China's Plea For Treaty Action Is Presented To Hull

Appeal In Sino-Jap Crisis Put Before All Signatories Of 9-Power Pact

WASHINGTON, July 16 (AP)—Dr. C. T. Wang, Chinese ambassador, said today he had discussed with Secretary Hull China's plea that the United States and other nine-power treaty signatories "take action" in the present Sino-Japanese crisis.

"We want the various treaty signatories to take action," Dr. Wang said. "I went over the situation with Secretary Hull."

It was learned authoritatively that the ambassador left with Hull a memorandum setting forth China's view of the situation and a plea that it be accorded assistance by other nations.

A similar memorandum, it was learned, was presented to the foreign offices of the 14 other powers which are signatories or adherents of the so-called nine-power treaty.

Officials declined to express an opinion as to whether or not the action taken by the Chinese government in presenting its case to the 14 nations who now guarantee China's integrity through adherence to the pact constituted invocation of the pact.

Officials explained that the Chinese government's action might be interpreted as an informal invocation of the pact but declined to express an opinion pending a careful study of the memorandum by Hull and higher officials.

Hull had discussed the threatening Far Eastern situation with Hiroo Satto, the Japanese ambassador, and the Chinese ambassador on several occasions.

After one conference with them the state department issued a formal statement saying the secretary had given the envoys a friendly warning to the effect that armed conflict in the Far East would be a threat to the peace of the world.

The United States, however, has taken no definite official action—other than the friendly exchanges of opinion—and it was said today this government has not yet made any commitments concerning the nine power pact.

New Clashes
Meanwhile, Japanese officials at Peiping reported new clashes between Chinese and Japanese forces in North China today increased Japanese losses to 20 killed and 60 wounded.

They said the Japanese army was compelled to take adequate measures "because of the intermittent fighting for the past 10 days."

Both sides were reported moving heavy reinforcements toward the Peiping area of undeclared war where Chinese accuse Japan of attempting to provoke still wider conflict as a pretext for extending her influence there.

All Preparations Complete For Gathering Of Young People

Last minute preparations were being completed under direction of Rev. G. C. Schurman today for the opening, Monday, of the Young People's Conference to be held on scenic Mountain under sponsorship of the Christian church. This will be the first year for the conference locally, but indications point to an attendance of approximately 100, from over this section of W. at Texas, Rev. Schurman said.

He, with Charles Marion Ross of Fort Worth, will be in charge of the week's sessions. Faculty members from West Texas Christian churches will offer a variety of training courses. The conference program provides for recreational hours along with periods devoted to study and worship.

"There has not been a single hitch in the preparations, from start to finish," Rev. Schurman said Friday. "Dormitories, dining room, kitchen and offices are ready to take care of all who attend. We anticipate a successful conference, and hope to make it permanent with increased attendance each year."

The local minister expressed appreciation to all members of the local church, to public officials and all Big Spring business institutions cooperating in preparing for the conference.

Complaint On Steel Firm

Republic Charged With 'Unfair' Practices During Strike

WASHINGTON, July 16 (AP)—The labor relations board charged the Republic Steel Corporation today with a long list of "unfair labor practices" before and during the recent steel strike.

The board ordered a hearing here Wednesday on its complaint, which covered only the company's Ohio plants.

First item of the board's complaint was its allegation that the company discharged 75 employees for joining the steel workers' organizing committee, subsidiary of the John L. Lewis Committee for Industrial Organization. Other workers were threatened with discharge, the board said.

The company also was charged with "maintenance of extensive arsenals" at the Youngstown, Niles, Warren, Canton and Cleveland plants "for the purpose of interfering with, restraining and coercing its employees at said plants in the exercise of their right to self-organization."

The steel firm had increased its police force at the time of the strike, the board said, "for the purpose of interfering with the rights of its employees peacefully to picket the plants."

CHICAGO, July 16 (AP)—Wheat prices rose approximately four cents a bushel above yesterday's close today as heavy buying appeared in the pit around mid-session. The advance from the day's early low was almost five cents.

Traders said much of the buying could be attributed to unfavorable crop advices from the domestic northwest and from Canada and to reports of renewed demand for Europe for North American wheat.

September wheat in Chicago touched a high at one stage of $1.29 per bushel, up almost 4 cents.

Pete Traxler And Pals Make A Getaway

Had Kept Son Of Wealthy Oil Man Prisoner During Flight

SAPULPA, Okla., July 16 (AP)—Roy "Pete" Traxler, wounded southwestern desperado, and two other Texas prison fugitives apparently had eluded eastern Oklahoma posses today after releasing unharmed near here last night the Yale undergraduate son of a wealthy New York oil man.

The hostage, Baird H. Markham Jr., son of General and Mrs. Baird Markham of New York was recuperating from a harrowing eight-hour ride with the heavily-armed felons, who played hide-and-seek with officers prepared to shoot to kill.

Later today Clinton W. Stein, chief of the federal bureau of investigation at Oklahoma City, was to show the 21-year-old Markham photographs of Traxler, Charles Chapman and Fred Tindal, escaped convicts in an effort to make identification positive.

The FBI entered the search when the desperados stole an automobile in Texas on their flight from Eastham prison farm last week and entered Oklahoma.

Police, sheriff's officers and the Oklahoma highway patrol were deployed over roads in the Tulsa area, but it appeared the fugitives had escaped into Kansas or Arkansas, still driving Markham's car.

Heading To Canada
Traxler told Markham the three were heading for Canada.

Markham said the convicts fired pistol and revolver as they sped from Ada, where Markham was seized, to eastern Oklahoma.

Young Markham, working for experience for an oil company at Ada, during the summer, was seized by the three men, 15 miles west of Ada at 2 p. m. yesterday. He was freed at 10:15 p. m.

He walked a mile to a house and summoned police. "They didn't harm me," he said. "I feel fine."

Markham said the three blocked the road and forced him to halt his car.

The men stopped him in order to get his car, he said. All three admitted they were fugitives from the Texas prison farm at Huntsville he said. Besides Traxler, he identified a second of the men as Fred Tindal.

Ten Injured When Gas Tank Explodes

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., July 16 (AP)—A 10,000-gallon gasoline tank exploded after fire broke out at the Pure Oil Company storage plant today. At least 10 persons were injured, including three firemen sprayed by the blazing fluid while dragging hose toward the group of six tanks.

Another 10,000 drum and four smaller tanks were in the midst of a seething cauldron as the gasoline streamed over the ground and poured into the street of a tenement section.

A few minutes after the first tank burst with a thunderous report, two smaller explosions occurred. The nature of the second was not immediately determined, but the third was in a street sewer.

The blast shot a manhole cover skyward, narrowly missing a fireman.

NATION'S GREAT PAY FINAL HONORS TO JOE T. ROBINSON

WASHINGTON, July 16 (AP)—The nation's great led by President Roosevelt, paid their last respects today to Joseph T. Robinson, Democratic leader of the senate.

At the stroke of noon the throng of frock-coated dignitaries marched into the gold-and-marble senate chamber for a simple state funeral.

The air was heavy with the fragrance of flowers.

The dead leader's massive silver casket, almost hidden by wreaths, occupied the center of the hall. An arm's length away stood the empty chair Robinson had used during the last of his 24 years in the senate.

Special seats flanking the bier were occupied by his immediate relatives, Mrs. Robinson; her brothers, Charles and Grady Miller, and their families, Joseph Brewer

JAS. ROOSEVELT DENIES CHARGES

Oppositionists Assert They Welcome Contest On Issue
NEED NO DICTATION, ONE SENATOR AVERS
Topic Intertwined With Selection Of New Majority Leader

WASHINGTON, July 16 (AP)—A presidential injunction that it is "the duty of congress" to pass judiciary legislation at this session drew angry, defiant replies today from foes of the court bill.

The armistice called after the death of Senator Robinson was shattered even before his state funeral at noon.

"Welcome The Contest"
"We will select our own leaders and dispose of the court bill in our own way without dictation from any source whatsoever," said Senator Van Nuys (D-Ind.).

Senator Burke (D-Neb) commented, "if the president is determined to have the matter brought back to life, he will find the opposition ready to welcome the contest."

Opposition senators struck back vigorously at the president's statement that he was expressing his views before Robinson's funeral because "if that advantage is being taken of what, in all decency, should be a period of mourning."

Senator Burke declared the opposition's effort to avoid the controversy during the period of mourning had "not been followed by the other side."

President Roosevelt made his demand for action court legislation in a letter to acting senate leader Barkley of Kentucky.

He followed it up with a conference last night with Barkley and other senators.

Earlier four freshmen senators had discussed the court issue with the president, and according to word passed around by their colleagues, urged him to let the controversial measure go back to committee until next session.

Opposition leaders asserted they had enough votes to recommit the bill. But at a strategy conference, a division of sentiment developed as to whether the motion to recommit should be made, or the fight carried on for a decisive vote on the legislation itself.

Intertwined with the court bill dispute was an increasingly heated undercurrent fight over the democratic leadership in the senate.

Foes of the bill were lining up behind Senator Harrison of Mississippi, although he once has declared for the measure. Some of those on the other side of the judicial dispute were joining them.

Most of those who have gone along with the court bill were working for the selection of Barkley.

He was pronounced "more liberal" by a majority of the 14 first year caucus, in an unusual caucus, in support of leader "More liberal" than the president wants. Most observers doubted the belief there was a split about his choice in view of his letter to Barkley followed by his conference with the Kentucky senator last night.

WILL ERECT PLAY EQUIPMENT AT PARK

Installation of playground equipment in the American Business club sponsored West Side park is only a few days away, W. E. Wozencraft told the club Friday.

He said that pipe to be used on the swings and other equipment was on hand. The city is to cooperate to the extent of welding the pipe into shape. Pipe, donated by oil field interests, was hauled here free of charge by the Chevrolet company.

It was also announced that the city has asked for bids for the construction of a wading pool in the park.

Bernie Arnold and Taylor Stucke entertained with a piano duet, and Arnold was heard in a vocal solo, accompanied by Helen Duley.

Two new members, George Thomas and J. B. Bronstein, were introduced.

Women's Fall Clothes Are Said By Designer To Be Very Tricky

NEW YORK, July 16 (AP)—Women's fall hats either will tantalize men or drive them distracted until they get used to the new tricks.

Some of the new hats, shown today by John-Fredericks, leading designer, were gay with chicken feathers from the barnyard Plymouth Rock.

Some had a trimming, like the end of a shaving brush, and some were shaped like witches' hats, with a tall peaked crown.

"Skirts are shorter, hats are higher," said John. "Don't ask for a lower crown. I won't give it to you. Skirts 15 inches from the ground barely skimmed the knees. Handbags are big enough to put everything but husband in."

READING AND WRITING

By John Selby

THE BANNED BOOKS OF ENGLAND, by Alec Craig (published in England by George Allen & Unwin, Ltd., and imported by Macmillan; $2.90.)

The activities of our smut-smellers have not been uniformly successful of late, but the mere fact that these gentry are active makes attention to Alec Craig's "The Banned Books of England" particularly useful to liberty-loving Americans.

England is notoriously the most free country in the world. She says so. If you visit London, for example, every other Englishman will ask if you've not yet been to Hyde Park Corner to hear the radicals chatter. One can say anything at all at Hyde Park Corner in theory. Actually, there is a procession of bobbies, and tongues are wagged cautiously.

England's book censorship is different in intent from Germany's, but no less strict. If the average young Englishman thinks at all about the censorship, believes Mr. Craig, he probably thinks that the "law of obscene libel" is directed at "fecundity postcards." Actually, because of the lax wording of the Obscene Publications Act of 1857 and the unfortunate construction placed upon it by one Justice Cockburn, the act applies as well to literature as to deliberately pornographic books issued for their filth value.

Under this stupid act and bolstered by this even more stupid decision, a long procession of books has been kept out of England, and many more have been suppressed there. These and the proceedings relating to them Mr. Craig summarizes in his book—the list is very long, and includes such books as Joyce's "Finnegans," D. H. Lawrence's "The Rainbow" and "Lady Chatterley's Lover" (Lawrence's paintings were also the subject of a raid when exhibited in 1929 in London); Shane Leslie's "The Cantab"; Radclyffe Hall's "The Well of Loneliness."

Mr. Craig has gathered facts upon the suppression in British libraries and the British Museum reading room. He discusses variations in the law in the British Isles, and at the end he makes suggestions for improving the matter.

Triple Neck Fracture 8th Accident, But Hardy Railroad Man Still Lives

HOUSTON, July 16 (UP)—John H. Stringfellow, 56, railroad man, with his neck broken in three places, waited four days before he decided that he ought to go to a hospital.

Four minutes after physicians viewed X-ray photos, they shook their heads and despaired of his life.

But Stringfellow just lay on his hospital cot and looked at them—and lived. He had survived seven major railroad accidents and was not unduly worried over a broken neck.

Working on a railroad at 18, he was in two train collisions in Alabama. One killed five persons, but he was unhurt. The second accident was fatal to everyone except Stringfellow.

In 1908, he was running a train from Commerce, Tex., to Tyler, when it jumped the track. He was unhurt.

Two years later, he missed the footboard of an engine at Shreveport, La., and was knocked under the train. Surgeons put a splinter in his skull and he recovered.

An obstruction swept him off a railroad car in 1917. He was thrown 20 feet through the air. Several ribs were broken but soon mended.

Accident No. 7 occurred when an engineer had to set his brakes suddenly. John was catapulted into a car of building material. He was patched up again and returned to work.

His last mishap occurred when he was out of his element. Stringfellow was aside his brown mare, Lady, trying to shoot some wild ducks across a pond so his friends could shoot them.

His horse refused to enter the water. Stringfellow used his spurs. He woke up in bed at home where his son, Walter, had taken him.

AT THE CHURCHES

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE SERVICES
Room F, Settles Hotel
"Life" is the subject of the lesson-lesson which will be read in all Churches of Christ, Scientist on Sunday, July 18.
The Golden Text is: "Now that the dead are raised, even Moses showed at the bush, when he calleth the Lord the God of Abraham, and the God of Isaac, and the God of Jacob. For he is not a God of the dead, but of the living: for all live unto him" (Luke 20:37, 38).
Among the citations which comprise the lesson-lesson is the following from the Bible: "O death, where is thy sting? O grave, where is thy victory?" (I Corinthians 15:55).

The lesson-lesson includes also the following passage from the Christian Science text book, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "The relinquishment of all faith in death and also of the fear of its sting would raise the standard of health and morals far beyond its present elevation, and would enable us to hold the banner of Christianity aloft with unflinching faith in God. In Life eternal." (page 426).

Returns To Blanton Case

Ranger Captain Will Renew Investigation Disappearance

AUSTIN, July 16 (UP)—Capt. Bill McMurrey, veteran Texas Ranger, prepared today to return to the Rio Grande Valley and renew his investigation of the mysterious disappearance last November of John and Luther Blanton.

Considered a possible boon to solution of the case was an additional $1,000 reward, posted yesterday by Gov. James V. Alfred, for information leading to the discovery of the bodies.

The new reward, which brought the total to $2,500, was one of several aftermaths to the strange case which gained public attention a few days ago with the arrest in Willacy county of Louis Lamadrid, a special investigator, charged with illegally carrying a pistol and impersonating an officer.

His arrest resulted in four officers being held in contempt of court, including Ranger Power Penner and Game Warden Morgan Miller. Miller resigned yesterday, asserting law enforcement in the district was made difficult by an "unfavorable public attitude."

Fenner was suspended by Col. H. H. Carmichael, chief of the Rangers, pending an investigation of his part in the arrest and reported courtroom difficulties with a newspaper photographer who said officers seized his camera and attempted to expose a film made at the contempt hearing.

Capt. McMurrey conferred yesterday with Gov. Alfred and Col. Carmichael and planned to meet with his commander today before returning to the valley.

CANBERRA (UP)—Statistics prepared by the League of Nations show that Australia's rise in the cost of living the past year was one of the lowest in the world. The increase here was between 2.5 to 5 per cent along with that of Italy, Danzig, Peru, Belgium and Norway.

Wheat Price Average Due To Be Higher

Indicated World Supplies Much Smaller For This Season

WASHINGTON, July 16 (UP)—Government grain experts said today world wheat prices may average higher in the new season that started this month than in 1936-37.

Indicated world supplies for 1937-38 are about 49,000,000 bushels, smaller than last season, they said, while stronger demand is in prospect.

The economists said world stocks of old wheat on July 1 amounted to about 500,000,000 bushels, or 229,000,000 bushels less than a year earlier, while indicated world production for this season was 3,750,000,000 bushels, or about 220,000,000 more than last year.

Wheat prices for the new crop in the United States have been on a comparatively high level, the economists said, with mills purchasing the early crop movement. When mill buying slackens, they said, prices here may move down toward to permit exports.

The United States wheat production has been estimated at 882,000 bushels this year and maximum domestic requirements are placed at from 625,000,000 to 650,000,000 bushels.

Lower prices for corn during the next few months were forecast by the survey, because of a prospective crop of more than 2,500,000,000 bushels.

L. A. Croft left Friday afternoon for Stephenville, where he will join his wife and daughter, who have been visiting relatives and friends there for several weeks. They will return to Big Spring Sunday afternoon.

Pastor Admits Hammer Death

Gives Officers Statement Telling Of Quarrel With Woman

PITTSFIELD, Ill., July 16 (UP)—An 11-page signed statement of a soft-spoken pastor that he struck his "devoted friend," Mrs. Dennis Kelly, 45, with a hammer during a roadside quarrel after she deserted her husband was claimed by authorities today.

Johnston quoted Newton as saying the statement and said the Rev. C. E. Newton, 51, indicated willingness to plead guilty if the grand jury indicts him. Newton, for 13 years pastor of a Baptist church at Paris, is charged with first degree murder, a crime for which the electric chair is the extreme penalty.

Johnston quoted Newton as saying Mrs. Kelly insisted he accompany her to California on her flight from home and husband. A roadside quarrel followed, during which he struck the woman with a hammer upon becoming "excited" as an automobile approached.

Then he dragged the body in the car, drove to the Mark Twain bridge over the Mississippi and pushed the body off into the river. It was found floating near Louisiana, Mo., Tuesday morning.

PHYSICIAN'S DEATH REMAINS MYSTERY

PROVIDENCE, R. I., July 16 (UP)—A fashionable homeopathic obstetrician, Dr. George W. Webster, died today on the operating table of a hospital here, his lips sealed on the mysterious circumstances surrounding his shooting a short time before.

As police hurried to his home, summoned by the doctor who crawled mortally wounded through two rooms to a telephone, Patrolman Charles H. McNamara reported the physician told him:

"Don't look for clues now. Get me to a hospital. I'll tell you about the shooting later."
He died without discussing the case.
He was struck down by two pistol

Large Crowd At Revival

Evangelist Wise Speaks On Topic, 'Who Then Can Be Saved?'

A record crowd attended the services at the local Church of Christ at 14th and Main streets last evening. Evangelist Melvin J. Wise spoke on the subject, "Who Then Can Be Saved?" the basis of his sermon being based on Matt. 19:16-20.

In the words of the evangelist, "There are a great many people who will say that all people will be saved unconditionally and irrespective of anything that they might do. Those same people say that God is too good to destroy any of the people that He has made and that all will be saved for God is good and a loving Heavenly Father." But the word of God, the Bible, says, "Enter ye in at the strait gate, for wide is the gate, and broad is the way that leadeth to destruction and many there be which go in thereat. For strait is the gate and narrow is the way which leadeth unto life and few there be that find it." And again Christ says, "Not everyone that saith, Lord, Lord, shall enter the kingdom of God, but he that doeth the will of the Father which is in heaven."

In meeting the argument that there are just a few whom God has selected to save and others who are eternally lost from the beginning of all time, the evangelist said in the words of the golden text of the Bible, "For God so loved the world that He gave His only begotten son, that whosoever believeth in Him should not perish but might have everlasting life." And, "God is not willing that any should perish, but that all might come to repentance." Christ gave the great commission and said, "Go ye into all the world, and preach the gospel to every creature, he that believeth and is baptised shall be saved, he that believeth not shall be damned." The invitation of the Bible is "whosoever will."

Wise will speak tonight on "Glorifying God."

Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Maxwell of Fort Worth arrived Friday to join Mr. and Mrs. J. Henry Edwards for a vacation trip of two weeks to Buena Vista, Colorado.

THE SPORTS PARADE

By HANK HART

Two Panhandle teams almost ruined Collier Parris' baseball tournament, which begins Sunday, according to reports. The two outfits took a powder only three days before the gates opened and it caused the promoter to do a lot of dashing over North Texas. He finally got straightened out and everything is ready to go.

Incidentally Pepper Martin hopes it isn't too ready because that $300 would look plenty good in the ole sock. The players never heard of their first round opponent, Wolfforth, but neither was Pankin Center reckoned with in the Lamesa tournament two summers past and that colorful outfit slid right into the final round and slipped around during the flood that engulfed the playing field, finally dividing first place money with the Cowhans.

Little wonder that the Odessa Sandbelt team has grown so tough. Their No. 1 man is none other than Jimmy Walkup who earned quite a reputation while playing the old game in and around Ft. Worth. Eddie Morgan has also moved there from Eastland but Ed may not play with the Ector county crew. He formerly took his meals here and Providence knows he has the local team at heart.

Several causes for the fire at the athletic club have been forwarded and we don't know which to believe. Herman Fuhrer maintains that it was the hot semi-final match Vic Weber and Jack Terry put on that started the blaze some 48 hours later while Tex Watkins stoutly insists that it was caused when he used Ole Erickson's head for a wheel barrow. We don't know.

Cleaning the cuff: George Zaranetis, who spends his leisure golfing for fun now, played two years of pro football with the Chicago Cardinals, playing with Ernie Nevers. George says that the team boasted 13 All-Americans one year and only two played regularly. What ever happened to Bill Bonthron, the Princeton mile flash? An argument arose at the softball game on Muni diamond last night over a run counting on a play with the bases loaded and two out. The run couldn't be recorded as a runner was retired for the final out on the same play. The Cubs have the money to buy Mickey Medwick if they want him but you can bet they're a bit wary in arranging for the deal. They kicked in with 150,000 iron men for Chuck Klein and the ex-steel miller fizzled. Then the same thing happened to Curt Davis. Prediction—The United States Davis coppers will lose to Germany in the challenge round.

T. Farr To Train At Long Branch Track

NEW YORK, July 16 (AP)—Promoter Mike Jacobs today announced that Tommy Farr, Welsh challenger, would train at the Long Branch, N. J., dog track for his heavyweight championship next month against Joe Louis. Farr is due to arrive here on the liner Berengaria next Tuesday. Promoter Jacobs also announced the scale of ticket prices for the fight, ranging from $2.50 to $25 top, including all taxes. Tickets are expected to be placed on sale sometime next week.

OILERS TO MEET COAHOMA BEFORE LUBBOCK DATE

WOLFFORTH INITIAL FOE IN TOURNEY

Lubbock's fast invitational baseball tournament will open Sunday afternoon at 2 p. m. with the Tahoka and Brownfield teams opposing each other but Pepper Martin's Cosden Oilers will not swing into action until 4 p. m. Tuesday afternoon when they will meet Wolfforth.

Eight teams are in the Panhandle meeting, including the Oilers and the Lubbock Hubbers, host team. The tourney will end Sunday, July 25.

The Amerada Oilers, Monument, N. M., will oppose the Tip-Top team, Lubbock, in the second game Sunday afternoon.

Monday brings together the New Moore aggregation and the Hubbers in the only game to be played on that date. Scheduled time is 3:30 p. m.

Before the Cosdenites take the field Tuesday the two losing teams on the opening day card will play in a final elimination round. Any team has to be defeated twice before being dropped from the tournament entirely.

Manager Martin posted a $25 entrance fee for the local team. The Oilers will be awarded $25 for each victory when and if they should win. Should they go into the play-off July 25 and win first place honors they would receive at least $300 in first place money, according to Promoter Collier Parris.

Meet Coahoma
The locals will hold their final practice Sunday when they meet the titanic Coahoma Bulldogs on the local ball lot. Martin and his men will get another gander at Lefty Maxie Beard, whom they intend to string along with during the Lubbock date.

Martin will probably use Bill Cook against the Doggies, Charlie Morgan, ace right hander is available and should be ready but the generalissimo will probably save him for the first game Tuesday.

A puzzling thing about Beard is that he is as good as he wants to be. Against the Continental Pipeliners he looked like he hardly knew which hand to use but the locals are sure he has the assortment of tricks necessary to carry him through.

The southpaw set the locals down without any great amount of trouble several weeks ago and on the occasion that he was defeated looked unbeatable for seven of the nine chapters he worked. A bad play by his infield put him in a hole in the eighth and that was all the locals needed to win.

Six Big Bats
Martin isn't worried about his offensive power. The team's six 300 hitters have shown no signs of letting up and it's time some of the other boys opened up and showed their usual form.

Rat Ramsey will probably remain in the cleanup position due to the fact that no one else has shown enough power to nudge him out of the favored spot. Tommy Hutto is a terrific hitter at times but Ramsey seems the more consistent.

If Carmon Brandon does not make the trip Martin may pick up another Coahoma player. The fair haired boy would probably be Aubrey Harlow, a third sacker, who has shown an aptitude to hit in all the games he has played in this season. Should Harlow join the club Ramsey would probably move to second base and Hutto into the outfield.

In addition to Morgan, Beard and Cook the Cosden manager can depend upon Pat Stacey to throw a fair game if needed. The heavy hitting youngster sports a fast ball and can pull the string when the need arises.

The Cosdenites will leave for Lubbock early Tuesday morning (returning immediately) after the game. The game here Sunday afternoon will begin at four bells.

ARGENTINA SOCCER TEAM DEFEATS HIGHLANDERS

GAME OPENS EXPO TRACK, FIELD MEET

BY FELIX R. MCKNIGHT
DALLAS, July 16 (AP)—Kicked around by the Argentina soccer team in the opening night, the United States looked for a quick comeback tonight in the Pan-American games when its track and field stars open up in preliminary events.

Sprint and hurdle stars of six nations were entered in trial heats of the 60-meter dash, 65-meter hurdles and 200-meter sprint, only track events on a second night program which will close with a soccer game between the United States and Canada.

Four Yankee dash stars who packed a way points from the recent National A. A. U. meet, Perrin Walker, Ben Johnson, Ray Dean and Jack Weilerhauser, had tough going ahead with the top-ranking stars of Central and South America.

Wiry Bento Assis of Brazil, the "Jesse Owens of South America" they call him down in the Pampas country, was entered in both the 60 meter and 200 meter events. Nineteen-year-old Lonnie Hill, Dallas schoolboy dash sensation, gets his first taste of the big-time in the 200-meter event.

Heavily Packed
Three Americans were heavily backed in the 65-meter hurdles, Allan Tolmich, the Wayne University star who won the A. A. U. event, Roy Staley of Southern California sportsmen club, and Jack Patterson, the Rice Institute flier who copped the A. A. U. 400-meter hurdle event.

Ten thousand fans were present when the Argentina soccer eleven, a bunch of youngsters all under 21 years of age, started cautiously, warmed up and then toyed with the Highlanders of Trenton, N. J., national champions, in a 9-1 victory.

Tousle-haired Angel Lafcirara, peppery Argentina center forward, roved all over the Cotton Bowl premises with a dazzling display of foot and headwork to score five goals and lead the attack that dazed a decidedly inferior American team.

Lafcirara scored the first goal thirteen minutes after the game started, coasted until midway in the second half, and then burst forth with four consecutive goals in the dying minutes of play. Twice, within 40 seconds, he jockeyed the ball downfield and then butted goals through Goalie Cooper of the American team with his head.

Baptism
The American fans, seeing a big-time soccer game for the first time, roared approval of the Argentine's clever ball-handling. First it was Lafcirara, and then Jaime Sarlunga, I. Carniglia or Pedro Agostini who dribbled through the Yankees with swift foot action.

Agostini, outside right of the invading team, was a show in himself the way he handled the ball. Two and sometimes three Americans were constantly on him but he managed to keep the ball skimming from one foot to another and never once lost the ball in a scrimmage.

Ten minutes before the game ended Jack Carlton, a Yankee substitute, saved his club from a white-washing by poking a hard drive through the Argentine goalie from five yards in front of the net.

Governor James V. Alfred, Assistant Secretary of War Louis Johnson and other dignitaries attended the opening night and made brief speeches of welcome to the sons of South and Central America.

Toledo Moves Up With 5-2 Win Over Columbus
CHICAGO, July 16 (AP)—Toledo's Mud Hens moved up to within a half game of the pace setting Columbus club of the American Association last night by winning the series opener, 5 to 2.

EL PULPO, SPEEDY FRANKS ON CARD
Supporting Shiek-Mar-Allah and Vic Weber in the main event of the Big Spring Athletic Club's three-hour card next Tuesday night will be a semi-final that boasts Sailor Watkins and El Pulpo and a special even that has Speedy Franks lined up against Jack Terry.

SPORTS ROUNDUP

by EDDIE BRIEZE

NEW YORK, July 16 (AP)—A certain big league club has its eye on Rabbit Maranville for manager. Three guesses. The Yankee winning streak of nine straight is the richest since 1933 when the club won nine in a row. Hope the report that Mickey Cochrane isn't getting well quite as fast as the doctors hoped is all wet. Mark Hellinger, the columnist and Tom Yawkey, owner of the Red Sox, look so much alike they could pass for brothers in any league.

Mule Haas of the White Sox is one of the world's worst base stealers. His average over a nine year stretch is one per season. Reason Pacific Coast league fans aren't howling at Al Schacht's capers is that Al demanded a $7,500 guarantee for eight appearances. Tommy Loughran (who fought Farr) says if Joe Louis is in a hurry to get away from there the night he fights the Englishman, it won't go a round.

Old Babe Herman is having one "it" of a time hitting .300 for Toledo in the American Association. Attention, Messrs. Frick and Harbridge: The Red Sox played an exhibition at Cumberland, Md., the other day. The umpire was Herb Bailey, a 23-year old dyer worker. The Sox are unanimous in saying he has the makings of a really fine arbitrator. Dr. Mal Stevens, New York U. football coach, says you'll see more forward passing next season than ever before. Paul Dean's arm still puzzles the Cardinals.

Gene Venzke, the runner, shoots golf in the low 70s and plans to enter the big tournaments from now on. Mike Jacobs says that blast from the District of Columbia boxing commission is just an effort to club him into signing for a James J. Braddock-Jorge Bressia match in the capital. Smart baseball writers say Tony Lazzari of the Yanks, Luke Sewell of the White Sox and Buddy Meyer of the Senators are the three best managerial bets in the ranks of American League players.

There's Cash In Your Pile of War Memories

The San Angelo Standard-Times will pay $150, $75 and $25 each for the best True Tall Tales about the World War... stories that veterans retell when they begin reminiscing. These stories are part of the program for the American Legion Convention, Department of Texas, in San Angelo August 21 to 24. The stories are to be judged by the veterans themselves, the best twenty-five to be read before the convention. Any veteran may tell the story himself, or have it read by another veteran.

Tell the story of the fellow who captured a half-dozen Germans single-handed... of the fellow who got shot at the spot you had just vacated... of the dud that would have taken you and twenty others off the firing line... of the oddities that happened on the front... of the barrage that came within a few feet and died away... of frightened men fighting valiantly... of men performing superhuman feats... a death bed tale that revealed a hero... of horses that fought as well as soldiers... of rats that lived under your cot... of men going to the front without equipment—Tell any one of a thousand things that could and did happen to you or your buddies.

These stories will enliven the convention, preserve interesting history and be the means for someone to go to the national convention or buy some incidental things that former soldiers or their families can use today!

Get busy now! Write the experiences that interested you most. Your grandchildren will want to hear them twenty years from now. This will preserve them. Send your stories to The Standard-Times True Tall Tales Editor by August 1.

The Big Spring Herald is cooperating with the American Legion in urging former service men from this part of the state to enter this contest and do their part in preserving the many experiences of the World War which otherwise might never be set down and be permanently recorded.

Yanks Begin To Stretch Their Lead

New Yorkers Continue To Win As Others Hit Skids

By SID FERRER
Associated Press Sports Writer

The Yanks are coming so fast they're even ahead of themselves. The New York slaughter squad is not only on the way to another win to a pennant, but appeared for a bigger year than the record breaker of 1926.

Taking this season's figures to date, Gehrig and company are set to make more of a chopping block than ever of American League competition.

The fact stood out today as the Yanks coasted along on a 7-1 game lead, while over the National League the Chicago Cubs were once again at the head of the parade, by virtue of a 5-1 trouncing of the Boston Bees during yesterday's program—or part which wasn't washed out.

The Yanks have yet to enjoy their full strength this season, with injuries, ailments and spring holdouts. Nevertheless they have already smashed out a total of 80 homers, thereby leading their record breaking production for the same period last season, when they hit a total of 182 in 154 games.

Every man in the lineup climbed aboard Detroit pitching yesterday as the swat squad clubbed out a 13-6 victory over the Tigers, thereby stretching its undefeated streak to ten games—nine wins and one tie—their longest in four years.

Except for the Yankees and the Cleveland Indians, who trounce Washington's Senators 6-2 as Ho Hosky poked his 19th homer American League favorites found the going rough.

The skyrocketing Boston Red Sox had an edge for five innings but the St. Louis Browns put out a three-run surge in the sixth to come through with a 5-3 decision.

A couple of youngsters, George Carter and Earle Buckner, combined to give the Athletics a 2-1 win over the White Sox, thus ending a string of 16 games in which the Philadelphia had failed to break into the victory column. Carter handcuffed the slugging Sox with four hits, while Buckner reeled in both of the A's runs.

Budge will play Heinrich Henkel as soon as the first match is out of the way and on Monday Budge and Mako will meet von Cramm and Henkel in the doubles.

16 Athletes On Star Pick

IOWA CITY, Ia., July 16 (UP)—Sixteen athletes from scattered sections of the country have been named by George T. Bresnahan, University of Iowa track coach, on his annual All-American collegiate track team for 1937.

Stanford was the only school to place more than one man on Bresnahan's team. The Pacific Coast conference school was represented by Jack Weierhauser and Peter Zagar in the 220-yard dash and in the 100-yard dash.

Three Big Ten conference stars Sam Stoller, Michigan dash man; Don Lash, Indiana, holder of the world's two-mile record; and Dave Albritton, Ohio State, joint holder of the world's high jump record, won places in their specialties.

Bresnahan also selected for his team Olympic champion Forrest (Spec) Towne, University of Georgia hurdler, and John Woodruff of University of Pittsburgh 800-meter star.

Following are the men selected:
100-yard dash—Sam Stoller of Michigan; National Collegiate and Big Ten champion. Best time, 1:08.6.

Buffs Amid Win Streak Of 4 Games

The latest in Texas League winning streaks comes from the Houston Buffs, a team which has been able to win only 40 out of its 99 games this season.

As measured by the sustained drives of other clubs in the circuit this year, Houston's accomplishment is small but to Houston it is a record: four games in a row, they win over Fort Worth's second-place Cats last night the Buffs inched a bit farther from the cellar which has been their camping place most of the year.

The Buffs relied on John Grodzicki to turn the trick, which he did 5 to 1 for his second victory in four nights. He fanned 10.

Galveston evaded their series with the tail-end Dallas Steers 9 to 8, scoring six in the third and three in the fifth inning to pile up a lead the Mavericks couldn't quite overcome. The Steers got four runs in the seventh.

The Oklahoma City Indians swung hard and accurately at the ball in an effort to preserve their league lead and bowled over Beaumont's runner-ups 10 to 3. Tulsa managed to squeeze past San Antonio 3 to 2.

Cats Cause Domestic Rift
LONDS (UP)—Mrs. Charlie Tidbury applied for a separation order at the Caversham Police Court because, she said, her husband "keeps 20 cats and allows them to sleep in the bed." The couple have been married 23 years.

As measured by the sustained drives of other clubs in the circuit this year, Houston's accomplishment is small but to Houston it is a record: four games in a row, they win over Fort Worth's second-place Cats last night the Buffs inched a bit farther from the cellar which has been their camping place most of the year.

The Buffs relied on John Grodzicki to turn the trick, which he did 5 to 1 for his second victory in four nights. He fanned 10.

Galveston evaded their series with the tail-end Dallas Steers 9 to 8, scoring six in the third and three in the fifth inning to pile up a lead the Mavericks couldn't quite overcome. The Steers got four runs in the seventh.

The Oklahoma City Indians swung hard and accurately at the ball in an effort to preserve their league lead and bowled over Beaumont's runner-ups 10 to 3. Tulsa managed to squeeze past San Antonio 3 to 2.

Anderson Tallies All Runs In First Frame To Defeat Newsies

Scoring three times in the first inning when Martin, Oliver and Burrus crossed the plate, the Anderson Devils protected their league leadership by staving off a late rush to mark up a 3-2 decision, and their fourth victory in league play Thursday night on the Mundy diamond.

The Repression Newsies were the Devil victims but they didn't go down without a fight. They tallied a pair of runs in the seventh and had the bases loaded when McGee effected a forfeit.

Buffs Amid Win Streak Of 4 Games

The latest in Texas League winning streaks comes from the Houston Buffs, a team which has been able to win only 40 out of its 99 games this season.

As measured by the sustained drives of other clubs in the circuit this year, Houston's accomplishment is small but to Houston it is a record: four games in a row, they win over Fort Worth's second-place Cats last night the Buffs inched a bit farther from the cellar which has been their camping place most of the year.

Grissom And Phelps Gain Frick Reprive

NEW YORK, July 16 (AP)—Ignorance isn't always bliss, but sometimes it saves money.

On the theory that Rooker-Pitcher Lee Grissom of the Cincinnati Reds doesn't know the correct way to slide home, National League President Ford Frick isn't going to fine him and Catcher Babe Phelps of Brooklyn, for their fight in Wednesday's ball game.

In attempting to slide home Grissom jumped spikes first toward the plate protected by the bulky Phelps. A flat fight ensued. Umpire George Magerkurth parted them and banished them from the game.

"I'm satisfied Grissom had no intention of spiking Phelps, said Frick. "He just didn't know how to slide into home. So we're giving both the players a break by forgetting the incident. But next time..."

KEY LINER. Airplane service across the North Atlantic, the last ocean frontier to be conquered by commercial aviation, entered its last stage with the flight to England via Newfoundland and Ireland of this graceful ship, the Pan American Clipper III. The flight was part of the experimental work of both Pan American and Imperial Airways of England.

ENGINE ROOM. Capt. Harold E. Grey (left), only 31, has commanded Clippers on trans-Pacific flights for the past year and is a seasoned pilot in ocean flying. Seated with him here in the control room of the plane is W. S. De Lima, first officer.

WOODMAN. A striking character study of the President is afforded in this expression of pride, caught while he was inspecting the results of tree plantings on his Hyde Park estate during a holiday from the White House.

RACQUETEER. Bryan "Bitsy" Grant, American tennis star, plays a lively game at any time, but here, during his Wimbledon match against England's "Bunny" Austin, Bitsy made this spectacular drive in an effort to return a fast one.

GOODSCOUT. This gay looking oldster, all dressed up, is Lord Baden-Powell, the originator of the worldwide Boy Scout movement.

THREE BAGS FULL. This is no black sheep, but he's got plenty of wool. He's the grand prize ram at a stock show among sheep-growing Australians, who are experts at that business. Competition was thick.

TOPPER. The influence of masculine dress on women's fashions produces a startling effect in this Viennese top hat for the ladies.

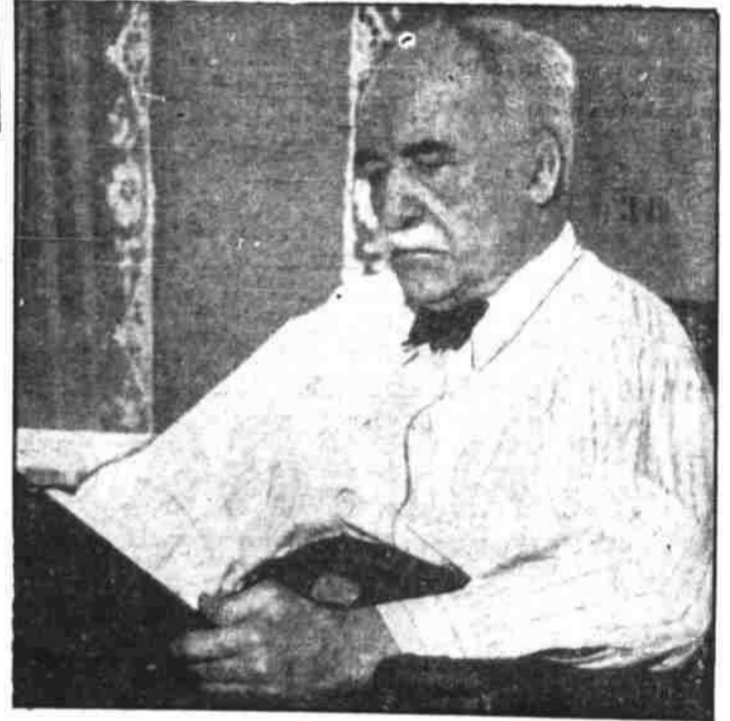

WON'T TALK. After a trip to England where he lost a bout with Tommy Farr, Max Baer admitted New York looked good to him and the missus. Max met all questions about an alleged contract to meet Bob Pastor this summer with a "See my manager."

DEAR ALFONSO. Only recently divorced from a Cuban beauty, Alfonso of Bourbon, once Spanish crown prince and the son of the former King Alfonso and Queen Victoria, married another lovely senorita. The bride was Marta Rocafort, Havana dentist's daughter. Here's the wedding toast.

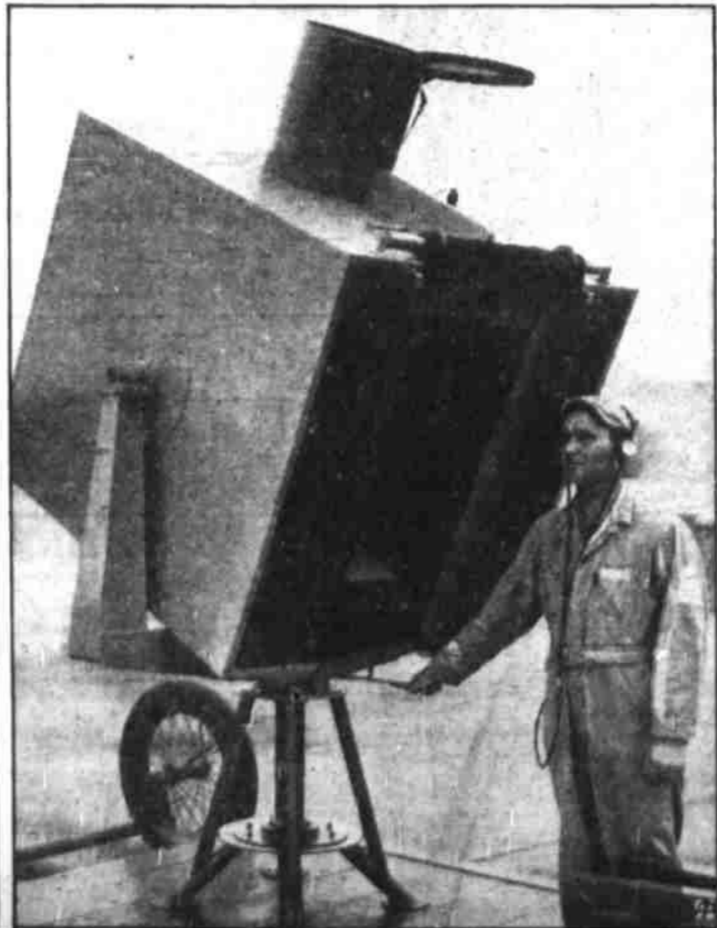

HOLLAND'S QUEEN. Queen Wilhelmina of Holland is truly regal in her latest portrait made recently at Amsterdam.

STILL A FIGHTER. Your grand-dad knew Jake Kilrain as a gladiator when fighters went 75 rounds or so, and used their bare fists. Jake's still fighting, this time against disease at Quincy, Mass. Seventy-eight now, he wants to make 80.

TIME FOR CHOW. Scenes like this are common these days when farmers are working long hours to make the most of the year's crops. The chuck wagon with its welcome pot of hot coffee looks pretty good, especially when a pretty girl does the serving. It's a wheat harvest camp at Mount, Tenn.

BOMB SAVER. Instead of dropping bombs, army fliers aim this "camera" and release an electrical impulse. If their aim was accurate, a "hit" is scored inside the box through the huge lens on top. Experts say it is highly accurate—and saves money.

SALUTE TO YOUTH. Youth of all nations receives increased attention in training, with Italy and Germany leading the movement. These lads are sounding trumpets for the opening of the "Camp of Germany" at Brandenburg. Some 1,500 "Hitler Youth" from all over the world and 1,500 German children stand guard there.

Marxes Take Their Antics To The Races

Screwball Brothers At Ritz Sunday-Monday In New Comedy

Followers of the screwball Marx Brothers might as well get ready for a field day. The absurd class-Groucho, Harpo and Chico—comes scampering into the Ritz this week-end in a wild bit of nonsense called "A Day At The Races." Booked for a Saturday midnight showing, and on Sunday and Monday, the picture is declared by many reviewers to be the most uproarious Marx production to date.

The current vehicle, with its hilarious plot shifting between a sanitarium and a race track, with Groucho in the role of a horse doctor, Chico as a jockey and Harpo as a race track tout, no doubt furnishes everything new in the way of fast humor, absurd situations and howling zesterizations. Included are sprinklings of romance, music and spectacle. Allen Jones is the vocalist, offering three new songs. Maureen O'Sullivan is on hand to provide the love interest. A water carnival sequence has been hailed as one of the most effective yet to come out of Hollywood.

Comedy predominates, however, as it should when the Marxes are around. Movie goers should know by now that Marx gags come thick and fast, that action moves at a dizzy pace, and that laughs abound in practically every foot of film. Esther Muir and Margaret Dumont are in the supporting cast, as two unfortunate ladies who have to be on the receiving end of many of the Marx jokes.

HEAT WAVE CHECKED BY COOLING BREEZE

By the Associated Press
Northwest breezes cooled most sections east of the Rockies today, checking a heat wave that caused approximately 400 deaths during the past 12 days.

J. R. Lloyd, of the Chicago weather bureau, said except for thunderstorms in the northeastern areas, generally fair and cooler weather would prevail in the lower Missouri and upper Mississippi valleys and the Great Lakes region. He said the temperature would rise Saturday in the Northern Plains region.

Unreasonably warm weather prevailed yesterday over most eastern and southern sections. A wind, rain and electrical storm last night left Monroe, Mich., without lights or power. Fifty persons in a theater escaped injury when the wind ripped off the roof. At Detroit, 10 passengers were taken to a hospital when lightning struck a street car.

IN DRAMA OFFERED AT RITZ

leading lady, Barbara Pepper. Others in the cast of "Mummy's Boys" are Moroni Olsen, Frank M. Thomas, Willie Best, Mitchell Lewis and Francis McDonald.

RAYMOND-SOTHERN TEAM IN ROMANCE AT LYRIC

Gene Raymond and Ann Sothern, two attractive young people who have teamed successfully in light stories about modern romance, are called upon to repeat the trick in "Smartest Girl in Town," offered as the principal attraction Sunday and Monday at the Lyric.

They contribute laughter and gaiety as well as romance. Raymond, as the wealthy young man, has experienced a series of unpleasant situations which cause him to shy away from girls with a gold-digging complex. Hence, when Miss Sothern mistakes him for a poor photographer's model like herself, Gene continues the masquerade.

His ingenious schemes to cross Ann's romantic path (she's centering attentions on another rich man) offer comic situations which build up a pleasant picture. Helen Broderick, Eric Blore, Eric Rhodes and Harry Jans are the featured funsters in the film.

Wheeler And Woolsey Here

Comics Offer 'Mummy's Boys' At Queen Friday-Saturday

Murder, mystery and merriment among the ancient tombs of Egypt are in store for the followers of Bert Wheeler and Robert Woolsey, when these comics come to the Queen theatre in "Mummy's Boys." The picture is booked for Saturday midnight, Sunday and Monday. A satire of the "terror type" of mystery chiller, the picture takes the boys from ditch digging in New York to shoveling in the Valley of the Kings, graveyard of Egypt's Pharaohs, in the face of a curse reminiscent of the widely publicized one associated with "King Tut." The fact that the supposedly supernatural threat is really the work of a fiend adds to the thrills and leads to a high-tension climax. Wheeler and Woolsey have a new

Autry In New Musical Film

At Lyric For Two Days In 'Yodelin' Kid From Pine Ridge'

Gene Autry's back again. He appears Friday and Saturday at the Lyric theatre, in his newest musical western, called "Yodelin' Kid From Pine Ridge." No. 1 recipient of fan mail in Hollywood today, Autry is working fast to produce the type of picture his followers want.

In this one, he's a young fellow who leaves home and sweetheart because of an argument with his father about opposing viewpoints in a cattle war. He joins up with a rodeo, doesn't return home for two years, when he hopes the trouble will have been forgotten. But both his father and that of his sweetheart are killed, and Gene

Stanwyck And Joel McCrea In Ritz Drama

'Internes Can't Take Money' Booked For Friday, Saturday

Barbara Stanwyck and Joel McCrea contribute what many reviewers have regarded as outstanding acting, in a dramatic film play called "Internes Can't Take Money," headlined at the Ritz theatre's Friday-Saturday program. They are aided in no small way by Lloyd Nolan, remembered as the "menace" in "The Texas Rangers," a capable player who again appears in a tough role Stanley Ridge, Gayford Pendleton, Lee Bowman, Jack Mulhall and Mack Gray are others in the cast.

"Internes Can't Take Money" is an intricate story about a young hospital worker who becomes involved with underworld characters through paths of chance. He has saved the life of Nolan, who tries to make him a present of a thousand dollars. He has met Miss Stanwyck, a young mother whose child has been taken from her while she was in prison, and who is seeking the baby. He has fallen in love with the girl, but is unable to give her a thousand dollars she needs to trace the child. That's the situation—until the young interne begins to learn the true status of affairs. And in a stirring climax, Miss Stanwyck's destiny is worked out by the intervention of gangland; McCrea's medical skill and the grateful Nolan.

The picture is marked not only for tense action, but for the profusion of hospital scenes said to be of unusual interest.

Mrs. J. B. McKinney returned Thursday from a two weeks' visit with her mother and sister in McKinney, Texas.

gets the blame. In the picture's climax, he stages a spectacular jailbreak and proves in exciting manner who is really responsible for the murders.

Betty Bronson, one time known as the star of "Peter Pan," plays opposite Autry. Others in the cast are Smiley Burnette, LeRoy Mason, Charles Middleton and Russell Simpson. Autry sings western songs, with the help of the Tennessee Ramblers.

YODELIN' KID GETS TOUGH

Gene Autry does a little gun-pointing on his own, in this scene from his newest musical as he begins to think.

Ken Maynard Star Of Action Drama Booked At Queen

From the pen of James Oliver Curwood have come many of the most popular dramas of the great outdoors. The same author has contributed the story of "Wild Horse Roundup," the film version of which is booked at the Queen theatre for Friday and Saturday.

In the starring role is the popular westerner, Ken Maynard, who usually pleases those fans who want thrills, action, romance and excitement. Ken again is the virile young man who fights for right and eventually wins out.

With him in the picture are netty Lloyd, Dickie Jones, John Merton, Frank Hagney, Roger Williams, Dick Curtis, and Bud Buster.

EX-CONVICT SOUGHT AFTER CAR STOLEN

CANTON, July 16 (AP)—Jeff Brewer, one-eyed former Texas convict, was sought in this East Texas area today to answer for overpowering and taking the car of Deputy Sheriff Russell Galloway of Van Zandt county.

Galloway arrested Brewer last night in connection with a chicken theft and was driving toward Canton when his prisoner suddenly threatened him with a knife, cut him in the ensuing struggle and forced him from the car. The man drove away and Galloway, slightly injured, returned here.

Sheriff Jim Winslow and Galloway led the hunt between here and Tyler, toward which the fugitive drove. Deputy Sheriff J. H. Burnett said Brewer had served three terms for car theft.

SAN FRANCISCO (UP)—Alicia Arroyo, pretty Spanish dancer, defended herself against a speeding charge on the grounds that her car was not capable of going that fast. It was merely coasting down hill. She was remanded to the traffic school to learn how not to coast.

SCOTTSBORO CASE TO HIGHEST COURT FOR THIRD TIME

RECATI, Ala., July 16 (AP)—Defense Counsel Samuel S. Leiby announced today he was ready to take the "Scottsboro case" to the United States supreme court. He made the statement after a jury declared death in the electric chair for Clarence Norris, one of the white women on a freight train near Scottsboro, Ala., six years ago. Norris twice previously has been condemned to death, but each time the supreme court reversed Alabama courts.

Rex Rader of Hobbs, N. M., is expected to arrive Saturday to accompany home Mrs. Rader and young son, who have been visiting near Scottsboro, Ala., six years ago. Mrs. Rader is a sister of

PILL SLAVE FREED FROM CONSTIPATION

A convincing tribute is paid to Kellogg's ALL-BRAN in this letter from Mr. F. C. Amisen of Seattle.

"I suffered with constipation for many years and was compelled to use pills every night. Since I got your ALL-BRAN, it works fine. I was so deathly sick of taking pills. Now it is so different. Kellogg's ALL-BRAN works so naturally, and is pleasant to eat."

Inside the body, ALL-BRAN absorbs twice its weight in water, forming a soft mass that gently sponges out the intestines. It also supplies vitamin B to help tone the intestines, and iron for the blood.

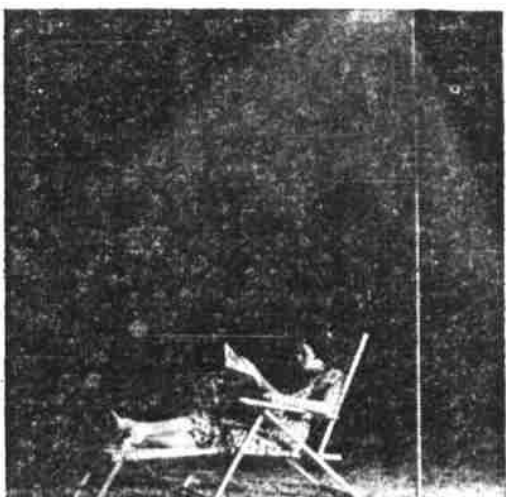

You'll enjoy eating Kellogg's ALL-BRAN. As a cereal with milk or fruits, or in appetizing recipes. Two tablespoons every day are usually enough—three times daily if needed. Sold by all grocers. Made and guaranteed by Kellogg in Battle Creek.

LIGHT UP YOUR YARD..

for Relaxation...

This new type of portable yard light which sticks in the ground anywhere you want it enables you to relax and read in comfort in the cool night air, away from the stuffiness of hot rooms. The light is strong enough for you to read by, and is high enough so that night flying insects cause no trouble.

for Entertainment..

There is no limit to the number of ways in which you can use this portable yard light, but one frequent use is for lighting the yard for games, for parties or for a picnic dinner at home. The light can be focused on a croquet court or used for other outdoor entertainments or games that cannot be played indoors in hot weather.

for Work

The ease with which this light can be moved to different parts of the yard makes it ideal for use after dark while trimming the hedge, cutting the lawn or working in flower beds in the cool of the evening. With this light, there is no need to work during the heat of the late afternoon, or to stop work just because the sun has gone down.

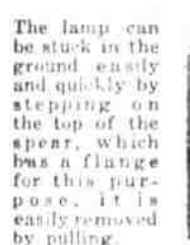

White Reflector Diffuses Light

The green and white porcelain reflector, containing a 300-watt globe, is mounted on a 19-foot metal rod, high enough to give a wide diffusion of light.

Sticks in Ground Easily and Quickly

The lamp can be stuck in the ground easily and quickly by stepping on the top of the spear, which has a flange for this purpose. It is easily removed by pulling.

Spear Holds Light Upright in Ground

The spear is ribbed and specially designed to hold the lamp firm in either hard or soft ground. The 50-foot weather-proof cord comes out at the bottom of the rod so that it will be flat on the ground and out of the way.

EXPERT KNOWLEDGE NEEDED

Pending the tax session of the legislature, which Governor Allred has said he will call to meet in September, various interests and individuals in the state are preparing to appear before the committees which will have the framing of bills. These committees will be told that certain products, businesses and professions should be taxed to a greater amount than is now levied. Other arguments will be made to show the committee that those identical sources of revenue are already too heavily taxed.

Most of the argument will be based on the desire of representatives of one interest to reduce or at least prevent any increase in its taxes and perhaps to suggest that other interests are not paying as much as they ought.

This is natural. It is only human nature to wish and try to get by with paying as little as possible.

Of the one hundred and eighty-one members of the legislature, perhaps a half dozen have a definite knowledge of how much tax a particular interest can bear, of how much it should bear in proportion to other interests. That is because they are men who have given the problem study, and have engaged in research and secured reliable information. The great body of the membership has no knowledge whatever of the problem. That is not to the discredit of those members, for taxation is a science that demands study and they have had no opportunity or time for such study because they have been engaged in their businesses or professions in order to make their living.

Taxation is a matter for persons trained in that science. The legislature would be wise to have its tax bills drawn by such persons and then follow the advice of those persons, just as they would follow the advice of their doctor in illness or their lawyer in litigation.

Man About Manhattan

By GEORGE TUCKER

ABOARD THE AMERICAN MERCURY—You write this at dusk about 12,000 feet high on a giant sky-sleeper somewhere between New York and Texas. There are two doctors aboard. Also a naval officer, his wife, a theatrical agent, a famous sound technician, a lady, who lives in Dallas, and a columnist.

Dr. Williams of New York and Dr. Fishwick of Nashville have persuaded the stewardess to give them a fly swatter, and they are indulging in a little sweepstakes of their own. It works like this. In a given number of attempts, the one killing the larger number of flies gets a share in the other's fried chicken at dinner. "Say, Doc," says Dr. Williams, "I ought to have a handicap. You're a health commissioner and have a professional interest in killing flies."

The film technician is Douglas Shearer, brother of Norma Shearer, and as this is being written he is shaving himself with an electric razor which Miss Kremer, the hostess, has thoughtfully provided. There is something uncanny in the way this slim, pretty girl anticipates your wants. For instance, she saw Shearer pass a reflective hand over her chin, and she got up and presented him with the razor. Incidentally Mr. Shearer doesn't wear a belt or suspenders. I don't know what holds his pants up.

Lieutenant Coyle, of the navy, is enroute to San Diego, and this is his wife's first flight. She is radiant as a bride, and maybe she is a bride. She was wearing orchids when she came aboard ship, but Miss Kremer is keeping them for her now in the icebox. A honeymoon? "No, we've been married two years." This is what the lieutenant says. "But I feel like a bride," admits Mrs. Coyle, shyly. "I'm what you call a navy widow." A navy wife is, always a widow, just as a newspaperman's wife. I see my husband less than two months in the year.

Mr. Paul Small, whose name is something of a misnomer, is gently snoring in the space where berth No. 3 will presently be. Mr. Small grosses a neat 300 pounds, and he practically lives on planes and trains. He represents the William Morris agency and his business is appraising theatrical acts which his firm places in theaters and fairs throughout the world.

As for Miss Kremer, I would write something nice about her, but she is standing at my elbow and I am afraid she would peep over my shoulder. Balanced in her hand is a large tray of richly brown fried chicken. She says: "How can I serve you with that typewriter taking all the room?"

Didn't I tell you she had a genius for anticipating people's wants?

The hat-checking business continues to be one of Manhattan's most lucrative ventures. I know three places on Broadway where a pudgy, oily little man pays $1,000 a month for the concession.

TODAY AND TOMORROW

By Walter Lippmann

WOULD A FILIBUSTER BE UNDEMOCRATIC?

Senator Robinson's friends were more numerous than his partisan supporters. For he had the capacity, so essential to the working of a representative government, to be a staunch partisan without injecting into his political struggles the poison of hatred and irreconcilability. He fought cleanly, and he passed away leaving a multitude of opponents who are still his friends.

LIPPMAN
It is a tragic pity that he had to die when he did, as leader of a cause that he would never have espoused on his own personal convictions alone. No doubt he was doing his duty as he saw it. And though the last acts of his life are associated with a cause that is discarded, he will be remembered for the essential honesty and good will which marked his leadership.

A commentator, who supports the judiciary bill, said the other day that "the filibuster is the negation of democracy." His theory is that 51 per cent of any quorum is entitled at any time to override the other 49 per cent. That is not my conception of democracy, and I am prepared to argue that, given the circumstances surrounding the judiciary bill, the filibuster will be fully justified if it is necessary to prevent enactment of the bill at this session of Congress.

The American conception of democracy is not, as some few seem to think, based on the rule of an arithmetical majority. The inner principle of the American Constitution is derived from the conviction of the Founding Fathers that in great matters the true majority must be much greater than a bare majority, and that convinced minorities must not be easily overridden. Thus the President may veto the acts of a bare majority of both Houses, and only a two-thirds vote can prevail against his veto. I have yet to hear a New Dealer say that the veto power of one man is the negation of democracy. The legislative branch of the government is not designed to establish the rule of arithmetical majorities. For the Senators represent very unequal numbers of voters. I have heard no argument that this is the negation of democracy. The Senate cannot ratify treaties by an arithmetical majority. The Congress cannot even submit constitutional amendments to the people unless two-thirds of both Houses agree.

In short, the pervasive principle of American democracy is not the sovereignty of any transient 51 per cent. Its principle is government by consent of the preponderant mass of the people, and the whole system is designed to make it certain as anything can be made in public life that the final decision in great matters shall be that of a passing evicted majority but of a large, informed, and considered majority.

In the Senate today, out of ninety-six members, there are at least forty who are deeply opposed to the judiciary bill. There are no more than forty who have declared themselves in favor of it, and it is common and indubitable knowledge that a fair number of this forty are for it only because of partisan loyalty. It is no less evident to all competent observers that the leaders of the opposition are moved by a deep conviction whereas the advocates, with no heart for the work they are doing.

There remains a group of uncommitted Senators. One of them, Senator Robert Wagner of New York, is particularly interested and significant. Senator Wagner has been a judge. So there can be no doubt of his capacity to understand the bill. He is a fervent New Dealer, a most effective supporter of the President. Five months have passed since the judiciary bill was proposed. Yet Senator Wagner has not yet declared his position. What can this mean except that he is torn between dislike of the measure and loyalty to the Administration?

Yet the New Dealers think they are acting with loyalty to the spirit of democracy when by conscripting the votes of reluctant Senators like Mr. Wagner they propose to override the passionate convictions of forty Senators. My view is that the true defenders of democracy are the Senators who wish to prevent such an inane vote, who ask that the bill be re-committed to the committee and that the decision be postponed until the people have had a chance to clarify their will on this controversial issue. I am quite prepared to admit that there are emergencies when decisions must be made promptly and reluctant minorities must be overridden. Such an emergency existed in 1933 and I was one of those who held then that the President must exercise extraordinary powers. But no honest man can say that there exists a judicial crisis which calls for summary action at this time. No honest man can say that the will of the people is being thwarted if on an issue on which the people are at least evenly divided, time is taken to find out what the people really want.

On the contrary, to obstruct a decision by a bare majority of uncommitted and reluctant Senators is to vindicate the right of the people to make great decisions deliberately. A filibuster under these circumstances is the use of a power carefully reserved for the protection of minorities and of majorities alike against haste or dictation. The Senate has preserved the right to

Bridge

THE SIT-DOWN STRIKE

Filibuster because that right is one of the essential safeguards of its existence as a truly deliberative assembly.

Why is it that under the rules of the Senate debate cannot be shut off except by cloture which requires a vote of two-thirds? Because the Senate has recognized that on great issues where there is a substantial minority in opposition, it is not consistent with the American idea of government by consent of the governed to force decisions by a bare fifty-one per cent of a quorum. If the Administration wants to shut off debate and force a vote, let it produce sixty-four Senators who will vote for cloture.

That rule of the Senate, maintained to prevent the dictation of transient majorities, is a true reflection of the spirit of democracy as we have known it in this country. No man need have the slightest doubt that in defying the dictation of a transient, uncommitted, reluctant arithmetical majority, he is representing the true genius of American institutions.

HOLLYWOOD—Olympe Bradna—the new face they're yelling about in "Sole at Sea"—owes her first theatrical training to the disaster that befell her father's trained dog act. All the dogs got sick and died at once. Papa Bradna had no money to buy and train more dogs, so he began to train Olympe.

She was 6 then, and a year later she went on the stage as a child dancer. As a dancer she was signed by Paramount a year and a half ago, and she did nothing in pictures but dance until Henry Hathaway took her out of a bit in his sea picture to play opposite George Raft in the same. Olympe is 16, and French—so what are they saying?—That's right: "What's Simons got that Olympe hasn't got?"

Adventurous Errol Flynn may be a big gun with wild boasts, jungle savages, and tropic hazards generally. But I can't hand him much on his flapjack-tossing. Scene in "The Perfect Specimen" had him juggling a stack of cakes while Joan Blondell and Hugh Herbert stood by waiting for breakfast. Flynn flipped, flapped, and bobbed three takes. "Want 'em

Trade Continues To Maintain Gains

NEW YORK, July 16 (AP)—Progress of trade met fewer obstructions this week even though the rising trend was uneven in some branches, Dun & Bradstreet said in its weekly trade review today.

"In spite of the slower rate of advance, most of the leading centers of retail distribution were ahead of the previous week's sales," it said.

"More headway was made in the acquisition of fall merchandise in the principal wholesale markets this week. Attendance was large and buying heavy at the trade shows devoted to housewares, draperies, curtains and furniture."

"With the gain distributed over almost all divisions, estimated wholesale volume ranged from 15 to 32 per cent larger than in the 1936 week."

TAX TEST CASE

SAN ANTONIO, July 16 (AP)—The validity of the Texas stamp tax law requiring payment of 10 cents on each $100 consideration in liens, mortgages and other forms of legal instruments will be tested in a mandamus suit filed yesterday in district court here by R. H. Kress and company against County Clerk Albert G. Trawalter.

FLAME TRAIL

By Marie De Nervaud

Chapter 20
Alternating between thoughts of Ted Gaylor as a rival, and his fury at Scrap Johnson, Josh Hastings found himself cherishing two distinct plans of revenge.

First of all, he meant to make his former puncher pay through the nose for his insolence, and his plan here was definite and drastic, although it had to be handled with care.

He had no idea of telling the whole story of his plight, and being the laughing stock of the range. So this prevented him from calling the sheriff to his aid, and following on the trail of Scrap Johnson with a posse.

He had a hunch that Scrap was headed for the Idaho state line and that he planned to make his getaway through the one pass that led over the Bitter Root from this region.

If he followed right after him, there was a good chance of overtaking him. Scrap Johnson would be pretty sure to figure that his one-time boss would rather let his hound and call quits on the situation than let the story leak out of the fix his cowhand had landed him in. Therefore, he wouldn't feel pressed for time and it would be a fairly easy matter to catch up with him.

"And there won't be any doubt about who'll have the drop this time," Josh Hastings thought, as he voiced itself aloud, with a malignant intensity of tone that boded ill for Scrap Johnson when that moment should come.

He stooped down to ease the heel of his boot, then limped along with a groan.

"He'll pay for that damn blister, too," he muttered savagely, as he forged ahead, his eyes squinted into the distance for a glimpse of the scattered buildings of the Flying Six.

Finally they loomed in sight, and Josh Hastings slowed up as he planned his campaign of action. Then, regardless of his blistered feet, he broke into a run for a nearby corral. He had no time to lose if he was going to make the lower corral and get a horse without being seen.

When he had left the ranch to follow Scrap Johnson, he had announced that he might spend the night in town, so no one was expecting him. Right now the boys would be either in the mess shack or gathered around waiting for the supper call, so here was his chance for a safe getaway.

At the Central Divide
Following the cooler, he came at last to the lower corral, which was hidden from the ranch buildings, and located a good 300 yards distant from the upper corral.

Roping himself a horse, Josh Hastings quickly saddled him and rode to the corral through the cooler which sheltered him from view. He gave the ranch horse a wide berth, and headed off for the mountains at a run.

It was more than an hour later when he reached the trail that eventually led to the pass across the divide.

The faintest light penetrated through the thick branches that interlaced overhead, but Josh Hastings pushed on, but for a while he was going to make the forest a moon later to guide him through the pass in the saddle of the divide's profile, if he had not overtaken his victim by that time. But he figured he would come upon him before reaching the central divide.

Urging his horse on, he finally emerged from the heavily timbered slope of the eastern divide, and looping the ridge, plunged down to the shallow valley that lay between it and the central divide. Quickly crossing the valley, Josh Hastings urged his mount on up the scantily timbered slope of the central divide.

The light of the rising moon gradually spread over the whole landscape, and by the time he reached the crest of the pass it was high in the heavens.

Just beyond the saddle of rock was a small grassy plateau, which harbored a spring-fed stream. From its mysterious depths water flowed in both directions, part seeking the Bitter Root river in Montana, and part flowing to the Clear Water river in Idaho.

As Hastings neared this strange spot, his mount plunked restively, and instead of making for the inviting water that gleamed ahead in the moonlight, he balked and tried to whirl back and head toward the pass again. Hastings studied the animal and, urging him on with a sharp cut of his quirt, reached the small grassy meadow that bordered the stream. Peering ahead through the moonlight, he made out a strange hunched form lying by the edge of the water.

He swung his mount sharply at right angles and headed him away from the gruesome discovery. Dismounting at some little distance, he came back on foot to investigate, a baffled sense of rage rising in him at the thought of being cheated of his revenge.

He turned over the inert figure then let out a startled oath as he gazed at the deadly white face which he had exposed to the moonlight.

Instead of the pinched features of Scrap Johnson that he had expected to see, the still face of Ted Gaylor, in its frame of glossy black hair, stared up at him.

The Trail of Blood
Receding in the first surprise of finding his other enemy so unexpectedly delivered into his hands, Josh Hastings stared back at the seemingly dead face for a long moment. Then he dropped on his knees, and placed a hand over

Ted's heart.
A grunt of disappointment escaped him as he detected a faint beat. But after examining the wound, he gaped in the fallen man's chest, a grim smile of satisfaction flickered for a moment on his lips.
"Reckon a good enough job's been done on you, after all," he observed cautiously. He rose to his feet and stooped down to pull some grass to wipe the blood off his hands.
"Scrap Johnson's saved me some trouble there, all right."
He scanned the ground carefully, walking back and forth in a slow widening semicircle around the wounded man. "Looks like he got a shot from ambush," he mused aloud, as he failed to find any traces of footprints or trampled grass.
"Hello! What's this?" He stopped short and bent down to examine a large flat stone, that harbored a strange dark spot on its rough gray surface.
Josh Hastings experimentally stuck his finger in it, and exploded into an oath as he pulled it back, covered with a sticky red stain.
"Begins to look more like a duel!"
He leaned down close, and found several more dark spots, leading away from the stone. Following the trail, he came to a trampled grass and, with growing excitement, followed in the vague tracks.
After going 50 feet or so, he came at last on the object of his search. A dark form lay in the underbrush by the edge of the grassy spot, and this time as Josh Hastings leaned close to identify the second victim, he saw the man he had expected to find in the first place.
A brief examination showed him to be far less seriously wounded than Ted Gaylor. He had evidently fainted from loss of blood from a flesh wound in his arm, but his pulse and his heart both seemed strong.
An ugly look twisted Josh Hastings' mouth, as he stood looking down at the man he had pursued with such ruthless intent for vengeance. A cunning gleam came into his eyes as he glanced back to where Ted Gaylor lay.
It was easy enough to reconstruct what had happened. Scrap Johnson had undoubtedly won the draw and fired first, and Gaylor's shot had gone wild, first catching by chance the fleshy part of Johnson's arm.
There wasn't a doubt in Josh Hastings' mind that Ted Gaylor was done for, but just in case he might, by some miracle, pull through, why not frame him, so that the suspicion of what he was about to do would be forever pinned on this hateful enemy of his?
He now had the chance to fix things so that no question would ever be raised about how Scrap Johnson met his end. Dead or alive, Ted Gaylor would be held responsible.
Working his dastardly plot out step by step, Josh Hastings took off his bandana and wrapped it carefully about his hand. Then he went stiffly back to where Ted Gaylor lay.

Two Managers Can Not Play

HOUSTON, July 16 (UP)—Two playing managers, both ineligible under the rules to participate in the game, direct the play of the north and south teams in the Texas league's all-star battle at Houston Saturday night. In the event of emergency both could probably get into the lineup, as an extra catcher and a utility man constitute the sole reserve strength of each club. While there is an army of pitchers, no chances can be taken with fragile hurling wares whose wings may mean the pennant chances of their home clubs. Pitchers will not fill in at other positions. On the basis of experience, Hank Severid has the edge on Jim Keesey. The south's leader has been piloting ball clubs for a decade, while this is Keesey's first year at the helm. But Keesey has Oklahoma City in first place and Galveston, Severid's special charge, is in the second division. With seven hurlers on each team, no pitcher will work over two innings and every hurler can give all he has toward stopping the opposition. Logically the place of honor will fall to the hurlers who led in votes. Wee Jackie Reid of Fort Worth will probably face Eddie Cole of Galveston. Subsequent alterations will probably be made to fit the case.

Sonny Boy Williams In Final Westex Program Tonight; Will Take Talents As Entertainer To The Movie Capital

Sonny Boy Williams, popular 6-year old entertainer, will make his final appearance in this area this evening at Colorado before a crowd of several thousand people when Big Spring stages an amphitheatre program.

He leaves Saturday with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Voyt Williams, Sr., for California where he will seek to continue his career of entertainment, possibly in a new field—the movies.

Sonny Roy, who has participated on many programs since coming here in December of 1936, had an offer last summer to try for a part in a Republic picture but was unable to return to the coast when castings were made.

An entrant in some 25 contests in the past three years, Sonny Roy has never failed to place in the "money" Wednesday evening he was one of the winners in a Lubbock theatre amateur contest. In a children's radio contest here, he won twice.

His aptitude for public performance was noticed by his parents three years ago when they lived in Dallas. Barely three, Sonny Roy was given a feature billing on a program that was witnessed by notables including Jesse Jones, Sen. Tom Connally, Gov. James V. Allred, and Attorney General William McCraw.

Mr. and Mrs. Williams are moving to California to make their home. Williams, an oil producer, has holdings on the west coast in addition to interests in the Pecos area and the East Texas field.

Charles Chapman, Chapman was wounded in the shoulder, Markham said.

The third man, Markham said was referred to as "Fred". Fred Findol of Jasper, Tex., was one of the nine men, who with Traxler and Chapman, escaped the farm amid gun fire July 8.

Markham said the trio discussed tying him to a tree before letting him out near here, but finally decided they would be able to reach Tulsa before he would have an opportunity to call police. They kept him until nightfall because they feared to release him in daylight when it might have interfered with their flight, he said.

The three seized Markham and his car as posses of officers of four Central Oklahoma counties were closing in on them. The fugitive yesterday had been sighted 11 miles south of Holdenville in a wooded area, but fled as a posse was brought up to trap them.

Since Traxler's escape, officers have blamed the kidnaping of a Trinity, Tex., rancher, the theft of a Texas state patrol car after three Texas state patrolmen were overpowered, and filling station robberies in Oklahoma and Texas on the desperado and his two fleeing companions.

No Trace Of Lost Fliers

Airplane Search Of The South Seas Appears Hopeless

HONOLULU, July 16 (AP)—Navy airmen, alternately plagued by scorching heat and blinding rain squalls, today moved toward the close of their hopeless search for Amelia Earhart and Fredrick J. Noonan.

Four massed flights over the vast equatorial area where the pair vanished July 2 have netted not a clue to the whereabouts of the carrier Lexington, which is running short of supplies.

Somewhere in the shark-infested waters surrounding lonely Howland Island, the aviator and her navigator disappeared while attempting a 2,700-mile flight to the mile-and-a-half long island from Lae, New Guinea.

If the missing plane is afloat, officers of the Lexington calculated it should be adrift in the area charted for searches today and tomorrow.

Today's flight orders for 42 planes started them combing 28,800 square miles from a point 220 miles north of the equator and 180 miles west of the international dateline.

SAN ANTONIO, July 16 (AP)—Military and civilian police were investigating circumstances surrounding a stolen automobile that recently had been set on fire and turned loose on the Austin highway shortly after midnight last night.

An unidentified soldier told officers he saw the car coming toward him, smoke pouring from the windows, crash through a fence, alongside the road and plunge into a ditch. He said a hurried investigation failed to disclose any occupants.

W. E. Whitmore of Hobbs, N. M. was a visitor in Big Spring Friday. He was accompanied here by Mr. Franzier, also of Hobbs.

Jack Hawkins of Pecos was a business visitor in Big Spring Friday.

BISHOP TO RETURN

SAN ANTONIO, July 16 (AP)—A five-year exile from his Mexican flock soon will be broken by Archbishop Leopoldo Ruiz Flores, archbishop of Morelia and Apostolic delegate to Mexico, who has made San Antonio his haven during his banishment.

The archbishop made this announcement today at his home here following his return this morning from Las Vegas, N. M., where he and Archbishop A. J. Eusebio of San Antonio went to arrange for a new seminary for refugee Catholic seminarians.

Archbishop Ruiz declared that he had received "no formal invitation" to return to Mexico, from which he departed five years ago during the government's conflict with the churches. However, he said he planned to return to his flock.

LAWYERS JOIN IN PROBE OF SLAYINGS

LOS ANGELES, July 16 (AP)—An indictment investigation of circumstances attending the confession of Albert Dyer, 32-year-old WPA school crossing guard, as the sex slayer of three young Inglewood girls, was started today by the Los Angeles lawyers' club.

The club, before appointing an investigating committee, charged the district attorney's office and the sheriff's department have violated the constitutional rights of Dyer.

Several members of the lawyers' club said they possessed information that Dyer's confession was obtained by force.

SHIPS COLLIDE

JACKSONVILLE, Fla., July 16 (AP)—Two ships, passing in the night below the tip of the Florida Peninsula, "rubbed elbows" but did little damage to each other and proceeded on their way without assistance after exchanging apologies.

Coast guardsmen said the motorship Sun and the freighter Gulf Star collided five miles south of Sombbrero Light, about 50 miles east of Key West and about 125 miles south of Miami, at 2:06 a.m.

Captain Gemart of the Gulf Star and Captain Jenkins of the Sun immediately exchanged radio messages reporting no serious damage.

The Sun was out of Philadelphia for Beaumont, Texas. The Gulf Star was out of Port Arthur, Tex., for Philadelphia.
