

TRAIL DUST

By DOUGLAS MEADOR

The absorbing are the generalizations of life that it is difficult to find cognizance of the entire detail except in small harbours where the anchor chains of our lives are fastened. Frequently an exciting condition enters our port like a strange ship bearing the standard of some unknown land, and there is consternation until the white sails of truth become obvious. Recently I tried to remember having ever seen a man who had suffered the loss of a leg or arm, and there was no response.

Certainly the fates who deal in fortune have some trade in impairment, but the transactions are definitely less frequent in cases in which men are injured. To make peace with that ancient tyrant who is exchequer of limited reasoning, it is necessary to offer two deposits in execution. The first one is simple; men are spared many hazards as they go into the mortar spread between the bricks of a man's life. Usually, women are less foolish, and the danger threatens the rather than limb.

The alarms scream into the tubing of night when a man's house is in flames, but there is no molestation of silence; his soul should be destroyed, his eyes weep in solitude.

So many roads lead to the camps of destiny that it is easy to discern the traveler's intentions. However, the tall gure bending over the starting tank of his old car, was an exception. Light frost garnished the top of his cantankerous automobile, and it was evident that it had inhaled the worn engine. He looked with pleading, melancholy eyes, as a man who raises his head from prayer, and brushed his long mustache in opposite directions. His strong, rough hands are blue and bleeding, and there is a crimson crust on the front of his ragged coat where he had peddled extended part of a package bearing an apothecary's label, a sinister note in an orchestration. Beneath the worry of prement his kindly nature reflected like sunlight on a placid sea which has remained steadfast in the vicissitudes of time.

At an instant he appeared as an man from a more gentle era, who returned for a short time before joining the exodus of his contemporaries.

At a signal he hurriedly climbed into the car and grasped the wheel while a more youthful male pushed until the obstinate coughed, shook with depleted rigors and moved away from its own power. No word was spoken during the interlude, alid a large hand waved from the window of the departing car; a gesture conveying more sincerity of appreciation than an hour of address.

Endless dawns had found the very house silhouetted above the horizon thru two score years; needed thorn raised from the sea to torture beauty's delicate arms. Then one night there lighted a mighty torch against darkness, like a ship burning sea. When the lavender streaks day were lowered again to the earth, the tall house had shined, leaving clean space, a ve of trees and a lazy wind turning in the early morning east. Time is patient with the feared playthings which men build and leave in her path.

And of a pageantry of dust and ring winds there emerges the thread confetti of crystal stars shed through empyrean space. Duty has made a bargain with night and written its terms a veil of silence; creation comes drowsy pillowed on the velvet cushion of peace.

Beauty is driven like a shackled from the tomb of a grooved and the soul of a long-silenced organ is roused into sound, a convivance of human thought constructed a trip which detaches the freedom of the notes to their thier swift journey into wind, as a rose loses its fragrance when frozen in attempt to serve beauty which has overruled its passport.

Who man whose work contains beauty has become a philanthropist despite his punctual over to the splendid mistress who comforted his heart.

Local Scout Officials At Lubbock Meet

Whiteface Wins In Attendance Race As 24 Troops Meet

A delegation of local Scout executives, headed by Scout Master Paul Eubank and Assistant Scout Master F. T. Hamilton, drove to Lubbock Tuesday evening, where they attended the annual banquet of South Plains Scout Council. Other members of the executive committee included U. L. Willie, Henry Pipkin and C. A. Pitts, with Elbert Reeves, Howard Traweck and Fay Jacobs, Lion club members attending in the interest of the organization. Mesdames Willie and Reeves were also present at the banquet.

The attendance, placed at approximately 450, was described as the largest banquet gathering ever assembled in the Hilton hotel.

Boy Scouting as an agency through which youth is better prepared for a more useful, tolerant, constructive, patriotic and reverent citizenship was stressed throughout the program. The speaker was Clinton P. Anderson of Albuquerque, N. M., former president of Rotary International, past president of Northern New Mexico Scout council, occupant at (Continued On Back Page)

Soldier Poet Coming Here

I. G. Thomas, World War veteran and poet of Memphis, Texas will be in Matador two days early in February to review his volume of poems, "Heart Strings Vibrant". Mr. Thomas will first appear before the American Legion meeting on February 6th and later appear before the Matador Child Welfare Association on February 8th according to a statement made late Tuesday.

Mr. Thomas' poems deal with a variety of subject, including hope, mother, friendship, youth, veterans, CCC enrollees, home and religion.

An article regarding Mr. Thomas' work, appearing in the Memphis Democrat, in part, is as follows: "The author, formerly assistant education director at the Memphis CCC camp, has been working each day with a shovel in a crew of veterans on the various projects sponsored by the camp. He was admitted to the camp in July, 1937 when he arrived in Memphis without funds and a stranger. During the past year several of Mr. Thomas' poems have been published in the Democrat and other Texas Newspapers. "The Teacher", a monthly publication published by the Southern Baptist Convention at Nashville, Tenn., on two occasions have also used Mr. Thomas' poems as front-page features."

The veteran and poet declared that he had met with especial kindness while in Matador making arrangements for his two appearances and that he looked forward to being here next month.

Turkey Wins Game Tuesday

Tuesday night the school gym was the scene for three basketball games. The junior boys won their game with the junior Turks by a 17-14 margin. However, the senior boys lost to the senior boy's team from Turkey. Turkey possesses one of the strongest teams in this part of Texas. It will probably win the "Big Six" conference, and the game Tuesday placed Matador second.

The Matador senior girls won over Whiteflat the same night by a victory of 26-6. They now stand at the head of the conference list.

BACK FROM CALIFORNIA

Arch Black has returned from Yuba City, California where he has been visiting his daughter. He declared conditions in that section of the west coast are excellent.

HAPPY BIRTHDAY

Matador will take part in President Roosevelt's Birthday celebration this year with a party at Matador Hotel Monday night January 30. Proceeds of the celebration will go to the National Organization to aid in the fight against infantile paralysis, which is sponsored by the President.

City To Join Nation-wide Celebration

FDR Birthday Party Will Be Held At Hotel January 30

Tickets will be on sale tomorrow for the President's Birthday Celebration to be held at the Matador Hotel on the evening of January 30, according to Mrs. Virginia Smith, Motley county chairman. Fifty percent of the funds will be held in trust for the chapters which will be organized to embrace counties in which the funds will be raised, according to William L. Clayton, Houston, Chairman of the events, who forwarded Mrs. Smith's appointment as county chairman. The price of the tickets will be $1.00.

These trusted funds will be turned over to the permanent chapters of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis and the remainder of the money will be turned over to the National foundation.

Strictly Non-Profit

The party will be strictly non-profit, Mrs. Smith declared. With the exception of the money used to pay the orchestra, all other services will be donated, including the use of the hotel lobby and dining room. The printing of the tickets will be donated by the Tribune Publishing Company.

"I am happy to serve as county chairman in the great crusade," Mrs. Smith said, "I am certain the citizens of our county will cooperate to make the President's Birthday Celebration the banner event for suffering humanity. It is a privilege to help intensify the national drive for funds to stamp out the dread disease of infantile paralysis."

TO ACCEPT WORK SHEETS

The county agent's office is now ready to take work sheets on all farms that did not receive a cotton, feed or wheat allotment in 1938. It will be necessary for the operator of these new farms to call at the county agent's office before February 15, 1939 and assist in executing a work sheet if they expect to receive a cotton allotment in 1939.

VISIT HERE

Mrs. E. B. Jones drove to Shamrock Sunday to meet and accompany back to Matador, Dr. Jones' mother, Mrs. N. M. Jones of San Angelo, who will visit with them for several days. Dr. Jones' sister, Miss Carrie J. Jones, of San Angelo, is also visiting here in their home.

Lee Cates spent the week-end with his parents at Olton.

Warning Made As Epidemic Cough Spreads

School Attendance Is Affected With Serious Disease

Parents of children who have developed cases of whooping cough during the recent wave which has swept the Matador schools, are warned to keep students at home in order to check further spread, according to Dr. A. C. Traweck, Jr., city health officer. "Due to the extreme danger of whooping cough," Dr. Traweck said, "we must insist that all children who have the disease be kept at home in order to avoid the necessity of quarantining. Whooping cough has the highest death rate among the diseases of children and the state law requires the use of quarantine to prevent its spread. We have vaccinated more than 200 children against the disease during the past six weeks since it started in this section. At present we have treated seven patients who have contracted pneumonia which has resulted from whooping cough."

Quarantine Required

Altho the law requires whooping cough cases be quarantined, Dr. Traweck said that he had not ordered the measure because the epidemic appears to be coming (Continued On Back Page)

The spacious room has been completely re-decorated and equipped with dining tables, chairs and table service and presents and attractive appearance.

Regular lunches and dinners, featuring "good old Southern biscuits" are served daily at popular prices while breakfast may be had a la carte.

Mrs. Smith, who is a sister of the late C. B. Whitten, former owner of the hotel, declared that she believed the dining room had been closed in the neighborhood of twelve or more years.

County Makes Good Showing In Contest

Strong Contender For Place In WTCC Big Money Awards

At least 743,190 points have been earned by Motley County in the West Texas Chamber of Commerce Soil and Water Utilization Contest. This was revealed in a report prepared by the Motley County Soil and Water Utilization Committee at a meeting in the office of county Judge, W. R. Cammack, chairman, Saturday afternoon. The number of points earned was determined from a complete tabulation of all conservation work done in 1938 and a statement of the conservation status of the county before 1938. These reports, together with a 2,000 word narrative describing the work done, constitute the credentials to be submitted to the West Texas Chamber of Commerce Awarding Committee which will pass on all entries.

Terracing and contouring account for the bulk of the points, according to Frank A. Buckley, county agent and secretary to the county soil and Water Utilization Committee, who has been in active charge of all conservation work in the county during the past five years. Special credit has been obtained for the large terraces used in the many "syrup-pan" systems of water distribution. Other large items among the twenty six practices listed are earthen tanks and reservoirs, deferred grazing of (Continued on Back Page)

Veterans Are Requested To Attend Meet

In the interest of all World War Veterans of Motley County a Rehabilitation meeting has been called here for February 6th at 8 P. M. This meeting will enable all who attend to learn of various benefits due them and their families.

Floyd Sloan, state Veterans service officer, will conduct the meeting which should interest everyone who served in the World War. This meeting should also be attended by wives and mothers of veterans because, in most cases after a veteran is dead, they are the ones who should know of these benefits.

Charlie Maisel of Pampa, 18th District Commander of the American Legion will assist Mr. Sloan in making possible the complete Rehabilitation of all deserving veterans.

After a nine year fight a veterans hospital will be built in Amarillo which will serve veterans of this county. The fight for this hospital was carried on by Loyal American Legion members for the benefit of veterans of this District which includes Motley County.

No wage is received by these men for doing this good turn for the World War Veterans, and all are urged to attend for their own personal gain and good.

GIESECKE IS RE-ELECTED SCHOOL HEAD

C. W. Giesecke, Jr., was re-elected superintendent of the Roaring Springs schools for a term of three years, in a meeting of the Board of Trustees last week. The term will begin July 1, 1939, when his present contract will expire.

Superintendent Giesecke came to Roaring Springs from Patton Springs and has made an outstanding record as an administrator. He had previously served the Patton Springs School District for eight years.

The Roaring Springs school system is to be congratulated on the progress it has made in the curriculum, and the financial improvement with the supervision of Mr. Giesecke. The present course of study is liberalized and vocationalized, offering a four-year course in Business Administration and Vocational Home Economics, as well as the liberal arts courses.

Grover Yowell Nabbed by FBI In Tennessee

MEMPHIS, Tenn. Jan. 24—Louis Hodges, an energetic, thrifty milkman, was revealed today by federal bureau of investigation agents to be Grover Yowell, former vice president of the Security National bank of Paducah, Texas, who has been sought for eight years on a charge of embezzling $75,000 of the bank's funds.

Federal agents led by Inspector J. E. Clegg of the Memphis office, arrested Yowell, alias Hodges, as he was delivering milk on his regular route.

He was taken to FBI offices here pending return to Texas to face embezzlement charges.

At his arraignment at noon Yowell pleaded not guilty.

Yowell had been delivering milk on the route for six years. His employers said he had never missed a day from his work.

For the last few years Yowell has been living on his small truck farm outside the city limits, with his wife and three children.

"He admitted his identity just as soon as we put the handcuffs on," Clegg said.

Clegg said there was no evidence that Yowell had any of the embezzled money left.

Yowell was at one time connected with the former First State Bank of Roaring Springs and is known by many residents of this county.

Flomot Takes Place In Consolation As Tournament Ends

By Paul Eubank

For the second time in as many years a fast-stepping Vernon basketball squad romped off with the natural size silver basketball trophy presented annually to the winner of the Lions' Club Tournament. The trophy must be won three times in order for it to become the permanent possession of any high school. Crowell is the only team that has won the trophy three times.

Last Saturday night Vernon proved superiority in every department by defeating the Crowell Wildcats 41 to 34 in the final game of the tournament. The crack Vernon offense was led by Homer Matney who topped the tournament scorers with a grand total of 70 points in four games.

Flomot defeated Girard in a fast game for the consolation award. Flomot was defeated in the first round by Quannah, but she came through with victories over both Dumont and Roaring Springs to enter the consolation finals. Quannah beat Floydada in close finish 34 to 31 to cop third place.

Owens, stellar Crowell guard as well as the spearhead of their offense, and Matney were voted all tournament men and each will be given identical awards. Usually only one man receives this award, but the judges could not decide which of the two players was the better.

Good sportsmanship prevailed throughout the entire play, and good basketball added to this made the 10th Annual Lions' Club basketball tournament a success.

Scouts Build Quail Shelter

The Matador Boy Scouts adopted the program of the Motley County Game Management Association after Frank A. Buckley, County agent, addressed the group Monday night. The fifteen scouts present displayed sustained interest in the thirty minute discussion of "Wildlife in Motley Co.", which was given by Buckley in response to invitations from scoutmaster Paul Eubank and assistant scoutmaster Floyd Hamilton. Buckley distributed bulletins on game management and exhibited original photographs of buffalo, blue quail, fish and other forms of wildlife.

Inspired by Monday's discussion which stressed control of predators and improvement of food and cover as the most pressing needs of our dominant game species, the boys, scout-like, proceeded to convert the words into action. A turtle trap was constructed and placed in a large fish pond, and four brush piles were built as covery homes for quail by nine scouts Friday afternoon at the Elbert Reeves ranch. This useful work of the enthusiastic youngsters was supervised by Buckley, the two scoutmasters, and Jim Canon, game warden. The boys plan to construct a quail feeder and a raven trap within the next few days, thus completing the ideas of improvement of food and cover and predatory control as (Continued On Back Page)

The SNAPSHOT GUILD SILHOUETTE PICTURES

Outdoor silhouettes are easy, with sun behind subject. Indoors, with artificial light, they are just as simple.

SILHOUETTES offer many chances for interesting, decorative pictures—and are easy to take, indoors or out. Outdoors, place your subject on high ground, with the sun squarely behind him, and shoot from a low camera position. Use a smaller lens opening than usual, to provide less-than-normal exposure and to subdue shadow detail. Indoors, there are two simple methods. For one, use a large-size photo bulb, in cardboard reflector. Place it on the floor a few feet from one wall, and pointed toward the wall. This creates a "bright spot." Darken the rest of the room, let the subject stand in shadow between the camera and bright spot—and shoot. Another method permits unusual silhouettes. For this, stretch a white sheet smoothly across an open doorway, leaving no wrinkles. Place a strong light—such as a photo bulb in reflector—five feet behind it. In the other room, pose your subject about two feet in front of the brightly illuminated sheet—and fire away. With the sheet, novel effects are possible. For example, you can show a person juggling any number of tennis balls or bottles, with most of them in mid-air. Actually, they are just cut out of black paper and pinned to the sheet—but in the picture they look quite real. Exposure time for silhouettes varies with the strength of the light. With a box camera and one large photo bulb in cardboard reflector, try "time" exposures of one to three seconds. Keep the camera on a firm support, and be careful not to move it during exposure. Usually, silhouette subjects should be shown in profile. The room in which the camera is used must be kept as dark as possible. Anyone can acquire the knack of silhouette-making, and it is great fun to work out story-telling ideas for this type of snapshot. Try some, and you'll find they offer delightful pastime for the long evenings. John van Gulder

TWO GOOD EXAMPLES

A correspondent, recently returned from the Pan-American conference at Lima, tells two stories which make a person feel a little proud and a little humble about the United States. One was this: A certain South American business man, now prominent but then temporarily down on his luck, was in a southern city of the United States. Thru no fault of his own, he got into a nasty altercation in the boarding house where he was staying. Police were called, and he and the boarding house owner were dragged off to the station. The police judge heard the evidence. The visitor, without a friend or connection in the city, had practically nothing but his naked word to uphold his side of the story. But the judge was wise enough to read the truth between the lines of the testimony. He dismissed the case with a word of apology to the visitor, and a seething rebuke to the American. The South American has never forgotten it, though it happened many years ago. "Think of it," he recalls wonderingly. "I was a stranger. I had no credentials. No friends. No money. Yet I got justice in a strange country! I have never forgotten it, and I shall never forget it."

The other story: This man today is high in the scientific world of another South American republic. Some years ago he was working in a large American city. He became involved in a highly disagreeable personal scandal, though again, it was not personally at fault. It was one of those tragedies that dragged through print and tried the souls of everybody concerned.

"Yet not one of my American friends, business or personal, deserted me," he said. "Every one of them stood by me through everything. I shall always be grateful to the United States, and I shall always love Americans." These stories bring a feeling of great pride and then of great humility. Pride, because not every country can say that friends and strangers are given justice, because not always do friends stand steadfast in the face of trouble. But humility, too, because the thought comes: "Is it always so

MARITAL HAPPINESS PROBED BY COLLEGE GROUP

HAPPINESS in marriage is far less dependent upon sex than it is believed to be.

This is one of the outstanding conclusions which Professor Lewis M. Terman of Stanford University and his associates are forced to draw from their intimate study of the married lives of 792 couples...

"While sex, as such, has some importance," says Dr. Wiggam, "yet the personalities and the life backgrounds of the two mates—their education, family life and the like—have far more influence than sex in determining marital happiness."

There are many other surprises in these phases of this great research. For example, "wall flowers" who have few "dates" are apparently as likely to be happy when they marry as the girls who are popular with the boys...

The occupations of the husbands and their incomes had no effect on the average of the happiness scores. Unhappily married couples often attribute their troubles to poverty...

If you want to make a quick check on your own chances for a successful marriage, here are twelve personality traits which were determining factors in the Terman tests.

Do you often feel just miserable?

Do you try to get your own way, even if you have to fight for it?

Are you touchy on various subjects?

Do you frequently feel grouchy?

Does some particularly useless thought keep coming into your mind to bother you?

Do you usually avoid asking advice?

Do your feelings alternate between happiness and sadness without apparent reason?

Are you often in a state of excitement?

Are you considered critical of other people?

Does discipline make you discontented?

Would you rather economize on most other things than clothes?

Do you lose your temper easily?

Ten questions answered "No" is a good indication of happiness.

Eight "No's" are fair. Six "No's" are poor. Less than four means you are probably a rather difficult marital partner.

ANNUAL MOVES EXPENSIVE TO 130 TENANTS

Year-end moves will cost Motley County tenant farmers more than $7,410.00, and that is only the beginning of the cost to them and to the general public...

The supervisor estimated that 130 farm tenants of this county move every year. The actual cash cost is around $57.00 per family, he said, but the final cost to the tenant and to the public is much greater.

Most of the tenants who move could be stabilized through leasing methods which would encourage them to remain upon the same farm and to improve it...

"A tenant who stays upon a given piece of land for only a year has no opportunity to build up that land and no incentive to do it," the supervisor stated.

The supervisor said that tenant families move during the winter after the crops are harvested, which means that the movement is made at a time when the children must be taken out of school.

"They not only lose several weeks of school, they often stay out for the remainder of the school year. When they do go back to school they are likely to be set back in their classes, and become discouraged and disinterested."

The estimate of tenant farmers moving in this county was based upon the state average of approximately 40 per cent of tenants moving annually...

Thousand Elk Rescued From Machine Guns

Montana Rancher, Ready to Repel Winter Invasion, Yields to Wildlife Federation Plea

GREAT FALLS, Mont.—Machine-gunning of a thousand elk by an outraged rancher has been averted through the appeals of the Montana Wildlife Federation...

In a display advertisement, the Circle H Ranch, Augusta, Montana, recently asked for bids from hunters who would camp on the ranch during the coming winter and kill off the elk, furnishing their own machine-guns for that purpose.

Lacking winter range on public lands, the Sun River elk herd invades the Circle H ranch from the Lewis and Clark National Forest and, according to Rancher Rathbone, "Elk by the thousands have travelled across our ranch, destroyed our feed, destroyed our fences and interfered with our ranching operations."

The owner of the Circle H was persuaded by a delegation of Great Falls sportsmen to grant the elk a reprieve on the understanding that the Great Falls Wildlife Association would make every effort to have the Fish and Game Commission put through a Pittman-Robertson project providing winter range for the elk herd.

"Since the Pittman-Robertson act is the Federation's achievement," says Mr. Wendt, "we will feel mighty proud if it becomes the means of permanently saving thousands of magnificent animals that are making their last stand against civilization."

MILLIONS FOR SPORT: Sportsmen will pay out more than $12,000,000 this year for state hunting licenses and federal duck stamps, the National Wildlife Federation estimates.

ODDITIES AT THE FAIR

NEW YORK—Here are a few of the strikingly unusual things visitors will find at the New York World's Fair 1939:

A parachute tower from which visitors may "bail out" at an elevation of 250 feet and be sure of a "happy landing."

Revolving "magic carpets" from which you may look down as from a height of two miles upon "The City of Tomorrow" inside the 200-foot Perisphere.

A "Tree of Life" carved from the trunk and branches of an elm planted in Connecticut in 1781 by Revolutionary War prisoners.

"Steve Brodie" jumping six times a day from a reproduction of the Brooklyn Bridge.

The most valuable wheat field for its size in the world in full growth.

Five million dollars worth of diamonds, rubies, emeralds and other gems in one glittering display.

The steel-walled bathysphere in which descent has been made miles down in the black depths of the ocean.

"Rocket gun" by which passengers will be shot to the moon, or Mars some day—perhaps.

The model of a human eye so large visitors may enter it and look out upon the Fair's busy scene just as if the eye were doing the looking.

Two hundred blooded cows being milked daily on a revolving platform.

An orange grove transplanted intact all the way from Florida.

Automobiles with living drivers in hair-raising collisions and flying somersaults.

The largest opal in the world. An oil well in operation with real drillers in the "cast."

The largest model railroad ever constructed.

Puppets 14 feet tall dramatizing the contents of the familiar bathroom medicine cabinet.

Displays of rare orchids, renewed every three days by plants flown to the Fair from Venezuela.

The tremendous discharge of 10,000,000 volts of man-made lightning.

A Brazilian exhibit building erected on stilts.

A floor made of cotton.

Ricksha runners from South Africa six and a half feet tall and clad mostly in feathers, horns and beads.

A waterfall cascading from the high roof of a building.

Mural paintings that change their colors while you're looking at them.

Fireworks set to music in related patterns of color and light.

A city entirely populated by midgets.

An automobile speedway half a mile long on top of an exhibit building.

Mighty snowstorms sweeping down out of a clear Spring sky.

A building turned inside out with its roofbeams on the outside.

Moving chairs traveling around in a building so visitors won't have to walk.

A flight to Venus so real you'll swear you've been there and met the folks.

The tallest mural paintings in the world.

A model of New York City so large that the Empire State Building is reproduced 23 feet tall.

A sphere 200 feet in diameter seeming to revolve on jets of water, like the little silver ball in the shooting-gallery.

A fountain that sings.

Paintings that have to be destroyed every night and done all over again next morning.

A "Fountain of the Atom," with electrons and protons dancing around a pulsating shaft of light.

NEW EMBLEM ON CAR PLATES IS PROPOSED

AUSTIN—The "Long Horn" symbol of Texas will decorate the 1940 auto-license plates of this State if the State Highway Department accepts the suggestion contained in a House Concurrent Resolution introduced in the 46th Legislature this week by Representative R. A. Harp of Cottle County. At present the only decorative effect is the star dividing the digits.

"While we in Texas appreciate the significance of the 'Lone Star' symbol, when you tour other sections of the country it is just a convenient mark to separate the numerals," declared Representative Harp in discussing his proposal. "But everyone from Maine to California, and from Canada to Mexico associates Texas with the lore and legends of the 'Longhorn' cattle. Using the head of such a steer as a divider of the digits, extending the horns over the numerals, and you have a million and a quarter vehicles carrying effective exclamation advertising."

"Louisiana has effectively capitalized on their trade-mark of the Pelican. A glance at one of their plates and everyone knows the car is from Louisiana. Other states employ like symbols, and some of them use the map of their respective states. Due to the fact that so many other states have maps of their states already in use, the Longhorn head would be much more impressive and would be readily recognized all over the United States."

ORCHIDS A NICKEL IN LITTLE KISS

ORCHIDS are a nickel in the village of Little Kiss, just beyond the Valley of Lilies. Peasants still practice voodoo, but the colored people are mostly gentle souls, eager to believe that folks is good and living am sweet.

This is life in Dominica, one of the "Ports of the Sun" which Eleanor Early touches in her fascinating article on tropical travel in the February Cosmopolitan.

Trinidad has calypso singers, she says, who are as popular as movie stars in Hollywood, and Trinidad's favorite is a singer named Radio.

Off the coast of Trinidad are three small islands. One is Tobago, which is also called Robinson Crusoe's Island; one is called the Goat although there is not a goat on it; and the other is Little Tobago where there are no human beings but only birds of paradise.

If Miss Early's vivid portrayal of the lazy beauty of these islands doesn't make you want to pack up and leave at once for the West Indies, the secret of their unspoiled beauty will—for the great attraction of these "Ports of the Sun" is that they are still largely unknown to tourists.

those issued by a large insurance company. The facsimile includes a false policy number, surety bond numbers and other data these companies print on legitimate vouchers. The description of only one number of this ring has been obtained by state officers.

In the rapidly increasing files of the state records bureau are reports of the activities of a man and woman who direct their swindles at rooming house operators. Director Garrison said the man or woman makes advance payments for rooms with bogus checks in amounts ranging from $30 to $40 and offers explanations that they are planning to operate tourist houses in the particular town. After obtaining the rooming house operator's endorsement on the bogus check the swindlers cash it at a local bank and leave the locality before the swindle is detected.

Experts at state police headquarters have completed the installation of modus operandi files for the detection of fictitious check passers, and bulletins are being mailed weekly to 1,000 police agencies in the Southwest warning of these nefarious money-raising schemes. Photographs of the bogus checks are reproduced in the bulletin along with details of the various methods used by the swindlers.

"Many of these reports have not reached us, but if victims of these rings would rush bogus checks to this department along with descriptions of the passers," Garrison said, "We would be able to expedite the issuance of warnings and information and have better chances of apprehending them."

CLAIMS FORMS NOW AVAILABLE AT POST OFFICE

AMARILLO—A supply of claims inquiry forms for the use of individuals interested in filing applications for old-age insurance lump-sum benefits have recently been sent to all post offices in the Amarillo area, Dewey I. Reed manager of the local office of the Social Security Board, said today.

The counties covered by the Amarillo office include Dallam, Sherman, Hansford, Ochiltree, Lipscombe, Hemphill, Roberts, Hutchinson, Moore, Hartley, Oldham, Potter, Carson, Gray, Wheeler, Collingsworth, Donley, Armstrong, Randall, Deaf Smith, Parmer, Castro, Swisher, Briscoe, Hall, Childress, Cottle, Motley, Floyd, Hale, Lamb, Bailey, Cochran, Hockley, Lubbock, Crosby, Dickens, King, Stonewall, Kent, Garza, Lynn, Terry, Yoakum.

Reed stated that lump-sum payments now being made amount to 3 1/2 percent of the employee's total taxable wages received prior to attainment of age 65 or death.

A poster, showing the new location of the Amarillo office of the Social Security Board at the new Federal Building, after January 28, has also been distributed for display in post offices. The office has been located at 416 Oliver-Eagle Building, and will be until January 28.

For the convenience of the public, Reed explained, all post offices have received supplies of Form SS-5, employee's application for account number, the claims inquiry form, and Form SS-4, which is used by the employer in applying for an identification number. After forms have been completed, they should be mailed to the Amarillo office of the Social Security Board.

Under this arrangement, employees may secure the forms they need from their local post offices and save the trip to Amarillo Reed said.

Excuse me, Ladies, I'm on my way to beat a rug

SPORTS COMMENTS: Reddy Kilowatt, whose kitchen battles have made him famous in many thousands of West Texas homes, last year chalked up another victory against Meanie Drudge, nemesis of the fair sex. In a grudge fight from start to finish, Reddy electrified a huge crowd composed mostly of women. His great range of blows to Meanie's bread basket had the customers shouting with joy. The knockout came when Reddy ironed him out ready for the vacuum cleaner. As the dim light went out in Meanie's glaring lamps, many hundreds of homes were properly illuminated by the I-E-S shiners Reddy introduced. "Give me frigidaire," Meanie cried as he went down for the full count. The fans were turned on...but too late for Meanie Drudge. What he needed then was not a ventilator but a warming pad. Meanie was out, cold as an electric refrigerator.

It took a toaster to bring Meanie around... that and a shower with an electric hot water heater providing the warm glow of life. First thing he did was yell for a cup of coffee made in an electric percolator. Next he wanted nourishment. "Bring on the food mixer!" he yelled.

Sports writers gathered around his table looking for a convenient outlet. "Fellows," Meanie announced, "you can quote me as saying I'm a reformed man. From now on I'm living the modern way... the electric way."

in Texas cities and towns, Homer Garrison, Jr., public safety director, warned. The swindlers move from state to state and are difficult to apprehend because of their changing methods and swift movements, Garrison said.

For an example, the state police head pointed to reports of a band of fictitious check passers, a man, woman, young girl and boy, who recently cashed bogus checks drawn from accounts of six firms in six different Texas banks. Business people in Luling, Bastrop, Temple, Coupland, Granger, Taylor, Elgin, Liberty, Bryan, Bay City, Wharton and Beaumont have been swindled by them. This group had also operated in seven Louisiana towns.

In varying check writing methods the artistic swindlers use pen and ink, check protecting machines and typewriters. Most of these checks bear different sur-

Home Econ. Club Studies Etiquette

The Home Economics Club met on Thursday afternoon, January 19. The vice-president, Betty Jo Simpson, called the meeting to order, and the minutes were read by the secretary. In the business meeting the club decided not to send delegates to the Home Economics Rally at Galveston this year. Instead a project was planned whereby indirect lighting will be installed in the clothing laboratory of the home economics department.

The club members are planning to attend the District F. H. T. meeting at Floydada on February 11.

After the business meeting the following program was given on "Etiquette" with Betty Jo Canon as leader: "Etiquette at School," Frances Stearns; "Etiquette at Home," Ruth Rushing; and "Etiquette in Public," Frances Carpenter.

Who's Who In The Junior Class

Murphy, Bascomb—He is a blonde resident of Whiteflat who must be getting over an affair because he often sings "It Makes No Difference Now."

Perkins, A. J.—He is not too quiet, but he thinks too much of his feet to put them on the floor.

Payne, J. D.—Sometimes called "Senator Payne." He seems to like the girls at Quitaque.

Latimer, Loyd—He prefers blondes, and his favorite song is "It Makes No Difference Now," also.

Patton, Keith—He is a quiet red-head and is also very smart. He's crazy about the song, "This Can't Be Love."

FACTS ABOUT TEXAS TECH

Since Texas Technological College at Lubbock is the largest college near Matador, most of us are especially interested in it. Although it is only 13 years old, it has had the most phenomenal growth of any college in the United States, the enrollment now being 3,500. Its beautiful buildings are of the Spanish Renaissance design of architecture which is so suited to the Plains area.

The graduates of Tech, especially in the engineering, agriculture, and home economics division, are ranked among the best. Students may also be trained for business pursuits in the general arts and science division.

Texas Tech is a state school, and for this reason, expenses are very reasonable, the tuition being only $25.00 per semester.

Tech is rapidly becoming one of the foremost schools of Texas and of the nation. It offers a wonderful opportunity for students to adapt themselves to the practice of associating with others as well as to prepare them for the future.

PAPER JOINS PRESS CLINIC

The school paper, Los Toreros, recently joined the West Texas Scholastic Press Clinic which is sponsored by the journalism department of Texas Technological College. The clinic holds a two-day convention each fall at Lubbock, and the members enter their paper in a contest to be judged.

Mrs. Reva A. York will sponsor the Los Toreros. A staff meeting was called on Wednesday, January 25, for the purpose of forming a Journalism Club. It is our hope that more interest will be taken in the school news, in order that Los Toreros can be improved.

Classes Sell At Tourney

The juniors and seniors were occupied at the Lion's Club basketball tournament which was held last week-end. The juniors sold coffee and doughnuts, and the seniors sold sandwiches and soda-pop. Each customer had to be told the same thing—"Sandwiches? Oh yes, ham, cheese, tuna fish, no we have no turkey sandwiches."

Remember that these classes will again sell at the county tournament, so please help us out by buying something. The juniors have to give a banquet, and the seniors need money in order to leave a gift to dear old Matador High.

Four Games Remain In Cage Schedule

Four games remain to be played in the "Big Six" basketball conference. The Matador schedule is as follows:

January 31, Paducah, there.

February 7, Quitaque, there.

February 14, Flomot, there.

February 21, Roaring Springs, here.

The teams with the highest percentage standings are: Matador girls, 1000%. Roaring Springs girls, 800%. Turkey boys, 1000%. Matador boys, 800%.

The county meet of the senior boys and girls will be held at Matador on the nights of February 10 and 11.

THE SOPH'S PARADE

There's a big bunch of sophomores in the class of '39. Guess that's the reason we have such a time.

We have more demerits than any other class. And if we don't do better we might not even pass.

MEET A SENIOR

Name: Houston Schweitzer
 General appearance: blond blue eyes, 6 feet, 1 inch tall, attended Matador Public School for 11 years; likes our hands-on science teacher, chemistry, basketball; dislikes: demerits, assignments, and ugly girls; ambition: to play basketball for "House of David."

Good Taste—A Barometer To Personality

One's personality is reflected in many ways. It may be judged by the clothes he wears, his speech, or his manners. A person who uses poor taste in his dress and general appearance will very likely forget his manners and the essentials of correct English.

Miss Emily Post once said that "the only real school for charm is the home." This is true to a great extent. In a larger sense, however, we must learn to apply the principles which we learn at home to our daily associations with others. It is easy to learn what to do, but to do it is an entirely different matter.

We should make an effort to dress as neatly as possible, to use etiquette at all times, and to improve our speech by practicing the fundamentals of correct usage. In this way, the development of our personality and good taste will take care of itself.

THIS AND THAT
 Minnie K., just how do you do it? It seems that a certain "Mutt"

Berryman was your boy friend last week. My, my, my how these sirens do get around.

Of all things Bob Murphy, we're ashamed of you. There is a certain old adage that goes something like this: "All angels may be blondes, but not all blondes are angels." Altho you may not run into trouble, you had better watch your step.

Our new English teacher, Mrs. York, seems to be very fond of red-heads. Have mercy on the blondes and brunettes. We guess this accounts for all of the recent purchases of henna dye from our drug-stores.

Oneita Kimbell and S. M. Guthrie seem to have begun quite a romance. Now, now, Oneita, please don't get angry, 'cause you know it's the truth. (Or is it?)

It seems that the new senior, Lillie Seal, has made quite a hit with none other than J. W. Hough. During a certain study-hall period they exchange puns—or sumpin'. We wouldn't dare mention what period because there is a chance that they might get a few demerits.

BEAVER GETS JOB AS U. S. ENGINEER

Beaver have been brought back within the past few years in a dozen states where the species had been extinct. Its value as a conservationist has been demonstrated in many

On many wildlife restoration projects, under federal administration, the beaver has been introduced to do its part. "Low-cost fuel? The John Deere's built for it!"

John Deere GENERAL PURPOSE Tractor

You take no chances when you burn low-cost, money-saving fuel in a John Deere two-cylinder tractor because it is designed to successfully and safely burn these fuels, and has done so for fourteen years. The John Deere has all the features necessary for burning less volatile yet more powerful fuels . . . natural draft carburetion, comparatively slower engine speed, crankcase ventilation, proper engine temperature, and a short, heated manifold from which the gasified charge of fuel is delivered directly into the two cylinders and converted into power before it has a chance to reliquefy, get past the piston rings, and cause harmful dilution. Saving money by burning low-cost fuel in a John Deere Tractor is no experiment. Come in and get all the facts.
