My History Of The West

by Gertrude Morris

(Editor's Note: Mrs. Morris, grandmother of Pup Price of Lubbock, wrote this interesting letter in the 1950s to Verlin Reeves.)

I boarded the train in Hico, Texas, with my brother-in-law C.D. Bird in March, 1893. We spent the night in Ft. Worth. Next morning we took the Ft. Worth and Denver and spent the night in Childress. It was a small town, only one hotel, just a plank building. There were very few houses there. I was awakened some time in the night with the howling of coyotes. I had never heard their howl before. I didn't feel very comfortable with them so close by.

Next morning we took the mail hack for Matador. We traveled all day and reached Matador in late afternoon. The driver of the mail hack was Jon Cammack, brother of Ed Cammack of Matador. The roads were very rough, just trails. I made several trips on that line. I remember one in particular. They drove little Spanish mules on that trip.

At Northfield they changed teams. There was a big tank of water close by. Got hitched up and off we started, the mules running and pitching and ran through that tank. That hack was bobbing around like a cork. Nothing fell out but we got wet feet and a good scare.

Aren't Irises Purple?

by Marisue Potts

The old reliable purple flags of yesterday's pioneer homes have been replaced by newer, more exotic varieties as a drive through the streets of Matador will prove.

Over at Keith Patton's, irises come in all shades, types, and varieties. Orange, pink, yellow and yellow and orange, violet and yellow, dark red, blue, white, and even some purple blossoms vie for the passerby's attention. Named for Iris, Greek goddess of the rainbow, the plant normally grown by bulbs or rhizomes, can have 20 or 30 seeds in a seed pod which might produce that many different colors.

Patton, completing his third term as president of the South Plains Iris Society is a master judge of iris shows. He has just returned from Lea County, New Mexico, where he and two other judges decided the winners. Seeking perfection, Patton selects specimens that are pleasing to the eye, artistically placed and well balanced, properly groomed, and in open bloom. Each color has its own class, so that an orange would not have to compete against a

I reached Red Lake, my sister Mrs. C. D. Bird's home, on the fourth day. The home consisted of one room and a dugout for kitchen and bedroom. We had no living room. No water piped in the house or bathroom as we know it today. It was sparsely settled.

Some six miles from Red Lake there was a settlement called Cotton Wood Afton. They had a one room school house where we had church and Sunday school. Not much of a crowd, but they were all friendly. There were the Whitakers, Clifton Harvey, Gates Braddock, Staffords, Alsforths, Joe Jackson. All would take dinner and go to church and most of the time spend the day.

The young people had parties and dances. All of the girls rode horseback. I had never ridden horseback so I was rather awkward and never became a good rider. We would go to the round-ups and have dinner at the chuckwagons.

Their office is located on the 2nd floor of the First State Bank building and will remain there until a ground floor office can be located.

PTO Family Night Tonight

The PTO will meet tonight, May 2, for Family Night. Fun will begin at 7:30 p.m. at the tennis courts with an alternate place being the bus barn if the weather is bad.

An evening of fun and visiting for all school-age children and their parents has been planned to end the school year. Home-made ice cream and cake will be prepared by PTO members for their guests.

Five dollar prizes will be awarded to the classes with the most attending. One will be given for grades K-6; one for grades 7-8; and one for grades 9-12.

PTO dues are $1.00 per year and a booth will be open for those wishing to join for 1985-86.

New PTO officers will be installed for next year during the evening.

PTO members hope that all parents of the school children in Matley County will attend tonight and join the organization for next year. Once our new school is completed, the organization plans include completing the work which was being done on the school playground and other projects for the benefit of your children and their teachers.

Come tonight and enjoy the visiting and the food and help your child's class win a prize. Parents and teachers need to work together to build a strong school for our children.

Gridiron Greats

Go For The Goal

Former Matador-Motley County Gridiron Greats will provide the community with an enjoyable evening of memories on Saturday, May 11. Forty-seven exes from classes of 1961 through 1984 have signed (to date) to play in the Exes Football Game. More are expected to sign. The event is sponsored by the Matador Lions Club.

Roy "Ronch" Grundy and M.C. "Salty" Jones are working day and night getting their game plan to perfection. They are coaching the odd-year graduating classes. Practice for the odd-year team has been set for Thursday, May 9, at 7 p.m. at the football field. In an interview, Grundy stated he was pleased many of his players had begun building leg muscles by trudging through the mud at Bob Wills Day. He added, "We are putting our players on a rigid(?) training program, but in case it doesn't work, order me five tanks of oxygen."

Ranchers buying feed at Stafford Farm Store may be surprised to see a new design of 'X's and 'O's' on the Purina feed sacks. This is because owner, Gale Stafford has joined with Randy Barton to coach the even years. Randy is not only helping engineer the building of the new Quail Plastic Pipe Plant but he is strategically planning to get a jump on his opponents by scheduling a practice session Monday, May 6, 7 p.m. at Burleson field.

On Saturday, May 11, the Lions Club will begin selling their delicious hamburgers, along with other numerous delights. At 6:30 p.m. the game will begin at 7:30 p.m. Admission to the game will be $1.00 per person (5th grade and under will be free.)

To top-off the fun filled evening, the Matador Volunteer Fire Department will sponsor a dance at the Fire Station. Country Western music will be provided by Texas Tonight, the famous band from Amarillo-land."

If you are an ex and have not signed to play, you may do so by calling Sandra Francis, 347-2820 or Barbara Christian, 347-2490. Ex-cheerleaders are also being contacted to return and cheer their classmates on to victory. At present we do not have representatives from the Fabulous Winning Fifties.

poem about nature. The first line has 5 syllables, the second line has 7 syllables and the third line has 5 syllables. Example:

The tumbleweed blows
Through the fences, across roads.

Tumbling, bouncing-gone.

Try it!! It's fun!!

Mini-Thoughts

On Theology

by Pearl Alexander

"For great is our God above all gods" II Chronicles 2:5.

We might look at the heavens or peer into a microscope, but other than giving us a sense of awe they do us little good. For we need a God whose grace is greater than our sin! One bigger than our greatest problem but compassionate over our smallest care. Whose understanding includes all of our mistakes, failures or disappointments and whose ear hears the faintest cry from the weary soul.

And we need One who can be touched with our feelings, emotions and afflictions. One, who loves us, knowing full well all of our shortcomings. Is there such a God? Would He care about you? Oh Yes! He has already invited you to come to Him and He's waiting for you.

Pressure Canner Testing To Be Conducted Thursday

Pressure Canner Testing will be conducted Thursday (today), May 2 in Motley County Extension Office from 10:30 a.m. - 12:00 noon and from 1:00-3:30 p.m.

Each canning season the gauges on pressure canners need to be tested for accuracy.

An error in canning pressure can produce a dangerous as well as a less desirable food product.

You may bring your lids by the extension office for testing and pick them up at a later date. Be sure a paper with your name, address and phone number is attached to the lid.

Mrs. Steve Jones

Burleson - Jones Wed In Ceremony With Western Flair

The soft glow from antique lanterns lit the altar as Carla Burleson and Steve Jones exchanged vows on April 27. The 5 p.m. double ring wedding ceremony with a western touch was held in the First Christian Church of Floydada.

The bride is the daughter of Stanley and Lou Burleson of Floydada. Parents of the groom are Bill and LaRue Jones of Levelland.

A cousin of the bride, Danny Jones of Plainview, directed the ceremony before the altar decorated with red geraniums and other greenery, country baskets of dried wildflowers, and the lanterns.

Pre-wedding selections on the piano and organ were offered by Tammy Payne.

Miss Payne sang "The Wedding Song" as the mother of the bride and mother of the groom each lit a single taper symbolic of the life given to her child. "My Only Love" was sung by Miss Payne and Blake Kitchens as the bride and groom lit a unity candle.

Escorted down the aisle by her father, the bride wore an old fashioned Victorian-style wedding gown with a high neck and V-shaped lace inset and fitted bodice. Long sleeves edged in ribbon and lace matched the apron effect of the long ruffled skirt.

Accenting the gown was an heirloom golden chain with cameo which was a wedding gift to the bride's great-great-grandmother Mollie Moreland by her betrothed, Al Barton, in 1878. It was handed down to her namesake and the bride's grandmother, Mollie Burleson.

Wearing prairie dresses of blue dotted cotton with lace trim accented with red roper boots were matron of honor Caren Campbell Mitchell and bridesmaid honoree D'Les Jones, sister of the groom. Distributing decorated wheat bags to well-wishers was niece of the bride, Christy Potts, dressed in a red dotted prairie dress trimmed in lace.

The groom was informally dressed in a white oxford, an off-white blazer, Wrangles and ropers. His best man, Rusty Rose, and groomsmen Clint Stone, both of Levelland, wore blue oxfords, Wranglers and ropers. Serving as ushers were Randy Coleman of Morton and Todd Beedy of Floydada.

Sandy Coleman registered reception guests as they entered Fellowship Hall which was decorated in keeping with the old fashioned theme. At the bride's table was a western decorated three-tiered off-white cake topped with a cowgirl and cowboy. Serving the cake and pouring the punch from a crock into jelly jars were Kim Mixon, Connie Pritchett, and Donnette Hancock.

Trailing ivy, baskets of broomweed, and various antiques were featured on an authentic chuckbox which served as the groom's table. Cherry cobbler prepared by the bride's grandmother, Mollie Burleson, and coffee made in a graniteware pot were served in red splatterware cups by Shonda Fulton, Tiffany Glover, and Beverly Brock, sister of the bride.

After a wedding trip to San Antonio, the couple will be at home in Levelland. Carla, an office manager at Keeling Buick, is a graduate of Floydada High School and South Plains College. A graduate of Levelland High and South Plains, Steve is a self-employed welder.

Pre-nuptial Courtesies and Rehearsal Dinner

The bride has been honored by several pre-nuptial courtesies including a shower in Levelland and a luncheon at Hemphill-Wells, Lubbock, given by Mrs. Lon Davis and Ms. Joy Smitherman. In Floydada at the home of Mrs. Laren Fulton a shower was given with a luncheon following given by Mrs. Johnny West and Ms. Smitherman. ### My History Of The West (Continued From Page 1)

We spent one Christmas at the Matador Ranch and had dinner at the Bob Haileys. Three couples of us decided to go to Dickens City to a Christmas dance and supper. It was bitter cold and we were late getting started. We got within ten miles of Dickens and the horses shied at something. The driver dropped one of his lines, and in the scramble for the line, the horses got out of the road and into a ditch. Broke an axle and there we were, not a house in sight.

One couple, Clara Currie and Walter Jackson, were in a buggy. They took me and Miss Lou Darden in the buggy with them and the boys, Jon Jackson and Jim Thompson, rode the horses bareback into Dickens. So we danced and had supper, and the next day faced that bitter cold back to Matador and on to Red Lake.

In the spring Charlie Bird built more on to his house. We had two rooms then and a long porch across the two rooms and little bedroom on the end of the porch. We felt like we were in a mansion. Mrs. Bird and I decided we would plant us a Turnip Patch. We didn't have a horse that would work single, so we each took turns at pulling the plow. Some job!! But we got it done and planted our turnips.

Our postoffice was six miles away so we didn't get mail very often. It was at Beckton, later moved to Afton. The Colliers kept the postoffice and a small stock of groceries and a few other items. It was handy for the settlers.

Most of the settlers made two trips to the railroad at Quanah-spring and fall for their supplies. It would take about eight days to make the trip. On one of the trips I went along with Joe Jackson and his daughter, Annie, and Sallie Whitaker and Mrs. Dovie and his son, Luke.

Next morning we were eating breakfast and Luke got up and got his gun. He shot a big rattler right at my back, coiled in a prairie dog hole. I had several close calls with the rattlesnakes.

Mrs. Whitaker taught school in a dugout. She was Mrs. J.M. Jackson's mother of Matador, my good friend there. Mrs. Jon Smith also taught school there before her marriage to Jon Smith. He was trail boss on the Matador Ranch and Bob Hailey was wagon boss of the branding outfit.

Each wagon had from 25 to 30 men each. They would drive herds to the railroad and ship to Montana. Their cooks were Jim Meador, Jim Cloyd, Ed Russell, Lum Moore, brother to Ruff Moore.

At that time the cowherds were a lot of long horned cattle. I recall one big white steer. One horn turned up and the other turned down and scraped the ground as he walked. He could not hold his head up. As the years went by they got all of the longhorns out and had the Beef Durham and Herefords.

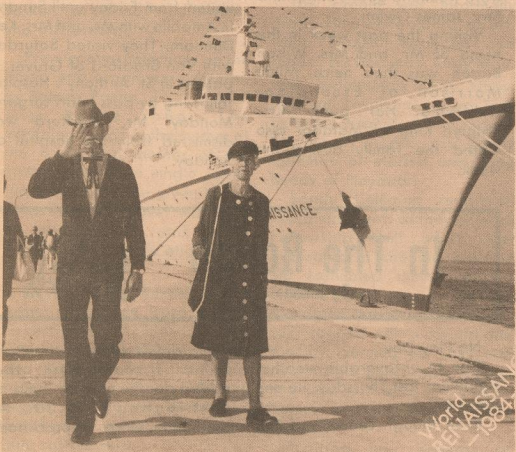

A.G. Ligertwood was manager at the ranch and Murdo McKinney was herd manager. His home was at Trinidad, Colorado. They later moved to Denver. Mr. Watson was bookkeeper at the ranch.

Jimmie Devine was cook at the chuckhouse and Mr. and Mrs. Jack Zurick cooked at the White House. Mrs. McDonnell did the laundry for the cowboys and sometimes cooked at the White House.

Line riders were Charlie Bird at Red Lake; D.Keith at Rustler Camp; Ross at Turtle Hole; Pat Murphy at Paine Place, later Henry Cook; Cook Harris at Harniky; Sid Dimwoody at Croton; Frank Leonard at Mott Camp.

I married Charlie Morris in December of 1897. We lived at Red Lake. We had a daughter Audrey, now Mrs. Grover Price of San Leandro, California. We lived at Red Lake for nine years and then moved to Mott, and from there to the Lorkey place, three miles west of Matador. In 1915 we moved to our place east of Matador.

In 1951 I moved to Hico, Texas. My husband passed away in 1942 but I still love the West and all of its good people.

Mr. and Mrs. L.H. Dirickson took a little break from their ship on the Island of Rhodes. They cruised aboard the World Renaissance on a "Golden Fleece" cruise of the Greek Islands and then toured Greece, Turkey and Egypt.

Texans For Children's Rights Meeting Tonight

A group of concerned parents in Floyd and other counties have formed an organization called "Texans for Children's Rights". The purpose of this organization is to amend House Bill No. 72 or the so-called "No Pass - No Play" bill.

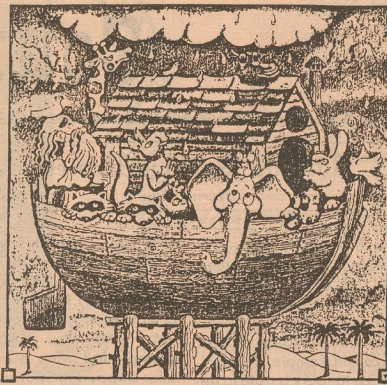

This group is not attempting to abolish Bill No. 72 completely but they do feel it should be amended to only one week suspension of extra-curriculum activities instead of the current six weeks.

All Motley County residents who would like to support this effort are encouraged to attend the meeting tonight at 7 p.m. at the Lighthouse Electric, Floydada.

If you would like more information about this organization you may write to Box 128, Floydada, Tx. 79235 or call 983-2603.
