieces, wash and sprinkle with half a cupful of rolled oats, two and a half tablespoonfuls of fat until brown. Cover with four cupfuls of water and two cupfuls of canned tomato, a bit of bay leaf, half a green pepper minced, and one onion cut in thin slices. Boil 15 minutes and cook over night in a fireless cooker. Remove the meat from the bones and rub the soup and vegetables through a sieve. Cook together in water to cover half a green pepper, half a cupful of diced carrot, a fourth of a cupful each of turnip and onion; when soft add to the soup with meat, season with celery sauce, Worcester shire sauce and a teaspoonful of beef extract. Reheat and serve.

IMPROVED UNIFORM INTERNATIONAL SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

(By REV. P. B. FITZWATER, D. D., Teacher of English Bible in the Moody Bible Institute of Chicago.)
(Copyright, 1913, Western Newspaper Union)

LESSON FOR AUGUST 31

SELF CONTROL (Temperance).

LESSON TEXT.—Daniel 1:8-21.
GOLDEN TEXT.—Every man that striveth for the mastery is temperate in all things.—I Cor. 9:25.
ADDITIONAL MATERIAL.—Romans 14:1-23; I Cor. 9:24-27.

PRIMARY TOPIC.—Keeping away from things which may harm us.
JUNIOR TOPIC.—The story of a boy who became a strong man.
INTERMEDIATE TOPIC.—Learning self-mastery.
SENIOR AND ADULT TOPIC.—Self-control the secret of success.

It is somewhat strange that the lesson committee should select this Scripture as a temperance lesson, for it says nothing about temperance as ordinarily understood. Total abstinence from intoxicating liquor should be the law of every Christian's life, but it is not so taught in this Scripture.

I. Daniel Tested (vv. 5-7). Daniel, while a tender youth, was torn from home ties and made a captive in a foreign land to be trained for service at the royal court. In order to be of the largest service it was necessary that he be brought to love the king and nation, and be detached from his own people and religion. To accomplish this they—

1. Appointed him a daily provision of the king's meat and wine (v. 5). This was for a twofold purpose: (1) To gain the good will of Daniel and his friends. Such recognition would encourage them to give themselves up to the king's service. (2) To supply them with food deemed suitable for their physical and mental development. To partake of the food offered was against Daniel's religion. His conscience would not allow him to partake thereof. Doubtless the meat and wine had connection with heathen feasts.

2. Changed name (v. 7). The object of this was to obliterate national and religious connection, and to identify them with the heathen people. Daniel, which means "God is my Judge," was changed to Belshazzar, meaning Bel's prince; Hananiah, which means "The gift of Jehovah," to Shadrach, meaning illumined by the sun god Rak; Mishael, which means "Who is as God," to Meshach, meaning who is like the goddess Sheshach; Azariah, which means "Jehovah is our help," to Abed-nego, meaning the servant of Nego. Behind this change of names was the attempt of Satan to wipe from the minds of these young men the name of the true God and to cause them to lose their place of separation.

II. Daniel Standing the Test (vv. 8-14).

Though a captive in a foreign land, Daniel purposed in his heart that he would not defile himself with the king's meat and wine. His home training was such that in this trying hour he had the decision of character to stand firm for his conviction. He obeyed the dictates of his conscience. While unflinchingly loyal to God he did not lose his gentlemanly courtesy. He requested to be tested ten days in the food which the law of his God allowed, agreeing to abide by the results. Loyalty to God and conscience need not interfere with gentlemanly behavior.

III. Daniel's Reward (vv. 15-21).

1. Physical health (v. 15). God's and temperate living pays. The king's meat and wine would have been very palatable, but to have partaken would have been a compromise with his conscience. The exercise of self-control in this matter kept his conscience pure, and also improved his physical health.

2. Mental growth (vv. 17-20). He was ten times the superior of his associates.

3. Socially (v. 19). He stood before the king. He not only was next to the king, but became president of the college of wise men, and prime minister of the empire, continuing through several dynasties (v. 21).

4. Spiritually (v. 17). God revealed to him Nebuchadnezzar's dream and gave him visions stretching across the history of the world.

The secret of Daniel's success was (1) conscientiousness; (2) loyalty to God; (3) decision of character; (4) prayerfulness; (5) diligence; (6) courtesy.

Our Heavenly Father.

All of heaven and all of earth cannot contain God. There is something of himself left for the hearts of men. Just as the water which spills out of the full bucket is as good as any of the water in the bucket, so that part of God which dwells in the hearts of men is just as much of God as that of himself which dwells in heaven.

Living Influence.

Whatever definitions men have given of religion, I find none so accurately descriptive of it as this; that it is such a belief of the Bible as maintains a living influence on the heart and life.—Cecil.

Result of Christian Temper.

Peace is the proper result of the Christian temper. It is the great kindness which our religion doth us, that it brings us to a settledness of mind, and a consistency within ourselves.—Bishop Patrick.

Imitations Are Dangerous.

AN OHIO druggist writes to "The Practical Druggist," a prominent New York Drug Journal, as follows: "Please furnish formula for Castoria. All the formulas I have worked with are either ineffective or disagreeable to administer."

To this "The Practical Druggist" replies: "We do not supply formulas for proprietary articles. We couldn't if we wanted to. Your experience with imitative formulas is not surprising, but just what is to be expected. When Castoria is wanted, why not supply the genuine? If you make a substitute, it is not fair or right to label it Castoria. We can give you all sorts of laxative preparations for children, but not Castoria, and we think a mother who asks for Castoria would not feel kindly toward you if you gave her your own product under such a name."

No mother with a spark of affection for her child will overlook the signature of Chas. H. Fletcher when buying Castoria.

One strong point of many a woman is at the end of the hatpin.

Rather neat. "I object to admitting the plaintiff's ankles as evidence."

"On what grounds?" "Ahem! Your honor, this is a breach of promise suit and I don't want my client's judgment to appear at fault in passing up a pair like that."

The average woman would rather be married than happy.

Soft answers do not turn away wrath caused by soft coal.

Children Cry For Fletcher's CASTORIA

Mothers Must Use Care. Why do we so often call your attention to imitations of Fletcher's Castoria? Because it is a baby's medicine and imitations are always dangerous, particularly imitations of a remedy for infants. Your druggist may not keep an imitation but they are to be found on drug-store shelves. Reliable druggists think only of the welfare of their customers. The other kind only of the greater profit to be made on imitations. Your own judgment tells you that Fletcher's Castoria having for over thirty years at great expense held up its reputation, must jealously guard it. Then, it follows that this company must use the very best of material. Must employ experts in the selection of the herbs. Must retain skilled chemists in its manufacture. Your same good judgment must tell you that these irresponsible imitators are trading on your credulity and the reputation built up by Mr. Fletcher, during all these years, for his Castoria. MOTHERS SHOULD READ THE BOOKLET THAT IS AROUND EVERY BOTTLE OF FLETCHER'S CASTORIA

KEEP ON BOOSTING

The Lamesa Reporter came to our exchange table this week dated Thursday, June 8, 1919, and minus the No. of the belated issue. Wake up Smith and set your date line ahead a month or so. Ben Smith of the Lockney Beacon is apt to notice your blunder and give you a column write-up on how to run the Reporter.—Lynn Co. News.

We were not drunk when we changed that date, but we did have our daughter and two little ones visiting us and had just received word that our married son, wife and baby were coming to see us and it "kinder" turned the old man's head. I don't think Ben Smith reads the Reporter. It isn't any paper don't you know? At least that is what he said about us. But then Bro. Smith is so busy with the Plainview paper he hasn't time to read the others. If the Plainview paper should suspend publication the Beacon would be out of editorial dope.—Lamesa Reporter.

You have it about right, Brother Reporter, the Beacon and Plainview News editors use columns after columns of editorial "Bull" rawhiding each other that is enough to give their readers the "Gripes." However it is none of our lookout, and all we can do is to continue giving our periodicals the very best that is in us, and boost our town and county with good live reading matter instead of giving up a lot of olose head that concerns no one but ourselves. "Nuff" said.

If you sit in a cool draft when you are heated and get a stiff neck or lame back, you will be looking for something that will ease the pain. Fix your mind on BALLARD'S SNOW LINIMENT and don't be talked out of it, because it is the best pain relieving liniment you can get anywhere. Sold by Thomas Bros.

BOLSHEVISM

The salient features, which constitute the program of Bolshevism as it exist today in Russia and is presented to the rest of the world as a panacea for all ills may be summarized as follows:

1. The repudiation of democracy and the establishment of a dictatorship.
2. The confiscation of all land and the improvements thereon.
3. The confiscation of all forests and natural resources.
4. The confiscation of all banks and banking institutions and the establishment of a state monopoly of the banking business.
5. The confiscation of all factories, mines and industrial institutions and the delivery of the control and operation thereof to the employees thereon.
6. The confiscation of all churches and all church property, real and personal.
7. The confiscation of all newspapers and periodicals and all mechanical facilities and machinery used in the publication thereof.
8. The seizure and confiscation of all public meeting places and assembly halls.
9. The confiscation of all transportation and communication systems.
10. The confiscation of the entire estate of all decedents.
11. The monopolizing by the state of all advertisements of every nature, whether newspapers, periodicals, hand bills, or programs.
12. The repudiation of all debts against the government and all obligations due the non-Bolshevist elements of the population.
13. The establishment of universal compulsory military service regardless of religious scruples and conscientious objections.
14. The establishment of universal compulsory labor.
15. The abolition of the Sunday School and all other schools and institutions that teach religion.
16. The absolute separation of churches and schools.
17. The establishment, through marriage and divorce laws, of a method for the legalization of prostitution, when the same is engaged in by the consent of the parties.

19. The refusal to recognize the existence of God in its governmental and judicial proceedings.

20. The conferring of the rights of citizenship on aliens without regard to length of residence or intelligence.

21. The arming of all so-called "toilers," and the disarming of all persons that had succeeded in acquiring property.

22. The discrimination in favor of residents of cities and five times as much voting powers as is accorded to residents of rural districts in such elections as are permitted.

23. The disfranchisement of all persons employing any other person in connection with their business.

24. The disfranchisement of all persons receiving rent, interest, or dividends.

25. The disfranchisement of all merchants, traders and commercial agents.

26. The disfranchisement of all priests, clergymen, or employees of churches and religious bodies.

27. The denial of the existence of any inalienable rights in the individual citizen.

28. The establishment of a judicial system exercising autocratic power convicting persons and imposing penalties in their absence, and without opportunity to be heard, and even adopting the death penalty for numerous crimes and misdemeanors.

29. The inauguration of a reign of fear, terrorism, and violence.

DAYLIGHT SAVING NO MORE AFTER OCTOBER

Washington, Aug. 20.—Repeal of the daylight savings act was accomplished today, the Senate voting to sustain the House in passing the repeal measure over President Wilson's veto. The vote was 57 to 19.

The repeal of the law which now takes it place among the very few which have been passed over a presidential veto becomes effective after the clocks are truned back to normal in October. It will go down in legislative history as one of the very few measures which have twice been vetoed by a President and became a law after all by the vote of more than two-thirds in both houses of Congress.

Senator Sheppard voted to pass the daylight savings repeal over the veto of the President. Senator Culberson and Senator Gore of Oklahoma were recorded as absent. Senator Owen voted to sustain the President's objection upon the ground, he said, that the President was conversant with the situation and that he was willing to defer to the President's wishes.

"A repeal of the daylight savings" said the Senator, "is somewhat incidental to the situation confronting the American farmer. The most important question is that of profiteering and the curbing of the power of those who have commodities to sell, which must be employed by the farmer in producing crops. In this connection, American commerce relates in no small degree to the farmer, and his production must be relieved of the foreign exchange situation to which I have called the President's attention. Otherwise, there is no reason why the farmer should be compelled to pay an exorbitant price for the materials he uses and at the same time have wholly disregarded the prices and marketing conditions of the commodities he produces."

COLORADO CITY GETS ODD FELLOWS MEETING

Abilene, Aug. 23.—The West Texas Odd Fellows' Association before adjourning here elected Judge E. M. Overshiner as president and chose Colorado City as the next place of meeting. Other officers elected were:

W. S. Prescott of Big Spring, first vice president; Clinton Alexander of Cisco, third vice president; Z. D. Hailley of Abilene, treasurer; J. W. Anderson of Abilene, chaplain; B. F. Condron of Anson, secretary.

SCHOOL APPORTIONMENT TO BE $7.50 PER CAPITA

Austin, Aug. 21.—It has been virtually decided by the State Board of Education to make an apportionment of $7.50 per capita of the available school fund for 1919-20, based on 1,245,278 scholastics in Texas. The board will meet late today at which time the matter will be officially disposed of. This is the same amount apportioned for 1918-19.

ITEMS FROM THE SLATON SLATONITE

Nearly all available tracks in the Santa Fe yards here are filled with grain cars that workmen are re-coopering preparatory to the heavy grain shipments that will soon begin to move. This work is in charge of W. E. Bunch, the capable foreman the car repair shops.

Rev. L. W. Williamson, Missionary for the Brownfield Baptist Association, arrived home Sunday night from Redwip, which is twelve miles east of Tahoka, after being engaged in a revival meeting there for eight days. It was very successful from every standpoint. Twelve additions to the church, and the congregation pledged a nice sum of money for the work, half of which was paid in cash.

Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Kahlick and Fred Kahlick of Cuero, Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Kahlick of Shiner, and Miss Ida Till, of Hallettsville, have been here for several days visiting relatives and looking at the country with a view to investing in some of the fine Plains land. They state that too much rain in their section of the state has badly damaged some crops and that but little of the feed crops have been saved on account of so much moisture. They are highly pleased with this section of the state.

PENALTY AMENDMENTS FAVORABLY REPORTED

Washington, Aug. 21.—Amendments to the food control act imposing a $5,000 fine and imprisonment of two years for profiteering were ordered favorably reported today by the House Agriculture Committee.

MENARD VOTED ON $275,000 ROAD BONDS

San Angelo, Aug. 21.—Property taxpayers of Menard County will vote Friday on a $275,000 good roads bond issue. The Commissioners' Court called the election on July 17. It is predicted that the issue will carry by a safe majority.

CALLED HER FAMILY TO HER BEDSIDE

Six Years Ago, Thinking She Might Die, Says Texas Lady, But She Is a Well, Strong Woman and Praises Cardui For Her Recovery.

Royse City, Tex.—Mrs. Mary Kilman, of this place, says: "After the birth of my little girl...my side commenced to hurt me. I had to go back to bed. We called the doctor. He treated me...but I got no better. I got worse and worse until the misery was unbearable...I was in bed for three months and suffered such agony that I was just drawn up in a knot... I told my husband if he would get me a bottle of Cardui I would try it... I commenced taking it, however, that evening I called my family about me... for I knew I could not last many days unless I had a change for the better. That was six years ago and I am still here and am a well, strong woman, and I owe my life to Cardui. I had only taken half the bottle when I began to feel better. The misery in my side got less... I continued right on taking the Cardui until I had taken three bottles and I did not need any more for I was well and never felt better in my life... I have never had any trouble from that day to this."

Do you suffer from headache, backache, pains in sides, or other discomforts, each month? Or do you feel weak, nervous and fagged-out? If so, give Cardui, the woman's tonic, a trial.

GRAND EXHIBIT FROM WEST TEXAS TO WEST

Chester T. Crowell, Publicity Manager of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce, will have charge of the large and carefully selected West Texas agricultural exhibits to be shown at the great national expositions in the middle west this fall. These exhibits represent not only staple crops such as the grains and cotton, but fruits, melons and other perishables, and a comprehensive oil and mineral exhibit. The exhibit will be renewed from week to week and kept up to the highest standards for each great fair.

In addition to the exhibits Mr. Crowell takes with him a large assortment of photographs, some of which are fourteen feet long, showing scenes in West Texas. These will be part of the exhibit. He also takes several reels of motion pictures showing harvest scenes, cities and towns, and some of the oil fields. It is expected that these will prove very popular on account of the national interest in the West Texas oil development.

The exhibits will be shown first at the Indiana State Fair in Indianapolis, Sept. 1-6. This fair has an attendance of 600,000 and is held in an interurban center, accessible to thousands of expert dairy farmers, who can be interested in West Texas. From Indianapolis the exhibits will be taken to Louisville to the Kentucky State Fair, which has an annual attendance of 500,000. The dates for this fair are September 8-13.

The Tennessee State Fair at Nashville September 15-19 is the next to be visited. Its attendance averages over 500,000. It is the second largest fair held in the South, and Tennessee has given to Texas many progressive farmers and business men.

The closing exposition to be visited is the International Soil Products Exposition at Kansas City, Sept. 24-Oct. 4. This exposition has always been very popular with West Texas exhibitors. Its annual attendance is 1,500,000 people from all parts of the Middle West, Northwest and Southwest. The International Dry Farming Congress is held in connection with this exposition.

NEWS ITEMS FROM THE TERRY COUNTY HERALD

We understand that H. H. Longbrake has purchased the residence of Ross Renfro near the Methodist church, and will have some more rooms added. We have not learned the intentions of Mr. Renfro, but we hope he will decide to either build or buy in our town.

Elder Percy Key, of Gunter, Texas, came in last Friday for a short visit with his sister, Mrs. Jim Parks, of the west side, but as he had a meeting to begin at League 4 in Lubbock county on Saturday night, his visit was necessarily short. He is still the President of Gunter Bible School in Grayson County.

R. O. Wilson, of Seagraves, shipped two cars of cattle from here on Saturday last for the Ft. Worth market, consisting of cows and heifers, that he had purchased from Bert Shepherd and J. A. Blankenship. He also became a reader of the Herald, as he says he is going to make this his home after Jan. 1st.

A deal was consummated last week, wherein L. H. Plain, owner and manager of the South Plains Phone Co., became the possessor of the six lots about three blocks east of the square on Harden street, and belonging to Judge Spencer, of Lubbock. Consideration $1000.00.

Mrs. Geo. Warren and children, of Rucker, Texas, who have been here visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. Lewis, for the past two weeks, returned to their home Tuesday. Mrs. Warren informed us that they were thinking of returning to old Terry again.

A. W. Jackson, a member of the firm of Jackson Brothers, of this place and Lubbock, was over this past week looking after business at this point, and visiting his brother, W. M., manager of the local store.

ENGINEERS PAID MORE THAN TEXAS GOVERNOR

Washington, Aug. 19.—In a three minute speech to the House of Representatives this afternoon, Mr. Blanton read into the record figures received from the general manager of the Eastern lines of the Pennsylvania system, showing the rates of pay received by conductors and engineers in both freight and passenger service, and compared them with pay of civil and military officers. For the month of July, he stated, freight engineers received $392.35, passenger engineers $376.85, passenger conductors $313.90 and freight conductors $308.55.

"The Governor of Texas only receives $333.33 per month, and a Colonel in the army receives the same rate of pay," declared Mr. Blanton. "A Lieutenant Colonel gets no more than $291.66, a Major $250, and a Captain $208.33. In other words, members of these two brotherhoods get more than does the Governor of the Great State of Texas or a Colonel in the United States Army. The District Judge in Texas, who succeeded me when I came to Congress, resigned the other day because of the pay he was receiving. His salary was about $10 per day, and in his letter of resignation he declared that common laborers in many instances were receiving that much." Mr. Blanton referred to the resignation of Judge Joe Burkett. The galleries loudly applauded Blanton's salary comparisons.

CASTRO COUNTY HAD A GREAT PICNIC LAST WEEK

What was said to have been the largest crowd ever assembled in Castro county greeted the hospitable citizenship of Dimmitt last Thursday on invitation to attend the big annual Picnic planned for that day. Approximately 2,000 people assembled around the pretty little Castro county courthouse lawn.

The big feature of the day was the "eats". Nothing like it was ever witnessed before. Fried chicken, beef, ham and every conceivable kind of food under the sun was provided in limitless quantities, and the visitors were stuffed until their eyes bugged out.

Another unique feature of the occasion was the absolute lack of "hot air" of any kind. There was no speech-making whatever, the entire day being given up to eating, sociability and various amusements and games. Incidentally the Dimmitt baseball team slaughtered an aggregation from Hereford during the afternoon. Horse racing, potato races, etc., entertained the tremendous crowd until supper time, when another whirl was taken at the still laden tables.

It was a great day for Castro county, perfectly handled and greatly enjoyed by bunches of visitors from Hereford, Plainview, Tulia, Lubbock and many other points over the State.—Hereford Brand.

MUST RATIFY PEACE TREATY AS IT STANDS

THERE CAN BE NEITHER AMENDMENT NOR RESERVATIONS SENATORS ARE TOLD.

Washington.—The senate must accept the peace treaty and the league of nations covenant as they stand, or reject them utterly, President Wilson has told the senate foreign relations committee.

There can be neither amendment nor reservation in the ratification resolution if the senate would avoid sending the compact back both to the allies and Germany for reconstruction and reacceptance, he said.

The president added, however, with reference to Article X:

"I do hope that we are at liberty contemporaneously with our acceptance of the treaty, to interpret our moral obligations under that article."

In a prepared statement to the committee, the president also declared there could be no reasonable objections to interpretations accompanying the act of ratifications, providing they do not form a part of the ratification resolutions.

In addition to emphasizing the fact that in his opinion either amendment or reservation would throw the treaty back into the turmoil of new negotiations, the president urged on the committee the imperativeness of speedy ratification, reciting that the Austrian, Hungarian and other treaties still to be completed are delayed by waiting disposition of the German treaty, and that American prosperity awaits the restoration of peace.

POLES ARE ATTACKED BY GERMANS IN SILESIA

Poles Drive Them Out and Occupy Two Villages on German Side of Line.

Warsaw.—Hostilities have broken out between the Germans and Poles on the southwestern Silesian frontier, the Germans suddenly attacking the Polish lines and occupying two villages. The Polish population rose and drove them out and occupied two villages on the German side of the line of demarcation.

Herbert Hoover, chairman of the allied relief organization, who is visiting Poland, immediately ordered American army officers in the area to co-operate in an effort to bring about a cessation of hostilities.

HIGH PRICES BLAMED FOR GROWING UNREST

Immediate Action by Congress to Reduce Cost of Living Urged by Both Houses.

Washington.—Quicker action by congress in the campaign to reduce the cost of living is urged on senate and house. Senator Walsh declared high prices were at the bottom of all the unrest, and charged that congress was wasting time when something should have been done already in response to President Wilson's recommendations.

Mayors of New Jersey cities, appearing before the house agriculture committee, said action was needed at once to stop the rising scale of prices. Regulation of imports was one means suggested. The amendment broadening the food control act will be considered by the committee.

Absence of a quorum in the house has delayed final vote on a resolution calling for the federal trade commission to begin immediate inquiry into "the increase in the price of shoes."

BAKER INSISTS ON AN ARMY OF 576,000 MEN

Refuses Responsibility for Smaller Force in View of Conditions.

Washington.—Secretary Baker has defended before the senate subcommittee on military affairs his recommendation for an army of 576,000 men by saying that in view of the "disturbed conditions in the world," he did not wish the "responsibility" of asking for a smaller force.

Secretary Baker indicated several times that the bill as presented, including its provision for compulsory universal military training for 19-year-old youths, was that of military experts rather than his own, although it had his approval. He said that his own "guess" was that an army of 576,000 was perhaps somewhat larger than necessary, but that he did not wish to take the responsibility of opposing the opinion of the country's greatest military men.

Will Not Recognize Joseph.

Paris.—The supreme council has decided that it will make no reply to the communication of Archduke Joseph, governor of state in Budapest, asking for recognition.

Pershing Will Visit Italy.

London.—General Pershing has left for Italy, and will leave that country the last of this week. He will start for home Sept. 1, leaving less than 40,000 American soldiers in Europe.

Ban is Placed on Grain Exports.

Galveston, Texas.—The southern export committee placed an embargo on barley, corn, oats, rye and wheat from all origins to or via Texas ports, New Orleans and Mobile. Permits will be granted as exceptions.

MORE PAY DEMANDED BY RAILROAD MEN

WAGE SCALE INCREASE FROM 35 TO 65 PER CENT ADOPTED BY BROTHERHOODS.

Cleveland, Ohio.—A 35 to 65 per cent increase in wages is demanded for 117,000 firemen and hostlers on railroads in the United States and Canada in a wage scale adopted before adjournment by 300 general chairmen of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Engineers in session here.

Another demand to be presented to the director general of railroads is that all coal burning locomotives in road service weighing 200,000 pounds and over shall be equipped with mechanical stokers and that two firemen shall be employed on all such locomotives until they are so equipped.

About half of the 80,000 engines in the United States will come under this proposal, only about 5,000 of which are equipped with mechanical stokers at present.

In accepting the report of the wage committee some modifications were made, but the report was adopted in the main part.

Rate of pay for firemen and helpers in passenger service $6.50 per day of 100 miles or less, except when Mallet engines are used, when $7.20 shall be paid.

Overtime in passenger service will be computed on the present basis at a speed of 20 miles an hour.

In freight service on engines weighing less than 200,000 pounds, firemen shall be paid $6.50, and on engines weighing over 200,000 pounds $6.80 per day of 100 miles or less, overtime to be computed on present basis at a speed of 12½ miles per hour.

Inside hostlers shall be paid $6.50 per day and outside hostlers $7.20 per day, eight hours or less to constitute a day's work. All time work in excess of eight hours to be paid at rate of time and one-half.

MEXICAN BANDITS HOLD TWO AMERICAN FLYERS

American Aviators Threatened With Death Unless $15,000 Ransom Paid

Marfa, Texas.—Letters purporting to be from Lieutenants Paul H. Davis and Harold G. Peterson, American army aviators, missing for over a week, have been received here at military headquarters. The letters stated the aviators were being held by bandits for $15,000 ransom somewhere in Mexico and were threatened with death unless the ransom was paid, according to the letters.

The demand for the ransom was received here and a report made at once to Major General Dickman, commander of the southern department. An unconfirmed report was also received here that the aviators were being held at point close to the American border and that Chico Cano, a famous bandit of the Big Bend-Ojinaga district, was the leader of the bandit band hiding the aviators.

GERMAN PEOPLE GIVEN VOICE IN CONSTITUTION

Legislature to be Elected by General, Equal Ballots of Men and Women.

Berlin.—The new German constitution which was passed by the national assembly after months of debate and which became effective this week, provides that individual states will have legislative rights, but the imperial law will supersede those of the individual states. Each state must have a liberal constitution with a legislature elected by all Germans, men and women.

The constitution lays down rules for altering the empire territorially, providing that plebiscites shall be held in districts affected.

The reichstag supercedes the temporary national assembly. It will be elected for a term of four years. The president will be chosen by the entire German people instead of by the assembly, and will hold office for a term of seven years.

Men at Love Field Transferred.

Dallas.—Either a discontinuance of Love field or the employment of civilians to carry on the work is expected at that post by Lieutenant I. H. Edwards, executive officer, following preliminary instructions to transfer most of the enlisted personnel to Kelly field, San Antonio.

Refuse to Recall Von Der Goltz.

Berlin.—The German government has rejected the demand of the allies for the recall of General von der Goltz, commander in chief of the German forces in the Baltic province.

English Women Learning to Smoke.

London.—So many English women have become confirmed smokers that in recent months railway employes have hesitated to enforce the rules against smoking in certain carriages.

Sinn Fein Will Be Broken Up.

London.—The government announces that, owing to increase in crime in county Clare, Ireland, it has been decided to suppress all Sinn Fein and kindred organizations in that country.

Texas Silver Mines.

Washington.—During the first six months of 1919 the Presidio mine at Shafter, Texas, and other properties in western Texas have been producing at the rate of 590,000 ounces of silver a year.

AMERICAN TROOPS KILL FOUR BANDITS

COLONEL LANGHORN SUGGESTS THAT THE CARRANZA FORCES CO-OPERATE.

Marfa, Texas.—Four Mexican bandits have been killed by American troops in Mexico. Captain Leonard Matlack, who arrived here by airplane reported. They were surrounded in an adobe block house that the Mexicans had constructed in a mountain pass.

The bandits fought desperately and two escaped.

When the American troops approached the block house with the intention of searching it for hidden bandits the Mexicans opened fire from portholes.

The fire was returned and the blockhouse charged by the American cavalry troops.

Colonel Lanhorne, American army commander in the Big Bend district, has suggested to Cosme Benegoecha, Mexican consul at Presidio, Texas, that the consul communicate with General Pruneda, Mexican commander, who now is near Cuchillo Parado, and suggest to Pruneda that American and Mexican troops co-operate in pursuing the bandits who captured Aviators Davis and Peterson.

Candelaria, Texas.—Troops of the eighth cavalry crossed the Mexican border at 6:40 o'clock Tuesday morning in pursuit of the bandits who held Aviators Peterson and Davis for ransom. Davis and Peterson accompanied the troops, acting as guides.

Washington.—The American punitive expedition into Mexico after the bandits who held the two American aviators is being conducted with the full knowledge of authorities in Washington, who have been withholding announcement of the government's policy until the two Americans were safe.

Marfa, Texas.—Lieutenants H. G. Peterson and Paul H. Davis, aviators of the United States army, held captive for more than a week by Mexican bandits, who demanded a ransom of $15,000, were rescued Tuesday by Captain Matlack of the eighth cavalry and are safe in American territory.

Captain Matlack brought back with him $6,500 of the ransom money. He said after Peterson had been released Davis was brought forward by the bandits and the two mounted Captain Matlack's horse. The bandits demanded the remainder of the ransom money and Captain Matlack and Davis answered by riding rapidly away.

DISABLED MEN MAY NOW ENTER CIVIL SERVICE

Federal Examinations Will Be Waived in Cases Recommended by Board.

Dallas.—Notice has been received by W. F. Doughty, district vocational officer, that the federal civil service regulations have been amended by an executive order of the president placing upon the federal board for vocational education the responsibility of testing and certifying to the civil service disabled soldiers, sailors and marines who desire to enter that branch of service. The amended regulations permit the fullest cooperation of the government agencies with the federal board in the vocational rehabilitation of men disabled in the war.

All the rules governing the relation of the board to other governmental departments are being altered to simplify the work of each and facilitate the movement of the cases of the disabled men applying for aid. The new regulation of the civil service will permit the placing of the vocational board as to qualifications for the position, without recourse to examinations by both departments.

ARCHDUKE DECIDES TO HOLD REINS TEMPORARILY

Agrees to Resign, But Reconsiders at Request of Peasant Leaders.

Budapest.—Archduke Joseph has agreed to resign as temporary dictator of the Hungarian government because of the socialists' objection to him, but consented to remain in office for the time being when peasant leaders and members of the reactionary party protested. They declared they would cause the food blockade against Budapest to be re-established unless he continued to act as regent.

Suez Canal Blocked.

London.—The Suez canal has been blocked by the sinking of the Italian cruiser Basilicata after an explosion, according to advices from Port Said. The cruiser sank near Tewfik.

Headquarters for Memorial Fund.

Dallas.—This city will be county, state and southwestern headquarters of the campaign of the Roosevelt memorial association to raise $5,000,000 in the United States for the construction of two memorials to the late Theodore Roosevelt. A decision to that effect was made at a regional conference Tuesday. Twenty-five representatives from the states of the southwestern region, Louisiana, Oklahoma, Arkansas, New Mexico and Texas, attended the meeting.

FIX HEAVY FINE FOR FOOD PROFITEERING

BILL AS REPORTED PLACES ENFORCEMENT IN HANDS OF DEPARTMENT OF JUSTICE.

WILL REACH THE RETAILERS

Price Fixing Authority Is Not Included, and Farmers' Associations Are Exempted.

Washington.—No product is included in the amended food control act reported to the house of representatives by the agricultural committee; neither is there given an extension of the price fixing authority. Administration of the law, with a severe penalty of a fine of $5,000 or imprisonment, is left with the department of justice. The present law carries no penalty for operation during the war, but permitted enforcement through the licensing system. In the new bill this system is done away with. Retailers, exempted under the present law, are to be made amenable to the terms of the new act, and rendered liable to prosecution if found profiteering.

The reported bill specifically exempts farmers and co-operative associations of farmers. Otherwise it was held that they would be liable to prosecution for any movement undertaken to better their condition. Representative Young of Texas led the fight for exempting the farmer on the claim that they have not unduly profited, and that to destroy the right of the farmer to organize for bettering his condition would result in curtailing production.

"Republicans on the committee endeavored to extend the powers so the president would be authorized to fix prices on everything produced or consumed in the United States," said Mr. Young. "I, with others, opposed the extension of authority as in the case of the original legislation."

Mr. Young said he was fearful that the price of cotton would be made to suffer if the price-fixing idea had been adopted.

TEXAS GUARD MAY NOT GET PAY FOR TRAINING

Absence of Officers at Camp Stanley Counts Against Units Under Ruling.

Washington.—Unless the treasury department reverses its ruling, members of the new Texas cavalry regiments which spent some weeks in camp training will not receive pay for that service. The law requires that the attendance of organization must be 60 per cent of the enlisted force and 50 per cent of the officers before federal pay can be secured. While the troops were in training the officers trained at Camp Stanley and their absence is counted against the representation for the purpose of pay.

This matter has been laid before the secretary of war and the militia bureau by Colonel Claud V. Burkhead of San Antonio and Colonel John W. Young of Galveston.

DAYLIGHT SAVING LAW WILL END IN OCTOBER

Act Repealing Law Passed by Congress After it is Twice Vetted by President.

Washington.—Repeal of the daylight saving act has been accomplished, the senate voting to sustain the house in passing the repeal measure over President Wilson's veto. The vote was 57 to 19.

The repeal of the law which now takes its place among the very few which have been passed over a presidential veto becomes effective after the clocks are turned back to normal in October. It will go down in legislative history as one of the very few measures which have twice been vetoed by a president and became a law after all by the vote of more than two-thirds in both houses of congress.

WITHDRAWAL OF TROOPS REQUESTED BY CARRANZA

Intimated in Washington That Request Will Not Hasten Return of Cavalry.

Washington.—Immediate withdrawal of the American troops now on the trail of bandits in northern Mexico is asked by Mexican Ambassador Bonillas, who called at the state department to present a formal protest from the Carranza government. The text of the protest was not made public and officials would not discuss it further than to say that no reply had been made.

Federal Exhibit Now Ready.

Washington.—The exhibit of the United States department of agriculture at the Texas state fair in Dallas this fall will soon leave Washington for the southwestern circuit.

Green's Steam Yacht Aground. New Bedford, Mass.—E. H. R. Green's steam yacht United States is aground just inside Pandanaram breakwater. She is listed at an angle of 45 degrees with her starboard rails submerged and a hole in her bottom.

More than 300 cars of grain have moved from Ballinger to date this season.

The cotton crop in some sections near Mexia is being utterly destroyed by the boll worms.

A combinational carnival, soldiers' reunion, and county fair will be held at Madisonville Sept. 11-12.

An American Legion post was organized in Lockhart recently with a full set of officers and fifty-two members.

The federal court of the northern district of Texas will convene at Fort Worth Sept. 1 for a session of two weeks.

In the road bond election held Saturday in Uvalde precinct for $250,000 of road bonds the election carried by a substantial majority over the necessary two-thirds.

While the cotton crop of Washington County is not as good as usual, there will be compensation to the farmers in the bumper corn crops all over the county.

During the first six months of 1919 the Presidio mine at Shafter, Texas, and other properties in Western Texas have been producing at the rate of 590,000 ounces of silver a year.

A total of 108 cars of wheat and oats has been shipped out from Holland, in Bell County, already this year, while in addition the farmers have more than plenty for their own use.

This year's cotton crop in Texas is estimated at 48 per cent of a whole crop by the State Farmers' Union, according to D. C. Reedy of the state department of warehouses and markets.

Governor Hobby has announced the re-appointment of John Alexander Norris of Wharton as a member of the board of water engineers from district No. 2 for the six-year term, commencing September 1, 1919.

The Bexar County tax rate for the year 1919 was reduced by the county commissioners court this week, when they sat as a board of equalization. The rate was set at 54 cents, which is 3 cents less than the rate for 1918.

Judge Joseph Burkett of the eighty-eighth district court has sent his resignation to Governor Hobby. Judge Burkett served one term as judge of the forty-second district. When the eighty-eighth district was created for Eastland County he was elected judge.

Dr. L. G. Combs, inspector in charge of hog cholera control work in Texas, is preparing to co-operate with the extension service, animal husbandry division of the Agricultural and Mechanical College, in organizing swine breeders' associations in different parts of the state for the furtherance of the swine industry in Texas. A number of meetings will be scheduled for next month.

As a result of the governor's veto of the $125,000 to refund franchise taxes presented by foreign corporations to the state of Texas, the attorney general is returning claims and proof of payments to numerous corporations which had applied for the refund. The courts held that the franchise taxes were illegally collected by Texas and the legislature appropriated $125,000 to make refunds.

The attorney general's department has received many complaints against so-called wildcat oil concerns. Citizens are complaining that they bought stock in these companies on glowing representations and now find they have suffered a total loss. Unless a violation of the law is shown the attorney general is unable to act, though many irresponsible oil companies are selling what turns out to be valueless stock.

Because of failure to enforce the fire marshal's ordinance key rate charges have been restored by the state fire insurance commission in a number of the towns in Texas. Investigation by inspectors of the commission to ascertain whether or not towns of the state are enforcing the fire marshal's ordinance continues and it is probable that other towns will be added to the list. In a number of instances no effort whatever has been made to enforce the ordinance, according to information given out by the fire insurance commission.

More than 1100 men within the draft age, most of them of Mexican parentage, fled to Mexico from counties along the Texas border to escape the operation of selective service law at the outbreak of the war, according to figures gathered by officials of the department of justice stationed at Corpus Christi. Many of these have returned and have pleaded guilty before federal courts and received sentences, while others are crossing the line daily to give themselves up to the government officials.

Lift off Corns!

Doesn't hurt a bit and Freezone costs only a few cents.

With your fingers! You can lift off any hard corn, soft corn, or corn between the toes, and the hard skin calluses from bottom of feet. A tiny bottle of "Freezone" costs little at any drug store; apply a few drops upon the corn or callus. Instantly it stops hurting, then shortly you lift that bothersome corn or callus right off, root and all, without one bit of pain or soreness. Truly! No humbug!

WHEN KIDNEYS ACT TOO OFTEN

If bothered with that form of kidney trouble which causes too frequent or excessive passage of urine, don't expect relief from medicines that are intended for common kidney complaint. These remedies generally are intended to increase kidney action.

Liquid Shu Make should always be used where the kidneys are over active during the day or at night. It is not a cure for all forms of kidney trouble, but is intended for over-activity of the kidneys of both children and adults alike, especially for children bothered with kidney action at night.

Ask any druggist for Liquid Shu Make or enclose sixty cents to the Shumake Remedy Company, Fort Worth, Texas, for a bottle by return mail.—Adv.

CHAPTER XXV—Continued.

She turned her head, and I felt her eyes searching the dim outline of my face questioningly.

"Of course I did everything I knew," she replied. "Why should I not? You are here. Captain Carlyle, for my sake; I love you service."

"And must I be content merely with that thought?" I urged, far from pleased. "This would mean that your only interest in me arises from gratitude."

"And friendship," her voice as confidential as my own. "There is no reason why you should doubt that surely."

"It would be easier for me to understand, but for the memory of what I am—a bond slave."

"Your meaning is that true friendship has as a basis equality?"

"Does it not? Can real friendship exist otherwise?"

"No," she acknowledged gravely. "And the fact that such friendship does exist between us evidences my high in you. I have never felt this social distinction, Captain Carlyle, have given it no thought. This may seem strange to you, yet is most natural. You bear an honorable name, and belong to a family of gentlemen. You held a position of command, won by your own efforts. You bore the part of a man in a revolution; if guilty of any crime, it was a political one, in no way sullied your honor. I have every reason to believe you were falsely accused and convicted. Consequently that conviction does not exist between us; you are not my uncle's servant, but my friend—you understand me now?"

"And you would actually have me speak with you as of your own class—a free man, worthy to claim your friendship in life?"

"Yes," frankly, her face uplifted. "Why should it be otherwise? No man could have done more, or proved himself more staunch and true. We are in danger yet, but such peril is nothing compared with what I have escaped. I feel that your skill and courage will bring us safely to land. I am no longer afraid, for I have learned to trust you. You possess my entire confidence."

"But do you understand fully?" I questioned anxiously. "All I have done for you would have been done for any other woman under the same conditions of danger. Such service to another would have been a duty, and no more. But to be with you, aiding and protecting, has been a delight, a joy. I have served Dorothy Fairfax for her own sake—not as I would any other."

"Did you not suppose I knew?" Her glance flashed into mine through the star-gleam, with a sudden message of revelation.

"You knew—that that it was you personally I served?"

"Of course I knew. A woman is never unaware of such things. Now, if ever, I must tell you the truth. I know you care for me, and have cared since first we met. An interest no less careful has led me to seek your acquaintance, and give you my aid. Surely it is not unmanly for me to confess this when we face the chance of death together?"

"But," I stammered, "I can scarcely believe you realize your words. I—I love you Dorothy."

"And is it not also possible for me to love?"

"You—you mean, you love me?"

"I love you—are you sorry?"

"Sorry! I am mad with the joy of it; yet stricken dumb. Dorothy Fairfax, I have never even dared dream of such a message from your lips. Dear, dear girl, do you forget who I am? What my future?"

"I forget nothing," she said, proudly. "It is because I know what you are that my heart responds. Nor is your future so clouded. You are today a free man if we escape these perils, for whether Roger Fairfax be alive, or dead, he will never seek you again to hold in servitude. If alive he will join his efforts with mine to obtain a pardon because of these services, and we have influence in England. Yet, should such effort fail, you are a sailor, and the seas of the world are free. It is not necessary that your vessel fly the English flag."

"You give me hope—a wonderful hope."

"And courage," her hands firmly clasping mine. "Courage to fight on in faith. I would have that my gift to you, Geoffrey. We are in peril still, great peril, but you will face it beside me, knowing that whether we live or die we are together. I am not afraid any more."

CHAPTER XXVI.
A Floating Coffin.
The laboring boat rested so low in the water it was only as we were thrown upward on the crest of a wave that I could catch any view about through the pallid light of the dawn. It was all a desolate, restless waste in the midst of which we tossed, while above hung masses of dark clouds obscuring the sky. We were but a hurrying speck between the gray above and the gray below.

The first thing needing my attention was the food and water. I crept forward cautiously and soon had Sam busily engaged in passing out the various articles for inspection. Only essentials had been chosen, yet the supply seemed ample for the distance I believed we would have to cover before attaining land. But the nature of that unknown coast was so doubtful I determined to deal out the provisions sparingly, saving every crumb possible. The men grumbled at the smallness of the ration, yet munched away contentedly enough, once convinced that we all shared alike.

"All right, lads," I said cheerfully. "Now we understand each other and can get at work. We'll divide into watches first of all—two men aft here and one at the bow. Watkins and I will take it watch and watch, but there is enough right now for all hands to turn to and make the craft ship-shape. Two of you haul out that water till she's dry, and the others get out that extra sail forward and rig up a jib. She'll ride easier and make better progress with more canvas showing."

The men gradually knocked off work and lay down, and finally I yielded to Dorothy's pleadings and fell into a sound sleep. It seemed as though I scarcely lost consciousness, yet I must have slept for an hour or more, my head pillowed on her lap. When I awoke Schmitt was again at the steering paddle, and both he and Dorothy were staring across me out over the port quarter.

"What is it?" I asked eagerly, but before the words were entirely uttered a hoarse voice forward bawled out excitedly:

"There you see it; straight out agin that cloud edge. It's a full-rigged schooner."

"Ay," boomed another, "an' headin' straight cross our course astern."

I reached my feet, clinging to the mast to keep erect and, as the boat was again flung upward, gained clearly the glimpse I sought.

"Ay, you're right, lads!" I exclaimed. "It's a schooner, headed to clear us by a hundred fathoms. Port your helm, Schmitt—hard down, man. Now, Sam, off with that red shirt; tie it on the boat hook and let fly. They can't help seeing us if there is any watch on deck."

We swept about in a wide circle, headed straight across the bows of the on-coming vessel. All eyes stared out watchfully, Sam's shirt flapping above us, and both Watkins and Schmitt straining their muscles to hold the plunging quarter-boat against the force of the wind. A man forward on his knees growled out a curse.

"What's the matter aboard there?" he yelled. "Did yer ever see a boat yaw like that, afore? Damn me, if I believe they got a hand at the wheel."

The same thought had leaped into my mind. The schooner was headed to pass us on the port quarter, yet yawing so crazily at times as to make me fearful of being run down. I could perceive no sign of life aboard, no signal that we had been seen. The slight angered me.

"Stand by, all hands," I cried desperately. "We'll board whether they want us or not. Slip across, Miss Fairfax, out of the way. Now, Watkins, run us in under those fore-chains; easy man, don't let her strike us. Lay hold quick, lads, and hang on for your lives. Give me that end of rope—ready now, all of you; I'll make the leap. Now then—hold hard!"

It was five feet, and up, my purchase the tossing boat, but I made it, one hand desperately gripping a shroud, until I gained balance and was flung inboard by a sharp plunge of the vessel. My head was at a level with the rail, yet I saw nothing, my whole effort being to make fast before the grip of the men should be torn loose. This done, I glanced back into the up-turned faces below.

"Hand in slowly, lads; yes, let go, the rope will hold, and the boat ride safely through. Let a couple of men come up till we see what's wrong with the hooker—the rest of you trail on. Let Schmitt and Sam come with me."

I helped them clamber up and then lifted my body onto the rail, from which position I had a clear view of the forward deck. It was inexcessibly dirty, yet otherwise ship-shape enough. Nothing human greeted me, and conscious of a strange feeling of horror, I slipped over onto the deck. The next moment the negro and Dutchman joined me, the former staring about wildly, the whites of his eyes revealing his terror.

"My Gawd, sah," he ejaculated. "Ah done know dis boat—it's shore de Santa Marie. Ah's cooked in dat galley. She was a slaver, sah." He sniffed the air. "A kin smell dem niggers right now, sah. Ah suh reckon dars a bunch o' ded ones under dem hatches right dis minute."

Schmitt's hand fell heavily on my sleeve and I glanced into his stolid face.

"I just bet I know vat was der trouble."

"What, man?"

"Cholera," he whispered; "ve haf boarded a death ship."

CHAPTER XXVII.

On Board the Slaver.

The terror of the two men as this thought dawned upon them in all its horror was apparent enough. Nothing, not even fire, was more to be dreaded than a visitation of this awful nature on shipboard. Charnel ship though this might be, it was safer by far than the cockleshell towing alongside.

"Let's find out the truth first, men," I said quietly. "Hold your tongues. There is no use giving up until we know what the danger is. Will you come with me?"

The terror in Sam's eyes caused me to laugh and my own courage came back with a rush.

"Afraid of dead men, are you? Then we'll face them together, my lads, and have it over with. Come on, now, both of you. Buckle up; there is nothing to fear, if you do what I tell you—this isn't the first cholera ship I've been aboard."

It was no pleasant job confronting us, although we had less dead men to handle than I anticipated. Indeed we found only five bodies on board. There were only two on deck, a giant, coal-black negro, and a gray-bearded white man, his face pitted with smallpox. Determined on what was to be done, I wasted no time with either body. The two sailors hung back, terrorized at the mere thought of touching these victims of plague. I steered myself to the job and handled them alone, dragging the bodies across the deck and launching them over the low rail into the sea. I ordered Schmitt to cut the lashings and take charge of the wheel.

"See here, Sam, and you too, Schmitt, I am in love with that girl in the boat. Do you suppose I would ever have her come on this deck if I believed she might contract cholera? You do as I say and you are perfectly safe. Now, Schmitt, remain at the wheel, and you, Sam, come with me. There will be a dead nigger aboard unless you jump when I speak."

He trotted close at my heels as I flung open the door leading into the cabin. The air seemed fresh enough and I noted two of the ports wide open. A tall, smooth-shaven man, with an ugly scar down one cheek, lay outstretched on a divan at the foot of the after mast, his very posture proclaiming him dead. His face was the color of parchment, wrinkled with age.

The negro crept up behind me and stared at the upturned face.

"My Gawd, sah, he was de ol' captain. Paradilla, sah; damn his soul!"

In what was evidently the captain's room I discovered a prickled chart and log-book, with no entry in it for three days. Without waiting to examine these I stowed them away in my pocket. Between us we forced the stiffened form of the captain through the open after port and heard it splash into the sea astern. There were two dead seamen in the fore-castle, both swarthy fellows, with long Indian hair. I never saw a dirtier hole, the filth overpowering, and once satisfied that both men were beyond help, I was content to lower the scuttle and leave them there. God! it was a relief to return once more to the open deck and breathe in the fresh air. I hailed the boat yawing below.

"Come aboard, Watkins," I called sharply. "Pass the lady up first, and turn the boat arf-ast."

I caught Dorothy's hands and aided her over the rail.

"Why was the vessel abandoned?" she asked. "What has happened? Do you know?"

Quietly I told her the truth and reassured her that if we staid on deck and used our own bedding and provisions we were in no danger.

"How can I help you?"

"Tell the men just what I have told you," I said gravely. "They will be ashamed to show less courage than you."

We turned and faced them together as they formed a little group against the rail. Hallin was first to speak.

Soul That is Truly Great.
Emerson, that greatest of modern philosophers, has told us that it is easy when in a crowd to allow ourselves to be swayed by the opinions about us and comparatively easy to keep our individuality and sweetness when alone, but that the great soul is he who in the midst of a mass of other individuals can still keep the poise and sweetness of solitude.

Work and Workers.
There is not so much difference in the world's work as in the world's workers. It is not so much difference what we are doing—so long as it is useful—that counts as the way in which we are doing it. The work of which we are ashamed we either have no right to do, or we are not doing it as we should.

EFFICIENT APPLE STORAGE HOUSE WILL INSURE GROWER AGAINST MATERIAL LOSS

Common Storage Protects the Apple Against Extreme Heat, Cold and Moisture.

(Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture.)

It is just about as reasonable to expose butter to the heat of the mid-summer sun and expect it to retain its firm, solid consistency as it is to try to keep apples in an attractive, marketable condition in the storage houses available on many farms. An efficient storage is the grower's insurance against loss; it permits of carrying the fruit in good condition after it is removed from the orchard and previous to the time when it is consigned to commercial storage. Common storage consists of an inexpensive, ventilated house for the storage of apples for the season, utilizing natural ventilators with cold night air instead of refrigeration. Another use of common storage is to furnish temporary housing for the crop so that the apples may be kept under favorable conditions after picking and previous to shipment to market or permanent cold storage. Time was—and not so very remote at that—when common storage for apples was a prerequisite on every farm which boasted much of an orchard, and this applies equally to the eastern as well as to the northern and western states.

A new interest is developed in common storage for apples, particularly in the eastern states, as well as in other sections of the country, such as the Pacific northwest where about 50 per cent of the apples placed in storage are held through the season in common storage houses.

Better Storage Facilities.
It is not to be supposed that common storage for apples can displace the commercial cold storage warehouse which offers greatly improved conditions for proper storage. However, the insufficiency of cold storage space during the war period in many of the old apple-growing sections as well as difficulties in handling or moving the crop promptly, emphasized the importance of better facilities for the handling of storage apples, and the new districts planted during recent years are in some cases entirely without commercial storage warehouses. The United States department of agriculture is receiving many inquiries from fruit growers and shippers in all sections of the country relative to the proper construction of suitable apple storages.

Federal investigations of the handling and storage of apples, which have been conducted with special reference to the Pacific northwest, have shown that properly insulated storages, provided with the necessary means of ventilation, can be successfully operated, and allow the grower to hold his fruit in prime condition for the market.

Care in the operation of these storage houses is just as important as in their construction. The best of storage houses sometimes fall through the carelessness of the owners in neglecting to provide proper ventilation for the building, particularly as regards the provision of ventilators which may be kept open when the temperature conditions outside make it desirable, while the ventilators should be closed tightly whenever the outside temperatures are higher than those inside the house. Carefully worked out plans and drawings are being prepared by the United States department of agriculture and will be sent free on request to any farmer.

Insulation of Houses.
The early commercial storage houses were insulated with mill shavings and sawdust, investigations by the federal department demonstrating that these materials are ideally suited for insulation and not so expensive as cardboard and other prepared insulation materials. It is essential to keep all insulation material dry, this being why shavings are preferred to sawdust, as it is difficult to obtain dry sawdust in large quantities. On the other hand, planer-mill shavings made from seasoned lumber require no artificial drying and should be tightly packed in the wall, which must be at least six inches thick. The outside wall of the storage house should be composed of two layers of boards between which waterproof paper should be used. It is not essential to duplicate this in the inside wall, as here only one thickness of boards may be used in the interest of cheaper construction, although such an arrangement is not as satisfactory for long use as is a double thickness of boards on both inside and outside surfaces of the walls and ceiling.

The common storage house should be built with a false floor approximately three feet above the earth or concrete floor. Intake vents should be placed on four sides of the house, opening below the level of the false floor. The intake vents should be at least 24 by 30 inches and should be provided with tight-fitting insulated doors, being placed about 15 feet apart. Outlet flues should extend from the ceiling of the storage room vertically to the roof and should open into the cupola, the lower end of the outlet flue in each case being provided with a door to be closed whenever the intake vents are closed. The outlet flues should be not less than 20 square feet in cross section for every 3,000 square feet of floor space. The ventilation is usually accomplished at night, as the temperature at that time usually is lower than during the day, although even then it requires careful attention.

In the storage of apples about eight cubic feet of storage space are necessary for the accommodation of each barrel of fruit. On this basis any grower can quickly determine the amount of space he needs. The height of the storage room ordinarily should be about 11 feet from floor to ceiling.

Handling the Apples.

The question is often asked, "Why does one lot of apples keep well in storage while another lot of the same variety will show serious decay and costly deterioration early in the season?" Investigations of the department of agriculture show two principal causes of apple spoilage in storage. One comes from not picking apples at the proper stage of maturity—when the seeds have turned brown or nearly black, when the apples part readily from the fruit spurs in picking, and when the underlying color of the skin, or ground color, has turned from deep leaf green to a lighter yellow-green hue, as these are the earmarks of the prime storage apple. Another reason for deterioration comes from allowing the picked apples to remain in the orchard or in a warm packing house exposed to daily changes in the temperature, or exposed directly to the sun's heat. As a rule it is not possible to note the serious effects of this exposure at the time the apples are placed in storage, although a heavy loss is sure to occur later when the fruit is treated in this manner.

Apples properly handled and placed in storage promptly may keep in excellent condition from four to six months, while fruit from the same trees may deteriorate quickly in storage due to delay in handling promptly from the tree to the storage house. From the storage standpoint one of the most serious problems that the individual grower and shipper has to work out is to arrange his operations so that his apples can be handled promptly and expeditiously from the trees to the storage.

PREVENT HOG CHOLERA LOSS

Important to Keep House and Lot Clean to Thwart Outbreaks of Deadly Disease.

(Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture.)
One means of increasing our supply of food is to prevent loss from hog cholera. Keep the hog house and lot clean. This is important in preventing outbreaks. If any of the hogs show signs of sickness notify the state live stock sanitary authorities, the county agent, or local veterinarian. Steps taken in the early stages of the disease can probably prevent loss, but if delayed many hogs may die.

A NERVOUS BREAKDOWN

Miss Kelly Tells How Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Restored Her Health.

Newark, N. J.—"For about three years I suffered from nervous breakdown and got so weak I could hardly stand, and had headaches every day. I tried everything I could think of and was under a physician's care for two years. A girl friend had used Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and she told me about it. From the first day I took it began to feel better and now I am well and able to do every kind of work. I have been recommending the Compound ever since and give you my permission to publish this letter."—Miss FLO KELLY, 476 So. 14th St., Newark, N. J.

The reason this famous root and herb remedy, Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, was so successful in Miss Kelly's case was because it went to the root of her trouble, restored her to a normal healthy condition and as a result her nervousness disappeared.

Young Man Hangs Self At Crosbyton

Wilkie Gott, a young man living in the Cone community, was arrested Sunday night on the serious charge of criminally assault upon the person of Miss Onie Hughes, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Hughes of the same community. When first arrested it was understood that he only attempted criminal assault, and after being examined in justice court here, his bond was placed at $1000, but later, when it was learned that the young lady had suffered actual assault, he was re-arrested, and his bond fixed at $10,000, which we understand was made.

LATER—Proceedings in the Wilkie Gott case were brought to a sudden halt Monday morning by the tragic death of the young man in the jail at Crosbyton, he committing suicide by hanging himself with his belt sometime Sunday night. He accomplished the act by getting up in a chair, passing the belt around his neck and through the grating of the cell, and drawing it as tight as possible, kicked the chair from under him. ## R. A. BALDWIN

—FOR—

State Representative

HON. R. A. BALDWIN,
Slaton, Lubbock County, Texas

Mr. Baldwin is a candidate for State Representative from the 122nd Representative District of Texas, Special Election, Aug. 30, 1919.

Lubbock County unhesitatingly commends him to the citizenship of the 122nd District as the proper person to be our next Representative. He can be depended upon to represent the interests of West Texas and of this Representative District in the Legislature in a manner in keeping with an exceptional legal ability, high sense of public duty, moral responsibility and intellectual attainment. He will make his influence felt on the right side of the important questions confronting West Texas. We believe this district has no need to look further for a Representative who, if elected, will serve her honorably and well. A vote for Mr. Baldwin is a vote for the best interests of West Texas. Remember the date and come out and vote for him.

Very sincerely yours,

Baldwin Campaign Committee,

C. L. ADAMS, CHAIRMAN, Lubbock, Texas.
R. J. MURRAY, CHAIRMAN, Slaton, Texas.

ONE PRICE IS THE THING:---

It is not my intention to mislead our customers; however, my prediction is the high prices have not been reached yet and would advise our customers and friends the earlier they buy their Goods and Shoes the less money they will have to pay. We have one of the best selected stock of goods in town; the latest and newest patterns of Silks, Georgetts, Tafata's Masaline, Colinal Satin's, Faile Franouise Floral Georgett's; new colors in French Serges and Wool Poplins.---Shoes are getting higher every day; the sooner you buy your fall Shoes the cheaper they will be; we have some of the most beautiful Boots for ladies and Misses; brown, black and grey Boots, also the latest styles for men and boys. Come in and see them any time.
