

27 Per Cent Of Techsans Fail Courses; Restrictive Measures Planned by Deans

Engineering Flunks Lead Divisions; BA Has Lowest Failure Average

Over 27 percent of the 5969 undergraduate students enrolled in Tech during the fall semester had made failing grades in one or more subjects when the final scores were all in and the failure tally sheet was compiled at the end of the term.

The division of engineering led all others with 33.4 percent of the students making failures. Of the 1,822 students enrolled in the division, 609 made 1,089 failures.

Arts and sciences came next on the list with 973 F's made by 602 students. Of 2107 students enrolled in the division, 28.6 per cent failed.

Home economics and agriculture students followed, with 25.7 percent and 23.8 per cent respectively. Business administration had the least failures in any division, with 120 persons out of a total of 843 "flunking" 171 courses.

Realizing the large number of failures, the Council of Deans this week sent a memo to the heads of the various departments expressing dissatisfaction with the Fall semester scholastic record, and stating that the number of F's must be reduced. The Toreador's figures, compiled from tally sheets, identical with those sent to the school's department heads by the registrar, indicate that 1,634 students made 2,652 F's during the past semester. No attempt was made to estimate the number of D's, incompletes and withdrawals, and none of these figures are included in those listed above.

In line with the newly expressed policy to reduce the number of F's during the coming semester, the Council of Deans has approved a plan for dormitory women "which" is intended to bring about more study by those whose grades are low.

The bulletin, which was issued through the office of Dr. E. N. Jones, college vice president and chairman of the Council of Deans, carried the following regulations:

"1. Any girl, either freshman or upperclassman who has a grade point average of less than one (a 'C') shall be placed on restrictive privileges — 8:30 p. m. Monday through Thursday.

"2. Any girl who has a 'C' or one point average or better shall receive 10 o'clock privileges beginning with first term freshmen at mid-semester.

"3. Senior privileges (11 p. m.) shall be granted only to those senior girls making a one grade point average or better.

"4. Any girl, either freshman or upperclassman, on scholarship placed on restricted privileges (8:30 p. m.), including Friday night."

No direct restrictive program is to be applied to failing men students, James G. Allen, dean of men, indicated Thursday. The dormitory supervisors and wing counselors will be notified of their failing students, and periodical checks will be made on the progress of such men, he said.

According to the bulletin, the grade average of the students will be calculated each nine weeks. For the first half of each semester the grades of the immediately preceding term will be used. For the second half, the mid-semester grades will be averaged. Changes in privilege status will be released at the beginning of the third and 11th week of each semester.

It was indicated that the above plan would be on a trial basis during the present semester.

This Week Marks Tech Anniversary

Texas Technological College at Lubbock was created Feb. 10, 1923 when a bill providing for it was approved by the State Legislature.

The measure sanctioned the purchase of 2,000 acres as a college site, appropriating $150,000 for that purpose. The chairman of the state board of control, the state superintendent of public instruction, the president of the University of Texas, the president of Texas A&M and the president of the College of Industrial Arts were designated to form a committee to select the site for the new school.

The Legislature appropriated $500,000 to be used on construction of buildings during the fiscal year ending Aug. 31, 1924, and set aside $350,000 to be expended in the following year for equipment.

Library Initiates New Fine System

Mrs. L. G. Bonner, circulation librarian has announced that fines are to be charged against the students' breakage deposit this semester. Fines exceeding five dollars are to be billed against the student through the business office.

This is the system of use prior to last semester when students paid their fines in the business office. This system is being abandoned because it required too much work and because many students did not pay their fines.

In making this announcement Mrs. Bonner requested the cooperation of students in getting call numbers down correctly, writing their names legibly and returning two-week books to the circulation desk and reserve books to the reserve desk.

One service offered by the library that remains unknown to many students is the reader's adviser, Mrs. Bonner said. Mrs. Pauline Brittain is available to help students at any time of the morning and every afternoon except Monday. Her desk is on the left side of the reserve room as one enters the door.

Spring Enrollment Shows Decrease

Enrollment for the spring semester totals 5,642, an increase of 70 students over the enrollment of the 1948 spring semester, Miss Evelyn Clewell, assistant registrar, said Wednesday at the close of registration.

This semester's enrollment shows a drop of 503 students from last semester. Arts and Sciences leads the other divisions with 1,959 registered. Engineering division is in second place with 1,613, followed by Business Administration with 851, Agriculture with 734, and Home Economics with 335. Graduate students total 150.

The registrar's figures show 4,343 men are enrolled and 1,299 women, a ratio of more than 3 to 1.

Election Date Set For Feb. 21 To Fill Council Vacancies

The Student Council has set Feb. 21 as the date for a special election to fill three vacancies which exist on the Student Council, Clint Formby, president, has announced. These positions were left vacant by students graduating at mid-year.

Tech To Affiliate With New National Rodeo Association

Tech Rodeo association is to become a member of the National Intercollegiate Rodeo association, A. J. Bishop, reporter for the college group, said Friday.

Organized in January, the national association is being formed by college in Texas, Oklahoma, New Mexico, Arizona, Colorado and Wyoming, but all colleges in the United States may join, he said.

Officers will be named and a constitution formulated for the national organization at a meeting to be held in May in a city as yet undetermined, said Bishop. Tech delegates to the meeting are to be chosen later.

H. G. Bedford, president of Tech chapter of the Intercollegiate association, represented the college at the January meet held in Dallas.

Temporary chairman of the national association is Horace Rankin, senior agriculture student at Texas A&M.

Tech Board Of Directors In 2nd Day Session Today

Tech's Board of Directors will continue its discussion of a lengthy agenda when it meets for a second-day session at 9:30 a. m. today in Ad-217, the office of Pres. D. M. Wiggins.

Topics being considered by the directors include the proposed medical college branch of Tech, campus improvement and beautification plans, present and long-range building programs and approval of the summer school budget and 15 additions to the faculty.

Representatives will be elected from the divisions of Arts and Sciences, Business Administration and Engineering.

Formby stated that any person wishing to run for the office must meet the qualifications as outlined in Sections 301 and 302 of the Constitution of the Student Association.

Qualifications are that the student must be enrolled in at least 12 hours of residence credit and that he be registered in the division from which he is elected. Also the person seeking office must be nominated by a petition signed by at least 100 members of the student body. In addition, the student must have an overall C average and the same average for the last semester.

The petitions may be picked up in the Student Council office, Ad 323, Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday, Formby said. Deadline for the return of the petitions is 5 p. m., Thursday.

Student Council will have its next meeting Monday at 7:30 p. m. Ad-210.

Department Announces New Plan For ME and PE Degree

A new degree plan has been worked out whereby a person majoring in petroleum engineering may take a BS degree in mechanical engineering, W. L. Ducker, head of the petroleum engineering department, announced yesterday.

In this program a person that has finished his petroleum engineering degree with the production option or the natural gas option could make minor changes in his degree plan and receive a fifth year BS degree in mechanical engineering.

The innovation evolved from conferences with men in the industry. In their opinion the ideal man for the advancement of the petroleum industry was a combination of petroleum engineer and mechanical engineer, Ducker reported. In order to turn out better qualified students for this field, H. F. Goddard, head of the mechanical engineering department and Ducker developed the new program.

"This is one of the most forward steps that the petroleum engineering department has made since I have been here," Ducker said.

Petroleum engineering graduates who wish to come back and take the additional ME degree will be able to complete all the work necessary in one year, Ducker stated.

The new program was approved by the council of deans Tuesday afternoon in a meeting and an announcement is being prepared for the twenty-fourth catalog, Dr. E. N. Jones, vice president, said.

Wiggins Explains Appropriations At First Spring Faculty Meet

Formula on which Texas Tech has based its request for a $4,676,702.38 appropriation for the next biennium was explained by Dr. D. M. Wiggins, president, at the first general faculty meeting of the spring semester Wednesday afternoon.

Doctor Wiggins' statement, designed to clarify and correct misinterpretations regarding the request, disclosed that all state-supported schools are using the same formula in their petitions for funds. All appropriation requests from such schools are being submitted on one bill, he said.

Tech's request has its basis on the number of full-time students attending this college during the 1948 fall semester and the 1948 summer session, he declared. Total amount of money asked for has been upped 17 per cent over the request for the last biennium in order to meet the same percentage increase in the cost of living, said Doctor Wiggins.

IRC To Elect Officers

The International Relations club will meet at 7:30 p.m. Monday, Ad 302 to elect a new president to replace the vacancy left by Cecil Roberts, who was graduated in February, and to replace the office of Max Osborn, retiring vice president.

Plans for the West Texas-New Mexico Regional Conference of the club also will be made at the meeting, said S. M. Kennedy, instructor in the government department and sponsor of the club. Roberts is resuming his regular duties as major in the army and ultimately will be sent to Greece as assistant military attache.

The International Relations club conference will be held March 25-26 at Sul Ross State college in Alpine, Texas. Kennedy expresses hope that many club members will be able to attend this conference.

OWNED AND OPERATED BY EX-G.L.S.

As applied to enrollment during the 1948 fall semester, the formula asks for $278 for each of the 3,619.49 freshman and sophomore students, making a total of $1,006,218.22. A request for $358 for each of the 2,319.09 junior, senior and graduates adds up to $830,234.22. For each of the 1,939.71 technical students, an additional $40 is asked, making a total of $77,588.40. A grand total of $1,914,040.84 is thus requested for the 7,878.29 students.

Applied to the 1948 summer enrollment, the formula asks for $224,810.84 in this manner: $278 for each of 402.25 freshmen and sopho-

Walker To Install New MPE Chapter

Mrs. Margaret W. Walker, dean of women, is leaving Saturday for the University of Denver where she will install a chapter of Mu Phi Epsilon, national honorary music sorority. Mrs. Walker is national president of the sorority.

While in Denver, the dean of women will confer with the national president of Alpha Lambda Delta, honorary scholastic sorority for women, and the national vice president of Phi Gamma Nu, honorary society for women business administration majors. Mrs. Walker will return Sunday.

Women Graduates To Hear Mrs. Wellborn Read Play

Mrs. Grace Wellborn, instructor in the English department, will give the program for the dinner meeting of the Tech Council for Women Graduates to be at 8 p. m., Feb. 17, at the Hilton hotel.

For the reading hour, Mrs. Wellborn has chosen James Barrie's play, "What Every Woman Knows."

Mrs. Wellborn came to Tech from Howard Payne college where she was head of the speech department. She has an MA degree in English from Simmons university and did graduate work in speech at Baylor university.

Junior Council Members Visit New Women Students

The junior council, service organization of 20 girls, is making individual visits to entering freshman and transfer girls this week to acquaint them with Tech.

Because of the small number of girls the personal visits replaced the usual spring convocation, stated Elizabeth Craig, junior council president.

HEALTH MEETING

The first of the five spring meetings of the Lubbock County Society for Mental Health met at 8 p.m., Feb. 10, in the Aggie auditorium.

There were short addresses by representatives of three welfare and social agencies of Lubbock. During the four remaining spring meetings of the society all the welfare agencies will be represented.

These meetings are open to administrative officers, faculty members and students.

omores, $111,825.50; $358 for each of 556.73 junior, senior and graduate students, $199,809.24; an additional $40 for each of 329.40 technical students, $13,176. Total for the summer session, when combined with the fall figure, makes a grand total of $2,238,351.68.

This latter sum is divided thus: for salaries, $1,838,351.68; for summer session, $100,000; for maintenance and equipment, $300,000. Added to this total are $50,000 for improvements and repairs and $50,000 for research, which adds up to $2,338,351.68, the amount which is requested for each year of the biennium.

Noting that "some 2,000" cars are on the college grounds daily, Doctor Wiggins said that handling of the traffic problem will require "100 per cent cooperation of the faculty." He commended the Lubbock Police department for its service done on the campus without charge and "with entire willingness to be a help with a problem that is getting increasingly difficult."

Doctor Wiggins introduced Dr. E. N. Jones, vice president, who stressed that "we want to individualize increasingly the handling of our students."

Doctor Jones asked the teachers to give extra time, without coddling, to those students in their classes who have been out on probation and who have been reinstated after proper application.

He emphasized the "absolute necessity of meeting deadlines" with grade reports, lists of failures and other such reports which have a campus-wide distribution.

Modern Medium Weight Duck Loom Is Installed In Textile Department

A new, medium weight duck loom has been installed and put into operation in the textile department, L. E. Parsons, head of the department, said Thursday. The loom is a modern, high speed machine made by the Draper corporation in Massachusetts. A new innovation of mounting is employed in that the construction is centered to the floor. This method allows the pad to absorb vibrations which are not transferred to the floor itself. Most of the other looms are bolted to the floor.

This machine has a more precise bearing surface and adjustment and is more sturdily built than the 1925 models, Parsons said. The Shawmut mill of the West Point Manufacturing company contributed a large warp to start the loom. The warp contains the equivalent in yarn of a bale of raw cotton—1,638 individual threads of 10's three-ply yarn with a total length of 938 yards. It is designed for weaving 18 ounce duck.

Glee Club Plans Spring Tours

Members of the Texas Tech Glee club are planning their first tour, Richard G. Richards, director, has announced.

The final itinerary has not been completed but it will be in a northerly direction, said Richards. Amarillo, Borger, Pampa, Canyon, and Plainview are being investigated as prospective stopping places, he said.

"We are prepared to present an hour and a half program consisting of religious numbers, negro spirituals, German and Yugoslavian folk songs, and school songs," he said. Mrs. Stewart Shafter, lyric soprano, and two quartets will be included on the program.

"New jackets, which are on order for the club, will make the glee club look as sharp as any choral group in the Southwest," said Richards, "and I am confident that we are capable of presenting a program which will be highly appreciated by our audiences."

The jackets will be maroon with black lapels. They are to be single breasted coats and are to be worn with black trousers.

Another tour is planned for late spring which will take in territory south of Lubbock. The glee club is also scheduled to sing in Seagraves early in March.

All of our out of town engagements, and also those here in town are intended to advertise Tech to the South Plains, said Richards.

Tech Glee club was organized in September, 1947 by Joe Haddon, of the music department, and James G. Allen, dean of men.

The group was originally intended to be part of the Recreation hall program of promoting new campus activities and organizations.

Dean of men, James G. Allen, stated today that "The Glee club offers pleasure in participation to its members and is a valuable contribution to the public relations of the college."

Failures Present Challenge

The number of failures in courses during the past semester indicates there should be a drastic change of attitude on the part of the students and perhaps some of the faculty members in the term ahead of us.

We are not saying that 2,625 course failures is unusual in a school with an enrollment of nearly 6,000 undergraduate students. We haven't the figures or statistics at hand to back up the statement. One Tech official, however, whose qualifications to give judgment we have no reason to doubt, intimated that failures might have been fewer at Tech this year than last. If this is true, the situation is even more serious.

Regardless of the grades of past semesters, the administration and the council of deans have become alarmed enough to prepare to take restrictive measures during the coming term. It is high time the students themselves showed a little alarm also, for in their anxiety to participate in the social whirl, they have refused self-imposed restrictions, now they find they are in danger of losing the privileges they have used so carelessly.

We are not opposed to restrictions placed on either men or women students for scholastic reasons. Many of the petty restraints we consider intolerable, but if students of college age cannot realize there is a place for work and study in the process of attaining a higher education, they deserve regulation. Neither do we believe in compromising the standards of the institution by pushing students over the top, diploma in hand, who have not done passable work in college.

Various theories as to the trouble with today's college student have been advanced. One of them is that the younger student is the victim of the inevitable war time schooling situation, in which teachers of inferior quality were employed in the high schools through the state and country. Another is that the radical trend in ideas and the rapidly changing everyday scene is responsible for the lack of adjustment and confusion exhibited by students both of high school and college age.

Whatever the difficulty, the time has arrived for constructive action. An attempt, on the part of the instructor, to understand his student is in order. Too much dissatisfaction, with various teachers, prevails on the campus for us to believe that 100 per cent of the responsibility rests with the student.

Each faculty member owes both himself and the school a complete inventory; a look within himself. After he has satisfied his conscious on this score, he should study his student. He must come to realize that all dozing students are not caused by riotous evenings and all-night poker sessions. Continued signs of boredom indicate, not always that the student is disinterested in the subject, but that his lectures leave something to be desired. More important than anything else, is that the teacher sell himself on the course he is presenting to the student.

Inevitably, some of us must fail. But is it necessary that nearly one out of three should "bite the dust", not to mention D's, incompletes and withdrawals, which together must far outnumber the failures?

We are not suggesting that social and extra-curricular activities be curtailed to great extent. Without work in the campus clubs and organizations and the experience garnered in lines of leadership and social contacts, a college education would not be worth the time or trouble it takes to get it.

We are suggesting, however, a careful conservation of time. Most students, in an average day, waste enough time to prepare their lessons for the next. Like an ostrich they hide their heads in the sand and constantly postpone each worry until the morning. Others of us may find the going a little rougher. As much as we hate to admit it, courses take us longer and we are constantly finding the student who sits on the right or left outstripping us in grades. This, of necessity, means longer hours and less activities. . . . on a voluntary basis, or eventually forced upon us by a greater power. As it stands, it is an individual problem that each of us must examine and solve for himself.

Let's be frank. The great number of failures during the past semester is a disgrace, both to us as individuals and as a student body. Any constructive efforts on the part of the administration will be met with enthusiasm and approval by this paper.

But the principal responsibility rests with each student. He must take the first step. The time to start is not tomorrow, but today.

NEW TEETH FOR THE TOREADOR

Letters To The Editor

7 February 1949

Dear Mr. Editor:

I've stood it just so long and I can't stand it much longer. For about the last three weeks or a month, coming onto the campus of Texas Tech, the college which has hopes of gaining entrance into the Southwest conference someday, a sight has greeted my eyes which I feel that YOU as a spokesman for the student population on this campus certainly should take a definite stand on. I am referring to the flying of the American flag. Have you bothered to notice, or for that matter has the administration of this school bothered to notice, the manner in which this school flies that symbol of our teaching, living and beliefs?

In practically every issue of your paper you mention good citizenship, good Americanism or good Technicism. I wonder if you know what you are talking about; why haven't you, through the Toreador, called this deplorable sight to the attention of either the administration or the military science department?

Are we so short-sighted that we have forgotten already the thousands of guys who gave their lives for that flag and the many things for which it stands? Are we forgetting the honor and glory that this country has built up under that flag? Apparently we here at Tech have. I doubt that any veteran on this campus who ever saw that flag flying over the graves of American soldiers, sailors and marines at foreign burial grounds appreciates the disgrace which greets his eye as he enters this college which is teaching Americanism and democracy.

It is my personal opinion that the military science department should have taken this in hand long ago. There have been few days when that flag has flown over this campus, and, speaking for myself, I'd rather not see it at all than to see it hanging like a wet dish-cloth from a pole. For many months last year Texas Tech had no flagpole at all, but now we have one and I'd like to suggest that the members of the administration go to the window and take a look at it; that goes for the members of the faculty and students also, because everyone is responsible for this disgrace on our campus.

What, may I ask, have you to say about this, Mr. Editor? It is through you that the students have something to say about the way this college is run. So put some teeth into the bite of the Toreador for a change and show what we like and dislike.

If Tech can't afford a new flag, I feel sure that the American Legion or the Veterans of Foreign Wars would be glad to take the matter in hand and see that we have one. Provided, of course, we display it as it should be.

Yours for a better Texas Tech,
C. E. W.

Potpourri

Dear Pot,

The three great menaces on the highways these days, according to state authorities, are drunken driving, uncontrolled thumbing and indiscriminate necking. To put it briefly . . . hic, hike, and hug.
R. L.

Dear Pot,

In the parlor there were three
She, the table lamp and he,
There's a crowd, there is no doubt,
So the little lamp went out.
A.B.

Dear Pot,

Why must guys always maul
Gals they take to a ball,
Or handle their frail quadrants
Like reading Balzac in Braille?
Mary

Dear Pot,

In controversial moments
My perception's rather fine—
I always see both points of view.
The one that's wrong
And the one that's mine.
A. F.

Dear Pot,

Little Audrey, mad as hell
Pushed her sister in the well,
Said her mother, drawing water,
"Gee, it's hard to raise a daughter."

It's all right to compliment your girl about her ankles . . . but don't compliment her too highly.

"How many kinds of wood are used in making a match?" "Two kinds," replied Zooph. "He would and she would."

Dear Pot,

A bather whose clothing was strewed
by winds that left her quite nude
Saw of a man come along—
And unless I am wrong—
You expected this line to be lewd.
L. J.

Little Willie, dressed in sashes,
Fell in the fire and was burned to ashes.
By and by the room grew chilly,
But no one wanted to poke poor little Willie.

Dear Pot,

Two girls by the river were kneeling
To disrobe for the swim they were stealing;
Said the owl in the tree:
"How'd you like to be me"
When the belles of the village are peeling?"
L. J.

We appreciate the contributions and hope that you will keep them coming. Love, Pot.

Confidentially, people, after just working ourselves into a lather about the number of failures on the campus last semester, we have suddenly come to realize that it is 1 a.m. and that the lessons for tomorrow have not yet been prepared. We'll write the column and get the lessons, however, if it is the last thing we ever accomplish.

Was talking to friend Joe Meador the other day about the coming selection of Tech board members by Governor Jester. Joe, who managed, while doing his undergraduate work here, to meet and know more Tech supporters, both on and off the campus than anyone we can think of off hand, tells us there is a great deal of sentiment in favor of appointment of Tech exes to the board of directors.

If we can judge by the example of the Tech Ex now on the board, we must say that we also are 100 per cent in favor of such action. We'd have to look a long time before finding a person who is as genuinely interested in the progress of the Tech or who has devoted as much of his time to the institution as Mr. O. B. Ratliff, Lubbock member of the board, has done.

Conversation of Two coeds overheard on a bus Wednesday afternoon:

"Say, what is this convocation thing that was in the paper this morning."

"Oh, it's some sort of deal that President Wiggins is speaking at. They're turning out 11 o'clock classes tomorrow."

"You going?"

"Uh uh. Glad they're having it at 11 though, so I can go home early for lunch."

"Yeah, me too."

Now, we ask you. Is that the proper attitude? Students who live in town have always given the perennial complaint that they never have a chance to participate in school activities because they are isolated from the student group. Yet when given the opportunity to take part in a meeting as important as the first spring convocation the student council has sponsored, getting home early for lunch is more important.

Rumors going the rounds on the campus about the Toreador going to a daily paper next year may have a great deal of basis in fact. We've been so close to the situation and heard the rumor so long that we take a dubious view of the situation. One thing we must admit, the Toreador has never been more prepared than now for just such an eventuality.

With the new Cox-o-type press and tele-type machines already on hand, little more than a revamping of reporting classes and a greatly enlarged budget would be necessary.

Lubbock Concert Reveals Artistry Of Miss Hammer

By JAMES F. SMITH
Toreador News Editor

With a program ranging in tone from the peacefulness of a Chopin prelude to the flash and fire of Lecuona's Spanish rhythms, the Lubbock Symphony orchestra presented Norma Jean Hammer, flutist, and William A. Murphy, pianist, as guest performers in its fourth concert of the season Tuesday night.

Before an estimated 1,100 persons, Miss Hammer, junior arts and sciences student, displayed admirable artistry as flute soloist in Georg Philipp Telemann's "Suite for Flute and Strings." Her encore, "La Paloma," was dedicated to her father in the audience.

In a series of five Chopin preludes which varied from the delicacy of the Prelude No. One in C Major to the dramatic boldness of the Prelude No. 18 in F Minor, Murphy revealed a versatility of technique which accentuated and gave an unfamiliar depth to the familiar melodies.

Together with the orchestra, he presented MacDowell's "Concerto No. Two in D Minor," displaying once again his ease and finesse at the keyboard.

Conducted by William A. Harrod, the orchestra opened the program with the Second Movement Andante from Haydn's "Surprise Symphony" and followed with the Overture to Wolf-Ferrari's opera "The Secret of Suzanne."

The concert assumed a distinctly modern American mood with the orchestra's playing of the On the Trail sketch from Ferde Grofe's "Grand Canyon Suite." Widely popularized as the theme song of a radio show sponsored by a cigarette manufacturing company, the sketch, by its joggling rhythm, portrays the mule ride which follows a narrow, winding trail down onto the floor of the vast canyon.

As a counterpoint to the placid preludes and the trails of the flute, the orchestra turned to the unrestrained wildness of Monty's "Czardas" and the colorful "Andalucia" of Lecuona. A second operatic selection was the spirited Bacchanale from Saint-Saens' "Samson and Delilah."

Harrod introduced Robert J. Pipkin, music instructor in Lubbock's junior high schools, as permanent concert master of the Symphony.

On March 15, Harrod will exchange his baton for a violin and appear as soloist with the orchestra. Prof. D. O. Wiley, leader of the Tech Matador band, will be guest conductor.

The season will close on April 20 when Pianist Amparo Turbi is presented as soloist.

William J. Murray, chairman of the Texas Railroad commission, will be guest speaker for the March 5 Engineering society banquet here.

Dr. R. E. Garlin and Dr. D. D. Jackson, of the Tech education department, are to attend the Texas State Teachers Association March 18-19.

Two Bearded Techs Arouse Curiosity, Rumors Of Students

By CHARLES H. SCHAEFER
Toreador Staff Writer

"Forever Dead Week" aptly describes two bearded students, William "Crash" Hovey and Leonard "Van" Vanderhoof, who have enrolled in Tech this semester as transfers from Texas A&I.

Crash and Van have been living their extended dead week since the first of last December when they ceased shaving to participate in the Charro Days festival which is an annual affair at Brownsville, Texas. At that time their "gang" made a wager that none of them would shave.

The penalty for the first person who shaves is that he must "set-em up" for the rest of the gang. As the group is quite large no one wishes to be the first to pay the penalty.

Crash said that no one has weakened and shaved yet, but the "clan" is worried about one member: he has an influential girl friend who doesn't approve of beards. Both Crash and Van are from Benton Harbor, Mich. Since completing their military service, however, they have spent most of their time in Texas. Now the two are almost completely westernized—from speech to Stetson hats. They made their last trip to Michigan about a year ago and were evidently in a hurry to see the home folks. They made the trip by auto in 36 hours.

When told some of the rumors that are circulating on the campus concerning them, they enjoyed it tremendously and even suggested starting one of their own. Some of the rumors now current are that they are members of the House of David, Mormon missionaries, and that they are prospectors strayed down from the hills. Their rumor suggestion was "oil-rich Mohammedans".

Van brought a Polynesian sail boat with him from A&I and is anxious to try it out on Buffalo Lake. It is parked in the Doak hall parking area. Van built the boat and modeled it after the boats the natives use in the South Pacific. He was stationed there during the war.

Co-eds Hate Conceit, Men's Bad Manners

MIAMI, Fla. —(ACP)—A list of what girls dislike most in men has been compiled from a wide assortment of University co-eds by Miami Hurricane feature writers.

Heading the list, and running neck and neck, are dirty fingernails and conceit. "God's gift to women," and who "constantly tries to prove he's a college yo-yo," are definitely taboo. Dirty and bitten-down fingernails are not only taboo—"They are strictly repulsive," according to the long-haired co-eds.

"Men who can't stop talking about how much money they spend, who can only talk about cars and how fast they can make them go, who boast, generally, about every phase of their lives, and who always try to be the life of the party," are heartily condemned.

Vulgar language, sloppy dressers, and men needing a shave, come high on the list of dislikes. Cigars, beards, suspenders, and mustaches are generally condemned. Bad manners, table and otherwise, are unappreciated by the girls. The "overbearing temperamental male is very hard to endure," said one of those interviewed.

Sarcastic men, loud men, lazy men, and those with shallow insensitive natures are among the banned. "I like a fellow who has ambition—who can talk about something besides the race track and cars," is the way one co-ed put it.

Male superiority complexes come at the head of the list. "The kind of boy who thinks he's superior in intellectual ability to the female—tells you what to wear, criticizes every little thing about you, insists on choosing the evening's entertainment."

Co-Ed Deficiencies Listed In Ohio Wesleyan Reply

DELAWARE, O. (ACP)—Men at Ohio Wesleyan were quick to reply to the Florida poll with their tabulation of what's wrong with women.

The consensus was that painted fingernails in run-down condition compares quite favorably with the men's dirty fingernails condemned by the co-eds. One chap inferred that some women paint their nails to cover up the dirt.

One male complained about women being late for dates saying that many co-eds take the stand that if they are on time for a date, they are showing too much interest. Accordingly, they show up anywhere from 30 to 40 minutes late.

34 Varsity Letters Awarded Border Conference Champs

Varsity football letters for 1948 were awarded 34 men Thursday during the student convocation at Tech. Dr. J. William Davis, chairman of the Tech athletic council, made the presentations, praising each letterman for his contribution to Tech's season last fall, a season in which the Red Raiders won the Border conference crown for the seventh time.

Dr. Davis paid tribute to Coach Deil Morgan and his aides, pointing out that teams coached by Morgan have competed for four Border conference titles and have won three.

Awarded Double-T's for last season were:

Centers—Bud Henderson, Quannah; J. B. Mahler; Temple, Bobby Williams, Phillips.

Guards—Bobby Garner, Denison; Milburn Haydon, Weatherford; Dorrel McCurry, Lubbock; Dor Orr, Graham; Dan Pursel, Glade-water; and Bill Stallings, Tyler.

Tackles—John Andrews and Marshall Gettys, Amarillo; Bobby Ercyles and Douglas McSwane, Sar Angelo; and Don Williams, Phillips.

Ends—J. L. Gulley, Quannah; Elbert Johnson, Temple; Bill Kelley Idalou; Frank Ottmers, Fredericksburg; and Luke Thompson, Eldorado.

Backs—James Conley and Zac Henderson, Quannah; Ernest Hawkins, Lamessa; Tim Hatch, Wellington; Earl Jackson, Phillips; Oler Lewis, Quitaque; Bill Lyman Wesleyan Wildcats 0 4 4 Littlefield; Walter Maloney, Roscoe; Charles Reynolds and J. Henderson Scores Kayo Over Rivers

Featherweight Bill Henderson from Texas Tech and Lubbock scored another knockout victory Thursday night at El Paso over Dick Rivers of Juarez, Mex.

There was no doubt as to the winner this time, even though Henderson's victory last week had been questioned. He stalked Rivers from the first bell and soon caught him in a corner. There he set him up with a series of lefts and rights. He dazed Rivers with a hard right to the body; then smashed him to the mat with a left hook.

Rivers was still out when they carried him to his corner. Official timing of the knockout was two minutes and three seconds of the first round.

FOUR TEXAS TECH FENCERS ATTENDING BAYLOR MEET

Texas Tech's fencing team is in Waco today to participate in a tournament with Baylor university beginning at 2 p.m.

Out of 30 fencing students, four went to Waco. They are Richard Dickey, coach, Jack Carnell, Cooper Slay and H. J. Sandoval. Dickey and Carnell are 1948 lettermen.

Dickey summed up the team's hopes in the Baylor tourney. "We are looking for blood," he said.

RAIDERS PLAY TUESDAY

The Red Raider basketball squad will play New Mexico AAM in Tech gym Tuesday night.

The season record for the Raiders, up to the Arizona

University game of last night, was 13 wins and seven losses.

In conference cage games, they have won seven and lost four.

The Tech Intramural basketball tournament, after being delayed by the Golden Gloves and the Howdy dance, came back in full swing last Monday and Tuesday nights when Dorm and Independent League teams played a series of eight games.

On the basis of games played thus far, the Termites are leading the Dorm league and the Geologists are on top in the Independent league.

The west hall Eagles defeated the Doak Hall Green Hornets 32-25. Frank James made seven points for the Eagles, and Ken Deel countered with six points for the Hornets.

The Sneed hall Bobcats defeated the Sneed hall Scamps by a margin of 28-22. William Daugherty made the high 10 points for the Bobcats, and Jack Glover eased the Scamp's pain by making the high eight points.

Doak hall Hornets won their second contest, however, by defeating the West Hall Comets, 33-13. Walter Speer made the high eight points toward a Hornet victory and Palmer made seven points for the Comets.

Doak hall Mares took the Scamps 37-11 with Charles Bingham totaling 8 points for the Mares. Jack Glover and Weisy tied four points each as high - point men for the Scamps.

Roland Drake, assistant head of intramural athletics, was the official for Monday night's competition among members of the Dorm League.

The Petroleum engineers and Geologists edged the Wesleyan Wildcats 35-33 in the first contest Tuesday night among members of the Independent league. Ralph Geddie was high man with 11 points for the Geologists, and Pete Wheeler made 10 points for the Wildcats.

The Thomas T. Totlers defeated the Anonymous Quintuplet 23-17 with Simmons taking the honors for the T. Totlers with seven points. McCurdy made a high 10 points for the Quints.

The Pelicans defeated the Elks 26-23 with Phil Bennett as high man for the Pelicans with 9 points. Wilson and Williams tied 6 points each for the Elks.

Tuesday night's last game was a Dorm league battle in which the Termites defeated the Rebels 40-26. Joe Wheatley stacked a high 16 points for the Termites and Wilford Watson made six points for the Rebels.

Banquet Feb. 24 Will Honor Varsity, Frosh Grid Players

Football players, both varsity and frosh, who have battled loyally for Texas Tech on gridirons through the southwest during the past season and won the Border Conference championship again, are to be honored at a banquet Feb. 24 in the Hilton hotel.

An association of former Double-T men with L. J. Sollis of Lubbock as president are sponsoring the banquet, which is hoped will become a traditional honor to Red Raiders and the mighty Pledors. Sharing with Double-T execs as hosts will be a number of Lubbock businessmen who are staunch supporters of Texas Tech athletics.

Any and all winners of Double-T membership are expected to participate in the meeting. D. M. McElroy, secretary of the alumni and ex-students association and a former grid star for the Raiders, is to serve as master of ceremonies for the banquet program.

Guests will include the coaching staff, administrative representatives, board of directors, athletic council, men yell leaders, men of the student reception committee who welcomed visiting teams and their delegations.

Representing the athletic staff will be Dell Morgan, head coach; Maxey McKnight and G. B. Morris, assistant coaches; Morley Jennings, athletic director, and Clark Schooley, athletic publicity director.

From administration will be Pres. D. M. Wiggins, his assistant, Frank Junell, and Vice Pres. E. N. Jones. Members of the Athletic Council are Dr. J. W. Davis, chairman, Prof. H. E. Godeke and Dr. Fred Sparks, from the faculty; George Langford, representing ex-students, and George Wilmoth from the student body.

Yell leaders are Andrew Williamson, Oscar Allen and Bobby Lewis. Reception committee includes Jack Noyes, chairman, Richard Diekey, Verdo Mitchell, Paul Knight, Roy Miller, Harold Rumpy and Clint Formby.

Varsity lettermen are:

Women's P.E. Offers Modern Dance Course

Modern dance, Physical Education 2120, is being offered this semester for the first time at Tech, announced Mrs. Margaret Manor (Richards, assistant professor of women's physical education, Wednesday. Thirty-five students have enrolled for the course and ordered work costumes, called leotards. The course will consist of work in body conditioning, rhythmical studies and simple composition, Mrs. Richards explained.

Tech Fish Seek Revenge Tonight

Texas Tech freshman basketballers will seek revenge on the West Texas fish courtmen Saturday night when the Canyon lads invade Tech gym. The opening jump is scheduled for 8 p.m.

West Texas overwhelmed the junior Red Raider last weekend in Canyon, 61-30, and the local lads have been asking for another try ever since.

Expected to start for Tech are Irl Brown, Jack Alderson, Virgil Johnson, Ted O'Neil and Jimmy Eddins, all sizable lads. Johnson entered school this semester and is expected to add zip to the Raider freshmen. Against West Texas a week ago he was leading scorer. Alderson, also a Lubbock lad, will shift to guard, if the expected lineup opens the game. O'Neil will team with Alderson at guard, with Brown, a 6-6 New Yorker, at center, and Johnson and Eddins at forward.

Jim Sharp, Amarillo, who has been off his stride during the past couple of games, will be an early reserve, along with Don Bagwell, Claude; Glen Lucas, Whiteface; and Monte Roy, Hobbs, N. M.

The Tech freshmen defeated the Odessa Junior college, but lost to Wayland, Hardin-Simmons and West Texas. Five more games are on the schedule this month.

Faculty Members Entertain With Phi U Dinner

Faculty members of Phi Upsilon Omicron, national honorary home economics fraternity, entertained the Omega chapter at a Founder's Day dinner Thursday night.

Mrs. Jonnie Michie, head of foods and nutrition department, cut the birthday cake, which was flanked on each side by yellow roses. Dean Margaret W. Weeks, head of home management department, gave the history of the fraternity. Elizabeth Craig, junior, spoke on the present Phi U and Geraldine Clewell, counselor for district three, spoke on its future. The text of Miss Clewell's speech was "Will Other Birthdays Find Us Progressing?"

The alumnae who were special guests at the dinner are Miss Verna Crump, Miss Lou Jobson, Mrs. Chiois Crawford, Mrs. Mildred Tunnel, Mrs. Mary Ruth Keith, and Mrs. Modell May.

Futuristic Fantasy Featured In Speech Department Play

A play entitled RUE, which stands for "Rossum's Universal Robots," will be presented by the speech department Monday and Tuesday nights in the speech auditorium. John L. Upshaw, play director, announced Wednesday.

The cast includes: Joe Garrison as Dominic, D'Ruth Hopping as Helena, Gene Alford as Dr. Gall, Jacob Sitters as Dr. Hallemier, Don Sloan as Fabry, Gene Roy Powers as Alquist, Max Hardesty as Bushman, Ruby Joyce Redus as Nana, James Pinson as Rodius, Robert Bujac as Marius, Jeanette Lewis as Sula, Beverly Zeleny as Helena Robotos, Bob Carnahan as Primus, and Kenneth White, Oliver Strew, and James Carter as other robots.

The regular studio theater play will be presented in late spring at the Lubbock High school auditorium, Upshaw stated. Admission will be a student activity card. Studio theater work was organized for the purpose of producing plays on the campus using the talent of anyone interested in dramatics. Casting the speech department annual spring play, tentatively scheduled for March, will begin Feb. 22.

Lew Andreas, Syracuse's head basketball coach, is starting his twenty-fourth season as head of the Orange cagers.

Alpha Chi, national honorary scholastic society, initiated 168 members Wednesday afternoon in ceremonies held in Aggie auditorium. Members are elected from the upper 10 per cent of the junior and senior classes.

At the ceremony, Lamar Jackson, president, introduced these new officers: Betty Dennison, vice president and Camille Stevens, secretary.

Wiggins Tell Students Tech Has True Westerner Spirit

In his first address to the student body of Texas Tech. President D. M. Wiggins praised the college for what he calls its usefulness to the student and for its reflected attitude of the West—wholesomeness, affability and honesty.

The occasion for the address was the Student Council-sponsored spring convocation held at 11 a. m. Thursday in the gymnasium.

President Wiggins was introduced to the students by the president of the Student Council, Clint Formby. Before making the introduction, Formby announced that a special election will be held Feb. 21 to fill three vacancies which exist on the Student Council. Formby also announced that the Student Council will sponsor an out-of-town football game next fall and that within the next month the council will decide what game will be the official game.

President Wiggins pointed out that Tech is a young institution and for this reason is free to build its own traditions and background. He said that great institutions are not accidental but are made so by the thinking of the men and women who create them. It is for this reason, he said, that he is glad to have a hand in the shaping of Tech's future.

A youthful institution such as Tech is free from falseness and misconceptions, the president stated, and leaves one free to accept deep and abiding learning. "To teach—to learn how to live with each other in happiness" was the keynote of his "informal chat."

Doctor Wiggins told the students he hopes they have fun in attacking learning since the person who attains his goal is the person who derives pleasure from the attack.

The head of the athletic council, Dr. J. William Davis, was also introduced by Formby. Doctor Davis presented the Border Conference football championship trophy of 1948 to the school. The trophy was originally given to the school at El Paso. Doctor Davis lauded the football players for their excellent work last fall and for carrying the name of Tech to the rest of the state. The members of the athletic council were introduced by Doctor Davis.

Head football mentor, Dell Morgan, introduced by Doctor Davis, awarded letter certificates to the football players who lettered this year. (For the list of those who lettered, see the sports section—Ed.) The certificates were awarded on behalf of the Double T association and made those honored, members of the association.

Coach Morgan thanked the Saddle Tramp organization for its work in receiving football opponents here this year and expressed his appreciation to the yell leaders, the band and the student body, for making the past football season such an excellent one.

Mrs. Margarette Wible Walker, dean of women, was also presented to the student body.

The Matador band, under the direction of Dr. D. O. Wiley, provided music for the convocation.

Four Techsans To Enter ACC Debate Tournament

Four speech students left Thursday to participate in a debate tournament in Abilene which is sponsored each year by Abilene Christian college, announced Miss Annah Jo Pendleton, head of the speech department. The debaters making the trip were Wanda Smith, Anne Eskin, Mary Beth Logan and Jim Shoats. They constitute one girls' team and one mixed team entered in the junior division.

The subject of the debate is, "Resolved that the federal government should adopt a policy of equalizing educational opportunity in Tax supported schools by annual grants."

The group, accompanied by Wilson Ward, speech instructor and assistant debate coach, will return today.
