

City council meets; authorizes bids accepted

The Spearman City Council met Tuesday evening, May 9 in their first regularly scheduled meeting of the month. After considering the minutes of the last meeting, the council canvassed the ballots of the city election which was held Saturday, May 6 and administered the oaths of office to the three re-elected aldermen, Mike Cudd, Burl Buchanan, and Wilson McClellan.

After the oaths of office, the councilmen considered the removal of the three meter (high) diving board at the Spearman Municipal Swimming Pool. Council agreed that removal was necessary due to the fact that the swimming pool does not meet all of the Texas Department of Health's minimum design standards to have the three meter board.

Next, the on-going status report from the city council's committee reviewing the Spearman Volunteer Fire Department's organization was heard. The committee is still gathering information from area fire department's to decide on possible improvements for the Spearman VFD.

Next a status report was heard on the problems with the failure of the paint system on the water storage tanks. The City has engaged Brandt Engineering Services who in turn have employed Southwest Laboratories of Houston to make an inspection of the problem. Employees of Southwest Lab. will be in Spearman today (Thursday) to evaluate the problem.

Then council decided to join with the Spearman Independent School District and Hansford Hospital in an auction that will enable the City to dispose of surplus equipment. Some of the larger items that the City will have in the auction include a 1979 Chevrolet pickup, a 4-wheel drive jeep, and a dozer and scraper. Other items, and the time and place of the auction will be decided at a later time.

Councilmembers then authorized the city manager to accept bids on a mowing contract at the Municipal Airport. Council decided not to authorize the city manager to accept bids on group health insurance for city employees at this time. They will wait and see how the correct coverage plans costs may change.

The City council then agreed to a contract with Southwest Aerial Services, Inc., to perform aerial application of a chemical mosquito control program. This contract will be at the same cost that the city paid last year for the service.

Reports were then heard from the fire, ambulance and police departments, as well as the municipal court and animal control shelter. Before adjourning, council considered the monthly revenue and expense report. Council was within budget for the month of April.

Board members elected for S.I.S.D.

In the May 6 Spearman School Board member election, the seven candidates on the ballot were in a close race for the three positions open on the board. Tom Latta, school board incumbent running for re-election, received the most votes of the seven. He received 365 votes. Coming in second by votes, Carolyn Gressett received 355 votes. This will be her first term on the school board. Charles Shieldknight, also an incumbent, gained another term on the board with 290 votes.

Other candidates received the following votes: Dennis Nelson - 269, Randy Kirk - 229, Craig Schumann - 216, Linda Jarvis - 201.

In the city alderman election, incumbents Mike Cudd, Burl Buchanan and Wilson McClellan were all re-elected in what was an unexpected turnout for the election with no other candidates running for the three positions. A total of 450 people voted in the city election including that by absentee vote and at the polls. Some 679 turned out for the school board election.

County has 13 weather watchers available

Hansford County has 13 designated weather watchers that provide information on approaching storm systems. The weather watchers are assigned designated areas of the county to watch during developing storm systems, and they keep in radio contact with the sheriff's office dispatcher. The dispatcher is then responsible for contacting the local radio station, and KGYN of Guymon, and the Amarillo Weather Bureau.

An approaching storm is indicated by either a teletype received at the sheriff's office or a weather watcher spotting one and notifying the sheriff's office.

After a storm has been located this procedure follows: Weather watchers, sheriff personnel and radio stations are informed of the direction and speed of the storm; weather watchers continually keep the sheriff's office advised of developing situations; Weather watchers inform potential victims of approaching conditions; After the storm, weather watchers continue to inform sheriff's office of road conditions (flooding, electrical wires down, etc.)

In Spearman, the Spearman High School and the Hansford County Courthouse are designated areas where the public may go in case of threatening weather. At the courthouse, people can go under the front steps of the courthouse into the basement. And the east and west entries of the high school will be opened for public shelter. In the Gruver area, the public storm shelter is at the Gruver Library and the Golden Age Center.

Hansford County weather watchers include the sheriff and his deputies, David Turner (Gruver area), Lynn Davis (Morse area), Loyall Turner (Gruver-Spearman area), Buck Tidwell (Bernstein area), Joe Vanderburg (SW of Spearman);

Joe Morris (SW of county), Don Evans (Gruver area), Jimmy Johnson (Oslo area), Joyce Johnson (Oslo area), Bill Johnson (Oslo area), Mike Davis (Spearman), and Scott Davis (Morse area). Also Jim Cassels and John Scott work in the Guymon area with the KGYN.

KRDF radio station will be testing their weather alert system on Monday, April 3 at 6:05 p.m. The alert system will warn persons during an approaching storm through the radio. Special receiver units that may be purchased through the sheriff's office will pick up the signal and come on during any hour of the day to alert those having the unit.

Oil bill passes May 1

A bill hailed by Railroad Commissioner John Sharp as the "first tax break for the oil and gas industry ever passed in the history of the Texas Legislature" won final passage in the House May 1.

House Bill 428, drafted by Sharp and sponsored by Representative Rick Perry (D-Haskell), will now be sent to the Senate where Senator Steve Carriker (D-Wichita Falls) has sponsored a companion bill.

Sharp said the bill is designed to stimulate new oil production in the state by granting a 10-year exemption from the state's severance tax to oil produced from new enhanced recovery projects.

"With this legislation we reaffirm our support of the Texas oil industry and their efforts toward maximum development of the state's oil resources," Sharp said. "Today, over half of Texas' oil production, more than 390 million barrels, is produced from enhanced recovery projects. And there remain tens of thousands of reservoirs that are possible candidates for these advanced techniques.

"If these estimates are in the ballpark, we could see tens of millions of barrels of new oil production each year as a result of this incentive," Sharp said. "Remember, every million barrels of oil will add $40 to 50 million in benefits to our state economy at current prices."

Oil produced from new enhanced recovery projects would receive a 50 percent severance tax exemption for 10 years, once the project had been qualified by the Railroad Commission. Any casing-head gas produced from project wells would be taxed at the normal severance tax rate for gas.

"Everyone has an opportunity to win in this legislation," Sharp said. "The industry will receive a 50 percent reduction in their taxes on this new oil, the state will receive tax revenue from oil that otherwise would not be produced, and the Texas economy receives the benefit of the additional funds created."

State Comptroller Bob Bullock has endorsed the bill saying, "I feel this proposal is the best we've seen - or are likely to see."

The bill has been endorsed by the Texas Independent Producers and Royalty Owners Association, the Texas Mid-Continent Oil and Gas Association, the East Texas Producers and Royalty Owners Association, and other industry associations.

"Servants of the Faith" Singing group holds reunion

Servants of the Faith, a men's singing group of the First Baptist Church in Spearman held a reunion for all members and former members of the group on May 6-7.

Servants of the Faith was formed in March, 1984, and has sung on numerous occasions throughout the Texas Panhandle and South Plains and in Oklahoma since that time. The group is comprised of Baptist laymen who enjoy singing and are committed to sharing the love of Christ through music. Members of the original group were Lonnie Hiller, Deryll Friday, Jerry Don Davis, Reagan Baker, John Roller, Jay Pack, Robert Queener, and Wayne Biggs. Since 1984 a total of 20 men have sung with this group on different occasions. In 1984, 1985, and 1986 the group presented a special concert/worship service series, but special music for church services, banquets, and meetings has also been a part of this unique ministry.

Present for the reunion, were 18 of the 20 men who have sung with the group. Saturday's events began with a fellowship for the men and their families followed by a "pot luck" dinner. Later in the evening the men rehearsed music to be sung on Sunday before enjoying an informal "sing-along" for Southern gospel songs and other favorites.

Sunday morning, the group presented several selections of special music during the morning worship service at the First Baptist Church. The group then joined the Adult II Sunday School department for their monthly luncheon.

Attending from out-of-town were Deryll and Charla Friday, Julie and Catie of White Deer; Jerry Don and Judy Davis, Aaron and Marcus of Ft. Worth; Mike and Sharla Blanton of Farwell; Gary Smith of Abernathy; Lonnie and Linda Hiller and Amanda of Gruver; Johnny Miller of Borger; and Jay Pack of Canyon.

Those unable to attend were John Roller of Bolivar, Missouri, and John Weakley who is in the U.S. Marine Corps in California.

"Servants '89" has recently begun a concert/worship service series and will be singing in several churches in the Panhandle area through the end of June. They will bring the evening worship service at First Baptist Church, Spearman, Sunday, June 11. Details of this event will be provided at a later date as the public will be invited to attend.

Members of the singing group "Servants of the Faith" gathered for a reunion last weekend along with director Carol Pack. Those attending the reunion were front row: [l-r] Carol Pack, Reagan Baker, Tony Ferguson, Bill Howell, Bob Vinson,

The Hansford County Activity Center is starting its annual "Back A Youth" sustaining membership drive with a Kick-Off meeting on Tuesday, May 9. All workers will be reporting to the Center at 7:30 to pick up membership cards. General chairman is Wanda Archer.

District Leaders are Cindy Blackman, Allen Varnon and Barbara Townsen. Captains are: Steve and Susan Poole, Buford and Mary Baker, Sharon Cook, Don Hawkins, Shelly Beedy, Stephanie Brock, Karen Thompson, Donna Trantham and Buddy Witherspoon. Each of these captains has four workers to help.

a membership from the money raised by this drive.

If you are not contacted by a worker and wish to "Back A Youth" with a contribution, call one of these volunteers or the Center at 659-2591! The drive will continue for two weeks and will end with an ice cream "Victory" social on Tuesday, May 23.

Children's choirs give concert, May 12

The first annual final concert and recognition service for the children's choirs of First Baptist Church will be this Friday, May 12, at 7:30 p.m. The three children's choirs will present a music concert entitled "Share His Love." Recognition will be given to children who have successfully completed the "Hymn of the Month" activity.

The graded children's choir program includes three choirs. King's Kids is the preschool choir for children ages 4-5. Lisa Pipkin directs this choir assisted by Gayle Smith, JoNell Grayson, Lori Franklin, and Tony Ferguson.

Son. Co., the choir for grades 1-3, is directed by Stephanie Brock. Her leaders are Marilyn Edwards, Kim Reger, Joan Brown, and Robert Queener.

Genesis choir includes children grades 4-6 and is directed by Vicki Gibbs. Her leaders are Kathy Archer, Jeanine Baumgardner, and Carolyn Taylor.

Participants in "Hymn of the Month" memorize a designated hymn each month of the choir year and receive credit by correctly singing the hymns for one of their leaders. Children successfully completing this activity receive special awards at the end of the year, and these presentations will be made Friday night.

Regular activities for the choir conclude with this evening's program. The end-of-the-year choir carnival will be next Tuesday, May 16, from 5:30 to 7 p.m. This event gives choir members the opportunity to spend the "Choir cash" they have accumulated throughout the choir year by their attendance, participation, and other specified activities.

The public is invited to attend this service as the children's choirs present "Share His Love."

Mr. and Mrs. George Kroeker of Turpin, Okla., announce the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Tinese, to Gregg Ammons, son of Mr. and Mrs. Darryl Ammons of Booker, formerly of Spearman. The wedding ceremony will be June 10 in the Turpin Mennonite Church. The bride-elect graduated from Turpin High School and Bethel College, North Newton, Kan. She is a fifth-sixth grade teacher at Elreka School in Hutchinson, Kan. Ammons is a 1983 graduate of Booker High School and also of Panhandle State University of Goodwell, Okla. He is a coach and teacher for Stratford Independent School District.

Railroad commission says "relief is along way off"

Despite spot market crude prices in the $17 to 20 a barrel range during the first three months of the year, Railroad Commissioner James E. (Jim) Nugent said first quarter drilling statistics show relief is still a long way away for the Texas oilpatch.

"Oil and gas companies drilled only 2,135 new holes during the first quarter of this year, a 36 percent drop from the 3,353 recorded during the same period in 1988," Nugent said. "Despite the fact that first-quarter oil prices averaged almost two dollars a barrel higher this year, operators and their bankers' are still gun-shy."

Nugent said drilling permits issued by the Commission during the first three months of the year totaled 2,780, down 22 percent from a year ago. "If we take that as a sign of future drilling activity, we may see the drilling pace decline even further during the remainder of the year," he said.

Although spot market prices for crude topping the $24 dollar-a-barrel mark generated headlines recently, Nugent said producers crave stability more than higher prices. "No way are the producers going to commit themselves to a costly drilling program when Alaskan tanker spills, North Sea platform explosions, and speculation about OPEC production quotas send crude prices soaring and plunging all over the chart," Nugent said. "And if you're a banker, that kind of volatility hardly persuades you to open your purse strings."

The 10-year Commission veteran said the lackluster first-quarter drilling figures mean the state's crude oil production will continue to decline. "Since the oil price collapse in 1986, our crude production rate has dropped over 450,000 barrels a day," Nugent said, "and these drilling numbers can only contribute to this decline."

The Commission's preliminary figures for February show the state's oil wells producing at a rate of 1.79 million barrels a day.

Nugent said there is one bright spot in the year's well drilling statistics to date. "During the first three months of 1989, the number of wells plugged dropped 10 percent compared to the same period a year ago," he said. "Higher oil prices do seem to be helping operators hang on to their marginal producing wells."

Operators reported plugging 3,048 wells in the first quarter of 1989, compared to 3,373 over the same period last year, according to Nugent.

Governor announces program to benefit schools

Governor Bill Clements recently announced a new program designed to eliminate thousands of dollars in wasted utility costs to increase the amount of taxpayer money available for public school academics.

The new service, offered at no cost by the Governor's Energy Management Center, offers energy design assistance for school districts planning to construct new facilities.

"Our children are our most precious resource," Clements said. "We must ensure that taxpayer money is spent on quality academic programs, not wasteful energy practices."

Clements said effective energy management programs are a vital part of that effort, and must begin at the building design phase.

The new Energy Efficient School Design Program will help Texas public school districts control lifetime operating costs and stretch local revenues by identifying cost-effective energy related design improvements. Many of the recommended energy improvements will cut construction costs as well as the lifetime operating costs.

The Energy Management Center anticipates that school districts that have requested waivers from the Texas Education Agency, or passed bonds in the past 12 months, will take advantage of this service.

The energy design assistance service includes a computerized analysis of design drawings for proposed new facilities, an evaluation of energy improvements, and follow-up technical assistance to help the school's design team incorporate recommended modifications into final construction documents.

(More information on the Energy Efficient School Design Program, or other energy assistance programs offered by the Governor's Energy Management Center, can be obtained by contacting Judith Carroll at the center, 512-463-1871.)

Legislation filed to relieve farmers

U.S. Rep. Bill Sarpalius on Thursday (May 4) filed a major disaster relief legislation to help American farmers who this year have been victimized by a combination of intense freezing weather and searing drought.

Sarpalius, D-Texas, said the package essentially calls for an extension to 1989 crops of the disaster-relief program passed by Congress last year for 1988 crops. "Adverse weather is causing a disaster of unprecedented proportions in this country," Sarpalius said. "In Texas, 94 percent of all the wheat is at risk. About 45 percent of the wheat is in poor condition or worse. In some counties in my district, 75 percent of all the wheat crop has been destroyed."

"This is a disaster that is being repeated throughout the nation's farm belt. And the worst part is that it's only May. What happens if we have a dry summer? Congress needs to act now to minimize the impact of this bad weather," he said.

Sarpalius' bill specifically requires the Agriculture Department to make disaster payments to:

- * farmers participating in the federal crop reduction program who lose at least 35 percent of their crop to inclement weather. For a loss of 35 to 75 percent of a crop, these farmers would receive a payment equal to 65 percent of the federal target price for the crop. Farmers would receive 90 percent of the target payment if they lose more than 75 percent of their crop.

- * farmers not participating in the crop reduction program, though these payments would be smaller than for those participating in the program. For a loss of 35 to 75 percent of a crop, payment would be 65 percent of the basic loan rate in the farmer's county. For a loss of more than 75 percent, payment would be 90 percent of the basic county loan rate.

- * foresters who lose at least 35 percent of their trees to inclement weather. Tree farmers would be paid 65 percent of replanting replacement trees after deducting the first 35 percent of the loss.

The bill limits payments for most crop farmers to $100,000. Foresters are limited by the bill to $25,000. No farmer with gross income of more than $2 million may receive payments.

"I think we have here the most comprehensive bill filed yet dealing with the weather disaster of 1989," Sarpalius said. "We cover all crops, and we make sure farmers who have suffered extensive freeze damage are covered."

"The most important thing, though, is to act and act quickly. The administration is dragging its feet, so it is up to Congress to recognize farmers already have suffered disastrous losses and to move to prevent the damage from getting even worse," he said.

LOOK UP

You can prevent an accident by making sure there are no power lines nearby before you cut down or prune trees.

Pruning tools, saws or branches contacting a line could turn you into a conductor of electricity and cause serious injury.

If you have branches that are close to power lines, call your local TNP office to report the problem.

If the branches are too close, we'll trim them away from the line for you.

Hollie and Earl Riley enjoyed greeting old friends at the Guy-mon Celebration last weekend. They have attended every Guy-mon celebration since the first one.

Earl handled the sound truck for the Wagon Train entries in the parade. The Rileys are the last charter members of the original Wagon Train which brought so much publicity to Spearman two decades ago.

Mrs. Earline McDonald of Levelland visited last weekend and Monday with her daughter, Marilyn, and Monnie Edwards and family.

Helen Etter spent last weekend in Dallas visiting Karen and Dick Countiss. They, formerly of Spearman and Amarillo, are well settled in Dallas. They live in the Highland Park Area where daughter, Julia, attends high school.

Helen was fascinated by the fabulous Rameses exhibit at Fari Park and felt it was deserving of all the publicity and promotion that preceded it.

Shannon Baxter is back at home now after escaping serious injury in a collision last Thursday morning. Shannon, who lives about 20 miles north of Spearman, was coming in to school in the dense fog and ran into the rear of a Spearman school bus about three miles out.

None of the students were injured, but Shannon was hospitalized with facial cuts and a foot injury. She was fortunate in that she had taken her grandmother's (Rose Roberts) heavy pick-up rather than her light car, or the injuries could have been fatal as the pick-up was totaled. Shannon has resumed her studies as a senior in high school.

Back in the olden days a girl described as "fast" had questionable morals, but today in Spearman, fast means Heather Murrell - sometimes called speedy or lightning.

A very complimentary and interesting article and picture appeared in the Amarillo News-Globe on Monday regarding Heather and her hopes for winning the State Championship in a track event for the 4th time. Good luck, Heather!

Hospital admissions the past week were: Ashley Lopez, Ward Nolder, Carroll Bostwick, Jack Gillispie, Evelyn Hale, all of Gruver; A.L. Hannon, Borger; David Stewart, Shannon Baxtor, Melissa Bullard, Jim Shirley, Spearman.

Legal "Hotline"

offered to seniors

Often, the people who need a lawyer the most can least afford one. A new service, the Legal Hotline for Older Texans, is now being offered to any Texan 60 years of age or older.

"We want this to be a first resort for older Texans when they have problems or questions about legal matters," said Randall Chapman, director of Texas Legal Services Center. "Our primary aim is to provide older Texans, especially those on a low, fixed-income, with free or low-cost legal services."

Hotline attorneys determine if callers have a legal problem, give free legal information and advice over the phone, and provide brief services such as calling a third party or writing a letter to resolve a legal problem. Problems that cannot be resolved by the Hotline will be referred to legal aid organizations for low-income clients, or local attorneys in private practice who agree to charge reduced fees.

Hotline services are free. People requiring follow-up services may be referred to a local attorney.

"Licensed attorney's will help resolve such caller's problems with Social Security, health care, consumer problems and elder abuse, Chapman said. "Our service will place a lot of emphasis on public benefits and health care. I believe our primary clients, elderly on low, fixed-incomes, are in dire need of these particular services."

O.P. (Bob) Bobbitt, executive director of the Texas Department on Aging, believes the Hotline will enhance the efforts of his department in providing legal services to the elderly. "This hotline will be a very useful resource to the elderly, especially the homebound and those who may be institutionalized. We are presently enhancing our efforts in the area of benefits counseling and legal services are certainly an integral part of it," he said.

The Legal Hotline for Older Texans is primarily supported by a grant from the American Association of Retired Persons, with additional in-kind support from the State Bar of Texas and the Texas Department on Aging.

The Legal Hotline for Older Texans toll-free statewide number is 1-800-444-9114. Austin residents may call 477-3950.

The hours of operation are 9 a.m. - 5 p.m., Monday through Friday.

Summer youth program begins in county

Summer will soon be upon us and to help with finding summer employment of the youth of the county, the Texas Employment Commission has begun to take applications for the Summer Youth Program sponsored by the Panhandle Regional Planning Commission through the Job Training Partnership Act.

Chris Aylett, office manager, of the local Texas Employment Commission office located at 417 S. Amherst, Perryton which services Hansford, Ochiltree, and Lipscomb counties states, "We are currently seeking youth between the ages of 14-21 who might qualify for the summer youth program."

Students who participate in the program must furnish some documentation such as birth certificate, social security card, driver's license, and proof of income for the last six months from the entire household. They must meet income guidelines to qualify.

The program will run approximately eight weeks, hopefully to begin June 1. The youth will be employed by local non-profit agencies in the county. Jean Cooper has been hired to oversee the program and has already made two trips into the county, seeking youths that may qualify. If you know of someone who might be interested, please call the TEC office 806-435-5396, COLLECT.

For those seeking employment who might not qualify for the summer youth program, TEC through the employment placement service will take any application, age 14 - and up to help find employment for any type of work. The service is FREE.

Chris Aylett will be at the local courthouse in Spearman, May 9, 1-4 p.m. to take applications for the Job Training Program and will assist with any questions at that time, concerning any of the programs offered.

Aid For Alcoholics

Does drinking alcohol constitute fun for you, or periods of fog and degradation? You, or someone close to you, may have a problem with alcohol if its periodic or continuous use results in behavior that disrupts normal relations with those at work, family or society. If you recognize yourself as having this problem, it's the first important step. The Salvation Army in your community will help you "begin again."

Over 100 Salvation Army Adult Rehabilitation Centers serve more than 84,000 men and women each year, free to all who want help. The program's goal is rehabilitation of the body, mind and spirit, with God's help. The centers provide shelter, food, clothing, medical and psychiatric assistance, meaningful work, vocational training, fellowship and spiritual guidance. Funds are obtained from the sale of your donated items, which are repaired and sold at Salvation Army Thrift Stores.

In the six months following "graduation" from a rehab center, 57% drink less, 50% have good jobs with nearly double previous earnings, and 25% have achieved total sobriety.

Every year Salvation Army Rehabilitation Centers host Annual Sobriety Dinners honoring consistent sobriety from two months to more than 20 years. Each participant receives a certificate of recognition and the individual with the most outstanding achievement is honored. In its tenth year, the annual Break the Bottle Rally celebrates freedom from alcoholism. Recovered alcoholics give stirring testimonies to God's assistance in victory over alcoholism and smash old liquor bottles symbolic of newly gained freedom and hope.
