by Nora Belle Dunning

The Whiteflat Community Reunion was held on Saturday, April 1 with eighty-eight people registering. The reunion was held in the Matador Senior Citizens Building. New officers for next year are J.W. Hougle for Vice President; Eugene Watson, President; Nora Belle Dunning, Secretary and Treasury; Luther Green, Cemetery Director. Lunch was enjoyed by all with Rev. Fred Adams of Dallas asking the blessing. After lunch we drove out to the old Whiteflat school yard and had a dedica-tion for the new memorial monument on the southeast corner of the old school yard. Nora Belle Stephens Dunning read a tribute to the future generations of the area and dedicated each of our love to all eneration. Rev. Fred Adams, a former h grade teacher in Whiteflat school The grade teacher in Whitehat School before he surrendered to the Methodist Ministry gave the dedication message with Billy Joe Whitaker giving the benediction. American Cowboy and promises to be the most comprehensive event that has ever been held on the cowboy.

This unique production's steering committee is co-chaired by the Ranching Heritage Association's General Manager, Alvin G. Davis, and by Dr. Ken Davis of the Tech English Department. It will gather working cowboy poets and balladeers as well as others creating and performing in the vein, such as distinguished rodeo cowboys, cowgirls, ranchers, academics, historians, publishers, writers, musicians, actors, western artists, cartoonists and craftsmen (saddle, bit, spur, hat and boot makers, etc) from spur, hat and boot makers, etc) from around the United States.

Dennis Gaines, local cowboy for the Matador Ranch in Matador will recite some of his own poetry. Dennis has been a working cowboy on the Matador Ranch for the last 31/2 years and has been writing poetry about his experiences and thoughts on cowboy life. To take a quote from one of his poems, Dennis will "tell some tales of his daring and skill and maybe a couple of lies."

This public event in the arts and hu manties will be held in the shadow of the statue of the great cowboy philosopher and humorist, Will Rogers, and will attract an audience from Western states and beyond. It will feature performances in poetry, music, stories, arts, crafts, panels and academic papers by and about the American cowpuncher.

Many of the performers will mount horses on Sunday afternoon, June 4th, to compete against each other in a celebrity

Please remember that we plan to close the Library next week while the sidewalk is being dug out and replaced with a new one that will be smooth and have a ramp that will make this side of the street wheelchair accessable. Among the many things we would like to accomplish dur ing this time are the following:

Clean and organize the storage room, refinish the small Library table, pull all the cards for books that have been weeded from our non-fiction section, complete the rearrangement of shelves and books, catalogue and accession many books, touch up small bits of paint, catch up on the filing.

And if we finish that early, we can have the carpet cleaned! If you have strong muscles to help move shelves and books, or the talent to refinish fine furniture, call and let us see if we can match time, talent

We were grateful to see Monte Louder back in town. He came in and emptied all the books from the back shelves and with the help of Clayton Thomas and Clay-ton's tools we converted the double-faced shelves to their original single faced condition, and moved one section to the South wall where we planned to rearrange the Juvenile non-fiction books. When I came in Friday morning, I realized we had put the shelf with the right end panel where the shelf with the left end panel would have been. Luckily, Spenc and David Dixon came in with Wile about noon and moved the two shelves Thanks to the hard work of Monte, Clayton, Spencer and David for all their help, and thanks to Charlie Johnson for coming by to see what our problem was when we learned that we were trying to find a tool to take the shelves apart. We would never make it without the generous volunteer work of our many friends. Wayne Hunter even got into the act. I called him to see if he would like to come down and attend found only five or six cars in the parking lot we wondered if we had gotten the time wrong. When we found the door locked we knew something was wrong so we drove back downtown to see what I had missed on the posters and realized that April 8th was Saturday, not Friday! Since he had driven down, and the shelves were in place, he helped me move the books from the first two short shelves to the taller ones and get them in the proper order at the same time. Thank you, Wayne

None of the above would have taken place yet if Mrs. Jo Amandes of the West Texas Library System had not come down from Lubbock, at my request, on Thurs-day monring so that we could sit down surrounded by the furniture we planned to rearrange to make the children's corner more accessable and create a study unit in the Genealogy and research corner. We had both been carrying around a graph of the front part of the Library and little cutouts to represent the different height of shelves, but neither of us had created the time to set down and push the pieces around to come up with a workable plan. By setting a date for her to come to the Library, we got the beginning of a plan. Mrs. Amandes has the title of Collection Developent Consultant for WTLS, but she also heads up the Literacy Program, prints the Newsletter, "In the Wind" and will be able to print flyers and special promotion pieces for us when they get the new laser printer that is on order. She conducted the cataloging workshop at our Library about a year ago. We may have to ask her back during our work week and see if she can catalog all the gift books that have stacked up because we can't find time to catalog them. It's always good for me when Jo can come to visit Motley County Library.

I would be ready to go hunting at that time. We went almost every evening, usually toward Russellville, by different usually toward Russellville, by different roads or maybe toward Teepee Flat. We never hunted on the pavement. We were careful about shooting, watching out for live stock. If anyone was coming, front or behind, we could tell by the dust. The shooting stopped and the guns were in the car, by the time they passed.

There were no game wardens that we knew of. We never had any complaints from anyone.

SEEDS FROM THE SOWER Michael A. Guido Metter, Georgia

A father said, "When you're bad, son, you add another grey hair to your father's head." "Wowie!" cried the boy, "by the looks of Grandpa's head, you must have been a very bad boy."

Badness may not add a grey hair to your father's head, but it will add grief to his heart. Young people, the Bible says, "Honor your father and mother." Father and mother, you must be worthy of their honor. You're their copy book. You're what you make them.

A child isn't likely to find a Father in God, unless he finds something of God in his father. Every child has a right to God-honoring, Bible-reading, prayerpracticing parents.
