

2,434 CAST BALLOTS IN NIXON LANDSLIDE

By RALPH W. CARPENTER and PRESTON MAYNARD

Richard M. Nixon—the man from California—walked off with the majority vote of 2,434 Texas Tech students in a mock presidential election staged Wednesday by The Toreador and Alpha Phi Omega.

The vice president rang up a total of 1,498 votes to Senator John F. Kennedy's 930 total. There were six write-in votes.

All four voting precincts—the Tech Union, Ad, C&O and East Engineering Bldgs.—reported steady balloting throughout most of the 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. election period.

Precinct Three, the Ad Bldg., scored the most votes for Nixon, with 491 on the Republican ticket and 286 on the Democratic side of the ledger. There were also two write-in ballots—one for "Vera" and one for Nolan Spivey and V. A. Dodson. (The Toreador staff exhausted all efforts Wednesday night in an attempt to nail down the identity of this elusive pair. They also gave up on "Vera" as a lost cause.)

The largest number of ballots cast was in Precinct Four, the Tech Union, with 856 students casting votes. Of the total, 486 leaned to Nixon and 360 chose the senator from Massachusetts.

The Spivey-Dodson ticket racked up three more votes in the Precinct Four returns.

In the Precinct Two, C&O Bldg., Nixon received 303 votes and Kennedy a 161 total. Smallest turn-out came at East Engineering where 218 students cast choices for Nixon and 123 for Kennedy. The write-in bug hit again with one voter adding the names of Barry Goldwater and Allan Shivers to the election score.

Results of the balloting left Vice President Richard Nixon with approximately 61 per cent of the total votes and Senator Kennedy with about 38 per cent of the returns.

Alpha Phi Omega members completed counting of the ballots Wednesday night in the Hutchinson Conference Room of the Journalism Bldg., with one representative each from the Young Democrat and Young Republican groups as observers.

Leroy Tillery, president of Alpha Phi Omega, praised the student body Wednesday night with the statement:

"We want to commend the student body for their participation and we greatly appreciate the cooperation of the administration in allowing this type of election. Through the efforts of Phil Howard, elections committee chairman for Alpha Phi Omega, the election was a huge success. Alpha Phi Omega appreciated the opportunity to participate in the election."

Speaking for the Lubbock County Young Democrats, John H. Robinson, membership chairman for the group, said:

"We were encouraged by the large number of votes cast in this election for the Kennedy-Johnson ticket. We hope that those Democrats who review these results will realize that regardless of the national poll standings, the battle is not yet won. We do not, however, view these results as an indication of the voting preference of Lubbock County, the State of Texas or the nation."

John Stokes, president of Lubbock County Young Republicans, said concerning the election:

"We are encouraged by this show of confidence and support of Nixon and Lodge from the students and feel that it is a great indication that Texas will soon rise out of her political lethargy and become a two-party state. We feel that political awareness on the campus is at a healthy high point. The real battle is not yet won and we hope that these results will be echoed by the nation on Nov. 8th."

NO CHEATIN'!

I hereby certify that the results of the mock election held on Nov. 2, 1960, on the campus of Texas Technological College have been checked by me, using the random sample method and, to the best of my knowledge, the count is 1,498 for Nixon and 930 for Kennedy.

WUS Week

Drive Enters Final Days

By KATY HUNTER
Toreador Staff Writer

World University Service Week has but two and a half days to go and activity participation is booming.

The Panhellenic car wash closes today at 5 p.m. while the other activities will close Saturday noon. The charge for washing cars is 50 cents.

Of special interest today is the concert by the Tech Stage Band in the Tech Union snack bar area at 11 a.m. This will be the only performance of the group in conjunction with WUS.

The shoe shine stand in the Union, sponsored by the Inter-Fraternity Council, is in operation from 8 a.m. until noon every day. Shines are 15 cents for shoes and 20 cents for boots.

The first day's contributions to the mile of pennies, co-sponsored by the Women's Service Organization and Circle K, doubled last year's total intake.

The goal for the entire WUS campaign is $800, according to Wayne Underwood, chairman of the WUS drive. Last year, contributions amounted to $365.

Colleges and universities throughout the country are divided into sections. Tech is in the Southwestern section. SMU collected approximately $1200 last year and was the only school in this section to break the $1000 mark. TCU students contributed about $500.

The primary purpose of WUS is to provide material assistance to staff and students throughout the world. Its program is educational in nature, furnishing student lodging and living, student health, individual and emergency aid and refugee services.

Tech Honors Go To Dads Saturday

By CLAUDETTE McINNIS
Toreador Staff Writer

The man who pays the bills will be king at Tech Saturday as students celebrate Dads Day 1960.

A top inter-sectional football game, lunch with Tech President Dr. R. C. Goodwin and a visit with the kids are all on the agenda for more than 1,000 fathers and mothers, who are expected for the observance.

Tech's Red Raiders will meet the Green Wave of Tulane University at 2 p.m. in Jones Stadium. This will provide the chief entertainment of the day.

A special division in the student section will be available for dads and families. Tickets for this section are $4 each.

A traditional coffee hour from 9:30 a.m. to 11 a.m. in the Tech Union Ballroom is to be sponsored by the Association of Women Students. Registration will begin at 8 a.m.

President Goodwin will report on Tech affairs during the annual Dads Association luncheon and business meeting at 11:30 a.m. in the Tech Union Ballroom.

At half-time ceremonies of the game, dads will be honored with salutes from the band and student body as a whole. Dads Assn. officers for the 1960-61 academic year will be presented. Trophies will be awarded to the oldest and youngest dads present, the dad with the most children enrolled at Tech, and the dad coming the greatest distance for the day.

The same father cannot be selected for an award more than two years in succession. Last year the dad with the most children had four enrolled. This year planning committees know of two fathers, with three children at Tech, who are planning to attend the observance.

Sponsoring Dads Day are the Association of Women Students and Tech Dads Association. Alpha Phi Omega, men's campus service organization, will assist with the project.

Chairmen for the event are Dads Day Committee: Lucy Fox, Barbara Martin, registration; Ellen Warren, luncheon Phyllis Reed, coffee; Marjorie Sanders, publicity.

Balloting Continues On 'Beauty, Beast'

Who's the fairest of them all? Techsians have an opportunity now to select the fairest and best in the annual Beauty and Beast Contest.

Voting for the Beauty and Beast will continue through Friday in the Tech Union for a penny a vote. Voting for the Beauty are eight girls, while ten boys are candidates for the Beast title.

The winners will be announced at the half-time ceremonies of the Beauty and the Beast Dance in the Tech Union Friday at 8 p.m.

Entrants for the Beauty contest and their sponsoring organizations are Jane Crockett, sponsored by Sigma Chi; Mary Jo Garrett, Pi Kappa Alpha; Joy Keller, Delta Sigma Pi; Gail Pfluger, Bledsoe Hall; Sandra Broxton, Scabbard and Blade; Jane Seifert, Kapa Sigma; Linda Kester, Wells Hall and Peggy Maloy, Gordon Hall.

Beast nominees and their sponsoring organizations are Ray Thompson, Sigma Kappa; Frank Bray, Town Girls; E. J. Holub, Phi Mu; Bill Dean, Delta Gamma; Pete Dyson, Drane Hall; Jere Don Mohon, Knapp Hall; Wayne Underwood, Kappa Alpha Theta; Glen Amerson, Zeta Tau Alpha; Bake Turner, Horn Hall; and Carter Snodgrass, Casa Linda.

The Sultans of Swing will play for the dance and Pete Baker will emcee the half-time ceremonies. Proceeds from the contest will be used by Alpha Phi Omega in their annual service program to the campus.

Waring Plays Here Monday

Fred Waring's "Stereo Festival," an "all-new" show, returns to Lubbock Monday at 8 p.m. in the Lubbock Auditorium.

This new concept of staging will feature a stereo sound system.

Tickets in all price ranges are available. They will be on sale every day, except Sunday, in the lobby of the Auditorium from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. Tickets will be sold from 9 a.m. to showtime on Monday.

Prices are $4., $3.50, $3., $2.50 and $2. Special $1.50 tickets for students have been set aside.

PE Frat Initiates Thirteen Pledges

Phi Epsilon Kappa, national professional physical education fraternity, initiated 13 pledges in the Men's Gym Thursday.

New members are Jackie Wiles, Walter Bingham, Bobby Cline, Dick Stafford, Fred Weaver, Emmett Herrod, Joe Henderson, Joe Sparkman, Charles Robinson, Charles Bailey, James Leonard, Lynn Williams and Webb Corbin.

Dances Highlight Weekend

Dad's Day weekend has many parties, dances and other activities scheduled to bring excitement to the Tech campus.

Events scheduled for tonight include a Tau Beta Sigma rush party which will be held at 4903 W. 18th St. This honorary fraternity for girls in the band will begin their party at 7 p.m.

Also scheduled for tonight are two dances, a square dance at the Tech Union Rec Hall and a mixer at Thompson Hall for Drane Hall. Besides the pep rally which is set for 7:30 p.m., there will be a Friday night dance at the Tech Union beginning at 8:30 p.m.

Pi Beta Phi's will also hold their Ivy League Dance in the Rec Hall at 9 p.m. and will use symbols of the Democratic and Republican parties as decorations. A Kappa Sigma dance is scheduled at the Caprock Hotel Saturday night at 7:30 p.m.

It will be a beatnik New Year's Eve Party in November and will be attended by members, pledges, rushees and their dates. There will be both beatnik atmosphere and dress.

The Delta Gamma's will begin Saturday with an open house at their lodge at 9 a.m. Presentation of the Delta Gamma pledges will take place at the Caprock Hotel at 7 p.m. that night, with the Cavaliers furnishing the music for the dance which will follow.

Also on Saturday, the Alpha Chi Omega's will have pledging at the lodge at 6:30 p.m. and the Sigma Kappa's will have their Alumnae Dessert Party at their lodge at 6:30 p.m. The World University Service Week Dance is scheduled for that night.

Band Presents WUS Concert

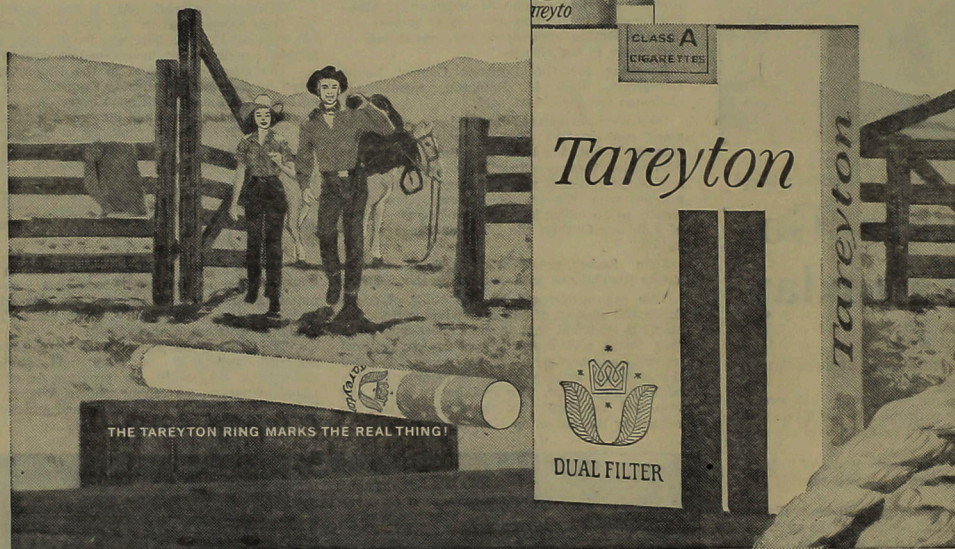

The Tech Stage Band will present a concert in the snack bar area of the Tech Union at 11 a.m. today in connection with World University Service Week.

The group, composed of six trumpets, six trombones, six saxophones, a piano, a string bass and two drums, will play special musical arrangements of the Stan Kenton style.

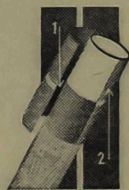

Dean Killion, director of Tech bands, said, "We have essentially the same brass backing that we had last year, but our reed and rhythm sections have been greatly reinforced."

One of the selections for the concert will be "Peanut Vendor," arranged by Ronald Lo Presti, Tech staff member last year. This rendition will feature an expanded, six-member rhythm section.

Contest Offers European Trip

Two American college students will visit Europe for two weeks beginning March 6, 1961 as people-to-people ambassadors for CARE.

The two students are selected through the Vick CARE Crusade, a contest conducted nationally by Vick Chemical Company and supported on 319 campuses by Alpha Phi Omega, men's service fraternity.

To compete for the trip, entrants must contribute a minimum of 50 cents to CARE and complete this sentence in 25 words or less, "Americans should CARE about their neighbors abroad because..."

Rudy Dominguez, APO Crusade Chairman at Texas Tech, said that entry blanks would be available in most campus buildings. Entries must be postmarked on or before midnight, November 26.

Two student winners from each state and the District of Columbia assemble in New York on March 5. The next day the two ambassadors will leave for Rome. From there they will fly to Athens, Istanbul and Paris before returning to New York on March 17.

Rodeo Club Meets For Awards Feed

Rodeo Team members for 1960-61 will receive jackets at the first annual Rodeo Club Awards Banquet, at 6 p.m. today in the Tech Union Ballroom.

Members of the Tech team are John Holt, Steve Cone, Clyde Fort, Ruth Ann Cone, Dale Burnett, and Tommy Riley.

DALLAS MAN MAY LOSE A CADILLAC

DALLAS (AP) — Perry Bradley didn't hitch his wagon to a star but he almost tied a Cadillac to a balloon.

Tuesday night he and his family attended a home movie given by Roy Lee, who had several gas-filled balloons left over from opening a new office. Lee had promised his children he would send them up in a gala ascension.

Twenty-five of the balloons were tied together and a small battery-powered light was hung from the cluster so that the light could be followed through the night.

At 10:15 p.m. the ascension was ready to take place but Lee decided, "We ought to send a message with our balloons."

"Here," volunteered Bradley, a Cadillac salesman, "I'll write it on my card."

"Good for one free Cadillac—maybe!"

The balloon cluster was turned loose and within a few minutes was out of sight and mind. Wednesday morning there was a call from Temple, La., for Bradley. "I found your card and I want my auto now," the caller said. It wasn't joking.

Bradley spent the next few minutes explaining that he didn't mean anything but a joke of the matter and besides, he'd said "maybe."

"I want that free Cadillac. I'm coming to get it," the caller replied.

Today, the Dallas man was still hoping the Louisiana man was working on his sense of humor.

Ralph's Ramblings

It has been sometime now since this column has graced these pages. But here I am, back again at the old typewriter pattering around with words in the English language, attempting to string them out in fairly decent sentences. We have been crowded out week after week by more important happenings.

For your information and digestion I will attempt to impart to you a few notes on the present national presidential squabble concerning Richard Milhous Nixon and John Fitzgerald Kennedy. It would appear that these two lads are going to make one hell of a race out of this thing. Neither man appears to be willing to compromise his principles or budge one inch on his stand.

This department hopes that both candidates will continue to settle their political differences by word of mouth. From where I sit, it would seem that each boy would enjoy going out behind the barn and turning this campaign into a bare-knuckle bar-room brawl that would make the battles between Joe Louis and Billy Conn look like a Sunday golf match. In fact, during one of their debates, I found myself checking their weight, height, and fist measurements. It would be only fitting that if a fifth debate does come about, it should be held in Madison Square Garden and sponsored by Gillette Blue Blades with Jimmy Powers as the moderator, Pat and Jackie handling the corner chores while seeing who can outdo the other in the latest Parisian fashions.

Speaking of Jackie and Pat, either one of these lovely ladies, would certainly do justice to the role of first lady of the land and the chief cook and bottler of the little white bungalow amongst the cherry blossoms. But, since the president only receives $125,000 a year and a $50,000 expense account, it would be only fitting for Congress to introduce another expense account which would take care of Milady's fashion competition. After all, we shouldn't have poorly dressed first ladies. It would appear that neither Nixon nor Kennedy has the funds to dress his wife in a manner to satisfy the fashion experts on certain newspapers.

Another small aspect of this campaign has been the fact that certain groups have not been satisfied by either of the candidates. They have taken it up themselves to show this displeasure in no uncertain terms. Of course, we refer to such minor incidents as the tossing of oranges, Grade A eggs, a little unconsumed 100-proof beverage and a small object placed playfully upon twin ribbons of steel that were to carry one of the candidates to a political rally. As a member of the Fourth Estate, we must frown upon acts of this nature even though we have heard all of our life that all is fair in love, war, and presidential campaigns.

One thing for sure, by the time one of these guys does reach the White House, he will have spent a lot of money, eaten a lot of free meals, traveled great distances and driven himself to the limit of human endurance. I wouldn't be a bit surprised if the winner, near nervous collapse, didn't take a long vacation to rest his weary body. Probably after the vacation he will take up either golf or the piano—like those before him. But if he thinks the campaign was hard—wait until he tries to carry out a few of his campaign promises. Both candidates have promised us the moon and stars, and neither has asked the Russians about it.

Since both candidates swear that they are leading in the race at the present and various polls show one or the other to be ahead, I hope that the loser does not take his defeat too seriously. Good men these days are hard to come by.

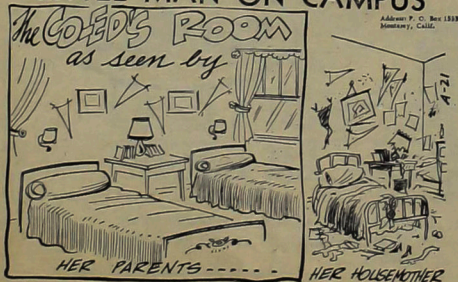

We hope that the winner will still have enough left in him to handle Russia, Red China, Cuba's Castro, agriculture problem, tax problem, labor problem, defense problem, foreign relations, civil rights, inflation, recession, birth control, national disasters, and all the other ills that the world expects the leader of the United States of America to shoulder and solve.

My gosh! If the president has all these problems, why in the world are they campaigning so hard for such a man-killing job. Frankly, I'd rather just sit behind this typewriter and write about his problems.

Seriously, I'm glad we have the men to accept such responsibility and I can assure you that I'll cast my vote at the polls Nov. 8.

THE TEXAS TECHNOLOGICAL COLLEGE

Next Saturday

Let's Consider Dear Old Dad

All of our short, young and blissfully happy lives, we — the students of Texas Technological College, have probably taken for granted a place to sleep, plenty of good food to eat, warm clothes to wear, and last but not least, a college education.

Now these things won't hold true for all of us, but for the ones of us that it does, we must think seriously for a moment about where these expensive items originated.

Of course, these good things of life come from dear old Dad, that hard-working, serious-minded and oft-harrassed head of the family who becomes all things to us at the times when he is most needed. He is to us an advisor when we are troubled, a place of refuge when we have bit off more than we can chew, Santa Claus when we want something and J. P. Morgan when we are broke.

And he gives us utter Hell when we do something wrong. We, the Students of Texas Tech, thank him for all of these things and deep down inside, even the latter.

This Saturday, as in years past, Techsians will show their appreciation by honoring Dad with a day set for him alone. Aside from visiting sons and daughters he will have the opportunity of attending various meetings where he can get together with other fathers to talk over Tech, politics, business and possibly even compare notes on just how much money John or Jane is spending monthly.

To top the day's activities Tech fathers will have a chance to see their sons do battle on the gridiron against a tough intersectional rival, Tulane.

But the success of this day will depend not upon the Dads (or their pocket-books for a change) but on the students of Texas Tech.

So, let's put forth every effort to show old J.P. that even though this is a one-day affair, we are thinking of him every day. It would be a poor campus indeed without students, but an even poorer one without Dads.

From Legislature

Higher Education Needs Help

Next spring the Texas Legislature squares off for another round of its biennial battle with the multiplicity of problems confronting Texas. And, in contemplation of the coming session (or sessions), one of the very few things one can be sure about is that right in the middle of the legislators' woes will be the problems of higher education.

The cries that Texas must go further faster in higher education have been growing in intensity each year for some time now. In the same respect, the demand for new tax sources lies like a black cloud over the Legislature this year.

Dr. M. T. Harrington, chancellor of the A & M System, said recently at Texas Tech that Texas colleges and universities can expect a 70 per cent growth in enrollment during the next 10 years, with the next Legislature facing the task of raising from $60 to $80 million more "than any Legislature in history, even to maintain the state's services at their present level of efficiency."

The Texas Commission on Higher Education has tentatively recommended that a minimum amount of $56 million be appropriated for the next biennium's first year—an increase of $12 million over this year's appropriation.

Another tug of war is probably in the making—with the colleges and universities hanging in the balance—between proponents of a state sales taxes, broad-based or otherwise, and those who are fighting against the use of such taxes.

With all the hue and cry of more taxes to finance more services and the resulting wails of anguish from various camps against state sales taxes, income taxes, taxes on industry, taxes on oil, etc., one wonders what is the solution.

It should be remembered, however, as the Legislative season approaches that the needs of Texas higher education should be foremost when the senators and representatives sit down next January to try to find the solutions to Texas financial woes.

Scanning The World — America And Russia Draw Fire On Africa, Asia

—With Associated Press

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — The United States and the Soviet Union were attacked today by opposing camps seeking expansion of the security and economic-social councils to give new African and Asian countries better representation.

The U.N. General Assembly's special Political Committee is studying the problem.

Nationalist China's Yu Chi Hsueh said the Soviet Union is the principal stumbling block to wishes of an overwhelming majority because of the Soviet warning it will veto council expansion unless Red China is seated. Cuba's Silvio Mato charged the U.S. opposition to seating Red China, backed up by what he called the docile voting machine, impedes progress on the problem.

Liberia's T. O. Dosomu-Johnson, echoing other African countries demands for immediate representation on the councils, complained that "Everybody tells us in the delegate's lounge, in the halls, in the dining rooms, that he is our friend and brother. Then he comes in here and votes against our plea for just representation."

Kennedy Hits New Bomber . . .

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. John F. Kennedy Wednesday called the Defense Department's release Monday of $155 million for development of the B70 supersonic bomber a "transparent political maneuver."

"The objective is not to increase national defenses," he said in a statement issued through the Democratic National Committee. "It is to increase Republican votes."

The Democratic presidential candidate said Congress, controlled by Democratic majorities, voted more money than that for the B70 a year and a half ago.

"That the Republican administration waits until a week before election to release the funds speaks for itself," he said.

Kennedy said that in 1959 the administration impounded $195 million of the $345 million voted by Congress for the B70. He added that until now the administration has elected to use only $110 million of the $365 million appropriated by Congress this year.

In all, Kennedy continued, the administration impounded $1.1 billion of defense funds in July and nearly $400 million remain impounded.

Ike Campaigns For Nixon . . .

NEW YORK (AP) — President Eisenhower brought his personal political magic into Richard M. Nixon's campaign here Wednesday.

He asked New York's voters to do even better for the vice president than they did for him in his two national triumphs. Eisenhower carried the state both in 1952 and 1956.

After a big reception at two suburban rallies and a noontime ticker tape parade up Manhattan, Eisenhower voiced high confidence that the Empire State would heed his appeal.

The President flew here from Washington to campaign with Nixon for the first time this fall in an effort to shake loose what some politicians in both parties believe is a Democratic grip on this state's vital 45 electoral votes.

The two men teamed with Henry Cabot Lodge, Nixon's running mate, and New York Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller to make it a Republican Big Four in an arduous day and night of campaigning.

High point of the day was the parade from the Wall Street area up to the heart of Manhattan in sparkling sunshine, a motorcade given an enthusiastic reception by hundreds of thousands who jammed the streets.

Army Develops Chemicals . . .

WASHINGTON (AP)—Army sources disclosed today their hopes to triple within five years their spending on development of bacteriological and chemical warfare agents.

The emphasis would be on non-killing chemical agents of the kind which leaves exposed persons helpless for a time without causing them permanent harm.

These would be useful both in limited wars and in local emergencies such as any possible overt action by Cuba against the U.S. naval base at Guantanamo.

Some of these incapacitating chemicals already have been developed. Army sources said that if Navy and Marine security forces at the Guantanamo base do not already have some of these on hand, they could be supplied quickly.

Journalists Ready Plans For Meet

More than 150 weekly and daily newsmen in the West Texas-eastern New Mexico area, have been invited to a Southwestern News Seminar slated Nov. 19 at Texas Tech.

Sponsored jointly by the Tech journalism department and West Texas Professional Chapter of Sigma Delta Chi, journalistic fraternity, the news seminar is the first of what is planned to be an annual event, said Prof. W. E. Garets, Tech journalism department head.

"Handling 'Delicate' Local Issues," will be the seminar topic which will begin with a talk by Sanky Trimble, assistant Southwestern Bureau Chief for the Associated Press, Dallas. The meeting will begin with a coffee hour at 10 a.m. followed by the program at 10:30.

Following a luncheon in the Tech Union newsmen have been invited to attend the Texas Tech-Arkansas football game a 2 p.m.

"Wives will be welcome to attend the morning session, the luncheon and game," said Jerry Hall, West Texas SDX president. "Arrangements will be made for a coffee hour and museum tour for those wives not wanting to attend the seminar program."

Area newsmen have been asked to notify the journalism department of their plans to attend by Nov. 14.

Union Features Joint Debate

Two Oxford debaters, Alan Jupp and Anthony Newton, will join with Tech students Don Zimmerman of Hereford and Jim Munro of Lubbock to debate the question of socialism at Texas Tech Monday at 4 p.m. in the Union Ballroom.

"That democratic socialism provides the best solution to the problems of the modern world" is the topic to be debated.

Munro and Newton will take the affirmative and Jupp and Zimmerman will take the opposing side.

The English debaters studied philosophy, politics and economics in Oxford; Jupp at Magdalen College and Newton at Trinity College.

Jupp served on the standing committee of the Oxford Union, was secretary and chairman of the Labor Party and was a member of the Labor Club executive committee.

Instructors Attend Dallas Conference

Dr. Mina Lamb, head of the Department of Food and Nutrition, and Mrs. Clara McPherson, instructor in the same department, will attend the Sixth Southern Regional Conference of College Food and Nutrition Teachers in Dallas, Nov. 7-9.

Dr. Lamb will discuss "Course Contest in Advanced Food Courses" and Mrs. McPherson will discuss "Protein".

Representatives from Louisiana, Arkansas, Oklahoma and Texas make up the conference.

For Most Handsome

Club Needs Men

Who will be Texas Tech's Most Handsome Man?

That question will be answered next week at Club Scarlet, mock night club sponsored by Theta Sigma Phi, national professional fraternity for women in journalism.

Deadline for Most Handsome Man entries has been extended to 5 p.m. Tuesday. A 5 x 7 glossy print of the candidate must accompany the entry blank.

Seven finalists will be chosen from the entries and popular vote at Club Scarlet, 8-11:30 p.m., Nov. 12, in the Rec Hall, will determine the winner. He will be awarded a trophy and will be featured in the La Ventana.

Skits will be presented by campus organizations at the mock night club. Deadline for skit entries is 5 p.m. Friday. Skits to be used will be announced in Saturday's Toreador. They will be judged on the basis of originality and showmanship.

All entry blanks should be submitted to Mrs. Louise Allen, Journalism 201.

Tickets will go on sale Wednesday through Friday, 10 a.m. to 3 p.m. in the Tech Union lobby. Ballots will be exchanged for tickets at the door. Tickets are $1 per person.

Concessions will be sold and music for dancing will be furnished by a juke box.

Last year's winner was Delbert Shirey, Midland senior. "Mothers' March for Morals" presented by Phi Mu sorority was winning skit.

Publicity Meet Features Discussion On Deadlines

Toreador deadlines were reviewed for representatives of campus organizations at Wednesday night's publicity workshop in the Journalism Bldg.

Policies of the newspaper were explained by Carolyn Jenkins, news editor. Ellen Venable, La Ventana co-editor, discussed the responsibilities of yearbook representatives in the various organizations.

All news matter should be submitted to the Toreador by 3 p.m. on the day preceding publication, Miss Jenkins said.

Publicity chairmen may bring information to the news room, Journalism 208, between 1 and 5 p.m. Monday, Wednesday or Friday.

Information may be sent through the campus mail addressed to the news editor or may be telephoned in by calling PO3-1773 or the campus switchboard on MWF afternoons.

All photographs must be arranged for three days in advance.

Responsibilities of La Ventana representatives are to submit copy and arrange for picture appointments but not to make page layouts.

The publicity clinic was sponsored by Theta Sigma Phi, national professional fraternity for women in journalism.

Union Readies Festival Plans

Plans for the annual Fine Arts Festival, scheduled Nov. 13-19, are being made by Tech Union.

The Union is sponsoring the week devoted to the arts with the cooperation of the music, speech, English, foreign language, applied arts and allied arts departments.

Events include concerts, an opera, a play, foreign movies, a jam session, book reviews and speeches, and art exhibits.

Art exhibits will be of Rembrandt's etchings, and abstract paintings in the lounge area, and modern architecture in the anniversary room.

Student and faculty exhibits from the art departments will be shown.

"Ondine" will be presented by the speech department Monday through Saturday of the art week.

One of the featured speakers will be Douglas Nichols. He will speak on "Poetry and What Makes a Poet."

Movie Provides Political Satire

"Animal Farm," a movie based on George Orwell's novel will be presented by the Presbyterian Student Assn. at 4 and 7 p.m. Sunday in the Aggie Engineering Auditorium.

The movie, a political satire, is a full length cartoon. It is open to the campus.

Opportunities for Growth

...IN A GROWING COMPANY

GEORGE HEDRICK, Texas Tech '48, is a distribution field engineer in Texas Electric Service Company's Fort Worth Division.

Capable young men and women have extra opportunity in a growing company serving a growing area. During the past twelve years, Texas Electric Service Company has increased its power generating capability to more than nine times that of 1947, has constructed more than 1100 miles of high voltage transmission lines and 2800 miles of distribution lines, along with related substation and other facilities, more than doubled the number of employees, and serves more than twice as many customers.

And the company is continuing to build its organization as it plans and constructs new electric transmission and distribution facilities to serve our rapidly developing area. New career opportunities are opening for qualified men and women.

Mr. George Hedrick and other representatives of Texas Electric Service Company will interview seniors.

4T DENTON

Pics Battle NTSC

Texas Tech Picadors move to Denton Friday afternoon for a football game with the North Texas State Eaglets. The Frosh eleven last Saturday afternoon defeated the Air Force Falcons 15-0.

"We were proud of last Saturday's game," said Beattie Feathers, freshman coach, "but we will have to play much better ball against North Texas."

THE EAGLETS boast a season record of 1-1-1, defeating the University of Tulsa freshmen 14-0, tying the Abilene Christian College B 14-14, and dropping their last decision to the Texas Christian frosh 8-14.

Tech's offensive game will be riding on the shoulders of quarterback Doug Cannon, all-star from Levelland. With him will be halfbacks Charles Lipsey of Cisco and David Rankin of Midland, and fullback H. L. Daniels, high school star from Marshall.

Daniels is leading the Texas Tech ground attack with 154 yards on 28 carries for a 5.5 average. In the air the pace-setter is Cannon who has completed exactly half his 20 throws for 176 yards.

ACCORDING TO Feathers, the Eaglets have two speedy backs who will give the Picador defense a bad time all through the afternoon. They are halfback Bobby Smith, the team's leading scorer, and James Littlepage, running the fullback slot. Expected to start in the Picador forward wall: ends David Parks of Abilene and Jimmy Burch of Levelland, tackles Dennis Watkins of McCamey and Jimmy Webster of Wichita Falls, guards Dave Brummell of Albuquerque and Albert Swening of Lubbock and center Ronnie Wassom.

Fry Sets New Record

One record fell in the intramural weightlifting contest Tuesday night, as Steve Fry stepped up to win the 148 3/4 lb. class over last year's champion and record holder Don Anderson.

Fry lifted a total of 545 lbs. to top Anderson's record of 500 lbs. set last year.

Other classes and winners are: 132 1/4 lbs.: 1. Bill Miller, 2. Maurice Williams. 165 lbs.: 1. Charles Bishop, 2. Tommy Porter. 181 lbs.: 1. Bill Blackburn, 2. Raymond Bookout.

There were no entries in the lightweight division, and only one in heavyweights, so those classes did not compete.

Phi's Snare 7th Victory In 'Murals

Phi Delta Theta clung to its league lead in intramural football Wednesday with a 12-0 victory over Sigma Alpha Epsilon in winning the seventh game without a defeat.

Second place Pi Kappa Alpha downed Delta Tau Delta 8-0 to post a record of six wins against one defeat. Kappa Sigma beat Sigma Chi 6-0, Sigma Nu blanked Phi Kappa Psi 9-0 and Phi Gamma Delta took an overtime contest from Alpha Tau Omega 1-0.

In the dormitory league Tuesday, Sneed Hall did not endanger its lead as it remained idle in this round, but second place Wells Hall blasted Carpenter Hall 14-0 to solidify its position with five wins and one loss. Wells has played one more game than Sneed, which has a perfect 5-0 record.

In other dorm league activity, Gaston captured a game from Eledsoe 6-0 and Thompson and Gordon fought into overtime, Thompson coming out on the long end of the 1-0 score.

Aaron Draws Heavy Penalty

NEW YORK (AP) — Commissioner Ford Frick Wednesday slapped a $1,000 fine on Henry Aaron, the slugging Milwaukee Braves' outfielder, for failing to live up to a commitment to play with an all-star team barnstorming through the South.

Frick also meted out $500 fines to Charley Neal and Maury Wills of the Los Angeles Dodgers for the same infraction. He ordered Lee Maye, a Milwaukee outfielder, to quit the Cangas team in the Puerto Rican League and join the barnstorming tour.

Injuries Cripple Raiders

An injury-riddled Red Raider squad went through its last day of rugged practice yesterday in preparation for the Tulane contest Saturday afternoon.

Among the injured is fullback Charles Harrison, defensive ace used mostly as a wild card this season. Harrison is definitely out of the Tulane game with an ankle injury, and may miss the rest of the season.

ANOTHER FULLBACK, Larry Jones, is also nursing an ankle injury, but will probably see some action against the Green Wave. Dick Polson, one of Tech's leading ground-gainers at halfback, will also play, but with a stiff neck.

Johnny Lovelace, sophomore quarterback who has run the Raider attack for the greater part of the last two games, worked out yesterday for the first time this week. Lovelace has been suffering from tonsillitis.

THE ONLY bright spots were the return of quarterback Glen Amerson and guard Charles Edgemon. Although both have seen limited service, neither has been in top form for the past two weeks.

After outlining the injured list, head trainer Don Sparks added hope that some of the wounds would come along and be ready to go by Saturday.

"BUT IF we had to play today," said Sparks, "we'd play without a lot of them. We're in worse shape than we've been all year."

DeWitt Weaver, Raider head coach, said the number of injuries was partly due to Tech's lack of depth.

"When boys have to play as long as ours do," said Weaver, "they're bound to get bruised up some."

WEAVER ALSO indicated the Raider team could use a breather.

"We need a real easy game this week, or an open date," said Weaver.

When asked if he felt it unfortunate that Tech's open date came at the end of the season this year, Weaver answered that it carried mixed blessings.

"ONE GOOD THING about it," he said, "it gives our coaches a week or two head start on other Conference coaches in recruiting.

"We'll get a little jump on them there."

And recruiting, according to Coach Weaver, is one of the major aspects of Tech's program right now.

"WE'VE GOT to have more boys," Weaver stated, back to the lack of depth. "We have maybe 50 boys on our squad where other teams have 70. Used to, we'd have 44 boys, two offensive teams and two defensive teams; under the two-platoon system, and that was okay. But now we just need more boys."

The Raiders will begin tapering off today in preparation for the invasion of the Green Wave Saturday afternoon.

Top Backs Meet Here This Week

A face-to-face meeting of the rushing leaders of two conferences will feature the Tulane-Texas Tech football game in Jones Stadium at 2 p.m. Saturday.

Green Wave halfback Tommy Mason of Lake Charles, La., leads Southeastern Conference runners with a total of 409 yards gained on 68 carries for a 6-yard average. The Raiders' fullback, Coolidge Hunt of Lubbock, paces the Southwest Conference with 381 yards netted on 91 tries for a 4.2 average.

Coach DeWitt Weaver's Raiders will be seeking revenge for two losses handed them in New Orleans by Tulane, 27-0 in 1958 and 17-7 last season.
