

Pioneers of Yesterday, and Still In the Front !

All Spearman and the Spearman Country Are Happy

---and isn't it a fact that happiness is what we are seeking? We feel sure that the patrons of Spearman schools have come to know happiness in coming to know that their children are attending a modern school.

In May, 1931, the Panhandle Lumber Company will have served the Panhandle country one quarter of a century.

THAT SPIRIT OF PROGRESS

TEN YEARS AGO SPEARMAN was little more than a name and an ideal. Today this city, after blazing the pioneers' trail, passing through periods of depression and prosperity, of interesting and intense development, stands as a real factor in making this community known far outside its own environs.

The pioneers of yesterday are with us yet and the spirit of these old settlers is reflected in the progressiveness of the present day inhabitants.

In commemoration of this notable event—the completion of this fine new high school building—the Panhandle Lumber Company declares itself steadfast in its definite policy of making this city one of the foremost in the North Plains and in "Helping To Improve The Panhandle."

This firm has played no small part in the building of Spearman. The material for many of the modern business houses and many of the beautiful homes has been supplied by this firm. All of these buildings Spearman and this company point to with pride. They stand now, and will in time to come, as an inspiration and an asset to Spearman and her future.

As Spearman progresses, so progresses its leading firms. And it is a combination of reverence for a glorious tradition, plus a vigorous spirit of modernity that keeps the "Pioneers of Yesterday Still in the Front Today."

International Sunday School Lesson

By DR. J. E. NUNN

OCTOBER 12, 1930

Topic—Mary, the Mother of Jesus: An Example of Her Character.

Scripture Lesson—Luke 2:15-19; 2:21-27.

2:15. And it came to pass when the angels went away from them into heaven, the shepherds said one to another, Let us go even unto Bethlehem, and let us see this thing that is come to pass, which the Lord hath made known unto us.

2:16. And they came with haste, and found both Mary and Joseph, and the babe lying in the manger.

2:17. And when they saw it, they knew concerning the saying which was spoken to them of this child.

2:18. And all that heard it wondered at the things which were done unto them by the shepherds.

19. But Mary kept all these sayings, pondering them in her heart.

John 2:1. And the third day there was a marriage in Cana of Galilee, and the mother of Jesus was there:

2. And Jesus also was bidden, and his disciples, to the marriage.

3. And when the wine failed, the mother of Jesus saith unto him, They have no wine.

4. And Jesus saith unto her, Woman, what have I to do with thee? mine hour is not yet come.

5. His mother saith unto the servants, Whatsoever he saith unto you, do it.

John 19:25. These things therefore the soldiers did. But there were standing by the cross of Jesus his mother, and his mother's sister, Mary, the wife of Clopas, and Mary Magdalene.

26. When Jesus therefore saw his mother, and the disciple standing by whom he loved, he saith unto his mother, Woman, behold, thy son!

27. Then saith he to the disciple, Behold, thy mother! And from that hour the disciple took her unto his own home.

Golden Text—Mary kept all these sayings, pondering them in her heart.—Luke 2:19.

Time—Christ was born in December B. C. 5. The turning of water into wine, February, A. D. 27. The crucifixion, Friday, April 7, A. D. 30.

Place—Bethlehem, Cana, Jerusalem.

Introduction

The worship of the Virgin Mary is superstitious, and is not warranted by the Bible. It detracts seriously from the worship due to God and his Son and the Holy Spirit. To speak of Mary as "the Mother of God" is sacrilegious. And yet all Christendom rightly reveres this woman who was honored above all others of the Saviour, and sees in her an ideal example of motherhood. It is thus that we study her life today.

The "Magnificat" of Mary

"And Mary said, My soul doth magnify the Lord." Mary showed her independence and force of character by making the long and arduous journey from Nazareth to the hill country of Judea, in order to consult her noble kinswoman Elizabeth. Her hymn, named "the Magnificat," "the Magnifies," from its first word in the Latin translation of Jerome, is the precious memorial of this visit which has come down to us. This glorious hymn of praise to God discloses the beautiful and forceful character of Mary. It is compact of Bible quotations, and shows her intimate acquaintance with the Old Testament, an acquaintance repeated in the utterances of her divine Son. "It is, and ever will be, the Magnificat, great in its theme, and great in its conception. Following the flight of Hannah's song, and making use of its wings at times, it soars far above, and sweeps far beyond its original. Not even David sings of Jehovah in more exalted strains. The holiness of God, the might supreme above all powers, the faithfulness that cannot forget and that never fails to fulfill, the divine choice and exaltation of the lowly—these four chief chords of the Hebrew Psalter Mary strikes with a touch that is as sweet as it is clear."—Rev. Henry Burton, D. D.

The Angels and the Shepherds

"The story is of the uplands of Bethlehem, on Christmas morning. To announce the birth of the Wonderful Babe a vast choir of angels has sung praise to God out of the opening heavens. Then the anthem ceased, the splendor was withdrawn, the curtain of the heavens closed again, the familiar sky arched above the silent fields. Mary and Joseph were poor working people, and so were these shepherds. In the story were an invention, a myth, it would not be thus written, but the characters would be his born, as befitting the King of Glory. These shepherds were tending the flocks from which sheep were taken for offering in the temple at Jerusalem, five miles away. The angel of the Lord had announced the birth that day, in the city of David (Bethlehem, David's birthplace) near by, of "a Saviour, who is Christ the Lord," that is, the long-expected and clearly prophesied Messiah, the Son of God who was to redeem the world. They were to know the babe by the token that he would be lying in a manger.

Mothers' Belief in Their Children

"A wise mother, like a wise statesman, will abound in sympathy. Everything that interests her children will interest her; she will delight to share in their pastimes as in their studies; she will be as prompt to partake of their disappointments as of their anticipations. Mason, the friend and biographer of Grant, tells us that the poet seldom mentioned mother without a sigh. All that was best in his character and genius he inherited, and all his happiest hours he owed to her love. The talent which Lord Lytton inherited from his mother, she carefully cultivated, and his earliest efforts in composing sprung from her enlightenment and encouragement. It was at his mother's knee that the fire of Burns' genius was kindled.

Every mother may find hope in the record of the struggles of St. Augustine's mother, Monica, to train her gifted son in the ways of peace and purity. "What," Napoleon once inquired, "is yet wanting in order that the people should be properly educated?" "Mothers," was Madame Campan's significant reply. "The Emperor immediately seized upon it. 'Yes!' he exclaimed, 'here is a system of education in one word!'"

The Last Glimpse of Mary

"These all continue with one accord in prayer and supplication, with the women, and Mary the mother of Jesus, and with his brethren."—Acts 1:14. "We have but one more glimpse of Mary. In those early days before the coming of the Holy Spirit at Pentecost, but after their last sight of their Lord when he had ascended from the Mount of Olives, the apostles were in the habit of meeting together in the upper chamber where he had taken the last supper with them; and with the apostles were certain women, among whom was Mary the mother of Jesus with his brethren. At this point Mary fades entirely out of view. One tradition relates that, true to his trust, St. John remained in Jerusalem watching over her till her death, and did not go to Ephesus till after that event—a likely enough conjecture."

The Mother's Task

"The mother's art is the most difficult perhaps in the world. She has to train the body through the most delicate and exposed period of its existence; she has to carry it through the period when particular diseases invade it; she has to attend to the physical development of the entire man, in beauty, in strength, in healthfulness. And then at the same time she has to rear the intellect and the heart to judge of a thousand difficult questions of conscience, that are rising up almost every day in her sphere. If an apprentice must be sent for a certain term of years to learn the simple trade of making a watch or a shoe or a hat, what shall we say of her that undertakes to mould the mind of immortal man, to prepare it to be steadfast amid the trials of life, and then to pass to the spheres of endless glory? Well might angels wish to take the place of a mother."—Rev. Robert H. Tyler.

Mother and Father

"It matters not how capable, how wise, how devoted the mother may be; the fact that she does her part well does not free the father in any degree from his share of the responsibility."—J. R. Miller. Mother and father working together, in mutual love and in unity of ideals, love to their children, under God, all that they have and are. The children cannot be too grateful. As their parents grow aged let their lives be brightened by the love and reverence of their children, which will be all the return they want for their long years of self-sacrificing toil.

The Mother's Heart

"The heart of a true mother overflows. She pours out her best for her own children, and she has something left for children less fortunate than her own, who are hungering for what has been denied them. Much of the glory of life comes just because there are women with the hungering mother heart, the heart that is filled with the spirit of Him who longed to gather to his arms the needy children of earth 'even as a hen gathers her own brood under her wings,' who are never satisfied with the love they can give, but to give always more, and to include in this love not only those in their own homes, but those whom love has passed by."—Rev. John T. Faris, D. D.

"The greatest battle that ever was fought, Shall I tell you where and when? On the map of the world you will find it not; 'Twas fought' by the mother of men."

Service In Business

Often it is necessary to restate old ideas in new words in order to make them palatable. I am thinking of the "servant and service" idea as it relates to business.

The only proper way to think of business is in terms of service, but "service" has been so overused and misused that it has lost its effectiveness.

Further "servant" and "service" suggest hypocrisy. The cynical say: "Yes, service for profit!" and they are right. Business must be operated for profit.

Suppose, then, we put the idea this way: No business can be permanently successful unless it produces goods or supplies a service that satisfies the need and desires of its customers. Again, no business can be permanently successful unless it satisfies the selfishness of its customers. Finally: Before a business can satisfy its own selfishness, its desire to make money, it must satisfy the selfishness of others.

These are some of the thoughts that are expressed by the word "service." The man who is moved by a desire to be useful to others never needs to worry about making a living.

The successful salesman is the man who thinks in terms of his customers' desires. If he is selling labor-saving equipment, he talks lower costs because that is what the buyer wants. If he is selling stocks, he talks of profits. If he is selling domestic furnaces, his story is of comfort, convenience, and fuel economy.

As the world is now organized we all make our living by doing things for each other. We are paid in proportion to our ability to please others. Woolworth's 5-and-10-cent stores appeal to millions as a first-class merchandising idea. The company serves well and earns large dividends.

The attitude of the man seeking a position should be: What can I do for this employer better than anyone else? What can I bring to him and his organization that he needs? If a position is open, the man who presents his qualifications from that point of view will get a place on the pay-roll.

The executive, seeking to expand his enterprise, should say to himself: What can I offer to my customers that will make them beholden to me? Low price? Comfort? Convenience? Greater profits? Economic independence? If he thinks in terms of such questions he will soon find that he has isolated the vitamins that control his prosperity.

Road Commission Turn Attention to Panhandle

PAVING, SURVEY WORK, GRADING BEING PLANNED

CONTRACTS FOR 47.5 MILES LET; POTTER COUNTY SURVEY ANNOUNCED

Highways in the Panhandle received more attention from the state commission during the September session of the body than in any previous sessions.

Contracts for construction on 47.3 miles of paving were let. Arrangements were made to open a survey of as much more mileage in Potter County alone, with a view of ultimate hardsurfacing. Orders were given to proceed with straightening out difficulties in Gray County and an agreement was reached to give state aid in building and underpass in North Amarillo.

Highway 117 from Stinnett through Hansford and Ochiltree counties came in for more attention than any other single road. Contracts were awarded for construction on the road from Stinnett to its terminus at the west line of Lipscomb county, a distance of 47.5 miles. The road which originates at Panhandle is already paved to Stinnett.

Three Separate Jobs

Contracts for the work were let in three separate jobs. The Hutchinson county portion was awarded to Allhands and Davis of Dallas at a figure of $1,934 in Hansford county, a 19.6 mile project, the award was made to Asplund Construction Company of Amarillo on a bid of $24,050; Ochiltree county V. B. Lamater of Perryton will do the work on a contract of $21,757.

On Highway 75, U. S. 65, in Carson county, award was made to Field Brothers and McCovey of Lubbock in the amount of $34,906 for construction of grade and drainage structures from Conway west to the Potter county line, a distance of ten miles.

In Potter county a resident engineer will be placed to work out the problems of completing the paving program on state roads. The engineer will arrive here within the week, according to P. S. Bailey, division engineer. His work will consist of drawing up plans and making surveys for locations on Highways 5, 136 and 75. Following completion of this work the state and federal departments must approve the plan and locations, the standard right-of-way must be furnished then letting of contracts will be in order.

Maintenance Fund Allowed

In addition to the above work, Potter received an appropriation of $7,402 for maintenance of the recently designated Oil Field Highway, which now bears the number 136. There are 32 miles of the road in the county on 12 miles of which a gravel surface was placed by the county more than three years ago.

Further Potter county work came in unofficial agreement to furnish state aid on the projected North Fillmore underpass which

Let The Children Lead Normal Lives

Should children who show a special aptitude be encouraged to devote their entire attention to that particular activity?

Many parents face this problem. A boy appears to have a remarkable talent for music, or drawing, or mathematics, or even chess. The temptation is to separate him from ordinary children and place him in a special environment.

That is why prodigies so often are disman failures.

There is a proper time to learn everything, and among the lessons learned by children who lead normal lives are moral control and physical co-ordination. Playmates discipline and train one another more effectively than parents or teachers. The boy who does not lead a normal life in youth usually takes his vices at one gulp the moment he becomes a free agent.

I was once the guest at a house where the parents had taken great pains with their children's table manners. A boy of ten was so thoroughly trained that one day at a picnic, he was discovered looking longingly at a broiled chop and when he was asked why he did not eat it he complained that he did not have a knife and fork!

No doubt special aptitudes should be encouraged early, because life is short, but there is so much about life that can't be learned from books or from tutors that it is usually a mistake to separate a child from his natural environment. Youth can easily take bumps that would kill an adult. It's the postponement of these bumps that causes tragedy in the lives of so many prodigies.

is to be built in Amarillo. The street serves four state highways, 75, 33, 126 and 5. The state's one-third of cost will amount roughly to $54,000. The commission approves all plans and lets contracts in cases where state aid is granted and will probably do so in this instance, it is understood.

Other Surveys Ordered

The commission also ordered the engineer to proceed with surveys and plans on Gray county's four state highways, 75, 33, 33A and 88. Gray is to have a bond election for two million dollars on October 25, and it is hoped by the department, Mr. Bailey said, to have the county's roads in shape to proceed with work by the time finances are arranged there.

Other work done by the commission in the Panhandle but not in division four, consisting of the north 20 counties, includes awards on Highways 5 and 88 in Hall county, Highway 28 in Motley, Highway 28 in Cottle county and highway 7 in Parmer.—Amarillo Daily News, Sunday, October 5.

to be back in Spearman, after a sojourn out through the mountains.

But the thing that gives most happiness is to note the wonderful growth and progress that Spearman has made during the twelve months last passed.

Despite the wail of the pessimist that there is a depression in business, it is good to know that Spearman is building, constantly improving, which is the reason we established headquarters here nine years ago and will continue to make the Panhandle our home.

--There Were Only One Telephone In the World

If you had the only automobile in the United States it would serve your needs, and you would probably be proud to own the only motor vehicle in the country.

But if you had the only telephone in existence, what good would it do you? You couldn't use it to talk to a single person.

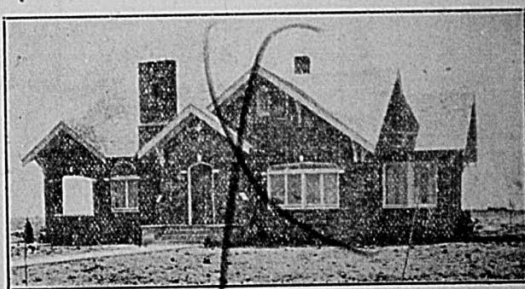

Only by being able to communicate with other people can you get real value from your telephone service. Because your telephone can be connected with every other one in your state—as well as with nearly thirty million other telephones in four continents—that is why it can play such an invaluable part in your everyday activities.

We wish to thank everyone who installed a telephone during our Sell-A-Phone Campaign. They have made every other patron's telephone just that much more valuable.

CHRONICLES TO BE PRESENTED BY CHEVROLET

The "Chevrolet Chronicles," a new program to go on the air starting today and continuing weekly thereafter, will be heard as part of a nation-wide broadcast over more than a hundred stations, the Chevrolet Motor company announces.

Captain E. V. Dickenbacher, ace of American aces, will play a prominent part in each weekly program, which will be of a half-hour's duration and will feature the experiences personally described, of men who have given outstanding service to their country, most of whom have been voted the Congressional Medal of Honor by special act of congress. This is the highest honor within the power of the government to grant for extraordinary valor in action.

Range in Local
The "Chronicles" range in locale from the barred wheat fields of Chateau Thierry to the bamboo thickets of the Philippines and in valorous deeds from the routing of 400 armed Philippine insurgents by only twelve American soldiers to the capture of four 115 millimeter guns, an anti-aircraft gun, eleven machine guns and their crews by a band of nine soldiers under the leadership of a man whose fists were his main weapon.

Each "Chronicle" records heroic feats of comparable thrill and daring, and each program is replete with musical numbers arranged as only Frank Black and Gustave Haenschen can arrange them.

Would Render Service

The character of the programs was determined upon, Mr. White explained, after extensive research for a type of air entertainment which would render a real national service as well as prove instructive and entertaining, in presenting the experiences of war veterans. Mr. White pointed out that the programs will tend to further a general appreciation for qualities of patriotism, heroism and self-sacrifice.

Because of the extent of the Chevrolet dealer organization, from 110 to 120 broadcasting stations will be used to obtain complete national coverage. Mr. White explained. Stations range from WIOF in Miami Beach, Fla., to KOMO in Seattle, Wash., and from KFSD in San Diego, Calif., to WNAC in Boston, Mass., he said.

Parent Teachers Association Of Spearman

Spearman's first Parent Teachers Association was organized in 1921, with a membership of fifteen. Their purpose is to raise the standard of home and school; develop a wiser, better trained parenthood; bring into closer relation the home and school, that parents and teacher may cooperate intelligently in the education of the child, mentally, physically and morally. Their first activities were by the association starting a child's welfare work by securing a trained nurse and paying all expenses for several months while she worked in the schools of the county, and also by caring for several needy families the first year. In 1922 they purchased a piano for the Spearman school in which the last payment was made in 1925.

In 1926 the association had membership of twenty-eight, and took on new life, growing in both membership and in activities.

In the past four years they have sponsored two lyceum courses and several home talent plays, school carnivals, banquets and picnics. In a civic way they have secured play ground equipment, books for the library and twenty-two sweaters for basketball players. They have sent delegates to the state and district conventions each year. They were one of the first three P. T. A.'s in the state of Texas to print a year book and through interest created by the Parent Teachers Association the $100,000 bond issue for a new school building was put over.

The past presidents of the Parent Teachers Association through these past years were: Mrs. W. Cooke, M. G. P. Gibner, Mrs. L. Wilbanks, Mrs. H. P. Ball, Mrs. A. H. Wilcox, Mrs. J. Buchanan, Mrs. F. Noe and Mrs. Fred J. Hoskins.

The present officers are: M. J. Womble, president; M. Ethel Deakin, secretary; Mrs. J. Clark, county chairman of the eighth district; and Mrs. J. Buchanan, district officer since it has been an active officer since its organization in 1921. The association presented her with a membership last year in appreciation and acknowledgment of her long and faithful work. All first members are still active and each year are helping make it work more appreciated and understood in the county. The present membership is about one hundred and fifty members.

Low Railway Rates to Royal Livestock Show

The railroads are more liberal than ever this year in granting special low reduced passenger fares to the American Royal live stock and horse show at Kansas City, November 15 to 22. Herman L. Traber, Chairman, American Royal Railroad Committee has just announced the following:

A rate of approximately one cent per mile from points in Kansas for Kansas Day—November 17; from points in Missouri for Missouri Day—November 18; and from much wider territory for Dairy Day, Friday, November 21.

A rate of fare and one third for the round trip for the entire period of the show; selling as early as November 12 and good remaining in Kansas City over Thanksgiving Day—from practically all points west of the Mississippi River to Pacific Coast territory and from Wisconsin and Illinois.

Progress Under Commission Form of City Government Shown

Citizens of Spearman were upon to vote their views on the 17, 1930, for the change of the form of city government, by an overwhelming majority, cast their vote for the commission form.

The new city commission was organized on January 24th, 1930, to confront the water problem, which had been the one of our city. We had for the development and back to the city. We had for the development and back to the city. We had for the development and back to the city.

The commission was organized on January 24th, 1930, to confront the water problem, which had been the one of our city. We had for the development and back to the city. We had for the development and back to the city.

in pumping rates, has reduced the cost of water production, or pumping the water from wells to the upper reservoir from 19.6c to 6.9c per 100 gallons. The lower production cost was passed on to the consumer by lowering the minimum 10 per cent making the minimum $1.80 and reducing the excess 25 per cent to 30c per 100 gallons. This gives Spearman one of the lowest water rates of any city in the deep water belt.

The citizens have shown their appreciation of cheap water rates and assurance of all the water they desired, by planting thousands of trees and setting of many beautiful lawns. The city commission is proud of the fact in spite of the driest summer in many years, that they have advertised the fact that the city had the water for sale and the more that you use the better that it suits us, and have made good by not having less than 100,000 gallons ready pumped in reserve at any time during the summer.

disbursed, which is open for public inspection at all times.

White Way Planned

One among the first propositions to confront the city commission was a proposition to install a white way for the city. The estimate called for the lighting of Main street and asked that the city pay for the installation, which was figured at $5,600. Investigation was begun at once on the white way problem and after two or three months the Texas Louisiana Power Company offered to install the system at their own expense and cut the rate about 25 per cent for the current consumed, and further agreed to light the entire city or any part that the city commission deemed wise. The work of the white way has saved the city thousands of dollars. The city officials are all strong for a white way and for the lighting of the city, and plan to have the best lighted city on the plains in the near future, but there is still a little work to be done before we turn the lights on.

Light Rates Reduced

As stated above the light problem was tackled as one of the first problems by the city commission, and to date the city has received a reduction of from 30 per cent to 1500 per cent in rates that were in effect on January 24th, 1930, which means a saving of more than $100 per month to the taxpayers of the city.

City Paving Problem

There has been much discussion of the paving projects in the city. The city commission is strong for more paving and all other modern development of our city. The reason that the projects were not completed the past summer are: The contractor failed to get 50 per cent of the property owner to sign for pavement and it was so late in the year that the city commission was afraid that it would be a winter job, which was not wanted. The paving projects will come up for consideration in the early spring and city commission hopes to see all streets paved that the property owners are willing to sign for. We feel that we should have from thirty to forty blocks paved.

Tax Valuations

The city commission very carefully examined past tax rolls and from the information gathered decided to appoint a board of appraisers to visit each and every piece of property in the city and to set value on said property which was done. Many pieces of property had been valued too high according to the appraisal. The new tax roll was made according to the appraisal, which is believed to be just for all concerned.

The Telephone Franchise

The latest problem to come befor the city commission is the granting of a franchise to our telephone company. The commissioners have spent much time and study on the proposition but came to the conclusion that the city should be given a franchise tax of 40 cents per station per year, and that the rates not be raised. The telephone company asked that they be granted a franchise without a franchise tax and be permitted to raise their rates 50c per month per station, and be given two years to construct the system. They say that they wish to install the common battery system, but the franchise that they asked for did not in any way mention the type of system to be operated. Negotiation are still under consideration by both the commission and the telephone company. It is hoped that the matter can be settled at an early date. The city commission are for the development of the city, but believe that the business of the city should be handled upon a business basis.

In conclusion the city commission wishes to express their appreciation for the kind support and cooperation given them by the citizens of the city.

PLAINS FARMS SHOW INCREASE IN 10 YEARS

North Panhandle Boosts 12,420, As Against 7,586 in 1920

Increase in the number of farms in the twenty North Plains counties, the four tiers comprising the Panhandle proper, shows an increase of 4,834 in the last ten years. This is a percentage increase of 63.7.

In 1920 there were 7,586 farms in these counties, and figures given out by the office of Rolla Townsend, assistant manager of the Amarillo Chamber of Commerce, show the 1930 total to be 12,420. In 1925 the total was 8,586, hence the increase in number in the last five years was greater than in the preceding five years.

The greatest increase in number was shown in Collingsworth county, which had 1139 farms ten years ago and 2,114 this year. This is an increase of almost 1,000 farms. Wheeler county had an increase of more than 600 farms, only increased almost 600, and Adair had an increase of 460 farms.

However a greater percentage increase was shown in some of the more sparsely settled counties, allam increasing from 218 to 422; Deaf Smith, 382 to 633; Garfield, 221 to 452; Hartley, 19 to 285; Moore, 82 to 174, and Sherman from 151 to 295. Potter's increase was from 166 to 407.

Comparative figures for 1920, 1925 and 1930 on these twenty counties follow:

FOSHEE CHARGED WITH SERIOUS CRIME BY HARRIS

Serious charges against S. M. Foshee manager of the Comley Lumber company of this city, were filed in the county court Monday by Mrs. Jeannette Harris, C. R. I. & P. operator at Baker, a little city at the junction of the B. M. & E. and Rock Island railroads east of Hooker, on highway 64. The complaint as filed by Mrs. Harris was "assault with a deadly weapon with intent to kill."

Mrs. Harris was brought to Hooker with three bad looking scalp wounds and left at the residence of Dr. D. H. MacLeod for treatment. As soon as she entered the room, Foshee got into his car and drove off without any explanation whatever. Later that night Foshee appeared at Dr. MacLeod's office for treatment for a scalp wound, which he claims he received at the time he and Mrs. Harris were attacked on the lonely road east of Hooker by unknown parties.

According to information received at this office and from rumors that are running about, we gathered the following: Mrs. Harris had been keeping company for several weeks, and it seems that on this particular evening, Foshee had made arrangements with friends in Hooker to meet them at a certain point south of town. On arriving at the meeting place, and no one appeared, they continued driving, and finally wandered off on a side road. Mrs. Harris, who was at the wheel, noticed that the road was seldom traveled, attempted to turn the car around, when she was suddenly slugged over the head with a heavy instrument.

How long she remained unconscious she does not know; but, on coming to, and seeing blood all over her clothing, asked to be taken to town and to a doctor where medical aid could be secured.

Upon examination, Dr. MacLeod found that she had been struck over the head three times, and it took several stitches to close these wounds. After her wounds were dressed, she was taken to Baker by J. E. and Doss Smith. Information regarding Foshee's side of the case, we learn that he refuses to make any statement to the county attorney, stating that all evidence will come out in due time. His case is in the hands of Roscoe Rixley of Guyton and W. Ferguson of this city. Hooker

Must Reduce Wheat Production Costs

Much is being said lately about over-production and low prices of wheat along with suggested remedies such as a reduction of acreage and feeding the surplus of livestock. Commenting on this situation, H. M. Bainer, Director, Southwestern Wheat Improvement Association, says: "The Southwest produces an immense amount of wheat and the present price is much lower than we like to see it. But in looking for a solution to the problem, very few farmers in the wheat belt are inclined to reduce their acreage and they realize that feeding the surplus will furnish only temporary relief. They feel that they are equipped for wheat farming. Their soil and climate is better adapted to wheat growing than anything else. With their knowledge of approved production methods, along with power farming equipment, they can increase their profit through lower production costs."

"Wheat is well adapted to power farming and with the rapid development of the kind of equipment there has been a growing tendency to break up more land and raise more wheat. Now, that the apparent supply of wheat has caught up with the demand, the price has been reduced below production costs of many farmers. While the tractor and combine are directly responsible for much of the present over-production, they have made it possible to increase the profits by producing wheat more cheaply. The combine has the advantage of harvesting one crop and at the same time clearing the field ready to prepare for the next crop."

"Following are the leading factors necessary to increase yield and reduce the per bushel cost: 1. Prepare early—disk, list or plow right after the combine. 2. Keep weeds down, thereby conserving the moisture and plant food. 3. Where the rainfall is limited, summer fallow once in three years. 4. Use pure, smut-free and ryefree seed of a good variety."

KONJOLA ONLY MEDICINE THAT DID ANY GOOD

Victim of Rheumatism No Longer Needs Crutches—See What Modern Medicine Did For Him

MR. A. J. HARRYMAN "Since last March I was on crutches and had rheumatism so badly that for three months I could not close my hands," said Mr. A. J. Harryman, 4109 avenue

Q 1/2, Galveston. My knees were so weak that they gave away when I stood. My ankles and feet were so sore that I could not walk to the feet. My kidneys were so weak that night-risings were frequent. "Of all the medicines I tried, Konjola was the only one to do me any good. I have taken four bottles and I no longer have to use crutches. I can now open and close my hands and I walk without aid. My kidneys are so much better that night risings are no longer necessary. I endorse Konjola because it is the only medicine that brought results." It is such records as this that have made Konjola the most talked of medicine in America. Try Konjola today.

Konjola is sold in Spearman at Hastings Pharmacy, and by all the best druggists in all towns throughout this entire section.

the program for the day appears on this page. Superintendent and Principal Word have agreed that there will be no wind-up, high-powered speaking as are made will be snappy and conspicuous by the time they do not consume.

It is to be a day of visiting. Spearman schools are having open house on Monday, October 13. Of these visitors are always welcome at the school, but on next Monday, arrangements will be made to care for patrons, friends and visitors from far and near in a little more neighborly manner than at any other day during the year, so far as is known at this time.

Every civic organization of the town is taking an interest in this great community gathering, and doing everything possible to make it a success. The chamber of commerce, Lions Club, P. T. A. and many individuals who are not members of any of these organizations have notified the high school faculty that they would be on hand, all set to participate in the general jollification.

Spearman and the Spearman country are really proud of this new building, and there is a universal opinion that everyone will be well pleased with the work of the school board, the architect, the general contractors, the subcontractors and every person, firm and corporation connected with the task of building this great school. It will be given a thorough and most complete examination next Monday, October 13, and it is a foregone conclusion that the job will be given "an ok that counts."

The board of trustees of Spearman Independent school district have worked long and faithfully on this job. They have given of their time and talents unstintingly and without complaint, with the only hope of reward being that of satisfaction, which comes with the knowledge of a task well done.

Patrons and friends of the school from everywhere are invited to attend the big jollification next Monday. It will last all day and a part of the night. The program, short and snappy, is being given merely to fill in what might prove to be a vacant period. The main feature of the day will be the "get-together visit" of the people of Spearman and vicinity who have made possible the building of this great school.

Visit Spearman schools next Monday, October 13. You will enjoy the day.

Spearman Needs A Modern Hospital

The necessity of a well equipped, modern hospital in Spearman is more evident today than any time in the past. Almost every up-to-date, growing city and community like this has one. It may not seem alarming at this time, but if some unforeseen calamity should come over this section similar to that which occurred the past week around Brady, Texas, a hospital in such emergency cases would mean the saving of many lives by providing facilities for caring for the injured.

In addition, a hospital is badly needed for emergency cases which come up instantly. As we are now situated our sick or wounded, in many instances must be transferred to some other city for treatment and attention, and many chances are taken in elapse of time in conveying the patient. Suffering is prolonged and chances of recovery often lost. If a modern hospital was located in Spearman it would no doubt be the means of saving lives in many cases. Only the past week, such an emergency case came to our notice. A young boy had an acute attack of appendicitis and if it had not been for the quick attention of one of our physicians, who performed an operation, the boy may not have lived. If he had been transferred elsewhere for an operation the danger would have been much greater. It is hoped that every citizen in Spearman and vicinity will give this matter serious consideration and add all encouragement toward the building of a modern hospital in Spearman at an early date.

Mrs. G. E. Gibner, Miss Beatrice Bibner, Mrs. H. A. Nichols, Mrs. Philip Wolfe and Mrs. J. W. Ratekin were delegates of Methodist church at Amarillo on October 7 and 8. Mrs. Wolfe represented Spearman on the Wednesday program with a vocal number.

Making Ready For Chamber of Commerce Farmers' Banquet

The Spearman chamber of commerce is now making plans for holding one of the biggest and most enthusiastic "Farmers' Banquet" meetings yet held in Spearman. This big meeting will be held in the gymnasium of the new high school building on Thursday evening, October 23, beginning at 7:30.

Every farmer, ranchman, business and professional man in all this section is extended an invitation and will be expected to attend this blow-out.

A most interesting program for the evening is being arranged, including music aplenty, short talks and other entertainment, all of which will make this occasion one long to be remembered.

Judge Philip Wolfe will act as toastmaster of the evening.

This "Farmers' Banquet" is a real treat furnished by the local chamber of commerce once each year. It is your meeting. The Farmers' Meeting held last year is forgotten and is still acclaimed by those in attendance as one of the most splendid affairs ever held in Spearman. This coming banquet is planned to be even greater than that of 1929.

Spearman never fails to put over any project that is good for the town and country as a whole. That is exactly what the Farmers' banquet held last year and the one to be held on Thursday evening, October 23, will accomplish. For this and for many other reasons, every citizen—business or professional man, farmer, ranchman and laborer—is invited and should attend this meeting.

SPEARMAN'S GRADE SCHOOL BUILDING

Lions Club Holds Interesting Meeting On Tuesday at Noon in Morton Building

The meeting of the Spearman Lions Club held on Tuesday at noon, October 7, was one of the most interesting this important organization has held for several weeks. The attendance at this meeting was far above the average.

President E. M. Clogston called the meeting to order and after the transaction of routine business, Judge Philip Wolfe was called on for an address. Judge Wolfe made a splendid talk using "The Community Spirit" as a subject. He said, in part: "Building a city is comparable to the Bible parable of the talents. That is, 'he that hath to him will be added and to him that hath not, the same will be taken from.'"

Judge Wolfe predicted that a city would be built upon the north plains of Texas, and he believes that Spearman is logical, located and poised as a city, second to none. With the coming of the progressive spirit, all with one idea and one purpose, all working together, he visualizes Spearman as that city. "There is no question," said the speaker, "that by putting to work in the right channel the before-mentioned resources, Spearman within the next five years will grow to be a city of 7,500 to 10,000 population; a city of paved streets, a city illuminated by a white way, with many beautiful parks, and with several ward school buildings, modern church buildings of which no one would be ashamed, beautiful homes, and modern business buildings, in both of which there will be installed and in operation modern telephone equipment, using common battery service. All these things are within the grasp of Spearman, states Judge Wolfe. It is up to the people of our city, as to whether they should take advantage of the opportunities that are presenting themselves at this time. As the eyes of the country at this time are centered on the plains country, this brought about by an extensive advertising campaign by some of our larger cities, Spearman should be in line for all the good things which are sure to come her way.

Knowing the people of Spearman and the spirit of progress which they possess, once this spirit is directed in the right direction, all cooperating, I do not fear contradiction when I say the Spearman of the future, which I have mentioned, is just around the corner, said Judge Wolfe in conclusion.

It was decided that the Lions Club would present a home talent play at some date in the early future, and by this means secure funds with which to place water mains on the school grounds and further assist in beautifying the same. A number of trees and much shrubbery will be placed on the grounds during the coming spring.

District Manager L. L. Dewey of the Western Telephone Corporation was a visitor of the club and made a short talk.

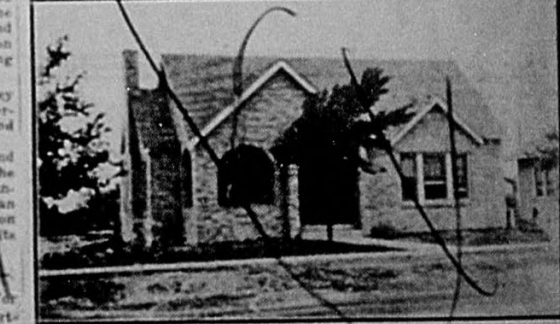

This was a lively meeting and was enjoyed by all present. The membership of the Lions Club includes almost every business man in the town, and the organization is attracting much attention by its activities.

Almost to Breaking Point

George Prewitt, ten year old son of Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Prewitt of the White House Lumber Company, put a good one in this shop today. He came for a sheet of cardboard, and volunteered the information that this was the third time he had purchased cardboard this week. "We first had to draw a map, then we drew a fire-prevention picture and now we must draw a health picture. I don't believe those teachers ever went to school; they don't seem to know anything about how much work a boy has to do," said George, as he rushed toward the front door with his cardboard.

Texas First In Sell-a-Phone Campaign in Five States

Selling 2664 telephones in a ten-day campaign from September 15 to 25, the telephone exchanges of the Western Telephone Corporation system broke all sales records and smashed a quota that was considered especially hard. In only one state, Missouri, were any effects of the hard times scarce noticed, and Missouri sold 729 telephones or 175 per cent of its quota, making it the only state in the company's territory which did not go over its quota by at least 200 per cent.

Among the states, Texas ranked highest on a percentage basis with 335 per cent of quota sold at midnight. September 25, Nebraska was second with 275 per cent, Iowa third with 222, Oklahoma fourth with 213 per cent, Kansas fifth with an even 200 per cent, and Missouri sixth with 175 per cent. The towns which turned in the best record was Lynch, Nebraska, with La Fontaine and New Albany, Kansas, ranking second and third, respectively, while Guyton, Oklahoma, and Fredonia, Kansas, were well in the lead in the number of telephones sold; although the latter two towns did not exceed their quotas as far as the other three towns.

According to H. J. Clark, General Manager of the telephone properties of the company, this year's campaign was the most remarkable exhibition of loyalty on the part of employees and friendly cooperation on the part of patrons in the history of the company. He also said, "We placed very little faith in the hard times story, choosing to disregard it, and our faith in the section of the nation in which our telephone exchanges are located was fully justified by the result of this campaign. Our quota for each exchange was on a basis of 2 1/2 per cent of city stations and was considered a high mark at which to shoot."

"The 2664 stations that were sold will, of course, increase our monthly revenue to a considerable extent, but by far the most valuable results that will accrue from this campaign are the improved relations with our customers that were made possible through the sales our employees had with our patrons."

"We want to express our appreciation to every person that was interviewed for the cooperation they gave our employees and for the frank way in which they discussed the telephone service with those employees. We also want to thank those who had new telephones installed or had extension telephones added to the service we were already rendering them. The newspapers throughout the entire six states gave wonderful assistance to our employees in their efforts to acquaint everyone with the purpose of the campaign and we owe them a deep debt of gratitude."

The campaign was a thriller from the opening gun right up to the last minute. 498 telephones were sold on the last day and almost every day's report showed new leaders at the head of the column. It was not unusual for some exchange to jump over ten or twelve other exchanges and take their place at the top of the list in a single day's work.

Last year's campaign set a record that apparently was unbeatable, and with business conditions at their heights at that time it seem probable that last year's record would stand for many years to come, yet nearly twice as many telephones were sold this year. The total sales made, if gathered together in one town would constitute a telephone exchange one-fourth larger than the company's largest exchange. From this fact can be gathered an idea of the success attained by the campaign.

Patient: "Why, doctor, you told me to show my tongue, but you haven't even looked at it."
 Doctor: "No, it was only to keep quiet while I write down the prescription."

No one could have expected us, For we had come that way As strangers who, all unannounced Tad simply chanced to stray Into the hidden woodland grove That happy summer day.

Yet all was in such readiness— Immaculately clean; The birches white as white could be, The pine trees freshly green, And running water purling low At foot of the ravine.

So here we rested from the heat, And here we drank our fill Of beauty and tranquility, Of bird note, thrill on thrill, While in between the limpid songs The stillness was more still.

And when at last we rose to go, It seemed a little odd, There was no host to thank for rest.

Upon the mossy sod, Then all at once we knew that we Had been the guests of God, —Alice Lowery C.

Wedding of Former Hutchinson County Sheriff Announced

STINNET, Oct. 7.—Married in Kansas September 27 to Mrs. J. James, former sheriff Joe Ownbey was the recipient of a merry charivari party here last night when friends heard of the wedding. Mrs. Ownbey, visiting in Borger, was brought back by a group of women and she also shared in the merriment. Mr. and Mrs. Ownbey are making their home here.—Borger Daily Herald, Tuesday.

ONE GREAT ENEMY

From cradle to casket we are all children of fear. There are times even youth, with all its courage, fears—times when that heavy shock of hair on the head of a youth stands out like the erectile spines of a mad porcupine; and even in age as the sun is about to set, shadows that showed at noon so short, appear so long and so terrible.

From budding babyhood to wrinkled age—from our debut to death, fear hovers over our head—always.

We are afraid of a thousand things. Our molehill fears rise in our inflated imagination like the taller mountains.

We are always afraid of this and afraid of that. If we have money, we are afraid of losing that money, and if we have no money, we are afraid we will never get enough.

We are afraid of illness and injury.

Fear! It is the one immense, misshapen monster that routs more men than anything else on earth.

Fear! It demoralizes the very forces of the soul and damages, if it does not destroy, so much that might be a success.

If I could lay low this monster called Fear, my men would prove ing generations. Let's see if I can make think.

Just in proportion to your abilities to banish that fiend we fear, in all its various forms and manifestations, exactly to that extent will you be happier, healthier and more successful.—Vanburgh.

SPEARMAN'S FIRST SCHOOL BUILDING

First School Building Moved From Old Hansford Burned

By A. W.

It was in the evening, Wednesday, August 26, 1920 that the few inhabitants of Spearman were—I won't say awakened, but alarmed by the shrill clear whistle of the large steam engine. This engine was hitched to the large house-moving trucks upon which was balanced the old three story school building that had served the town of Hansford for a decade. I guess that if I ever had a "Grand and Glorious Feeling" that must have been the time. Every school kid and some that had never been in a school house was in and on the building before they even stopped moving it. It was brought to its final resting place, three blocks south of the public square, on Bernice Street.

This old building was given a thorough remodeling, new windows, partitions, stairs and doors were put in. Then another small school house, the Wilbanks school was moved into town from District No. 5, two and one half miles east of town. This building was placed near the big building and used for manual training and agriculture. It was a wonderful school for a town as small as Spearman was then, but it wasn't long before Spearman outgrew it. Two other new buildings were erected, one a two room and the other a six room. It seems like Spearman is never satisfied without it has the best to be had in the way of a school.

Everything worked smoothly or two years. It was on the night of Wednesday, May 24, 1923 that the inhabitants of Spearman were awakened—I will say awakened his time for it was three o'clock in the morning—by the shrill whistle of the train engine and by the ding-dong of the Spearman Fire Department, which was a two wheeled cart pulled by two men. The hundred foot three quarter inch hose was quickly unrolled from the fire cart, but the pressure exerted by the fire engine was only sufficient to throw a stream of water about fifteen feet high, therefore it did not have much chance to quell the flames that were encircling our fine old school building. It was only about fifteen minutes until the old three story structure—the Wilbanks school house and the new two room building that had been built lay in a mouldering, crackling heap upon the barren campus. The other new six room school building was saved by the bucket brigade.

The remaining three days of school were held at the Methodist church, the United Church and the Old Fellows hall.

The following is the class rolls of Spearman high school for 1922-23:

EXTENDED SENTENCE

The colored man was condemned to be hanged and was awaiting the time set for execution in a Mississippi jail. Since all other efforts had failed him, he addressed a letter to the governor, with a plea for clemency. The opening paragraph left no doubt as to his urgent need.

"Dear Boss: The white folks is got me in dis jail fixin' to hang me on Friday mornin' and here it is Wednesday already."

"I want a revolver—for my husband."

"Did your husband say what make of revolver?"

"No, but I don't think that matters. He doesn't even know I'm going to shoot him."

Visitor: "There is nothing the matter with his country. All it needs is a better type of settler and a decent water supply."

Resident: "Yes, and if you think of it, those are the only drawbacks to Hades."

Spearman Lions Club Was Organized In December 1928

The Spearman Lions Club came into being December 10, 1928, with R. M. McClellan as its first president. R. M. McClellan with him served as secretary. A. H. Word followed by following presidents: J. R. Clogston, and R. M. Clogston.

With its organization, came the spirit of a good fellowship that revolutionized Spearman from a town of far-sighted, un-mindful business men, which was the biggest and most progressive accomplishments achieved by the Lions Club.

The Lions have injected a spirit of pop and go into every public citizen that is a credit to the club itself and the city. Out of some business men it made city builders and out of some builders it has made enthusiastic workers who never know or ever admit defeat.

They did not stop when the realization of the purpose effected, but have fostered aided in every movement on since the organization for the moral and civic betterment of Spearman.

The newly elected president of local Lions Club is R. M. McClellan, an outstanding banker and business man who is well known to carry out the ideals and principles of Lions and with the following officers will be: R. H. Prewitt, first vice president; W. E. McClellan, second vice president; A. F. Bark, third vice president; V. O. Gibner, secretary; G. Pope Gibner, treasurer; H. A. Nichols, Lion; W. W. Merritt, Tailor; Dr. F. J. Daily, Fred W. Daily, R. L. McClellan, director.

AFTER GETS FREE MEAL AT SHAMROCK

Crooks hurt honest men in more ways than one!

The other day a man went into Shamrock's Cafe, horribly bent and acted and acted as if in extreme pain. In quivering tones he asked how much food he could buy for a dime. Boy of the management was aroused and he was giving a bountiful meal.

Still twisted and writhing in immense pain he stumbled to the cash register case and with difficulty extracted two nickels from his pocket. He laid them on the counter.

"Take them along," he was told. "I'm glad to do that much for you."

Writhing, he managed his way across the street, dodging traffic with difficulty. "Poor man," was the thought of everyone who saw him.

At the alley cross the street he straightened up adjusted his clothes and proceeded up-town as well as any man.

Crooks like this make it hard for men and women who are unfortunate and honest to get consideration. One should not allow such circumstances as this to prejudice them against helping those who really need help, and only serves to impress need of investigation before charity is given. Don't be too busy to investigate—you might withhold aid from a starving man—Shamrock, Texan.

GET SOMEBODY ELSE

The Lord had a job for me, but I had so much to do.

I said, "You get somebody else, or wait 'till I get through."

I don't know how the Lord came out, but he seemed to get along; But I felt kinda sneakin' like 'cause I knowed I done him wrong.

One day I needed the Lord; needed him myself, and needed him right away.

And he never answered me at all, but I could hear him say, "Nigger, I've got too much to do; You get somebody else, or wait 'till I get through."

Now when the Lord he have a job for me, I never tries to shirk; I drop what I have on hand and does the Good Lord's work; And my affairs can run along, or wait 'till I get through.

Nobody else can do the job that God's marked out for you.

—Paul Lawrence Dunbar.

STERLING TO TAKE REST

Houston, Oct. 6.—Ross S. Sterling, the Democratic gubernatorial nominee, announced Monday his resignation from the chairmanship of the State Highway Commission and revealed that he expects shortly to begin a vacation that will last until "about the first of November."

Mr. Sterling's statement said: "In view of my nomination to the governorship and the virtual certainty of my election in November, I have deemed it advisable to resign as chairman of the State Highway Commission at this time.

"I should like to continue my work on the commission until the end of the year, but there is so much that must be done in getting my private business affairs in order preparatory to the two-year absence and so much to keep me busy planning and studying for my administration as governor, that I feel I could not do justice either to the state or to my own interests by continuing on the highway commission any longer.

"However, I feel confident that the present program of road development will be carried on without interruption in the able hands of the new member and my two colleagues.

"So pressing have been the demands of my affairs that I have not yet taken a rest from the strenuous campaign. I hope to leave the state on a vacation within the next few days, returning about the first of November. I have had many kind invitations to speak at various public affairs during that period and regret my inability to accept them."

Get The Right Name at Top

An article in The Literary Digest makes the point that one man's patronage is not just as valuable as another's even though their purchases are equal.

It's something like the names on a petition. The circulators of petitions try to get the right names at the top. Why? Because so many of us are influenced by the thoughts and actions of respected people.

In every community we find alert, intelligent, discriminating individuals who are quick to discover merit in new styles, decoration, or entertainment, and by their approval they make the market.

Shrewd manufacturers and merchants have studied the art of winning the good-will of leaders, and if you follow the trend in advertising you will observe that a disproportionate amount of space is used to influence certain groups.

Possibly not one person in five is affected by the arrangement of type, yet some advertisers spend large sums on art work and typography in order that those who are affected by good looking print may be pleased.

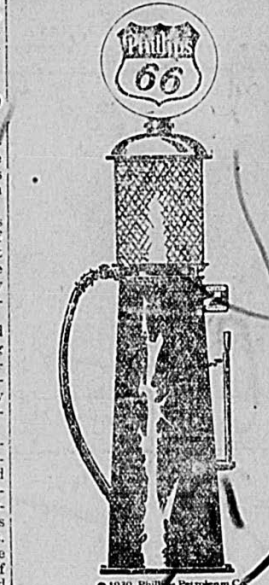

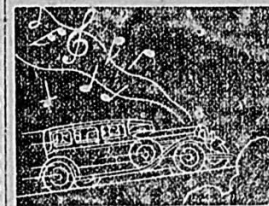

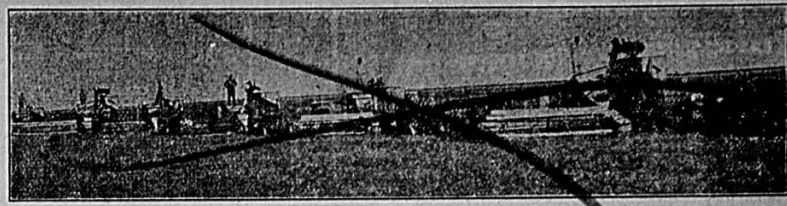

They understand the wisdom of the old Spanish Jesuit, who wrote in the "Art of Worldly Wisdom."

"If you sell your goods to the multitude, address your message to the connoisseurs."

There is real hope in the tendency of mankind to follow good leadership, for it means much in the ultimate progress of things. One might despair of getting desirable action from a hundred million people, but the task of raising the standard of a few hundred thousands is not so formidable.

Remember the good old days when a wife always agreed with her husband?

$2.00 PER YEAR IN ADVANCE
In Texas and Oklahoma; $2.50 per year elsewhere.

Entered as second class matter November 21, 1919, at the post office at Spearman, Texas, under the act of March 3, 1879.

While the democratic party, as a whole, may be leaning to the wet, not all democrats are wet, by any manner of means. The politicians who know they are down and out if they are wet, see a reason why they should make the party wet or give up the ghost. And not wanting to do without their drinks, they are going to do their best to put a wet plank over, but that does not signify that the rank and file of democrats, or republicans, for that matter, are going to undo the work of years of striving to put the liquor traffic down and out for the good of humanity. Politicians had better stay by the law and make it more effective and quit playing the baby wanting the bottle. The time is coming when those tainted with liquor will be hopelessly in the minority. Prohibition is young and men who have the old time ideas prevalent during the saloon days are still living and some are still sitting in the halls of congress, but the next generation will see a big change in politics. Then nobody will point with pride to a politician who uses liquor to get votes. Even today voters are demanding dry candidates for office and the sentiment is against liquor, and the great mass of thinking people in both old parties will repudiate their parties, is need be, to keep liquor from again becoming the master of politics.—Higgins news.

IN THE WHITE SPOT

Spearman and the Spearman country are always included in the "White Spot" of the business map issued by the United States chamber of commerce. This territory has been in the white spot for about three years. Of late the "spot" includes only a mighty little portion of the United States, which would indicate that business is not so good anywhere. Up around the great automobile manufacturing centers, away down south in the lower Rio Grande Valley and out around Los Angeles small white spots are shown. The remainder of the country is in the shaded or black. Many complaints have been heard about business conditions in this section during the long hot summer now coming to an end. Just the same, the United States chamber of commerce, the best judge of business in the world, states that we are getting along fine.

Think the matter over before you make another complaint. There is a bare possibility that the fault is in you. As others see it, the country seems to be getting along fairly well.

Founder of the First National Bank of Spearman

THE First National Bank of SPEARMAN

The Oldest Bank in Hansford County

When this bank was established at Old Hansford in 1907—twenty-three years ago—Spearman was undreamed of. At that time the farmers of this country were compelled to haul their wheat and other farm products from 30 to 65 miles to a railroad point.

The Spearman country has witnessed a wonderful development since 1907. Railroads and highways have been built. Fine modern homes and business houses, sewer system, electric light and power inexhaustible water supply, telephone and telegraph plants, modern in every respect—these are a few of the things we have seen come to Spearman. And latest is our wonderful new high school building. Is it any wonder that all are rejoicing and feeling happy?

THE OFFICERS, DIRECTORS, STOCKHOLDERS and every employee of this institution extend congratulations to the school board of Spearman Independent School District—to the patrons and friends of our school everywhere, on the completion of our

Employees $1,500 To Spend to Help Business

SPEARMAN, Mo., Oct. 6.—Leo Muechenberger believes business would improve if he would only spend more. Unlike some of them, however, he has the courage of his convictions, all the way up to the top.

Muechenberger is president of the paper and paint company. He has a plant here, and has offices in St. Joseph, Mo., Kansas City and Houston.

On another day, pondering on the country's need for free spending, he announced that he would give $30 to each employe of the company, provided that the employe would go out and spend it.

He sent a check for $30 to each employe, both in Kansas City and in the branch offices. He made the following stipulations:

The recipient must go out and spend the money within the week. Cash in full must be paid for anything bought.

The money must not be used as payment in an installment plan.

It must not be used to pay in advance on articles already purchased, or to pay any debts.

Each employe must submit a receipt showing what he had bought.

Employes bought new tires for their automobiles. Others bought coal for the winter. Many bought dresses or lingerie. Men bought suits and hats. Some simply picked up on groceries.

Every purchase," says Mr. Muechenberger, "helped start a business revival. Now if other employes would start the same plan soon forget there ever had been a business depression."

The experiment cost him $1500.

KEEPING THE CO-OP MARKETING PROGRAM

Some bankers and business men who have not as yet grasped the importance of the cotton cooperative marketing movement. Some are yet treating it in the light of a local or county movement, while others have grasped the significance of it as a State-wide undertaking. The program goes further. It not only covers the entire cotton belt in assembly of the commodity, but is international in its relations to marketing.

The cotton cooperative marketing movement has been sweeping over other cotton growing states of the South in a manner similar to its progress throughout Texas.

Without exception every state reports most substantial gains over any previous year, with a tremendous membership increase noted. Cotton growers of Texas are joining hands with cotton growers of the Carolinas, Tennessee, Georgia, Florida, California, and Louisiana. Cotton growers of these states are likewise joining hands with Texas growers.

They are all united for a similar purpose. They are all affiliated through their State associations with the American Cotton Cooperative Association. It is one big movement. It is gaining headway. It is making progress. Cotton growers of the South are uniting, one with another, as they are within the confines of the State of Texas.

No Time To Sell Cotton

In a recent statement to the farmers of Texas, Carl Williams, member of the Federal Farm Board, says it is no time for farmers to sell cotton. Street prices will not bring enough money to pay the average farmer's obligations, and he would much better deliver to the cooperative, draw ninety percent of the value in the seasonal pool and still retain for himself some advantage of any further increase in the price of cotton.

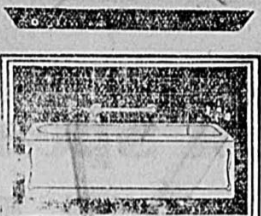

That cooperative marketing

This is the fine new home of the Western Telephone Corporation, which is just being completed. Workmen are now busy installing modern, up-to-date equipment, to take care of the ever increasing demand for first class telephone service.

farmers are appreciating this fact is indicated by the almost 100 per cent delivery to the seasonal pool. That non-member growers are appreciating this fact is indicated by the rapidly growing membership roll, and the immediate shipment of large quantities of "held cotton."

SPEARMAN!

—We Offer You Congratulations

With the completion of our New High School Building, Spearman now has one of the very best and most modern school plants in all north Texas. Spearman and the Spearman country are justly proud of this great school plant, and also are proud of the fine business buildings, the modern homes, and other great improvements made during the year last passed.

This firm is proud of the part it has played in the development of Spearman and vicinity. We have been here since the first day, and have furnished the material for some of the best structures in the country.

We are anxious to continue to do our part in making the Spearman country a better place in which to live.

Congratulations

To the People of Spearman Independent School District

on the completion of our modern high school. This event marks another step forward for Spearman and the Spearman country. This good town and community is moving forward—building and developing—substantially and permanently, and a fine spirit of co-operation bespeaks a continuance of this program.

With the completion of her fine school, Spearman has built the foundation of a real city.

A GOOD PLAGE TO TRADE

Chamber of Commerce is Active Organization

The Spearman Chamber of Commerce is dealing with a multitude of duties and problems that rise day by day—some of them big and some of them of a routine nature, but all of them important to the maintenance of our leadership in the great wheat belt of the Panhandle and all of them having bearing upon the development of a greater Spearman. It may be of interest and perhaps almost a revelation to many of our own citizens the number of matters that are dealt with by the Chamber of Commerce—matters which, were it not for this organization, would have to be dealt with by committees of volunteers or by the busy primary of our own business affairs. It is a period of progress, any city desiring to keep step with the high march must have well-organized and comprehensive objectives. Many activities of the Chamber of Commerce of which the public in general sees little but which are important through a chain of events, including the answering of numerous letters of inquiry concerning Spearman and surrounding counties, providing road information to travelers, aiding citizens to find suitable localities, entertaining delegations, motorcades and various other matters. The modern conception of the duties of a Chamber of Commerce not only includes the promotion of industry and commerce but the advancement of the social welfare of its community, this bringing prosperity and contentment to its people. Spearman, through the untiring efforts of the Chamber of Commerce, is holding its prosperity. Industry is the watchword and Spearman has readily gone on to substantial and permanent growth working to increase ability. Spearman's Chamber of Commerce has a spirit which is commendable. They work together, pull together, and with steady and persistent efforts, together, business is going in a conservative and sane way. Spearman's combined deposits are larger than a year ago. Nowhere in this section of the Panhandle can you refer to similar showing. Purchasing is not relinquished. Merchants are enjoying their usual volume of business. No artificial prosperity existing, but as which all may look to the future of Spearman's progressiveness and advancement. Deep appreciation should be shown them at all times for their valuable efforts to make Spearman the best town of the North Plains.

THE OPTIMIST'S PRAYER

(By Wm. J. Robinson)

"Oh! Unseen Power that rules and controls the destinies of the children of earth: teach me the symphony of life so that my nature may be in tune with Thine. Reveal to me the joy of being loving, self-sacrificing and charitable. Teach me to know and play life's game with courage, fortitude and confidence. Endow me with wisdom to guard my tongue and temper, and learn with patience the art of ruling my own life for its highest good, with due regard for the privacy, rights and limitations of other lives. Help me to strive for the highest legitimate reward of merit, ambition and opportunities in my activities, ever ready to extend a kindly helping hand to those who need encouragement and success in the struggle. Enable me to give a smile instead of a frown, a cheerful kindly word instead of harshness and bitterness. Make me sympathetic in sorrow, realizing that there are hidden woes in every life no matter how exalted or lowly. If in life's battle I am wounded or tottering, pour into my wounds the balm of hope, and inspire me with courage undaunted to arise and continue the struggle. Keep me humble in every relation of life, not unduly egotistical, nor liable to the serious sin of self-depreciation. Success keep me meek. In sorrow, may my soul be uplifted by the thought that if there were no shadow, there would be no sunshine, and that everything in life must have its antithesis. Grant that I may be a true, loyal friend, a genial companion with the broad honest clarity born of an intimate knowledge of my own shortcomings. If I win, crown me with the laurels fitting to be worn by a victor, and if I fail, may it be with my face to the foe, fighting manfully, and falling, sing to the host behind,—play-up, play-up, and play the game."

COULDN'T HE

"Ray," remarked the peevish party at the table, "How long have you been working in this restaurant?" "Six weeks, sir," replied the waiter. "Then, I beg your pardon," apologized the peevish one, "It could not have been you I ordered the steak from."

Porcupines Taking To This Section

Porcupines are taking to the Centerville, Romero and Amistad country like a duck takes to water. Two have been captured in that area just recently. Dick Whitsitt and Dave Sisk caught one in the Sisk Bros. warehouse at Amistad last week. It was on exhibition in front of the Sisk Bros. store for several days, when Dave traded it for three coyotes. An unidentified man was seen leading one down the highway near Romero by means of a wire he had around its body. He was getting along without any trouble. This one was in the possession of Jim Concannon at Romero. Jim wanted to be kind to the animal and put it in a pen from which it escaped the first night. Wire had been set down in the ground but the porcupine dug under it.—Dalhart Texan.

CAREFUL MOTORISTS PREVENT ACCIDENTS

Intense campaigns are now being conducted throughout the nation to make the public highways safe for careful, competent and responsible motorists, and to banish the danger presented to life and property by the reckless. It is to be hoped that the campaigns will be successful. But in the meantime, the careful motorist can themselves do much to lower the accident toll by expecting the other driver to do something dangerous. In the words of Charles F. Ketter, vice president of General Motors Research Corporation, "It has been my experience in a great many years of driving that if you will consider the other fellow is likely to do something which he may do, it is a legal safety factor. I believe that we should always be upon the lookout and expect that somebody will come out of every blind alley and make the wrong turn, because if we are assuming that we are always on the alert and know just exactly how to stop and when to stop." This is sane advice. When assuming all other drivers are capable, the most competent and careful driver is often prevented to avert an accident. And, when lives and property are destroyed, the blame is of only secondary importance. Every state should do its best to formulate modern, enforceable and adequate traffic laws that will protect the careful and punish and eliminate the reckless. But until Utopian highway conditions arrive, we should all be pessimistic of the other fellow's ability at the wheel.—Dorado Times.

First Christian Church

There will be preaching services at both the morning and evening hours at the Christian church on Sunday, October 12, by the pastor. All other services at the usual hour.

Parent-Teachers Association

Dear Folks:—Did you attend the P. T. A. meeting Tuesday afternoon? Don't you think we are growing and wasn't the program fine. The musical numbers rendered by Miss Elliott and Miss Vera Beth McClellan were greatly enjoyed and the reading, "A Place for the Boy," given by Miss Whittenburg, brought tears of regret to the eyes of some for the things they might have done, and made some think more seriously of the things they were going to do. The address of "Community Relationship" given by Judge Wolfe, will be remembered and appreciated, as he is an interesting speaker and one who is very interested in our young people. After the program there was a short business session, and a few other questions of interest were discussed. Prof. Word and Prof. Powell leading the discussion. More than sixty interested parents were present. Everyone is urged to come out and take part in these meetings. Our next regular meeting will be on the first Tuesday in November.

Methodist Church

The services of last Sunday were pretty good considering the good rain that came. Let's make this Sunday better by being present at all services. We had our fourth quarterly conference Sunday morning and elected officers for the ensuing conference year. We expect soon to have a public installation of all the officers. There will be other appointed to the various phases of the church work, pretty soon. Our protracted meeting will begin on the third Sunday at the eleven o'clock hour. Rev. A. D. Jameson of Borger will do the preaching. We do not plan to run the meeting but one week. So if you expect to give the best of your time and get the best re-

Webb despite the bad rainy weather. Next Sunday, October 12, we will have the regular services. The regular sermon will be delivered by the pastor at 11 o'clock in the morning and also at night at 8 o'clock. We will observe the Lord's Supper Sunday morning and all members are urged to attend.

The regular annual Baptist Association was held at Perryton last week. The best report that the Association has had for years was read and Associational debts were reported clear. The Baptist Association has raised more money and has received more members than it ever has before. Everybody was happy and now are getting everything ready for the State Convention which will be held in Amarillo November 12 to 15.

Methodist Choir Will Hold Food Sale

The choir of the Methodist church will hold a "Food Sale" at the offices of the Spearman chamber of commerce on Saturday, October 18. Cakes, candies, dressed chicken and other delicacies may be purchased at this sale, and the signer will appreciate your patronage.

Mrs. C. W. King, accompanied by her son Allen and daughter Mrs. Jimmie Davis, left Monday for Paola, Oklahoma, where they went to attend the funeral of a brother of Mr. King, C. Kingle-smith. Deceased had been in bad health for some time and his death was not unexpected.

Baptist Association Held at Perryton

The meeting of the Canadian Baptist Association held in Perryton last week was a great success. Sixteen ladies from Spearman attended on Wednesday, this being W. M. U. Day. New officers were elected as follows:

Spearman 6; White Deer 0

The Spearman High School Lynx won their first game on the local gridiron this season by a score of 6 to 0.

The White Deer Bucks gave the fighting Lynx plenty of opposition in what fans term the most exciting contest staged in Spearman.

In the first quarter Spearman kicked off to White Deer. The Spearman boys held the Bucks to four downs then the Lynx opened up a series of punts and line plunges. The Lynx were held for downs and Vernon Lynx halfback got off a seventy yard punt. When the Lynx again regained possession of the ball they marched to within fifteen yards of the goal.

The second quarter opened with Riley receiving a pass from Walker, making the only touchdown of the game. The rest of the second quarter was a duel with both teams punting several times.

In the third quarter the Bucks threatened Spearman's territory twice, both times the Lynx held for downs.

The fourth quarter was mostly an offensive game for the Lynx.

They opened up on passes and twice threatened to score. The game ended with the Lynx nearing White Deer's goal line.

Walker, Riley and Rippy led Spearman offense while Broadhurst and Archer led their defense. Paulsen and Merrell, led the White Deer offense, with Brooks and Tabb leading their defense.

The line up was as follows, neither team using any substitutes:

Lynx	Position	Bucks
Walker	Fullback	Paulsen
Rippy	H. Back	Merrell
Vernon	H. Back	Powers

Owen Q Back

Churches and Society

Women's Missionary Society

The Missionary Society of the Methodist church met with Mrs. Garrett Allen on Wednesday afternoon, October 8. The lesson was led by Mrs. F. M. Lyon. Fourteen members were present, and two visitors, whom we were very glad to have with us, they being Mrs. Dawson Nichols and Mrs. Homer Allen. At the close of the meeting lovely refreshments were served.

The next meeting will be held with Mrs. Harry Campfield, on Wednesday afternoon, October 15. At this meeting we will have the lesson which will be led by Mrs. Ratekin. All members are urged to be present.

Entertained With Birthday Party

A large crowd of friends of little Miss Eileen Davis were royally entertained on Saturday afternoon of last week, at the honoree's home in west Spearman. The occasion was in celebration of Miss Eileen's tenth birthday. The little girl played games until late in the afternoon when delightful refreshments were served. The guests on departing for home, wished Miss Eileen many happy returns of the day.

Delightful Party at Lackey Home

One of the smart affairs of the week was given on Tuesday evening, when Mr. and Mrs. Max Lackey entertained at their fine home five miles southwest of the city.

Four tables were arranged for bridge. The appointments reflected a modern design in blue and yellow. Following the games high score was awarded Mrs. Marvin Lee and Mrs. C. D. Foote, consolation going to D. W. Holland.

A delicious luncheon was served to Mr. and Mrs. M. C. Lee, Mr. and Mrs. C. D. Foote, Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Pruitt, Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Russell, Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Whitson, Mr. and Mrs. D. W. Holland, Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Lee and Mrs. L. J. Jones.
