

Lynn County Fair A Great Success Thurs. and Friday

The Lynn County Fair threw open gates on schedule time last Friday morning and the people flocked while the number of early goers was not sufficient to fill the grounds of the Jones Wagon Yard at once, crowds kept coming all morning by noon there was a large attendance. Saturday the crowd was larger than the first day, however, the number of people attending did not reach the proportions that were expected by the promoters of the fair.

This was accounted for by reason of the fact that the farmers of Lynn county are extremely busy just this time gathering their grain and crops and could not well spare two days time to take in the fair.

Workers were busy the first morning around up and finishing off exhibits. There were numerous individual exhibits of agricultural products, fine arts and fruits; also a number of the business firms of the county had magnificent booths under large sheds. Those who had individual agricultural booths were C. Brown, N. M. Bray and W. J. Crouch, all of whom were in a class themselves and brought many favorable comments from the throngs of farmers. Business concerns having exhibits were: The Bradley-Tahoka Co., Thomas Bros. Drug Co., Leedy Meat Market, H. M. Larlow's Garage, Smith's Tailor and the McCormack Store.

Special mention is made of the display of fruits and vegetables. She also had a number of canned goods valued at hundreds of dollars; one quilt was on display containing 4,056 pieces. There were a number of other ladies and a nice showing of canned goods. The horse and mule sheds were well filled with sleek, glossy steeds, many of which were thoroughbred. The hog show was the largest ever. There were a number of registered royal grunners.

The cattle show was larger than any ever held in the county and the breeds represented were Holsteins, Shorthorns and Jerseys. Stock and fowl exhibits were up to their usual standard of excellence and were very numerous. The ladies building proved popular resort and contained more than the usual showings of artistic needle work, paintings, etc.

In all the exhibits were so perfect that the difference was negligible to the untrained eye. The showings were surpassing in quality but the display and artistic effects were superior to the 9th degree.

It is likely that a fair organization will be formed and the fair in Lynn county will be an annual event. An amusement committee were formed in obtaining a rodeo and a "Go-Round" to entertain the people, and together with the numerous refreshment stands at prominent places, every one present seemed to enjoy the two days fair to the full.

Miss Amandy Leedy appointed postmistress of Tahoka. The position of postmistress of Tahoka, Texas, was received here yesterday afternoon. Miss Amandy Leedy is the daughter of J. B. Walker will probably devote his time to farming just west of city limits, where he and his wife have resided the past two years.

W. Brown Bishop, principal of the school at Lubbock, was visitor in Tahoka last Saturday. Professor Bishop formerly resided in Lynn county and it is hard to stay away from his old haunts here long at a time. He is always glad to have a chance to see his old friends and pay us a social visit.

TAHOKA IS EXPERIENCING A HEALTHY GROWTH

There is a spirit of optimism that is prevailing among the merchants and business men of Tahoka and is beginning to take on considerable proportions. All lines of business have been wonderfully stimulated within the past few weeks, since cotton has begun to be marketed. The real thing that has put new life into business is the sudden and unexpected rise in the price of cotton, from 10c to 20c and above per pound. As high as 20 1-2c per pound was paid in Tahoka the past week. Tahoka is blessed with a number of good cotton buyers, which by the way is bringing new business to the old town that otherwise would never reach here. Some six or seven buyers are at hand and bidding is lively at all times. Farmers who want the highest market price for their cotton will do well to make Tahoka their trading point.

The young lady was unable to attend school this week.

LEGISLATIVE WORK IS TAKEN UP IN SENATE

FOUR GRAVE SUBJECTS ARE FIRST DEMANDING ATTENTION OF SENATORS.

LIST HEADED IS BY TAX BILL

Precedence of Revenue Measure is Admitted But It May Be Side-tracked.

Washington.—The Senate finds itself in a legislative jam at the very outset of the post-vacation session.

Four major matters are before it clamoring for attention:

1. The revenue bill, called up in the Senate by Senator Penrose, chairman of the Finance Committee, with the announcement that consideration would be pressed.

2. The anti-beer bill, also called up in the Senate which Senator Sterling said he will push at every opportunity.

3. The Panama Canal tolls repeal, unfinished business in the Senate, on which there will be a vote by agreement Oct. 19.

4. Peace treaties with Germany, Austria and Hungary, immediate ratification of which has been asked by President Harding.

The tangle of business creates a situation that is taxing the ingenuity of Republican leadership. Adding to the difficulties is the small attendance.

Thirty-three Republicans and twenty-one Democrats answered the roll when Senator Lodge, Republican leader, made the point of no quorum Wednesday.

The revenue bill is conceded in all quarters to be entitled to precedence, but it is feared that other matters will interfere with its uninterrupted consideration.

The determination of dry to push the anti-beer bill means that it may bob up to provoke debate at any time.

The canal tolls repeal, it is expected, will cause discussion between now and the time for a vote.

The possibility of changes in leadership in both parties, aroused by the fact that Senators Lodge and Underwood have been named delegates to the armament conference, apparently has died out.

1,000 BODIES RECOVERED SO FAR IN BLAST RUINS

Berlin.—Casualties in the explosion disaster at Oppau will amount to more than four thousand killed and injured, it was estimated, as rescue parties penetrated the fogs of poison gas which hung over the scene of the tragedy.

Nearly 1,000 bodies already have been recovered.

More than 2,500 injured are being treated at hospitals.

French troops are guarding the area.

One report said a company of French troops stationed at the factory was wiped out by the explosion Wednesday.

Only a great gaping chasm marks the scene of the initial explosion.

The entire medical staff of the French army of occupation on the Rhine has arrived at Ludwigshafen to assist in treating the vast number of persons who were injured in the gigantic explosion which wrecked the plant of the Badische Anilinfabrik Company at Oppau with a total loss of life estimated at 1,200.

About two thousand persons were injured. All hospitals in Ludwigshafen and Mannheim are crowded and scores of public buildings and private homes have been converted into hospitals.

General De Gouette, commander in chief of the French army of occupation, and a detachment of French troops have arrived on the scene to assist the Germans in relief work.

Following an investigation, officials issued a statement saying the blast had occurred in a warehouse containing 200 tons of ammonium sulphate. The exact cause is not yet known.

Washington.—Examinations have been ordered by the Civil Service Commission to be held on Oct. 14 to select postmasters for the following Texas second-class offices: Alpine, Caldwell, Canyon, Coleman, College Station, DeLeon, Desdemona, Eastland, Gonzales, Graham, Henrietta, Iowa Park, Kennedy, Kerrville, Kingsville, Lubbock, Mexia, Orange, Stephenville, Strawn, Weatherford.

UNIVERSITY OF TEXAS LOSES 41 INSTRUCTORS

DR. VINSON TAKES GLOOMY VIEW AS TO OUTLOOK FOR INSTITUTION.

Austin, Texas.—President R. E. Vinson of the University of Texas takes a gloomy view of the University's future as a result of the cut in appropriation made by the second called session of the Thirty-Seventh Legislature. Dr. Vinson in a statement issued Tuesday said that the appropriations for the current fiscal year provided by the Legislature shall be strictly adhered to, this to be done both in the letter and spirit of the bill, and notwithstanding the fact that the maintenance and growth at the institution along normal lines may be hampered in so doing.

There have been up to this time forty-one resignations of members of the teaching staff of the University, Dr. Vinson said. Eleven of these are due to the reduction of salaries by the Legislature.

"It is anticipated by the board of regents that there may be a number of additional resignations due to this same cause before the year is ended," said Dr. Vinson. "While it is going to be impossible to carry on the work of the University in the manner and scope that its demands as a university of the first class require, we shall follow strictly the sentiment of the majority members of the Legislature as shown in the appropriation bill."

"This condition is due to the fact that as far as I have been able to discover Texas is the only State in the Union where university salaries have been decreased this year. Exactly the opposite action has been taken by a number of States, and consequently the University of Texas has already suffered serious damage because of this fact, and will undoubtedly suffer more seriously in the near future."

"The University can no more be free from the operation of the law of supply and demand than any other business organization, and the tremendous increase in the number of University students all over the country in the last two years is still in effect, and has made positions in other States where larger salaries are paid far in excess of the number of adequately prepared teachers who are available."

The present situation in Texas, therefore, renders the faculty of the University of Texas open to the attractive offers which are made elsewhere, with the inevitable result that the vacancies thus created can be filled only with such material as may be available under the salary list provided. While I regret this condition exceedingly, there is no way by which it can at present be avoided."

MEXICANS ARRIVE IN DALLAS WEDNESDAY

Dallas.—The official commission from Mexico, accompanying the Mexican exhibit for the State Fair of Texas, arrived in Dallas Wednesday morning and were met by welcoming committees from the city and the Fair Association. A series of courtesies and entertainments that will honor the guests during their entire stay in Dallas has been started.

The commission is composed of Luis G. Garfias J. Mauricio Carranza, Jorge Solorzano, Juan C. Campillo, Valle Genary, Montiel Olivera, Enrique Cervantes and Luis N. Rubacalva Jr. They were met at Laredo by Robert C. Lowery, official representative of the State Fair.

While complete plans for the entertainment of the visitors have not been made, the general committee in charge is working on a number of features. All of the entertainments will be city-wide in scope, permitting all of Dallas to extend a welcome to the guests. At least one elaborate banquet is contemplated.

The general committee is composed of Mayor Sawnie Aldredge, Frank M. Smith, president of the Chamber of Commerce; E. J. Kiest, president of the State Fair of Texas; C. L. Sanger, president of the Wholesale Merchants' Association, and Melvin K. Hurst, president of the Retail Merchants' Association.

Stamford Bond Issue Carries. Stamford, Texas.—At the meeting of the City Council Saturday the returns of the bond issue election, held Sept. 6, were canvassed and resulted as follows: For the issuance of bonds, 113 votes; against issuance of bonds, 13 votes.

Parker to Have Harvest Show. Weatherford, Texas.—Arrangements have finally been consummated where Parker County will have a harvest show in the early part of November.

Katy Has $75,000 Fire Loss. Wichita Falls, Texas.—A total loss which railway officials declare will probably reach $75,000 was suffered by the M. K. & T. Railroad Company when fire of undetermined origin broke out in the car shops in North Wichita Falls early Tuesday morning and consumed the woodwork, mill, seven freight cars, a small tank of crude oil and a large quantity of valuable machine shop equipment. The flames were first discovered at 2 o'clock.

TAFT IN CONTROL OF OIL FIELD STRIKERS

STRIKING OIL WORKERS IN CALIFORNIA DEPUTIZED FOR GUARDS.

Bakersfield, Cal.—Eight thousand striking oil workers were admittedly in control Monday night of the oil fields of the Taft district.

Deputized by the local officials who are said to be in sympathy with them, 450 of the strikers, most of them said to be ex-service men, have constituted themselves into a "law and order committee," and are patrolling the roads of the district, ostensibly for the purpose of "preventing bootlegging," but alleged to be actually for the purpose of preventing the importation of nonunion labor.

All automobiles traveling through the district are being stopped at strategic points, and the occupants and cars examined before they are allowed to proceed.

All suspicious-looking persons are turned back.

Strangers who wish to remain in the district must be examined by a self-constituted court of strikers.

Determination to act came, it is said, when the oil companies affected employed "Black Jack" Jerome of San Francisco, who with his "hard-boiled" gang has become famous for breaking strikes throughout the West, especially street car strikes, to recruit men in San Francisco for work in the oil fields.

A trainload of Jerome's workers were surprised by the strikers near Taft last Friday when their train on a branch line was derailed and the men forced to return to San Francisco by the strikers.

The business men of the oil town of Taft have raised a strike benefit fund of $4,000 for use in "maintaining law and order." It has been turned over to the strikers' committee.

Curiously enough, approximately the same number of men, 8,000, are still at work in the oil fields, a large number of them, especially those employed by the Standard Oil Company, being nonunion men.

They are not being molested by the strikers, who are union men, working for the most part for small independent companies.

"OPEN SHOP" MOVEMENT GETS SERIOUS SET-BACK

Chicago, Ill.—The "open shop" movement was given a sharp setback late Monday when the United States Railroad Labor Board ruled that the Pennsylvania Railroad must deal with labor unions as organizations. Refusal of the Pennsylvania to negotiate with a majority of its employes would be "nothing more or less than a denial and repudiation of the sovereign will of the United States as expressed by Congress," the board declared.

The board declined to grant a hearing upon the contention of the Pennsylvania that it should be permitted to deal with employe representatives not members of labor unions.

"If members of any class wish to join a union they have that right," the board declared. "If they desire to remain out or leave such a union at any time they have that right. If they or a majority of any class want a union or its officers to represent them they have that right. If they, whether union men or not, want other individuals to represent them they have that right."

"Neither this board nor the management of the Pennsylvania system has the right by any kind of plan or movement to dictate as to who shall be their representatives. Any attempt to do so is an unauthorized assumption of power."

MAKING OF HOME BREW IS DECLARED ILLEGAL

Washington.—Home brewers are hereby handed a prohibition decision with a real "kick" in it.

Intoxicants, says the Internal Revenue Bureau, can not legally be manufactured in the home. The well-established "home brew," as well as homemade wines and distilled spirits, even though they boast but one-half of 1 per cent alcohol or less, are illegal unless authorized by special permit.

Nonintoxicating fruit juice seems to be the only thing that can mark modern cellar activities and still be within the law.

This is the purport of a complicated home brew chart for the law-abiding issued Monday by the Internal Revenue Bureau.

Laws of Seven States Ignored. Washington.—The Senate Finance Committee refused to recognize the laws of Texas and six other States respecting community property and adopted in the Fordney general revenue bill.

Plot To Blow Up Prison. Lavenworth, Kan.—A plot to blow up a section of the main wall or the gate of the Federal penitentiary has been nipped, Warden W. L. Biddle and other prison officials announced Monday, saying that seven prisoners who were leaders in the plan have been placed in solitary confinement. Hidden in the prison carpenter shop, Warden Fred Zerbst found eleven home-made hand grenades, made from two-inch pipe, a bottle of explosive and a new revolver.

FARM GUARD IS KILLED BY NOTORIOUS BANDIT

Little Rock, Ark.—Tom Slaughter, notorious Oklahoma bandit, Sunday added another gory chapter to his long list of crimes, when in a sensational attempt to escape from the Arkansas penal farm he killed one man and perhaps fatally wounded two others, all trusty guards, with a rifle smuggled to him by someone on the outside.

Bliss Adkisson, draft register serving 18 years for murder committed when a posse tried to capture him and other resistors in the mountains of Cleburne County, was killed Jim Morris and DeWitt Garrett, the other guards, were shot through the body and are not expected to live. Lilburn Taylor, a convict, was injured in the right leg by a guard, but is not dangerously injured.

Slaughter obtained a rifle smuggled to him from his hiding place in one of the bathroom, where there were more than a hundred convicts at the time.

He ordered the convicts to lie down and through a window began picking off the guards. Morris was shot first and then Garrett. Crossing to another window he fired on Adkisson, killing him with the first shot. Slaughter fired at several officials and then started to make a break for the open. As he reached the door Sam Payne, life term, opened fire on him with a pistol. His aim was so accurate that Slaughter threw away his gun, raised a handkerchief and surrendered.

Teachers Meet in Dallas Next. Fort Worth, Texas.—Dallas will be host to approximately 8,000 educators when the Texas State Teachers' Association holds its convention there beginning Thanksgiving Day, Nov. 24, according to a forecast made by R. T. Ellis of Fort Worth, secretary of the association. The sessions will continue through Nov. 26. More than 7,000 teachers already have registered for the convention and this number is expected to increase to well over 8,000 Mr. Ellis said.

"SHOWING OFF" THE COLONEL

Storekeeper Had Eye for Business in Keeping Good-Looking Customer Waiting for Attention.

A woman in a small town asked her husband, Colonel Blank, to call in at the dairy when passing to order some new-laid eggs. After making a brief demur the colonel yielded. A little later he called at the shop in question, quite a small and unimportant establishment on a back street.

Two or three minutes passed; then, as no one came to serve him, the colonel gave a gentle knock on the counter. This had no effect; so a smart double rap was given. Then a curly-headed youngster put his head around the door and announced, "Father's a-comin'."

By the time the father arrived the colonel was boiling with rage.

"What do you mean by keeping me waiting all this time?" he roared.

"Very sorry, sir," said the man, "but you see it's like this. You're the very first good-looking man that I've had in my shop, and as there were a lot of people passing by I thought what a good advertisement you was a-standing there."—Philadelphia Public Ledger.

A word to the otherwise is wasted.

Do you discriminate at the breakfast table—or are you thoughtless?

In thousands of homes, a "line" is drawn at the breakfast table. Tea or coffee is served for grown-ups and Postum for children. But some parents do not discriminate. Caffeine and tannin, the injurious contents of coffee and tea, seriously retard the development of the delicate nerve tissues in children.

Consequently, instead of rich, satisfying Postum, children are overstimulated by the drugs in tea and coffee; and so may grow up irritable and nervous. Any doctor can tell you that this is a great evil and should be corrected.

Although some parents feel a certain justification for the personal indulgence in coffee, yet the harm to them may be equally serious. It may take a little while longer for the drugs in coffee and tea to affect an older person, but in many cases the nervous system and allied body functions will be weakened. The best way to avoid such possibilities is to quit entirely and drink Postum instead. The change mits you to get the restful sleep.

Postum is the best known, meal-time beverage. Like thousand's of others you will like it for its rich, satisfying taste. It is a great evil and should be corrected.

Do away with the tincture of Postum. Serve delicious Postum piping hot, to all tall jelly. One week's treatment is likely that you will return to tea and coffee.

Postum comes in three forms: Instant Postum, made instantly in the Postum Cereal (in a large bulk, for those who prefer to make the drink themselves) and Postum meal is being prepared by boiling for 20 minutes.

Mr. Tubbs then produced a legal-looking document which I took to be the original agreement of the members of the expedition.

CHAPTER VI.

The Cave With Two Mouths.

Obscure as were the directions which Hopperdown's niece had taken from his dying lips, one point at least was clear—the treasure cave opened on the sea.

"It wait till I see the color of my money before I reckon the interest on it," he remarked.

Made a Preliminary Voyage of Discovery.

would be a likely and convenient place for hiding the chest; the question is: Wouldn't it be too likely and convenient? Sampson would maybe not choose the spot of all others where the first comer who had got word of the story would be certain to look."

"Well, friends," remarked Mr. Tubbs, "there's them that sees nothing but the hole in the doughnut, and there's them that see the doughnut that's around the hole. I ain't ashamed to say that old H. H. is in the doughnut class. Why, the Old Man himself used to remark—I guess it ain't news to some here—but me bein' on the inside with most of the leadin' financial lights of the country—he used to remark, 'Tubbs has it in him to bull the market on that Black Friday.' Ladies, I ain't one that's inclined to boast, but I jest want to warn you not to be too astonished when H. H. makes acquaintance with Bill Halliwell's tombstone, which I'm willin' to lay he does yet."

"I thank you, Mr. Tubbs, I thank you!" replied Miss Browne with emotion. As for Aunt Jane, she gazed upon the noble countenance of Mr. Tubbs with such ecstatic admiration that her little nose quivered like a guinea-pig's.

The fruitfulness of the genius of Cookie and the wildness of our island, not to speak of supplies from the Army and Navy stores, we lived like sybarites. There were fish from stream and sea, coconuts and bananas and oranges from the trees in the clearing. I had hopes of yams and breadfruit also, but if they grew on Leeward point, of us had a speaking acquaintance with them.

It was significant that Mr. Tubbs, after occupying for a day or two an undistinguished middle place at the board, had somehow slid into the carver's post at the head of the table. Flanking him were the two ladies. Everybody else had a sense of sitting in outer darkness, particularly S, whom fate had placed opposite Captain Magnus. Since landing on the island, Captain Magnus had forsworn the effeminacy of forks. Loaded to the hilt, his knife would approach his cavernous mouth and disappear in it. Yet when it emerged Captain Magnus was alive. Where did it go? This was a question that agitated me daily.

The history of Captain Magnus was obscure. It was certain that he had his captain's papers, though how he had mastered the science of navigation sufficiently to obtain them was a problem. Though he held a British navigator's license, he did not appear to be an Englishman.

The captain, as Mr. Vane had remarked, was Miss Browne's own find. Before the objections of Mr. Shaw—evidently a Negative Influence from the beginning—had caused her to abandon the scheme, Miss Browne had planned to charter a vessel in New York and sail around the Horn to the island. While nursing this project she had formed an extensive acquaintance with persons frequenting the New York water-front, among whom was Captain Magnus. As I heard her remark, he was the one nautical character whom she found sympathetic, by which I judge that the others were skeptical and rude. Being sympathetic, Captain Magnus found it an easy matter to attach himself to the expedition—or perhaps it was Violet who annexed him, I don't know which.

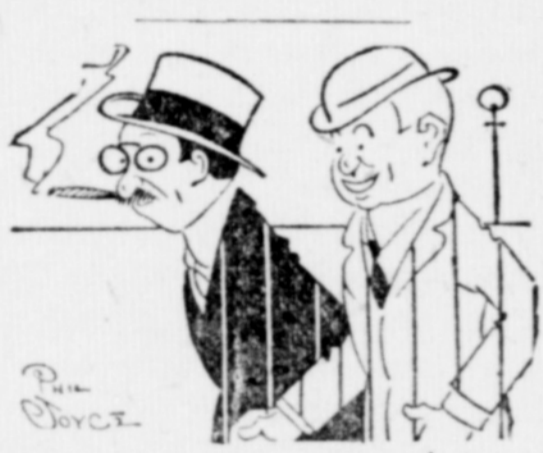

The strange beast of the jungle was a white bull-eterrier. (TO BE CONTINUED.) Coming of Age. We mourn over the coming of age, but how many of us would really choose to remain young and so lose the treasures that the years bring; the varied friendships? The adventures, the garnered wisdom? Perpetual youth would leave us behind our own generation, would rob us of life's purpose and meaning.

Just a Little Smile

LESSON FOR OCTOBER 2

PAUL IN CORINTH.

LESSON TEXT—Acts 18:1-23. GOLDEN TEXT—I determined not to know anything among you, save Jesus Christ, and him crucified.—1 Cor. 2:2.

REFERENCE MATERIAL—1 Cor. 2:14-5; 12:1; II Co. 11:7-9. PRIMARY TOPIC—Tentmaking and Teaching.

JUNIOR TOPIC—Paul Working and Preaching in Corinth. INTERMEDIATE AND SENIOR TOPIC—Teaching and Tentmaking in Corinth. YOUNG PEOPLE AND ADULT TOPIC—Paul in a Commercial Center.

The establishment of the church at Corinth is an example of missionary endeavor for all ages. The method employed, which resulted in success then, will result in success now.

1. The True Missionary Method (vv. 1-3). Paul came to Corinth a stranger in a strange city. He did not have an advance agent to do his advertising; neither did he have his photograph put in the daily paper with sensational announcements, upon his arrival in Corinth.

2. Finding a home (v. 2). This he found with Aquila and Priscilla, Jews who were recently expelled from Rome by the cruel edict of Claudius, being Jews, he found natural affinity with them.

3. He toiled for his daily bread (v. 3). He was of the same craft with them, being tentmakers. Every child among the Jews was taught some trade by the means of which he could gain a livelihood should occasion require. One of the rabbis said that he who failed to teach his boy a trade taught him to steal.

4. Paul preached in the synagogue at Corinth (vv. 4-8). I. Though compelled to toil for a living while getting a foothold in Corinth, he did not lose sight of his main work (v. 4). He reasoned in the synagogue every Sabbath, persuading the Jews and Greeks.

2. His activity was increased when Silas and Timothy came (v. 5). This resulted from three causes: (1) They brought good news from the church at Thessalonica (I Thess. 3:6). To hear of the steadfastness of those who had confessed Christ under our ministry puts new vigor into our labors. (2) They brought pecuniary gifts from the Macedonian churches (Philipp. 4:15; II Cor. 11:9). Being relieved from the necessity of toil for a living, they now could devote more time and energy to the preaching of the gospel. (3) Silas and Timothy became assistants to Paul in the work, thereby strengthening his hands so as to enable him to accentuate his efforts.

3. Paul opposed (v. 6). His increased activity was met with increased opposition. This can always be expected.

4. Paul announces his purpose to turn to the Gentiles (v. 6). Because of their blasphemy and opposition he decided to leave them and go to the Jews. There is a time when good judgment causes one to abandon work where efforts have been fruitless, but it is difficult to know just when to do it.

5. He did not go far away (v. 7). He remained sufficiently near that those whose hearts God touched could easily find him. It is likewise true that although Christ is obliged to depart from the soul that refuses Him entrance, he lingers with yearning love around that heart.

6. His success (v. 8). Crispus, the chief ruler of the synagogue, was converted. Perhaps the severity of his action in turning away from them moved Crispus to action.

III. Paul's Vision (vv. 9-11). His experiences since coming to Europe were very trying. He needed encouragement at this time. It is just like the Lord to come at the time of the servant's greatest need. Note the Lord's words to him:

1. "Be not afraid." When one is executing the commission of the Lord he need not be afraid.

2. "Speak, and hold not thy peace." The one who has heard the voice of God cannot refrain from speaking—cannot be still.

3. "I am with thee." The Lord is with everyone who faithfully carries out his commission.

4. "No man shall set on thee to hurt thee." The one sent by the Lord to do a work is immune from danger and harm until his work is done.

5. "I have much people in this city." It is most encouraging to know that in the great cities the Lord has His own people and that the one who goes in His name shall have fruit for his service.

Bible Classes Necessary. Bible classes are as necessary to a healthy parochial life as are any other religious agencies, and are another neglected item because they seem to him old-fashioned or connected with the Protestant sectarian system lays himself open to great blame. "Thy word is a lamp unto my feet and a light unto my paths."—Dean Larned

625,000 BOTTLES SOLD IN NEW YORK Biggest Thing of Kind Ever Seen in That State, Declares Big Wholesaler.

The fact that 625,000 bottles of Tanlac have been sold in the state of New York since its introduction there less than one year ago, is a big business item that will attract unusual attention throughout the entire East, for nothing like it has ever happened before. It breaks all records.

Mr. George B. Evans, manager of the Gibson-Snow Company, the well-known wholesale druggists, with branches in Albany, Buffalo, Rochester and Syracuse, recently announced that the preparation was now selling in their trade territories alone at the phenomenal rate of approximately 500,000 bottles a year.

"If the present rate continues," said Mr. Evans, "this rate alone will probably require considerably over 750,000 bottles a year. This is a tremendous figure, but I am really conservative in making this statement."

Memorial Address in Honor of Joy Sherrod

The following funeral oration was delivered by Rev. J. E. Anderson, pastor of the Baptist church, of Brownfield, and Chaplain of the American Legion, in honor of Pvt. Thomas J. Sherrod whose body was received from overseas Monday:

"Fellow Countryman:—We come together on this occasion to pay tribute to the American Dead. We need to take but a retrospect of the history of the past to appreciate the American Liberty, which has been purchased at so great a price.

"Ancient Egypt, under the rule of tyrannical Pharos, so disregarded the rights of the common people that they were reduced to a nation of slaves, and under cruel taskmasters were subjected to endless toil to build pyramids and monuments to kings. To the Greek, the word 'humanity' was unknown. The Romans were a self centered people, disregarding the rights of others. The Jew taught the doctrine that one Israelite was worth more than all the other people. In the midst of this rotten social order, emerged the young Nazarene. He proclaimed the matchless message over the hills of Galilee, announcing his doctrine of the equality of man. This strange doctrine was new to the world, and caused the opposition of practically all. And because of his sacrificial death on Calvary Cross, He set the tyrant trembling on his throne and the monarch's kingdom was crumbled to dust.

"One of the first people evangelized by this new and strange doctrine was the 'Sturdy Saxon' and when they began to practice what they preached. They were persecuted by tyrants and by Rome, until they found their refuge in the cliffs of northern Europe. Here this simple, plain people were clothed in the skins of wild animals and their fearlessness drank human blood from human skulls. They formed themselves into a government whose laws were made by the shout of the people in popular assembly. With them bravery was a virtue and fear a crime. God had so greatly blessed them that later they made their way to the British Isles, and under the leadership of Oliver Cromwell, they wrested the Magna Charter from the tyrants, and delivered it to the common people. Later these stern Saxons in the person of the Pilgrim Fathers made their way to the American shores to found a government based on the cardinal principles of religious and political liberty. A government by the people, of the people and for the people. These are the principles of which this young man died. In these later days of the human family, there rose up a tyrant in the person of the Kaiser, acclaiming the ancient doctrine of "Might is Right", and sought as his hellish business to blot out the thought of democracy from the vocabulary of the world. This young American laddie put himself in the breach and said to the German Emperor: "You cannot pass."

"Yes, again when Texas was making her grim struggle to become a Republic, one of her heroes with the passion of his soul, took his sword, drew a line and said, "All who wish to die like the brave may cross the line." But the enemy dared not cross that line. In the recent war the brave American laddies drew a line across Europe and by the supreme sacrifice, this young hero, spilling his own blood and making the line crimson, said to the German Kaiser, "You cannot pass."

The great God of heaven looked down and was well pleased with the sacrifice that American had made. Then it was that in the thick of the fire the White comrade revealed himself in the trenches, and the Kaiser did not pass.

Often we nearly think of Jesus of Nazareth as the founder of the new religion, and he did—the only religion that will give hope to the immortal soul of man. But, not only was the Son of God the founder of the new religion, but he was also the founder of a new social order, based on the cardinal principles of his new religion and also based upon the principles of life. My countrymen, we need to come back to the simplicities of life. A camouflage is hurtful to both the church and state.

"We boys discovered that in wearing these simple uniforms and eating the simple foods, also following the lines of simple living, we became healthy and robust. We need, my friends, to come back to the simplicities of life. Just here I wish to point out a lurking evil which is a menace to our country. We need to greatly simplify the laws of our land. Nearly every law on our statute book is shot through with loop holes and endless technicalities, so much so that it is difficult to get justice from the courts of our land. You had an example of this here in your own little city, when one of our returned soldier boys was murdered on your streets. I am not criticizing any attorney or jurors. Probably if the case had been tried here the results would have been different. I don't know who is responsible for this complication unless it be the Bar association in its influence over the law making bodies of our country. But we do know that the present court procedure is corrupt, and to have a jury of twelve men is a matter of form, for the judge and the attorney tell them they must thus and so. And because of the present system the jury can do nothing else but yield to their bidding.

"My countrymen, we become unworthy of this young man's death, and the cause for which he died if we do not correct this evil with the ballot box. We must fight here at home for the principles for which our boys died on the battle field. Gentlemen, our present corrupt judiciary system, with its long court procedure, spends thousands of dollars of the taxpayers money in their vain effort to convict a criminal and if per chance they do convict him, it is all for no other cause than to give him a suspended sentence. Therefore our courts and laws become a burden instead of a help to the people. We have paid too great a price for our liberty to let this menace go unchecked.

"To the bereaved family, I wish to say you have given up this son for a noble cause. Our hearts throb with your hearts today, and may I say to you, dear mother: The soul of America sorrows with your soul. Our lives are inseparately bound together; your loss is our loss; your sacrifice our sacrifice.

"I could not close this address without paying tribute to the dear old Flag. (Speaking to Flag): "Dear old Stars and Stripes you have been the means of leading many boys on: you have never lead an army to defeat; may you long wave over the land of the free and the home of the brave."

The local reporters on the country weeklies and dailies are no longer friends to the flivver and the limousine, for they have injured, yes, they have almost ruined one branch of the reporter's business. One of the most interesting things to the readers of the small town daily, (or weekly) is the list of "Personal Mention" that they all run. Before the days of the automobile it was a comparatively easy matter for the reporter to walk to the trains a few minutes before their arrival and secure a list of those leaving town, with a statement of where they were going. Then, when the trains arrived there was another lot of information concerning those who came in and what they came for. A visit to the daily trains meant easily a column or two of good news, but since the advent of the flivver it is a different thing. More people flit in and out in autos than on the trains. It's an impossible task to keep up with the goings and comings and the reporter has a hard time. The flivver is responsible for it, so the reporter walks the streets and sweats and thinks things about the flivver that he doesn't say in the presence of ladies. Like Demetrius of old, he is against anything that ruins his business.

The public should naturally feel sorry for the express companies, they make such little money. Who knows where the Santa Fe railway got the symbol on its stationery, in its depots, box cars and on everything else possessed by the Company, and what it stands for?

Miss Emily F. Weekes of Chicago, a large Castro county property owner, has been delving into this mystery with the following results:

"The symbol used by the Santa Fe railroad is an adaptation of a symbol used by astronomers every since the Stone Age of this planet, to indicate the Earth. The Cross within the Circle means the four points of the horizon, north, south, east, west. The students of the Stone Age indicated the Sun, Moon, Earth and other planets by lines traced upon pebbles, with a mixture of animal fat and iron oxide. This symbol of the Cross, often with the Circle, occurs again and again in all cultures and arts descended from ancient times, from races whose history and religions were lost in the dimmest ages. But below the strata of objects lost—during the Iron and Bronze Ages—have been found the pebbles with ariuos symbols, besides Astronomical. This cross in the symbol is NOT the symbol of any present religion. This Cross, alone, is now the symbol of the Greek Church, which is not Catholic. Both the Roman and the Celtic Crosses have an extension of the lower point. The use of this emblem by the Santa Fe is to indicate that this railroad serves the World, north, south, east and west.—Hereford Brand.

Lynn county farmer citizens residing on the east line of the county are said to have carried off most of the premiums in the agricultural exhibits at the Garza County Fair, held recently. When it comes to producing the real stuff, one can not find a better county in Texas than Lynn, located on the great South Plains.

AUTUMN OFFICIALLY
SEPT. 22, THURSDAY

September 22, was the autumnal equinox, which day marked the beginning of autumn. The sun rose at 6:15 o'clock and will set at 6:24 giving the day twelve and two-tenths hours of sunshine. On this day the rays of the sun reach from the north to the south pole. In the northern hemisphere the days gradually get shorter and the nights longer until December 21, the shortest day of the year. Just the reverse occurs in the southern hemisphere, the days getting longer and the nights shorter. While fall is beginning in the northern hemisphere spring is starting in the southern hemisphere. Storms of various kinds were in the old days charged up to the equinoxial period but weather officials no longer encourage the belief that this is the stormy period of the year any more than any other period.

BUY ADVERTISED GOODS

When the people of a community either send out of town for purchases or go to some other town to make these purchases, they do so for one of two reasons.

One of these reasons is that they cannot get the exact goods wanted in any of the local stores, and the other principal reason is that the buyer is led to believe through advertising the prices are lower elsewhere.

The store that carries standard goods and is not afraid to describe and price them through various advertising mediums is the one that gets the bulk of this business, and this store is enabled to sell at a lower price because of the increased business. It costs every merchant a certain sum to open his doors every morning, whether he sells anything during the day or not; and the larger the volume of business transacted during the day the smaller the proportion of this fixed cost is to each purchaser.

As only good merchandise is worth advertising you can depend on advertised goods for both price and quality. Buy advertised goods.

WOMEN WHO CANNOT WORK

Read Mrs. Corley's Letter and Benefit by Her Experience

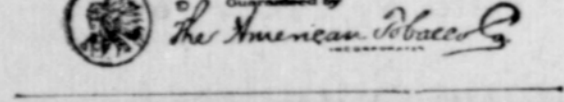

Edmund, S. C.—"I was run down with nervousness and female trouble and suffered every month. I was not able to do any work and tried a lot of medicine, but got no relief. I saw your medicine advertised in a little book that was thrown in my door, and I had not taken two bottles of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound before I could see it was helping me. I am keeping house now and am able to do all of my work. I cannot say enough for your medicine. It has done more for me than any doctor. I have not paper enough to tell you how much it has done for me and for my friends. You may print this letter if you wish." —ELIZABETH C. CORLEY, care of A. P. Corley, Edmund, S. C. Ability to stand the strain of work is the privilege of the strong and healthy, but how our hearts ache for the weak and sickly women struggling with their daily rounds of household duties, with backaches, headaches, nervousness and almost every movement brings a new pain. Why will not the mass of letters from women all over this country, which we have been publishing, convince such women that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound will help them just as surely as it did Mrs. Corley?

Buffalo Bill's Grave

By JOHN DICKINSON SHERMAN.
YOU presumably know, as all good Americans should, that Buffalo Bill, Col. William F. Cody, is buried on Lookout Mountain in the Front range of the Colorado Rockies. But do you know that more people visit Buffalo Bill's grave each year than go to the graves of Washington and Lincoln? Well, it is so. And there appears to be ground for the statement that within a few years Buffalo Bill's grave will be the most-visited grave in the world. This is the way of it: The city and county of Denver have established the Denver Mountain parks, lying between the city and the peaks of the continental divide. There are 3,236 acres; the cost has been $477,850; there are 50 miles of roads. Lookout Mountain is one of the scenic features of these parks. The main automobile road, of which the Lariat trail is a part, climbs to its summit. Buffalo Bill's grave is on the east slope of Lookout Mountain, and is easily reached by a road that turns out at the Golden reservoir on the summit. Close by the grave the city has established a Buffalo Bill museum. In the summer of 1921 approximately 350,000 visitors entered the gates of the Denver Mountain parks. Of these visitors about one-quarter was from other states. Most of these out-of-state visitors stopped to see the grave and the museum. So much for the present.

MRS. WILLIAM F. CODY

LARIAT TRAIL

The tourist business of the scenic West is increasing tremendously year by year. Denver is geographically the gateway to this scenic West with its twelve national parks and thirty-two national monuments. It is the starting point of the National Park-to-Park highway. Most visitors to Denver in the summer drive through the Denver Mountain parks. So, as the tourists grow in numbers, the visitors to Buffalo Bill's grave will increase. The Buffalo Bill museum on Lookout mountain was opened to the public last Memorial day. The park officials report that it, in connection with Buffalo Bill's grave, has proved to be the most popular feature of the mountain parks this last summer.

Pahaska Tepee is the official name of the Buffalo Bill museum. The name is well taken. "Pahaska" is the name given Buffalo Bill by the Sioux Indians. The word means "Long Hair." The building is typically mountain style in construction. Within it are housed the personal relics and collections of Buffalo Bill. This was made possible through the interest and generosity of his widow, Mrs. Louisa M. Cody, to whom nearly the whole collection belongs. And the crowning touch of the museum is the fact that Johnny Baker is in charge of it—yes; the very same world's champion shotgun and rifle shot who was Buffalo Bill's right-hand man so many years in the show business.

Certain it is that no American youngster—to say nothing of the grownups—can pass by Pahaska Tepee without stopping. The museum houses a decidedly interesting collection. Some of these are: The more important paintings of Buffalo Bill. Among these is the Pappacena equestrian portrait, presented to the city of Denver. When the monument is erected over Buffalo Bill's grave, this painting will be done in bronze. The photograph given here gives an idea of how the equestrian statue will fit in with the surroundings. Paintings of frontier life done by Buffalo Bill by noted artists in accordance with his descriptions of scenes and incidents. The scalp of Yellow Hand and the knife with which Buffalo Bill killed the chief and lifted his scalp. Yellow Hand was a noted Cheyenne chief who took part in the Sioux war of 1876. Buffalo Bill was serving as a government scout. At the battle of Indian Creek the scout and the chief met in personal combat in full view of the contending forces. In those days it was the proper thing for a victor to "count his coup"; hence the scalp. The gun used by Sitting Bull in the battle of the Little Big Horn; Sitting Bull (1837-90) was the famous Sioux chief who led the 6,000 Indians who wiped out Gen. George A. Custer, and his 277 men in 1876. He escaped to Canada, returned in 1890 and was killed in an attempt to rescue him from arrest.

"Lucretia Borgia," the rifle which gave Buffalo Bill his name. When the Union Pacific was being built the scout made a contract with the railroad company to furnish its laborers with meat. In eighteen months, 1867-8, Buffalo Bill is said to have killed 4,350 buffalo with this rifle in carrying out his contract. Buffalo Bill's guns, saddles, bridles and personal ornaments, including many gifts made to him by Indian chiefs and by crowned heads in Europe. Mementoes of the tours of the "Wild West Show" in Europe. Now, lest the younger generation should think of Buffalo Bill as merely an Indian fighter, buffalo killer and showman, here are the principal facts in his life, in brief: Born in 1846 in Scott county, Iowa; 1860, "Pony Express" rider; 1867-5, cavalry scout for the Union in Civil war; 1872, member Nebraska legislature; 1890-1, brigadier general Nebraska National Guard in Indian wars; 1891, organized Wild West show; 1891, president of Cody Military college, Wyoming; judge advocate general of Wyoming National Guard; president Shoshone Irrigation company; author of five books written between 1879 and 1916. Municipal Facts, an official Denver publication, gives the following information of Pahaska Tepee and its purpose: The city of Denver, largely through the instrumentality of W. F. R. Mills, chairman of the mountain parks advisory commission, erected the museum building in accordance with an agreement with Johnny Baker, the world champion shotgun and rifle shot, who was with Colonel Cody in his show business from the time that Baker was seven years old. Mr. Baker operates the building as a concession, but no admission is ever to be charged to the Buffalo Bill museum. Aside from the historical and romantic interest attached to the building through the collection, the structure itself is so absolutely suited to the purpose for which it was designed, that it seems to have been inspired. The structure is built of undressed pine logs, covered with hand-split shingles. The crowning feature of the building from an architectural standpoint, is the remarkable use made of gnarled and curved logs and branches, stumps and roots of trees. There is probably no chandelier in the world so unique as that which hangs from the two-story ceiling of the Tepee. Heads and skins of wild animals hang from the walls and balcony rails. Two snarling wolves' heads gleam from recesses in the great stone fireplace. At the entrance an ancient buffalo skull, with the skin and hair partly adhering, bears the legend, "The Last of the Buffalo."

Fronting the plains is an immense balcony from which, with a pair of field glasses, one may look into the states of Wyoming, Nebraska and Kansas, the states that, with Colorado, were the stamping grounds of Buffalo Bill during his life as hunter and government scout. Denver stretches out on the plains, ten miles distant on an airline, and at night the lights of the city, twinkling in unison with the stars above, blaze in a wide diamond-studded bank from north to south. The view is superlative either by day or night; there are few views in America more interesting and impressive. Eventually a monument to Colonel Cody is to be erected at his grave. The Cody Memorial association was raising funds for this purpose when America entered the war and, of course, the movement, like many similar ones throughout the country, had to be abandoned for the time being. It is expected that the association will now revive the project

HER BEST-LOVED FROCK BELONGS TO AFTERNOON

ALWAYS a volume could be written about some frocks—as about hats. The story is never all told until the season is over and gone—and before that time arrives, fashion has undergone a sequel to follow. The best-loved of gowns is that one which makes a success of its wearer's afternoons. There is a long list of fabrics at hand to choose from including several crepe weaves, duvetyne velvet, satin, taffeta and fine wools, but the accent just now is to be placed on crepe and velvet. The slim silhouette remains the favorite, with variations that take in tunics, straight line and bloused models, having long waists. The exception to the rule of the slim silhouette appears in those frocks with a quaint flavor of days gone by, that are made with tight bodices and full skirts, or in others made on the lines of the handsome frock pictured. In this model the designer has made an overgarment, innocent of waist line and flaring in the skirt portion where panels are introduced at each side. He has pinned his faith to rich embroidery of silk and metal threads, placing it in borders and almost covering the front of the dress with it, and we can imagine the effect with duvetyne in a dark color as the foundation. There are many points in the autumn modes that give designers of afternoon frocks advantages. There is the featuring of sleeves, the uneven hem line, figured and plain crepes, beads, braids, fringe and embroidery all yearning to look their best on the frocks that must bear many comparisons.

THE NEW COATS SAY "WE AIM TO PLEASE"

"WE AIM to please" appears to be the motto that has governed the makers of our wraps for the coming winter season, for they have presented several distinctive styles in coats. You may choose a voluminous wrap, wide and full, or a cape-coat, wholly concealing the outlines of the figure, or a slim affair with snug-fitting hip line and long, bloused body, or a first cousin to the dolman or just an ample coat, but in all of them there is the flavor of the new season. The materials used, however, are the same as those of last year or their direct descendants, with new names, perhaps. Velours, chinchilla, holliva, marvella, camel's-hair, cheviot and velvet will account for the coats for daytime wear, at least, with velvet, like fur, doing service for both day and evening. Fur has been appropriated by all materials and on most of them is found in the company of embroidery, but the embroidery is used in novel ways, and new collars and sleeves seem to increase the importance of fur trimming. The handsome coat pictured shows how effectively it is used to finish off the full, bell sleeves and to make the new, straight high collar. This model is of velours, with braid embroidery. Some More Truths.

WOULD you use a steam shovel to move a pebble? Certainly not. Implements are built according to the work they have to do.

Would you use a grown-up's remedy for your baby's ills? Certainly not. Remedies are prepared according to the work THEY have to do.

All this is preliminary to reminding you that Fletcher's Castoria was sought out, found and is prepared solely as a remedy for Infants and Children. And let this be a warning against Substitutes, Counterfeits and the Just-as-good stuff that may be all right for you in all your strength, but dangerous for the little babe.

All the mother-love that lies within your heart cries out to you: Be true to Baby. And being true to Baby you will keep in the house remedies specially prepared for babies as you would a baby's food, hairbrush, toothbrush or sponge.

Children Cry For Fletcher's CASTORIA

Are You Prepared? A doctor in the house all the time would be a good idea. Yet you can't afford to keep a doctor in the family to keep baby well or prevent sickness. But you can do almost the same thing by having at hand a bottle of Fletcher's Castoria, because it is a wonderful remedy for indigestion, colic, feverishness, fretfulness and all the other disorders that result from common ailments that babies have. Fletcher's Castoria is perfectly safe to use. It is a harmless substitute for Castor Oil, Paregoric, Drops and Soothing Syrups. Children cry for Fletcher's Castoria, and mothers recommend it because they have found it a comfort to children and a mother's friend. If you love your baby, you know how sweet it is to be able to help baby when trouble comes. You cannot always call upon a doctor. But doctors have nothing but good to say of Fletcher's Castoria, because they know that it can only do good—that it can't do any harm—and they wouldn't want you to use for baby a remedy that you would use for yourself.

MOTHERS SHOULD READ THE BOOKLET THAT IS AROUND EVERY BOTTLE OF FLETCHER'S CASTORIA. GENUINE CASTORIA ALWAYS Bears the Signature of Chas. H. Fletcher. THE CENTAUR COMPANY, NEW YORK CITY.

Mr. Z. T. Champion reported Wednesday that Bob Champion, his son, had 380 pounds of cotton stolen from his field Tuesday night. Also a perfectly new wagon sheet and cotton sack. He had just started to pick cotton that day and had picked 380 pounds. The wagon, he said, was close to the road and they did not leave much sign of their get-away.

OBEYED THE ADVICE OF UNCLE SAM

A fight started in the postoffice recently between a man and a woman. It was a hot mele, and the woman appeared to have the advantage. She was boxing the man's ears vigorously. An officer rushed in. One bystander was watching the affair gleefully. Said the officer to him: "Why don't you stop her?" "Who, me?" answered the bystander. "Nothing doing. Don't you see that sign over there 'Letter box'?"
