INCREASED ENROLLMENT can be seen as the result of Bill Whited's journalism typography class having to meet on the lawn in front of the Journalism Building. Since their room has not been completed due to expansion in the building, and since there was no other available room, the class met outside yesterday.

J. William Davis, head of Tech's government department, was named yesterday to the advisory committee of the revision of the Texas Constitution.

House Speaker Waggoner Carr also named five other citizens. They are: Robert G. Storey, Dallas; Charles T. Lux, Austin, C. C. Gunn, San Antonio; Mrs. Horton Wayne Smith, Austin; and Jack Cox, Houston and Breckenridge.

Dixie Governor Vote

SEA ISLAND, Ga., Southern governors voted 11-1 today to seek conferences with President Eisenhower and Gov. Orval Faubus of Arkansas aimed at the withdrawal of federal troops from Little Rock, Ark.

They elected Gov. Leroy Collins of Florida, regarded as a moderate on integration, as their leader for the year although the nominating committee had favored Gov. Marvin Griffin of Georgia, a fervent segregationist.

Hoffa Indicted

NEW YORK—James R. Hoffa was hit by a double-barreled thrust today—a new criminal indictment and a jab by the AFL-CIO as he readied his bid for top power in the big Teamsters Union.

A federal racketeers grand jury charged him with perjury, and an AFL-CIO Executive Council accused him of "improper activities" and ordered a clean-up in the union.

Flu Scare Eased at Tech

by DALE JOHNSON
Toreador Staff Writer

Though the Tech Infirmary is filled with students suffering from upper respiratory diseases, there is not a single case of influenza — Asian or otherwise — confined in the campus hospital according to Dr. E. R. Rose, director of the Student Health Service.

The director's report labeled as untrue rumors which had been circulated about the campus that the infirmary is overflowing with flu cases.

DR. ROSE SAID HE and Dr. Fred Kallina had diagnosed several students' illnesses as upper respiratory disease, but he emphasized that not one case had been diagnosed as influenza of any strain.

The doctor said there had been quite a rush of students complaining of sore throats, stopped-up noses, coughing and headaches which are symptomatic of the respiratory infections.

The more disabling cases have been hospitalized in the infirmary, with other students advised to go get bed rest.

SIXTEEN OF THE infirmary beds are filled with respiratory patients with the other two available beds reserved for emergency director states.

Dr. Rose described the respiratory illness having the above symptoms, but being mild. He said the illness usually runs two to four days, with most cases running their course in about three days.

The health director blamed the recent rash of newspaper publicity as being responsible for the flu "scare" on the campus as well as in other parts of the state.

IN SPEAKING OF the series of respiratory cases, Dr. Rose said they were yearly occurrences on the Tech campus and in previous years had been much worse than this fall.

Only last spring the doctor declared, there was a greater number of cases of the same or a similar illness at Tech.

Dr. Rose said he felt this week would be the peak period for the Tech outbreak. It is possible the

Troopers Guard Negroes As Central Hi Integrates

LITTLE ROCK, Ark., Sept. 25 AP—Nine Negro students, constantly guarded by armed paratroopers completed their first full day of classes at Central High School today—a feat requiring the action of President Eisenhower and armed forces of the United States.

All day long, more than 400 battle-ready paratroopers with fixed bayonets cracked down on every attempt of a crowd to gather and actually bayoneted one man and clubbed a second with a rifle butt.

About 750 of the 2,000 white pupils either stayed away from school today or left after the Negroes were ushered in by their cordon of protective paratroopers. During classes and in the cafeteria at lunch time soldiers followed the Negroes as personal guards. In the classrooms where the six Negro girls and three boys attended, troopers stationed themselves at the door and inside the rooms.

Available Today

ID cards—your ticket to the A&M football game and all other athletic events plus several Student Council activities—will be available today 1 p.m. to 5:30 in the Rec Hall.

Friday and Saturday the cards will be available from 8:30 a.m. until 5:30 p.m. at the same location.

The reason given for distributing the cards in the Rec Hall instead of in the East Foyer of the Administration Building as in the past is to avoid crowds and give speedier distribution.

Wimberly, Joan Wimberly, Tech junior, and parents, the R. E. Wimberlys, both working on advanced degrees.

THE ONLY MEMBER of the family not a Tech student is 14 year old Ronnie, who is in the ninth grade. He will be the sixth of the Wimberly family to graduate from a Lubbock high school and is planning "very definitely" to enter Tech.

Expense in paying five tuitions was named a disadvantage of being mainly a Tech family, but they live on a budget and state, "a good education is sometimes hard on the stomach."

Other problems arise when trying to "round up" everyone for the family meals. An extra trip is most always needed to get someone who was left.

WIMBERLY HAS OBTAINED a B.A. and M.A. degree and is presently working for 30 more semester hours. Mrs. Wimberly has a degree of B.S. and a Master in Education. Both girls are following their mother's footsteps with majors in the field of Education, while Buddy is a Mechanical Engineer.

Loyal Tech supporters in every respect, the Wimberly family agree that "they wouldn't miss a football game."

In addition to his Tech schedule, Wimberly is a Southwest Conference referee for AA games and an instructor at Tom S. High School.

Added to the list of activities of the Wimberly family is that of regular attendance at the St. John's Methodist Church.

Pep Rally Slated For 7 On Friday

The pep rally Friday night at 7 p.m. will feature the Tech band, cheerleaders, and a twirler routine to spur the Red Raiders to a victory over Saturday night's rival the Texas Aggies.

More band numbers than usual are to be expected, this time—and a musical group, the Ad Libs, will also perform at the rally.

The Saddle Tramps are sponsoring the rally this Friday night.

PLEDGE COUNSELLING is being received by Jo Ann Sweet, freshman from Houston, as Betty Maloy, sophomore from Waco, goes over the Kappa Alpha Theta pledge book with her. Pledges of the sororities are in the middle of their pledging now and many are receiving their pins at special ceremonies.

Campus life is well under way now. Students are griping about their classes, boys having trouble phoning into the girls' dorms, everyone is dodging the water sprinklers and there still are not any parking spaces.

But along with all of that Tech students are also starting the social wheel rolling around the campus. The Greeks began their weekly Wednesday night meeting last night and other organizations will have their first meeting in the next week or so.

Texas Tech's Rodeo Association will begin its year Tuesday at 7 p.m. in the Aggie Auditorium as it meets to organize for the coming year. Brad Long, president of the association, urges all new students who are interested to attend.

Alpha Chi Omega pledges received their pins last night at a pledge service in the First Christian Church. The 28 pledges were dressed in white. Following the pinning ceremony, pledges received their big sisters.

The Journalism department postponed its party scheduled for Tuesday night and will have it instead tonight at 6:30 at the home of Wallace Garets, 2102 33rd. This is an annual party and enables all journalism students to

Faculty Wives Club Starts 25th Year

Tech's Faculty Women's Club will have its first tea Wednesday from 3 to 4:30 p.m. in the lounge of Drane Hall as the club begins its 25th year.

Hosting the club's first tea of the year will be the School of Business Administration and the Tech New Comers Club. Chairmen are Mrs. George Heather and Mrs. W. E. Garets.

A come and go tea is held each first Wednesday afternoon throughout the school year. Brief programs are presented during the year.

Club membership is open to women faculty members, wives of faculty men, mother and sisters living in homes of faculty people, wives of college officials, hostesses in the dormitories and to all who have previously been members.

Hostesses are named from schools or departments for each meeting, and they will help plan the details of the tea.

DG's Read to Blind Students

Every year the Delta Gamma's donate some of their time reading to the blind students attending Tech.

This year there are seven blind students who will benefit from their work. Both actives and pledges read for at least one hour three times a week and usually more time is spent.

Dr. Anderson, head of the Psychology department, helps the students make up a "Talking Book." There are fifteen different records made for each book.

Each month the Delta Gamma alums give a party for all the blind people of Lubbock with the girls acting as hostesses. At Christmas the Delta Gamma's are hostesses to an informal Christmas Party for the blind.

The fact that blind people are so intelligent and happy was the greatest impression made on Rebecca Wilson, president of Delta Gamma.

Speech Production Tryouts Scheduled

Tryouts for the first Speech department production, "Dark of the Moon," will begin tonight at 7 p.m. in the Speech Auditorium. They will continue tomorrow at 2 p.m. and will run until 5 p.m. a night session will begin at 7 p.m.

Parts in the play are open to all Tech students. Students interested in either dramatic roles or productions should attend the tryouts.

There are many major roles and a large number of smaller parts. In addition to the dramatic roles, the play needs square dancers, ballad singers, modern dancers, and students who can play musical instruments.

The play is a folk drama, by William Berney and Howard Richardson, and is set in the mountains of North Carolina. It is based on the legend of Barbara Allen.

We Need Full-Time Light

THE ETERNALLY - RECURRING problem presented by automobiles on the Tech campus is herewith on the rebound once again.

This year, with approximately 5,500 cars to be on campus daily, this colossal motor migraine could reach unprecedented heights in calamity and utter chaos.

By the time the semester has scratched the surface of education it will have doubtless done a deal more to our paint jobs, and pandemonium will once more cry out indignantly for more parking space, more paved lots, and other ideas for remedial action.

Whatever the crisis and however the cures, one thing is all but inevitable: something (sooner or later) will have to be done. It would appear, after only a glance at the overall problem of a crowded campus, that two alternatives exist — namely, providing more space or prohibiting some cars.

This of course is the basic idea. The intricacies involved in the problem are the ones we'll all be yelling about this semester and the next and the one following that, until the need is met. Somewhere between the students, faculty and administration something will eventually be done. Meanwhile, each will try the patience of the others.

To put the first straw on old dromedary, here's something specific: For several years now it has become increasingly more difficult to enter or leave campus by way of the 14th street entrance. Little or naught has been publicly said about it, so maybe it's time something was.

At the entrance there is a four-way traffic light which, for all its worthiness, endures the better part of the day blinking and winking at motorists, while the latter get cramps in the brake pedal waiting for an empty slot in College Avenue traffic. The light is on only for brief periods at 8 a.m., 12 noon and 5 p.m. Only during these short periods does the light do any semblance of good.

A period from, say 7:15 in the morning to at least 6 in the afternoon would give just fare from the light.

Weary lines of cars, awaiting entrance to College Avenue, have lately been seen to trail backwards to the Campus Bookstore — almost creating a subsequent problem with the traffic light on that corner.

The preventive maintenance here need not be spelled out. It won't even take time and effort. It will merely take the flick of a switch.

Putting this signal to work full-time should as a consequence, be a start in solving further traffic problems on campus in addition to the one immediately concerned.

Eventually this entrance will be closed to thru traffic. Until it is, why not let this traffic signal earn its meager existence? Operate it full-time . . . or take it down.

A Word of Explanation Toreador Letters Policy

In Tuesday's issue there was an article on this page giving an inside look on Tech's foreign students. The word "character" was used in reference to the students.

In explanation, first let us say we in no way meant to be derogatory—the opposite, in fact. Second, the writer had in mind the same reference that friends have when they call each other "characters" when cutting up.

We are as proud as anyone of our foreign visitors.

THE TOREADOR, on any issue, will attempt to present a fair cross-section of student opinion in Techans Talk Back.

LETTERS SHOULD be grammatically written as carefully as possible and should not exceed 250 words in length.

THE TOREADOR must have the name and address of each letter writer, although under justifiable circumstances the name will be withheld upon request.

THE TOREADOR maintains the right to edit all letters and to reject any letter.

FOOTBALL THROUGH THE AGES

The football frenzy is upon us. But let us in the midst of this pandemonium call time. Let us pause for a moment of tranquil reflection. What is this great American game called football? What is its history? Its origins?

First of all, to call football an American game is somewhat misleading. True, the game is now played almost exclusively in America, but it comes to us from a land far away and a civilization long dead.

Football was first played in ancient Rome. Introduced by Julius Caesar, it became one of the most popular Roman sports by the time of Nero's reign. The eminent historian, Sigafos, reports a crowd of MMCLDDXVIII people at the Colosseum one Saturday afternoon to see the Christians play the Lions.

With the decline of the Roman empire, football fell into disuse. The barbaric Huns and Visigoths preferred canasta. Not until the fifteenth century A. D. did football emerge from its twilight and rise to its rightful place in the firmament of European sports.

Which brings us to September 29, 1442, a date dear to the hearts of all football fans. It was on this date, according to the eminent historian Sigafos, that a sixteen-year-old lad named Christopher Columbus tried out for the football team at Genoa Tech. He failed to make the team because he was too light. (He weighed at the time only twelve pounds.)

And why, you ask, is this date—September 29, 1442—so dear to the hearts of all football fans? Because young Columbus was so heartbroken at not making the team that he ran away to sea. And if that hadn't happened, he never would have discovered America. And if Columbus hadn't discovered America, the world would never have discovered tobacco. And if the world hadn't discovered tobacco, football fans never would have discovered Marlboro—which, as every fan knows, is the perfect companion to football. And why shouldn't it be? Look what Marlboro's got . . . Filter . . . Flavor . . . Flip-top Box . . . You can't buy a better smoke. You can't smoke a better buy.

The end of football in Europe came with the notorious "Black Sox Scandal" of 1587, in which Ed Machiavelli, one of the Pisa mob, paid off the University of Heidelberg Sabres to throw the championship game to the Chartres A. and M. Gophers. It was a mortal blow to football on the continent.

But the game took hold in the American colonies and thrived as it had never thrived before. Which brings us to another date that remains evergreen in the hearts of football lovers: December 16, 1773.

On that date a British packet loaded with tea sailed into Boston harbor. The colonies had long been smarting under the English king's tax on tea. "Taxation without representation," they called it, and feelings ran high.

When on December 16, 1773, the British ship docked at Boston, a semi-pro football team called the Nonpareil Tigers, coached by Samuel (Swifty) Adams, was scrimmaging near the harbor. "Come, lads," cried Swifty, seeing the ship. "Let's dump the tea in the ocean!"

With many a laugh and cheer the Nonpareil Tigers followed Swifty aboard and proceeded to dump the cargo overboard in a wild, disorganized and abandoned manner. "Here now!" called Swifty sharply. "That's no way to dump tea overboard. Let's get into some kind of formation."

And that, fans, is how the tea formation was born.

Double your pleasure at next Saturday's game by taking along plenty of Marlboros, whose makers bring you this column throughout the school year.

Southwest Campus Roundup

by CAROLYN MIMMS
Toreador Campus Editor

Five outstanding auditorium events, including Fred Waring's Muscade Show and the Ballet Russe De Monte Carlo, is being offered Tech students at reduced rates by Civic Lubbock, Inc., the official booking organization of the Auditorium-Coliseum on campus.

Opening the season Oct. 9 will be the Broadway-bound play, "The Rivalry." This new dramatic presentation is the story behind the Lincoln-Douglas debates and stars Raymond Massey as Abraham Lincoln, Agnes Moorehead as Mrs. Stephen A. Douglas and Martin Gabel as Senator Douglas. Techsians will be admitted at $1.50 each.

LAST SEASON'S FAVORITE, Fred Waring's Muscade Show, will return Nov. 23 by popular demand. Waring will present a new show, "Hi-Fi Holiday," to students for $1. Roberta Peters, leading metropolitan opera coloratura, who was forced to cancel her Tech Artists Course date last year, will appear in concert Jan. 15. Tech students will be admitted for $1. America's greatest dance company, the Ballet Russe De Monte Carlo, with 55 dancers, will be seen on the auditorium stage Jan. 23.

BRINGING THE SEASON to a close Mar. 28-29 will be the presentation of "No Time For Sergeants," the hilarious Broadway comedy hit. This two-night engagement marks the second anniversary of the auditorium opening. Tech students may attend either night for $1.50.

Tickets may be bought for all shows at one time, or purchased individually for each attraction. The auditorium box office is open daily from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. Reservations may be made by calling PO2-4616.

The Idealist

by patrick bennett

Eight thousand five hundred alarm clocks jangled Monday. Eight thousand five hundred students, fired by the true N. V. Peale spirit, trooped out to cover themselves with academic glory.

At least one student, however, was quite gloomy—me. Last June, with the fall semester's jagged edges obscured by a fog of thoughts of three months' soft living ahead, I agreed to write a column for the editor.

How to get it underway is the problem. Instructors usually begin by announcing the object of a course is something realistically concrete like "The Discovery of Truth" or "The Nature of Abstraction". Something the student can begin thinking about immediately and planning for. We could start this column out this way, but we aren't.

The aim of this column is to present as much useful and stimulating material as "The Sixty-Four Thousand Dollar Question" framed in language that can be understood by a fourth semester freshman one degree dinner than last summer's comet.

The title doesn't mean these essays are for those people who believe hats exist in their heads rather than on them.

It is for students, like myself and you, who think there is a proper way to run things and know, alas, they aren't being run that way.

There are a lot of problems which need eying. Campus parking. Can can slips in crowded classrooms. Asian flu. The ratio of Eds to Co-eds.

Cynicism will be avoided in treating them—a cynic being defined as one who hangs upside down like a three-toed sloth and insists the world is inverted.

Rose Reminds Tech Of Regular Hours

In an effort to ease the strain on the Tech infirmary staff during the current outbreak of respiratory illness, Dr. E. R. Rose, director of the Student Health Service, reminds of the regular infirmary hours.

Normal hours for the clinic are 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. Monday through Friday while on Saturdays hours are 8 a. m. until noon. The clinic is not open on Sunday.

Dr. Rose urges that students wait until regular clinic hours to call, if possible.

However, if it is necessary for a student to seek medical care when the clinic is closed, a nurse may be summoned, by ringing the night bell at the south door of the infirmary.

Dr. Rose said he hoped eventually to provide additional clinic hours on Saturday and Sunday when he could secure nurses to fill the need.

Vets Get Checks

Tech's veterans will not receive their education and training allowance checks until Oct. 31, Robert W. Sisson, manager of the Lubbock Veterans Administration Regional Office, announced this week.

The checks will be dated Oct. 31 provided enrollment papers and certifications of training are submitted promptly and found in order, Sisson said.

Despite a decade of anti-religious pressure by the Communist authorities, churches are still strong in East Germany says Stanley High. "About 90 per cent of Protestant children receive religious instruction, and among Roman Catholics the percentage is even higher," he says.

... Flu Scare

large number of cases will continue another week, the doctor stated, but it is expected to level off.

STUDENTS HAVE BEEN admitted to the hospital with the respiratory illness since the first day of school, the director continued.

Though medication helps relieve pain and discomfort, Dr. Rose said, the primary treatment for the illness is bed rest, and consumption of liquids.

As for inoculation against the Asian flu strain, Dr. Rose stated that he would not advise immediate immunization. He said the reaction to the vaccination may be as disabling as the disease itself, which is mild.

LAST WEEK SOUTHWEST Texas State College closed its doors for three days after hundreds of students were stricken with an illness not definitely diagnosed as Asian flu. Texas A&M and Texas Christian University also were hard-hit by sickness but neither were any cases at either of the schools definitely reported as flu.

A list of persons hospitalized in the infirmary includes: Ann Foster, Mary Ann Pippin, Linda Bunger, Jeanne Leith, Lynna Arthur, Marilyn Jean Gardner.

Harold V. Ratliff, AP Sports Editor, Appears at Tech Union Saturday

Harold Ratliff, author of "The Power and the Glory—The Story of Southwest Conference Football," will be at Tech Union Saturday from 1 to 4 p.m. to autograph copies of the book.

Ratliff, Texas sports editor for the Associated Press, has spent the past 30 years covering the Southwestern sports scene.

The 205-page publication, published by the Tech Press, contains many colorful and little-known stories about Southwest Conference football. On sale at bookstores around the campus and in town, this history is climaxed with a chapter on Tech's Red Raiders and their entry into the conference after three decades of effort.

Don Davis, Gerald Hermesmeyer, Leldon Cox, Glen Waiser, Nelson Sager, Howard Brodfield, Leon Hill, Ruth Radock, Carol Burrow, Marsha Wolfe, and Larry Baird.

The Aggies, fresh from a rather unimpressive — yet convincing — win over Maryland 20-13, will bring eighteen lettermen and six starters from last year's Southwest Conference championship team plus several promising sophomores to Raiderland where Tech lost its opener last week to West Texas State 19-0.

Coach Paul "Bear" Bryant, in his fourth year as Aggie mentor, expressed unhappiness over the Maryland win and will be out for a high-scoring win Saturday night.

THE SIX RETURNING regulars include ends Bobby Marks and John Tracey, tackle Charles Krueger and backs Roddy Osborne, John Crow and Lloyd Taylor.

Marks, a two-year letterman, is a good receiver and also can kick extra points. Down the line at the other end is All-America candidate John Tracey who is one of the oldest players on the squad as he served in the armed forces and was all-conference last year.

Krueger, who was All-America last fall and was called one of the kicked an extra point and blocked Maryland's try for point with the score 14-13 in the fourth quarter.

CROW, another strong All-American candidate, is called by many one of the most bruising runners in college football. Like Jack Pardee of last year Crow can block well, is a good pass catcher and a good defense man, as well as a top runner. He suffered a strained ligament in his left knee last Saturday and although Brown swears he will not be ready for Tech it will surprise no one here to see him start the game.

Taylor, another casualty against the Terps, is a two-year letterman who has played in the shadow of Pardee and Crow but usually does an outstanding job. He does most of the extra point kicking.

finest linemen in the conference.

Osborne, who was chiefly responsible for the Maryland win playing at quarter and halfback, was all-conference last year. It was his all-around good play on offense and defense last week that stopped Maryland. He scored one touchdown, set up another,

BUT BRYANT has some excellent material to try and plug those holes with.

At tackle he has put junior Ken Beck. Beck, a 210 pounder, played 31 quarters last year and seems to be ready for the starting job.

Two seniors, Jim Stanley and Darrell Brown, will man the guard spots. Stanley, who up to this year hadn't lived up to expectations, was moved over from tackle. Brown lettered in 1954 and 1955 but was scholastically ineligible last fall. He is also a tackle who has been changed to guard.

At center the call goes to John Gilbert who has had to play behind Hale the past two years. He will be aided by sophomore Byron Caruthers. Caruthers saw a good deal of action against Maryland.

Outlook Intramural

by BILL DEAN
Toreador Sports Editor
The intramural program of Aggies, under the able direction of Edsel Buchanan, is in a better position than ever every year.
Last year the total number of men participating in intramural activities was 492. Compare these figures with the 640 men enrolled in the program with a ratio of 30 to 1.
The most active participants in intramural sports with 1166 (47 percent) were in basketball. The smallest number of participants were in handball (10). OTHER SPORTS OFFERED include: tennis and field (166), volleyball (128), bowling (96), weight lifting (49), golf (28) and chess (18).

There are two types of intramural competition. The first is a divisional competition in the team sports of football, basketball and softball. The second is two separate divisions of intramural sports, the Non-Fraternity and Non-Fraternity Independent.

The winners of these divisions at the end of the semester are named as the College Champion.
THE NON-FRATERNITY division may include dormitory, independent or departmental. The other type is the tournament participation division and team sports will be an open competition with all men interested providing unit affiliations provide no otherwise eligible. The division points may have intramural unit credits those points providing the indicated their affiliation entry blank.

According to Buchanan the purpose of the program is "to inform, carefully organize, regularly scheduled opportunities for each and every male student of varsity caliber to participate voluntarily and wholeheartedly in a wide variety of individual and team sports."
ASSISTING BUCHANAN will be a newly formed Intramural Council which is organizing and promoting eligibility rules and the possibility of protesting. The students of Tech are blessed to have such a coordinated intramural program.

The intramural program on this campus, under the able direction of Edsel Buchanan, is growing larger every year.

Last year the total number of different men participating in the 13 intramural activities was 1,204. The total number participating was 942. Compare these figures to the 6,400 men enrolled and you come up with a ratio of 30.34 per cent.

The most, 495, participated in basketball with softball (473) and touchfootball (436) close behind. The smallest number of participants, six, were in handball.

OTHER SPORTS OFFERED include the number entered include track and field (166), volleyball (126), bowling (98), swimming (54), fencing (49), golf (20), tennis (8).

There are two types of intramural competition. The first one is a divisional competition where the team sports of touchfootball, basketball and softball are conducted in two separate divisions—Fraternity and Non-Fraternity or independent.

The winners of these divisions meet at the end of the schedule in a tournament to determine an All-College Champion.

THE NON-FRATERNITY division may include dormitory, independent or departmental teams.

The other type is the open tournament participation. Individual and team sports indicated as open competition will be open to all men interested regardless of unit affiliations providing they are otherwise eligible. Those entitled to points may have their intramural unit credited with those points providing they have indicated their affiliation on the entry blank.

According to Buchanan the purpose of the program is "to afford informal, carefully organized and regularly scheduled opportunities for each and every male student not of varsity calibre to participate voluntarily and wholesomely on a cooperative - competitive basis in a wide variety of individual and team sports."

ASSISTING BUCHANAN this year will be a newly formed Intramural Council which will aid in organizing and promoting, determining eligibility rules and disposing of protests.

The students of Tech are blessed to have such a well coordinated intramural set-up.

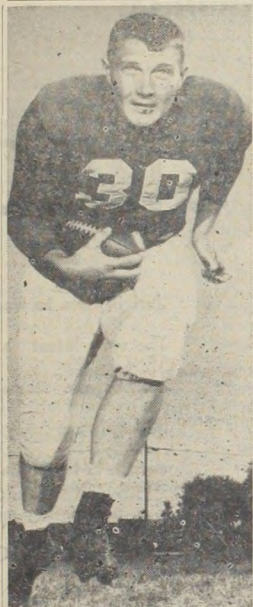

Here's wishing the intramural program and directors the most successful year yet!

THE MILWAUKEE BRAVES (God bless 'em) finally made it Monday night and now are making plans to tackle the Yankees in the World Series starting Oct. 2.

This should be a most interesting series pitting the old Yankee know-how against the superb and sometimes formidable hitting of the Braves.

The Yanks usually have it in these clutch games while the Braves have few ballplayers seasoned to World Series competition.

At any rate, the Braves fans are "world champions." They went over the two million mark in attendance for the fifth straight year in Milwaukee. They deserved the pennant last year but waited patiently for another year. This is their year.

Gene Bently will again be the starting fullback when Texas Tech meets Texas A&M here Saturday night. The 230-pound junior had a 4.1 rushing average last season.

'Sugar' Undecided On Fight Plans

NEW YORK, Sept. 25 (AP)—Sugar Ray Robinson, ex-middleweight champion for the fourth time, said today he hasn't made up his mind yet whether he wants to try and win the 160-pound crown for a record fifth time.

He said in a telephone interview that if he did decide to fight Carmen Basilio, his Monday night conqueror, he would like it to be held sometime in February. Robinson has a contract calling for a return bout within 90 days.

THE BACKFIELD problem is small as letterman Richard Gay moves into Pardee's old fullback slot, the only position left open by graduation. Gay is being pressed by sophomore Gordon LeBoeuf.

The depth at halfbacks is also good with seniors Carlos Esquivel and Bobby Conrad ready for duty.

In addition to great depth in the backfield several players, such as Osborne, Milstead, Wright, Taylor and Conrad, can shift between halfback and quarterback if necessary.

The Aggies are again a fast, hard-hitting, high-spirited club that is, as the ratings show, in a class with Oklahoma, Michigan State, etc.

Go Early

Standing room tickets will be sold Saturday night for the A & M game. Students are urged to go early so officials will know how many tickets will be available to the crowd.

These tickets will not be sold until 8 p.m. so that Tech students may find a place to sit.

Price of the tickets are $2.

Bosox Nip Nats

WASHINGTON, Sept. 25 (AP) Frank Malzone hit his second homer of the game to open the eleventh inning and give Boston a 7-6 victory over Washington today. Ike Delock, third Red Sox pitcher, then nipped a closing Senator threat to preserve his ninth win.

Braves Split Series Money 40 Ways

MILWAUKEE, Sept. 25 (AP) —The Milwaukee Braves voted to split their World Series spoils into 33 full shares at a meeting before today's game with the St. Louis Cardinals.

The 19 players on the Milwaukee roster from start to finish, who did the voting, agreed to include the bat boys and clubhouse attendants in the series money.

In all, 40 players will share, ranging from a quarter to a full share.

"We didn't overlook anybody, even the bonus players who didn't join us til midseason," a veteran player said. "All were remembered. Some of them were voted a lot more money than they dreamed they'd get."

The Braves learned today that outfielder Billy Bruton would not be able to play the remainder of the season, including the World Series.

Dr. Bruce Brewer, an orthopedic surgeon, said that on his recommendation, Bruton's injured right knee would be examined at Oklahoma City Oct. 1 by Dr. Donald O'Donahue.

Dellinger Had Big Job

Quarterback Floyd Dellinger performed a man-sized task Saturday night against West Texas, playing 53 minutes. Dellinger had just returned to workouts in the middle of the week after his mother died the Sunday preceding the game. He showed promising ability in running the team.

Cards Bop Braves To Snap Streak

MILWAUKEE, Sept. 25 (AP) —The St. Louis Cardinals staged a four-run rally in the eighth inning today for a 4-1 victory that snapped the Milwaukee Braves' eight-game winning streak.

The Cards' triumph, behind the seven-hit pitching of Lindy McDaniel, and Lloyd Merritt, in the final game of the three-game series that saw the Braves clinch the 1957 National League pennant. A ladies' day crowd of 25,328 saw the game.

Righthander Bob Buhl, trying for his 19th victory against the losses, was the victim, yielding eight hits.
