

Miss Young Wins Top Honor

Tech Union Gives Awards

Vangie Young, Lubbock senior, won the top individual service recognition award Tuesday as a host of Techsians were honored at the annual Union awards banquet in the ballroom.

THE W. B. RUSHING Award went to Miss Young for "consistent excellent effort during her entire length of service to the Union."

John Moeser, Lubbock sophomore, was named outstanding chairman of a committee. Outstanding assistant chairman was Margie Henry, senior from Falls Church, Va.

FOUR STUDENTS were awarded Life Passes as symbols of recognition for the most outstanding contributions to the Union. Receiving passes were Jack Shisler, Lubbock junior; Sara Tubbs, Lubbock senior; Cathy Gordon, El Paso junior; and Miss Young.

Seven students received trophies for outstanding service for the year. They were Moeser, Shisler, Miss Gordon, Miss Tubbs, Miss Young, Kay Cravens and Ginny Ridge.

KEY AWARDS for service were presented to Rozanne Cannon, Pat Murphy, Barbara Sue Owen, Patsy Wooddell, Nell Anne Walter, Loysanne Slaughter, Sandy Stokes, Darlene McDougall and Ginny Higgins.

Others receiving keys were Libby Malley, Sylvia Ramirez, Sandra Edwards and Cathie Thompson. Certificates of recognition went to an additional 49 Tech students who have worked with the Union this year.

GUEST SPEAKER for the banquet was Abe L. Hesser, director of the student union, university housing and food services at Oklahoma State University.

Hesser, elected vice president of the Assn. of College Unions in 1961, served as president of that group during 1962-63. His topic for the banquet was "What can the Union Do For You?"

AS RECIPIENT of the W. B. Rushing Award, Miss Young's name will be inscribed on a permanent plaque in the Union lobby.

Majoring in mathematics, Miss Young has served as secretary-treasurer of the program council, and special secretary for the Fine Arts Festival and Model U.N. She has held three executive positions and one chairmanship with the Union.

SHE HAS maintained a 3.8 over-all grade point average and has been president of her sorority, Kappa Kappa Gamma. She is a member of Alpha Lambda Delta, Junior Council, Mortar Board and Phi Kappa Phi.

Moeser, who was chairman of the International Interest Committee, was secretary-general of the Model U.N.

Winner of the Rushing Award is selected by the Union staff personnel. Life pass members are selected by a committee composed of the director of the Tech Union, Nelson Longley; program director, Mrs. Karen Moore; the vice president of the student body; a member of the program council, and a member of the Tech Union Board.

At Symposium Here

Music Creates Varied Moods

By ELAINE CRAWLEY
Toreador Staff Writer

An almost capacity crowd viewed Tech's 12 annual symposium of Contemporary Music Tuesday in the Coronado Room of the Union.

The Madrigal Singers dressed in banquet costumes were seated around a lace covered table adorned with candles. Under the direction of Gene Kenney, the singers elated the audience with such numbers as "Jenny Kissed Me" and "Come, My Corinna" and set a mood of sorrow with "Fond Lover."

Other numbers were "Gather Ye Rosebuds," "When In Silks My Julia Goes," and "Dirge."

Dancers Perform

Members of the group are Joy Martin, Lynda Sudduth, Beverly Suttle, Betty Lowder, Janyne Maddox, Sharon Vinyard, Dwayne Hood, Charles Helmer, Jim Sudduth and Paul Benningfield.

The audience was hushed as dancers dressed in black presented the number "Adagio For Strings," choreography by Suzanne Aker. In "Music for a Farce," the audience laughed at the funny antics of the dancers as they did take-offs on such subjects as the "Wild West" and the "Annual White Sale." The third number was "String Quartet, No. 1," choreography by Suzanne Aker.

The musical drama "A Mother's Requiem" portrayed life on a farm in a neutral zone during the Civil War. Anna, the blind mother was played by Janyne Maddox; Jeanette, the daughter by Kay Gilbert; Natha, the son by Tech faculty member, Charles Post; and Joseph the father, by Jeff Ingham.

Other Events

Earlier in the day a performance was given by the Tech Stage Band, featuring modern jazz stylings and popular ballads.

There was a panel discussion on "Avante-Garde Music" Tuesday by Tech faculty members — Paul Ellsworth, Benjamin Smith, Robert Humiston and Thomas Mastroianni.

Lovell Cross, senior music major, demonstrated avante-garde music with an original electronic composition based on a 10-tone octave.

Symposium events will continue with Tech Orchestra, Choir and Concert Band performances at 8:15 p.m. today in the Union Ballroom.

Additional symposium events will be staged through Sunday.

Synthetic Ropes Make Safe Water-Skiing

By DAVID BUTLER
Toreador Staff Writer

Today is truly the day of synthetic fibers. One can get clothes, upholstery, and dishes made from all sorts of synthetics.

Now one can even obtain synthetic ropes for his water ski line or for tying his boat to a dock. Not only can ropes be obtained for small boats, "You can get one strong enough to hold the 'Queen Mary' in dock," says L. E. Parsons, head of the Textile engineering department.

A rope made of golding polyethylene will support twice the load of a manila rope of the same size. Not only are these ropes stronger for their size, but they will also resist mildew longer, and they are not affected by salt water.

In addition to polyethylene ropes there are ropes made from nylon, dacron and polypropylene. All these ropes are much stronger than standard manila ropes.

Some of these synthetic ropes are being displayed in the Textile Engineering Bldg. One rope made from golding and nylon is 2 1/4 inches thick and has a tensile strength of 145,000 pounds.

These ropes are also much lighter in weight than the manila and are much more easily handled because they will not hurt the person's hands working with them.

Most of these synthetic ropes are highly resistant to chemicals, such as acids and alkalis. One of the ropes has a wide variation in working temperature; it can be used easily in temperatures as low as 750 degrees Fahrenheit and as high as 300 degrees Fahrenheit. Some are even stronger when they are wet, which can be a great advantage on the dock.

If one is getting his boat in shape for the summer ahead, it might be wise for him to investigate the possibilities of synthetic ropes for ski lines and for tying his boat to shore.

'HERE'S A STRONG ONE!'—says Philip Rhodes, senior textile engineering major. He is pointing out a rope made of goldline and polyethylene which has a tensile strength of 145,000 pounds. Other ropes in the case are made of different types of synthetics which have a very high tensile strength. There are also a few manila ropes in the case which can be compared with the new synthetic ropes. —Staff Photo

News Briefs

Rev. Ralph Macy recently spoke on "Prospects for Protestantism" at Tech Union's religious lecture series, "Future of Religion." Rev. Macy is Protestant representative to the lectures series.

In his speech he divided Protestantism into four classes: mis-nomered Protestantism, "Reformation Protestants," "free church" and "fragmented" Protestantism. He spoke of Protestantism as a "divided household" and quoted problems it must overcome to remain a major religion.

"Problems of Racial and Religious Discrimination in California" was the theme of the Western Regional Interfraternity Conference attended by Gary Lawrence Thursday through Saturday. Lawrence, representing Tech, was the only delegate from Texas at the conference in Anaheim, Calif.

Texas Tech, for the second consecutive year, has won the St. Regis Paper Company National Design Competition with an entry by Jerry D. Kelley, member of the art staff of KCBT Television Station.

Kelley's entry was in the form of a design for a printed bag to house chemical fertilizer for nursery and super market distribution.

The Kappa Alpha Theta sorority Region 12 convention was conducted Friday, Saturday and Sunday at the Pioneer Hotel. Two hundred and one delegates registered.

Mrs. Turner Kimmel acted as mistress of ceremonies and introduced Mrs. Edgar Stansfield of Denver who presented the keynote speech, "Friendship, The Foundation of Fraternity."

The Student Council requests that all students who represented Tech at high schools across the state during spring vacation turn in a report of observations as soon as possible.

SENATE APPROVES BILLS

AUSTIN (AP)—Two House-passed bills tightening eligibility for unemployment benefits were approved Tuesday by the Senate Insurance Committee.

The Texas Employment Commission would be authorized to disqualify persons who are also eligible to receive social security retirement benefits and persons who leave full-time jobs to attend school.

Army Gives Formal Ball

Tech's Army ROTC unit will crown the Queen of the Military Ball at its annual formal Saturday in the Tech Union Ballroom. Five finalists were chosen from the 20 battalion and company sweethearts. Finalists are Diane Baker, Dorothy Curry, Mary Olson, Ferrelene Peterson, and Sondra Stargel. Voting is being done this week by ballots passed out in the military science classes.

"Carousel" is the theme of the ball, and the Tech Stage Band will play. The ROTC Wives' Assn. will decorate for the affair.

The dance will begin at 8 p.m. ROTC cadets will be admitted free, and "outsiders" charged $1 per couple.

Garden Party Meeting Set

The Faculty Women's Club will meet Wednesday at a garden party at the home management house.

"A Parade of Fashions" will be presented by the clothing and textiles department.

Doris Nesbitt and Dr. Mina W. Lamb, home economics faculty members, will serve at the refreshment table.

The event is being hosted by home economics faculty members and home management house student residents.

Wade Explains Life On Antarctic Glacier

By PAULA GUTHRIE
Toreador Staff Writer

Dr. F. Alton Wade, Tech geoscience head, spoke to approximately 150 people Tuesday night in the Chemistry Bldg.

Dr. Wade and two other Tech geoscientists spent 10 weeks exploring geology along the Shackleton glacier, an unexplored area of the polar continent. The Shackleton glacier is considered one of the most dangerous.

The explorer - teacher narrated a film and explained life in one of the world's most cruel environments. The group flew into the Antarctic on October 14, 1962. They stayed on Ross Island for a few days and started their climb on the 23 of October. The closest they ever got to the pole was 275 miles.

A small machine called the Motor Toboggan took the place of the old dog teams. Two of the toboggans had to haul 5,000 pounds of gear. Dr. Wade said that the most useless article they took along was oatmeal. "None of us ate oatmeal. I'll never know the reason we had it along.

"We named one of the mountains Mt. Lubbock. Fortunately it didn't have a name," laughed Dr. Wade.

Pushing was a common procedure when it came to moving the toboggans. Dr. Wade said that the other two members of the party practically pushed the toboggans all the way up the glacier.

The only mail delivery the three-man team had in the 10 weeks they were exploring was on Thanksgiving Day. "Needless to say, it was very welcome," he said.

"You may think we were crazy, but the only enjoyment we had was eating ice cream. Can you imagine eating ice cream on a cake of ice?" Dr. Wade.

On Christmas Eve night Dr. Wade unveiled a small Christmas tree that he had kept hidden from the other two members of the party. The tree was bought in the middle of September.

In summing up his trip to the Antarctic Dr. Wade had only this to say, "It wasn't easy."

First Woman Seeks Entry To Aggieland

COLLEGE STATION (AP) — The first woman applied Tuesday for entry into the Texas A&M Graduate School, until Saturday, an all-male citadel.

Mrs. Lewis M. Haupt Jr., wife of an engineering professor on the campus, wants a graduate degree in education. Her husband graduated from the college in 1927.

Directors agreed Saturday that women would be admitted to the college on a limited basis starting June 1. A segment of the students, centered around the cadet corps, still was protesting Tuesday after a night meeting in which President Earl Rudder was booed and jeered because of the prospective coeds.

The Registrar's Office said Mrs. Haupt's application was being processed and she would be notified by mail.

Intramural Council Sets 'Night of Conquerors'

The Noche de Conquistadores will begin at 7 p.m. Thursday in the Municipal Coliseum. The Noche de Conquistadores interpreted Night of Conquerors or Night of Champions takes place each spring and is sponsored by the Intramural Council.

During the event the championship of volleyball, boxing, wrestling, weightlifting, badminton, table tennis, tug-o-war, and trampolining will be determined.

Also four special awards will be presented. The Outstanding Intramural Participant and the Outstanding Intramural Team will be recognized. Their awards will be presented by Marshall Pennington, vice president for business affairs.

Pennington will also present awards to the most winning team and the organization with the greatest percentage of participation.

Edsel Buchanan, intramural director, said, "Although our spectator attendance has been satisfactory for the past three years, I personally would like to urge that all students who have participated in the program and those who are familiar with the program to turn out and lend their support to their fellow students who will be competing."

Tech's Young Republican Club re-elected Glenn Looney to serve as club president again next year. A Lubbock sophomore government major, Looney was recently selected the outstanding college Young Republican of Texas.

Bill Dennis, Lubbock freshman, has been elected vice president of the club. Dennis is also a Student Council member and president of Interfraternity Pledge Council.

Completing the slate of officers are: Shirley Allen, Dallas freshman, corresponding secretary; Barbara Morgan, Wichita Falls freshman, recording secretary; and Don Schollenberger, Dallas sophomore, treasurer.

The club's executive board will include: Don Meador, Houston senior; Nancy Dyer, El Paso junior; Dub Johnson, Lubbock senior; and Sandra Wireman, Claude sophomore.

Tech's Presbyterian Student Assn. has elected Bob Covington, junior music education major from El Paso, to be next year's president. Other officers will be: Don Smith, Temple sophomore, vice president; Donita Parker, Fort Worth sophomore, secretary; and Martha Chapman, Brownfield junior, treasurer.

Tech Sends Six Students To Arnold Air Conclave

The conclave will last until Monday, in the Statler Hilton Hotel. It is financed by the Aerospace Education Foundation of the Air Force Association. The meeting will feature such speakers as the Honorable John Lang Jr., deputy secretary of the Air Force for Reserve and ROTC Affairs, Benjamin W. Fridge, special assistant to the secretary of the Air Force for Manpower, and General Bernard A. Schriever, commander, Air Force Systems Command.

A tour of Niagara Falls, a military ball, and an awards banquet are also planned.

A GENUINE FORMAL BUTTON-DOWN?

Oh yes, and genuine even without this [] label

MANY of you like our button-downs so much that you can hardly bear to wear anything else even on special evenings; now there is no reason why you should. And since we already make button-downs in 386 fabrics, patterns, and colors it would have been unthoughtful of us not to make it an even 387 with this button-cuff button-down of fine broadcloth.* You can find it at the best men's shops although not always under our label (many stores like our shirts so much they sell them under their own names). If you'd like to know which in your vicinity please write us: Eagle Shirtmakers, Quakertown, Pennsylvania.

*Notice it bulges gracefully at the collar just like the other 386. One time a man, new to our button-downs, wrote to say that the collar didn't lie flat. When we told Helen Mohr, in Collars, about it she said that she was relieved.

Faculty Golfers Begin Tourney Play Today

The Texas Tech faculty will begin play today in the Faculty Golf Tournament, with 35 entrants competing for prizes.

The tournament will be played at the convenience of the members in the ensuing weeks at courses of their choice.

This golf tourney is to be played on a handicap basis, with the higher handicap player getting a stroke a hole, starting with the hardest hole, No. 6, until the difference between handicaps is used up.

Letters and scheduled play have been mailed to all participants and Mr. Rae L. Harris, director of the tournament, has asked that all players contact their opponent and play as soon as possible.

First prize will be one dozen golf balls, courtesy of Jay McClure, Tech golf coach, with second prize being a cotton and daeron golf shirt.

Third place is a cotton golf shirt.

All entrants will receive free golf balls.

Mighty Casey's Big Moment Seen Again

By JIM WESTBROOK
Toreador Sports Staff

I was reading that fabled poem about "Casey At The Bat" the other day. As I read it, it became obvious to me some of the facts were absent from the context of the story.

There are a few facts sprinkled here and there, but the Mudville reporter showed several shortcomings. We know that Mudville did lose 4-2 and Casey struck out on three straight pitches in the bottom of the ninth, leaving runners stranded on second and third.

But there are too many facts left out of the account of the game that should be told. For instance, who was the fine pitcher that blazed the three fast balls past old Casey? If Mighty Casey was such a feared slugger did he bat cleanup? And if he did, why were Flynn and Jimmy Blake batting in the Nos. 2 and 3 spots, when it was made clear neither one of them could hit the broad side of a barn? Who was the manager of the Mudville nine? And wasn't Casey a big surly concealed lug, who would back hand a little kid for asking for his autograph? Yet at the same time should he be given more credit for saving the little umpire and averting a possible riot?

Did He Throw It?

Last but not least the big question that enters my mind is: did Mighty Casey or did Mighty Casey not throw the game?

In my opinion Casey rigged the game and sold out. A friend of mine a few years ago told me he had accidentally hooked in on a conversation between a fellow who identified himself as Casey and another fellow, whom he thought was an umpire.

My friend told me that he had made some notes on the telephone conversation and stashed them in his desk drawer and forgot about them. Then in 1924 he was moving to a new house and he then rediscovered his scratch pad.

Casey Sold Out

Said my friend, "It is my opinion that Mr. Casey sold out the Mudville team that day. Casey wasn't the sort of hitter that would miss three straight strikes with men on bases. Just go back and read the account of the game," he suggested. "It is full of countless flaws."

So, going on my friend's advice I went back and read the story of the game and this is what I came up with. You can draw your own conclusions.

It was the bottom of the ninth and Mudville trailed 4-2, there were two out. Flynn singled and Blake doubled to put runners at second and third. Mighty Casey was the next batter.

"And now the leather covered sphere came hurtling through the air, and Casey stood watching it in haughty grandeur there," so the story goes. To put it in more plain words he took the first pitch and mumbled something to make it look good to the people in the stands. The umpire, who was very likely the other man who had been talking long distance earlier in the week, said "Strike One."

Umpire Threatened

The account goes on to say, "Kill the umpire! Kill him," shouting someone in the stands; and they would have likely killed him had not Casey raised his hand." (Old Casey wasn't dumb, he wasn't going to let any harm come to his good old phone buddy.)

"He signaled to the pitcher, and once more the spheroid flew; but Casey still ignored it and the umpire said strike two."

Everyone remembers what happened next. Casey took a swipe at the third strike. His bat never came close to the ball. But, he knew that taking a called third strike would be to obvious to the people in the stands.

That's the story, you be the judge. Was it fixed, or wasn't it fixed?

McKay To Address Tech Booster Group

Southern California Coach John McKay, 1962 Coach of the Year, will be the speaker at the annual Red Raider Club banquet at 6:30 p.m. May 7, Verlon Bigham, club president, announced Saturday.

All of Texas Tech's sports teams will be honored at the banquet to be in Municipal Coliseum.

Other entertainment will be provided by the Court Jesters, under the direction of Dean Killion, and the Log-Rhythms. A chicken barbecue will be served by the Lubbock Lions Club.

McKay, leading scorer for the 1948 Oregon team that played Southern Methodist in the Cotton Bowl, last season piloted USC to an undefeated season, a Rose Bowl victory, and a national championship. For these accomplishments last fall American Football Coaches Association selected him for its highest honor.

Non-members, as well as members of the Red Raider Club, are invited to the banquet, Leete Jackson, executive vice president, stressed. Wives are especially welcome, he said. Tickets may be purchased for $2.50 each at the Red Raider Club office, Room 1122 Lubbock National Bank Building, or by addressing the office at Box 456, Lubbock.

Gridders Star In Meet

Four Tech football stars ran the century in under 10.0 to highlight the annual Tech intramural track meet, as Phi Delta Theta ran away with team honors.

Donny Anderson, David Parks, Roger Gill and Bill Weise all ran the 100 in above-par times.

Phi Delta Theta garnered 46½ points in coasting to victory, as Gill paced the Phi Deltas, tying with Anderson for the individual lead. Anderson and Gill both had 11½ points. David Parks, also of Phi Delta Theta, gathered 6½ points to place third.

Don's Independents, paced by Anderson, grabbed second place, far ahead of the Lubbock Track

Club, which was a distant third with 22½ points.

Phi Gamma Delta was fourth with 12½, followed closely by Phi Epsilon Kappa, which nabbed 12½ of the points.

SAE and Phi Kappa Psi were sixth and seventh, with 9½ and 9 points respectively.

Outstanding Performances Highlight Speech Dramas

In Keller Story Dark Versus Light

By NANCY MILLER
Toreador Amusements Editor

The world, to a child, is a jungle of sounds and colors that take form and shape as he grows older and begins to understand them. Using his eyes and ears, he absorbs impressions and puts them together in the pattern that eventually forms the fabric of his life.

But what if the child is blind and deaf? What if he has no means of gathering these impressions? The world, to this child, is a haze of grey, with no means of communication and no motivation, save the basic instincts.

Helen Keller was a child such as this. Blind and deaf from illness, she groped through childhood relying on touch, and temper tantrums, to live. Her parents, with a cruelty born of despair, talked of putting her in an asylum for the insane. She was alternately slapped and loved, and she responded by striking out and crying meaninglessly.

And then another person came into her life. Her parents, as a last resort, hired a teacher. That teacher was Anne Sullivan.

The story of Helen Keller's emergence from her dark world is told beautifully in "The Miracle Worker." Ann Bancroft, as Anne Sullivan, is iron-willed and determined and convinced that her pupil is more than an animal. And Patty Duke, as Helen Keller, is superb.

The movie is amazingly free of the usual Hollywood trappings, filmed in stark black and white, and containing not one unneeded line of gesture.

It is hard to say which scene is the best, since the Academy Award winning actresses Bancroft and Duke play all of them as though acting were a craft instead of a profession. One of the most memorable is the struggle in the lining room, when Anne Sullivan teaches Helen to fold her napkin.

The movie is undoubtedly one of the best to be released in the last few years. It is played with an intensity rare in today's productions. No part, no gesture, no line is neglected. From the first hysterical, "She's blind!" when Mrs. Keller looks closely at her child, to Anne Sullivan's triumphant "She knows!" when Helen spells out "water" over and over in a frenzy of discovery, the movie is a masterpiece. The viewer will leave feeling as though he too has emerged from a dark world to one of light.

Union Directs Interesting Poll

A recent poll conducted by the Tech Union Public Relations Council asked the question, "Would you be interested in a program for married students?"

Since most of the students polled were single, the response was mainly negative. However, a few showed interest and suggested functions and services such a program should offer.

One married couple interviewed, Mr and Mrs. Leroy Cebik, had some definite ideas on the subject. Leroy, a junior philosophy major from Stratford, Connecticut, thinks that the Union should first publicize its present events in a way which would appeal to both married and single students. In this way married students would not feel cut off from the rest of the student body by a "special program."

"A nebulous committee, perhaps made up of one person from each present Union committee, should be created to investigate before any program aimed specifically at married students is attempted," Cebik said.

His wife, Mary Helen, a junior home economics major from Big Spring, pointed out that time and money are a problem for married students. She suggested that if the Union does offer a program aimed specifically at married students, it should be offered on a monthly basis and at reasonable cost.

Mary Helen added that she would like to hear speakers on budgeting and other such subjects of interest to married students.

Exhibits on home decoration, films and reasonably priced babysitting were some of Leroy's suggestions. He believes that married students would participate in such a program; however, he pointed out that there would be considerable difficulty in planning the program effectively.

LA VENTANAS DUE SEPTEMBER 1

The 1963 La Ventanas are expected to arrive on campus September 1, 1963, and will be distributed to students beginning the first day of registration for the fall semester.

Those students who will graduate this spring and summer and those students who simply will not return next semester, and who purchased a 1963 La Ventana, are to go by Room 102 of the Journalism Building to make arrangements for mailing of the book to you.

There is a $1 charge for mailing and handling of the La Ventana, and it should be given along with your new address. Don't be left out when it comes time to receive your new La Ventana.

"The American Dream" and "The Zoo Story" premiered Monday to a sparse opening-night crowd, but the cast played as though the theater were crammed with world-renowned notables.

Overcoming the difficulty of playwright Edward Albee's sometimes incomprehensible message, they presented his terse plays quite well, with performances of particular intensity by Judy Eaton and Fred March.

"The American Dream" dealt, rather vaguely, with the American Scene, its facts and fictions, joys and sorrows, in dialogue honed to a knife edge. Marilyn Marek, as Mommy, is a deadly caricature of Momism, from her continual browbeating of Daddy to her sugar-coated bowing to Mrs. Barkley, the volunteer worker. Daddy, the damp, cringing "yes man" is played by Bob Adams, whose portrayal will make every man in the audience who has ever said yes to a woman flinch.

Judy Eaton, as Grandma, has her part down pat from gestures to quavering speech. She emerges as a composite of all elderly people, and leaves the viewer with the impression that she is the only sane member of an insane world in a particularly perceptive performance.

Michele Roberts, as Mrs. Barkley, takes a swipe at the "professional women" of the world, who are bent on doing good but have no idea why. She is a competent, if confused, volunteer worker, but her interest in The Young Man makes one wonder just what goes on during her off hours.

Charles Benton, as the Young Man, is the American Dream, but one realizes that one day he may turn out as the American Nightmare. He runs, in his performance, from fair to good. But he still has traces of a West Texas accent that tend to mess-up such lines as, "I lived on the West Coast a long time."

If there is any fault with "The American Dream," it lies in the play itself and not in the acting. Albee's efforts are praiseworthy, but he leads the viewer from a normal world into a maze of confusion and doesn't quite lead him out again. The play possesses an original style, but style is not enough. There must be a clarity of thought in order to capture the imagination. And that is what is lacking in "The American Dream."

"The Zoo Story," however, is indeed another story. It does contain the all-important clarity of thought. Coupled with the above-average acting, it provides an hour of terrific intensity that is well worth seeing.

And it is cast well. Fred March, as Jerry, is an agony of loneliness that plucks and then tears at the heart. In possibly one of the best performances at Tech this year, March runs from the heights and the depths, taking the viewer with him. And all the while, he is desperately trying to "make contact" with Peter, the respectable middle-class individual to whom he is talking. There is no other word to describe March's performance than "superb."

Jim Slaughter, as Peter, the publishing man, is stuffily good as respectability wrenched from it's element and thrown into a situation over which it has no control. He methodically beats away Jerry's plea, and makes him say "Thank you" in a crashing climax.

The plays are marked with performances of spectacular brilliance. They are more than worth seeing for the acting. In the speech department's latest offerings, the casting director should take honors along with the performers.

AUSTIN (AP)—The House refused 71-39 Tuesday to let a legislator introduce a bill to keep girls from attending Texas A&M.

Rep. Will Smith of Beaumont said many former Aggies sought the bill. A two-thirds majority would have been needed for permission to introduce the measure.

Raiders Blank Aggies As Allison Bows Out

Daryl Allison and the Tech netters whitewashed Texas A&M Monday, 6-0, to regain third place in the final Southwest Conference standings.

Allison, senior, disposed of the Aggies' Richard Barker, 6-4, 4-6 and 6-3. Both are No. 1 players on their respective teams.

Allison and Robert Peterson defeated Barker and Ricky Williams in the No. 1 doubles match. The Tech duo had to come from behind to win, 4-6, 8-6 and 10-8.

Despite the lopsided Tech victory, Coach Omar Smith's Aggie quartet put up a tremendous battle, driving the Tech netters to split sets in all but one match and forcing five others to deuce. Two of the sets were extended.

The Raiders were one point ahead of the Aggies before the match and needed only a 3-3 tie to clinch their place in the conference.

Others Have Trouble

Tech's No. 2 and No. 4 men, junior Greer Kothman and sophomore Robert Peterson, had difficulty in their matches.

Kothman dropped his first set to Carroll Kell 6-3, before rallying to win 6-2, 6-3. Peterson ground out a 6-4, 3-6 and 6-1 decision over Albert Aldrich.

Junior Beau Sutherland, playing No. 3, had to extend the match to one hour and 50 minutes to triumph over Williams. Sutherland won the first match, 6-1, fell back at the Aggie's rally, 4-6, and finally broke his service to win 6-3.

The No. 2 doubles match went the minimum of two sets, as it was the only match of the day not split. Kothman and Sutherland knifed through Aldrich and Dean Dyer, 6-1, 6-0.

Tech amassed 21 points over the season, while losing 15.

The Raiders meet Hardin-Simmons and ACC before they travel to Waco to compete in the Southwest Conference tennis tourney.

FROM THE BENCH by artie shaw

Daryl Allison helped the Texas Tech netters wipe out A&M's Aggies Monday and walked off the court, through with regular season SWC tennis competition.

Daryl Allison has won three varsity letters at Tech and deserves 20 more for his meritorious service to Tech and to Tech tennis.

Fierce determination and a burning desire are the mainstays of Daryl's character, according to his coach, George Philbrick.

"Daryl, being our number one player, always has to play the toughest players in a contest with another team. And most of the time these players have years of experience over Daryl, but this doesn't hamper him any. He stays in every match through determination and desire."

Next year Tech's varsity tennis squad will have to take the court without a great sportsman. So at this point I would like to join with Sigma Delta Chi, Polk Robison, George Philbrick and many others in saluting Daryl Allison — an attribute to Texas Tech.

EVERYBODY LOVES A GLOVER

Last year's freshman basketball team could easily go down in the annals of Tech sports history as the greatest that ever was. Dub Malaise, Bob Measles, Norman Reuther and company were a crew of frosh that turned every school for miles around green with envy.

But next year, a great new name will come into the limelight of freshman basketball. The name of Bob Glover of Dallas Jefferson.

During his senior year Glover was named to various All-Star teams, including All-Tournament in AAAA.

The reasons are obvious.

During his senior year the 6-5 Glover averaged 20 points per fracas and snatched almost as many rebounds.

Taking one particular game, he scored 30 markers and speared 27 rebounds in the regional battle with Denton.

The sharpest - shootin' Rebel of them all will be at Texas Tech next fall to play for the Raiders.

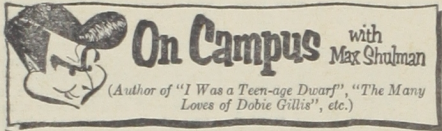

With prospects like this, whose basketball future could look more rosy?

THIS SOUNDS FAMILIAR

Over in Porkerland the annual intrasquad skirmish looks like another toss-up. There's no let down on anybody's part. The veterans consider this the toughest contest of the year.

The reasons for this type of behavior aren't too hard to fathom.

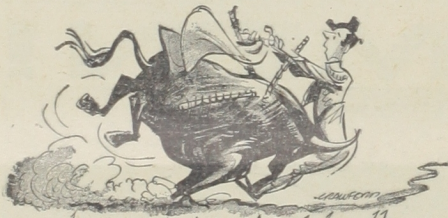

Take a squad of 60 to 70 sophomores—eager red shirts and seasoned squad men—tell them all they're fighting for 11 positions on next year's squad, and then stage the whole "shebang" in front of 15,000 squealing fans, and you've got to have a blowup somewhere!

HOW TO SEE EUROPE FOR ONLY $300 A DAY: NO. 3

When all of you go to Europe during your summer vacation, you will certainly want to visit Spain, where the tall corn grows,

The first thing you will notice upon entering Spain is the absence of sibilants. In Spain "s" is pronounced "th" and thereby hangs a tale. Until the reign of Philip IV—or Guy Fawkes, as he was sometimes called—Spaniards said "s" just like everybody else. Philip IV, however, lisped, and Spaniards, having an ingrained sense of propriety and not wishing to embarrass their monarch, decided that everybody should lisp. This did indeed put Philip IV very much at his ease, but in the end it turned out to be a very bad thing for Spain. It wrecked the sassifras industry—Spain's principal source of revenue—and reduced the nation to a second-class power.

to keep body and soul together

As a result, Spaniards were all forced to turn to bull fighting in order to keep body and soul together. Today, wherever you go in Spain—in Madrid, in Barcelona, in Toledo, in Cleveland—you will see bulls being fought. For many years the bulls have sought to arbitrate this long-standing dispute, but the Spaniards, a proud people who use nothing but Castile soap, have rejected all overtures.

It is therefore necessary for me to explain bull fighting to anyone who is going to Spain. It is also necessary for me to say a few words about Marlboro Cigarettes because they pay me for writing this column, and they are inclined to pout if I ignore their product. In truth, it is no chore for me to sing the praises of Marlboro Cigarettes, for I am one who fairly swoons with delight when I come upon a cigarette which gives you the full, rich taste of good tobaccos plus the pure white Selectra filter, and Marlboro is the only smoke I have found that fulfills both requirements. Oh, what a piece of work is Marlboro! The flavor reaches you without stint or diminution. You, even as I, will find these statements to be happily true when once you light a Marlboro. Marlbors come to you in soft pack or Flip-Top box, and are made only by the makers of Marlboro.

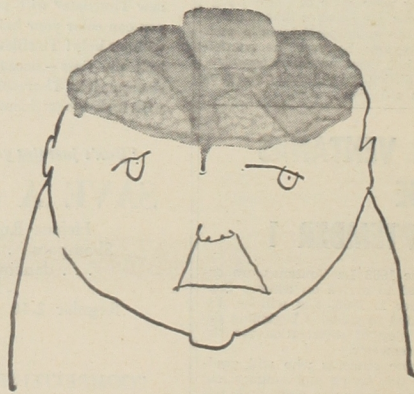

But I digress. Let us return to bull fighting. Bulls are by nature bellicose creatures who will keep fighting till the cows come home. Then they like to put on pipe and slippers and listen to the "Farm and Home Hour." However, the Spaniards will not allow the bulls any surcease. They keep attacking the bull and making veronias—a corn meal pancake filled with ground meat. Bulls, being vegetarians, reject the veronias and then, believe you me, the fur starts to fly!

To be perfectly honest, many Spaniards have grown weary of this incessant struggle and have left their homeland. Columbus, for example, took off in three little ships—the Patti, the Maxene, and the Laverne—and discovered Ohio. Magellan later discovered Columbus. Balboa also sailed to the New World, but he was silent on a peak in Darien, so it is difficult to know what he discovered.

Well sir, I guess that's all you need to know about Spain. So now, as the setting sun casts its rosy fingers over El Greco, let us take our reluctant leave of Spain—or Perfidious Albion, as it is jocularly called. Aloha, Spain or Perfidious Albion, aloha!

© 1963 Max Shulman

Let us not, however, take our leave of smoking pleasure. Let us keep enjoying those fine Marlboro Cigarettes—rich, golden tobacco—pure white Selectra filter—soft pack or Flip-Top box—available in all fifty States of the Union.

Distance Runs Prove Aggie Malady

EDITOR'S NOTE—This story is the third in a series on the upcoming Southwest Conference track meet presented by the sports staff of THE DAILY TOREADOR. The articles are based on the latest information from each of the sports publicity directors of the SWC.

If the Southwest Conference eliminated the dashes (and relay events) for 1963 — the track and field title would turn into a five-team battle for honors.

Here's where the rest of the league joins Texas A&M and Baylor in a full-scale festival. The distance field is well-spread throughout the eight schools — with each having a candidate deserving of honors; and both A&M and Baylor will hardly gather a single point in the hurdle races.

Take the hurdles for example. Five teams figure in a scrap for high hurdle points — completely excluding the Aggies and Bears. Bobby May of Rice, Rex Wilson of Texas and Ronnie Biffle of Tech have each graced the 120-yard standards in 14.1. Still they don't have the market cornered. Arkansas has two men figured to be in the running, Ralph Brodie and Ed Renfrow; SMU's Bob Johnston has stayed with the leaders in earlier races; and even Rice and Texas have greater depth to claim other points. Verl Brown of Rice with a 14.2 is an example.

330 New Race

The league has shelved its long traditional 220-yard low hurdles for the new 330-yard intermediate race. It's designed to prepare SWC hurdlers for the longer 400-meter hurdles of Olympic competition. The fastest time of '63 will become a certain record. Thus far — SWC runners have had little opportunity to ready themselves for this "off-brand" event — but the top names remain much the same. May has a 37.7 in a triangular meet; and Wilson is a half-step behind with 37.8 at the Border Olympics. Gary Collins of Rice is third best at 38.1; and both Brodie of Arkansas and Wayne Jordan of Baylor have been clocked in 39.1. Rapid improvement is possible here with each new race.

Best Balance In 880

Moving into the distance field (880, mile and two mile runs) you'll find the best balance in the league. The half-mile should again see an exciting race between defending champ Brian Bolton of SMU (1:52.5) and Loy Gunter of Texas (1:53.3). No less than 12 men have run under 1:56.0 — representing six SWC schools. Jim Sebastian is A&M's best hope (1:53.7); Bill Sage of Rice has a 1:54.0; David DeBoer of Baylor is the top Bruin hopeful (1:55.4) and Arkansas has Haydn Hicks (1:55.9). Several of those schools can come up with strong second men.

Mile Run A Feature

The mile run should be a feature event of the Saturday finals. Mickey Wade of SMU has been clocked in 4:16.9; TCU's Marvin Silliman ran a 4:16.2 in the same meet (the Border Olympics); A&M has a trio of strong milers — Ilhan Bilgutay (4:18.5) Herbie Campbell (4:20.3), and E. L. Emer, 1962 two mile champion (4:23.6); Arkansas includes Deardorff (4:22.4); Tech has Jerry Brook (4:19.3); and the Baylor Bears boast two strong milers — DeBoer (4:19.0) and David Sergrest (4:23.8). Whether this crowded field can push the winner to a record performance (4:10.5) remains to be seen.

Moving to the afternoon's longest event, the two mile run, Emer will be a slight favorite. He has

H-SU Boots Head Coach

ABILENE (P) — Jack Thomas, Hardin-Simmons University athletic director and head football coach, was fired Tuesday for what a school official said was "failure to follow administrative directives."

The university was recently placed on football probation for two years after the NCAA found that 32 high school football players had taken part in a competitive gridiron workout for Hardin-Simmons athletic scholarships.

Thomas, a line coach at Texas A&M before coming to Hardin-Simmons in Jan., 1962, said he did not have any immediate plans.

His dismissal was announced by George L. Graham, executive vice president of the university.
